Gridiron Grills Ike, Democrats

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower, Democratic contenders and politicians in general got a good-natured hiding Saturday night from Washington's famed Gridiron Club.

So did the "Russian Twins," Bulganin and Khrushchev, oil lobbyists, Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams and a host of others.

The occasion was the newspaper organization's 71st annual dinner, at the Hotel Statler. The President was the guest of honor in an imposing assemblage.

Only toast of the dinner, in tradition of the club, was to Mr. Eisenhower. His reply was off the record, under club rules that "reporters are never present." Also off the record were speeches by Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts, for the Republicans, and Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, for the Democrats.

Tenor of the club show was political. Gridiron President Roscoe Drummond delivered the keynote in his opening "speech in the dark."

"Surely," said Drummond, "the President must be pleased tonight to see among us so many fine conservative humanitarians—those Republicans eager to march forward with Eisenhower—protesting every step of the way."

To the Democrats, he said:

"After moderately long deliberation a jury of Democrats has found Ike not guilty—and sentenced (Vice President) Nixon to hang."

IN THE FROLICKSOME SKITS that followed, candidate Eisenhower was portrayed as a "country club front porch" campaigner who abandoned trains and planes for golf clubs and fishing rods. But there were constant reminders.

The porch of the "full-time country club" was the setting for the planning of the Eisenhower "campaign." Men and women in sports clothes crowded the porch, among them two physicians with stethoscopes, as Secretary af the Treasury George M. Humphrey and Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty discussed the "ease and economy of a country club front porch campaign."

When they heard a train whistle in the distance, however, they called upon presidential doctors Paul Dudley White and Howard M. Snyder for an opinion. A member impersonating Dr. White sang to the tune of "Summertime":

"Summer time, time for taking it easy,
Fish are biting and golfing is fine,
And the G. O. P. on the front porch is resting,
For whistle stops sure are out of line."

Sherman Adams, to the tune of "Honey Babe," was portrayed as president in all but name. Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland, who withdrew as a GOP presidential candidate after Mr. Eisenhower announced, mournfully sang a parody of "You Made Me Love You."

DEMOCRATS WERE lampooned in a skit at a "Democratic Barn Dance." The Democratic leaders portrayed there, however, turned out to be practically all city fellows in gray flannel suits who only talked about the farm problem. A character impersonating Adlai E. Stevenson was introduced as that "big butter and egghead man"; Sen. Estes Kefauver as "the guy who waylaid an egghead; it put new zip and zest into Adlai."

Tammany leader Carmine DeSapio and New York City's Mayor Robert W. Wagner took up the cudgels for Gov. Averell Harriman. But Sen. Hubert Humphrey declared "We can't have Harriman without getting that other fellow, too." The "other fellow" proved to be Mr. Truman. Wagner, in reply, sang to the tune of "Love and Marriage.":

"Ave and Harry, Ave and Harry
Stu and Estes had best be wary
Listen to me, brother,
You can have one. You might have none, but
You can't have one without the other."

The Democratic skit ended with "Mr. Truman" singing a parody of "Sixteen Tons"—the 16 tons being the material the former president worked through in writing his recent memoirs. The chorus:

"Sixteen tons: What has he got?
Some facts that are true and others that are not.
Saint Peter, if you want him, best use a noose.
He owes his soul to Hen-ry-ee Luce."

AF Rehires Man Fired as Risk

Given Non-Security Post; House Checks Up on Russ Clerk

WASHINGTON (UP)—Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles Saturday personally restored Sidney Hatkin, suspended Air Force statistician, to the government payroll — but in a "non-sensitive position."

Hatkin, suspended 14 months as a security risk, recently revealed that a Russian Embassy clerk tried to hire him to dig up secret military information.

Quarles restored Hatkin's back pay and put him in a job of comparable grade and pay to the one he left, but without access to security information.

Hatkin told the United Press, "I feel relieved. I feel as if my life had been restored to me."

He said he would get about $6,000 in back pay, less deductions.

Hatkin said he got a job in private industry about three weeks ago at lower pay than his Air Force position. He said he would accept Quarles' offer, though "there are certain considerations" favoring a private job.

* * * *

HE SAID he spent seven months on his original sensitive Air Force post, then was in a non-sensitive job for 11 months before his suspension.

"I was shifted from office to office" in these 11 months, he said.

His attorney, Joseph Freehill, told the United Press he believed Quarles, as a "fair-minded man," would soon "see his way clear" to restoring Hatkin's security clearance.

Hatkin had contended that he demonstrated his loyalty by reporting to the FBI when Vladimir Mikheev, a Russian embassy clerk who posed as a student, tried to hire him to collect information.

Freehill said he talked with Quarles for an hour Saturday. He said a letter restoring Hatkin to the federal payroll will be mailed Monday. Hatkin will go to work immediately, Freehill said.

Disclosure of the Hatkin case had brought congressional protests.

Chairman Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo.) of the Senate judiciary subcommittee on constitutional rights, wrote Quarles urging that he re-examine the case.

Former Sen. Guy Gillette, general counsel of the Hennings' subcommittee, said earlier last week he would recommend that the subcommittee look into the case.

HOWEVER, the House committee on Un-American Activities began investigating Mikheev's activties. Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) urged that Mikheev be expelled from the country.

Sip of Beer Tips Law, 'Cans' Boy!

NORWALK — A 16-year-old boy took a swig from a can of beer Saturday afternoon and wound up being charged with three misdemeanor violations and one felony.

Motorcycle officer S. C. Smith, of the California Highway Patrol, spotted the lad standing near a damaged auto parked in a service station lot just off the Santa Ana Freeway, near Shoemaker Ave. When the juvenile drank from a can of beer he was holding, the officer decided to investigate. He learned that the teenager had no operator's license, the car in his possession had previously been reported stolen and the lad apparently had been driving while under the influence of liquor.

When a Pico motorist arrived at the scene and identified the boy as the driver who had been involved in a minor collision with his auto at Esperanza and Marilla Aves., a charge of misdemeanor hit-run driving was added.

The juvenile was booked and held at the Norwalk sheriff's station pending further action by juvenile authorities.

Ike Golfs After MD Check-Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—A beaming President Eisenhower got a doctors' report Saturday that his heart is "well healed" and his general health good. He promptly took off for the golf course by way of celebration.

A report issued after two days of head-to-toe tests at Walter Reed Hospital said the President "has shown good tolerance to increasing physical activity" over the six months since his discharge from Fitzsimmons Hospital in Denver. It was there that he was treated for the coronary thrombosis he suffered Sept. 24.

The chief executive was described as "physically active and mentally alert."

* * * *

X-RAYS, the report continued, show no change in the shape or size of the heart and also disclosed that the heart beats at "a normal rate and rhythm." It said there is no enlargement or bulging of the scar.

The report was signed by Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, commander of the hospital. Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston heart specialists who was called in after the President's heart

Russ See New Bomb Tactic by U.S. Jets

BILL BROOM
(I. P-T Capital Bureau)

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. — With Soviet observers watching from the sidelines, Uncle Sam's jet jockeys this week revealed a new nuclear counter-punch—delivery of atomic bombs by faster-than-sound fighter planes.

The Air Force took the wraps off a flight technique called "toss-bombing."

* * * *

OBSERVERS from more than 40 foreign nations were among the spectators at a three-hour aerial firepower demonstration packed with more pyrotechnics than a supply dump explosion.

Even our allies were surprised at the toss-bombing technique. Its existence opens up new concepts of tactical and strategic use of atomic bombs.

* * * *

HERE'S HOW the Air Force did it at Eglin, a sprawling proving ground tucked into the swamps along North Florida's Gulf coast.

An F-100 Super Sabre skimmed into sight over the treetops, crossed the target and then arched upward in a vertical climb at better than 500 miles an hour. At 6,000 feet, it released the bomb.

At the split-second of release, the pilot rolled his craft over on its belly and headed back to his base. The bomb continued upward along the plane's former course, momentum carried it to about 10,000 feet before gravity stopped its flight.

By the time it was detonated, the Super Sabre was out of sight.

Cleveland, Flint Hit by Blasting Storms

By Associated Press

Tornadoes and violent windstorms hit populous areas of Michigan and Ohio Saturday night, killing at least 10 persons and injuring more than 125.

Six were known to have died and at least 24 were hurt as severe wind and rain lashed greater Cleveland late Saturday night. Widespread property damage was reported.

Four others were killed in lower Michigan, where injuries to more than 100 were counted.

* * * *

THE WEATHER BUREAU said the danger of additional tornadoes in lower Michigan would exist until 2 a.m.

Warnings of possible tornadoes also were issued for parts of extreme northeast Illinois, except for the Chicago area; northern Indiana, the southernmost tip of Wisconsin, a segment of Iowa and the northwest corner of Ohio.

Three persons were killed and several injured when a tavern was wrecked by wind on Cleveland's southwest side. Two men were killed when they came into contact with a felled power line.

Southlanders' Plane Hunted in Northwest

Search for a missing private plane with four Southern Californians aboard centered in southwestern Washington Saturday after a fisherman reported seeing a smoking plane north of Ridgefield, Wash.

Pilot of the missing Cessna 170 is A. D. Posten of Redondo Beach. Also aboard are his wife, Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Leep of La Mirada.

Ray Murray of Vancouver, Wash., told search officials he spotted a small plane belching smoke between 6 and 7 a.m. Friday at the junction of the Lewis River and Lake Merwin, about 40 miles northeast of Ridgefield.

Maj. Al Larson of the Civil Air Patrol here immediately sent additional search planes and a helicopter to the area. Larson said he also was checking to determine if any other small planes were in the area at the time.

Murray said he did not see the plane close enough to determine whether it was the red and white Cessna, 170 which was reported missing Friday on a flight from Renton, Wash., to Eugene, Ore.

Search craft from three bases were looking for the missing plane.

Eight planes based at Pearson Field were covering an area south to Salem in the search.

Swimmer's Neck Broken in Dive

A 14-year-old Riverside boy suffered a broken neck when he dove off rocks near Corona del Mar into three feet of water Saturday afternoon.

Bennie Duane West was in serious condition at Hoag Memorial Hospital in Newport Beach late Saturday night.

The boy's uncle, Burton West, 40, told Newport Beach police he had brought Bennie and three other boys on an outing Saturday.

Fear-Crazed Man Fights Off 3 Rescuers in Flaming Room

GARY, Ind. (AP)—Fire swept through the top four floors of the six-story Gateway apartments in downtown Gary Saturday night, and one fear-crazed man was known to have died after fighting off rescuers.

Assistant Fire Chief Joe Erdelac said he and two firemen climbed a ladder to the fifth floor and tried to rescue the man but had to leave him. Erdelac said the man knocked all three of them down in his flaming room, and they barely escaped.

* * * *

THE MAN was later found to be dead in the still-burning hotel. Erdelac tentatively identified him from the register as Barney McGowan, about 50.

Firemen said several persons were injured.

One man was rescued by a ladder run across from an adjoining building.

Firemen appeared to have the blaze confined to the one building, which they said would be a total loss.

* * * *

ALL AVAILABLE fire equipment was rushed to the building, home of 95 families. Some of the residents were removed by firemen using aerial ladders, but most of the residents were able to walk to safety.

Residents reported the fire began with an explosion in the area of the elevator shaft on one of the middle floors.

Fire Chief Joe Zale said he understood the injured woman had been carried from the building by firemen.

Zale also said firemen were searching for a man they had heard shouting in the center of the building.

Mother of 3 Is Crowned Mrs. America

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Cleo Maletis, a 31-year-old former New York dress designer from Oregon, who was so overwhelmed she couldn't talk, was crowned Mrs. America Saturday night.

Mrs. Maletis is a member of the Greek Orthodox Church and her husband, Chris Maletis, is a vice president of a beverage company in Portland.

She is the mother of three children.

When she regained her composure, she said "I feel very humble. I owe this honor to my family, to my mother, my father and my God."

She was wearing a dusty rose satin and net gown.

She is 5 feet 5, weighs 122 pounds, has brown eyes, brown hair and a sparkling personality.

Her three children are Chris, 7; Thomas, 4, and Edward, 2.

Mrs. Louisiana, Anne Mitchell of Monroe, was second, and Mrs. Ohio, Gloria Buth of Columbus, was third.

The other fatalities:

L.A.C. Says: The British Lottery

The British people have so much money to spend they are causing inflation. To overcome this menace—and to get revenue—the government is planning on taking the money away through a gambling device. The device is to be a national investment lottery. The plan is directed at the lower-income groups. It calls for selling them government bonds at $2.80 each. The bonds will bear no interest—but can be cashed in at par. The 4 per cent interest ordinarily paid on such bonds will go into a lottery pool. Each week a drawing will be held. Each bond will have a number. The owner of the winning number will receive $2,800.

Actually, British workers do not have enough money to bring their living standards to a level comparable with that of American workers. The trouble is Britain does

Mr. L. D. Armstrong Is Very, Very Popular With Her Majesty's Kinfolk

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Louis Satchmo Daniel Armstrong—a back alley boy from New Orleans — modestly laughed off Saturday the fact that he's suddenly become the toast of British royalty.

"Man, it ain't me," croaked the gravel-voiced ambassador of American jazz, "we're just all cats together."

Those cats (jazz lovers) include:

Princess Margaret.

The Duke of Kent.

The Earl of Harewood, cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, and his brother, the Hon. Gerald Lascelles.

And—such various and assorted peers of the realm as the Irish Marquess of Donegal and the Scot, Lord Ogilvy, heir to the Earl of Airlie.

The Dixieland trumpeter ends a 10-day series of concerts in London tonight, during which he's had royalty jumping with joy to the magic of his red hot horn.

Margaret hugged her trim knees and beat out time with her silver-slippered feet. The Duke of Kent chased around to Satchmo's dressing room and got his autograph. The Earl called him "magnificent." The Hon. Dominic Eliot ripped his program to shreds as he kept time to Armstrong's playing of "When the Saints Come Marching In."

SATCHMO
'Pearls Mine'

Satchmo, who was born in James Alley in New Orleans on July 4, 1900, has taken it all in his short jumpy stride. When Oxford-educated Humphrey Lyttleton, a British trumpet player, asked Louis the secret of his torrid technique Satchmo replied:

"I don't know, daddy, I jus' blow."

When a British Broadcasting Corp. interviewer sought to get Louis' explanation of race violence in the United States, Armstrong replied:

"Bad whisky. When some of them cats git hold of that bad whisky, lots of bad things bound to happen."

When an interviewer from one of London's more stately Sunday papers asked him why he's

L.A.C. SAYS:

The British Lottery

not produce enough goods to supply that demand. If it imports the goods it sends its money out of the country. Result is there is a constant shortage of consumer goods which workers bid for. That is the inflation the government is seeking to curb by resorting to this gambling device.

There is considerable opposition to the plan in Britain. It is pointed out that encouragement of gambling by government is contributing to the very condition that breaks down the morale of a people. It creates the urge for easy money and the gambling fever. It endorses the social evil that destroys homes and communities where gambling has been allowed.

In trying to justify its lottery plan the British government says it is encouraging the British worker to save. It says the worker is thus encouraged to put his money in bonds he can cash in at any time. All he actually invests in the lottery is the 4 per cent interest he would otherwise receive. Opponents of the plan point out that the sale of bonds without interest and therefore without increase in value is a poor way to encourage thrift. They also point out that government can hardly police other forms of gambling, which are often rackets, when the government takes part in gambling itself.

Many countries use government lotteries to finance governmental expenses. France is probably the outstanding example of this. It does not use bonds. It sells tickets which have no value after the weekly drawing. Prizes run from the $70,000 first prize down to hundreds of smaller prizes. Every three months a jackpot drawing is held when prizes are about double these amounts. It is big government business in France. Many other countries use similar, although less fabulous, prizes.

It seems to this writer that the low morale and political unrest and crookedness in France make that country's policies very questionable. It is probable the pawn broker scandals of a decade ago—the decline of France's morale, which resulted in its easy defeat by Hitler and its 22 changes of government since World War II—may well be explained by its attitude toward lotteries. Certainly there is no reason to say they have been beneficial in building a stable economy.

There is a constant effort by certain people to have the United States resort to a national lottery for the purpose of cutting down income taxes. In other words, we are asked to substitute gambling devices for income tax collections to extract money from the masses. The same amount of money might be collected, but it would bring a breakdown in the morals of the American people. We have enough rackets going on in this country without the government making them legal and respectable by its participation.—L.A.C.

Cleveland, Flint Hit by Blasting Storms

tals were reported to be in serious condition.

Doctors operated with emergency facilities at Cleveland's Deaconess Hospital when the storm knocked out the regular power supply.

No estimate of the damage in Cleveland was available immediately but it was heaviest on the west side.

Severe thunderstorms moved eastward through the great lakes region following a day in which most of the eastern two-thirds of the nation sweltered in summer heat.

THREE DEATHS and more than 80 injuries were reported in the wake of three tornadoes which ripped into Flint, Mich., and its suburb of Grand Blanc.

A woman was killed and two men were injured when a barn was blown down on them near Ithaca, Mich., 30 miles north and west of Flint.

Flint was the scene of a tornado which killed 116 persons on June 8, 1953.

More than a score of persons were injured by a twister which damaged homes and one church in the Detroit suburbs of Allen Park and Lincoln park. Detroit itself escaped damage.

Flint Police Sgt. George Jucius said the twister "hit, jumped and hit again before turning away from the city."

Eugene Schermerhorn, a service station attendant, said he first spotted the tornado as it skipped over a lighted sign in front of a nearby drive-in theater.

"It took away part of our roof," he said. "It sent oil cans flying every which way, then curled around and slammed into a trailer camp."

There were two trailer camps in the Flint damage area. Both of them were damaged extensively and injuries ran high.

THE TORNADO that hit in the Detroit suburbs of Allen and Lincoln Parks left many injured. Police in the two communities said about 15 homes were badly damaged, some of them flattened. A Greek orthodox church was blown partly down, a drive-in was "flattened" and a new high school was battered.

Sgt. Nelson Heslip of the Allen Park police, said six injured there were treated at Oakwood Hospital. He said the front of the new Allen Park school was badly damaged, and all the windows were blown out. Civil defense headquarters were set up in undamaged rooms of the school to take in the people from five badly damaged homes.

attack, did not take part in this check-up.

Eisenhower gave every sign of elation at the medical verdict. He was smiling broadly as he left the hospital, hatless and wearing a light tan suit.

He waved acknowledgement of the burst of handclapping from scores of patients and hospital staff members gathered around the entrance. And, just before stepping into his car, he stopped, leaned down and shook hands with a little girl in a red coat who had stationed herself in a front row position.

Eisenhower carried Volume I of his friend Sir Winston Churchill's "history of the English speaking peoples," which he took along when he entered the hospital late Thursday.

He drove straight to Burning Tree Counrty Club where he played golf in muggy, overcast weather.

The doctors summed up the report on the President in these words: His general condition continues good. He is physically active and mentally alert. His appearance, appetite and digestion are excellent."

U.S. OKs Sale of 12 French Jets to Israel

PARIS (UP) — The United States has agreed to the immediate shipment by France of 12 more Mystere IV jet fighter planes to Israel, the French Foreign Office announced Saturday night.

A communique issued by the ministry said Washington had approved the immediate delivery of the planes which are manufactured in France for NATO forces under American offshore contracts.

"The government of the United States has accepted a French proposal for a delay in off-shore deliveries to enable the French government to hand over quickly a last delivery of 12 Mystere IV planes ordered by Israel," the communique said.

France recently shipped 12 of the jet fighters to Israel. The Mystere IV planes are among the world's top-performance jet fighters and are believed capable of matching the Soviet-built MIG jet fighters the communist nations have supplied Egypt recently.

Israel also is seeking U. S. F86 jet fighter planes from the United States and Canada.

France is building the Mystere jet fighter planes under the so-called offshore purchasing contracts placed by the United States to fulfill its military aid commitments to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. U.S. approval is necessary for the diversion elsewhere of all arms produced in Europe under these contracts.

Authoritative sources in Britain said the Eden government also could be expected to increase shipments of defensive weapons to Israel.

Girl, 11, Extorts $900 From Chum

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—An 11-year-old schoolgirl has been caught running a $1,000 shakedown racket on a playmate one year younger, police disclosed Saturday.

Deputy Police Chief Hugh A. O'Gorman said the younger girl paid that much to her chum on threat of violence after stealing the money from an aunt's tin box.

More than $900 was recovered from the juvenile shakedown artist, who said she spent only $2. That $2, she said, went for a box of candy for a Mothers' Day present.

Hoodlums Try to Strip Actress

SHEFFIELD, England (UP) —Sabrina, the busty star of British television, went through "the most terrifying hour of my life" when youthful hoodlums tried to strip her in a store opening ceremony that turned into a riot.

A crowd of 4,000 stamped and shouted as the blonde, 39-inch-bosomed video performer arrived to open a tailor's shop. Dozens of youths rushed her, knocking down women and children. Some asked for her autograph but others clawed at her clothing.

Sabrina's form-fitting dress was torn and she was bruised and scratched. Twelve persons fainted in the crush before police arrived and escorted her away.

called Satchmo, Louis told him: "Satchmo's my name—it ain't no quote."

Then he patiently explained that as a boy he was called "Dippermouth" and later "Satchelmouth," which he shortened to Satchmo.

Asked by a debutante of the current season if the pearly teeth in his ample mouth were all his, Louis told her:

"Well, lady, one or two of them might have come from the store, but at least they're paid for."

Satchmo and his band, which includes the great New Orleans clarinet player, Edmund Hall, Trummy Young on trombone, Jack Lesberg on bass, Billy Kyle on piano and Barret Deems on drums, will have done 20 shows by midnight today.

After London he goes on a tour of seven cities in the United Kingdom, returns to London and then flies to the Gold Coast on the west coast of Africa.

"That ought to be some ball," growled Satchmo.

Caught in a serious, though fleeting mood, Louis was asked about his undoubted success.

"I didn't go no further than the fifth grade," he replied, "but with good sense in this hard head and some wit I inherited from my mama, and knowing how to treat and respect other folks' feelings, that's all I've needed through life."

After a moment, he grinned and added:

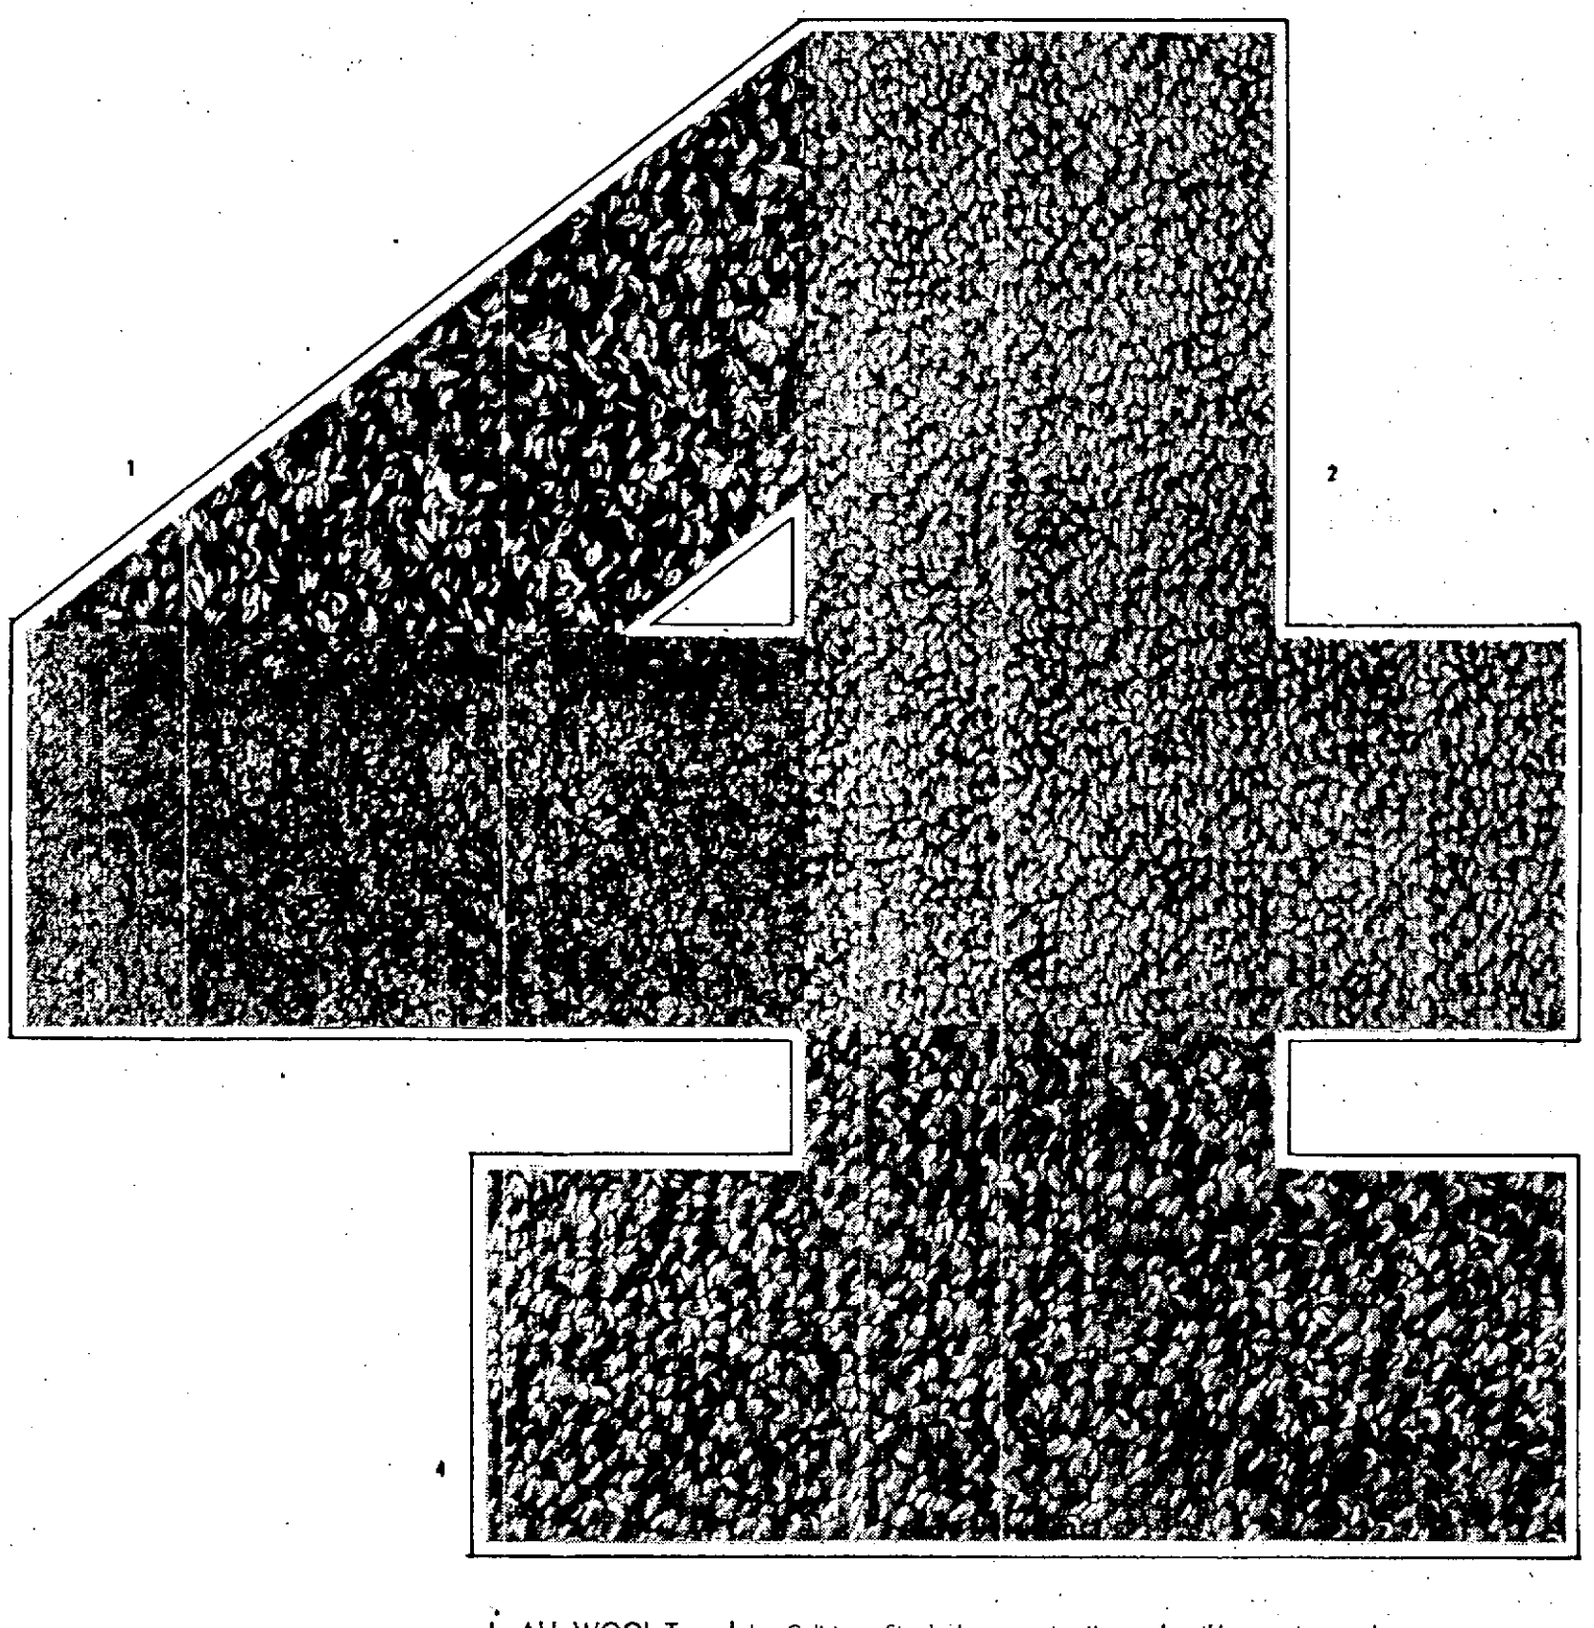

"Of course, I've had to blow my brains out with that little ol' nappy horn."

Deputy Dies, Held Suicide by Police

A woman sheriff's deputy died in a local hospital Saturday evening approximately 15 hours after she fired a revolver bullet into her head. Police listed the death as suicide.

The victim was Dortha J. Hatcher, 23, of 50 Belmont Ave., employed at the Terminal Island Women's Detention Unit, a branch of the County Jail.

Her roommate, Amy Ruth Webster, 30, also a deputy at the detention unit, was questioned at police headquarters by Det. Insps. Harry P. Finch and James A. Thiele and then released.

* * * *

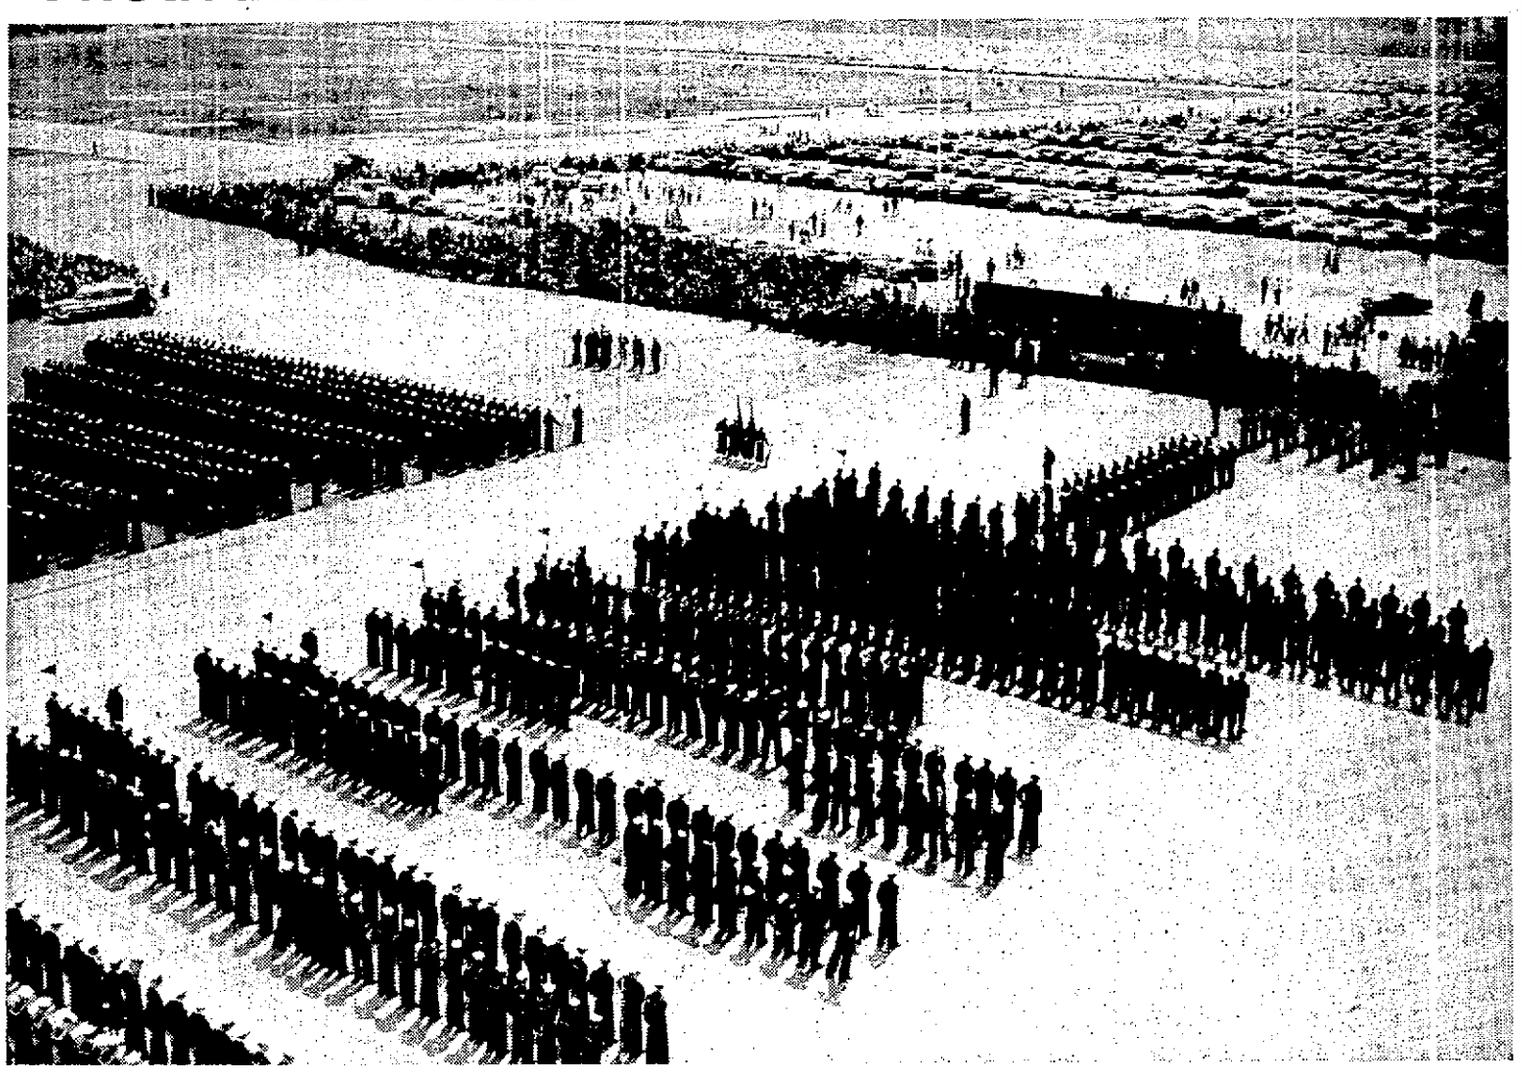

MISS WEBSTER told officers Miss Hatcher had been "despondent" because she had not passed her probationary period as a deputy sheriff.

She said Miss Hatcher put one cartridge into her .38 caliber revolver about 4:40 a.m. Saturday as the two talked in their apartment, No. 5. Miss Hatcher, her roommate reported, put the weapon to her head and pulled the trigger, but the gun failed to discharge.

"I guess I got it on the wrong one," Miss Webster quoted Miss Hatcher. Miss Hatcher apparently referred to the fact she pulled the trigger on an empty chamber. Miss Webster said she thought her roommate was "clowning."

Miss Hatcher then fired again and the gun went off. The bullet entered Miss Hatcher's right temple and came out under the left ear. She underwent surgery at Community Hospital for four hours as physicians removed bone fragments from near the brain in an attempt to save her life.

Nope, It Wasn't the Nupe's Day at All

Saturday was a "bad day" for Phil Antoine of Malibu.

He took three friends for a ride in his 16-foot cabin cruiser, the Nupe, in the afternoon.

About six miles off Avalon the boat sprung a leak and filled with water.

Antoine and his friends hailed a passing outboard motor boat owned by Alvin Shumenn, of Inglewood, and were taken aboard.

On the way to the mainland the outboard began shipping water.

The quartet were then picked up by a Pierpoint Landing fishing boat, the Matt Walsh, and brought in to Pierpoint Landing.

Meanwhile, another Pierpoint boat, the Fisherman II, attempted to tow the water-filled Nupe to the mainland but its line broke.

A Coast Guard cutter finally tied up to the Nupe and towed it to Newport Beach and called it a day.

Driver Hurt as Car Skids Into Traffic

A Garden Grove man was injured when his car went out of control, skidded broadside across 7th St. east of Pacific Coast Hwy. and was struck by an oncoming car Saturday night.

Robert J. Kaplank, 38, of 12581 Citruswood, was treated at Community Hospital for a brain concussion and possible fracture of the right leg.

Orange County highway patrol officers said Kaplank apparently lost control of his car while driving east on 7th St. and crashed into a car driven by William M. Derryberry, 24, of 632 Armando Dr. A passenger in Derryberry's car, Connie Markel, 21, of 915 Riveriera Dr., Santa Ana, suffered minor injuries.

In another accident, Steven M. Logan, 6, of 2036 Linden Ave., suffered minor injuries when he was hit by a car driven by Josephine Jerome, 49, of 8141 Stewart and Gray Rd., Downey, as he was walking near his home.

"HASH MARKS" of 42 years of naval service are shown by Chief Wallace Seebach (right) to R. Adm. Gallery, who boasts 39 years of naval time. Sternin said the men, both about 20 years old, forced him to lie on the floor while they made their escape.

Press Women Tab Book by L.B. Authoress Best

A Long Beach woman Saturday was named by the National Federation of Press Women as the author of the best 1955 nonfiction book, and a feminine Costa Mesa photographer took top honors for a feature picture.

The winners: Mrs. Lillian Dean, 5601 E. 23rd St., and Mrs. Nell Murbarger, 1940 Maple Ave., Costa Mesa.

Mrs. Dean was honored for "The Postural Complex," a book dealing with spine corrections. She collaborated with Laurence Jones, MD, in the writing.

Three years in the writing, the book emphasizes the correct building up of shoes to place the spine in a good position.

It is the second book the Long Beach woman has written. In 1950 she authored "This Is Our Land," based on experiences with her husband, Walter, a traveling salesman.

Mrs. Murbarger's winning picture appeared in the August edition of True West. It showed a bank in the ghost town of Rhyolite, Nev.

Harriman Backed by Truman

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Former President Truman favors Gov. Averrell Harriman for the Democratic presidential nomination and can be expected to be working for him at the national convention.

This report came Sat. from a Democratic source long friendly to Mr. Truman, who sailed from New York Friday for a trip to Europe.

It tended to confirm what many Democratic politicians have suspected that Mr. Truman privately favors the New York governor despite his announced neutrality in the contest over the Democratic nomination.

* * * *

HARRIMAN, a self-styled inactive candidate, is heading West this weekend on a speaking tour in areas where he is reported to have actual or potential convention support. Starting today, his schedule calls for appearances in Wyoming, Montana, Washington, Idaho, Nevada and Utah over the next five days.

Mr. Truman, who appointed Harriman to top-drawer government jobs, heaped praise on the New York governor this week in a New York speech. The occasion was the presentation of the Four Freedoms award to Harriman.

The former President can play a major role at the national convention if he chooses. He has said that he expects to be active at the convention but has also said he wants to stay out of the fight over the nomination so he can give the party more help during the fall campaign.

* * * *

MR. TRUMAN declined a seat in the Missouri national convention delegation, which has agreed to back Sen. Stuart Symington as a favorite son candidate for the nomination.

Symington is regarded as one of the principal dark horse possibilities in case of a convention deadlock. Mr. Truman has been described in informed quarters as unenthusiastic about Symington, who, if nominated, would be a compromise choice with substantial backing from the South.

The strategy of Harriman supporters has called for delay while Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 nominee, and Sen. Estes Kefauver are battering one another in the state presidential primaries.

No formal announcement of a Harriman candidacy is expected before the windup of these primaries June 5. On that date, Kefauver and Stevenson will meet in their showdown contest in California.

* * * *

BESIDES MR. TRUMAN others who can be dominant figures at the national convention include House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson.

These congressional leaders won an important contest last weekend for control of the Texas national convention delegation. Neither is expected to be in Harriman's corner although both will support the Democratic nominee.

In his weekly broadcast in his home state Saturday night Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) described Johnson as "a strong dark horse possibility" for the nomination.

Whoever is nominated, Ellender said, he hopes the party will follow a "doctrine of moderation" aimed at restoring the "constitutional balance of powers between the states and the federal government.

FACES RED!

Mailmen's Pay Lost in Mail

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—City mail carriers went unpaid today — their checks were lost in the mail.

Samuel Brown, acting postmaster, said the checks of the 20 carriers did not arrive Friday with those of the clerks.

He said officials at the regional post office in Cincinnati apparently mailed them to the wrong city.

Ambushes Defeated

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — The French army claimed more than 175 Algerian rebels were killed in bloody ambushes and running battles across eastern Algeria Saturday.

The Nationalists countered with a daring raid into the heart of Constantine as they pressed their 18-month-old fight for independence.

Screaming sirens alerted the 118,000 residents of Constantine, metropolis of the interior, as the Nationalists stormed in, throwing grenades and shooting down Arabs friendly to the French.

* * * *

THIRTEEN PRO-FRENCH Moselems were cut down by the deadly rebel hail and nine other people wounded when a bomb was thrown into a crowded Jewish cafe at the noon hour. Two policemen and a French paratrooper fell as French forces counterattacked and drove the raiders out of the city.

About 50 miles to the northwest, French paratroopers combing the countryside blasted out of a rebel ambush staged with the help of the local Moslem population. The French claimed 80 rebels were killed and admitted to one paratrooper dead and another wounded.

A French army detachment in the same region fought its way out of another rebel ambush, killing 30 of the attackers. French losses were said to be one dead and two wounded.

Pet Show Proves Thrilling for 700, but Smallest One (Ant) Gets Lost

Almost 300 pets (alas, one was lost) vied for comic and serious distinction for their young owners Saturday at the 28th Annual Pet Show in Bixby Park.

The show, sponsored by the Long Beach Humane Society, assisted by public schools and the Recreation Department, drew about 700 spectators including 450 boys and girls.

What promised to be a fierce competition for the award "smallest pet in the show," petered out just before judging when the most promising entry, an ant, got lost. By default, a lady bug entered by two-year-old Byron Hayes, 19 Cherry Ave., was a shoo-in.

* * * *

THE COMPETITION was keener among 299 other entries and posed a difficult—and at times weird—challenge to judges Joseph M. Kennick, Eleanor Price and James W. Bibb.

Helen Rogers, Pet Show manager, said interest hasn't run so high since last year's show when a gold, bowled creature was ceremoniously dubbed "best behaved fish in show."

And, as in some years the Nobel peace prize is passed over, so Saturday was the Pet Show's tribute to the "most unusual mouse." Available mice just didn't measure up.

First, second and third place ribbons were awarded winners whose entries were sometimes as imaginative as the show's categories.

First off, Kathy Kennedy, 6, of 5934 E. Wardlow Rd., was adjudged the sweetest pet owner. Then Aileen Donavan, 7, of 217 San Francisco Ave., took a ribbon for longest dog.

Other first place winners in the dog division:

3 Bus Companies Ask Fare Hike

SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.)—Three members of the California Bus Association have asked the State Public Utilities commission for permission to increase minimum fares by 15 to 20 cents and all other one-way and round-trip fares by 15 per cent.

The members are Pacific Greyhound Lines, Continental Pacific Lines and Transcontinental Bus System.

The association pointed out that the last increase in one-way and round-trip fares was on June 18, 1951, and operators are having trouble meeting wage and operating costs under the existing fare structure.

Anti-Taxers Storm Police, 800 Strong

MOUTIERS, France (U.P.)—More than 800 followers of right-wing anti-tax crusader Pierre Poujade charged 35 gendarmes here Saturday when the police tride to seize a party leader's automobile for non-payment of taxes.

Six Poujadista and two gendarmes were injured in the clash which finally was broken up with tear gas. The rioters used clubs and stones until the gas scattered them.

The outburst occurred when the police and a tax collector appeared in this town to impound a car belonging to a Poujade Party leader for back taxes.

Mexico Navy Chief Visiting in Ensenada

ENSENADA (U.P.)—Rear Adm. Roberto Gomez Maqueo, Mexico's naval minister, arrived in Ensenada Saturday to inspect port development projects.

AF Orders New NAA F100F Jet

LOS ANGELES—The Air Force said Saturday that it has placed a multi-million dollar order with North American Aviation, Inc., for the F100F Super Sabre, a two-place version of the world's fastest jet fighter now in operational units.

The new two-man plane, which can exceed the speed of sound in level or climbing flight, is a triple-threat, supersonic fighter designed for use as a fighter-bomber, an air-superiority fighter, or as a trainer.

The F100F is the fourth model in North American's Super Sabre series, earlier models of which are now being sent to Europe to replace the North American F86 Sabre jets in use by USAF fighter units there.

* * * *

THREE MODELS of the Super Sabre are now on active duty with the Tactical Air Command of the Air Force. They are the F100A, first of the series; the F100C, a longer-range fighter-bomber which can carry an A-bomb at supersonic speeds; and the F100D, an advanced model of the "C" which is equipped with an autopilot that enables it to fly itself to a target. All are powered by Pratt & Whitney J57 turbojet engines with afterburners.

An F100C, piloted by Colonel Horace A. Hanes, established the first official supersonic world's speed record of 822.135 miles per hour at Palmdale, Calif. on Aug. 20, 1955, in high altitude runs over an 18-kilometer (11-mile) course.

The F100 Super Sabre series was first put into production at North American's Los Angeles plant in mid-1953, and subsequently the company's Columbus, Ohio division became a second production source.

12 Million Tourists

ROME (AP)—Italy expects 12 million foreign tourists this year. Government figures show 10,786,016 visitors came in 1955, the greatest number ever. Of this number, 629,552 were from the United States.

Boy, 16, Runs Into Trouble at Home by Winning Tribute-to-Mom Contest

MRS. JOSEPH WALKER AND SON . . . 'Mickey' Had a Secret

Grace in Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Honeymooning Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco lunched with Generalissimo Francisco Franco in Pardo Palace Saturday. All members of the Spanish government and their wives also were present.

RUTLAND, Iowa (UP) — The board of education decided that it might as well close the Rutland High School for good. The school has only 17 students.

He Had to Stay Out Late in Order to Turn in Essay

Proudest mother in the Long Beach area this Mother's Day may be Mrs. Joseph Walker, 38, of 391 Truman Boyd Manor.

Her son, Michael, 16, won the Long Beach Retailers Associated "Mom is the Greatest" essay contest in a tribute to her.

* * * *

SHE WINS, as a result, $200 in merchandise awards given by retail stores.

Michael, or "Mickey" as he is known, got into pretty serious trouble at home the night he turned in his entry.

"I wrote this tribute to my Mom, 'the source of understanding, companionship and life', in typing class in the ninth grade in Stephens Junior High School," explains Mickey.

"I have a spare time job, three times a week, leaving pamphlets at houses. I usually get home at 5:30 or a quarter to 6.

"But I went downtown to turn in my entry and I didn't get home until 6:30.

"My mom and my dad both scolded me because I'm supposed to be home on time. What made it worse was that I couldn't tell them where I had been. I didn't tell them until they knew I had won the contest."

Walker, 41, a marine machinist, is employed at the Harbor Boat Works.

The Walkers have another son, Edward E., 17, an aviation machinist mate on the aircraft carrier USS Boxer at San Diego.

"I'm so proud of both our boys," says Mrs. Walker.

Mickey expects to enter the Navy next January.

The brothers were born in Seattle. The family came here from Seattle 12 years ago.

Mickey's letter, with its touching and heartfelt tribute to his mother, was chosen from among 1,800 entered in the two-week contest.

Judges were Vito Romans, manager of Long Beach Retailers Associated; Jim Duncan, retail advertising manager of the Independent, Press-Telegram and Gene Lentzner, owner of Gene's Dress Shop, 450 Pine Ave.

Contestants ranged in age from 6 to 52. The 52-year-old man wrote a letter of tribute to his 80-year-old mother.

* * * *

ONE LETTER was signed by nine children. They said their father died last August "and Mom is too busy to grieve; she is busy helping us keep our spirits up."

The judges also were pleased with a six-page tribute written by a man in praise of—guess who? His mother-in-law!

Mrs. Walker will receive from:

Jap Cities Plan Anti-Bomb Rallies

TOKYO (AP) — Another world rally against atomic and hydrogen bombs will be held in three Japanese cities Aug. 4-10. Invitations will be sent to 30 nations, including the United States. The Japan Council on Prohibition of Atomic and Hydrogen Bombs staged similar meetings in the same three cities—Tokyo, Hiroshima and Nagasaki—last August.

Burke Claims Navy Can Deliver H-Bomb

WASHINGTON (UP)—The U. S. Navy's carrier-based planes are capable of delivering a hydrogen bomb attack on enemy targets.

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, stated this emphatically in a United Press interview, the first official acknowledgement that the Navy could deliver the H-bomb. Heretofore the navy has claimed only A-bomb capability for its carrier planes.

The interview was granted before disclosure of the Air Force's latest differences with the administration over whether the Navy can fill in gaps in this country's strategic bombing capabilities.

But the Navy claims apparently were in President Eisenhower's mind when he cited the "tremendous" airpower of the Navy as one reason it is not necessary to match Russia in production of land-based inter-continental bombers.

The Administration position, also voiced by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, has been challenged indirectly by Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff. Twining told a Senate appropriations subcommittee Friday the Navy's strategic striking power would be "small" because the range of carrier-based planes is "relatively short" and because Naval airpower would be largely absorbed at the start in winning control of the air.

SOOTHES NERVOUS HOLLYWOOD

Tiny Pill Rules 'Ulcer Alley'

By BOB HOUSER

Miltown is a booming medical whistle-stop just this side of Frustration.

Miltown and Equanil are trade names for meprobamate, a tranquilizing drug developed by Dr. Frank M. Berger of Wallace Laboratories, New Brunswick, N. J., which makes Miltown. The same 400 milligram pill is distributed by Wyeth, Inc., Philadelphia, under the name Equanil.

The drug, available only by prescription, has been on the market for about 10 months. It lessens tension, reduces irritability and restlessness. Considering present demand, the drug is a tremendous success.

* * * *

EIGHT MONTHS AGO, pharmacists report, there was little call for the comforting, white six-grain tablets. "Today we can dispense all we can get our hands on."

Four pharmacies in nervous Hollywood dispensed a quarter-million pills in four months and turned away more orders than they filled, according to Time magazine. The supply situation started improving in April. Most pharmacies now have stocks but the turnover is fast. As recently as two months ago Long Beach pharmacies were turning away customers or perhaps providing 18 pills of a 48-pill prescription pending further deliveries. Some patients waited three weeks for the tablets. The average local pharmacy had a 20-prescription backlog until a month ago.

Widespread public popularity infers similar acceptance by doctors since the product bears the federal legend warning it is available only by prescription. There is a difference however in the acceptance. The public is usually enthusiastic with its new weapon against tension, a common complaint of the times.

* * * *

DOCTORS WELCOME it too, but with caution. In the light of favorable research on the relaxants they are loath to deprive their patients of even simple symptomatic relief. At the same time, doctors are taking stock of causes as well as symptoms.

So, a supervised patient may take the drugs with impunity. But a borrower of pills may find himself with a drug with too much concealed horsepower for him to handle through the tortuous twists of his daily tensions.

Thus far, only isolated cases of untoward reactions have been noted. One has been a skin rash type of allergy. In most of these cases the drug can be continued if taken along with antihistamines to combat the allergy.

A second reaction is actually a part of the pills' claimed benefit—drowsiness. Physicians say this effect could be dangerous to persons driving autos or working near machinery.

Still another, and possibly the greatest danger, say doctors and psychiatrists, is the user's belief that the tranquilizer is a cure in itself. The men of science say that the drug should be used only under careful supervision and as an adjunct to psycho-therapy which attempts to remove the cause of the tensions.

* * * *

BUT THE SOLID GOLD FACT remains that the relaxing drugs produce a dramatic and spectacular change in the harried, the irritable and the chronic neurotic.

Word of the happy cases spreads quickly. A friend says, "Try one of these. They worked wonders for me." Medical men frown on this type of sidewalk diagnosis.

The drug does not work on all people. In fact it makes some even more nervous. These cases are rare however.

Even as good as the drugs are they lack the test of long-time usage by great numbers of people. It is conceivable there could be a long-range cumulative reaction to the nervous system or vital organs.

Constant use of the pills—what the doctor calls "maintenance dosage" — also poses the possibility of the system's becoming adjusted to them until larger and larger dosage is required. And there is danger even in taking too much aspirin—or vitamin D.

250,000 Pills in Four Months

While not physiologically addictive, the tranquilizers may become emotionally addictive.

* * * *

DOCTORS POINT OUT that flies developed an immunity to DDT. So with the tranquilizers, the body may adjust to them until they no longer take hold in the dramatic fashion they do now.

Even worse, in some cases a new drug beats a symptom to its knees or even masks the symptom completely; then suddenly the symptom returns, perhaps in a form more difficult to treat or, as the doctor puts it, "more intractable."

Is this cowardice, this resort to central nervous system depressants at about 10 cents per pill?

Is this "one or two pills three times a day" a partial suicide—the inch-by-inch killing of the part of the man which wrestles and whips adversity? Is this a tail wagging a hypochondriac dog?

Not cowardice; no more so than taking penicillin for virus or aspirin for headache, say medical men.

Partial suicide? Only if the patient uses the drug as a cure rather than an emergency treatment. Says the psychologist: There is a psychological growth force within everyone which enables him to eliminate, either by himself or with help, the causes of his tensions.

Baby Festival Scheduled for Local Area Children

Registrations will open Friday for the Long Beach Harbor Baby Festival, sponsored by the Military Order of the Purple Heart and Auxiliary.

Open free to all children between the ages of one month and six years living in the Long Beach area, the festival, which is a national project, emphasizes health and beauty.

All children entered will receive a free health examination. Those passing over 90 per cent will receive gold-sealed certificates.

Two coronation pageants will be held in June—one at Lakewood and one at the Municipal Auditorium. Little Miss and Master Lakewood and Miss and Master Long Beach will be chosen as the prettiest girls and most handsome boys in the festival. Trophies also will be awarded beauty winners of each age class.

Candidates may be registered Friday, Saturday and the following Monday at three locations—J. C. Penney's Los Altos and downtown stores and the Hobby Horse, Lakewood Center. Toys will be given the first 100 children registered at each of the three headquarters. Children need not be present for their parents to enter them.

Clifford Parmenter, 4500 Harvey Way, past national commander of the Military Order of the Purple Heart, is general chairman.

Masonic Homes Leader Speaks

Dr. Ernest G. Bashbor, chairman of the Masonic Homes endowment board, will talk to Long Beach Masonic Club Thursday noon in the Wilton Hotel. He will tell of work at the homes.

Mel Berbower will be chairman of the day, and the Rev. Dr. Russell M. Brougher will preside.

Heart Officials Attend Session

Long Beach Heart Assn. will be represented by four officials at the annual meeting of the California Heart Assn. Friday and Saturday at Carmel. They will be Dr. Frederick Kellogg, president of the state or tion and director of the Beach group; Dr. R. W. A president of the local tion; Robinson A. Reed, di Leslie R. Raymond, ex secretary.

Ike Woos Rank, File of Labor

By ROBERT E. LEE
(I, P-T Capital Bureau)

WASHINGTON — The Eisenhower administration is counting on a "bread and butter" approach to union rank and file members for support in the November elections.

The Republican administration's top labor advisers have no intention of trying to win the backing of AFL-CIO President George Meany, United Auto Workers Chief Walter P. Reuther, or other national union leaders.

The official GOP view is that to woo labor's top brass would necessitate a break with principle. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell and other officials won't try to bend to the philosophy of the labor chiefs.

* * * *

BUT THE GOP hopes to sell the rank and file—and perhaps state and local union officials—on the economic record under the administration.

The plan now shaping up is to hit labor's grass roots hard with the facts of high industrial income, increasing liberalization of state unemployment and workmen's compensation laws, research on jobs for older workers—as well as administration support of higher minimum wages.

And if Mitchell has his way, there will be a stepped-up campaign to pin responsibility on the southern Democrats for blocking congressional action on some legislation sought by the unions and blacked by the administration. Mitchell also likes to point out that the highly controversial right-to-work laws which outlaw the union shop are largely the product of state legislatures in the Democratic south.

The right-to-work law fight is one which has often exploded within the administration, where Mitchell is at odds with Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, who advocates such legislation.

Success of the GOP's anticipated push for the rank-and-file union vote will hinge largely on the labor secretary's ability to keep Weeks and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson out of the labor picture.

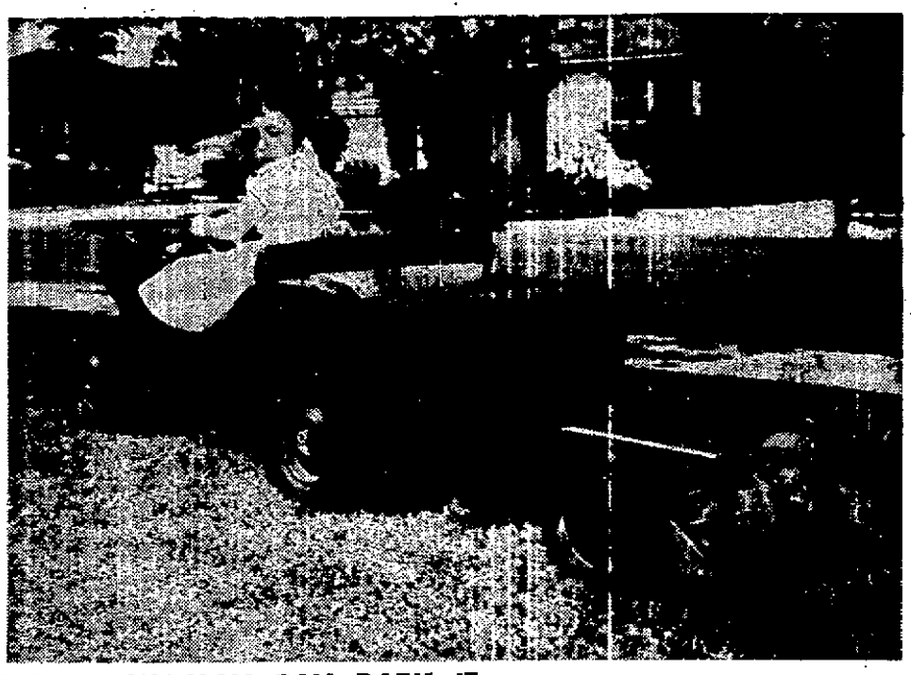

* * * *

BENSON has implied strongly on several occasions that union labor—and in particular Reuther, whose UAW dominates the farm equipment industry—is at least partially responsible for the spread between farm prices and farm income.

Although Reuther is not popular in farm areas, Mitchell has tried to call Benson off. Labor considers the attacks unfair, and adminstration officials with moderate views about unions think the Benson line unnecessary and politically dangerous.

However, it is understood that Benson has not committed himself on dropping this method of turning aside attacks from price-depressed farm areas.

The administration isn't kidding itself about its chance to win support from the top labor chieftains here.

Underground Urges Execution of Cyprus British Governor

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—A battle of leaflets—including an underground appeal for the "execution" of British Gov. Sir John Harding—filled an otherwise ominous calm in this troubled city Saturday.

An appeal pasted on walls about the city called the governor "Gauleiter Sir John" and said "it is the duty of all Greeks" to execute him.

The leaflet bore the typed signature of Dighenis, unidentified leader of the EOKA organization which seeks union of this crown colony with Greece. Dighenis is believed to be Col. George Grivas, former Greek army officer, who has a $28,000 price on his head.

"Instead of a material reward which can emanate only from scum and can be accepted only by scum" the leaflet said, "we shall make the executioner of the sadistic tormentor of the Cypriot people a national hero whose name will be written in gold letters in the roll of honor of the heroes of the Cypriot struggle."

There already has been one attempt on Harding's life, last March 23 an unexploded time bomb was found in the bed in which he had slept all night.

Cypriot police passed out leaflets, too. They asked the Greek population, which make up four-fifths of the island's half million, to: "disown blood-stained fanatical terrorists."

The paper war began Friday with an EOKA leaflet claiming two British soldiers—Lance Cpl. Gordon Hill and Pvt. Ronnie Shilton—had been hanged in reprisal for the execution of two Greek Cypriot rebels.

The British have not confirmed the death of Hill and Shilton, although acknowledging they are missing.

30 Aliens in Frog Olympics

ANGELS CAMP, Calif. (AP)—More than a dozen nations have entered more than 30 foreign frogs in the international frog olympics here next week-end, May 17-20.

Most of these alien hoppers are nearing California by fast overseas airliner to challenge America's best jumpers. The world's best will compete in the annual re-enactment of the original contest in 1853 which Mark Twain later immortalized in the short story "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County."

Among invading unknowns are such threats as African Magic II, of Johannesburg, South Africa, and Bangkok Billy, a big one from the Thai marshes whose reputation has preceded him to the mother lode country.

Firm Builds Midget Jeep to Pull Mower

A tiny gasoline-driven runabout that looks like a jeep they forgot to Sanforize has been developed and put into production by John C. Pyeatte of Bellflower and a group of Long Beach men.

The vehicle is 60 inches long, 26 inches wide, has a horn and headlights and is great for kids from 4 to 15 if you can get dad out from behind the steering wheel.

Called the Yardbird, the tiny jeep-like contraption is designed principally to pull a lawn mower. It can hit 8½ miles an hour.

* * * *

THE VEHICLE is built by Electro-Mechanical Engineering Co., 16658 Grand Ave., Bellflower. The firm has been in production for six months and is turning out about 25 Yardbirds a month.

Other statistics: Fiberglass body, two horsepower Clinton gasoline engine, 20 to 1 engine-to-rear wheel ration, 300x7 pneumatic tires, automatic centrifugal clutch, recoil-type starter, quart-capacity gas tank, 200 miles to the gallon and a reverse gear.

* * * *

THE MANUFACTURERS believe the Yardbird has even a greater value than that of a piece of garden equipment or a plaything for the kids.

It's this: Anybody's wife—even yours—can park it.

The Jaycees and the Long Beach Safety Council co-sponsored the event at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

Last year's winner, Gerald Eischen, 19, of 421 Ohio Ave., Long Beach City College student, was runner-up. He, too, will receive a wrist watch and trophy cup.

BOTH YOUTHS will represent the city at state finals in Sacramento next month.

Third-place winner was Jim Burgess, 18, of 4823 Hackett Ave. A Poly High student, Roy Swett, 17, of 517 E. Hill St., won the sportsmanship prize.

Judging was based 40 per cent on a written examination and 60 per cent on actual driving ability. The driving examination included parking tests.

Earl Marble, event chairman, reported that more than 40 teenagers participated.

Difficult cases invited with NO MONEY DOWN

Putting service first and money later has been at Dr. Campbell's for over 20 years, but never more than right now. Even difficult cases are welcomed on Dr. Campbell's no money down credit plan. You get your new dentures, but may wait 45 days before paying anything. Dr. Campbell carries his own credit, with no outside financing, so he is not regulated by ordinary credit standards.

"I prefer that you get your dentures on credit," Dr. Campbell said. "We want to serve you first, and the money is secondary. Take as long as you need to pay on my easy-credit plan."

Why Dr. Campbell says pay NO MONEY-DOWN

"I don't have to worry about paying my expenses as a dentist if I am interested first in giving service," Dr. Campbell said. "I have found through trial and error that every one of my offices must give a lot of credit to be prosperous. In the past, when one of my offices curtailed credit, this office became less prosperous. People are glad to pay for good service when you are thinking of them before the money. My records prove that insisting on immediate cash, even in small amounts, hurts my dental practice. No money down helps my dental practice."

LOW PRICES BRING BIG DENTURE SAVINGS

Dr. Campbell's twelve offices make a lot of dentures. The story of volume production is well known to everyone. We have many things we could not have if it were not for volume production. If it costs Dr. Campbell less to make dentures in volume, it stands to reason it costs you less.

"My low prices and no money down credit plan enable me to hold prices down despite rises in salaries and materials," Dr. Campbell said. "By not taking advantage of the trend to increase prices, I make more dentures and still make a profit at no increase in price. Living costs have gone up a lot, but my prices are the same as they were years ago."

SEE YOUR SAVINGS—no doubt about these prices

When you go in to buy something at a department store you see the article tagged with a price. That way you know it's not a bargaining proposition. You don't have to be a good bargainer to get a good price.

"I am doing this in dentistry," Dr. Campbell said. "I want you to know that the price of the denture you select is the best I can make, and that no one can bargain for less, making others pay the difference in higher prices. Each sample denture, which you choose from, has a price permanently molded into the denture. You see the denture, you see the price, you take your choice."

Translucent Dentures

Translucent DENTURE MATERIAL and translucent TEETH are recognized by dentists as the FINEST available for making dentures.

Even if these materials were expensive, they would be economical in the long run. But my price for my finest denture is so low that there is no need to accept less.

Immediate Restoration

New dentures may be put in the SAME DAY the last of your teeth are extracted. If your case permits it, and you desire it, impression is taken BEFORE teeth are extracted. Dentures are started immediately and finished the same day.

Save on Partial Plates

Modern methods of casting metal parts enable me to make them for less money than formerly. Now my prices for partials are lower, with the best work I have turned out.

Frego Strengthener for Thinner Extra Strength

Imported Frego Strengthener now available to dentists, is a gold plated stainless steel mesh which is molded into denture. It permits VERY THIN construction. Fragile looking dentures are strong with Frego Strengtheners.

2 British Traitors Spied for Years Before Deserting

WASHINGTON (UP) — British traitors Donald MacLean and Guy Burgess gave Russia so much secret allied information that a special section was set up in Moscow to handle it, it was disclosed Saturday.

The Senate Internal Security committee released an affidavit from Vladimir M. Petrov, of Sydney, Australia, reciting hearsay evidence that the defecting British diplomats had been spies for years before they fled to Russia in 1951.

Petrov, a former Soviet secret policeman deserted the embassy in Sydney in 1954.

The subcommittee has been looking for information to support Gen. Douglas MacArthur's charges that someone, possibly Burgess and MacLean, tipped the Communists the United States would not attack China when the Chinese Reds intervened in the Korean war.

There was no such direct information in Petrov's affidavit.

Both Britons had been stationed for a time in Washington.

Steel Eyes New Pact Demands

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Policy makers of the United Steelworkers—bent on taking advantage of record business profits—meet Monday to formalize union contract demands for coming negotiations with basic steel companies.

The job of the 170-member wage policy committee is expected to be an easy one. Union leaders already have spelled out what they want in the way of contract improvements for 650,000 members working in basic steel.

* * * *

THE COMMITTEE, however, must approve all matters pertaining to union decisions on contracts and wages. The negotiations will have a direct bearing on national business since steel is a bulwark of the U. S. economy.

USW President David J. McDonald has said repeatedly his union wants a substantial wage increase, supplemental unemployment benefits, improvements in the insurance program and premium pay for Saturday and Sunday work.

The current contract, signed in 1954, expires at midnight June 30. The union would be free to strike then if agreement is not reached.

Steelworkers now earn an average of $2.47 an hour. The basic wage is $1.64½ cents an hour.

The union negotiated an average 15-cent hourly pay increase under a wage reopening agreement last July after a 12-hour strike—the shortest nationwide steel strike in history.

The union served notice last month on 172 basic steel firms and iron ore mining companies that it wants a new contract. Several of the companies also have notified the union of intentions to terminate the current pact.

Signs to Line Suez Canal Despite Ban

CAIRO, Egypt (UP)—The internationally administered Suez Canal Co. has lost a fight to keep advertising billboards away from the famous water route, it was learned today.

The company has refused to grant a billboard concession because the signs would block the view of tourists passing through the canal from the Red to the Mediterranean sea.

The Nile Publicity Co. said Saturday the Egyptian State Railway has granted it a billboard concession on land the railway owns paralleling the canal. About 60 panels will be set up.

Knowledge of Law Helps Pickpocket

NEW YORK (UP)—A legal-minded pickpocket corrected a judge in court Saturday, and lifted three months off his sentence.

Bronx Magistrate Edward T. Galloway sentenced Robert Jones, 41, to six months after he pleaded guilty to being a known pickpocket loitering in a public place.

"Pardon me, your honor," Jones interrupted with a polite smile. "But violation of section 898-A of the Code of Criminal Procedure carries a maximum of only 100 days."

"That's right, so it does," the magistrate replied after checking briefly. "I'll give you 90 days. That will give you 10 off for your cooperation."

CLOSE SHAVE

Might as Well Say the Obvious

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—You might have expected it: Remarks about close shaves after an automobile entered a barber shop through its plate glass window.

The barber, Cecil De Loach, suffered a leg injury. The man in his chair, Charles A. Greaves, was cut slightly in the mouth.

Police said the driver, Gladys A. Sword, told them she was parked at the curb and when she started her car it lurched forward.

Motor City 'Down' But Only Note of Alarm Voiced by UAW, Demos

DETROIT (AP)—The motor city is used to ups and downs in the auto business.

Detroit now is in a down phase with rising unemployment among auto factory workers. On the surface the city has all the earmarks of prosperity although nationwide unemployment in the industry is around 150,000.

But so far the only expressions of alarm in the Detroit area have come from the United Auto Workers Union and Democratic politicians.

UAW President Walter Reuther reiterated his alarm in a statement issued Saturday by the union and at the same time injected a political note in the unemployment story.

* * * *

REUTHER ACCUSED General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp of resorting to a short work week to cover up "the seriousness of the current unemployment situation in the automobile industry." He said it meant "spreading the burden of unemployment on the backs of the workers."

Reuther added:

"It also conveniently provides a prop to bolster the myth of Republican prosperity in this election year."

Reuther's statement, stressing an alarm he first voiced a week ago, came after the latest series of layoffs in the auto industry during the week.

General Motors, employing nearly 400,000 hourly workers in diversified phases of industry, Thursday ordered a one-day shut-down of its nationwide assembly lines. GM spokesmen said they did not know how many assembly plants were involved nor how many workers were idled.

* * * *

CHRYSLER CORP. Wednesday laid off indefinitely 6,200 workers at plants in Detroit and Evansville, Ind. Then on Friday, Chrysler suspended 6,500 workers in its Chrysler division through Tuesday of the new week. The shutdown order was confined to the two Chrysler plants in the Detroit area.

Ford Motor Co. also has laid off workers this spring but has not disclosed the number.

Chrysler made no secret about its unemployment figures. The company said it employed around 130,000 hourly workers in the 1955 boom period. It estimated 38,000 employes have been laid off since cutbacks started late last year.

Reuther said in a televised interview Friday night that one out of every 11 workers in Detroit is unemployed.

* * * *

ALL THE AUTO makers said the cutbacks were necessary to balance production with current customer demand. The industry has a backlog of 900,000 unsold new cars and it is trying to reduce the inventory to clear the decks for sale of new models next fall.

One out of every seven persons employed in the United States depends for his living on the manufacture, sale, service, or use of motor vehicles. The total number is estimated at nearly 10,000,000.

Passenger car registrations reached 50,954,000 in 1955. The industry's long range view is optimistic. It is counting on 81,000,000 registrations by 1965.

Gen. Donovan to Represent Ike at Fete

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—President Eisenhower Saturday thanked Maj. Gen. William J. Donovan for agreeing to represent him in Europe next July at dedication ceremonies for cemeteries and memorials to American war dead.

The American Battle Monuments commission will hold the ceremonies at memorials it has erected. The dates are July 16 in Cambridge, England; July 19 at Omaha Beach, France; July 20 at Manche, France; July 23 at Epinal, France; July 26 at Draguignan, France, and July 30 at Anzio Beach, Italy.

Czechs Arrest 10 as Jet Plane Spies for U.S.

LONDON (U.P.)—Communist Czechoslovakia Saturday announced arrest of 10 persons who were charged with spying on the Czech jet plane industry for the United States.

The announcement by Prague Radio said the Interior Ministry had uncovered "another espionage organization operating . . . for the American Secret Service and directed from West Berlin."

The announcement said the ring "was linked with American centers abroad both through its agents and by modern transmitters of American production."

BIG GAIN

6 Million Cars in California

WASHINGTON (AP) — The big automobile sales boom of 1955 lifted total motor vehicle registrations in the United States to 62,760,395.

Announcing this Saturday the bureau of public roads said the 1955 total included 52,173,234 passenger cars, 10,331,912 trucks and 255,249 buses.

California passed the 6 million mark with 6,189,022 registrations, to lead all states. This was a gain of nearly a half million vehicles over the 5,698,842 registered there in 1954.

Jordan King Arrives

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—King Hussein of Jordan arrived Saturday night on an unexplained visit piloting his twin-engine plane. The Lebanese government declined to say why the 20-year-old monarch is here. It even tried to keep his arrival a secret.

Appointment of George Is Stepping-Stone to Creating Super-Diplomat Post in Europe

By WALTER T. RIDDER
(Of The Independent Washington Bureau)

WASHINGTON—The appointment of Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga), as U.S. ambassador to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is merely a stepping-stone to creation of a new U.S. super-diplomat post in Europe, it was learned here.

Under the plan currently envisioned by the State Department, NATO will in the near future abandon its purely military character and will take on wide political powers. Economic matters will not be handled by the agency but will be funneled through such existing organizations as the OEEC (Organization for European Economic Cooperation), the Columbo Pact, and other regional set-ups.

* * * *

IN ORDER THAT NATO can fulfill its contemplated political functions, the State Department feels that the U.S. must be represented at NATO councils by a diplomat ranking higher than anyone currently in Europe and even higher than George will rank when he goes to Europe as the President's personal ambassador.

The present plan contemplates appointment of a man with a rank equivalent to that of undersecretary of state. He will outrank all U.S. ambassadors in Europe and will have authority over them. He will report directly to the secretary of state.

The only remotely analogous position was that held by the U.S. roving ambassadors in Europe during the time of the Marshall Plan. The new post, State Department sources say, will carry more prestige and more authority than did the roving ambassadors. No names have yet been suggested for the new job and none presumably will be until the enlargement of NATO functions, now under study, has become reality.

In the view of the U.S. government, NATO must not abandon its military posture, but must broaden itself in order to deal with questions which affect the entire Free World. Secretary of State Dulles on his recent trip to Europe told our NATO allies that the organization should not be a discussion group, but should be empowered to make decisions and to act. Currently, NATO can only move in the military field. If the State Department plan is adopted NATO will have jurisdiction over political problems which are of mutual Free World interest no matter where they may arise. As pointed out here at the present time, even though the tense situation in the Far East is of vital interest to all the member nations of NATO, the matter cannot even be discussed at its meetings. Neither can such matters as the presently strained relations of Great Britain, Greece and Turkey over Cyprus nor the generally inflamed situation in North Africa.

* * * *

AS THE STATE DEPARTMENT sees it, an expanded NATO should be empowered not only to talk over such problems but actually to do something about them, subject, of course, to the highest policy direction from heads of state. Within the framework of such policy, however, NATO could take action.

This would necessitate that the American representative be able to speak and act for the U.S. and is the reason why the State Department is contemplating creation of the "super-diplomat" post to the NATO organization.

OHIO'S POLITICAL BEAR

Lausche Walks Alone

By JACK BELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—In Ohio politics they call Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche the man who walks alone.

In his 60th year he is walking a familiar, politically lonely path as Ohio's "favorite son" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination and as his party's unopposed nominee for the U. S. Senate.

Lausche, a six-foot gentle bear with a rumpled shock of graying hair, has developed a technique of campaigning that has given him five terms as governor.

The technique seems to consist of ignoring most of the established rules while projecting the Lausche personality to the voters.

The keynote of that personality, as Lausche displays it to the public, is sincerity of an emotional sort. Tears come mistily to his eyes as he talks of the traditions of America with the reverence born of a son of a Slovenian immigrant.

When he speaks of "O-Hi-O," his voice echoes with a fierce pride and timber of respect.

* * * *

FRANK LAUSCHE is a salesman who takes great pains to identify himself with the man on the street. Nothing pleases him more than to be recognized on sight in every hamlet of Ohio.

In this role, he avoids the pomp most governors love. He rides around in a five-year-old, inexpensive state car driven by a state employe who is never in uniform. When the governor and his cadre of aides go to lunch, it is always at a neighborhood cafe in Columbus and not one of the big hotels.

Lausche's critics call all this part of a phony sales campaign. They say he caters to the business interests of Ohio and enlists Republican support in that manner. They describe him as a hard man with his enemies.

The governor has accumulated many of these enemies by ignoring the Democratic Party organization, denying it patronage and sometimes publicly supporting Republicans for office. In the minds of some Democrats, he is more Republican than Democratic.

As he himself has put it, his political creed is: "I will not allow my party interest to overcome my interest in my country."

* * * *

IN 1950 Lausche turned a cold shoulder on the Democratic candidate for the Senate and spoke glowingly of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, a Republican. Only this year Lausche admitted on a television program he voted for Taft.

He has praised Eisenhower to such an extent as to cause his November opponent, Republican

GOV. FRANK LAUSCHE
Demo Friend of GOP

Sen. George Bender, to accuse Lausche of "trying to grab Ike's coattails."

* * * *

LAUSCHE TURNED DOWN an invitation to meet with other Democratic governors in Washington last year immediately after a White House conference of all of the governors with Eisenhower.

"I do not contemplate joining a political meeting to figure out ways and means of defeating the man who has just been my host," he declared.

All of this has not endeared him to party colleagues. He has made an enemy out of Rep. Michael J. Kirwan of Ohio, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee.

For years, Lausche had feuded with Ray T. Miller, chairman of the Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) Democratic Committee. The county embraces about one-fifth of Ohio's voters.

Lausche often has turned his back on the legislative demands of Ohio's organized labor leaders. The CIO endorsed his opponent in the Democratic gubernatorial primary in 1948. Yet John Rooney, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio CIO Council, says, "We never spent any money against Lausche."

That seems, in a way, to sum up Lausche's political success thus far. He pleases no one segment of the electorate fully. Neither does he fully alienate any large segment.

* * * *

LAUSCHE HAS a habit of confounding the political liberals with his proposals while assuaging the conservatives with his performance.

His proposals to the Republican legislature often are New Dealish in nature. His critics say he knows in advance the legislature won't accept them. What comes out of his maneuvering usually amounts to a moderately progressive program.

But it is as a conservative that Lausche has been boomed by Sen. Russell (D-Ga), Govs. Allan Shivers of Texas and Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana as a potential presidential candidate acceptable to the South.

Lausche, who has proposed that Ohio set up a state fair employment practices commission (FEPC) and who opposes segregation in Ohio schools, has said the question of racial integration in the schools should be handled by the states.

The Ohio governor disclaims any present presidential ambitions. He says he wants to be the state's "favorite son" candidate only to keep Ohio's 58 presidential nominating votes out of the hands of the "bosses."

But, of course, he wouldn't say "No" if the presidential nomination appeared headed his way. And he probably wouldn't reject second place on the ticket.

He described himself as "equally friendly" to Sen. Estes Kefauver and Adlai E. Stevenson.

Observing that "it is too early to assume what the facts will be" at the party's Chicago convention, Lausche obviously intends to await developments before he makes a move with Ohio's votes.

of massive retaliation. It has forced our foreign friends to accept a new and more expensive version of our own late lamented WPA." The scene was the Aswan Dam in Egypt. The U. S. and Russia had got into competition in building it, section on section, until it now was 22,860 feet high and still growing. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was implored to come home, but couldn't understand why he should:

"Oh, give me a plane that's new
I may turn up in Timbuktu
You'll find me there lending
And they'll be sending an I. O. U."

Khrushchev and Bulganin appeared with "Ivan the Menace" who explained how Russia operates, to the tune of "Whatever Lola Wants":

"Whatever Ivan wants, Ivan takes
And little men, little Ivan takes you . . ."

Politicians and lobbyists were roasted in a skit laid in "Lobbies in Paradise"—the politicians' Garden of Eden. It was a place "where all contributions are large, there's no conflict of interest, and they pass nothing but gas bills." Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.) assured Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) of Senate lobby investigation fame, that "this is the politician's paradise. The money grows on trees. Ring for a lobbyist—and he'll pick it off for you."

Heart Attack Kills Actor Louis Calhern

NARA, Japan (Sunday) (U.P.)—Louis Calhern, Brooklyn-born actor and director, died suddenly of a heart attack Saturday night in this ancient Japanese capital where he was working on a picture.

Calhern was 62 and appeared to be in good health, although suffering from a cold. He had been resting in his hotel room from rehearsals for the role of Col. Purdy in the film version of the play "Teahouse of the August Moon." Calhern had not yet appeared on camera.

The movie company, including Marlon Brando and Glenn Ford, have been working on the film and all lived in the hotel with Calhern. Producer Jack Cummings and Director Daniel Mann said they did not know who would fill Calhern's role.

* * * *

A SPOKESMAN for Metro Goldwyn Mayer said the entire cast was shocked, especially Ford who had played with Calhern before.

The body was removed from the hotel room and taken to the U. S. Army hospital in Osaka to await instructions from next of kin.

Calhern, married four times, is survived by his mother, Mrs. Hubertina F. Vogt of New York.

The actor, who made his first movie in the silent film era and played in the theater with George M. Cohan, Laurette Taylor and Ethel Barrymore, was divorced by his fourth wife, Marianne Stewart, in Juarez, Mexico, last July. Calhern also had been married to Ilka Chase, Julia Hoyt and Natalie Shafer.

* * * *

HIS LAST MOVIE completed in Hollywood before he came to Japan last month was "High Society" in which he played Grace Kelly's uncle.

Born in Brooklyn Feb. 19, 1893, Calhern broke into show business early. He played with Cohan in "Song and Dance Man" in 1923, in "Cobra" with Laurette Taylor in 1924, and in "The Love Duel" with Ethel Barrymore in 1929.

Scout Canoes Upset, 2 Boys, Man Drown

UNION CITY, Pa. (U.P.)—An overnight canoe trip by seven Boy Scouts and three scout leaders ended in tragedy Saturday when their five canoes overturned in a rain-swollen creek, drowning two boys and a scoutmaster.

Panic seized the scouts when they saw the leading canoe hit a submerged tree and overturn in the swift-moving and treacherous waters of French Creek near this northwestern Pennsylvania town.

The scouts lost control on their tipsy craft, and one by one the canoes spun around and capsized.

The scouts, traveling two in a canoe, were heading in a line downstream on a 30-mile trip from near Union City to Meadville, Pa. Heavy rains during the night had swollen the creek, a deep and treacherous stream under even normal conditions.

* * * *

CLYDE WATSON, 30, Erie, a scout field executive and leader of the camping party, said he was paddling in the first canoe and had just ordered the scouts to head for shore when his craft hit a tree and overturned.

"Panic caused the deaths," Watson said. "I'll never know why the scouts did not grab the tree branches to save themselves."

Watson said Scoutmaster Fred Coe of Troop 3, Union City, drowned trying to save one of the boys.

"I could have saved them all, but it was impossible to grab three or four at one time," Watson said. "I'll never take another canoe trip again."

The other victims were identified as Robert Sadowski, 14, Erie, and Harvey Brady, 17, Mill Creek, Pa., both members of St. Boniface Troop 133.

Gen. Salling Is 110 Today, May Take Bath--the Governor Will Drop By

SLANT, Va. (UP)—An incredibly old man said today he may take one of his rare baths next Tuesday because it will be his 110th birthday and the Governor will drop by to pay his respects.

Age may have caved in "General" John Salling, the oldest of three living veterans of the Confederate Army, but the salty old rebel is still "hewin, pryin' and pullin'," as he puts it.

A cigar poked in his mouth, Uncle John said there will be a fine birthday celebration. He was more concerned Saturday, however, about finding hired help for his 23-acre farm.

* * * *

SALLING WAS PROPPED UP by pillows on a small cot in the living room of his daughter's four-room, graying frame house which overlooks State Highway 61 near this tiny Southwest Virginia community.

"I'm going to sit in my wheel chair on the front porch and smoke a few cigars and chew some tobacco and chat," he said. He expects 300 well wishers, who visit him each year at this time.

The general said he "might even take a bath," for the occasion. Not that he relished the prospect, he added. "I was a bachelor 15 years after the war and I bathed 15 times."

Salling plans to wake up about 10 o'clock. His daughter, Mrs. H. A. McCamy, 54, will wheel him out to the front porch if the weather's fitting and there he'll greet his callers to call during the day.

Gov. Thomas Stanley and a delegation of state troopers plan to present the swarthy old veteran with a 10-gallon, Texas-style hat Salling expressed a yen for.

Later, Salling will eat ice cream and share with his guests a 25-pound, three-layer cake supplied by shops in Bristol, Va. Visitors will include the oldest daughter, Mrs. Ellen Starnes, 70; and Mrs. Nancy Thompson, 64, his only other living daughter.

The general is almost deaf and people have to shout at him. Likely, he will boom right back.

Frail now, Salling weighs only 100 pounds. But his hair still grows thick and jet black. "Never bother with my hair," he said. "Only time it gets wet is when it rains."

Besides Salling the only confederates still alive are Walter Williams, 109, of Franklin, Tex., and William A. Lundy, 107, Laurel Hill, Fla. The Union Army has one survivor, Albert Woolson, 109, of Duluth, Minn.

* * * *

SALLING has lived within two miles of his mountain birthplace all his life. During the Civil War he mined saltpetre for gunpowder. It was in these hills that he married his childhood sweetheart, Mary, at the age of 40 and raised their seven children. When Mary died many years ago the old soldier never remarried.

The general is no longer allowed the glass of white moonshine that he used to keep handy at the foot of his rocking chair. But he won't turn down a sip of hard liquor if Mrs. McCamy isn't watching.

Nobody Wants to Do Europe's Dirty Work

VIENNA (UP)—Europe's chimney sweeps, traditional bearers of good luck, complain that youth takes a black view of the future in their profession. They need apprentices.

More than 1,000 sweeps from all over Europe meet here May 16-19 at their congress to do something about the manpower shortage.

It's sooty work, they admit, but business is better than ever and wages are high.

REGIONAL POLITICS

Kefauver Aides Reply to Money Charge

By The Lookout

Adlai Stevenson's assertion that Republican money is being used in behalf of Sen. Estes Kefauver's campaign for presidential nomination was dubbed "wild and unfounded" in a statement sent to The Independent, Press-Telegram by Kefauver's national campaign manager.

Stevenson made the assertion while he and Kefauver were campaigning in the Long Beach area late last week. He referred particularly to the Minnesota campaign, where Kefauver defeated him, but said he did not know if any GOP money is being used to help Kefauver in California.

"We think it is about time Stevenson stopped alibiing for past defeats," said F. Joseph Donahue, Kefauver national chairman.

"As for Stevenson's wild and unfounded charge that Republican contributors financed Sen. Kefauver's victory in Minnesota, it is an inescapable fact that Stevenson was not defeated by money—he was defeated by votes."

Stevenson's remarks were based on a report appearing in a syndicated column by Doris Fleeson, which quoted Tex McCrary of New York to the effect that the GOP had helped the senator in Minnesota. Donahue yesterday quoted a telegram from McCrary:

"Only a very foolish Republican would risk contributing to the spring primary campaign of the candidate who might be the most difficult to defeat in November."

KIMBALL SOUNDS OFF

As Democratic politics continued to warm up, Dan A. Kimball, state chairman for Richard Richards' campaign for the U. S. Senate, sounded off about Democrats who are coming out for Richards' Republican opponent, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel.

Kimball charged that the appointment of Henry I. Dockweiler as chairman of a group of "Democrats for Kuchel" is "another in a long series of Republican efforts to use the cross-filing privilege to confuse the voters."

He said Dockweiler headed committees of Democrats for Gov. Knight, Richard Nixon and other prominent Republicans. He called him a perennial Republican supporter who maintains his Democratic registration for reasons of political expediency.

Kimball also slapped at Manchester Boddy, former Los Angeles publisher, who heads the Democratic campaign for Kuchel in the state. He said Boddy was "a member of a similar spurious organization two years ago" and recalled that Boddy lost a bid for the Democratic Senatorial nomination in 1950.

Meanwhile, another prominent Democrat came out for Kuchel.

Edward A. Hills, San Franciscan who twice was state chairman of Democratic Attorney General Edmund G. Brown's campaign, agreed to become state vice chairman of the "Democrats for Kuchel Committee." Hills will concentrate his efforts in Northern California.

KLOCKSIEM COMMITTEE

Assemblyman Herbert Klocksiem, running for reelection in the 44th Assembly District, has announced his campaign committee. Members: Maurice Goulet, manager; Edward T. Martin, Judge Charles D. Wallace, Charles Z. Walker, Rex L. Hodges and Clark F. Story. Headquarters are at 320 Pine Ave.

SANDERS ON PRINCIPLE

Coy Sanders, Democratic candidate in the 44th Assembly District, in a speech to the Young Democratic organization called for a return to politics of principle.

Sanders cited the activities of former Equalization Board Member William Bonelli as a "glaring example of expediency politics."

Such men as Bonelli can come to power only when voters are either apathetic or more concerned with campaign victory than with the integrity and competence of the men they seek to elect," he said. He told the young Democrats that "character cannot be bought, and conviction is never sold. Let us assure good government by electing men who possess not only proven knowledge and competence but character and conviction as well."

Alaska Flood Perils Refuge of Evacuees

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UP)—Helicopter crews shuttled all 27 residents of the flood threatened village of Aniak during the night but the rising waters of the Kuskokwim and Aniak rivers threatened still another evacuation Saturday.

Officials of the 71st Air Rescue Squadron at Elmendorf Air Force Base near here said a tent village had been established on high ground near Aniak and that all the refugees had received food and blankets.

But flood waters were backing up near the tent village and the entire group may have to be avacuated again, the Air Force said.

5 Senators Charge Farm Bill Will Increase Farmers' Costs

WASHINGTON (UP) — Five members of the Senate Agriculture Committee charged Saturday the new farm bill would increase farmers' costs by nearly $500 million.

Two Democrats and three Republicans on the committee centered their fire on mandatory price supports for feed grains. They said that section should be cut out of the bill which the committee approved Wednesday night.

Their minority report, released Saturday said, "farmers' gross income hasn't declined; it is their net income that has gone down. The bill raises farmers' costs by approximately half a billion dollars."

President Eisenhower, in vetoing an earlier Democratic farm bill April 16, said mandatory supports on feed grains would build grain surpluses and drive livestock prices down.

The new bill provides for similar, but slightly lower, supports for noncommercial corn, grain sorghums, barley, rye and oats.

The bill also contains—as did the original — President Eisenhower's $1.2 billion soil bank proposal. However, the House and the Senate committee turned down Mr. Eisenhower's plan to make advance soil bank payments to farmers this year.

Signing the minority report were Sens. Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla.), James O. Eastland (D-Miss), George D. Aiken (R-Vt), Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and John J. Williams (R-Del).

They said the feed grain provisions would extend mandatory price supports to 100 million acres in addition to the 170 million now covered. They added that the price of feeder livestock would be cut since feeders would have to pay more for grain.

READ THESE AMAZING TESTIMONIALS!

Dear Mr. Chan: "The day I came to your office with my mother and brother I was about to give up hope of getting rid of my asthma attacks. I spent hundreds of dollars for shots and pills but yet found no results. After reading your advertisement, I tried you for my last resort and was thrilled to find that responded wonderfully. After the first treatment I was able to breathe normally and could sleep better for the first time in months. Now am feeling fine and hoping others will benefit from my experience with Dr. Chan's Natural Method." Signed Mrs. Vivian Murray.

To Whom It May Concern: "Five years ago I was badly stricken with neuritis in my shoulders and extremities. My hands and knees were so badly swollen that I could hardly use them. I wasn't able to raise my arms above the shoulders. I was told by several doctors that they have done all they could for me and that no longer will be able to work again. Finally a friend referred me to try Dr. Chan's Herbal Therapy. After the first week felt much improved and the fourth week found me walking much easier with the pains in my shoulders disappearing, my hands returned to normal and I had use of them once more. cannot too highly recommend Dr. Chan to anyone who is ill." YOUNG MAN IN A H-U-R-R-Y

READY FOR SPELLDOWN

I, P-T Spell Champ Whizzes to Capital

After months of dictionary-digging and study, Barry Plott, 13, 8th grader in the Leland Stanford Junior High School and spelling champ of the Long Beach area, is ready for the National Spelling Bee in Washington, D. C.

Barry, his mother, Mrs. R. M. Plott, and his sisters, Jean, 7, and Dorothy, 6, of 2408 Ostrom Ave. left by plane Saturday for the capital. Barry's father, Comdr. Plott, administrative officer at the Long Beach Naval shipyard, wanted to go too, but he could not get away.

* * * *

"WE'RE FROM Virginia and we'll have a wonderful time," said Mrs. Plott. Her sister and brother-in-law, Marine Col. and Mrs. Alvin Sanders are stationed in Washington. Her mother, Mrs. James E. Barry and brother, James E. Barry Jr., an aerial commercial photographer, will come up from Norfolk to visit them.

Barry and Mrs. Plott will be in the Willard Hotel with the other contestants. Jean and Dorothy will stay with their uncle and aunt, Col. and Mrs. Sanders. The Plotts will be gone 12 days.

Barry won top honors in the Indepedent, Press-Telegram-sponsored Long Beach area Spelling Bee in Poly High School auditorium last March 17 by airily dusting off such words as "accordion," "oscilloscope," "lascivious," "sphincter," "psittacosis" and septuagenarian."

* * * *

HE WILL COMPETE against 62 other young spellers—the country's best chosen in town, city, area, regional and sometimes state contests—in the 29th annual National Spelling Bee.

The championship meet—a one-day "miss and out" word battle conducted in the traditional spelling bee manner—will be in the Department of Commerce auditorium Thursday, beginning at 8:30 a.m.

At stake will be a record-sized cash prize total of $3,975 and top honors in a contest that has involved more than 5,000,000 school children.

For the first time in the history of the event, boys outnumber girls among the contestants. There are 34 boys and 29 girls.

Trial to Start in Theft of Five War Cannon

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (AP)—A 29-year-old German immigrant, John Schultz, goes to court Monday on charges of stealing five Crimean war cannon. Each weighs half a ton.

Police say a large crane was used to pluck them from a school board storage yard. They had stood for years as relics at the collegiate institution until their bases began to crumble. Their value as scrap was placed at $90 for prosecution purposes.

Austrians Go to Polls Today

VIENNA, Austria (U.P.)—Austrians go to the polls today for the first time since the end of the Allied occupation to elect a new parliament.

Observers predict a close race between the country's two big parties — Chancellor Julius Raab's Conservative People's Party and the Anti-Communist Socialist Party of Vice Chancellor Adolf Schaerf. The two parties have governed Austria in a coalition since 1945.

A total of 10 parties and splinter groups will be contesting for the 165 seats at stake in the "Nationalrat." But only four have candidates in all 25 election districts: the People's Party, and left-wing Socialists.

The elections—the fourth since World War II—were called after the two government parties failed to reach a compromise over important economic issues which arose after conclusion of the anti-Communist Socialists, the extreme Rightist Party of Freedom and the Communists the Austrian State Treaty in May, 1955.

THEY NEED FRIENDS

Fatherless Boys Await Chance to Go Camping

In Long Beach is a family of six children, ranging in age from 5 to 13, whose father died last August. The mother tries hard to maintain the family unity, but the boys, aged 13, 11 and 8, sadly miss their father. Time spent at a mountain camp would help them greatly.

A 15-year-old fatherless boy needs a friend. Someone to send him to a summer camp.

* * * *

WITH DEADLINES for summer camp registrations fast approaching, additional funds are needed now to provide camperships for the more than 400 less privileged boys and girls in the Long Beach and Lakewood areas.

Members of the Community Welfare Council's camping and summer program committee, headed by Peggy Finley of the Pilot Club, urge public support of the program. Contributions in any amount may be sent to the Campership Fund — Welfare Council, 1213 Cedar Ave.

* * * *

LOCAL LABOR UNIONS have shown increased interest in the camp youth activity this season with the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union, Local 1-128; Bricklayers Local 13, Painters Local 256 and Stereotypers Union Local 161 among the first to send in contributions.

Others aiding include Sertoma Club, Altrusta Club, Jay Cee Mrs., Private Duty Nurse Organization of Long Beach, St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Native Daughters of the Golden West No. 154, St. Pious X, Young Ladies Institute 211, Abraham Lincoln P-T.A., AMVETS No. 24, Blue Star Mothers of America No. 8, Dianas Club and William McKinley Camp No. 23, USWV.

Record Number of New Vehicles

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The Bureau of Public Roads reported today that a near record of 4,197,145 new automobiles, trucks and buses were put on the nation's roads last year, a 7.2 per cent increase over 1954.

This raised the total of registered vehicle to an all-time high of 62,760,395.

The highest previous total off new registrations was 4,472,000 in 1950, a 10 per cent increase over the previous year.

Increases last year brought the number of passenger cars to 52,173,234, trucks to 10,331,912 and buses to 255,249.

Tells Mounties' Marriage Rules

OTTAWA (UP)—Love and marriage don't go with the first five years of a Mountie's career, Justice Minister Stuart Garson says. He explained in the House of Commons it takes time to train the Royal Canadian Mounted Policemen. Then they are transferred about every six months, sometimes to the wild north. That's the reason they are not permitted to marry until they have served five years.

NAVY KEEPS HER POSTED

Torrance Sailor Stricken With Rare Blood Disease

TORRANCE — A rare blood disease has kept Navyman Frank Bryant, 17, at Tripler Army Hospital in Honolulu, and his condition is considered "less favorable," his mother, Mrs. Kitty Farrar, 519 E. 219th St., was informed in the latest of a series of telegrams from the Navy Department.

Mrs. Farrar, mother of five other children, ranging in age from 14 months to 11 years, has been kept posted on her son's condition by daily telegrams from Vice Adm. J. L. Halloway Jr., Chief of Navy Personnel in Washington, D. C.

Frank, an ex-Banning High School student, joined the Navy in May 1955, and was sent to Honolulu in September of last year. According to Mrs. Farrar, he contacted the disease, Staphylococcal Septicemia, early last month, and had been "packed in ice" because of continued high temperatures.

Hoping to be able to get to the Islands to see her ailing son, Mrs. Farrar has contacted the local Red Cross chapter. Meanwhile, Mrs. Farrar has asked the boy's former schoolmates and friends to "keep his spirits up" with letters.

"I know that Frank is very sick, because a Gray Lady has been writing his letters for him," Mrs. Farrar said. The sailor had been gaining strength, according to the mother, but lately has taken a turn for the worse.

Should We Change Method of Filling Council Vacancies?

WHEN A VACANCY OCCURS on the Long Beach Unified School District Board, it is filled by appointment by the remaining members of the board and the appointee serves until the next election.

This is provided in the Education Code and the Long Beach City Charter. The Charter, on the other hand, provides for special district election in case of a vacancy on the City Council. Such an election must now be held to fill the vacancy in the Fifth District position caused by the death of Mrs. Ruth Bach.

PERHAPS WE SHOULD consider changing the method of filling council vacancies to conform to that which prevails in the school district, and in many other cities. The objective would be the same as that which dictated the educational code provision—to save the trouble and expense of special elections.

There are ample precedents. The city of San Diego, which has the same unique method of electing city councilmen that we have—nomination by districts and city-wide election—fills council vacancies through action by the remaining members of the council. Sixth class cities in California fill vacancies by the appointment method, with the requirement that unless appointment is made in 30 days, an election will be held.

Vacancies in Long Beach elective municipal offices, other than council positions, are filled by council appointment under our charter.

THE PRINCIPAL OBJECTION to the proposed change would probably be that the appointive Councilman would have an advantage, as an incumbent, in case he chose to run for the position at the ensuing election. But it has been demonstrated that incumbents do not have a cinch. The appointive Councilman would have to prove himself if he hoped to win at the election.

It is true that the appointive Councilman, pending the ensuing election, would have a somewhat different status than that of other Councilmen who owe their positions to city-wide vote. But under the present method, the status of the replacement Councilman is likewise different. He or she holds the office by vote of the people of only one segment of the city. Under the appointment method, the appointee would be selected by councilmen elected city-wide, and in a sense this would represent broader sentiment than if the replacement were elected in one district.

IF THE APPOINTMENT plan were to be considered here, it should be required, of course, that the appointee live in the district from which the previous Councilman was nominated. That is the way it is done in San Diego.

Most students of municipal government, we believe, would favor the appointive method. It is worthy of consideration here for the future.

Letting 'Em Out of the Closet

HERE WE GO AGAIN! Change the name of the little man behind the door to Khrushchev and this cartoon might have been drawn yesterday. But in 1920 when Ding (Jay N. Darling) drew it, it was Lenin who had promised to be good. He and his partner Leon Trotsky had been behaving like regular communists do. Three years earlier they had murdered the Czar and his family, had staged their October revolution and thumbed their noses at nearly everyone. So we let 'em out of the closet into the family of nations. But it wasn't long until we wished we hadn't. Today it's the same old drama; only the leading characters are new. At Geneva last year, Khrushchev again promised to behave, but you know what happened to the "Spirit of Geneva."

HARRY KARNS

Adlai Campaign Has Contrast; There's a Gay Side and a Grim

LAKEWOOD CENTER—The people, mostly women, sitting on the benches at the bus stop in front of the big department store, waited expectantly—but not for the bus.

When a truck with a big picture of Adlai Stevenson on its side came around the corner, a woman stood up. "Here he comes!"

But a man with lots of hair on his head got out of the cab of the truck and began fiddling with loudspeaking equipment. The woman sat down again.

STEVENSON

More people, including city officials and local candidates of the party, gathered and stood watching the truck as if expecting Mr. Stevenson to emerge from some hidden part of it and step onto the platform. But he didn't.

He came, instead, after another 15 minutes, down the long walk in front of the stores and shops, shaking hands on the way.

He wore a rumpled blue suit, a striped blue shirt, and a striped tie. The wear and tear of hard campaigning was evident on his face as escorts bustled him through the crowd to the truck platform. Though he is a fairly heavy man, he looked almost gaunt when he forgot to flash his brilliant smile. In the crowd, persons obviously sympathetic with his cause spoke of this. "He looks so tired," said an elderly woman.

The impression of tiredness dissolved temporarily when he stepped up to the microphone. Before him waited a crowd of 300 persons. It was his job to win their votes.

He is a man who likes to make jokes.

DOWN IN DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., he recalled, an elderly lady had come up to him and said: "Gov. Stevenson, your grandfather was my godfather. When I was a little girl, he gave me a doll. I'm going to vote for you."

"That's fine," Stevenson had said, "but surely you have a better reason than that for voting for me."

"There must be one," she said, "but I can't think of one."

People up close to the truck got a laugh out of that. But the microphone wasn't working. A woman at the fringe of the audience shouted, "We can't hear you!"

He answered: "I'm sorry. It's a break for you."

Someone tampered with the microphone. The loudspeaker gave out a dismal moan.

Adlai looked surprised. "Now, I know that's a Republican," he said.

The loudspeaking system got fixed. Mr. Stevenson went on. He made a direct appeal for votes, even from people who couldn't vote for him. "I came here to ask you to vote for me in the Repub—that is, the Democratic primary." The audience laughed at this small blunder. He recouped: "Well, you crossfile here, at that, don't you?"

THAT WAS THE GAY side.

But how badly Mr. Stevenson feels his need of winning the Democratic primary in this state was clear enough. It was reflected in the strain which he could not always conceal. And that strain is the result of long, energy-sapping hours of traveling, speaking, and holding press conferences.

He has been pushed into this gruelling routine, so different from his aloof role of 1952, by reverses in previous primaries. And by the dogged campaigning of his adversary, Sen. Estes Kefauver.

MR. STEVENSON appeared to be moving and talking much faster than he liked to. For instance, a reporter buttonholed him and asked a question. Would Mr. Stevenson describe, more concretely, some of the things he would do with regard to the school segregation problem?

The segregation issue is the most delicate which he, as a Democrat, must face. In prevous speeches he had said the President ought to use the "power and prestige" of the presidency to bolster the Supreme Court decision. How?

He appeared almost hurt to be so pressed. He said with a trace of irritation that he had explained himself on that question before. He turned away, but smiled over his shoulder a resigned little smile.

Mr. Stevenson is not an evasive or discourteous person. He just didn't have the time. That's the way the campaigning is. He has made more than 50 speeches in the past week.

AND HE WOULD SEEM not to relish it. He would prefer more time; would rather not answer quickly.

His speech at Lakewood Center was an off-the-cuff collection of abstractions about America's role of leadership, about the staggering problems of the day. He had no time to develop these thoughts and get down to cases.

And when he went among the crowd shaking hands, he seemed to be doing that also in an abstract way—as though at heart he didn't believe it the way a man out to have to go about the business of winning votes.

Later, when he spoke in Long Beach Municipal Auditorium, at a distance from the audience and with one of his prepared addresses lying before him, Mr. Stevenson seemed nearer his proper character.

Proposal Unfolded by Mr. Dulles Rivals Famed Marshall Plan in Significance

WASHINGTON—It will dawn on the world soon that a plan of far-reaching importance — perhaps even more significant in the long run than the Marshall Plan—has just been unfolded by the Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles.

LAWRENCE

When first mentioned several days ago, it was vaguely described in official pronouncements as a means of "broadening NATO." This was erroneously interpreted in many quarters, here and abroad, to mean that emphasis on the military side of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was being abondoned altogether and that henceforth there would be increased attention to economic help in some new spending program by the United States.

But it turns out that neither impression was correct and that what the United States now is proposing is the development of a new instrumentality for the exercise of moral force in the world paralleling, though not supplanting, the United Nations itself.

Basically, the new approach can be interpreted as a realistic recognition of the handicaps imposed by the very universality of the United Nations. Its cumbersome voting procedure sometimes only accentuate factionalism. Also, the log-rolling within the U.N. creates balances of power and rival groups in "power politics."

But utilizing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's Council, however, as a political entity, there is a chance for agreement among a smaller group of nations which in emergencies can make their influence felt more effectively and more promptly. For, after all, back of the NATO Council is military potentiality—something the United Nations Security Council lacks because of the misuse of the veto power by the Soviet Union.

The scope of any idea which is in an intangible stage cannot be defined too sharply at the outset. But already, from a careful reading of the masterful speech of the American Secretary of State, it is possible to say that additional economic as well as military cooperation need not be ruled out as a sequel to the plan. Indeed, once there is a strong political union of states, action to implement military as well as economic programs becomes logical. Nor is the plan at variance with U. N. objectives, as the Secretary of State himself pointed out in his Tuesday speech.

What stands out as the sensational significance of the "Dulles Plan" is the forthright manner in which it seeks to deal with the Soviet Union's mischief-making not only in the Middle East but in Asia. Thus, if the European nations which are members of NATO stand together, they can, through the Council, bring a conciliatory influence and a constructive mediation to bear in such disputes as Cyprus and Algeria which tend otherwise to weaken NATO militarily. While these are internal questions, legally speaking, they involve external factors. Neither France nor Britain, for example, would be compelled to accept the help of the other members of NATO in such disputes, but there would be an opportunity, through new ways and means, to bring about solutions.

Senate's Seniority Rule Advances Mediocre Men

THERE WERE FEW surprises in the week's primary elections.

The Indiana vote, like that of Illinois, failed to show any perceptible farm revolt against the Eisenhower administration.

Florida's able governor, Leroy Collins, won a clear majority over five opponents, including former Gov. Fuller Warren who was attempting a comeback.

KNIGHT

Gov. Collins is first class in every respect and excels as an intelligent and articulate salesman for the Sunshine State.

Another Floridian, Sen. George Smathers, had only token opposition. With Smathers and Sen. Spessard Holland in the upper house, the state of Florida can be proud indeed of her representation in Washington.

As was expected in Ohio, Republican C. William O'Neil and Democrat Michael DiSalle were nominated for governor. Both are good men with excellent records of public service.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche (D) and Sen. George Bender (R) were unopposed for the senatorial nomination. This contest is between two of the stoutest gladiators ever to enter the Ohio political arena.

The only other political note of interest was the defeat of Gov. Allen Shivers by Sen. Lyndon Johnson for control of the Texas delegation to the Democratic national convention.

This was not an unexpected result as Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn have been gunning for Shivers ever since he helped put Texas in the Eisenhower column four years ago.

* * * *

OF CONSIDERABLY more importance than the week's several primary elections was the announcement that Sen. Walter George. (D-Georgia) will retire from the Senate and accept an appointment as President Eisenhower's special ambassador to NATO.

As the distinguished chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, Walter George exerts a constructive influence upon foreign policy. His record has been one of positive accomplishment.

Since the chairmanship is determined by seniority, the new chairman will be at least 72 years old no matter which party wins control of the Senate.

If the Democrats stay in power, Sen. Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island can claim the post. He will be 89 years old in October.

Should the Republicans win, the new chairman will be either Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, or if Wiley is defeated, Sen. H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey. Wiley is 72; Smith 76.

None of these senators can be considered as wise or able as Sen. George. And yet one of them will, because the Constitution makes the Senate a partner of the President in foreign policy, hold one of the most powerful posts in our government.

Foreign policy guidance in the Senate will be furnished after George's retirement by one of several undistinguished oldsters who happen to enjoy membership in the world's most exclusive club."

The seniority system should be scrapped and committees empowered to elect their chairmen upon the basis of ability and judgment.

Military Chiefs Ignore Order on Discrimination

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower may not know it, but the Defense Department is flagrantly violating his own orders against racial discrimination.

On Sept. 3, 1954, Ike ordered that a nondiscrimination clause be written into all defense contracts. He dictated an airtight clause, requiring government contractors to agree "not to discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, religion, color or national origin."

PEARSON

The President appointed a special committee on government contracts, headed by Vice President Nixon, to make sure his orders were carried out. Except for sending circulars to businessmen, however, Nixon has done little to enforce the nondiscrimination clause.

The Defense Department, with no one watching it, has been brazen about flouting the White House order. It is doing business with literally thousands of contractors who flatly refuse to agree to equal job rights for Negroes. Most are southern contractors, particularly telephone companies and other utilities.

The way the Pentagon gets around the nondiscrimination clause is to do business on a day-to-day basis and not bother to sign formal contracts which would have to contain a nondiscrimination clause.

Nixon has had this open evasion called to his attention, but has taken no effective steps to rectify it.

City Personnel Planned Marina

TO THE EDITOR:

I read the story about the Alamitos Bay Marina in a recent issue. The author gave credit for the Marina plan to the U. S. Corps of Engineers. This kind of reporting I object to.

In 1946, the Associate City Planner and I prepared the original report on Alamitos Bay Marina as you see it being constructed now. Of course, it was a joint task of the Long Beach Planning Department, but if you ask Mr. Werner Ruchti, I am sure he will tell you who got the big job done and it won't be the Corps of Engineers.

My complaint is about your everlasting oversight of the excellent employes of the city of Long Beach. Even when they have done a splendid job, the credit goes elsewhere.

I lived in Long Beach from 1921 to 1951, and this kind of local lack of recognition is one of the main reasons I now live in New Mexico.

One is told that good reporting is to give credit when credit is due. Why don't you? Your City Planning Department deserves all credit for Alamitos Bay Marina!

JOHN A. LARNED.
708 Indiana S.E.
Albuquerque, N. M.

(Editor's Note: Mr. Larned's contention about the source of orginal plans for the Marina are confirmed by Mr. Ruchti. The plans were prepared by city personnel and dated Feb. 17, 1947. Technicians working under Mr. Ruchti were Larned, W. R. Walker, R. A. Covington, R. C. Von Wetter, Cilia McBride, and Mrs. M. E. Leonard. The apparent error in our story was less the fault of the reporter than of the city manager's office which released the statement: "The orginal plan for development of a small craft harbor in Alamitos Bay was prepared by the U. S. Army Engineers.")

Labor Leaders 'Real Dictators'

TO THE EDITOR:

In that letter headed "Union Busters Criticized," Guy Guerin says:

"With utter disregard for the majority and the dickens with what happens to the country these would-be dictators carry on with their insidious schemes." He says, "Men of honesty and integrity follow a code of decency but the supporters of union busting have too shallow a conscience to search."

What about the labor leaders? Their disregard for the majority, especially when they pull a strike? Why don't they get themselves elected by the majority to represent labor?

Let's give some thought to the real dictators, the labor leaders. With their code and schemes they can stop anything in the country, and there is little we could do about it.

Retirement of George Tragic Loss to Senate

JACOB ASKED a blessing before he would release the angel when they wrestled. In courageously determining to retire, Sen. George will gain and give the blessing of additional service to the nation.

His decision was made over night. He suffered a grievous blow in the death of his friend and contemporary, Sen. Barkley, who was regarded as the man of iron stamina. In addition, Sen. George has been plagued for several years, with a recurring bronchial ailment. The thought of a summer campaign in high temperature Georgia alarmed Mrs. George and the family physician. Heeding their pleas, he decided to retire.

KELLY

Learning that Sen. George was wrestling with this problem in the night hours, President Eisenhower and State Department officials tried to persuade him to defer the decision. They hoped that Sen. George would gain in physical strength.

However, he told the President he had made up his mind. He made the announcement the next morning.

Sen. George's retirement will be a tragic loss to the Senate. His 34 years of Senate experience, his profound knowledge of foreign affairs and Constitutional law are combined with a benign personality that knows no hatred.

His friends are convinced he made a wise choice. Georgia county political leaders (85 per cent) believed that under the unusual county unit voting system that Sen. George could have been defeated by 42-year-old former Gov. Herman Talmadge.

Later on that memorable day, Sen. George told this reporter of his happy years in the Senate. He praised his wife, "Miss Lucy," saying, "She has all the admirable attributes of womanhood and is a far, far better person than I." His views reflect their lifetime of devotion

The Georges combine the shining virtues with a radiantly gay spirit that neither sorrow nor the years has dulled.

Not long ago, the effervescent "Miss Lucy" said, "Mr. George (she always addresses him in that traditional Southern manner), I'd rather be dead than old."

"How do you know, Miss Lucy? You've never been dead," he said.

"Well, I've been old," she retorted, "and I don't like it."

Landy Runs 3:59.1; King Hits 9.3

SECOND 'PERFECTO' BY BUMS' ACE

No-Hitter for Erskine!

BROOKLYN (AP)—Carl Erskine of the Brooklyn Dodgers hurled the second no-hit, no-run game of his career Saturday, turning back the New York Giants, 3-0, in a game in which the losers' strongest threat was a "home run" that sailed over the fence and was foul by inches.

He did it before against the Chicago Cubs on June 19, 1951, and won that game by 5-0.

The foul "home run" was struck by Whitey Lockman in the ninth inning. The only hard fielding chances came off the bats of Ray Katt and Willie Mays. In the fifth inning, Carl Furillo raced to the score board in right centerfield to make a gaudy catch off Katt.

* * * *

AN INNING earlier Jackie Robinson, still an agile athlete, made a diving catch at third base of a bullet hit by Mays. Al Dark had walked immediately before Mays batted, and it appeared at the time the most significant aspect of the play was that it stopped a potential rally.

Immediately after Dark, Giant shortstop, slapped back to Erskine for the final out the Dodgers mobbed the slender 29-year-old pitcher. Walter O'Malley, president of the Dodgers, promised Erskine a check for $500 even before he had reached the dressing room.

The handsome Hoosier became the eighth pitcher since 1900 to register two no-hitters in his career, but his was the first to be televised nationally. The game was seen, coast to coast, on the usual Saturday game of the week TV show.

* * * *

BOB FELLER and Cy Young of the Cleveland Indians lead all the rest with three no-hitters, but one of Young's was pitched before 1900.

"You know, it is a funny thing," he said in the clubhouse after the game, "Reese told me before the game that he had a premonition that I wouldn't lose today."

The triumph was the second straight for the Dodgers over New York. The Dodgers' first tally came in the third inning when PeeWee Reese walked and moved to second on Duke Snider's single. Both moved up as Roy Campanella was thrown out. Al Worthington, starting and losing pitcher, then walked both Gil Hodges and Robinson to force a run across.

* * * *

TWO MORE Brooklyn runs came across in the seventh when Reese singled to left and he scored on Snider's double. The latter counted when Campanella also singled.

It was the first no-hitter since Sam Jones of the Chicago Cubs turned back the Pittsburgh Pirates on May 12, last year. There hasn't been one in the American League since Al (Bobo) Holloman of the St. Louis Browns began his major league career with a no-hitter against the Philadelphia Athletics on May 6, 1953.

"I knew I was pitching a no-hitter midway but I had to keep thinking about winning the game as well. I kept saying to myself 'one more inning and we will get some runs.'"

* * * *

"CAMPANELLA and Hodges both were wonderful in slowing me down when I started pressing."

O'Malley said he "was too excited to think" when reminded that he had been warned for giving Erskine a $500 check when he pitched the 1952 no-hitter and now had repeated the offense.

"Gosh, I was so excited and so pleased I forgot all about that," the president said, "I'll just have to take the consequences."

* * * *

OTHER DODGERS said that one of baseball's oldest taboos—that of mentioning a no-hitter while such a game was in progress — was violated when one player unwittingly said about the seventh inning that "there is another no-hitter going in Yankee Stadium."

LANDY DOES IT AGAIN!
Australian star John Landy wins mile in blistering 3:59.1 at Fresno Relays, beating second-place finisher Ron Delany by 50 yards. This was the sixth time Landy has cracked "miracle" mile.—(AP Wirephoto.)

Aussie Miler in Easy Win

FRESNO (UP)—Australia's John Landy cracked the four-minute barrier for the second time in eight days and University of California sophomore Leamon King equaled the world record of 9.3 in the 100-yard dash Saturday night at the West Coast Relays here.

Three of the top high jumpers in the world showed their ware with Compton's Charles Dumas and USF's Bill Russell deadlocking for first at 6-9¼ and former SC star Ernie Shelton going 6-8¼ for third.

Landy won by 50 yards over Ron Delany of Villanova in 3:59.1 and King edged Alex Burl of the Sixth Army team by two strides as Fresno State speedster Mike Agostini finished a disappointing fifth.

Landy and King were not the only standouts in the meet.

Former University of Southern California hurdler Jack Davis equalled his fastest time in the 120-yard high hurdles, nipping San Diego Naval Training Station teammate Milt Campbell in 13.6. The time was just one-tenth of a second off Dick Attlesey's world record for the distance.

* * * *

AFTER BREAKING the four-minute mark for the sixth time in his career, Landy announced that it probably was his "last mile race."

"From now on I will run either the 1500 meters or the 5,000 and I think it will tend toward the 5,000 meters," he said. The modest Australian said, 'The conditions were ideal for this and the track was faster than at Los Angeles—but the man wasn't."

'I wasn't very tired. The race did nothing more than prove I was fit.

"It is a little ridiculous to run so many times under four minutes and still not break my record," Landy said.

* * * *

"I AM DISAPPOINTED. I thought I could do it here."

He described his effort as 'just a run."

Running in the No. 1 lane, Landy took the lead after the first 50 yards and held it all the way. He was clocked in 60 seconds flat for each of the first three quarters and then, sprinting in the face of no opposition, finished the last lap in 59.1 as an overflow crowd of over 16,000 cheered him home.

Delany was second in 4:09.2 with Danny Schweikert of the LAAC third in 4:10.5.

ONE OF THE meet timers caught King in 9.2, another in 9.3 and a third in 9.4. With a wind of only 1.4 miles per hour, meet officials said the time would be submitted to the International Amateur Athletic Federation for approval. Burl, L.A. Valley's Ken Dennis and SC's Pat Coyle also beat Agostini to the tape.

The 400 meter hurdles, run in the U.S. only on Olympic years, went to Compton College's talented Willie Atterbury. Atterbury's time was 52.5 seconds—only three-tenths of a second off the meet record set by Roy Cochran in 1952. The gruelling race drew 17 runners.

The San Diego N. T. C. team, led by Davis and Campbell won a special 440-yard relay in 41.2

UCLA's MEDLEY relay team, composed of Robert Carne, Russ Ellis, George Holland and Bob Seaman, beat the Olympic Club and SC with a winning time of 9:56.7.

Fortune Gordien, world discus record holder trying to make his third Olympic team, won his specialty with a throw of 178 feet, 7 inches. The toss was well under his world mark of 194-6, but the big former University of Minnesota star is not too far along with his current training efforts.

The shotput went to UCLA's Don Vick at 55-2½.

Compton dominated the JC section of the meet. Sprinter Ralph Butler won the JC 100 in 9.8. Jerome Jennings captured the shotput with a put of 50 feet, 8¼ inches and Charles Dumas cleared 6-4½ to win the high jump.

UCLA's fabulous Rafer Johnson was an easy winner in the broadjump at 25-2¼.

Pat Coyle, Mike Larrabee, Bill Swisshelm and Bob Lawson, SC's crack 880 relay quartet was an easy winner in 1:25 with Occidental second, San José State third and Fresno State fourth.

Rev. Bob Richards and young Bob Gutowski of Occidental tied for first in the pole vault at 14 feet, 10 inches.

A couple of darkhorses beat world champ Bud Held and Olympic champ Cy Young in the javelin. John Bugge of San Francisco's Olympic Club won with a toss of 239 feet, 7½ inches and Bob Kimball of the S.D. N.T.C. was second.

MARK WILL NOT COUNT

Texas' Whilden Runs Wind-Blown 9.2 100

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Bobby Whilden of Texas ran 100 yards in 9.2 to better the world's record Saturday to furnish the only record in a Southwest Conference track and field meet dominated by Texas.

Whilden's 100 cannot be submitted for a world record because he had a 9½-mile-per-hour wind at his back, but it will stand as a conference record. He also equalled a conference mark when he won the 220 in 20.4.

The world's 100-yard record is 9.3.

Texas captured the meet with 76 points with Texas A&M winding up second with 53¾ and Baylor third with 52¼.

The talented Longhorns won six first places and tied for a first in sweeping to a comfortable victory. They did this although upset by Baylor in the 440-yard relay. The Bears, rolling up their biggest total in a conference meet in history, beat the crippled Texas sprint relay team in 41 seconds flat.

Bucs KO Roberts in 6-5 Triumph

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates belted Robin Roberts off the mound Saturday and launched a 13-hit attack, including two homers, to hand the Philadelphia Phillies a 6-5 defeat, the Phils' ninth straight loss.

The Pirate starter, Bob Friend, fanned five, walked two and received credit for the victory, his fourth compared to two defeats.

He was lifted in the ninth for Dick Littlefield after the Phils' Ted Kazanski started off the frame with a single. Littlefield, in turn, yielded the mound to Nelson King as the Phils staged a three-hit uprising to score two runs and come within one marker of tying the score.

The Pirates got to Roberts for 10 hits and five runs in the 5⅔ innings that he pitched. Gene Freese and Preston Ward each clubbed two-run homers off Roberts who was charged with the loss, his third compared to three victories.

The Seals evened the series at 1-1 by collecting 17 hits off four Angel hurlers. It was the most hits San Francisco has collected this season and the most hits off Los Angeles this season. The Seals socked three homers and six doubles.

JERRY CASALE (4-0) emerged the winner to keep his clean victory record. The loser was Harry Perkowski (1-1).

Hy Cohen (5-0), leading pitcher in the Pacific Coast League, Saturday was optioned by the Angels to Tulsa of the Texas League.

Knox Sharp in Win Over Alumni

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The UCLA varsity wound up its spring football practice season Saturday with a 26-6 win over an alumni team. Ronnie Knox scored one touchdown on a five-yard end run and passed 12 yards for another.

Two sub tailbacks, Don Long and Ed Griffin, also engineered scoring drives. Long tallied on a two-yard off-tackle slant and Griffin passed eight yards to Phil Parslow.

Two other points came on a safety, guard Clint Whitfield tackling alumni back Primo Villanueva in the end zone.

The lone Alumni score came on a 52-yard pass play from Villanueva to end Jim Steffen.

Orioles' Ferrarese Blanks Yankees, 1-0

NEW YORK (AP)—Baltimore Rookie Don Ferrarese lost a no-hit game on a freak hit in the ninth inning Saturday, but held his poise and whipped the league-leading New York Yankees 1-0 on a two-hitter.

The 26-year-old Oriole southpaw celebrated his second major league start and first victory by singling home the only run in the seventh inning to best bullet Bob Turley in a brilliant pitching duel.

Only two Yankees had reached first—on a walk and hit batsman—against the 5-9, 165 pound Californian until Andy Carey spoiled the superb effort in the top of the ninth.

* * * *

THE YANKEE third baseman chopped a ball which struck home plate and bounced about 60 feet in the air. Ferrarese fielded it halfway towards second base and slipped as he made a bouncing throw to first. It was very doubtful if he could have caught Carey with a better throw.

Ferrarese, who had fanned 13 Indians and lost 2-1 to Cleveland a week ago in his first start in the big leagues, then fanned pinch-hitter Billy Martin, Hank Bauer followed with a bloop hit over third and Carey went to second.

It looked like a spot for the youngster to blow sky high, but he held tight control of his nerves and pitched himself off the spot.

He got pinch-hitter Don Larsen on a foul and Mickey Mantle, the league's leading hitter, on a fly to centerfielder Chuck Diering.

* * * *

THE ORIOLES scored their only run in the seventh on a walk to Diering, a double inside the first base line by former Yankee Willie Miranda, and Ferrarese's slashing single past second baseman Bobby Richardson which scored Diering from third.

Sime Posts Triple in 9.5, 20.3, 22.4

DURHAM, N. C. (UP)—Dazzling Dave Sime of Duke, in what he said will be his last college track meet, set another Atlantic Coast Conference record of 22.4 seconds in the 220-yard low hurdles Saturday.

The red-haired Sime won the hurdles, the 220-yard dash and the 100-yard dash — the only events in which he was entered in the conference outdoor track championships. In Friday's preliminaries, he set conference records of 9.5 seconds in the 100 yard dash, and a new world's record of 20.1 in the 220-yard dash.

The world's record was the second world's mark Sime has set in the past seven days.

Saturday Sime ran the 100 in 9.5 again, a time he considers "poor," and ran the 220 in 20.3. The faster times in the preliminaries stand as the conference records.

A crowd of 7,000 fans, largest ever to watch a track meet in this area, showed up to watch Sime run in the high 80 degree heat of Duke Stadium.

Sime says he will quit track after this year to play baseball. He will run in the NCAA and AAU meets later this year in California and in the Olympic trials.

Dow Fires 69 to Lead at St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Dow Finsterwald, up-and-coming youthful Ohio pro, jumped back into undisputed possession of first place Saturday at the three-quarter mark in the $25,000 St. Louis Open with a 54-hole score of 205, 11 under par.

Finsterwald toured the 6,277-yard Sunset Country Club course in three-under-par 69 on his third round to put with earlier sub-par scores of 65 and 71.

Just one stroke back at 206 is Bill Casper Jr. of Chula Vista, Calif., who rammed home eight birdies for a 68 after two earlier rounds of 69.

Finsterwald's round included an eagle on No. 8, where he dropped a four-iron shot 12 feet from the pin on a 483-yard par-five hole and sank the putt.

ANNUAL SPRING GAME

Irish Varsity Gridders Whip Oldtimers, 42-32

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UP)—Notre Dame's varsity football team, sparked by halfback Jimmy Morse and quarterback Paul Hornung, gained 507 yards Saturday, 413 on rushing, to outclass a squad of oldtimers, 42-32, before a crowd of 15,000 in the annual spring game.

Morse scored two touchdowns on runs of 12 yards and one yard and intercepted one oldtimer pass, while Hornung converted after two Irish scores and tallied one touchdown on a two-yard plunge.

Other varsity touchdowns went to Charles Lima on a 43-yard dash, Bob Ward on an 11-yard run, and Dick Royer on a 12-yard pass from Larry Cooke.

Poly Dominates CIF Prelims

Qualifies 23, Sets 4 Marks

By DOUG MILES

Poly High, proving to be inconsiderate hosts to track stars of 39 other schools, dominated the section's CIF track preliminaries Saturday as the Jackrabbits bettered or tied four CIF records while qualifying 23 men for next Saturday's semi-finals.

Poly qualified nine in the Bee division and eight in the Cees to sweep team honors in both classifications. Wilson High captured the mythical varsity title by qualifying eight. Poly, Lynwood and Loyola tied for runner-up to Wilson with six each.

All four of the day's records were set by Poly. Eugene Allen shattered a 19-year-old Bee broad jump mark by some four inches as he sailed 23-8½, also breaking the 11-year-old school record by some 15 inches.

* * * *

CEE SPRINTER Harrison Walker clipped off a 9.9 100, bettering a 1938 standard by two-tenths. The Bee relay team of Ray Sugiyama, Henry Andrews, Allen and Charley Miller won in 1:06.9 to clip Alhambra's 1954 mark by one-tenth of a second.

The Cee relay team—Roger Browning, Eugene Green, Bob Fielding and the sensational Walker—tied the 1937 Poly team's record of 44.9.

Although the meet provided several fine marks—most of which were comparatively better than those recorded in the three other sectional meets—the first heat of the varsity 880 was the day's top race.

Unheralded Roy Dick of Beverly Hills, whose previous best had been a 1:59.3, upset Cathedral's Caffrey in a blinding 1.56.9—the season's top time. Caffrey was second in 1:57.4 Wilson's Curt Hanson had the misfortune of being entered in the heat and finished fifth.

* * * *

THE TOP six in each event will enter next week's semis at Compton or Chaffey High.

Only double winners for the day were Wilson varsity sprinter Fred Sharpe, who was hampered by a pulled muscle, and Bee hurdler Terry DeWitt. Bruin Ron Boeckler won his 440 heat in 49.9 and St. Anthony's Jim Horan set a new school mile record as he won in 4:31.4.

Wynn Supplies Key Hit in Tribe Victory

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians jumped on rookie Troy Herriage for four singles and three walks to score five runs in the fourth inning Saturday, and that was enough to defeat the Kansas City Athletics 5-3.

Early Wynn, pitching his fourth victory against one loss, allowed six hits, including a fourth inning home run by Hector Lopez and a sixth-inning homer by Gus Zernial. Zernial's, his fifth, came with Spook Jacobs on base after a single.

Wynn himself supplied what proved to be the key blow in the Indians' attack—a single to center which scored the last two runs of the five-run rally. Herriage walked Rocky Colavito to force home the first run of that rally which started with singles by Bob Avila and Al Rosen and an intentional walk to Al Smith. A single by Chico Carrasquel chased home Rosen and Smith.

* * * *

A WALK TO JIM HEGAN reloaded the bases to set the stage for Wynn's blow, which drove Herriage from the mound. Ed Burtschy replaced the rookie and squelched the rally by getting Jim Busby to hit into a double play.

All six hits the Indians made off Herriage, for whom the game was the first in his Major League won-loss record, were singles.

Mounties Gain Split With Stars

VANCOUVER (UP)—Bob Harrison gave the Vancouver Mounties an even split in a Pacific Coast League twin-bill Saturday at Capilano Stadium by pitching them to a 9-2 victory over Hollywood after the Stars won the first game 6-2.

Harrison won his fourth game of the season for the Mounties, spacing 10 hits very effectively and striking out nine. Those strikeouts ran his season total to 51, which is tops in the Pacific Coast League at present.

The Mounties won the ball game with a four-run explosion in the third inning with Jim Pisoni's two-run double, the key hit. They scored three more in the fourth inning to drive starter Lino Dinoso out of the box.

Bob Kelley Says---

As you walk into the cozy little tavern restaurant on Pico Blvd. which is called "Primo Carnera's," the big man lumbers towards you with a smile bending across his broad face. This is Da Preem himself, who 22 years ago next month was cut down mercilessly by Max Baer as he lost his heavyweight title.

. . . Primo Carnera, they wrote a book about him and recently made it into a picture—"The Harder They Fall." In fact, you are in company with attorney Paul Caruso, who is representing Primo in his lawsuit against the studio.

BOB KELLEY

The big fellow is proud of his restaurant, which he opened on the first of April. "It'sa first home I've had since 1919," he says in a throaty growl which might scare you but for the friendly, boyish grin on his face.

"Sincea 1919 Ima onna road. First with the carnivals in Eeetaly . . . then the fights . . . then the wrestling. How longa's that?—since 1919? Too hard for me to figure."

You tell him it's 37 years since he rested or had a home. He grinned back: "No wonder I'm so tired—37 years!"

Carnera has often given up wrestling. "Only a few now and then," he explained. "But not far from home. I no go back East unless they got a good man—make good money. But I don't stay 'ay for more than a week anymore."

For a moment, he stopped grinning: "Why didn't you come to my big press party?" You tell him because you didn't get an invitation. "Who's your press agent?" you ask. "Never mind," the big guy smiled. "He don't work for me anymore. That'sa why I fired him. He don't know his business. He forgot to invite people like you."

STANDING BY THE TABLE IS PRIMO'S waitress—he has three of them. She wants to know if anyone will have another drink. Carnera says sure, he'll have a "Seven-High." In addition to the three girls working for him, Primo's wife, Tina, puts in about an 18-hour a day shift. And his 17-year-old son, Antonio, runs the parking lot.

A big boy, Antonio. But he won't be as big as his father. Someone asks Antonio what he's doing up so late and he smiles. "Oh, no school tomorrow. I go to Catholic school, and it's a holiday."

So in a comfortable little Italian restaurant-bar just adjacent to 20th Century-Fox Studios, Primo Carnera, at 47, has found a home after 37 years away from home. He loves his spot, and leaps happily to his feet to greet any customers who appear at the front door.

Primo Carnera, the guy they say was gouged by racketeers, who sliced the millions he earned in boxing and wrestling into pennies. Yet for all the money that he earned (or someone earned) you learn the big fellow sank $15,000 into the restaurant—his last $15,000.

We got up to leave. "You geeva me a boost, Bob?" he asked. You can't quite understand what he said. He breaks into a laugh, slapping you on the shoulder with his inhumanly-huge paws: "You geeve me a boost, huh?" Primo Carnera wants a boost—a plug on the radio. You tell him sure, you'll write a column about him, too.

Some people may think the story of this man is pathetic—the way the immigrant giant from Italy was robbed and cheated of almost every dollar he ever earned. I find nothing pathetic about him.

He finally has found his "home." And he still is unworldly enough to find in it the childish joy that a teenage boy feels when he sees his first bicycle under the Christmas tree. I sometimes think there is no greater moment in life.

Primo Carnera has that joy. Maybe we're the pathetic ones, to miss out on the happiness he has.

THE OTHER DAY IN THE INDEPENDENT, we printed a yarn we wrote for a national magazine on pro football this fall. Called "The Greatest Play I Ever Called," the story recounts Waterfield's 91-yard touchdown pass to Elroy Hirsch against the Bears in Chicago in 1951.

At the time, the Rams were trailing 14-0, but the one big play knocked the heart out of the Bears, and sent Los Angeles on the way to the world's championship. At the Ye Old Rams' golf tournament Thursday, I was telling Hirsch I'd written the yarn.

He broke into a smile: "I'll never forget the play. When the ball was snapped, I sprinted down the right sidelines. Bill Stone saw me coming and screamed: "Here he comes!" Don Kindt, who was playing an inside halfback, raced back to help Stone. In fact, Kindt almost got his fingertips on the ball."

Hirsch stopped for a moment, as if trying to relive a joy that will never return: "But those days are gone forever. You don't see the long pass anymore. I am afraid the defense has caught up with us."

Elroy laughed: "Yep, the day has gone in pro football when they try to cover an end with just one man."

CONVINCING. Effervescent Walter Mails, the Pacific Coast League's Chesty Chet Johnson of yesteryear, is as bubbly as a newly-poured glass of champaign. At present, he's using his enthusiasm to sell the San Francisco Seals and the PCL.

Don't venture near Walter, who used to throw from the port side for the Seals in the early 1920s and 30s when he wasn't clowning, if you think the PCL is dying on the vine. With a broad smile and twinkling orbs, he'll tell you otherwise, but quick, something like this:

"Do you think the Boston Red Sox invested $350,000 in a losing proposition They don't throw their money around that way. They're a smart, going operation. They've invested out here with confidence to make money, not lose it.

"I know what you'll say. You will point to the attendance figures to prove the immense apathy toward the PCL. I disagree. Attendance is up in the PCL—in the Pacific Northwest. Seattle, Portland and Vancouver are our bright spots.

"It's Los Angeles and Hollywood which are dragging. You've had lousy weather. You've changed some policies. Hollywood isn't televising any more. Los Angeles has switched to day ball. These changes are reflected in the attendance figures. It takes time for adjustments to level off.

"I'm a cocky guy. I'll say this. There'll be a Pacific Coast League — always. Do you think Seattle, Portland, Sacramento, San Diego and Vancouver will fold up and steal way in the dead of night if major league ball comes to San Francisco and Los Angeles? Forget it! They'll go on — with a couple of new cities.

"Don't kid me. The Coast League isn't dead, nor is it dying. It's suffering from adjustment pains!"

I HEAR YA! A pungent, pithy character with white hair and mellow at 61, Mails is fond of living in the past—out loud.

"I won't say I was the greatest pitcher who ever lived," he reminded me the other day, "but I can't name any who were any better.

"I've got two chief claims to fame. I hold the Coast League record for the most men picked off first base by a pitcher in one game. I had a great movement to first. I pegged six one day.

"How'd they get there? Now there you go. Poor umpires, of course.

"My other claim is that I am the only man ever run out of the major leagues by Ty Cobb. Yeah, he got me. He and Detroit, that is.

"In 1921 I had a 7-0 record with Cleveland. In 1922, it was 14-7. Next year it dropped to 4-7. Cobb was working on me.

"I'll tell you no secret. I was hot-tempered. I had rabbit ears. This delighted Ty. Every barb he threw at me brought a quick retort. I was so busy retorting that I forgot how to pitch.

"I soon came back to the Coast League, then went back up for two years with the Cardinals, and finally came back to fill out my career.

"Cobb's cracks and my slide down the barber pole got me to thinking. I decided to take it — and dish it out. I barbered with the best of them.

"They didn't call me Duster and the Great Mails for nothing. I'm in the record books—most games pitched in one season, most errors by a pitcher, most defeats in a season, and on and on.

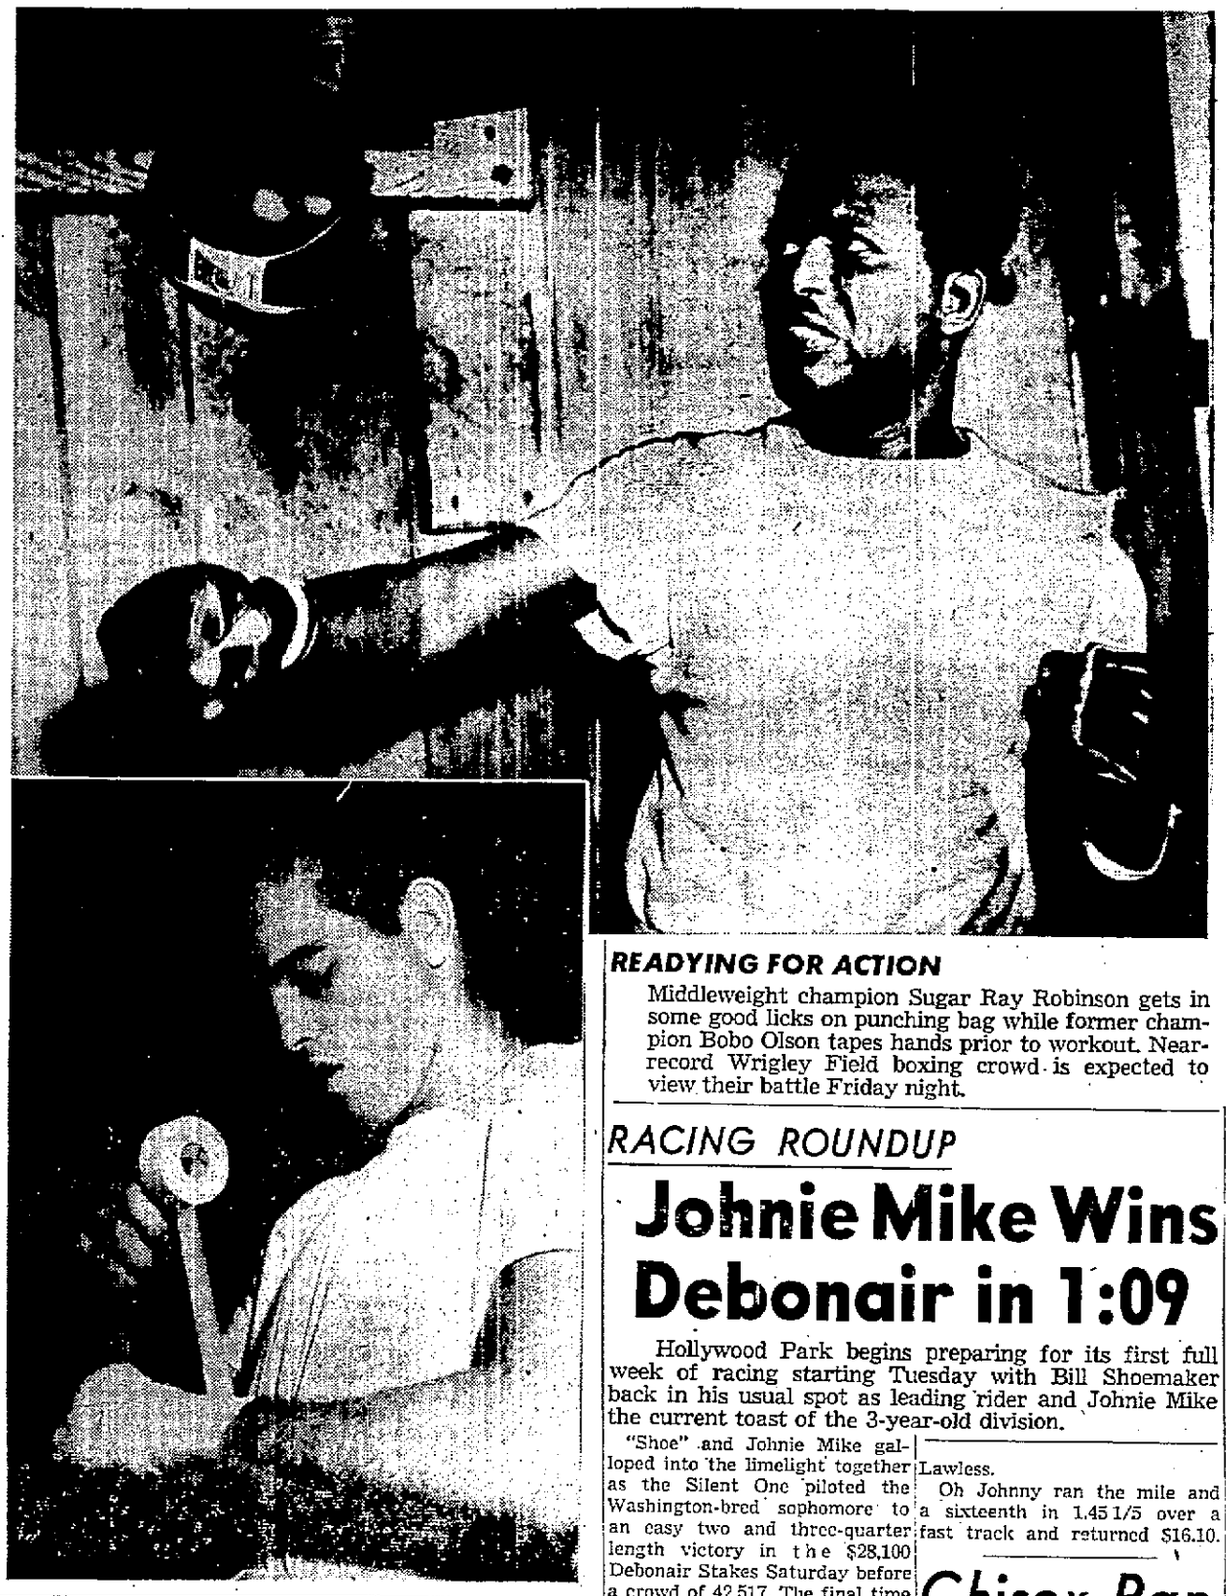

"It's been a wonderful life. Baseball is a game of amusement. The Coast League should keep it that way!"

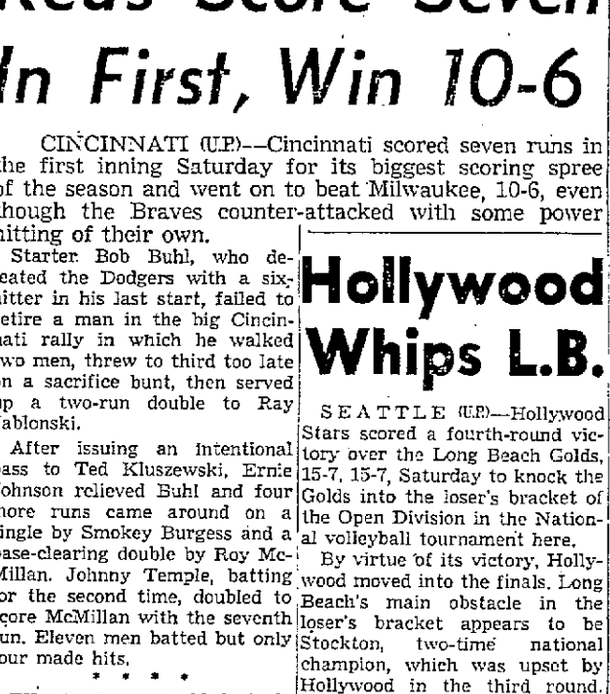

At this point I suggest Leslie O'Connor, PCL prexy, appoint "Walter, The Great" the league goodwill ambassador to spread the word. His optimism wears well.

Reds Score Seven In First, Win 10-6

CINCINNATI (U.P.)—Cincinnati scored seven runs in the first inning Saturday for its biggest scoring spree of the season and went on to beat Milwaukee, 10-6, even though the Braves counter-attacked with some power hitting of their own.

Starter Bob Buhl, who defeated the Dodgers with a six-hitter in his last start, failed to retire a man in the big Cincinnati rally in which he walked two men, threw to third too late on a sacrifice bunt, then served up a two-run double to Ray Jablonski.

After issuing an intentional pass to Ted Kluszewski, Ernie Johnson relieved Buhl and four more runs came around on a single by Smokey Burgess and a base-clearing double by Roy McMillan. Johnny Temple, batting for the second time, doubled to score McMillan with the seventh run. Eleven men batted but only four made hits.

* * * *

THE REDLEGS added single runs in the second and third to make it 9-1, the Braves having picked up a tally in the first inning when Brooks Lawrence walked in a runner. Gus Bell's fifth homer accounted for the second inning run. Temple's single, a wild pitch by Chet Nichols, the third Milwaukee hurler, and Bell's single brought in the third inning run.

RACING ROUNDUP

Johnie Mike Wins Debonair in 1:09

Hollywood Park begins preparing for its first full week of racing starting Tuesday with Bill Shoemaker back in his usual spot as leading rider and Johnie Mike the current toast of the 3-year-old division.

"Shoe" and Johnie Mike galloped into the limelight together as the Silent One piloted the Washington-bred sophomore to an easy two and three-quarter length victory in the $28,100 Debonair Stakes Saturday before a crowd of 42,517. The final time was 1.09, only one-fifth off the track six-furlong record and a new mark for the stakes.

Tagged with a reputation for stopping when collared in the stretch, Johnie Mike disposed of this theory Saturday. He failed to break as alertly as usual but easily picked up the leaders and was going away at the wire without urging.

Rex Ellsworth's Airide and Rancho Tecolote's Tecolotito were first out of the barrier. The Ellsworth colorbearer boasted a head lead in a 22-second quarter but he began to shorten stride nearing the half as Tecolotito forged to the front on the outside. Shoemaker then had Johnie Mike on nearly even terms while saving ground on the rail. After a slight head and head tussle with Tecolotito, Johnie Mike pulled away to win in hand.

* * * *

ODDS-ON CHOICE with the crowd, Johnie Mike returned $3.50, $2.90 and $2.30 across the board. Tecolotito paid $5 and $3 and the Bill Molter-trained twosome of Palmer and Mobile which finished heads apart five more lengths back, returned $2.70 to show.

Shoemaker's victory in the Debonair was his fourth of the afternoon, giving him five for the two days of action. He scored handy wins in the first three contests with Miss Peggy ($6.40), Hug-Me-Tight ($7.80) and Bold Trip ($9.70).

Winner of six of the last seven Hollypark riding crowns, Shoemaker was nipped in a bid for four straight wins when apprentice Danny Manzella and Spring Count hung an upset length and one-quarter defeat on the odds-on favorite, Berseem, in the $7,500 Century purse. Spring Count covered the six furlongs in 1.09 2/5 and paid $15.70.

* * * *

BOBBY BROCATO, the nation's outstanding handicap horse of the season, Saturday won the $35,000-added Tanforan Handicap, setting a new track record for the mile and one eighth. His time was 1.47 4/5.

It shaved a full second off the old mark, 1.48 4/5, set by Golden Abbey Oct. 30, 1954.

Bezaha was second, three-quarters of a length back and Gipsy Rover finished third, four lengths behind.

Bobby Brocato, top-weighted at 130 pounds, was taken to the front by Johnny Longden, held the pace under snug restraint and won with speed to spare.

It was his sixth stakes victory of the year.

* * * *

AT NEW YORK, Oh Johnny skipped to a three-length upset victory in the $29,100 Withers Stakes at Jamaica, coming from well off the pace to defeat a field containing seven eligibles for the $100,000-added Preakness.

Oh Johnny caught Danny Arnstein's Eiffel Blue in the final eighth of a mile and pulled away to win under Jockey Hedley Woodhouse.

Oh Johnny ran the mile and a sixteenth in 1.45 1/5 over a fast track and returned $16.10.

Chisox Rap 17 Hits, Nip Tigers, 7-6

DETROIT (U.P.) — The Chicago White Sox unloaded a 17-hit attack Saturday but needed a two-inning hitless relief job by Sandy Consuegra to eke out a 7-6 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Chicago pumped into a three-run lead in the first inning and did all of its scoring in the first five innings at the expense of Detroit starter Billy Hoeft.

But, Consuegra was summoned from the bull pen after Charley Maxwell walloped a two-run homer, his seventh of the season, to pull the Tigers to within a single run in the eighth. Consuegra disposed of the next six batters in a routine fashion to give the White Sox their second straight triumph over the Tigers.

* * * *

MINNIE MINOSO and Sherm Lollar hit a triple and home run, respectively, in the three-run first inning. Chicago added single runs in the second and fourth and two more in the fifth, including a four-bagger by former Tiger outfielder Bob Nieman.

Predict Record Gate for Friday Title Go

Sugar Ray Robinson and Carl (Bobo) Olson were anxiously trying to keep their premature fighting "edges" Saturday for Friday night's return middleweight title bout, probably California's richest boxing show.

Each reached his training peak too soon for the 15-rounder at Wrigley Field, where 35-year-old Robinson will try to prove that his December title knockout over 27-year-old Olson was no fluke.

Matchmaker Jackie Leonard of the Hollywood Legion Stadium, promoting the match, said Saturday, "I'm nearly certain we'll have a record California gate of more than $200,000. We have $115,000 in cash and $40,000 in reservations, which must be picked up by Wednesday."

Tale of the Tape

Robinson		Olson
35	Age	28
160	Weight	160
5-11	Height	5-10½
72¼	Reach	70
36½	Chest (Nor.)	39
38	Chest (Exp.)	42
28½	Waist	32
19¾	Thigh	22
13¾	Calf	13½
11¾	Biceps	14
10¾	Forearm	11
15	Neck	16

With tickets ranging from $5 to $25, a $200,000 gate would require 15,000 paid attendance for the battle which will be televised and broadcast nationally over NBC at 7 p.m. (PDT). The TV-radio rights brought $100,000.

Ticket prices are $25, $20, $15 and $5 for reserved seats and $3.50 for general admission which will go on sale the night of the fight. Tickets may be purchased at the Hollywood Legion Stadium or any Mutual Ticket Agency.

Sugar Ray, training at San Jacinto, Calif., about 80 miles southeast of Los Angeles, is scheduled for only two more boxing sessions, Monday and Tuesday. Olson, at nearby Santa Monica, is slated for action only today, although Manager Sid Flaherty may order another light session Tuesday. Neither expects any difficulty making the 160-pound limit.

Although Robinson knocked out Bobo at 2:51 of the second round in Chicago Stadium Dec. 9, the betting has been at even money or favoring Olson slightly since the return match was announced. Saturday the ex-champ from San Francisco was favored at 6½ to 5.

* * * *

CHAMPION AND challenger are guaranteed $75,000 each. And each has the privilege of taking 30 per cent of the net gate and TV-radio receipts in case that percentage exceeds the guarantee.

Should Robinson lose the title he has no assurance of getting another shot at it, for there is no return-bout contract. He probably would retire and consider movie possibilities for his life story—a remarkable chronicle that could include his winning the welterweight title in 1946, winning the middleweight crown in 1951, losing it to Randy Turpin and recapturing it in that same 1951, retiring as champion in 1952 and becoming the first man to recapture the title for the second time last December.

Alamitos Gets New Structure

By JERRY WYNN

The rags to riches story of Los Alamitos Race Course will get a new chapter soon with the construction of a million dollar grandstand.

Track President Frank Vessels Sr., announced Saturday that Arthur Froehlich, internationally famous race track architect, has been commissioned to design the new four-story, three-deck structure which will have a seating capacity of 5,000. It will also house the track offices, jockey quarters, hospital, coffee shop, turf club, press box, judges stand and photo finish camera booth.

* * * *

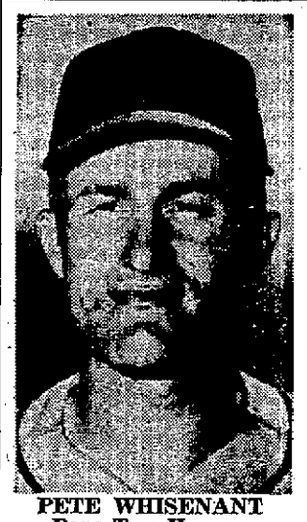

THE NEW grandstand, when completed, will occupy half the length of the present stands and will be equipped with elevators for the convenience of patrons. The main betting ring will be located on the same level as the present ramp, providing a walk-in betting ring similar to the one in the clubhouse.

Froehlich, who designed the present Los Alamitos Race Course clubhouse, gained wide fame for his work in designing the Hollywood Turf Club, Las Vegas, Panama and Del Mar tracks.

* * * *

THE DECISION to step up the planned program of improvements and expansion at Los Alamitos followed in the wake of the most successful meeting in the track's history.

The 20-day season completed earlier this month saw the daily average attendance soar to 6,139 patrons and the daily average wagering to $374,722, an increase of 11.0 per cent in attendance and 14.67 per cent in pari-mutuel handle over the best previous Los Alamitos season.

Raps Two Homers

Cubs Rip Cards in Hitfest

CHICAGO (U.P.)—The Chicago Cubs lashed out five homers and six doubles Saturday to whip the St. Louis Cardinals, 14-10. The triumph hoisted the slumping Cubs out of last place and prevented the Cards from moving into first.

Pete Whisenant, who came to the Cubs in the Hank Sauer trade, poled out two homers and a double for his first hits of the season, and drove in four runs to pace the Chicago 15-hit attack. Whisenant had gone hitless in three previous times at bat.

The Cubs mauled Cardinal pitchers Vinegar Bend Mizell, who gave up five runs in 2 1/3 innings, Lindy McDaniel, Gordon Jones, Max Surkont and Larry Jackson.

Ernie Banks hit his seventh homer, Walt Moryn hit his third, and Frank Kellert got his first. Ken Boyer, Bill Virdon and Walker Cooper homered for the Cards. A 22-mile an hour wind with guests up to 40 aided the home run carnival.

Oliver's 64 Leads Snead by 2

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (U.P.)—Ed (Porky) Oliver, without a major tournament victory in three years, fired a crackling six-under par 64 Saturday to grab a two-stroke lead at the three-quarter mark of the Greenbrier Open golf tourney.

That gave him a 10-under-par score of 200 after 54 holes.

Oliver finished in a blaze with birdies on the last three holes, including a 15-foot putt for a birdie-two on his own "nightmare 18th," to overhaul host pro Sam Snead, who had finished earlier with a 66 for a 202 total.

The halfway co-leaders, Mike Fetchick and Jack Isaacs, couldn't stand prosperity.

Fetchick shot even par 70 to tie old timer Vic Ghezzi for third with 203. Ghezzi came in with a 67. Isaacs blew to a four-over par 74.

PARTICULARS

by JERRY WYNN

Although there's still another week remaining to file entries for next Sunday's Long Beach City Championship championship flight qualifying, the field already shapes up deep in quantity and quality.

Headlining the list of aspirants is defending champion Larry Griggs of Recreation Park, who'll be bucking the jinx that has seen only one man, Del Walker, successfully defend a title in the 31 years of the city classic.

Secking revenge for the 8 and 7 licking he received from Griggs in the 1955 finals will be Sandy Mosk Jr., the tall Riviera CC belter. Mosk supplied some of last year's finest golf in scoring quarter and semifinal victories over John Richardson and Neil White.

Once again there'll be a great accent on youth.

Defending medalist Bob Boughner, who recently was but one hole away from winning the SC-Publinx Championship from Gene Andrews, will be a definite threat as should his Downey High and Rio Hondo teammate John Nichols, a finalist in the 1956 Los Angeles City Junior.

They don't come much tougher than Long Beach's junior kingpin, Pinky Stevenson, who will be right at home on the Recreation Park links.

Although a year out of the junior ranks, Joe Gallardo, the Griffith Park ace who defeated Jim Ferrie to win the 1955 Los Angeles City, is another youth who will be heard from.

In addition to Griggs, the host club will offer 1955 SC-Publinx champ Dick Clover, John McMonegal, Don Montgomery, Huntington Beach City champ Walt Axcell, Bob Darnell and that perennially dangerous fugitive from the starters' cage, Gene Combs.

Lakewood will have an unusually strong aggregation headed by 1954 runner-up Craig Olson, club champion Tony Tinkham, Keith Lopp, Andy Holmes, Richardson and long-hitting scratch handicapper Dick Collard.

Wearing Meadowlark colors will be Jack Augsberger, Ray Henderson, Rollie Sims and City College star Johnny Tate, runner-up to Irv Cooper in 1952.

Virginia CC entries will include Chuck Cassady and Joe Robinson Jr., son of the club professional.

Foremost among Orange County threats are Santa Ana City champ Don Baker of Santa Ana CC and Howard Estep, the Huntington Beach veteran.

Besides Mosk and Gallardo, the ranks of the "invaders" will feature former National Junior champ Tommy Jacobs, Steve Shaw, Lee Eaton and Ray and Leo Swedo of Montebello; Ed Korylak and Dick Chaplin of Rancho; Lolo and Frank Saldano of Catalina Island CC; Bob Johnson of Brookside Park; Bob Chase of Inglewood CC, and Vic Blalack of the El Toro Marines.

One thing is certain. The one man who walks off the course June 3 after successfully qualifying, winning four 18-hole and two 36-hole matches, will have well earned the championship.

THERE WERE two outstanding rounds on area courses last week.

T/Sgt. B. H. (Cornpone) Brown, the golfing pride of Long Beach Air Force Base, fired a five-under par 66 at Lakewood Friday. He birdied the fifth, 10th and 12th on putts of 18, 22 and 55 feet and eagled the par-five 14th on a 60-yard wedge.

The aforementioned Gene Combs fashioned the other, a six-under par 66—six birds, no bogies—at Recreation Tuesday. Gene is 18 under par for his last six rounds!

DIRECTOR Vern Wickham reports that the Western headquarters of the National Golf Foundation has been moved from Arcadia to 1537 Palos Verdes Drive, Palos Verdes Estates.

Seven new courses are now under construction in the Los Angeles to San Diego area and at least five more are due to start this summer.

T. F. McCARRY, 74-9, won the Virginia Men's Club Saturday Sweepstakes with a net 65.

Tied for second place at 68 were Don Schorovsky, 74-6; J. S. Watkins, 77-9; L. V. Cassaday, 76-8, and Bill Cook, 76-8. At 69 were Harry Bouchier, 78-9; Hal McGrew, 78-8; Bill Morrell, 84-15, and Dr. H. M. Penrose, 83-14.

Blind bogey (74) victors were F. F. Richards, Buford Smith, Milt Arthur, K. D. Welch, Adm. Melgaard, Dr. V. P. Brickey and Dr. L. Mahannah.

NITEHAWKS OPEN SEASON ON SATURDAY

The Long Beach Nitehawks, defending national softball champions, open their season Saturday night against Monterey Park.. Game time on the Park Ave. field will be 8:15.

All-American pitchers Leroy Zimmerman and Jack Randall will share pitching chores for the locals. Richie Stevens will throw for Monterey.

Long Beach nipped Monterey Park last year by scores of 1-0 in 12 innings, 2-1 in 12 innings and 1-0 in nine. Nitehawk manager Joe Rodgers still is taking it easy after a run-in with a 2400-volt live wire earlier this year. Clint Herron will handle the ball club until Rodgers receives a doctor's release.

Games Candidates at L.B. Naval Base

Thirteen of the nation's finest swimmers and divers have been stationed at the Long Beach Naval Station where they will continue training for the 1956 Olympics.

A coach will be assigned to the group within a few days, according to Athletic Director Frank Kirkland.

The Navy swimmers, including many All-Americans, are scheduled to compete in the SPAAAU meet at El Segundo Wednesday and Thursday in their first major competition since being based here.

They will be pointed for the All-Navy meet on July 25 followed by the National AAU championships in August in Detroit and the Olympic Trials.

Among the outstanding aquatic stars with the Navy squad are Jerry Harrison, former national diving champion from Ohio State; Reid Patterson, former national 100-yard freestyle king, and Dick Talbot, ex-Purdue swim captain and freestyle ace.

* * * *

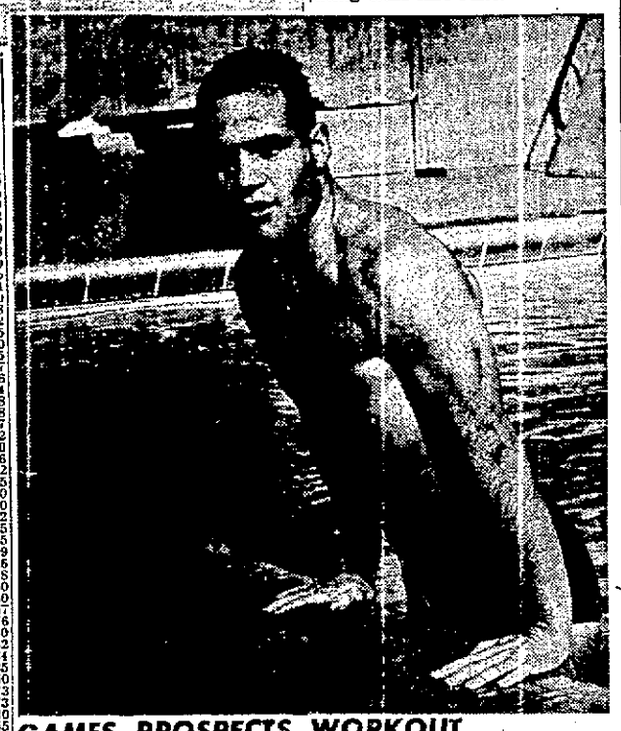

HARRISON IS ONE of the nation's top diving hopes. He made a grand slam of American diving championships last year, winning the Big Ten, NCAA and National AAU 3-meter titles and also capturing the National AAU 1-meter crown.

Patterson, powerful 6-4, 200-pounder from Pineville, Kentucky, who never did any competitive swimming before entering the University of Georgia in 1950, started out as a backstroker, but switched to freestyle in 1953 and promptly won the NCAA and AAU 100-yard freestyle championships that year. A year later he was clocked in 49.6 seconds, one of the fastest times ever turned in for that distance. He holds two American freestyle records.

* * * *

LAST YEAR he represented the U. S. in the Japanese championships held every four years and won four of six races in which he entered.

Talbot climaxed his career at Purdue by being named the outstanding athlete of his graduating class last June.

GAMES PROSPECTS WORKOUT

Sam Brown Gives Up Baseball for Pro Grid Career

CLEVELAND (UP)—The Cleveland Browns announced Saturday that they signed Sam Brown, a fine running back from UCLA, and three veterans for the coming campaign.

Coach Paul Brown gambled when he took Brown on the 22nd round of last January's National Football League draft because the UCLA star indicated an interest in baseball.

Brown tried out with Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League this spring. He was called into the army last week and decided to give up baseball and concentrate on football when discharged. He signed a contract for the 1957 and 1958 seasons with the Browns.

The world champions also announced the signing of veterans Tom James, a defensive halfback; Sam Palumbo, a linebacker, and John Macerelli, an offensive guard.

Admit Texas Tech to SWC; Lift Probation From A&M

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Texas Tech, a college of 7,154 enrollment located in West Texas, Saturday was voted into the Southwest Conference.

The invitation, extended by unanimous vote of the seven members of the conference, attained for Tech a goal it has sought for 30 years.

The conference announced that it had invited Tech to make it an eight-school league as soon as satisfactory arrangements of details can be worked out by committees from the conference and from Texas Tech.

Almost overshadowed by the action on Tech by the faculty athletic committee, governing body of the conference, was the lifting of a probation of one year from Texas A&M. The Aggies were penalized in 1955 for violating conference recruiting rules.

San Diego Duo Sweeps JC Nets

Coach Otis Morgan's great net duet of Carl Eltzholtz and Jack Movido made a sweep of the titles in the annual Southern California JC tourney at Lakewood Country Club Saturday.

Eltzholtz won the singles title and teamed with Movido to win the doubles for the second straight year. LBCC's Dave Benish and Bob Weeks bowed out in the doubles semis. Results:

Singles—Eltzholtz (SD) def. F. McCabe (SD), 6-0, 6-1.
Doubles Semi-finals—Eltholtz-Movido (SD) def. Moore-Warren (Pasadena), 6-2, 6-4; Lloyd-Hinderer (Santa Monica) def. Weeks-Banish (LB), 3-6, 6-4, 7-5.
Doubles Finals—Eltzholtz-Movido (SD) def. Lloyd-Hinderer (Santa Monica), 7-5, 6-0.

Jeffcoat Suspended, Fined for 'Pushing'

CINCINNATI (UP)—Warren C. Giles, president of the National League, Saturday suspended pitcher Hal Jeffcoat of the Cincinnati Redlegs for four days and fined him $50 for pushing umpire Vic Delmore in disputing a decision during Friday night's game against Milwaukee.

Giles also fined catcher Ed Bailey of the Reds $25 for the profane language he directed toward Umpire Hal Dixon during the same game.

UCLA Blanks Bears in CIBA Game, 5-0

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Earl Fordham of UCLA tossed the second shutout of the California Intercollegiate Baseball Association season in stopping California, 5 to 0, Saturday.

The Bruins moved into fourth place with the victory and sent California from second to third. The triumph also gave UCLA the series edge, 3-1.

Fordham fanned six and allowed six base hits in gaining his second win of the season.

SC Clinches League Title

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Southern California's Trojans Saturday dropped Stanford, 7-5, to win the Southern Division championship of the California Intercollegiate Baseball Association.

SC clinched the title with a four-game margin over the Indians, who are in second place. Both have two conference games to go.

Winning hurler Ed Isherwood went the distance, allowing nine hits, fanning seven and walking two. It was his fifth win against no defeats. He is the Southern Division's leading pitcher.

The victory gave SC a 12-2 conference record.

Fishin' Around

By DONNELL CULPEPPER

Getting away from fishing momentarily, let's take a look at the proposed deer seasons this year so that the hunters may start planning their vacations. Preliminary determinations have been made by the Fish and Game Commission. Final action will be taken at Los Angeles May 24-25.

Here is the way the seasons probably will be dated:

Early coastal—Aug. 4 to Sept. 16. Territory would embrace all of last year's area with the exception of counties south of Santa Barbara.

First inland season—Sept. 15 to Oct. 28. It would cover all inland areas south of the roads leading to Sonora Pass, state highway routes 129, 180 and 22, plus the coastal counties of Ventura, Los Angeles, San Diego and Orange. Note that big change for dates in Southern California!

Second inland season—Sept. 22 to Oct. 28. All counties north of the Sonora Pass line, except those in the early coastal shoot.

* * * *

THE COMMISSIONERS also propose either-sex hunts for the last three days of the three seasons. The two-sex provision, however, would not apply to 23 counties and parts of five others.

These counties would be excluded from the either-sex hunts:

Del Norte, Humboldt, Trinity, Mendocino, Lake Colusa, Sonoma, Marin, Stanislaus, Tuolumne, Alpine, Merced, Mariposa, Mono, Madera, Fresno, Kings, Tulare, Inyo, Kern, San Bernardino, Riverside and Imperial, plus parts of Calaveras west of highway 49 and those parts of Sierra, Nevada, Placer and El Dorado east of the Sierra-Nevada crest.

In another preliminary action, the F&GC also proposed a 16-day pheasant season—Nov. 17 to Dec. 2 inclusive—with either roosters or hens to be taken in Southern California. In Northern California, the bag limit would be two roosters the first two days, then four birds each day thereafter until the close of the season, but with a 10-bird limit for the 16 days. One hen could be included in the seasonal bag in northern areas.

Remember that these determinations are strictly tentative and must receive final approval later this month when the F&GC meets in Los Angeles.

ANSWERING a number of questions by C. A. Ott, 2928 Silva St., Lakewood, about carrying guns in a car:

State law prohibits carrying ANY firearm concealed and loaded without a police permit. And permits are hard to get. A sportsman en route to a range, or to a hunting area, may carry firearms, UNLOADED and UNCONCEALED, or in a gun "kit." He may do the same en route to a gunsmith. Ammunition may be carried separately for each type of firearm.

There is no special part of the car designated for carrying unloaded weapons. The law is aimed at the concealed weapon.

The state law prohibiting concealed weapons is enforced in Long Beach by the police department, in the county by the sheriff's office.

That, Mr. Ott, is the summary of the law, but there might be different interpretations by law enforcement officials. It wouldn't be wise, for instance, to keep a handgun constantly on the seat beside the driver or passenger. Some one might be very nosey and want to know the reason. It would be better to keep the pistol or revolver in a kit while en route to a gunsmith or the range.

OUTDOOR PERSONALS — Speaking of fishing surprises, Louis Smith of Long Beach got a real one at Foster Lake, Idyllwild, recently. He and Frank Tallant were fishing there and catching their share of 10-to-14-inch trout. Smith rigged up a extra-length leader and managed to get into the center of the small lake. He sat and waited for about an hour. A big one hit and he landed it. The rainbow weighed four pounds and was said to be the largest since Jimmy Munholland caught a 5-pounder there two or three years ago. A $5 daily permit is required for fishing in Foster but trout limits are easy.

Bill Equitz, Vee-Bee fly maker, visited Railroad Canyon Reservoir last week and saw several nice bass in the 2- and 4-pound weights taken on surface lures. Bluegill and crappie were taking Bill's specialty, the Vee-Bee, and worms. Railroad Canyon, five miles from Elsinore, is operated by Mr. and Mrs. George D. Evans. Their address: Rt. 1, Romoland, Calif. Phone Elsinore MAin 2173.

Spring Basketball Practice Monday at L.B. State

A four-day spring basketball practice session gets under way Monday in the Long Beach State College gym as Coach Earl Kidd takes a look at the men who will make up the 1956-57 squad.

Only Bob Foerster and Neil Peek graduated from last year's club that won eight and dropped 15. Returning are John Miller, Donn Loe, Hollis Harvey, Frank Morandini, Sam Kennedy, Huey Shepard and George Carr.

Herb Farrar moves up from the junior varsity, while Chuck Achziger, recently discharged from the armed forces, and Wayne Young, 6-5 former UCLA freshman player, figure prominently.

Ralph Acosta, R. S. Johnson and Henry Wallace of Poly High's Southern California champions; Ralph Somer, Gardena High; Tom Batson, ex-Jordan and LBCC; George Padovan, Harbor, and Don Stewart and Bill Baran of El Camino are others who have indicated they may enroll at State.

OUTBOARDS, YACHTS, SHOW-REGATTA

Top Marine Action Here

By BOB RUSKAUFF

There's been tremendous action before, but it appears now that the Memorial Holiday action in southwest marine sports will be the greatest logged since days of the Phoenicians.

It will begin with ocean yachting events May 25 when the 185-mile Channel Islands race gets under way and climax May 30 when inboard raceboats roar at Marine Stadium.

A poll of class captains Saturday night in the Southern California Speedboat Club Memorial Regatta meeting in South Gate indicated the greatest array of inboards, both in the top hydroplane and runabout classes, that has ever tangled on the "lanky lagoon" may be expected.

In fact, Commodore Kent Hitchcock devoted considerable of the time to stressing safety measures for the big "roostertail brawl."

Channel City Power Boat Assn. of Santa Barbara will sponsor this afternoon's televised (KTLA-5) Sunday Speedboat Rodeo at Venice, featuring AU runabout, B hydro and 36 class stock outboards. Cecil Loomis is chairman.

No less than 1,500 crippled children will have a chance to not only see ski racing and exhibitions par excellence, but many will get boat rides also as part of the Long Beach Boat and Ski Club's free show next Sunday on Marine Stadium.

Chairman Joe Molinar said "early work" has found splendid acceptance on plans for the combined boat show-regatta planned July 14-15 at the Long Beach course.

Third Sunday of four in which spring sailing championships are being decided will see upward of 100 boats go into action at 1 p.m. off the Cabrillo Beach Yacht Club.

Likewise, second races of three (they conclude June 10), will be jointly conducted on Newport Bay and the ocean roadstead off Balboa by the BYC-Newport Harbor clubs.

The Jessop trophy handicap, with many returning boats from the Ensenada race participation, this afternoon winds up the two-day, 70th birthday party of the Southland's oldest yacht club, San Diego.

Newport Harbor YC, by comparison a younger but a thriving one, will celebrate its 39th season's opening, next week-end.

Alamitos Bay YC, which is training its long sights on conduct of the 1956 National Snipe class sailing championships in August, is training big but shorter ones on their three-day small boat regatta, another of the huge Memorial Holiday fixtures.

When and if England's 35-year-old water speed king, Donald Campbell, goes 250 m.p.h. over water this year, it appears Eagle Mountain Lake in Texas, near Ft. Worth, will be the place.

L.B. CITY GOLF TRIALS SUNDAY

Championship flight (handicap 0-6) qualifying for the 32nd annual Long Beach City Golf Championship will be held next Sunday at Recreation Park.

The tournament is open to all golfers with an established and accredited handicap. You may telephone (HE 8-6751) for a starting time. The low 64 qualifiers will enter first round match play on Saturday, May 26.

Handicap flight trials began Saturday and will continue through next Saturday. No advance starting times are necessary.

ROCKETS MEET ALL-STAR NINE

Bill Fiestner's fast Long Beach Rockets take on the Hollywood All-Stars at Recreation Park today. Game time is 2:15 p.m.

The Rockets will be gunning for their seventh victory in 11 games. Last week they fell before the Los Angeles All-Stars to end a two-game win streak.

City College '9' Opens Drive for State Crown

Long Beach City College's Metropolitan Conference baseball champions launch their bid for the state junior college title Tuesday and local high schools compete in a CIF semifinal track and field meet at Compton Saturday to highlight this week's dwindling sports card.

Joe Hicks' versatile Vikings will meet either Citrus or Santa Barbara here Tuesday at 3 p.m. Winner of this game will engage in a two-out-of-three game playoff Friday and Saturday for the Southern California crown. Opponent probably will be Compton or Orange Coast. Winner of this game will gain the state playoffs.

Poly and Wilson figure to lead local qualifying for next week's Southern Cal track and field championships.

L.B. City College hosts the state junior college tennis tournament Thursday through Saturday in another feature. Schedule:

Monday

Plan Invitational Preview of Next Stage Offering

Lakewood Players announced a special invitational premiere of their next play, "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!", a comedy by Edward Chodarov which opens May 25, at McArthur School Auditorium, Centralia and Woodruff. The invitational premiere will be Thursday, May 24.

Much of the dialogue in this play emanates from the traditional psychiatrists couch, so special invitations have been sent to psychiatrists, psychologists, psychometrists and other members of the psychiatric field who may be interested in observing how a psychiatrist, the leading man, reacts to his own emotional problems.

Immediately after the final curtain a reception will be held for the cast, staff and invited guests in the Canterbury Room of the Riviera Hotel.

For special groups or clubs who wish to augment their treasuries, Lakewood Players are offering blocks of tickets to "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!" at reduced prices.

Jap Riders Leave Plenty on Trains

TOKYO (AP)—Tokyo's railroad riders were more forgetful than ever last year. They left 383,000 items and $112,911 on trains in and around the capital city. About 80 per cent of the money and 50 per cent of the goods—mostly kerchief-tied bundles, umbrellas and hats — were reclaimed.

Ability to Take Older Roles Key to Bette Davis' Success

HOLLYWOOD—At the outset of her career, Bette Davis was told by a stage star she would never be an actress. A director let her go because he saw no future for her. A picture producer turned her down for films.

In the quarter century since, Miss Davis has appeared in 68 motion pictures, won two Academy Awards and been acclaimed as one of the greatest stars of show business.

By sheer will and acting ability, Bette rose to the heights of movie fame, for as she herself says, "The fact that I wasn't considered potential acting material did more for my career than anything else. It served as a challenge."

Miss Davis feels that because she has always enjoyed playing characters, old, pleasant or unpleasant, she has been able to enjoy one of the most active careers in films.

"When I first began in pictures," she says, "it was heresy for a female star to play anything but glamour parts. I fought for realistic parts—no matter how they required I look."

This compulsion for realism and honesty in her films has resulted in Miss Davis allowing her head to be shaved for the role of Queen Elizabeth. And in "The Catered Affair," the comedy-drama also starring Debbie Reynolds, Ernest Borgnine and Barry Fitzgerald, she insisted on wearing a full-sized wig of a middle-aged woman and herself selected dowdy oversized dresses for her role as a Bronx housewife in the midst of getting her daughter ready for a wedding.

* * * *

"ONE ACTRESS once told me," laughs Miss Davis, "that I was to be envied. 'You've begun playing older women before you had to, and now no one will ever know when you have to make the switch,' she said."

FITTING THE ROLE

Carrying out her own ideas of "transference" acting methods, Bette Davis, with the aid of make-up and costumes, transforms herself into a buxom Bronx housewife for her role in "The Catered Affair."

Miss Davis takes no credit, for this ability; rather, she says, "Just as individuals are classified as types, so are actors. And I feel I'm a transference actor."

A transference actor, she explains, is one who is able to transfer himself into a character—thus making the audience forget the identity of the actor.

Bette now lives in Cape Elizabeth, Me., with her husband, Gary Merrill, and their children. She says she has no intention of ever forsaking her film career and plans at least one picture a year.

"I've had a wonderful 25 years in Hollywood," she says, "but I'm still waiting to work for the director who fired me, saying he didn't think I had a future.

"And I'd like to say that the star who told me I wouldn't be an actress was crushed when I did attain some prominence," she continues. "But she wasn't. When I finally met her again, she didn't even remember me!"

It Happened Last Night

By Earl Wilson

'SWEET GIRL'

NEW YORK—In a restaurant on the bullfighters' street in Madrid, my legwoman—my wife—sized up Sophia Loren, the Italian movie beauty.

And what a size to size up. Since I couldn't get to Spain, my B. W. inspected "Sofeeuh"—and reported she's a "sweet girl."

We hope she won't sue us for libel for saying that.

On the Madrid streets all the men seemed to know this Italian import. They stared and the B. W. said, "There is a lot to stare at."

But not too much. Sophia of the fantastic figure was learning jive talk from Frank Sinatra. She'd already mastered early jive such as "You're a gasser" and had progressed to more daring terms.

* * * *

"SOMETIMES"—Sophia spoke with a slight British accent since her teacher in Rome is Irish—"people teach you a word they say is a good word. But it means something very bad."

Sophia stared across a big Spanish omelet at Frank, a little accusingly, as she said this. Frank grinned and repeated, "You're a gasser."

Only 21, this Neapolitan beauty who's bigger upstairs than Gina Lollobrigida and who wears her dresses tighter than Marilyn Monroe, had been brought from Italy by Stanley Kramer to make "The Pride and The Passion" with Sinatra and Cary Grant.

She'd just mastered the Flamenco dance so successfully that everybody was complimenting her.

But other people had English troubles, too.

Her Flamenco tutor, a Spaniard, wishing to compliment her, exclaimed, "You're terrible, terrible, terrible!" He was a little mixed up and thought he was telling her she was good.

Sophia laughed. She helped herself to two big portions of prawns in curry, on mounds of rice floating in butter. Some girl, some appetite!

"I want to get married when I am 24 or 25, and he must be intelligent but not handsome," Sophia said.

"Why not handsome?" my B. W. asked her.

"Because I'm jealous. I couldn't stand it if other women looked at him. I haven't found him yet."

"You never pose for cheesecake pictures?" the B. W. said.

"I don't need sexy photographs to be sexy," Sophia retorted.

* * * *

MAYBE SHE DOESN'T do cheesecake pictures, but they come out cheesecakey. In dignified Spain they put Priscilla collars and tidy little berthas and ruffles around her bare neckline to fence her in, but she can't be fenced in.

"Dou you think skinny little guys like Sinatra are romantic?" the B. W. inquired.

"I just now know Sinatra," Sophia said. "I know better Cary Grant. He is very friendly and I hope we will go on together."

"Could you care for a bullfighter?"

"It makes no difference what two people do for a living. It's just when the man and woman happen to click."

She'd never seen a bullfight, but was supposed to that day. But that day's fights were canceled.

"I'm glad," she said.

Phil Foster tells of a pal who's been using that liquor-flavored toothpaste so long his eye-teeth are bloodshot. . . . That's earl, brother.

Maypole Dance Scheduled on Pan-Am. Green

One of the most graceful events of the outdoor season will be staged at Pan American Park Saturday when hundreds of costumed children will take part in the annual all-city May Festival.

Boys and girls will sing and dance, garbed in costumes of the new and old worlds.

The festival program will begin at 2 p.m., with youngsters from 19 municipal playgrounds taking part.

In charge of the outdoor festival is Mrs. Virginia Clark, supervisor of drama and music for the Recreation Department.

The program will climax with the wrapping of maypoles by the dancing children.

Red China Using New Drilling Tactic

TOKYO (U.P.)—Red China is going to put into effect a new method of drilling for oil that "is twice as efficient as that now in general use," Peiping Radio reported.

The Communist radio said a drilling brigade has been testing the method for three years and last year made its quota 83 days in advance. The broadcast did not describe the method.

LONG BEACH 12, CALIF., SUNDAY, MAY 13, 1956 SECTION D

With MALCOLM EPLEY

ADLAI Stevenson and Estes Kefauver played roque in Long Beach's Lincoln Park — and from that, an idea has been germinated in shop talk around here that might grow into something.

Non-partisan observers at the roque courts thought Stevenson, who made a successful play in two strokes, might be the better roque prospect of the two campaigning Democrats.

A man's aptitude at roque would hardly be a reasonable basis on which to make political decisions. I do not know, but doubt if Bro. Stevenson won any votes by his Lincoln Park performance. If Estes loses the election, it won't be because Adlai outscored him at roque.

BUT some of the boys here, sitting around with their feet on their typewriters and chewing over the situation, came up with a scheme to capitalize on this for good ole Long Beach.

Capistrano is known for the swallows that come back to it, year after year, reportedly on the same day. When people think of Capistrano, they think of swallows, and vice versa.

Maybe the Lincoln Park roque court could become similarly known the world over as the place where the politicians play.

EVERY time a political bigwig comes to town — and that's quite often — we ought to make sure his local managers take him down to the roque court in the Stevenson-Kefauver tradition.

Eventually, every man who gets into big-time politics in this country would feel an obligation to come here and play a game of roque. Perhaps some day the phrase "I played roque in Long Beach" would be as important in a politician's list of qualifying accomplishments as that he had once had "sweat on the brow from honest toil."

Maybe, instead of reporting a man has thrown his hat in the ring, the newspapers would be saying, "he has played roque at Long Beach."

Grauman's Chinese Theater is the museum of the prints left by the feet of famed movie stars. Why not a museum in Lincoln Park containing the roque mallets of visiting politicos — with their signatures?

Another feature would be a registry book containing the candidates' names, dates and visits, and respective scores. The time would come, with presidents and ambassadors and senators listed there, that the Long Beach roque museum would be a must for all Southern California visitors.

LAST week's gentle showers brought a question about May rain in Long Beach. There's never very much.

Only in one May in the last 35 years has precipitation here totaled more than an inch. That was in 1921, 35 years ago.

In 13 of the Mays since then, not a drop of rain has been recorded. And in the other Mays, there have been little more than mere smidgeons of moisture.

So we can be thankful about the recent freshening rain, clearing the atmosphere, and giving the greenery on the hills another boost. It was unusual.

SEVERAL mothers living in the Willard School area, where that shooting episode occurred the other day, have suggested something be said here about the quick and intelligent action take for the protion of school children at the time.

Willard School children were on the school ground, within range of the gunfire from a youngster in a house on Orizaba St.

The emergency bell of the school was sounded, bringing children from the playground into their classrooms. It was noon and some children had gone home. A quick check was made to discover those missing, and their mothers were called to advise them to keep their children from the danger area. A police car crew went to work directing children from the scene.

The women who called here asked for recognition of the work done by the school principal, Margaret Busch, and her staff, as well as the officers. It was a grand job of handling an emergency problem.

Modernizing of Gas System Nears Finish

A 10-year, $1,750,000 program for modernization of the Municipal Gas Dept.'s compressor system will be completed in August.

Work is well advanced on the final project, the replacement of the obsolete plant at Spring St. and Junipero Ave. with a new building and new equipment valued at $725,000, Superintendent L. L. Bendinger reported Saturday.

Five huge new compressors have already been installed and a steel and cement building is being constructed around them.

The new units, powered by natural gas engines, will replace 12 old machines which have been in use since 1923. The plant was located in Dominguez before being moved to its present site in 1927.

* * * *

BOVEE & CRAIL Construction Co. of Paramount has the $406,483 contract, executed last Dec. 6. The balance of the current outlay went for purchase of equipment and preparation of plans by M. A. Nishkian & Co., Long Beach engineering firm.

An important element of the new plant is a cooling system which circulates water from a 1,000,000-cubic-foot holder through coolers and compressor cylinders.

Since electrical power is to be used to drive auxiliary equipment, a 100-kilowatt standby electric generator is being installed for use in emergencies.

All the piping is placed on "sleepers" above ground and located on one side of the building to add to the attractiveness of the area and make landscaping more effective. This design was considered desirable in view of the proximity of the proposed San Diego Freeway.

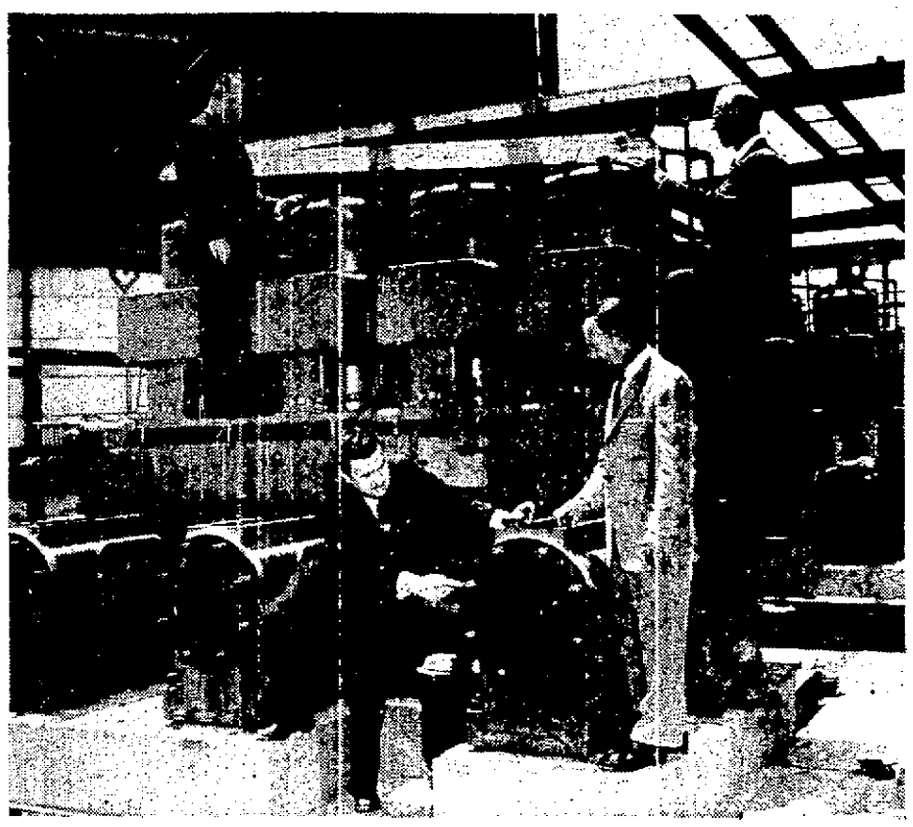

* * * *

WITH COMPLETION of the current project all three of the system's compressor stations will be of modern design. Their function is to keep pressure in the distribution mains on an even level regardless of fluctuations in demand.

In 1946 a new plant was completed in North Long Beach, and two years later the existing plant at 9th St. and Edison Ave. was modernized.

At least one addition to the system, however, is in prospect. Further compressor facilities will be needed when the city takes over privately owned distribution lines in the annexed areas of the Lakewood section. Acquisition of Southern Counties Gas Co.'s system is already under way.

The additional program is expected to extend over three years, with a start on engineering work scheduled for next year.

'AND IT COMES OUT HERE'

Club Hails Buffum 'Citizen of Year'

Harry Buffum, president of Buffums' Corp., will be honored as the "Outstanding Citizen of the Year" by the Exchange Club of Long Beach Wednesday noon at the Lafayette Hotel.

A Long Beach resident for 52 years, Buffum is the fourth citizen to win the Exchange Club award. Special guests will include three former winners—Atty. Eugene E. Tincher, Dr. Orville Cole and City Mgr. Sam E. Vickers.

Lawrence A. Collins, editorial columnist of The Independent, will be the featured speaker. The outstanding citizen award will be presented by Will H. Winston in behalf of Orland Ford, Exchange president.

Buffum will be lauded for his civic contributions throughout the years. "Showing an interest in civic affairs has become a tradition with him," Winston said.

* * * *

A GRADUATE OF Stanford University in 1918, Buffum has served as president of the Community Chest, Rotary, Long Beach Retailers Associated; California State Retailers Assn., Beckoneers and the Tuna Club. He also has served on the executive boards of the Chamber of Commerce, Adelaide Tichenor Orthopedic Clinic, Boy Scouts and Seaside Memorial Hospital. He also has served on the advisory board of the Bank of America.

A few years ago the late Frank F. Merriam, former governor of California, presented Buffum with the Silver Beaver award, the highest honor obtainable by

CAP Teams Drill Today

Winners of northern and southern competitions will meet this morning at Long Beach Air Force Base in the final Civil Air Patrol Cadet Drill competition in California. Hours will be 9 a.m. to noon.

Thirty-eight cadets of the Mt. Diablo Squadron 88, Concord group 16, were flown here from the northern area by the USAF Saturday, to meet the southern area winner, the cadet drill team of Monrovia Squadron 15. The winner will be state representative at the national drill competition.

Long Beach female cadet drill team, rated best in the southern area, will march in an intermission exhibition.

New Navy Jobs Total $45,950

Contracts totaling $45,950 were awarded to Long Beach and San Pedro firms for ship repairs, the Navy announced Saturday.

Under provisions of a $27,020 contract, the Long Beach Marine Repair Co., 1409 W. 7th St., will overhaul a self-propelled garbage lighter.

A minesweeper, harbor tug and an oiler will be overhauled by Todd Shipyards Corp., 710 N. Front St., San Pedro, under provisions of three contracts totaling $18,930.

Jewish Veterans Leader Reports on Israel Here

Reubin Kaminsky of Hartford, Conn., national commander of Jewish War Veterans, USA, who now is in Israel, will give a first-hand report on the tension-ridden Middle East at a public meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday in Temple Sinai Auditorium, 7th St. and Molino Ave.

The meeting is co-sponsored by the Bernard and Milton Sahl Post 593 and the Long Beach Jewish Community Council. Mel Rubin is commander of the post and Leon Silverman, president of the Council.

Isaac Sukman will introduce the speaker.

Kaminsky recently conferred with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Israel Prime Minister Ben Gurion.

George Werner, post program chairman is in charge of arrangements, assisted by Max Bender, Al Gray Morty Rosenbaum and Stanley Kohn.

Navy Wives' Move Here Protested

The San Diego Chamber of Commerce Saturday bitterly protested the proposed transfer of Navy wives to Long Beach.

That's right, Navy wives.

Last week the Navy announced it was considering the transfer of six aircraft carriers from San Diego to Long Beach.

On Saturday, George W. Sears, president of the San Diego chamber, said many of the wives of servicemen serving aboard the carriers are employed in San Diego.

Their transfer would seriously injure the labor market, he contended. There already is a labor shortage in the area, he added.

The chamber has scheduled a meeting Monday with Vice Adm. A. M. Pride, commander, air forces, Pacific Fleet.

Area Building Industry Pay Sets Record

The Los Angeles-Long Beach building industry employed 132,800 wage and salary workers during March at a record-breaking average hourly earnings of $2.97, it was reported Friday.

Earl P. Snyder, research committee chairman for the Home Builders Institute, said the average over-all wage rate for all manufacturing industries from the month was $2.15.

"The contract construction industry in the Los Angeles-Long Beach metropolitan area, including Orange County, according to official sources, employed five times the number employed in food processing and more than double the number employed in the textile industry," Snyder said.

"The number of wage and salary workers employed by the building industry in March was 132,800, representing 20 per cent of the total number employed in all manufacturing activities combined."

He said the newspaper publishing business paid the second highest average hourly wage at $2.96, followed by the motion picture industry with $2.95.

Vision Bus Will Check Driver Eyes

Know how far you can see an oncoming car? . . . How well you can judge its speed and yours? . . . How fast you can step on the brake?

As part of Car-Check Month, the Long Beach Safety Council will have a bus here this week to test vision, hearing and reaction time.

Ronald K. Pitcher, manager of the Long Beach Motor Bus Co. obtained the coach with the assistance of Joseph Pretzman, safety director of the Los Angeles Transit Lines.

* * * *

THE BUS will be at the corner of 4th St. and Pine Ave. Monday through Friday. Evenings, from 6 to 9 o'clock the bus will be at the check lane, 14th St. and Pine Ave.

Dr. Charles H. Fabish, vice president of the Safety Council supervises the tests which include visual acuity, sharpness of vision, depth perception, hearing degrees and color vision.

One of the most interesting tests, according to Dr. Fabish, indicates braking speed, duration of time to stop a car and severity of possible impact.

Motor coach drivers will be tested Monday.

Garage Owners Install Sutton

D. W. Sutton was installed as president of the Independent Garage Owners Assn. at a dinner dance Saturday night in the Lakewood Country Club. He succeeded Mason C. Jurgenson.

Other new officers include: Les Mauck, Henry Sorenson, Earl Neely, Harold Cheyney and Bill Coleman. New directors are W. R. Bell and Don Head.

Wide Open 5th District Council Contest Looms

Two Candidates in Race, Many Others Expected

With two candidacies already announced, a wide open race for Fifth District councilman is expected to be touched off Monday.

The City Council will convene at 10 a.m. to declare a vacancy caused by the death eight days ago of Councilwoman Ruth H. Bach.

As soon as the declaration is formally posted—which will be within a few hours—it will be permissible for aspirants to file their declarations for candidacy at City Clerk Margaret Heartwell's office.

* * * *

THEY HAVE UNTIL 5 p.m. Friday to complete this formality and until the following Tuesday for the further step of filing petitions.

Erick Flamer of 2548 Zandia Ave. announced Saturday. Flamer organized the recently formed Stearns Park-Southern Manor Property Owners Assn., a group protesting the proposed drilling of oil wells at Lakewood Blvd. and Willow St. and in nearby residential areas.

Norwegian-born and educated in England, candidate Flamer has served eight years on the Long Beach Board of Examiners and Appeals, the last three years as chairman. He is also chairman of the Chamber of Commerce construction industry board. Other memberships include Lions Club and Sons of Norway.

* * * *

LEGAL COMPLICATIONS confront the other announced candidate, Andrew W. Baird, an industrial engineer. He lives at 2621 Senasac Ave., which is in the newly-created District 4 rather than the revised District 5 (see map on this page).

Although City Atty. Walhfred Jacobson has ruled that the election will be confined to the newly constituted District 5, Baird indicated he intends to make an issue of the point that the new district may not be denied representation.

Others who have indicated they might run are Frank Lowry,

Court Restrains Picketing of 2 L.B. Auto Agencies

A temporary restraining order to prevent picketing of two Long Beach motor car agencies this weekend was issued Friday by Superior Judge John J. Ford, in Los Angeles.

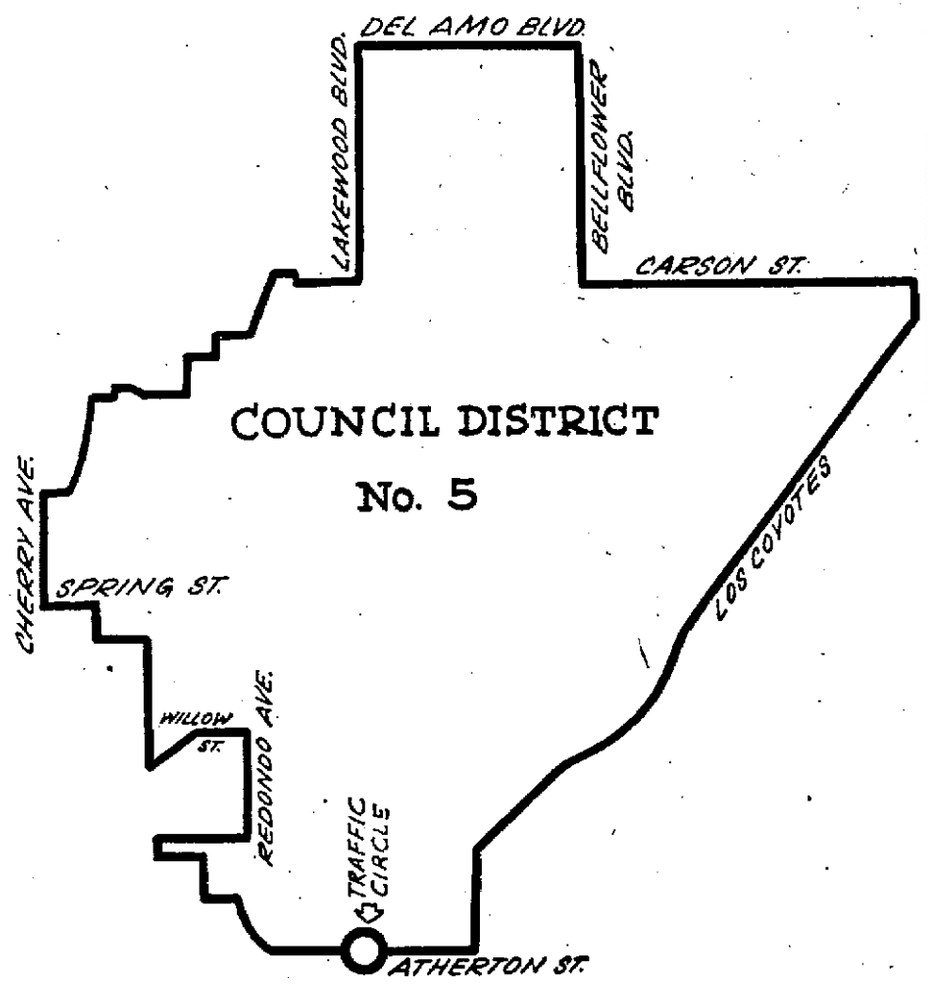

The agencies are Harbor Lincoln-Mercury, Inc., 1633 American Ave., and Salta Pontiac, 1545 American Ave.

Under the order picketing also would be illegal against H. J. Caruso, 701 N. Long Beach Blvd., in Compton, and Wilshire Oldsmobile, in Los Angeles.

The International Assn. of Automotive Machinists has picketed the four agencies during the past two weeks, because they reportedly refused to join a group of motor car dealers and close on Sundays.

However, a spokesman for Salta Pontiac denied Saturday that his company was open on Sundays, although it did not join with the group which signed a closing agreement.

The restraining order is returnable to the court, May 18, at which time the union must show cause why the order should not continue in effect.

Judge Percy Hight

Chef of the Week

Judge Hight Proves He's Good Judge of Food, Too

By MILDRED K. FLANARY
Independent, Press-Telegram Home Economics Editor

"You must understand the other fellow before you can help him"—that philosophy perhaps explains the outstanding success of today's Chef of the Week Judge Percy Hight. A keen perception and an unusual faculty for blending kindness, gentleness and courtesy, with firm and logical decisions, are his.

Dean of California's municipal judges, Percy Hight, was first appointed to the bench on March 5, 1926. Of his 30 years as veteran jurist, he served on the Superior Court for 20 years by juricial council assignment. Recently honored on his anniversary, he was given a diamond-studded pin from Los Angeles County, a wrist watch from Long Beach Bar Assn., and a bouquet of 30 roses from his fellow jurists.

Judge Hight was born in Riverside County on the site of the present Glen Ivy Hot Springs Hotel. His father owned the hotel, but it was then known as the Cold Water Canyon Hostelery. Many the deer and the bear he has taken from "them thar San Berdoo Hills"—with some quail and gray squirrel included for variety.

Receiving his degree from University of California Law School in 1903, he entered his dad's law firm in the City of San Bernardino. He moved to Long Beach in 1907, and became assistant to the late Judge Long, serving then as City Attorney. He remained as Deputy City Attorney until 1912, when he went into private practice. The firm was known as Long, Hight and Hoodenpyle.

Since being appointed to judgeship, the cases over which he has presided would make interesting reading. Probably the one of longest duration was the Boulder Dam Power Line case which consumed an even six months.

A past president and member of the present executive boards (both local and national) of Boy Scouts of America, Judge Hight has served the Native Sons in that same capacity. A charter member of the Virginia Country Club, he holds life memberships in both th Pacific Coast Club and the Elks Lodge.

Our "chef" loves to travel—and his destination is usually the desert—or lower Mexico. He's intrigued with the Mexican language, and finds the people both interesting and hospitable.

Judge Hight has his private domain, too—it's his camellia and azalea beds. No one dares touch them—not even the gardener. For many a year the Judge has kept his "figger" by a noontime bowling bout—and a dish of Wheatena every morning (without fail), topped with juicy prunes.

Today he's presiding over a Chicken Burgundy. Here's his conclusion:

CHICKEN BURGUNDY BY HIGHT

- 2 frying chickens, disjointed or all breasts
- 1 bunch carrots
- ½ cup salad oil
- ½ cup seasoned flour
- 1 cup water
- 2 whole cloves
- 1 bay leaf
- ⅛ teaspoon marjoram
- ¼ teaspoon rosemary
- Few grains mace
- 2-3 oz. cans broiled, sliced mushrooms
- 1 to 2 cups domestic Burgundy wine

Dredge chicken with seasoned flour. Brown on all sides in salad oil. Remove to large casserole. Sprinkle with any remaining seasoned flour; slice carrots crosswise or in thin strips. Peel onions or use canned onions for uniform size. Add carrots and onions to chicken in casserole. Pour water in pan in which chicken was browned. Add spices—boil 5 min. Strain over chicken and vegetables. Cover casserole: bake in slow oven, 325 degrees 1 hr. Add mushrooms, liquid from cans, and wine. Continue cooking 1 hour or until chicken is real tender. This makes 8 servings and is delicious.

Molly Mayfield

Hands Off, Mother-in-Law!

DEAR MRS. MAYFIELD:

My daughter is about to put me on the spot as a "meddling mother-in-law" and I don't know what to do. I once had a typical mother-in-law, and the last thing in the world I want is to be considered the same.

But I'd also like to give my daughter some answers to her problem. So that is my problem: Should I interfere or not?

She and her husband seem very happy together and I believe they are, except for the question of money. He won't give her a cent. She can't even keep a little out of the grocery money because he charges everything. In fact, it's a fight just to get money for cigarettes.

She doesn't know how much he makes, how it is spent, saved or anything. He won't even discuss with her the problems of money that concern them both. My daughter doesn't mind that so much, but she is sick of begging for every dime. If she only had a small allowance, I know she would be happy.

So that is my problem. She has asked me what to do about it and I hate to interfere. But she needs some help, don't you think? Would I be right in stepping in now?—MOM.

DEAR MOM:

No, I don't think you would be right in stepping in now. You have said that your daughter and son-in-law are happy, except for this one problem. Believe me, your interfering isn't going to solve that problem, but only create another one. You then will have the problem of your son-in-law's dislike for you.

It's hard for you, I know, to turn her down, but it is the best thing in the long run.

Whatever you told your daughter to do would just cause more trouble with her husband. Surely, she can figure out some way to get through to him without your help. She knows and loves her husband, so why should she expect you to tell her what to do?

Even if you gave her the right answer that helped solve her problem, it wouldn't help her any for she'd lean on you again when something else came up. It is best for her to find her own answers now and forever and to develop her place in marriage. Sorry, if this isn't what you wanted to hear, but you asked me what I thought.—M.M.

DEAR MRS. MAYFIELD:

How wrong can a person be? How cheap can a person feel? I'd give anything to undo what I've done. It's done, of course, but I feel like such a fool. Maybe you can give me some solace.

For years I kept myself out of affairs and entanglements. I was saving myself for the one and only, who I would marry. He finally came along and it really was love at first sight. He asked me to marry him and I was so happy. Then he decided we should stay together first, just to make sure everything was all right.

Like a fool, I believed him and thought it wouldn't make any difference, because he had asked me to marry him. But it did make a difference, for he's dumped me, but good. I don't mind so much about him, for I can see him for what he really is. But, oh, how cheap I feel!—SORRY AND SAD.

DEAR SORRY AND SAD:

Yes, and to make matters worse, you thought you were both in love. That probably makes your disappointment doubly hard to bear. The emotions are devilishly hard to keep harnessed at times, aren't they?

But you'll get over your feeling. Time is a great thing for bad memories and hurt feelings. They do pass, though, in time and you'll be so much wiser—if that's any consolation — for the experience.—M.M.

Why Grow Old?

'Dress Right' Program Is Success in High Schools

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

As my readers know I long have believed that a woman is likely to live up to the picture she has of herself. If we feel well groomed and at our best we are almost sure to act more attractively, to put our best foot forward. This seems to be a psychological fact.

For this reason I have been tremendously interested in a project now going on in the high schools of Buffalo, N.Y. This is a "Dress Right" program. Certainly if personal appearance so subtly influences men and women, it might have an even greater impact on teen-agers.

Dr. Joseph Manch, associate superintendent for school-community co-ordination, long has understood the close connection between extreme or sloppy appearance and misbehavior in the teen-age set.

Working with the Inter-High School Student Council, representing all 14 Buffalo high schools, Dr. Manch decided that the most effective way of curbing bizarre clothing for both boys and girls was to put the responsibility on the students themselves. He asked the Council if it would like to consider the development of a series of recommendations for appropriate dress in high schools as its project for the year.

The Council accepted this proposal with enthusiasm and its 17-year-old president, Caesar Naples, appointed a committee (one representative from each high school) to study the situation and prepare a series of recommendations for the Council's approval. This they did with great success.

One high school installed a full length mirror at the top of a stairs where most of the pupils passed at least once a day. A sign over the mirror reads, "Look! This is you. Are you satisfied?"

Our Children

Make This Mother's Day a Memorable Occasion

By ANGELO PATRI

Every day is Mother's Day, including the nights, so if one day off-duty is afforded her, she will appreciate it deeply. Just to be freed of the daily routine would be wonderful gift for her. Not to be bothered about the whereabouts of Dad's blue shirt or Sister's sweater, not to have to plan breakfast and supper for a whole day—what bliss! Just to be free to sit and smile at her children, to eat a meal she has not planned and cooked, just to enjoy her family—what a wonderful day that would be.

When the children are small, someone, usually Dad, must take over as far as possible. A drive to some outlying restaurant is a great treat and if there is someone to take care of the small children so they need not be taken along, that adds to the glamour of the occasion. A free day seasoned with family affection is about ideal for Her Day.

When the children have grown up and are far from home, a telegram, a telephone message, best of all a long letter, can be a happy surprise. When at all possible, a visit, a gathering of the whole family, is about the best gift a mother can have — providing, of course, that the work does not fall on her shoulders. Mother is to enjoy a real holiday from the routine tasks of housekeeping.

There must be gifts, of course. Do let them be on the luxury side. By luxury is meant something out of the ordinary, like a fine plant, a bit of jewelry that Mother has longed for but did not dare to buy. It may be a book that she wanted but could not see her way to buy. Maybe it is a record of some fine music that she longed to own. Something, in short, that Mother would like to have but could not or would not buy for herself.

You see, mothers are schooled to self-denial. They give up their time, their tastes, their wants, and merge themselves with their families and unless the family become aware of this, her days are days of duty. Mother's Day gives her children a chance to return some of the affection, even some of the self-denial, if they will.

Some curmudgeons grumble that Mother's Day is just another commercial stunt to boost business. The boost that business gets is just a side product of a beautiful thought and is not to be grudged. The shops offer fine service for this Day and they are to be approved for it accordingly.

So here's to Mother's Day. Bring on the flowers and the letters and the grandchildren, and make it a wonderful day for Her. And make sure she does none of the work involved. It's her one holiday.

End Game Very Pretty

Today's hand comes to us from Terence Reese, the great English expert. "It has an artificial look," he admitted, "but the end position is very pretty."

South wins the first trick with the ace of clubs and hopefully cashes his six top cards in the red suits. If either red jack happens to drop, declarer can get to dummy with the king of clubs to cash a red 10 as his twelfth trick.

Nothing good comes of this plan, since West has control of both red suits. East discards two small clubs, carefully saving his control of spades.

South next tries the spades, and West discards the 10 of clubs on the third spade. Once again South is disappointed.

South makes his last try by leading his losing spade. West must discard. If West discards a red jack, dummy will save the established red 10. Dummy will then win the last two tricks with that red 10 and the king of clubs.

West's only hope is to discard the jack of clubs, whereupon South discards the king of clubs from the dummy!

East wins the jack of spades and must return a club, allowing South to win the last two tricks with the 9-6 of clubs.

Please don't say that South can make the 12 tricks by taking the three high spades very early. It's true that West would be squeezed at once, but it wouldn't be nearly so pretty. And please don't say that somebody really played this hand, because we aren't quite ready to believe it!

HE ALSO will be cited for his work to solve hospital problems in Long Beach. As a member of the Inter-Hospital Committee, he helped plan the program to erase local hospital shortages with a $10,500,000 bond issue, approved by voters.

As president of Buffums', Harry Buffum has watched the corporation grow from a small store with 21 employes on Pine Ave. in 1904 to a large enterprise employing more than 1,000, with stores in Long Beach and Santa Ana.

Pine Ave. was a dirt road when he first came to Long Beach, and the original store, called The Mercantile Co., carried both "bolt goods" and groceries. He started in the store on a part-time basis, first working as janitor, then cash boy and clerk and later working up into top executive positions.

He has watched the city grow from 4,500 population to some 318,000.

LIKE ALL special elections to fill councilmanic vacancies, this one will be decided in one balloting. Under the charter, the Council must schedule it for a date within 90 days of the declaration of a vacancy.

Mrs. Heartwell said she will recommend that the date be fixed as far in the future as practicable in order that voters not now registered may have ample opportunity to do so.

Registration has already been resumed in the Fifth District, for the special poll only. Duties of 18 deputies have been reactivated by County Registrar Ben S. Hite. Addresses of the deputies may be obtained by telephoning Mrs. Heartwell's office.

Police Check Heroin Story of Docker

Police Saturday were checking the story of a 41-year-old Long Beach longshoreman who said he "blundered" onto heroin worth three-quarters of a million dollars on the dope market.

More than four pounds of uncut heroin were found here Friday in the home of an acquaintance of Albert R. MacCagnan.

He was arrested May 2 and charged with peddling narcotics. A trial is pending.

* * * *

AT THE TIME of his arrest, officers found a small amount of narcotics.

But a tip Friday night led to the larger cache. Los Angeles Harbor division police and Long Beach Dep. Dist. Atty. Ted Sten made the raid on a house in the vicinity of American Ave. and Pacific Coast Hwy.

They found the heroin in three plastic bags on a closet shelf.

Sgt. A. W. Trembly, who headed the investigation, declined to reveal the address of the house.

* * * *

HE SAID MacCAGNAN'S acquaintances apparently did not know what the package contained. They told him the longshoreman said the packages contained powder used to mix paint.

Trembly quoted MacCagnan as saying he was working in the hold of a ship here last February when he "accidently blundered on" about five pounds of the almost pure Oriental heroin. He smuggled if off the ship, Trembly said.

Earlier Friday officers found $25,000 worth of heroin in a dummy oil filter on MacCagnan's car.

Great Future for Area Seen by Building Leaders

By KEN CHILCOTE
Independent, Press-Telegram Business Editor.

Continued growth of the Los Angeles-Long Beach-Orange County metropolitan area, assured by plentiful jobs, promises a bright future for both Southland homebuilders and home buyers in this area.

So stated two experts in talks delivered before 250 leading homebuilders attending the May meeting of the Home Builders Institute, at the Ambassador Hotel.

The speakers were Charles Detoy, past president of both the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Los Angeles Realty Board and senior partner of Coldwell, Banker & Co., and J. Lowell Henderson, president of the Aetna Development Co. R. Reese Myers, president of the Home Builders Institute, presided.

Consensus view of the meeting was that strong demand will continue for homes in this area, helping the builder, and value of homes now completed or building may be expected to rise, benefitting the home buyer.

* * * *

ASSURING FURTHER population increases and a continued need for new homes in this area is a fast expanding industry here which is providing jobs faster than the population mounts, Detoy told the builders.

The acute shortage of land now plaguing homebuilders will be solved by the opening up of new areas beyond the scene of present activities and homebuilders will have at least another 15 years of good, strong demand for homes, Henderson said.

Steadily increasing land prices in all areas surrounding Los Angeles were reported by Henderson, an indication, he pointed out, that homes being built and sold today will increase in value.

Orange County's great growth has scarcely begun, he predicted, adding "In 1960-65, the north and west sections of Orange County will be built solid."

Henderson quoted leading economists as predicting the "Pomona-Ontario region is about to explode," adding that the anticipated mass movement of industry and people into the area may be triggered by the soon-to-be completed San Bernardino Freeway.

Today the Los Angeles-Long Beach area is one of the strongest and most diversified from the standpoint of industry in the entire world, Detoy said, contrasting today's situation with the period immediately following World War I when only three industries existed: Movies, citrus and tourists.

"We have now more than 15,000 industrial enterprises here," he said, "and despite our great population growth, employment is growing even faster."

* * * *

ONE OF the changes wrought, he said, has been the retirement of more than 54,000 acres from agriculture in the last five years.

"While Los Angeles County has long been the center of the walnut industry, this is no longer true. In fact the last walnut has been packed here. There will be no more," he said.

Citrus is also on the move to other sections of the state, he said, adding that Tulare County is gaining much of it.

Detoy said growth of the airports here "into a giant harbor for jets with runways from 10,000 feet long up to as long as 22,000 feet, if needed" would bring in more industry, more employment and more need for homes.

Detoy also told of the competition for land brought about by the growth of major shopping centers, which he said need a minimum of 55 to 60 acres. These centers, he said, can afford to pay $1 per foot for parking space—a sum which to them is cheap but which amounts to $43,560 per acre, a figure far beyond the reach of home builders.

Real Estate and BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

FIRST NEW ACCOUNT

Bernard Berk, leasing agent for Lakewood Park, was the first person to open a savings account at the new Lakewood office of California Federal Savings, 4248 Woodruff Ave. Nearly 1,000 accounts were opened the first four days, J. Howard Edgerton, president, announced. Shown as the first account was opened are, left to right, Ernest A. McGill, vice president and manager of the new office; Edgerton and Berk.

Cotter Opens Car Sales Place

Grand opening is being held for Cotter Motor Sales new location at 556 E. Anaheim St., the corner of Atlantic and Anaheim.

Herman Cotter, the owner, has been in the auto business in Long Beach 23 years. Robert W. Lee, the general manager, has 13 years of auto experience here. Extensive remodeling was done by the new owner.

Royal Palms Has Corsages for Mothers

A special Mother's Day showing of the Royal Palms model apartment is scheduled today at First and Atlantic Ave., the location selected for the 12-story mutual ownership apartment tower. Free corsages will be given to ladies visiting the model until 9 p. m. today.

"Mother's Day is a particularly appropriate time to see the Royal Palms model, as this apartment was designed with special attention to the needs of the woman who appreciates the comfort and conveniences provided by modern planning," says E. T. Moore of Moore Realty, sales agents for Royal Palms. "The all-electric kitchen is equipped with colorful work-saving appliances, including built-in oven and range, refrigerator, garbage disposal, and ventilating exhaust fan."

The appliances are included with each apartment, and the monthly charge also covers normal maintenance and replacement of the equipment, as well as regular repainting of the apartments. Sales of the apartments are continuing at a brisk rate, according to Moore, and an early sell-out of the 164 de luxe apartments is expected. Most of the purchasers are using the convenient FHA terms, although outright cash sales can also be made.

Candy Stick Lane Homes Still on Easy Financing

Family type homes, modernizing Cinderella's dream house, with a rustic ranch style motif, are priced well below the market norm at Candy Stick Lane Estates, located north of Chapman in Garden Grove, the builders say.

A select few homes are ready for immediate occupancy at the scene, which is conveniently close to public and parochial schools, and is near shopping facilities.

Sales price for the 3-bedroom, 2-bath homes is just $12,895, with conventional terms for all. A down payment is listed from only $195. Still no down to veterans is the rule.

Visitors are welcomed to the subdivision at the furnished model home, decorated in a traditional motif. Featured at Candy Stick Lane is an exclusive planter-view fireplace, along with covered patios, a spacious service porch, breakfast nook area, thermostatically controlled heat, hardwood floors, and a master bedroom suite with private bath and stall shower. An electric dishwasher is optional to the purchaser.

Footnoting the list are sliding glass doors and screens, spacious lots with front lawn and shrubs, clothes lines, and incinerators.

VA Loan Officer to Speak Here

Current phases of the GI loan guaranty program will be discussed at a dinner meeting of the Society of Residential Appraisers Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. at the Lafayette Hotel, by Arnold A. Wilken, loan guaranty officer of the Veterans Administration, according to Herbert L. V. Coffey, chairman of program committee.

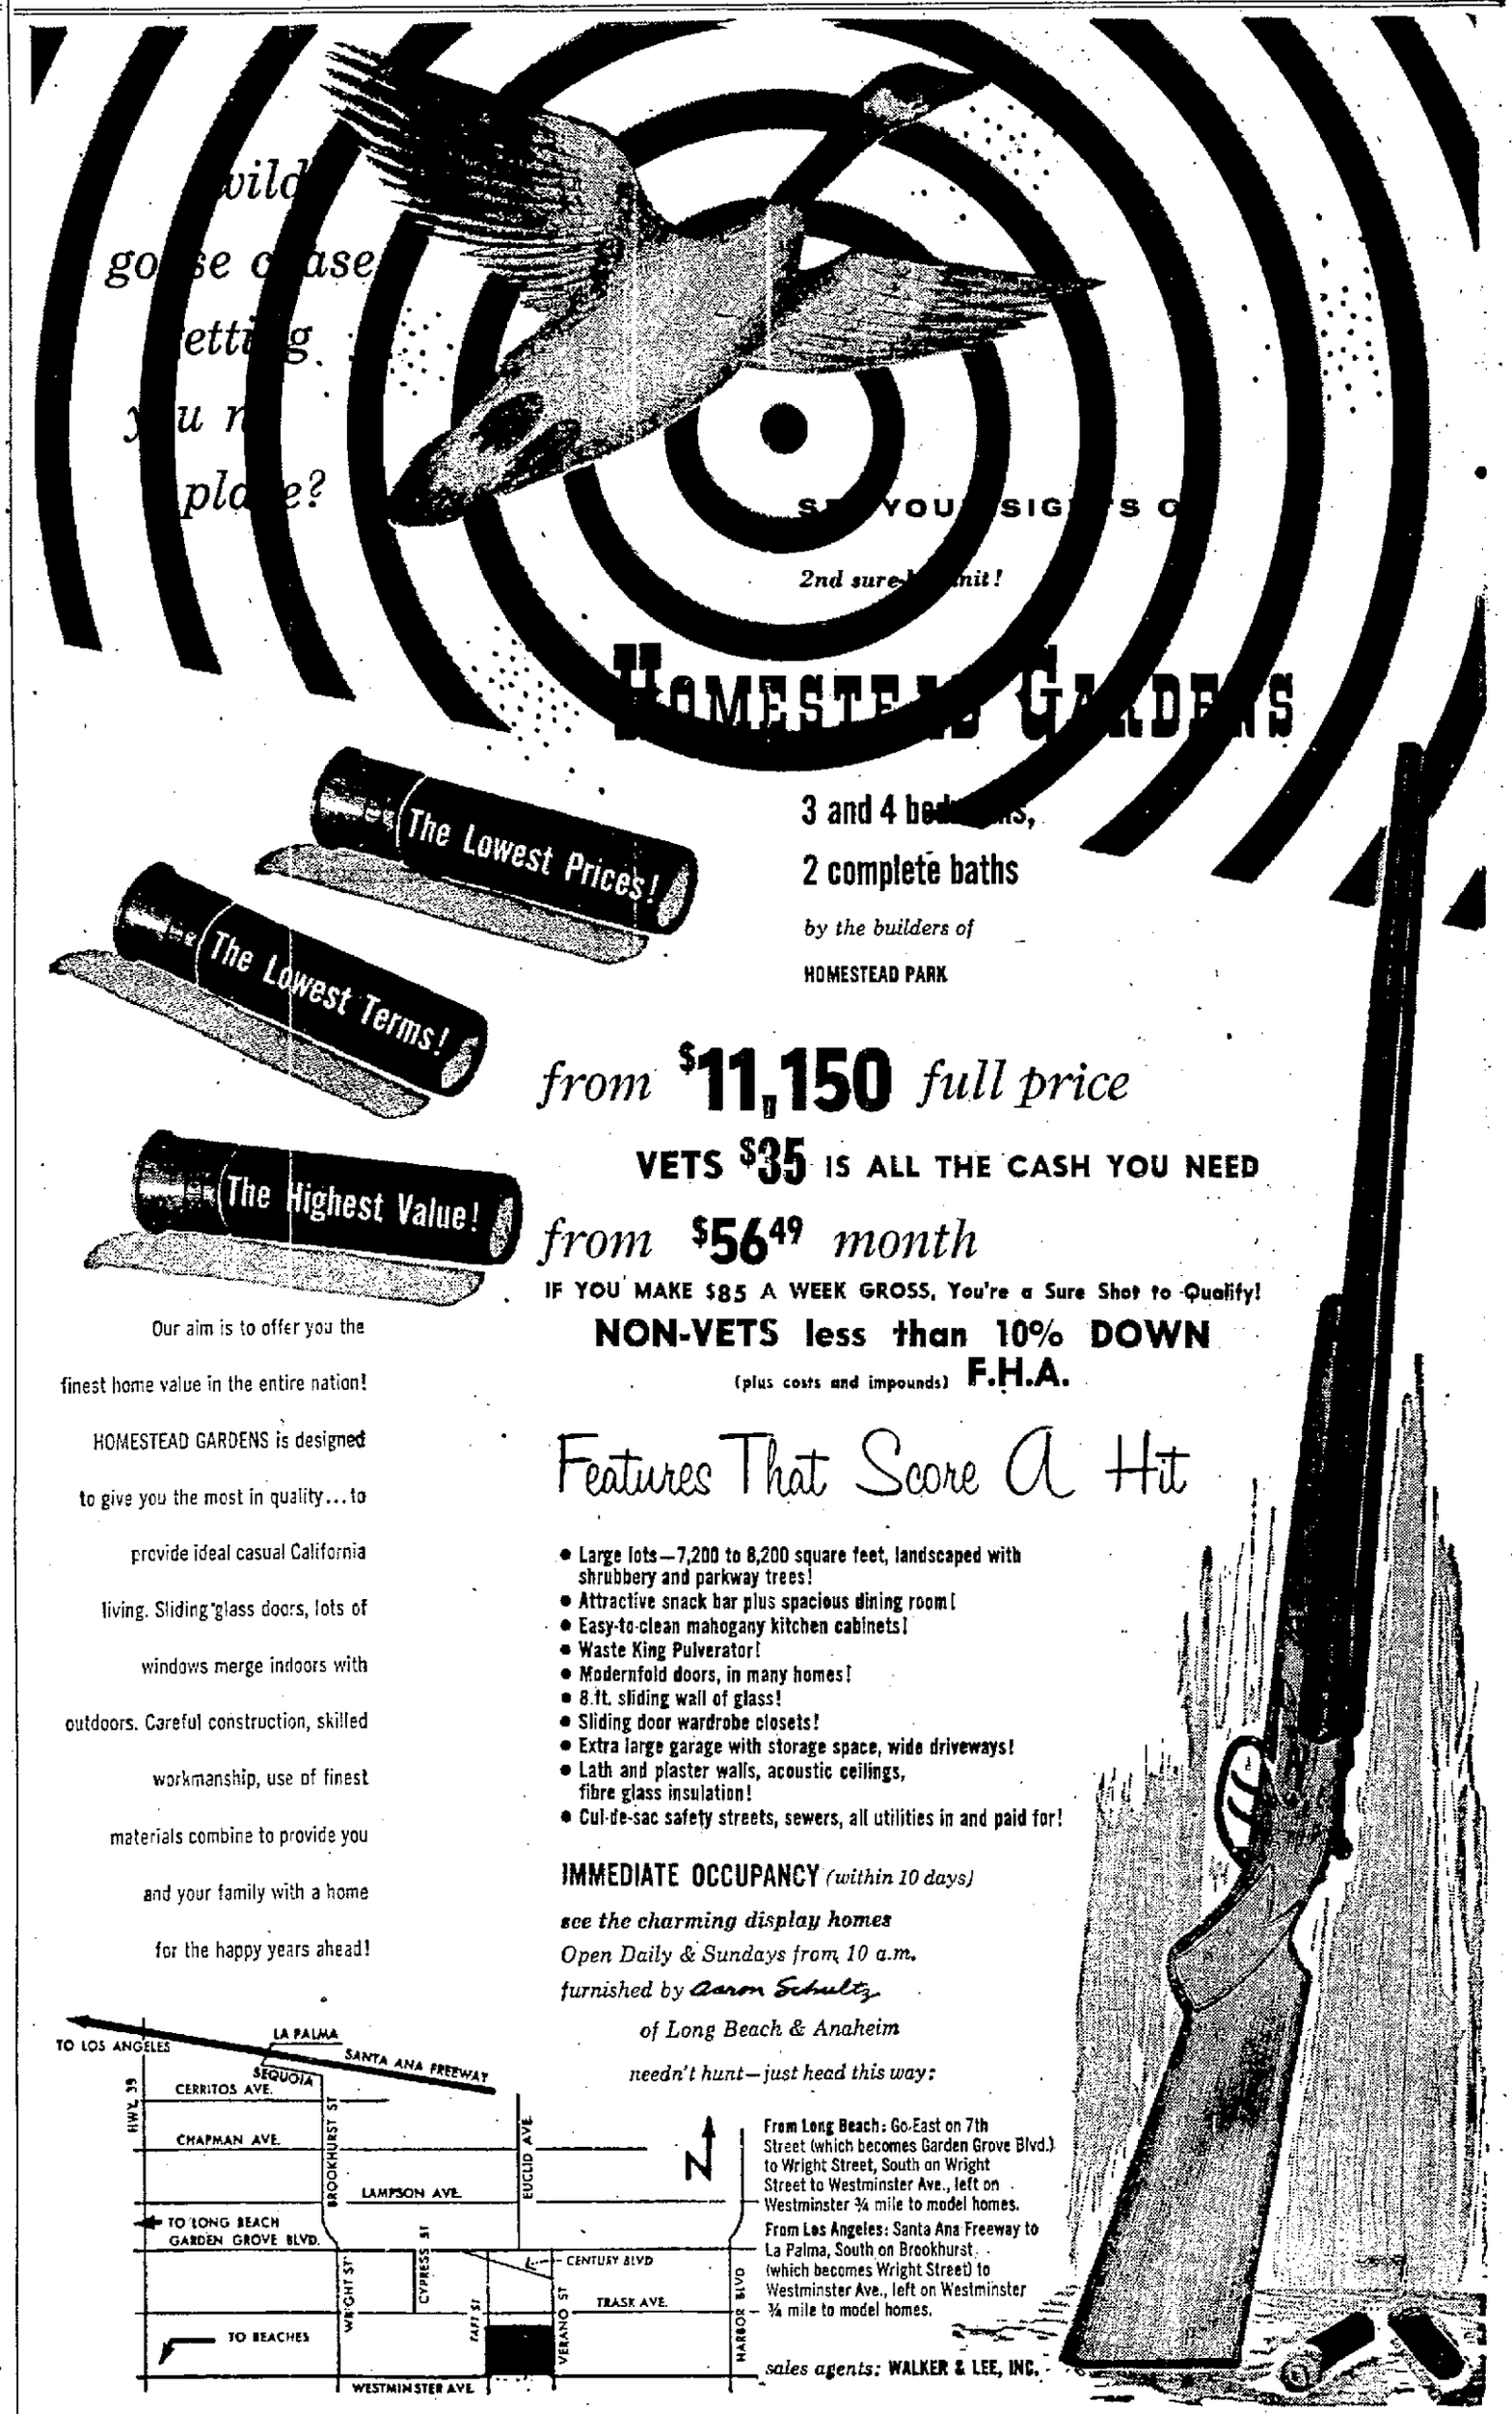

Wilken has been closely associated with the GI loan project since its inception, and is at the present time in charge of GI loan activities in Southern California, Nevada and Arizona.

Morris Leenov, chief appraiser of the Long Beach office of the FHA, President of the Long Beach Chapter of SRA which includes Orange County, invites all appraisers and realtors to this important meeting.

Back Pay

MILWAUKEE (UP) — Dave Sherman received a dollar bill in the mail. With it was an unsigned note saying: "This is the money for the things I took from your store."

LOADED WITH FEATURES

Homes in Lincoln Park, Anaheim, are filled with many luxury features and are ideally located for growing families. Some are available for immediate occupancy.

Lincoln Park Homes in Anaheim Custom Styled for Big Family

Looking at new houses is fun, but the task of finding a home to buy can become a serious problem, when you start weighing the features of a house against your needs and coming up short.

How many times have you said "If only that house had hardwood floors, and lath and plaster walls," "Why didn't they put the service room in the house, next to the kitchen?" "I wish that house had a central hall plan," "I hate to think of putting in that lawn," "Nice house, but what a terrible location," etc.

In Lincoln Park you'll find the features you've been looking for, and many more, say the developers. These custom-styled homes all have hardwood oak floors throughout, genuine lath and plaster walls, large service rooms adjoining the kitchens, central hall plans, complete lawns included in the sales price, plus redwood fencing and patios, and ideally situated in the city limits of Anaheim.

THERE ARE A lot of smaller features that add immeasurably to the comfort and livability of these homes: Impressive fireplaces of brick or slumpstone, natural ash panel on fireplaces, cabinets and doors, 2 full baths, built-in dressing tables, extra mirrors and double medicine cabinets, kitchens with built-in range and oven of antique copper.

There are large pantries, guest closets, forced-air heating, separate dining rooms, convertible dens with walls of folding louvered doors, brick barbecue ovens in the dining areas and choice of 20 different models.

"These are the reasons," says Tom Price, sales manager of Lincoln Park, "we hear so often 'we've been looking at houses all day, and these are the first ones we've liked.'

"And these are the reasons why so many ex-home owners are anxious to pay down their equities of $4,000 or more, to buy a home in Lincoln Park.

* * * *

ACCORDING TO PRICE, over 50 per cent of all sales made are to people who make substantial down payments, although the terms require only $325 down for a veteran, to move into one of these designed-with-you-in-mind homes, priced from $15,625 to $16,250 and built by Centex Construction Co., the largest residential builder in the United States.

A few homes are available now for those who need immediate occupancy.

Take Carson out of Long Beach, which becomes Lincoln, to the corner of Lincoln and Brookhurst, then right one block to the 5 furnished models now open for inspection until 8 every night.

Find Luxury Living in Heritage Estates

Spacious kitchen cupboards and closets, plus beautiful decor, have been a major factor in the sale of homes at Halecrest Heritage Estates, is the report from the sales force at the Orange County development. As in all Halecrest homes, the most modern features have been built in Heritage Estates to make for more luxurious living and a minimum of work for the homemaker.

With 16 different designs to choose from in the 3- and 4-bedroom homes, homeseekers have found it easy to select one that exactly fits their tastes and needs in this suburban community that is close to both business and recreational facilities.

* * * *

OTHER FACTORS that make Halecrest Heritage Estates an excellent purchase are: heavy shake or rock roofs, hardwood floors and genuine plaster walls, large rooms, forced air heat, 2-car garages and sidewalks already installed.

Women visitors to the model homes have expressed delight in the kitchen facilities, which include built-in Western Holly gas range and oven, built-in Westinghouse dishwasher and washer-dryer, as well as the West-King garbage disposer.

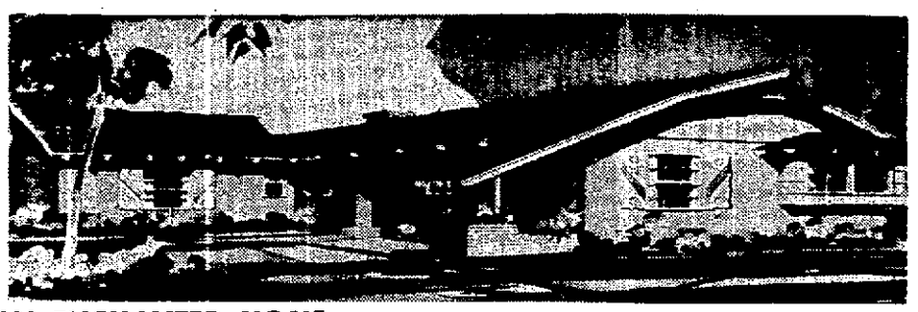

Priced from $14,950, the down payment for vets is only $299, plus normal impounds, with monthly payments as low as $74.34. For non-vets the down is only $999.

Halecrest Heritage Estates is located in Western Ave. at Lincoln, approximately one-half mile south of Knott's Berry Farm, just minutes from major freeways.

A HERITAGE ESTATE

This is one of the models found in Heritage Estates which are priced from $14,950 with low terms offered veterans.

AN ENCHANTED HOME

Heavy shake roofs and unusually wide eaves help to keep Enchanted Homes, such as shown above, cool in summer. The second unit of the Garden Grove development is enjoying popular acceptance, the builders report. Enchanted Homes, a fully-planned community, are located at the intersections of Magnolia and Orangewood Aves. in Garden Grove.

Big Rush of Sales in Enchanted Homes

Twenty-one days after opening of the second unit, Enchanted Homes in Garden Grove are 70 per cent sold, the Pioner Land Co., sales agents, reported.

The rustic provincial styled homes, however, are still available in all their unique models and elevations.

Designed by Cliff Olsten, U.D.A., Enchanted Homes blend a south-of-France charm with highly contemporary living conveniences. Shake roofs sweep down to wide overhanging eaves and exteriors sparkle with diamond-lite windows.

Leisurely living is the keynote of Enchanted Homes interiors, with massive antique brick fireplace and hearth a focal point of spacious living rooms. Bedrooms are spacious with coved ceilings.

Unusual in south-of-France styled houses are the complete powder rooms which are in addition to the two bathrooms in each.

* * * *

THE KITCHEN is equipped with built-in eye-level gas oven and counter-top range.

Low down payments on both VA and FHA terms, with full prices from $15,200 to $15,400 are reported by the builder, Godbey Development Company.

School Principal Is Realty Speaker

The North Long Beach Real Estate Club will meet for breakfast at 8 o'clock Thursday at Mayo's Cafe, 5935 Cherry Ave.

A CINDERELLA HOME
This shows the luxurious setting inside the new Cinderella Homes which are selling in Anaheim. Much care has been given to color coordination in the homes.

New Cinderella Home Unit Open

The builders of the 701 new Cinderella Homes at Ball Rd. and Western in Anaheim have spent a great deal of time and elaborate care in coordinating colors throughout the homes for maximum effectiveness.

The designers were particularly careful about achieving a feeling of warmth and restfulness in every room, feeling that it was highly important to create a completely different atmosphere between a man's home and the place where he works.

Color psychologists were consulted before any colors were planned, to be certain that every combination of colors was soothing to the nerves, and that it formed an air of coziness and hominess.

* * * *

THE 17 EXTERIOR styles of Cinderella Homes are not only color coordinated with their own individual interiors, but each house of the total development was color designed with every other house in mind, so that the entire Cinderella subdivision will compose a picture that is completely harmonious and pleasing.

Prices of the 3 and 4-bedroom homes start at $14,890, and feature 30-year loans for veterans and minimum down payments on 30-year FHA loans.

Home buyers can gain an exact idea of just what the finished homes and subdivision will look like from the first unit located at Highway 39 and Ball Rd. in Anaheim.

The sales office for the 701 new Cinderella Homes is also there, and is reached via the Santa Ana Freeway to Highway 39 in Buena Park and then due south past Knott's Berry Farm another 1½ miles (or one-quarter mile south of Orange Ave.).

Offers Resales on Low Terms

A limited number of three-bedroom homes for resale below the market price at Del Amo Park, described as "lived in by families who have been forced to leave them to live in other locations," were announced available yesterday by the developers.

Either vets or non-vets may move in for only $199, it was announced, and terms may be arranged "to suit" buyers.

"These homes are available only because their original buyers had to move to other locations," a spokesman said. "They are a particularly good buy for the 'handyman.' A little fixing and cleaning, and they will be as good as new."

The location of Del Amo Park is 20th St. and Pioneer Blvd., Artesia.

Grand opening of Majestic Homes on Western Ave., Anaheim, is announced for this weekend by Paul Bonser, builder. Homes have genuine lath and plaster walls and hardwood floors.

Paul Bonser's Majestic Homes Will Hold Grand Opening Today

Paul Bonser, builder, announces the grand opening of Majestic Homes today on Western Ave. between Ball Rd. and Orange Ave., Anaheim, a location rapidly accessible to Los Angeles via the Santa Ana Freeway.

According to Bonser, nine different elevations in this custom-styled group of 38 homes make the new residences as "individual as the families who'll be moving into them." Sites are large, homes are low and rambling with picturesque shake roofs. Featured are genuine lath and plaster walls, A-1 hardwood floors and oversize 2-car garages.

Designed for either vet or non-vet, Majestic Homes offer 3 or 4 bedrooms. Popular feature in the 3-bedroom homes is the cork-floored family room that can double as a den or sewing room.

Streamlined kitchens offer built-in O'Keefe & Merritt gas range and oven, disposals and convenient double sink. Baths are gay with colored fixtures and ceramic tile. Glamour feature is the unusual marble-topped Pullman. On the practical side, there's a 50-gallon water heater.

Rich-colored used brick fireplaces contrasting in texture with gleaming mahogany paneling keynote the living rooms, which offer a pleasant vista through the wide, sliding patio doors.

Air Mail Pioneers Plan Meeting

OAKLAND, Calif. (U.P.) — The Air Mail Pioneers, an organization who pioneered the air mail from 1918 to 1927, will hold a national convention here Sept. 13 and 14. More than 250 aerial pioneers are expected to attend the convention which will be a highlight of Aviation Week.

Sun Powers Novel Radio

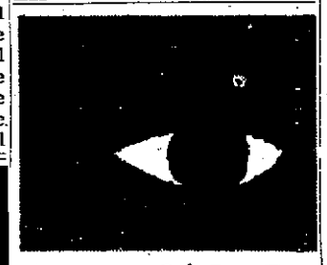

LOS ANGELES—A milestone in the science of electronics has been crossed with the introduction by Admiral Corp. of the world's first sun-powered tubeless radio designed for the consumer market.

The sun-powered radio marks the culmination of 18 months research and development work by Admiral. Six months ago, the company demonstrated an experimental sun-powered set in Chicago.

The new commercial model contains six transistors in place of vacuum tubes and a 32-cell "Sun-Power Pak" is available optionally to harness sunshine for powering the instrument. The unit is so sensitive that it will operate on an overast day. The small accessory plugs into the back of the unbreakable case and converts the sun's rays instantaneously into electric energy. Since it contains no moving parts, there is nothing to wear out.

The principle element in the "Sun-Power Pak" is pure silicon and, although silicon is one of the most abundant elements on earth, being found everywhere in sand, pure silicon is very scarce and present costsly over $300 a pound.

TWO PROUD BUILDERS

Tietz Home Model Wins Prize for Girl

An Industrial Arts sstudent at Garden Grove High School, Nancy Kraushaar, last week won top award in the first annual model home design contest held at the Orange County Home Show by adapting the interior plans of a Skylark Terrace Town and Country dwelling to her own conception of the exterior treatment. Nancy built the model, one of 18 entries in the contest, and will receive as a prize a wrist watch from Tietz Construction Co. of Garden Grove, builders and developers of Skylark Terrace Town and Country Homes.

Bill Tietz, president of the construction firm, complimented Nancy on her talent and ingenuity, disclosing that the interiors as well as exteriors of the homes have met with equally high praise among Southland homebuyers who purchased the first unit of 70 dwellings in less than 30 days.

* * * *

THE 3 AND 4-bedroom, 2-bath homes are popular for a number of reasons, notably the spaciousness of both home and lot, the genuine lath and plaster construction, and the incomparable location, said Tietz.

Up to 1,500 square feet of living space sets the pace for roominess with wide lots of up to 85-foot frontages emphasizing the indoor-outdoor living possibilities, such as swimming pools, badminton courts, playgrounds and patios. Swimming pools are optional with the buyer, it was revealed and barbecues with grills are already installed.

Other features include all-electric Hotpoint efficiency kitchens equipped with built-in, automatic ranges, ovens, dishwasher and garbage disposals.

Sliding glass "lanai" walls, massive sandstone fireplaces with raised hearths, golden hardwood floors, 80,000 BTU forced air furnaces, formica and tile baths with stall showers enclosed by etched glass doors, shingle, heavy shake and Dolomite roofs, brick trim exteriors, intercom and background music systems are more qualities.

Both veterans and FHA financing are available for the homes, models located at Brookhurst and Chapman in Garden Grove. Visitors drive out Seventh St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) to Brookhurst, turn north on Brookhurst and continue to Chapman Ave.

Cedric Roberts Is Chosen to Build Magazine Home

"Living for Young Homemakers" magazine has chosen builders and developers H. Cedric Roberts & Sons and architect John Kewell, AIA, to design the magazine's display house for Southern California.

It will be one of 26 throughout the nation, each designed, engineered, built and decorated by specialists in the local areas.

The selection of the Roberts firm and Kewell to do the local house was made by Mrs. Edith Brazwell Evans, editor-in-chief of the magazine, during her recent visit here.

Roberts announced that he will build the house on Katella Ave., near Brookhurst St., in the center of the nation's most active home building area, North Orange County. Opening of the house is scheduled for the Parade of Homes during National Home Week.

* * * *

ROBERTS SAID that every effort was being made to make the home the most outstanding one in the nation's program, as well as being the best possible expression of a home designed specifically to meet the needs of the Southland's families.

Explaining the program, Mrs. Evans stated, "Americans find their homes their most personal creative expression. Geography and climate, because they affect people, have a decided influence on the kind of homes they want. Our plan is to design, engineer and build homes indigenous to the regions in which they are built, costing what the market they are designed for can afford."

* * * *

ONE OF THE REASONS Roberts was chosen to build the house is that this firm is one of Southern California's oldest home builders, the announcement stated. The senior Roberts has just started his 34th year as a home builder, and he now has been joined by his sons, James and Warren.

Also one of the most active and well known builders within the construction industry, Roberts is a member of the Contractors' State Licensing Board, a member of the Board of Directors of the National Association of Home Builders, a past president of the Building Contractors Association of California and a lifetime member of the Board of Directors of the Home Builders Institute.

The architect, John Kewell, AIA, has designed several thousand homes throughout Southern California, both for individual clients and for large developments.

Ease Vet Terms on Big Home

New terms for Excelsior Village that will offer the big 4-bedroom, 2-bath homes to veterans for no down payment were announced this week by sales agent, Don Coleman.

The sales head stressed that "no down" terms for veterans are on the way out and that quick action is suggested. Coleman also explained that arrangements could be made so that qualified veteran buyers could enjoy almost immediate occupancy.

* * * *

EXCELSIOR VILLAGE homes feature the luxury kitchen with built-in range and oven, natural "glamour cabinets" with hidden pulls, big "pool size" lots, insulated ceilings, and the highly publicized "Gelvatex" long-life exterior paints.

With summer near, Coleman also stressed the ideal location of the Excelsior Village homes that bring the new buyer across the street from grammar school and playground, near to shopping and just minutes to southland beaches.

To reach Excelsior Village from Long Beach drive out Garden Grove Blvd. to Brookhurst in Garden Grove then turn right to the corner of Westminster and Brookhurst (Wright St.) and the model homes.

FIRE ALARM

Fire alarm system is one of the "built-in" features at Excelsior Village in Garden Grove. Offered to veterans for no down payment, the homes have range and oven, forced air heat, four bedrooms and two baths at only $12,600.

Large Clover Park Home Is Appealing

Competition in business represents a challenge to one's ingenuity, says Max Berlin of Berlin Construction Co., and he has prepared for it. How well this challenge has been met is shown in their home development in Orange County-Clover Park.

Big functional homes available to Veterans at no down payment except small closing costs are being offered by Clover Park. Low FHA terms are also in effect.

Home buyers after purchasing these homes avoid added expense as almost everything is included in the one price, reported sales manager Roy Berlin.

* * * *

COMPLETE FENCING, landscaping, huge patios and sprinklers with remote controls are in front and rear yards. These features mean the Clover Park buyer can move in and not worry about this added expense necessary with many new homes. Closeness to schools, transportation and churches is proving a big asset.

Homes start at $11,600. Building and sales are both under the direction of Berlin Construction Company. Thus the buyer deals directly with the builder. The homes have a one-year written warranty.

Directions from Long Beach—Drive out 7th to Hwy. 39 (Huntington Beach Blvd.) turn left 1 mile to models or out Carson to Hwy. 39 and turn right to models.

A CHALLENGE TO ALL

Clover Park Homes, a model of which is shown here, represent the builder's challenge to the home building industry. This view is the patio area of one model.

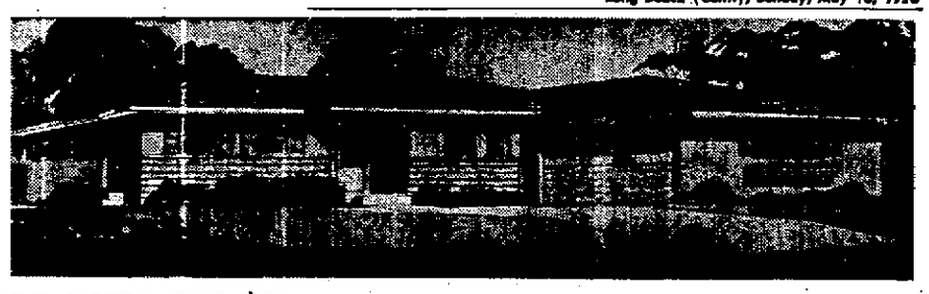

Orangewood Manor Asks $25 of Vets

For the few remaining homes in Orangewood Manor, veterans may purchase with only $25 cash required, including impounds, it was reported by Thomas Helt, spokesman for the McCarthy Co., sales agents for this Garden Grove development. "Because of increased construction costs," Hart stated, "this may be the last chance veterans may have to buy such a quality home for only $12,750."

Kitchens in Orangewood Manor have proven very popular with their Roper gas ranges in pastel colors that match the Columbia steel cabinets. The living rooms have fireplaces and walls of glass that offer popular indoor-outdoor living. Patios have built-in barbecues.

Other features include: Thermador electric bath heaters, stall showers and Standard colored plumbing fixtures; forced air heating, resilient cork tile flooring, walls of genuine lath and plaster, Rockwool insulation, heavy rock roofs in 5 colors, and exteriors of California redwood siding.

From Long Beach, visitors are directed to drive out 7th St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) and turn north on Magnolia. From Los Angeles, take the Santa Ana Freeway, turn south on Magnolia and continue 4 miles to Orangewood Manor.

VET NEEDS BUT $50

Builders of Rancho Bel Air Homes announced new terms which permit a veteran to occupy a home on a $50 payment. This is one of the models of the Westminster homes.

Rancho Bel Air Gives Vet Occupancy on $50 Payment

Famous Rancho Bel Air homes in nearby Westminster this weekend became available to veterans to move in for $50 cash.

The spacious new home development is being offered at terms as low as $67.50 per month including principal and interest. Balance of costs and impounds are only due before recording.

Unusually low terms are also available for non-vet buyers, Walker & Lee, sales agents, announced.

Styled for growing families, the Rancho Bel Air homes offer choice of 4 or 3 bedrooms, 2 baths and uniquely wide lots.

* * * *

THE ROOMS ARE bright and airy, floored with genuine hardwood on raised foundations, walled with real lath and plaster, and warmed and cooled by an ultra-modern forced air system with finger-tip thermostat control.

In the kitchen center, work surfaces are life-long formica; cabinets are made in natural finish.

Central hall plans assure quiet and seclusion for bedrooms. Floor-to-ceiling fireplaces are focal centers of some of the varied home plans available to buyers.

* * * *

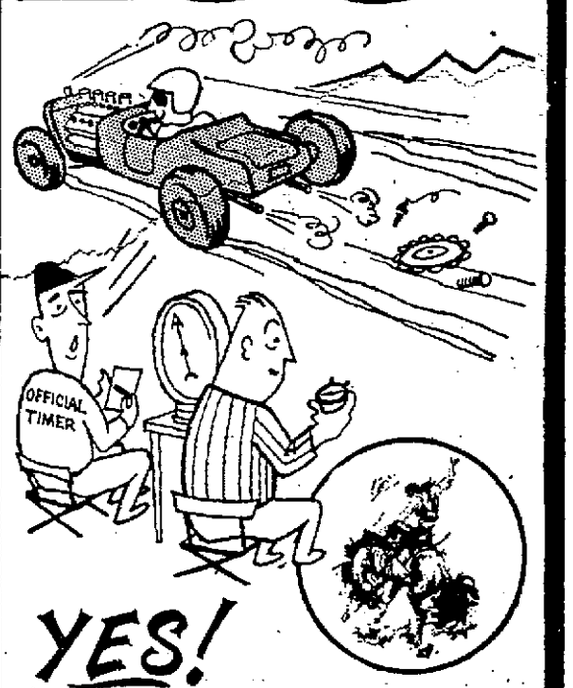

RANCHO BEL AIR homes are perfectly located for families whose employment is in the growing South Coast area. Seal Beach, Wilmington and Huntington Beach are only 14 minutes away—Douglas aircraft plant is 12 minutes away, and State College only a 7-minute drive.

Ten minutes from the heart of Long Beach, Rancho Bel Air homes are reached via 7th St. to Los Alamitos which is the first road on the right after crossing the San Gabriel River. Make a right turn to Westminster Blvd. and go one mile to the furnished models.

Showing the biggest increase in sales in April in a contest conducted among 20 Montgomery Ward stores, the Long Beach store captured a coveted trophy and the employes will be feted at a big party.

The annual sales contest in April is to show business gains over the similar month of the previous year.

Lyman Clark, store manager who came to Long Beach last September from Portland, Ore., was credited by employes for spearheading the campaign and he will receive a plaque. The employes will receive a trophy and $450 in cash to defray expenses for the party.

Stores as far away as Bakersfield and Visalia participated in the contest.

Retail leaders hail the achievement as definite proof of the success of downtown parking under the Park and Shop Plan. The store, located at 113 E. Broadway, has no individual parking lot.

THIS VETERAN IS SORRY!

He qualified for a $14,025 house, so he bought it. Now he realizes an Award Home at $12,025 would have given him just as much. He had to move into his new home with his dingy old furniture. THIS VETERAN IS HAPPY!

ALDON'S 1956 SERIES

Shown is one of the many new three and four-bedroom homes, all with two complete baths, making up the 1956 "Triumph Series" now on display at Buena Plaza, near Knott's Berry Farm, on La Palma Ave., east of Miller St., Buena Park.

Sales Mounting in Buena Plaza

Top record crowds attending Buena Plaza's big public display of 9 beautiful model homes, weekends and week-days, both early and late, were attributed to the anticipated early sellout of the final unit of 3 and 4-bedroom, 2-bath "Aldon-luxurized" homes in the new community just off the Santa Ana Freeway in Buena Park.

Aldon Construction Co.'s spokesmen declared the present record sales levels, soon to wind up activity for the noted building company in the Buena Park area, may be ascribed also to the continued availability of unusually attractive vets' and non-vets' terms.

"Our display of both traditional and modern homes, in both 3 and 4-bedroom models, all with 2 big baths, is bringing consistently high attendance at the exhibit on La Palma Ave., just off Miller St., a topflight spokesman asserted.

* * * *

"PARTICULAR INTEREST is shown in the 7 fully furnished display dwellings, with decor by Aaron Schultz, which typify the multitude of stylings which range from California ranch, modern and provincial, through colonial and farmhouse, with exciting use of exterior detail and floor planning for the needs of all families."

General sales agent E. "Billy" Hamburg stressed that vets are buying the Aldon homes in Buena Plaza for nothing down but costs and impounds and $66.67 a month for principal and interest, described by his office as "the best terms in this category in Orange County." Non-vets, he explained, have terms with down payments from $990 plus costs and impounds.

N. Y. Cabbage

ALBANY, N. Y. (U.P.) — New York State kept its position as the top producer of cabbage for commercial processing in 1955. The American Can Co. reports that New York farmers received almost 70 per cent more money from processors last year than in 1954. The farmers received a total of $1,440,000 from processors in 1955.

Sharp Boost in Shamrock Park's Sales

New financing arrangements recently introduced at Shamrock Park have boosted sales tremendously, announces Frank Hart, general sales manager for Walker and Lee, sales agents for the Garden Grove development. "Under these new terms, veterans may purchase for only $25 cash required, impounds included," Hart pointed out.

Furthermore, purchasers have available such needed appliances as Westinghouse refrigerator, Laundromat, and Gaffers & Sattler's range without the necessity of making an additional down payment.

Very popular with Shamrock Park buyers are the large living rooms with walls of glass and real fireplaces, Hart pointed out. Adjoining the living rooms are spacious rear patios with barbecues which afford families real opportunity —to enjoy Southern California's indoor-outdoor living.

Additional features found at Shamrock Park area: Step-saving kitchens with ceramic tile and garbage disposals, family-size bathrooms with colored plumbing fixtures, large bedrooms with Woodall sliding wardrobe doors, forced air heating, cork and asphalt tile flooring, walls of genuine lath and plaster, dust-free mahogany slab doors, steel sash windows, Rockwool insulation, weatherstripping, TV jacks and outlets and large 2?car garages.

Roofs are colorful; red, green or gray crushed rock and interior color harmony was planned by a color consultant. Front and side yards are landscaped.

Shamrock Park is reached from Los Angeles and northern points by taking the Santa Ana Freeway to Harbor and turning south. From Long Beach, take 7th St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) and turn south at Harbor to Shamrock Park model homes.

Chapman Woods Story Book Home Filled With Extras

A collection of the most desired features in a moderately priced home is what today's homeseeker finds when visiting Chapman Woods "Story Book" homes in Garden Grove reports a spokesman for Walker & Lee, Inc., sales agents for the Clif B. Robertson development of 3 and 4-bedroom, 2-bath dwellings. Added to these obvious advantages is another, the small cash requirement of only $29 for veterans to move into a new home in the subdivision.

Priced from $13,850 to $14,950, Chapman Woods homes were designed to incorporate the many plans, construction and feature qualities usually seen in more expensive dwellings, such as central hall plan to eliminate unnecessary traffic through bedroom areas, insulation, weatherstripping, oak flooring and built-in automatic kitchens.

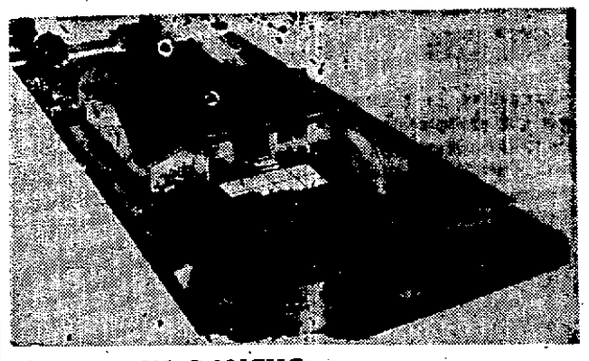

A FREE-STANDING fireplace, backed by an indoor barbecue in some models, master bedroom suite, Pullman-type baths with tiled stall shower and colored bath fixtures, Royal Jet forced air heat with summer ventilation, sliding "Horizon" window walls in the dining area, cathedral ceilings and cove lighting are more of the features of the homes.

Kitchens are equipped with built-in General Electric washer-dryer combination, food pulverizer, birch cabinetry, breakfast bar, and in some models, built-in Western-Holly range and oven in decorator colors. Washable interior walls, Timm aluminum casement windows, Armstrong linoleum, backyard incinerator and Telejack-TV outlets are more of the features.

Visitors drive out Garden Grove Blvd. to Highway 39, turn north on Highway 30 to Chapman and east on Chapman to Ninth St. From Los Angeles, take Santa Ana Freeway to Highway 39, turn south on Highway 30 to Chapman and east to the models.

Snow for Governor

BANGOR, Me. (U.P.)—Gov. Edmund S. Muskie and his aides did some quick thinking when a short circuit started a fire in the wiring of the governor's official car on a highway near here. They scooped up handfuls of snow and doused the flames with it.

A FAIRVIEW RANCHO

Shown is three-bedroom, two-bath, two-car garage model home at Unit No. 3 of Fairview Ranchos. Model features conver-table dining nook and breakfast bar in kitchen, handy service porch, architectural windows in bedrooms, 120-square-foot concrete patio, and genuine lath and plaster walls and ceilings.

Fairview Ranchos Charm Appealing to Home Buyers

The coming of spring has emphasized the beauty and charm of the settings provided for "California's Garden Homes" in Unit 3 of Fairview Ranchos, Bristol at Fairview, in Santa Ana, according to Frank Chandler of Pioneer Land Co., sales agents.

Each residence at Fairview Ranchos is on a large lot that includes over 1,500 square feet of landscaped lawn.

Residences at Unit 3 are still available to non-veterans for the low down of only $199, plus costs and impounds.

Qualified veterans can own one of the conventionally-constructed 3-bedroom, 2-bath, 2-car garage homes for nothing down, except the usual costs and impounds, with monthly payments of only $85.13 up, including principal and interest, according to Chandler. Homes are VA-appraised at $12,855 and $12,995.

To reach Fairview Ranchos from Long Beach, take 7th St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) to Bristol, then turn right on Bristol to models.

ON BUDGET TERMS

Terms to fit family budgets for both vets and non-vets are reported boosting sales at Homestead Gardens, residential community of three-bedroom, two-bath homes, typified above, which are rising in Garden Grove on Verano St., just north of Westminster Ave.

Easier Terms Boost Sales in Homestead

Plan to qualify veterans who are earning as little as $85 per week for immediate home ownership, it was reported Saturday, is boosting sales in the second lucky unit of Homestead Gardens in Garden Grove.

With occupancy now promised within 10 days, a second important factor in stimulating sales is the new budget terms, the builders said.

Under this plan, vets can now move into their choice of a large number of 3-bedroom, 2-bath homes for just $35 in cash.

New FHA terms for non-vets, it was explained by Walker & Lee, sales agents, also make prompt occupancy possible with less than 10 per cent needed as a down payment.

Center of attraction for visitors is a display of model homes, open daily from 10 a. m. Furnishings for the models are by Aaron Schultz.

While the biggest crowds continue to visit the display homes on Saturdays and Sundays since the advent of daylight savings time, increased crowds are noted in the early evening hours during the week.

Among the top features are mahogany kitchen cabinets, large 7200-square-foot lots, thermostat-controlled heating, wardrobe closets, steel casement windows, fiberglas insulation, acoustic ceilings, lath and plaster walls, stall showers with large glass doors and big garages.

The new community is located on Verano St., just north of Westminster Ave., within easy walking distance of schools and churches and shopping areas.

Real Estate Commissioner to Be Here Tuesday Night

D. D. Watson, State Real Estate Commissioner, has announced that he and some of his top aides will hold a meeting for all real estate licensees at Long Beach Tuesday evening.

The session will be at the Exhibit Hall, Municipal Auditorium starting at 7:30 p. m. The Long Beach Board of Realtors is cooperating with the commissioner or arrangements, and indications are the meeting will be one of the largest of its kind ever held in this area.

"The various new laws affecting those engaged in the real estate business have prompted hundreds of inquiries by letter and telephone from those in the business," Watson said.

"For the purpose of answering the meaning of the many recent law changes, the Division of Real Estate has arranged to hold a series of about 30 such discussion meetings at strategic points throughout the state." He stressed that the meetings are to be for all real estate licensees and prospective licensees. There will be no cost for attending other than the time expended.

The commissioner will act as moderator and the various questions will be answered by him, his two chief deputies, and the supervisor of licensing from Sacramento.

Many of the questions will be about the new method of licensing persons entering the business, and also the application of the new regulations affecting brokers who make mortgage or trust deed loans.

"The need for getting together with licensees to explain and impress upon them their responsibilities to the public has long been apparent. After careful consideration, it was decided that the series of panel disclssions would be most effective in accomplishing this purpose," Watson stated.

Park Homes Offer Luxury

Ideal features combine to make Buena Berry Park the perfect answer to new home buyers, says the developers. From the standpoint of location, luxury, or price, these homes have much to offer.

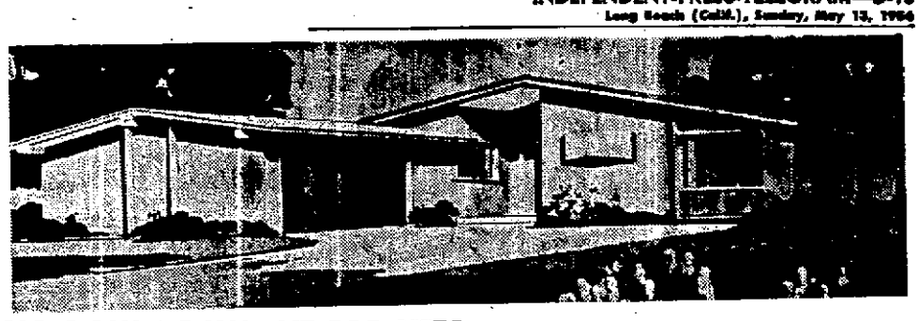

Just 25 minutes driving distance from Los Angeles, they are in a suburban Buena Park attractive area, with all houses built on level terrain featuring a mountain view. Just one block away is the world famous Knott's Berry Farm, and shopping facilities, schools and churches are nearby.

The homes feature modern luxury and are built on center hall floor plans with a continuous room arrangement for greater spaciousness.

Kitchens are complete with two-tone hardwood kitchen cabinets with ornamental metal knobs, built-in ovens and ranges, and garbage disposal units.

Important to the new home buyer are the low terms available. Veterans pay nothing down, except costs and impounds with monthly terms as low as $58.92, principal and interest. Non-veterans can avail themselves of low FHA terms with as little as $1,195 down and monthly payments of $53.63 principal and interest.

To reach Buena Berry Park, drive out Carson to Highway 39, turn left to Crescent, then right one block to the model homes.

NO DOWN PAYMENT FOR VETS

Complete sell-out of Award Homes, offered for vets, is forecast at Golden West St. and Garden Grove Blvd., between Long Beach and Garden Grove. No down payment, just closing costs, and monthly payment of $61.93 buys a three-bedroom and family room home with two baths and two-car garage.

See Quick Sellout for Award Homes

Complete sellout momentarily of Award Homes, Golden West St. and Garden Grove Blvd., was forecast yesterday by the builders, a Volk-McLain Co.

Veterans need make no down payment, only small closing cost for the de luxe series Award Homes. Immediate ocupancy is available.

"Award Homes sales are breaking all records, attesting to the popularity of this rapidly growing area," stated a spokesman. "Excellent selection of large wide lots and home exteriors and floor plans is still available, but prompt action is advised."

These homes for veterans are sold on monthly payments of $61.93. Full price of $12,025 is set for the new 3-bedroom and family room homes. All have 2 baths and 2-car garages.

• • • •

STELLAR ATTRACTIONS at Award Homes are the new convertible family rooms and the king-size kitchens.

"Our multi-purpose family room is designed to stretch the home by adding flexibility," stated Kenneth Q. Volk and Robert B. McLain. "Located adjacent to the king-size ranch kitchen, and separated from it merely by a food-bar divider, the new family room is a dining area or a play area for children or grownups by day, and becomes a TV room, recreation room or tap room at night."

Seven furnished model homes are open daily till 9 p.m.

Veterans from Los Angeles and the Lakewood area reach Award Homes via Lakewood Blvd. to the traffic circle, then Highway 101 to 7th St. in Long Beach, then east to Golden West St. Seventh St. becomes Garden Grove Blvd.

Veterans from Long Beach should take 7th St. east to Golden West St., then south to Award Homes.

SALES ARE STARTING

Norwalk Village will hold its grand opening today with sales starting on such large homes as this model. They are priced from $12,800.

Norwalk Village Homes Grand Opening Is Today

A record turnout is expected at today's grand opening of S. & S. Construction Co.'s new planned community of Norwalk Village, timed to coincide with the observance of Mother's Day to highlight the host of in-built convenience features and time-and-labor-saving innovations designed to make every day an "at-home holiday for Mother," according to Nathan Shappell, president of the building firm.

With the convenience of this close-in location reportedly stealing the show at the just concluded preview, and accounting for a high percentage of advance sales, Shappell continued, "Young workers, particularly, appreciate the fact that Norwalk Village is within minutes of many new and projected industrial plants and firms. This proximity, it is estimated, will convert approximately 200 hours a year of commuting time into that many bonus hours of leisure for the average owner in Norwalk Village."

Terms are fashioned to fit the average budget, Shappell emphasized. Priced from $12,800, these conventionally-constructed, 3-bedroom luxury residences are available to former GI's for a small down, and on payments that range from $64.06 including principal and interest. Loans that mature in 29½ years are also available, he indicated.

* * * *

NORWALK VILLAGE is reached in approximately 20 minutes from the Long Beach area via Rosecrans Blvd. or Firestone Blvd. to Greenstone; left (north) on Greenstone to furnished models, showcasing each floor plan offered, and 5 of the 27 custom exteriors available.

Among each model's many attractions are separate service porches with laundry tray; natural-finish ash doors; steel sash windows; oak floors; forced-air heating with thermostat control and summer cooling switch; sliding glass doors with gliding screens; lath and plaster walls and ceilings; garbage disposer; range hood with fan and light; semi-automatic dishwasher; convertable in breakfast nooks; kitchen pantry in many models.

Offering Vets 103 Homes in 18th Unit of Los Altos

Reservations on 103 3-bedroom, 2-bath homes, formerly rental units in the popular 18th Unit of Los Altos, will be accepted beginning today, it was announced by R. D. Whaley, executive vice president of Los Altos Realty, Inc., sales agents.

The homes are being released for sale to veterans who are qualified to receive financing under the G. I. home loan program. They will be offered on low down terms with small charges to cover the costs of escrow and impound fees, Whaley revealed.

The Los Altos 18th Unit is located at Anaheim St. and Studebaker Rd. in East Long Beach and is a fully developed area. Near at hand are schools, churches, parks and shopping centers.

* * * *

IN MAKING RESERVATIONS home buyers will have the opportunity to select from a wide range of exterior elevations and can choose from a varied number of interior floor plans.

With decorator-styled interiors, the contemporary homes have step-saving kitchens with In-Sink-Erator disposers, central hall plans, ceiling height closets and ceramic stall showers. Extra-wide roof overhang on the exterior reduces bright sun rays and helps to keep interiors of the homes cool.

Occupying large lots, the homes are landscaped with front and rear yard areas already in, and fencing, in most cases, is also included in the moderate purchase price.

* * * *

THE DWELLINGS are served by all Long Beach municipal facilities and such community improvements as street lighting, concrete sidewalks, curbs, gutters and sewers are installed and paid for. The area is also served by bus transportation.

A typical model home of the units for sale in the 18th Unit may be visited by the public daily between 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. at the corner of Studebaker Rd. and Anaheim.

Visitors are advised to go east on 7th St., past the Veterans' Hospital to Studebaker and then turn north to the model home and sales office, or drive south on Studebaker Rd. from Spring or Stearns St. to Anaheim Rd.

Families who tired of bucking crowded streets, contending with smog and whose families outgrew their homes, have finally found the answer—in Katella Park!

They've found, that Katella Park homes are designed for a lifetime of living, in a well planned community of fine homes...on custom sized lots and gracefully curving, tree-lined streets...quiet and secluded...yet conveniently close to schools and shopping.

Here, years ahead planning, created homes with "flexibility"—where one room can be converted into two—and back again—in minutes.

Homes where kitchens are a delight—spacious and bright, with built-in color-matched appliances...with hoods over a built-in range...with the refrigerator, oven and dishwasher out of the way and saving floor space for such popular "extras" as a breakfast bar.

Indeed the entire surrounding vicinity, with its wide streets, through highways and adjacent freeways, is the most well planned section of greater Los Angeles—confirmed by Disney's million dollar survey to determine the most easily accessible locality to and from all areas.

Bring the family to Katella Park this weekend. If you are not too familiar with construction, bring a friend who is. Folks who know good construction and design are our biggest boosters!

Better Business Bureau Moves to Larger Office

Better Business Bureau for the Long Beach area has completed its move from the Heartwell Bldg. to the 115 Pine Ave., suite 630, and is again providing its public and member service, president Hubert S. Matthews announced.

The move into more spacious quarters was made, Matthews said, in order to improve facilities to better service the increasing volumne of inquiries and complaints received by the BBB.

The new 115 Pine Ave. location is the fourth in the history of the Long Beach bureau. The first office was located in the old Long Beach Theater Building. Next it was in the Kress Bldg., then moved to the Security Bldg. in 1923. Ten years later, the offices were moved to the Heartwell Bldg.

George F. Townsend was the first BBB manager when it was established here 34 years ago. M. E. Ridenour became manager in November 1925, and one of his acts was to incorporate the bureau as a non-profit organization. Ridenour is now serving his 31st year as manager of the Long Beach area bureau.

* * * *

SINCE ITS BEGINNING in 1923, the staff has grown from one man (which serviced only the city of Long Beach itself) to a force of 8 employees. Over 40,000 instances of service were rendered by the bureau in 1955. This large volume is due mainly to the fact that an area stretching from Imperial Hwy. on the north, the Bay Cities on the west and Orange County on the east —with a total population of more than 600,000—is serviced by the Long Beach bureau offices.

A great majority of BBB work is a protective type service. The complaints and corrective work is secondary to the preventative actions. This work is supported with funds supplied in varying amounts by legitimate manufacturing, business and professional men in the area. There are about 1100 members covering virtually every possible type of business in the Long Beach area.

"To show the apparent need for the bureau even 32 years ago," states manager Ridenour, "it is interesting to note a memorandum in the bureau files which reads: 'Sent to jail: 6 peddlers of walnuts, 2 silk tie peddlers, 2 furniture men. 2 tailors, 3 stock salesmen, 1 building contractor, 1 shoe salesman, 2 real estate salesmen, 2 advertising solicitors—total 21."

* * * *

RIDENOUR POINTS OUT that in the early days "bucket shops" were operated quite openly, in many instances due to the Signal Hill oil boom, when emphasis was placed on the BBB slogan cautioning the public to "Investigate Before You Invest."

"Many thousands of dollars were saved for legitimate business investment through the bureau's militant activities in exposing unsound and fraudulent stock selling and royalty schemes," Ridenour states.

"Also, there was a great real estate boom under way at the time, and the old 'lunch and lecture' method of selling was in vogue. These and other high pressure promotional deals resulted eventually in the development of remedial legislation in the securities, real estate and finance fields which has increased the need for BBB surveillance."

Hamer Gives Low Terms

Grand opening and the display of two furnished model homes will be continued this week-end at Andrew Hamer Homes, popular new community offering special terms for non-vets on Orangethorpe Ave., just west of Nicholas Ave., it was announced by the builder who reported large crowds last week.

Hamer declared the grand opening of his new development of 88 8-and 4-bedroom, 2-bath homes, had a strong appeal for non-vets "who are looking for quality on realistic terms with a sensible down payment," and heavy sales provided ample proof that easy FHA terms, worked out for the average family budget, and a selling price from $14,250 is what non-vets want. Down payments are as low as $990, while FHA monthly payments are from $66.16, principal and interest.

* * * *

A NUMBER of practical features, such as fireplaces and built-in ranges are included, Hamer explained, "but our principal objective is to turn out a well-built house, with most of our budget going into solid construction, with plaster and lath walls, hardwood floors over two-inch-thick sub-flooring, etc."

He said that buyers are able to choose from 10 exterior stylings, all designed by AIA Architect Hiram Hamer, and based on 5 widely varied floor plans.

Among the many other features finding high favor at Andrew Hamer Homes, it was noted, are colored bath fixtures, low register forced air heating, floor-to-ceiling fireplaces in some models, rear living rooms and sliding glass doors in some models, natural finish kitchen cabinets, aluminum windows, insulated ceilings.

LONG BEACH 12, CALIF., SUNDAY, MAY 13, 1956 SECTION W

Fantasy of 'Snow White' to Delight Capacity Crowd

By JEANINE STILES

Fantasyland, with all its colorful charm and poignant intrigue, will become a momentary reality with the May 26 presentation of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," the 1956 Kiddie Kapers production under sponsorship of Las Madrinas Guild.

A capacity audience is expected to fill Polytechnic High School Auditorium that Saturday night as nearly 150 youngsters, ranging in age from 3 to 14, interpret the magical fantasy in tap and ballet. Special permission has been given by Walt Disney Studios for the portrayal, a production of the Lakewood dancing classes of Mrs. Grace J. Ewart.

Open to the public at 7:30 p.m. without admission charge, the one-time-only show will benefit Seaside Hospital's new Mobile Library by means of a free-will offering to be collected in the audience. Proceeds will go toward supplying latest books and magazines for the revolving library cart which is wheeled daily throughout the institution, offering up-to-date reading material to all patients. The special service is completely manned by members of Las Madrinas Guild.

The tender charm of Snow White, the hatefulness of the wicked Queen Mother and the beguiling devotion of the Seven Dwarfs will come to life delightfully in this unusual children's dance program. Exciting dramatic lighting effects, involved dance routines and exquisite costumes lift the two-hour show out of the mere recital classification to the stature of a professional production. Between-act entertainment will be provided by the Bell Sisters of recording and TV fame.

For seven years Las Madrinas Guild has sponsored Kiddie Kapers, each year with a different theme; this is the first time the show has revolved about an actual plot.

Actually, the Kiddie Kapers are more than 25 years old. Mrs. Ewart has presented her pupils in the show each year since before 1930, although under various sponsorships before the Guild assumed responsibility. A week from Saturday, some of her first pupils will be seated in the audience watching their own children dance under Mrs. Ewart's direction.

Principal characters of the show are Susan Frankel, Snow White; Jerilyn Dunn, the Queen Mother; Sherry Grisby, the Prince, and the delightful Seven Dwarfs: Mary Ann Brangan, Sleepy; Roberta Cason, Bashful; Peggy Davidson, Dopey; Kim Haulman, Happy; Marsha Magness, Grumpy; Suzanne Simmonds, Sneezy, and David Traux, Doc. Michael Bell is the wolf.

The story is old, but the version is new, with winsome youngsters portraying the fireflies, birds, mice, squirrels and fawns in the touching woodland scene. Backstage narration will be given by Mrs. La Verne Wurthman, radio-TV student at Long Beach City College. Mrs. Dorothy Marchano will provide piano accompaniment.

Twenty-three active members of Las Madrinas, under the general direction of Ways and Means chairman Mrs. Leland B. Nickles, are putting their wholehearted support toward the success of this production and the resulting funds for their hospital project. They know that more than just a good evening's entertainment is at stake.

MAGICAL FANTASY of Walt Disney's "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" comes to town with the annual Kiddie Kapers program on May 26. Above, dance director Mrs. Grace J. Ewart watches closely as Karen Sandwick practices. Maggie Higgins Van Loon and Peggy Davidson, kneeling, wait their turns to perform.

Bon Voyage for Traveler

The easy informality of good friends gathered together combined with the excitement of bidding one in their midst a merry bon voyage paced Friday's mood when Mrs. Herbert Fielding entertained at a delightful brunch in her home, 4324 Olive Ave., in honor of Mrs. William Stanton, who with her husband will leave late this month for a flight to Europe via the Polar route.

Bidden to the gay party were close friends of the honoree and enjoying the day together were Mmes. Lynn Evans, Robert Avery, Clare Hamman, Edwin Draper, Jack Drown, Walter Von KleinSmid, Larry Reichner, Loren Nelson, Edward Platz, Harold Nissen, Hansel Nowling, Arthur Buell, Edward Sheridan, E. Ray Webb, Williams Niver, Harold Willhoit, Elroy Avery, Carol Loder, Bernard Eastman, Noel Guertin, Maurice Rosenbaum, John Fowler, Charles Scott and Paul Westerlund.

PRETTY AS A PICTURE, Mia Sharon Gray waves her wand to cast a magic spell on all who will attend the 1956 Kiddie Kapers in Polytechnic Auditorium. Woodland scene characters Vonna Vee Webster, left, and Charla K. West, right, watch. About 150 children will appear in the May 26 benefit sponsored by Las Madrinas Guild. Mrs. Leland Nickles, standing, ways and means chairman, is in general charge of all arrangements. No admission charge will be made, although a free-will offering will be collected.

Meditations of a Dinner Guest

By ILKA CHASE

Notes stemming from a dinner attended in Des Moines, Iowa. Sit next to gentleman who asks, "What do you have in New York that we haven't got here?" Since meat course finished and are awaiting brick ice-cream feel no time describe resources one of world's great cities. Noting silence man feels he has me on run. Pursues. "Where do your New York kids play? No space. Here we've got everything. We're the bread basket of the nation. We could feed the world."

Feeding world sounds capable. New York must import every bean. Infariority complex starts mushrooming. Think of comeback "man does not live by bread alone." Decide sounds sententious. Say nothing.

No Wee Ones

Man continues, "What do New York children do over week-ends? Cooped up, no fresh air." Feel terrible. Decide move immediately to more wholesome community where wee ones can run and play. Recollect have no wee ones. Have step and grand but step all very large and grand taken care of by step. Seem healthy.

Do have interest in bread. Speculate on tearing up roots and settling in Des Moines. Decide not feasible at moment. Return to New York. Haunted by call of wheat and oxygen. Are those not more enduring values? Was man right? Brood. What has New York got that Des Moines hasn't?

Well, theaters. Are theaters important? And how. Feel cheered. Am cooking with gas. All right, but take television. Television seen in Des Moines too. Take books. Books read in Des Moines. Start packing. Sudden thought holds hand. Seen, read, not made. If TV and books to continue as source of livelihood had better remain New York.

What else is in town? Well, museums, picture galleries, concert halls, opera, restaurants and shops. Night clubs if you care. But no air. Conspicuous lack of air in night clubs and distinctly indifferent bread.

What More?

Anything more to compensate? Come to think of it, yes. Friends and urban activities dear to heart. Typical day very agreeable. Morning, work at desk. Lunch, Colony Restaurant with two ladies laying plans for charity ball next January. Admire forehandedness of ladies. Own plans for an evening usually made that morning. No way to get any place. Husband asks why we have to go, pleasant right here. Husband very sweet, doesn't understand evolution.

After lunch visit several city gardens open for one day to public. Surprising number of wisteria, cherry trees, lantana English daisies, petunias flourishing in midst of concrete

Late afternoon to P. E. N cocktail party. Swank literary do. Cornelia Otis Skinner arrives with copy of Island Players under arm for me to autograph. Dear girl. She is off to Japan and studying language. Japanese word for "excuse me" rings decidedly CAPACITY CROWDS are expected at the May 26 production of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." Sponsored by Las Madrinas Guild, the children's dance program will benefit the group's service project at Seaside Hospital. No admission charge will be made. In the picture at the left, Jerilyn Dunn, center, portrays the wicked Queen Mother. Her maids, Debby Truax, left, and Jill Reed, right, await their mistress' command. In the background, Las Madrinas President Mrs. Reg. Barden and Mrs. George Ezell, left and right, look on. Snow White herself will be played by Susan Frankel, seated in the right-hand picture. Two of the lovable dwarfs will be represented by Kim Haulman as Happy at left and Mary Ann Brangan as Sleepy, seated at right. Mrs. Chris Andrews, club member, smiles approval.

Wild Waves Say

By IOLA MASTERSON

Looks like Europe will be full of localites again this year, roamin' through Rome, paradin' in Paree, stalkin' about Stockholm or just plain loafin' in Lisbon if this year's crop of trips abroad is harvested as planted.

Among those who have planted their travel seeds and are nourishing green shoots of "travelitis" are "Artie" and Al Stevenson and daughter, Ethel Severson and her youngun' Corky; Virginia and Bill Stanton (details in a minute) as well as Sadie and Clarence Wagner.

"Artie" and Ethel were bon voyaged to perfection at a brunch by Martha Gould t'other day and assisting with the fun-filled party were Gladys Niver, Sally Nesmith and Virginia Waters. The Stevensons, Ethel and Corky leave tomorrow (they hope, Al's business committments allowing) and will sail from New York aboard the Italian liner, Andrea Doria, landing in due course, at Gibraltar. From there they'll tour Spain, Portugal, and thence through France, Italy and Switzerland. And it will be relaxed, easy-going travelling because they will be met and taken by a driver in a private automobile. Around the end of July they'll board the S. S. United States for the homeward trek.

Now as to the Stantons. Virginia and Bill, we understand, plan to hop one of those over the polar route flights to Copenhagen end of the month. Among jaunty parties planned before their takeoff is a small dinner party for close friends which Helen and Bill Eastman will host May 23.

For Sadie and Clarence Wagner May 18 is a charmed date for that's the day they, too, board one of those over the top of the world Scandinavian planes for Copenhagen. They'll tour the north countries before journeying on to Germany to pick up a Volkswagen and leisurely drive through Europe. Making sure Mrs. Wagner would fully appreciate the importance of her trip her nieces, Dorothy Wise and Betty Robberson, were co-hostesses at a party for her Tuesday. Some appropriate and exceedingly hilarious games topped off the evening.

Every bit as gay as the farewell affairs floating around our town was a sparkly "welcome home" party given Friday at Virginia Country Club by Betty Wentworth and Joanne Losch for Ellie Person (the dew of London-town is still on her tresses, she's that fresh home from Europe) and for Ellie's travelling companion, sister-in-law Lois Osborn. Bidden were 60 peninsulans (they are the "partyest" bunch of gals) and a few additional very close friends of the honoree. It was a brunch and chatterfest as everyone heard about Ellie and Lois' escapades. Pat Gilkey and Juanita Smith assisted and had so much fun they scarcely realized they were "working"!

Ziss-boom-bah! Or whatever rat-trap-bigger-than-a-cat-trap type yell was the favorite in 1926 may very well be heard reverberating around Polytechnic High campus and at the Lafayette Hotel June 1. That's the day Poly's grads of '26 will gather in full force for one of their famous class reunions. Johnny Osler (assistant postmaster) and "Hizzoner" Judge Joe Raycraft are spearheading the gala get-together plans. Among the heads that bore mortarboards that year and which very likely will be seen bobbing around with the old gang June 1 are Walter Desmond, Dr. Ed Beebe, Van Heflin (this movie and stage star was known in them thar days as Evan Heflin), Valle (Bud) Young, Dr. Jack Wilson (now of San Marino), Mrs. Glenn L. Clark, Irene (Marmion) McMillan, Rod Ballard, Marjory (Harriman) Gilbert, Mrs. Carl (Roberta Clarke) Jensen and "Bix" Bixby.

We could stop but this is so much fun. Others: Stephen Bixby (now of Globe, Ariz.). Ronald Sweet (he heads a big mayonnaise company in San Francisco but plans to come southward), Garber Davidson (now with Associated Press in L. A.), Alvin Allyn, Mary Francis (Dilday) Brackney, Ted Halfhill, Bill Fennell, Ralph Saylor, Harold Gassoe (Inglewood's his home now), Dr. Clare Pike, Leroy Coos, Mary Taylor, Dr. Kendell Van Venter (Pasadena, y'know), Mrs. Logan (Dorothy) Goodknight, and—you name 'em, they might be there!

Johnny and Joe are taking reservations like sixty. Special guests of the evening will be any and all Poly teachers, circa 1926. If you haven't been contacted, teechurs, and you'd like to see these "brats" again, just call Johnny at the post office or Joe at court. This reunion (they're every five years) will include a campus tour and dinner and program at the Lafayette that evening. Harry Moore and Ralph Oliver have promised to be speakers. Yikes! What secrets they can tell.

If your phone calls to Betty and Joe Kesler went unanswered last weekend and we'd have known you wanted them we could have told you how to find them! You could have reached them at Ingleside Inn, Palm Springs. They were on their annual May desert pilgrimage and were joined by Jean and Clyde Dunlap for this always fun trek to sage and sun country.

"We used to live where we ain't no more
We've moved where we never was before.
You know where we was, but not where we is;
So here's the new address where 'tis:

That's how Hattie (Leebrick) and Jim Miller let their local friends know that "where 'tis" is River Road, Cos Cob, Connecticut. The mimeographed post cards even included a phone number just in case anybody had an urge to call up some midnight and say, "How 'tis where you is?"

Just as daffy as if they had never gone through the experience before are those four doting grandparents who share interest in Joan and Lou Walton's babies; Lou's folks, Lola and Lou Walton Sr., and Joan's parents, Frances and LeRoy Zierott. Joan finally talked the stork into bringing her a girl. The little newcomer's name is Karin (Joan chose the Swedish spelling) and she and mama arrived home Wednesday from Seaside. Karin's brothers, Kirk and Christopher, practically had to wrestle grandmoms and grandpops to get close enough to the bassinette to see their new sister!

Here's the story about a trip around the world, so extensive and terrific, the traveller had to take time out upon return to rest up at a desert spa! How about that! Lucky guy who just began office chores again this week is Dr. E. P. (Ray) Raymond. The "Doc" flew out of town last January and there's little of the world he hasn't seen since then. By plane, ship, car and "shank's ponies" he mosied around Central and South America, South Africa, Egypt, the Mediterranean countries, the Holy Land (he particularly timed his journey to be there before and during Easter but unrest in the area shortened his stay). From there he flew to Karachi, Pakistan, on to India, thence to Burma, Thailand (obviously a favorite in memory; "Ray" describes it as a "fairyland in Southeast Asia"), then to Hong Kong, and to Tokyo in time for cherry blossom season. Apparently he liked Japan, too, for he spent two weeks there. In Toyko harbor he boarded the President Cleveland for Honolulu and then flew back to this part of the world. He capped his travels and reaclimated himself for a couple weeks in Palm Springs.

GREET PROVISIONALS

Nightingales Seat Officers

Mrs. Montie Magree was installed as president of Nightingales, junior organization of the Auxiliary to Children's Memorial Hospital, at a recent luncheon meeting at Victor Hugo's Restaurant.

Mrs. Theron H. Slaughter, president of the Auxiliary to Children's Memorial Hospital, conducted the impressive installation ceremony. Nightingales assuming leadership positions with Mrs. Magree were Mrs. Frederick G. Jensen, vice president; Mrs. Robert Huck, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph Hammer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Clarence Davis, treasurer; Mrs. Alfred Williams, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Slaughter recalled how the Nightingales, beginning as a small group of civic minded matrons, had been formed nine years ago, for the purpose of assisting the Auxiliary to Children's Memorial Hospital with its ultimate goal of accumulating adequate funds for the building of a children's hospital in Long Beach. Another important purpose of the Auxiliary and its junior organizations is to contribute financial support to Seaside Memorial Hospital for the benefit of underpriviliged children requiring medication and hospitalization throughout Long Beach and neighboring areas.

A growing organization, the Nightingales now has a membership of 35 industrious young women and presents an annual Nightingale Ball in addition to its other monthly projects which represent many hours of service throughout the year. The Third Annual Nightingale Ball will take place in October and will again be an outstanding event of the fall season. Mrs. Kenneth Henry, ways and means committee chairman, presented to the Auxiliary a gift of $1,000 representing proceeds from the Nightingales' Ball last year.

Mrs. John Sumner, social chairman, and her committee were responsible for beautiful arrangements of spring flowers gracing luncheon tables, and for the social hour preceding luncheon.

New provisionals attending were Mmes. Milton Cantor, Arthur DeNio, J. Tyson Ellis, James Evans, Wendell Gowdy, Donald W. Hardy, Jack L. Hayden, Robert Lemon and Berry Merritt. The meeting marked the beginning of a six-month provisional training course.

Ebell Juniors are looking forward with mixed emotions to their installation luncheon May 25 at the Clock Country Club in Whittier. One of the loveliest affairs of the club year, it will be a fitting climax to the group's activities, but, as always, installation mingles the joy and regret of "hail and farewell."

Plans Tour of World's Style Fronts

Then to Naples and Capri where he will have a chance to view first hand the Italian fashions that have influenced Southern California Sportswear. While in Italy he plans to tour Milan, Florence and Venice.

strange in American ears. Only one Cornelia can remember. Gay and brilliant Indian lady, Santha Rama Rau whose new book "Remember the House" just out, also present wearing striking sari of poison green and white. Also old friend Stuart Cloete and his wife Tiny who wrote "The Nylon Safari"; also Bill Shirer of radio fame whose new book is "The Consul's Wife." All nice people. All immunized to bad air and shying away from bread as too fattening.

Rubs Elbows

In evening to large dinner given by Gilbert Chapmans at Cosmopolitan Club. Sit between great fiddler Nathan Milstein and Alfred De Liagre, producer of "Janus," starring Claudette Colbert. Also chat with Artur Rubenstein, Marc Connolley and Dorothy Shaver, president of Lord and Taylor stores.

Dinner party, some 80 strong, moves on to Wildenstein Galleries to view exhibit of new forms in door ornamentation. Locks, handles, door knobs, etc., manufactured by Yale and Towne designed by men of high caliber. Fernand Leger, Paolo Venini, Jacques Lipchitz, Van Day Truex, others.

A gentleman from Texas urges me to join his party. Says I must meet Ed Stone, Texas' greatest architect. Doesn't add world's greatest architect; doesn't have to. Obvious as nose on face. Have no backbone. Am swayed away from Des Moines to Texas. Lots of air there, all kinds.

Do not join party. Go home to husband who has been at medical dinner. Tell him am torn between two great states. Quote axiom, "When in doubt do nothing." "Maybe we can stay here?"

Husband looks tolerant and taps forehead. "Come to bed," he says.

Columnist Turns Sociologist; Analyzes Hollywood Society

By BOB THOMAS
AP Newsfeatures Writer

What is Hollywood society?

You can ask a hundred people in this town and not get the same answer. Several will hotly deny that there even exists a Hollywood society.

But every town, big or small, establishes a social scheme over the years, and Hollywood is no exception. Recently I have undertaken a sociological study, combining years of observation and off-the-record talks with many prominent figures.

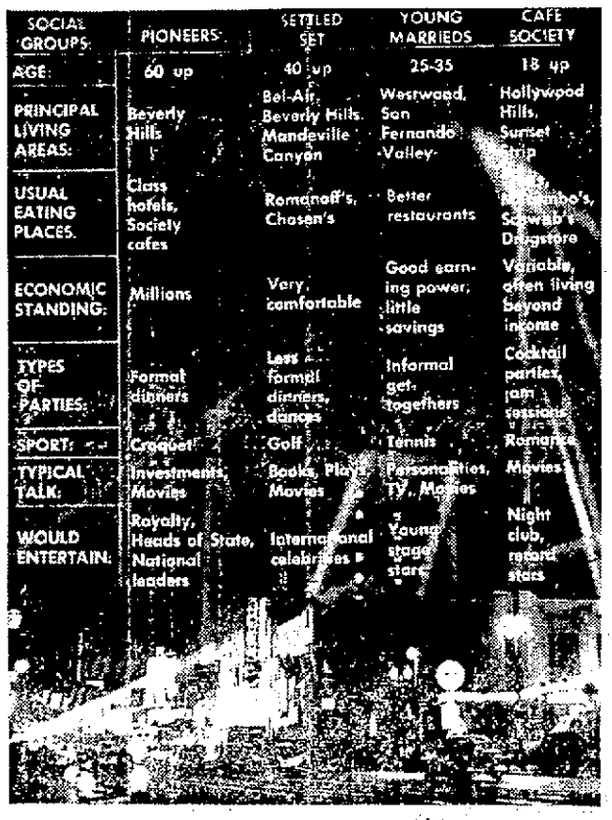

Hollywood social life circa 1956 appears to have reached a settled stage. This seems to be the natural result of the passing of almost a half-century since the town became the movie capital. The history of society can be roughly divided into four eras:

1. The wild years. Extending from the start of the film business to the early '20s, this was the period when fortunes were made and lost fast. Most of the new stars and tycoons of the infant industry came from humble backgrounds. Many lacked the social graces, and entertaining was gay and garish.

2. The Pickfair period. From the mid-'20s to early '30s, Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks ruled Hollywood society from their white Georgian mansion. They entertained kings and queens and helped counteract the nation's low opinion of Hollywood after the scandals.

3. The thriving '30s. With the divorce of Mary and Doug, society moved from the power of Pickfair to a broader base. The talkies brought the movies' flowering era; new and brilliant stars arose. This was that time of the big parties, when Hollywood could afford to be lavish.

4. Postwar period. Despite some economic problems in the film industry, local society has survived and even thrived since World War II. But it's a different kind of social life from other eras.

HOLLYWOOD'S basic social patterns are set against the background of a typical movie premiere, with the four major categories grouped according to age, habitat, economic standing and social customs.

The big parties are almost gone. Because of income taxes, most stars and producers can't afford them. Most of the entertaining is done in homes at small dinner parties.

There's another factor — Hollywood is a working town. Though you may think of stars as living idle lives beside their swimming pools, they actually work hard when they are working. Those in TV work almost continuously. Film actors must be up at dawn and in bed early. Thus the only entertaining they can do is small home gatherings.

How is Hollywood society stratified?

It can't be. Unlike society in New York, Philadelphia, Boston or other cities, there is no clearly defined elite here. Faces come and go with the changes of fame and fortune. But, with the mustering of courage, I can define the four main groups of Hollywood society. This will no doubt be greeted with hoots and howls from those of each group. The most notable feature of social categories here is that no one likes to be categorized.

Here are the groups: The Pioneers, The Settled Set, The Young Marrieds, Cafe Society.

These are not necessarily in order of importance. Nor are the categories rigid; some figures may travel in two or even all of the groups. To explain:

1. The Pioneers. Those hold a position of eminence by their power, wealth and longevity in the film industry. They include such figures as Mary Pickford, Harold Lloyd, Louis B. Mayer, Walt Disney, Cecil B. DeMille, Darryl Zanuk, Samuel Goldwyn, the Warner Brothers and other heads of studios. Most of them are millionaires.

If royalty or a head of state should come here, one of these would probably give a dinner in the visitor's honor and many of the other pioneers would attend.

However, there is not too much entertaining among each other. And many antagonisms have developed over the years over business deals, etc. Feuds can even develop with families.

2. The Settled Set. This is the group that sets the pattern for the social life of the stars. On rare occasions, one might toss a sizable party for visitors like Noel Coward or Laurence Olivier. But, as noted above, most of their entertaining is done at small dinner parties.

The groups intermingle, but there are some clearly defined nuclei. Among them:

A. The whimsical Holmby Hills rat pack with Lauren Bacall as den mother; Frank Sinatra, packmaster; Humphrey Bogart, rat in charge of public relations. Also David Niven, Spencer Tracy (recently elected.)

B. The Irish group, headed by John Ford and John Wayne.

C. The Beverly Hills group, including the Jack Bennys, Danny Kayes, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Dr. Joel Pressman and Claudette Colbert.

D. The social group, including Dick Powell and June Allyson, the Edgar Bergens and industrialists Justin Dart and Leonard Firestone.

E. A quiet but stellar group including Lana Turner and Lex Barker, Ursula Theiss and Robert Taylor, Joan Caulfield and Frank Ross, Elizabeth Taylor and Michael Wilding, June Haver and Fred MacMurray.

3. Young Marrieds. These are the ones who have come to fame more recently and whose fortunes are not yet made. Many of them move in the settled set, but most travel in a less established crowd.

They include such names as: Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher, Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis, Marge and Gower Champion, the Gordon MacRaes, Jane Powell and Pat Nearney, etc.

4. Cafe Society. These find their social life not at home but in the cafes and night clubs. Most of them are unmarried or divorced and therefore not able or inclined to entertain at home. Many of them are seeking to establish their names in show business via publicity. Others just like the gay life. You read their names constantly in the gossip columns.

So much for categories. If you don't mind some more numerals, I might add some other observations on the Hollywood social scene:

1. Hollywood society is probably as democratic as any you will find in America. The movies have drawn creative people from all backgrounds and nationalities. The main element for social acceptance is success.

2. Although there is plenty of drinking, there is perhaps less problem drinking than in places like Washington or San Francisco. Reason: actors need clear minds and healthy faces for their work. There are, of course, notable exceptions.

3. Palm Springs is growing in importance in the Hollywood social scheme. Stars like Jack Benny, Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby, Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz, Phil Harris and Alice Faye, Cary Grant and Betsy Drake, William Powell and many others have homes there. They spend many of their weekends and much of their free time in the desert during the non-summer months.

4. Hollywood society is becoming increasingly mixed with non-movie people — doctors, lawyers, businessmen, etc. The tendency is for new stars to have as many friends out of the film business as in it.

5. Some top names do not integrate into Hollywood social groups because of shyness, preference for living in the east or other reasons. Among them: James Cagney, Marlon Brando, Judy Holliday, Montgomery Clift, Grace Kelly also was in this group.

6. There are sub clusters among the four main groups. Golf, the town's favorite outdoor sport, tends to draw fixed sets together. So do restaurants. So the Lakeside golfers seldom are seen at Hillcrest, and vice versa, and the devotees of Chasen's food rarely are found at Romanoff's.

7. One notable curiosity: There is practically no intermingling with the upper crust of Los Angeles society. Hollywood's elite are rarely seen in the clubs or homes of the moneyed businessmen, although many of them reside in the same areas.

Hollywood society is always changing. Some of the statements you have read in this survey may be obsolete by the time you have gotten this far.

We Welcome . . . .

Six Indianans, the Gilliams

By JEAN B. MOORE

House hunting during a heat wave—what a torrid introduction to the Southland! The experience fell to Tom and Kay Gilliam last September when they moved west from Ft. Wayne, Ind. A view and a few vagrant breezes convinced them they should live above the smog line in Rolling Hills.

Now, almost any day around 13 Surrey Lane you can find Jeff the police dog walking Tom III and Kent to Miraleste School and Eric and Kirk playing in the yard that their dad is working on when he's not at his public relations job at Seaside Memorial Hospital.

So far, with that yard to coax and four live wires to entertain, Tom hasn't found time to find which carton houses the family's elaborate electric train. But in the business world he already has become a member of Long Beach Ad Club and Southern California Industrial Editors Assn.

He and Kay met while students at the University of Indiana. Tom was majoring in journalism and was night editor of the college paper. Kay's major was piano.

Tom was a Delta Chi, member of Skull and Crescent honor society and his name is now listed in "Who's Who in the West" and "Who's Who in Commerce and Industry."

War took him away from home for more than three years. He emerged a captain and possessor of the Purple Heart, two Silver Stars, two Bronze Stars and the Combat Infantry Badge. Reserve duty as a lieutenant colonel now finds him monthly at Fort MacArthur.

During his absence Kay left music for stenotyping and for five years was a court reporter for the Pennsylvania Railroad. Their working hours didn't jibe when Tom returned to a job with the Ft. Wayne Journal-Gazette, so Kay left court reporting for society reporting. Later Tom accepted a similar public relations position in a Ft. Wayne hospital.

Kay is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha alumnae group in Long Beach and has recently attended a meeting of the Needlework Guild on the Palos Verdes peninsula. She and Tom enjoy bridge, while the whole family will occasionally pile into the car and go sightseeing. They'd never been in California before, so everything is shining new to them.

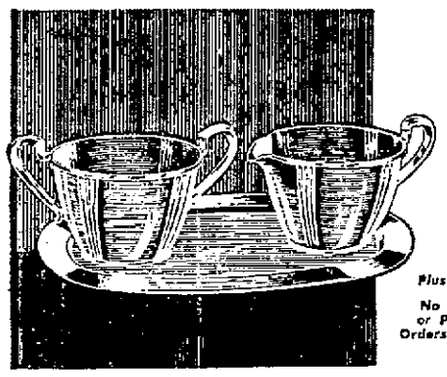

Little Tom, a third grader, is a member of the Little League and a Cub Scout. First grader Kent lost no time in joining the Indian Guides. Eric and Kirk—well, they're happy to be staying at home with Jeff, their dog, and Smog, the dusky cat.

Stresing-Crosby Lines Read

Dainty sprays of valley lilies were intermingled with butterfly orchids to form the bridal bouquet enhancing the youthful loveliness of Constance Crosby, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Hiram B. Crosby, 4325 Faculty Ave., when she exchanged wedding vows and rings with Lt. Jack R. Stresing of the Long Beach Air Force Base.

The afternoon ceremonies were read by the Rt. Rev. Donald J. Campbell at St. Thomas of Canterbury Episcopal Church which the bride's father serves as rector.

The fair-haired bride was escorted to the altar by her father, and wore a ballerina-length gown of lace and tulle designed by William Cahill. Scalloped lace detailing on the bodice extended applique fashion onto the bouffant skirt. Her cloudlike veil of illusion was held in place by a sequin and pearl tiara and cascaded gently to her shoulders.

The bride asked her sister, Miss Barbara Crosby, to attend her as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Lynn H. Miller and Constance L. Perrine. All were attired identically in nile green dresses of chromespun taffeta, and carried sprays of tiny yellow rosebuds.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. Charles O. Stresing of Eden, N. Y., invited fellow Air Force officers to serve him. Lt. Charles W. Harshaw attended as best man, and ushering duties were performed by Lt. Vincent Currier and Lt. William G. Bryan. Acolytes were William G. B. Crosby and Thomas E. Thompson.

A reception followed at the church, with the happy newlyweds later departing for a honeymoon trip to Palm Springs and Buffalo, N. Y. After May 23 they will reside in San Antonio, Tex., where the bridegroom has been assigned with the Air Force.

The new Mrs. Stresing received her early education in Beaumont and was graduated from Long Beach City College where she was

The bridegroom attended Eden Central School and the University of Buffalo in New York.

Mrs. William Paul Ellis

Ellis-Green Vows Sealed in Nuptials

Before the candlelit altar of First Church of the Brethren on May 5, Eleanor Cooper Green and William Paul Ellis recited wedding vows in the presence of 100 guests. The Rev. Frank Howell officiated at the 8 p. m. ceremony.

Observing the service with special interest and sentiment were the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Titus of 2080 E. 3rd St., who were marking the 59th anniversary of their marriage, performed in Kansas City, Mo., May 5, 1897.

The lovely bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cooper Green, 2810½ E. 2nd St., was radiant in her waltz length gown, a Cahill original of white tulle over white satin. Hand-worked Alencon lace was inserted in the skirt and across the bodice, and back interest featured a pleated tulle inset in the bodice top. A short veil floated from a coronet of pearls. Her fragrant bridal bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley was centered with a detachable white orchid.

For her maid of honor, Miss Jean Ellis, sister of the bridegroom, the bride selected a princess style gown of turquoise taffeta faille worn with matching veil and complemented by a bouquet of Talisman roses.

Bridesmaids, who were Mrs. David A. Bauer and Mrs. James D. Elliott, were costumed in similar gowns of light blue and carried yellow roses.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carlton Ellis of 295 Junipero Ave., asked Gary J. King to be his best man. William Beckman and Douglas Carhart seated guests, and Gerald Neer and James D. Elliott lighted altar tapers.

During a church reception Mrs. Douglas Carhart attended the guest book. Hostesses were Misses Joan Eastaway, Jane Lothspeich and Judy Shepard.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Wilson High School and were members of All City Junior and Senior High School Orchestras. She attended Long Beach City College and her affiliations include Tammuz. He is now attending City College and is a member of the Naval Reserve.

Following a honeymoon in Yosemite, the couple will reside at 398 Carroll Park East.

He will be the fourth member of Trinity Lutheran Church of Long Beach to enter the ministry since 1952. He is vice president of the Luther League of America, youth auxiliary of the United Lutheran Church, and is on the Youth Evangelism Committee of the National Council of Churches.

The couple will honeymoon in Long Beach and on June 17 a reception from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Beckstrom home will be given in their honor. They will make their home in Fremont until his ordination in 1958.

Edward Beckstrom, recently returned from Wiesbaden, Germany, where he spent three years with the U. S. Air Force, will be his brother's best man. Mr. and Mrs. Beckstrom and Edward will visit relatives in Minnesota before attending the wedding in Nebraska.

Your Baby & Mine

Positive Approach

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

It is amazing how much better response a parent will get when she uses concrete and positive suggestions instead of negative ones. Yet it seems so much easier to say, "Don't run into the street," instead of "Stay on the sidewalk." But—in the first there is a suggestion for action which is exactly what you don't want.

The same is true of the dozen and one suggestions a mother makes during the day. Why not say "Clean hands in five minutes," instead of "Don't come to the table with those dirty paws."

She shouldn't forget to make a game of some of the suggestions which tend to become tiresome to a child. "How about showing me those sparklers and see if they look like the teeth in the TV ad," she might say, when it is time to wash teeth.

Sometimes, unconsciously, we put in a child's mind which he never would have thought of himself. "Now, don't stop on the way home and play. Come right home, remember."

But on the way home, the suggestion of play becomes overpowering. He knows he shouldn't but he plays. Most times he would hurry right home.

When we reprove a child we express the idea we don't want repeated. "You're selfish," we say to Linda who won't give up her toys to Tommy. But had we said, "You're a generous little girl, Linda, and I know you want Tommy to have a nice time and come again. He'll enjoy that toy and you can play with one of the others." You get nowhere by accustoming her to the idea that she is selfish, meanwhile letting her have her own way.

To call a child cry-baby, selfish, stubborn, unruly, and all the rest of the adjectives which we think are humiliating, soon fall on deaf ears. "So I'm a cry-baby?" the child thinks. And goes on being one.

We have to first lift the child's sights toward higher objectives. Increase his sense of self-esteem and by so doing help him to the hard things we are suggesting he should do.

Think positively, talk positively, act positively. Then you set the child on the trail you want followed.

This feature appears daily in the Press-Telegram.

Mrs. Pike Assumes Executive Office

Mrs. Claire E. Pike of Long Beach was installed as president of the Auxiliary to the California Osteopathic Association during the recent 17th annual convention of the group in Coronado. Another prominent Long Beach woman, Mrs. Ward G. DeWitt, a past president of the state auxiliary, was chosen by Mrs. Pike to act as both toastmistress and installing officer for the impressive ceremonies.

"Gifts From the Sea" was the theme chosen for the installation luncheon, with shiny glass balls, colorful fish nets, sea shells and coral combining to furnish proper background. The theme was carried out further during a prelude to the actual installation when presidents of the 15 component auxiliaries and the president of students' wives auxiliary in Los Angeles each hung shiny replicas of something associated with the ocean depths on a gilded branch. The action signified the unity of these state-w[illegible] in their work.

Mrs. Pike, who resides with h[illegible] at 3803 Pine Ave., has made her home in Long Beach since 1929. She is a graduate of New Mexico State College, a charter member of Beta Nu Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha and is a past president of the local alumnae chapter. She is also a past president of Long Beach Osteopathic Society. An affiliate of the American Association of University Women, she continues active membership with the local group. At one time she served for three consecutive years on the executive board of the Long Beach Mental Health Assn.

The new executive will represent the California auxiliary as its official delegate to the national convention of the Auxiliary to the American Osteopathic Assn., scheduled for July in New York.

As has been customary for some years past at the annual state convention, checks representing an amount in excess of $10,000 were presented by state auxiliary chairmen to Dr. W. Ballentine Henley, president of the osteopathic college in Los Angeles to be used by the college clinic, the college rehabilitation center, the library, the various research programs, etc. Besides these voluntary donations it was voted some years ago in the state House of Delegates, that each auxiliary in the state organization should be assessed annually on a per capita basis, to provide funds for two freshman scholarships and two sophomore scholarships for deserving students at the college in Los Angeles.

Besides the programs directly connected with the college, auxiliary members in the vicinity of the osteopathic unit of the Los Angeles County Hospital put in countless hours each year assisting with occupational therapy, making tray favors, amusing the children, helping with the aged, etc. The group leading this effort call themselves the "Pink Ladies."

On May 28th there is to be a cornerstone laying ceremony at which time construction of the new $9,000,000 osteopathic unit of the county hospital is to begin officially. This expenditure was approved over a year ago as a public bond issue. Members of the osteopathic auxiliaries in Los Angeles County are in charge of decorations for a gala dinner in the Embassy Room at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles on the same date, commemorating this great occasion.

MRS. PIKE STATE LEADER

Symbolizing the importance of presidential power, the executive gavel of the Auxiliary to California Osteopathic Association is turned over to Mrs. Claire E. Pike of Long Beach, above center, by retiring association president Mrs. Gilman C. Johnson of Los Angeles. Installation ceremonies took place at the recent 17th annual convention of the auxiliary in Coronado. Mrs. Ward G. DeWitt, right, also of Long Beach, was chosen to act as toastmistress and installing officer. A theme of "Gifts From the Sea" was used for installation decor and was continued throughout the impressive ritual.

CHECKS FOR CHARITIES

Members of Pi Delta Epsilon Sorority, Mrs. Kenneth Ball and Mrs. Robert Stout, look on with approval as the treasurer, Miss Pat Fraser, second from right, presents the national president, Mrs. H. T. Caruthers, far right, with checks covering sizeable contributions to the Sister Kenny Foundation, Crippled Children's Society, and the Riverside School for the Deaf. Official presentation will be made May 26 at the sorority's national convention. The conclave's business session and luncheon will take place at Chandelier Restaurant, followed by a talk by E. N. Chapman of Chaffey College. Mrs. Preston Gibbs, past president, will install new officers. On the evening agenda is a dinner dance in Ballerina Room of Lafayette Hotel.

Women of Moose

Balloting on new members, nomination of officers and memorial services will be order of the evening for Women of the Moose, Chapter No. 506, when members meet Wednesday night at 8 p. m. at Moose Hall. Thursday escorts will meet at the home of Esther Strissel, 226 West 5th St. at 7:30 p. m.

Worry Clinic

Children Should Be Given Introduction to Church Life

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-354: Frank F., aged about 55, sent me a pamphlet in which he explained to his son why he had never let the boy enjoy Christian instruction in a church.

"I have attempted to prevent your being coerced by adult opinion," was the general idea in this pamphlet. Now that you are 21, however, and an adult, I leave it up to you whether or not you should attend a church.

"But I didn't want to be guilty of prejudicing your scientific mind in its earlier years, so I have kept you away from churches till now."

Should a parent deprive his child of the Salk vaccine against polio till the youngster was 21 and old enough to decide for himself? Should he keep his baby away from physicians till he was 21 and only then let him learn about the merits of inoculation against diphtheria or smallpox?

Actually, if a parent compels his youngsters to stay away from contact with unselfish moral teachers who donate their time in the Sunday schools, isn't that a form of adult prejudice which he is imposing on those youngsters?

"If I gave him protein before he was an adult, I would be prejudicing him," Frank might argue with equal justification.

It is the solemn duty of all good parents to analyze those forces in modern life which, to the best of the parents' judgment, produce good. This includes foods and medicines and education, both secular as well as religious.

Then such parents should nurture their children on such desirable aids to a wholesome personality so that by the age of 21, their youngsters are self-reliant.

We dare not keep children away from schools till 21. And the same is equally true of Sunday school or moral agencies like the YMCA, the CYO, Salvation Army, etc.

Generous men and women donate their time each Sabbath to take your toddlers and start inspiring their minds to noble attainment. Other altruistic souls contribute money for buildings and heat for such church gatherings. They offer these moral aids FREE.

Parents whose personal bias, based on maybe too heavy a diet of old-fashioned theology, makes them hostile to modern churches, should visit a neighboring Sunday school for a few weeks just as neutral observers. Then they'd never restrain their children from attending such FREE centers for moral nurture of youngsters.

Worry Clinic also appears Tuesday and Thursday in the Independent.

GOP Women Will Hear Bill Grant

May we sub-divide our own property? Who prosecutes for possession of narcotics? Who is responsible for health and safety laws? These and other vital questions will be answered by Assemblyman William S. Grant at a meeting of the Southeast County Republican Women Tuesday.

Setting will be the home of Mrs. James Lecain, 4260 Tulane Ave., and luncheon will be served from noon until 2 p.m. The meeting is open to all interested in the Eisenhower program.

Insurance Women's Election, Medical Assistants Spotlighted

By ANNE GILCHRIST

Gay May baskets centered the dinner tables for Insurance Women's Club of Long Beach at one of the club's most important meetings of the year — election of officers — which took place recently in the Ballerina Room of the Lafayette Hotel. Miss Constance Winkler was named to lead the progressive business women's group as its president in 1956-57.

Miss Winkler will be installed at the June meeting with her new slate of officers including Pauline Kincaid, vice president; Audrey Hood, recording secretary; Dorris Dean, treasurer; and Sandra Smith, auditor. Those who will join the board of directors for the new year are Kay Garrity, Betty Seroka, Elma Hamilton, Casey Knight and Estelle Wright.

During the meeting the women paused and in thankfulness and deep solemnity heard a resolution presented by Jeannie D. Carlin honoring the late and beloved Will J. Reid for his interest in and assistance to the Insurance Women of Long Beach. Mrs. Gaylord B. Eckles, president, conducted the meeting.

Official delegates to the national convention of Insurance Women to take place in Chicago in June were also elected. Those who will attend are Miss Winkler and Reva Stewart with Jeannie Carlin and Antoinette Oster named as alternates.

Medical Assistants

A fascinating subject, even for medical assistants well versed in its many facets, will be discussed by Dr. Don R. LONG BEACH STATE COLLEGE EVENTS

by PLACER MINER

In the spring a Long Beach State College student's fancy turns to—Huki-Lau?

Huki-Lau, a Hawaiian term meaning gathering of the fish, could well mean a gathering of students intent on devouring roast pig, fish, salad and all other sorts of goodies furnished by the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity.

This Hawaiian party, sponsored annually by the SAE fraternity, costs $4 a couple, and besides the classy spread, a program of entertainment will be provided that ranges from volleyball to surfing to a beach Olympics.

This year the party will be given at a spot that has been narrowed down to a point somewhere between Morro Bay and Crystal Cove. The location is pin-pointed on the back of the party bids.

To get prospective ticket buyers in the mood for the May 19 roast pig-fest, a ticket booth in the form of an Hawaiian hut has been set up on the lower campus.

The man who became a legend in his work as warden of San Quentin prison, Clinton T. Duffy, has been invited to speak at Long Beach State College by the Social Welfare Club, Thursday, in CR-200 at 8 p. m.

Duffy, the son of a prison guard, grew up in the shadows of the San Quentin prison walls. He will speak on "Prisons, Prisoners and Parole." There will be no charge and the public is invited to attend the lecture.

With the help of 120 Long Beach State College students, history was made for Phi Delta Kappa, the professional education fraternity, last night in the Little College Theatre.

The initiated group was the largest number in the 50-year history of the men's fraternity to request charter membership.

Further facts about the new fraternity establish it as the third such in the State of California, and the youngest in the nation.

Credit for obtaining the Gamma Rho charter was given to Dr. H. R. Schman, Dr. A. M. Christensen, Dr. Kephas Kinsman, Dr. Carl Gregory and Dr. Karl Russell.

The 11th annual convention of the Central Pacific Province of the National Newman Club Federation, held in Long Beach last weekend and so ably hosted by the Newman Clubs of LBCC and LBSC, drew a record crowd of 442 students from 29 colleges.

Local students receiving recognition for their work in organizing the convention were '49ers Marilyn Crelly, Jim McGreevy, Ursula Delworth and Mela Chavez. Officers for two province offices were choosen from local students. Betty Brokaw from State is corresponding secretary, and from LBCC, Jerry McGinley is Region 4 chairman.

Studying, the giving of gifts, and plans for attending the national convention have been occupying the girls of Zeta Tau Alpha at State College.

Pledge trainer Catherine Segel received a bottle of perfume from her charges for her birthday, and Jackie Speck has decided to make the trek to the wilds of New Jersey for the National Convention.

Impetus for studying is being supplied by the new scholarship adviser, alumni Mrs. Jane Smith. In picking an alumna for studying the girls must be serious; an "alum" would know all the tricks.

Soon the strains of 60 lilting voices joined together to make an a cappella choir will be heard in the First Baptist Church in Long Beach.

The night of May 20, at 7:30 p. m., will mark the appearance of the Long Beach State College a cappella choir. The organization, first formed in 1949, will feature the "Requiem" by Gabriel Faure and "Arise O Jerusalem" by Dr. Leon Dallin of the Long Beach State College Music Department. The work will be presented for the first time in California.

The program also includes: "Rejoice My Soul," Virga Jess Floruit; "Almighty God of Our Fathers," "The Last Words of David," "Alleluia," "As Torrents in Summer," "Hospodi Pomilui," "Lord, I Don't Feel No-Ways Tired," "Mary Had a Baby" and "Soon—Ah Will Be Done."

Hosted by the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity at an exchange, and breakfasted by the alumni at a "Pansy Breakfast" Saturday morning, Tri Delt Sorority has been socially busy.

Next on tap for the three "D" sorority is the Stars and Crescent Ball, the annual big social spring affair. Plans call for the dance to be given in the Pageant Room of the Wilton Hotel.

Take a Visit to India via Art

By VERA WILLIAMS
Independent, Press-Telegram Art Editor

"A Night in India," featuring Hubert J. Stowitts' "Vanishing India," 130 paintings, which opened with an invitational premiere Friday night in Municipal Auditorium, will run continuously today and through midnight Monday. It is sponsored by the Woman's City Club, with proceeds going to the club's building fund. The new clubhouse is under construction at 1309 E. 3rd St.

Those attending "A Night in India" find themselves transported as if by magic carpet into Gandhi's "pre-Westernized" India.

Indian guides in costumes of their native country conduct groups and explain examples of India's arts, cultures and crafts. The setting is directed by Ramu Pandit, president of the Intercultural Club and Indian Students' Association at USC. A number of students from India attending both UCLA and members of several Los Angeles Indian organizations participate.

Featured are Stowitts' paintings which have been a sensation since their first showing at the Renaissance Galleries in Paris, introduced by Andrew Mellon. Stowitts, who never took an art lesson, did not intend the paintings to be considered art. He did them primarily to record India's history in paint, under the patronage of maharajahs and princes.

Life size, they depict in detail the races, arts, crafts and living habits of the people of India from the Himalayas to Ceylon. All of his work is in tempera, the medium of the earliest known paintings.

The collection includes portraits of Rajput princes and outcasts, untouchables, sweepers of the streets. It portrays potters and founders, ivory and wood carvers, cotton carders and weavers, dancers, warriors and aboriginals from the forest of Travencore.

Among the paintings are Kaniyan astrologer musicians, Malabar bow and bells orchestra, Pandaram street singer, Chaliyan weavers, Kalari fencing master, Nayar yogi, Hanuman beggar, Namburi priest at worship, Vellala at bath, Nayar palace servant, cobbler's family, silversmith, precious stone cutter, gold embroiderer, turban dryer, stone screen carver, woman grinding flour, Sikh enamel worker, necklace maker, Baluchistan Moslem fakir, maharajah's bullock cart, Mohamed Kahn in chain mail.

Because this is Mother's Day, Stowitts' celebrated portrait of Madame Eleanora Davey painted in his studio in Venice will be shown today, only. The painting often is compared with Whistler's "Mother."

Landscapes, flowers, interesting people and, of course, a circus picture make up the exhibit by Ben and Velma Messick, husband-and-wife painting team just placed in the Galleria of Pacific Coast Club, where it will remain a month.

Messick's pictures are "Elephant Act," "Boys Fishing," "In the Woods," "Autumn in the Mountains" and "Trees," caseins; "Still Life," "Evening in the Park," "Beach Light," "Evening Soliloquy" and "Day's End," oils.

Mrs. Messick's pictures are "He's An Actor," pastel; "High on Palomar" and "San Juan Canyon," caseins; "Little Imps," "Shells and Flowers," "La Jolla Shores," oils and "Mexican Sunflowers," water color. The Messicks left Sunday for a five or six-week trip through Central and Northern California, Oregon and Washington, where Messick will give 25 art lectures and demonstrations. Engagements include the Carmel Art Gallery, San Jose State College, Oakland Museum of Fine Arts, E. B. Crocker Gallery in Sacramento, California School of Fine Arts in San Francisco, University of Oregon, J. K. Gill auditorium in Portland and Frye Museum in Seattle.

The Messicks, Michael Engel, director of fine arts for M. Grumbacher, Inc. of New York and Mrs. Engel (Mary Black Diller) portrait painter and writer, will be guests of the Kingsley Art Club at the preview in the Crocker Gallery of the annual exhibition of work of resident artists.

Do you have questions on art? If so, you will be able to ask them of Daryl Ahlgren, Jefferson Junior High art instructor, Dr. Teitel Bernard, psychiatrist and Mrs. Leslie Abramson, historian at Lakewood Junior High, following their panel discussion, "Contemporary Art as Seen Through the Eyes of the Historian, Psychiatrist, Architect, and Dratist" at the Long Beach Art Association program Tuesday evening in the Municipal Art Center, 2300 E. Ocean Blvd.

Top State Awards for N.L.B. Club

North Long Beach Junior Women's Club returned from the CFWC Convention in San Francisco proudly bearing eight awards, making them the highest award winning club in the state.

Topping all previous years, Juniors accepted five first place awards, including the Josephine Seamon Award for the entire state of California, the Conservation of National Resources, the Silver Pitcher-Malowney Perpetual Trophy given for outstanding accomplishment in the conservation of natural resources and awards in handicrafts and literature.

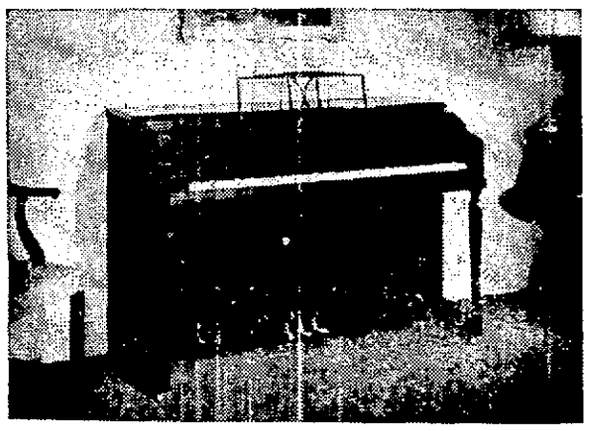

Second place winner was for music; third place was awarded for Americanism and Penny Art. These, plus five awards won by the club at the Los Angeles District Convention in April make the impressive total of 13 achieved by this vigorous Junior Club in their many hours of work for their community.

These awards will be on display Tuesday when North Long Beach Juniors install new officers at Jordan Hi-Teen Canteen.

FOR MOTHER'S DAY
This portrait of 92-year-old Madame Eleanora Davey by Stowitts will be shown today, Mother's Day, in the "Vanishing India" exhibition in Municipal Auditorium.

I'll always remember...

A LESSON FROM DAD

by WILL ROGERS, Jr.

Tolerance is a great thing. It's not easy to learn, and it's not easy to practice. But I'll never forget the lesson my father taught me about it.

It was while I was still in grammar school, after the first World War. Several prominent people were in for dinner that night, and the subject of disarmament came up. I knew Dad was what they called in those days a "Big Army, Big Navy man" (a throwback to the Teddy Roosevelt era). Apparently, some of the guests weren't.

I remember entering into the discussion with both feet, taking the family position, of course. When one of the grown-ups started to argue back to me, pointing out that there was something to be said for disarmament, I snapped right back at him and then appealed to Dad. Of course, Dad already had a wide reputation for making sharp commentaries on the contemporary scene. But to my surprise, he said, "Now wait a minute, son . . ."

"But you said...and you wrote..."

"Listen, son," Dad went on, "I think one way and I feel I am right. But other people, who think differently, also feel they are right. Don't be so cocksure. Remember even your old father's position may be wrong. Anyway, it's impolite to argue with your elders at the table."

I've forgotten who was there, and I may have forgotten Dad's exact words, but I'll never forget the lesson I learned that night—that tolerance, understanding and a willingness to listen to the arguments of others are among the greatest things a person can have.

Now, long years after, I realize something that I never noticed at the time: it was Dad's sympathy and his readiness to concede sincerity in others, that allowed him to make the pointed remarks he did and yet remain friends with the people he criticized. ■

TOLD FOR THE FIRST TIME:

How to drop an H-BOMB

Here's the timely story of a unique Air Force assignment: putting a bomb on target without losing the bomber

WASHINGTON, D.C.

On March 1, 1954, A South Pacific atoll disappeared with an excruciating explosion into a giant mushroom cloud 100 miles in diameter. The nearest observers watched from a B-36 bomber, 47,000 feet up and 25 slant-miles away. Still, the terrible blast tossed the great plane like a silver snowflake. It wrenched off the bomb-bay doors and ripped patches from the fuselage. Heat scorched the outside aluminum and blackened the instrument panel inside. That the occupants weren't killed was a near miracle.

Their close call shook the whole Air Force. Obviously, no bomber could let go of the giant explosive and get 25 miles away before the bomb hit the ground. From this fact sprang an unexpected but basic question: How could a plane drop the H-bomb — and survive?

Today, with new tests going on in the Pacific, PARADE can report that the answer has been found. It results, as such things usually do, from long, painstaking experiment. Handling of A-bombs as well as H-bombs was involved. Split-second aerial maneuvers, testing in the extreme both men and planes, were plotted by slide-rule and equation, then proved out by trial and error.

Actually, bomb-blast hazard existed even in World War II. The birth of the A-bomb multiplied the problem a thousand-fold. The B-29 Superfortresses, which laid the first atomic eggs, were instructed to make a diving turn to escape the awful aftermath as fast as possible. That turned out to be a mistake: by diving, a B-29 exposed its underbelly to the A-blast's full force.

Many other methods were tried. The goal was an evasive maneuver that would speed the plane away from the blast without putting it through contortions so severe as to buckle the wings or impose a paralyzing strain on the crew. The exact heat wave and blast force had to be measured against the ability of plane and pilot to take it. The pressure a plane could withstand in a climb, dive or turn was worked out with mathematical exactness. So were the exact angle of bank, air speed and rate of turn the plane should (or could) make.

Tests for Fighter-Bombers

The scientists had a separate, if related, problem in jet fighter-bombers equipped to carry A-bombs. Their best attack was to slip under enemy radar and streak in at tree-top level — a suicidal altitude, as now was clear. The solution seemed to be to send the plane to an I.P. (Initial Point) perhaps 10 to 15 miles from the target. There it would zoom up at an incline, releasing its bomb at a pre-fixed altitude.

The effect was to toss the bomb, like a shot put, in a huge arc at the target. Meantime, the jet fighter would reverse direction by looping over on its back, twisting with a half-roll into normal flying position and speeding off.

The jet boys became amazingly accurate at this. (In practice, the planes carry dummy A- and H-bombs the exact size, shape and weight of the real weapons.) But their exercises were not without danger. On one occasion, the heavy bomb clung to the fighter as it swung over on its back and threw the whole delicate performance off balance; the plane barely escaped crashing. "A real hairy maneuver," commented one pilot to PARADE.

Because a pilot streaking 600 miles an hour can't easily pick out his I.P., the maneuver had to be modified. Instead of a gradual incline, pilots were instructed to switch abruptly from horizontal to vertical flight at the target's edge. This meant turning a 90-degree corner from straight-and-level to straight up-and-down, a terrific strain on both fighters and flyers.

Today a secret device automatically releases the bomb at a pre-set altitude. When bomb and plane part, the jet-tossed bomb continues shooting almost straight up. The fighter flips over on its back, turns upright and beats it out of there. The exact height the bomb is released and the distance it travels before it loses momentum and falls on the target, of course, depend on the bomb's size and the plane's speed. Both are figured with scientific precision. Pilots fly strictly on instruments and every life-saving move is calculated to a fraction of a second.

How Bigger Planes Do It

B-47 pilots are trained in the same square-corner maneuver so they, too, can carry out L.A.B. (Low Altitude Bombing) missions. This means the swift, medium jet bombers can attack at 50 feet or 50,000.

What about the B-36, the big bomber assigned to deliver the H-bomb? Its problem couldn't be solved by hedgehopping and low-altitude acrobatics. The scientists weighed known factors against past experience and concluded the big planes should catch the blast on the tail. This would keep them from taking the shock on their broad, vulnerable bellies or backs.

Numerous turns and maneuvers were tested. Finally, in contrast to the first diving turns used by the B-29s, a climbing turn was decided upon. The exact degree of turn, calculated to a hair, is a military secret. So is the speed with which the bomb is dropped (something else that was modified after considerable research and testing). This much can be said: When the H-bomb explodes, the plane that laid it will be soaring in the opposite direction.

What's it like to drop an H-bomb? Here's how it is described by pilots who have gone through the experience:

The bomb itself is so heavy it must be loaded aboard a B-36 with an outsize hydraulic jack. Once airborne, the bomb is armed by an expert weaponeer. The B-36 approaches the target at an altitude of more than 50,000 feet. On signal, the H-bomb is sprung loose. The plane, suddenly free of its great load, lurches violently upward. The pilot goes into a climbing turn and gets out of there.

For a brief interval all is quiet. Then comes a blinding flash, followed by what the pilots call the "double whammy" — the separate, almost simultaneous shocks of the bomb burst and the shock wave rebounding up from the earth. If all has gone well, that's that.

Pilots hope they will never have to drop the H-bomb except in practice. But they are prepared, down to split-second timing, just in case. The simple command, "Bombs away," has become an exact science. ■

TWO ACROBATS ARE A LOT

The dazzling array of arms, legs and torsos you see in the picture above is no optical illusion. The human-windmill effect is the result of a multiple exposure, made in total darkness, of the two (don't count 'em) Bagdy Brothers, Samy and Yakia, famed Egyptian tumblers who are really first cousins and descended from a family of acrobats.

Their treadmill routine took six hours — and a few broken vertebrae — to perfect. Samy, who is 29, lies flat on his back, rigid from the base of his spine to the top of his head. Yakia, 18 and suppler, balances on Samy's feet. Samy's legs start pumping, and Yakia, arms outstretched, starts spinning around in a circle. Dizzy way to make a living, eh?

What does she see? Mrs. Dixon says the crystal above can show her the future.

FIVE WHO FIGURED IN DIXON FORECASTS THAT CAME TRUE

GEORGE MILLER, business associate: Mrs. Dixon told him the man at the next desk was having a heart attack. He did.

Washington's

Even VIPs listen to prophet

WASHINGTON, D.C.

LAST JULY 6, a woman suddenly slid out from under a hair dryer here and dashed to a phone to call her real-estate office. "George," she told her assistant urgently, "get an ambulance and a doctor quickly. Mr. Mitchell is having a heart attack."

The call is stamped on George Miller's memory for life. "Mitchell, one of our salesmen, was sitting at a desk behind me," he explains. "He had just returned from vacation, and I had never seen him looking better. With the telephone still in my hand, I turned to look at him. As I did, he keeled over with a heart attack."

Mrs. Jeane Dixon, who made the call, says: "I was sitting under the dryer when I had a vision of Mr. Mitchell having a heart attack. Naturally, I rushed to call the office."

There are those in Washington — including some in high places — to whom the eerie episode is credible simply because it involved the incredible Jeane Dixon. An amateur seeress with a crystal ball, she has foretold events for presidential assistants, cabinet members, senators, ambassadors, society leaders and political columnists. Some things she has told Washington society, newspapers headlines later told the world. Her reputation has even crossed the Atlantic, partly because of her forecast of Sir Winston Churchill's postwar election defeat and later triumphant comeback.

Her crystal-gazing is only a hobby with Mrs. Dixon. Her career is the real-estate business she and her husband, James, conduct. She does not charge for her psychic services, inviting wealthy patrons to contribute to their favorite charity instead. Recently, she says, she turned down a $100,000 offer to appear on TV because the producer insisted on dictating some of the forecasts.

Attractive, dark-haired, intense, she sometimes gives the impression of "not being with you" — of concentrating instead on mystic impulses swirling about her. Obviously sincere about her readings, she hopes and believes they do good.

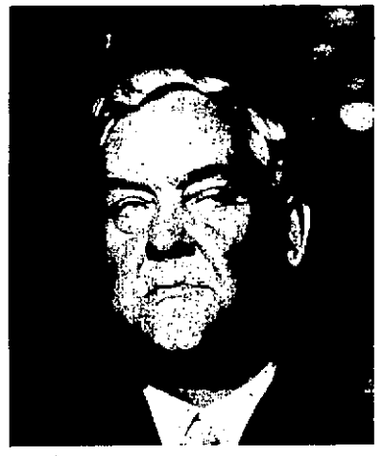

NATIVE DANCER: Favored in the 1953 Kentucky Derby, he lost. Mrs. Dixon saw it all days before in her crystal ball.

SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL: His post-war fall from power and later return in triumph were early Dixon predictions.

HOUSE SPEAKER SAM RAYBURN: Mrs. Dixon predicted downfall in 1952, return by his 73rd birthday. He made it.

SOVIET PREMIER BULGANIN: She said a man with "high, wavy hair" — like his — would replace Malenkov.

by JACK ANDERSON and FRED BLUMENTHAL

PARADE WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENTS

Incredible crystal-gazer

Jeane Dixon, who predicted the President's illness and the Kremlin shakeup

She is said to drop in at the White House occasionally. "About six weeks before Ike's illness," she told PARADE, "I saw a dark cloud over his head in the crystal ball. I told a high official at the White House that Ike would become ill. About 11 o'clock on the night of the President's heart attack, I received a call from this official. He told me of the President's illness and asked if it would be fatal. I told him it would not. He exclaimed, 'Thank God,' and hung up."

Mrs. Dixon says she can get insight about a person by touching his fingertips and feeling the vibrations. A handshake also tells her things. So do clothes, colors, mannerisms. But mainly she relies on her crystal ball, which she says is not unlike a television set — except that she tunes in on "the channel of psychic vibrations." She sees symbols, dates, figures, names and persons, all in three dimensions and full color.

Her Husband Started It

Her first crystal was given to her as a girl by a boy who had been a playmate since she was 4. (He is now her husband.) When this crystal was stolen in 1943, a White House official presented her with a new one. It lacked the right psychic quality, so James, her husband, gave her another. This she still uses. PARADE reporters, allowed to look into it, saw nothing but their own reflections.

A religious woman, Mrs. Dixon goes to church daily to ask the Lord's help in using her talent. "The Bible says that all events are foreshadowed," she says. "I am just the means of communication." She is a Catholic, which she thinks is a help because "it is primarily Catholics who believe in visions."

Born in Wisconsin of German parents who moved to California when she was small, she grew up on the West Coast. As a child, she had a German nurse who encouraged her to close her eyes and tell what she saw. "Sometimes," she recalls, "I saw things that hadn't happened yet. Once I asked Mother for the black-bordered letter. Mother said she didn't have any such letter. About two weeks later, a black-bordered letter came from Germany telling of the death of my grandfather."

She claims her unusual talent brings her "peace of mind" but not "peace of life." That is because of the constant clamor for her readings. She has one self-adopted restriction: she does not reveal impending tragedies unless they can be averted.

Is Mrs. Dixon a true psychic or a fast-talking entertainer? To check on her occult powers, PARADE interviewed those who know her best. Some skeptics suggest she hedges her forecasts. Her predictions are sufficiently enigmatic, they say, that she can disclaim them if they go wrong. They also note that she is bolder about predicting the far than the near future. Others, like George Miller, swear by her. All agree she seems completely sincere.

One Washington couple told PARADE that Mrs. Dixon had warned against an operation for their baby. They disregarded her and the child died on the operating table. Then they were told they could have no more children. The crystal ball foresaw two healthy children, and Mrs. Dixon is now their godmother.

Another woman claimed her unexpected divorce was foretold to the month. Another heard from the seeress the day PARADE reporters called. Mrs. Dixon predicted trouble with a new maid and described the incident in detail. Events as she described them came true within a matter of hours.

Although she doesn't use the crystal for gambling purposes, Mrs. Dixon "saw" the finish line of the 1953 Kentucky Derby, days before the race. "Native Dancer was the favorite," she says. "But I saw in the ball that he would be second or third. I couldn't tell which because the horses were running too fast." Several people, including a congressman, confirmed that she had made the prediction.

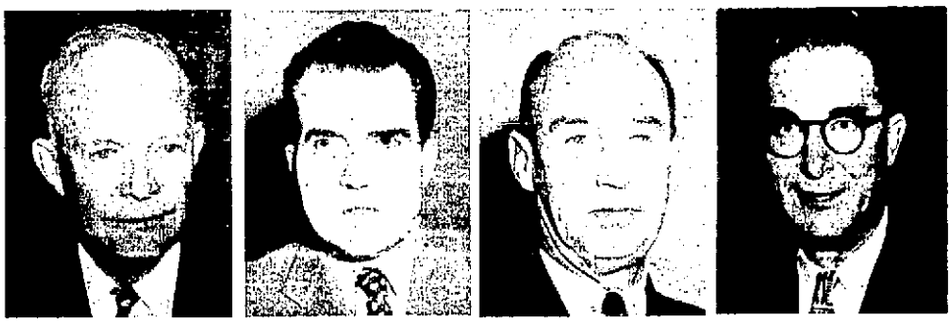

In a 1953 benefit performance with Bob Hope, she stopped the comedian cold. He had played golf with the President that afternoon and asked her to tell him his score. "I told him the exact score," Mrs. Dixon recalls. "He was so dumfounded that I thought our program would break down."

Washington hostesses vie with one another to get Mrs. Dixon to come and tune in on the political future. One still talked-about party she helped to put over was given by famed party-thrower Perle Mesta early in 1945. "At this party," Mrs. Dixon says, "I predicted that President Roosevelt would die in office, Mr. Truman would complete the term and be elected to a full term in 1948."

At a 1952 party, Mrs. Dixon told the late Sen. Robert Taft he would never be President. Later she predicted General Eisenhower would win the White House. She says: "One man who heard me won a $1,000 bet. He offered me $100 after the elections, but I refused it."

AMAZED BOB HOPE is stopped short at a benefit performance after Mrs. Dixon told him his exact score in a golf match with the President.

She sees trouble in 1960

Months before the 1952 election, Mrs. Dixon predicted the downfall of House Speaker Sam Rayburn — but announced he would regain fame when he was 73. Sure enough, Rayburn had to turn the Speaker's gavel over to Rep. Joe Martin that year. But the 1954 election put Rayburn back on the Speaker's rostrum — almost on the date of his 73rd birthday.

The seeress scored another "scoop" in 1953. At a televised party, she shared the cameras with Joseph Davies, former Ambassador to Moscow. She recalls: "Mr. Davies asked what I thought about the new Kremlin lineup after Stalin's death. I said Malenkov wouldn't last two years, and would be succeeded by a man with high wavy hair, parted on the side. Mr. Davies was amused. He predicted Malenkov would stay in office until he died or was assassinated."

Crystal gazing won out. Malenkov was ousted after 23 months. "When I saw the newspaper pictures of the new Premier," Mrs. Dixon says, "I was tempted to send one to Mr. Davies with a ring around Bulganin's high, wavy hair."

Her crystal ball is non-political. "Some election years the Republicans love me," she says. "Other years, it's Democrats." Right now, she should be the darling of the GOP. She told PARADE: "President Eisenhower will win — if the Republicans aren't too complacent." She counts out Adlai Stevenson, says Averell Harriman will "never call the White House home" and thinks Sen. Estes Kefauver should have waited until 1960.

Vice President Richard Nixon she considers underestimated. The crystal ball "shows his shadow encircling the world." Of New York's ex-Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, she says flatly: "He will be assistant President in Ike's second term."

On the world scene, Mrs. Dixon came up with this exclusive forecast for PARADE: "Prime Minister Nehru of India will not remain in power much longer. He will recede into the background and his policies will not prevail. One of two men will take over. Their names passed through the crystal quickly, but they appeared to be Deshmuki and Desra."

Looking Farther Ahead

But Mrs. Dixon thinks Americans should be most concerned with the more distant future — specifically the 1960s, which the crystal shows as "years of upheaval at home and international eruptions abroad, but not necessarily war." She adds: "Russia will do some good things, but also some terrible things. Americans will have to rise personally, physically, mentally and spiritually to the challenge."

As for the 1960 election, Mrs. Dixon thinks it will be dominated by labor and won by a Democrat. But he will be assassinated or die in office "though not necessarily in his first term."

Despite these clouds, she does see some brightness in the future. "Things will get better, much better, in the '70s," she says. "In that decade, we will really have peace." ■

Beauty Expert Discovers Why . . .

Older Women Look Younger!

By NANCY ANN STOKES

I WAS there last Tuesday night, when Hollywood's leading beauty authority, Mr. Ern Westmore, revealed the 3 things that make a woman look older. Then he showed how to remove 5, 10 even 15 years from your appearance with nothing more than a lipstick and eyebrow pencil. It was so ridiculously easy I was amazed.

You see, to create a youthful appearance you must first understand what makes a woman look older. If, while applying lipstick, you turn the corners of your mouth downward, you sag the expression of your face. Even more distressing, "bent-down" lips make your nose appear longer and your chin heavily drooped.

For a youthful appearance flatter the corners of your lips with a pleasant upward flourish. Your face will suddenly appear younger. Your nose more delicate. Your chin firm and proud. You'll give "lift" to your features, freshness to your face.

Beauty Secret Number Two

What could be a more cherished possession than the flashing eyes of youth? And the secret to eyes that shimmer and shine with a magical twinkle is the way you shape your brows.

Flat brows burden your face with a top-heavy look. Thick brows cloud your eyes with the drowsy stare of middle age. Arch your brows too high and you're left with a gaping, vacant expression. Then what is the perfect shaped eyebrow? Oddly enough there are 5 perfect eyebrows . . . but only one is meant for you.

You see, there are 5 basic shapes of faces. Either you have an oval shape face, a round shape face, a square, oblong or triangle shape face. And there's a special way to arch your eyebrows for your shape face. In a moment you'll discover just which shape brows can reawaken blossoming youth in your face. But first, let's discuss your big stride to youthful loveliness.

Your Face Never Grows Old

Did you know that your face never grows old? Yes, once you've reached the age of 21 all your facial features are set for life. From 21 years on you'll always have the same eyes, the same nose, the same chin. Your features never change . . . but your skin does! Your face doesn't age . . . it's your skin that grows old. And nothing telegraphs age faster than dark under-eye circles . . . unsightly marks and blemishes . . . or lines and wrinkles that weave a murky "cobweb" in your complexion. That's why you must wipe away these signs and lines of age once and for all! You must stop your complexion from shouting your age to the world!

Right now you are probably saying . . . "Well, you've told me the three things that'll make me look younger. The right shape lips, proper eyebrows and a perfect, flawless complexion. But just how can I accomplish these things?" So let's start at the beginning.

Lips Meant for You

In Hollywood there's an old saying . . . "Nature just gave you lips . . . but Ern Westmore gives Beauty to your lips." What's his secret?—his plastic Hollywood lip outlines. And I've made special arrangements for you to get a complete set of these easy-to-use lip-outlines as a FREE GIFT.

Here's all you do. First, determine your basic shape face with a quick glance at page 32 of the "FREE HOLLYWOOD GLAMOUR GRAPH," included with your free Hollywood lip outlines. Then select the proper lip outline for your shape face—place it over your lips . . . and fill in with lipstick. Your newly shaped lips will remove years from your appearance and add vivid warmth to your face.

Now Let's Give You Beautiful Eyes

Here again, you use another Ern Westmore beauty-aid that's yours as a free gift . . . his Hollywood eyebrow outlines. Simply select the right eyebrow outline for your shape face . . . place it over your brow . . . then fill in with your eyebrow pencil. Your eyes will sparkle and gleam even at the end of a long, long evening.

But wait! . . . You're not finished yet. To complete your new and thrilling appearance you must take one more beauty-step. You must rid yourself of every line, mark, wrinkle and blemish. You must make your skin supple and smooth . . . give yourself an appealing "peaches-and-cream" complexion.

Tells Truth About Movie Stars

"Often people ask me, how is it so many actresses who are "older" can still play glamour-girl parts? It's simple. It's not how old you are . . . but how old you look! These actresses just don't happen to stay young-looking . . . they've got certain secrets.

That's why I invite every woman over 25-years-old to read this page. Here are the same beauty-tricks we use on the stars. Try them yourself. See if the first two tricks alone don't make you look 10 years younger in just a few minutes."

Here's How . . .

Can you imagine a make-up so different from any you've ever tried. It removes the shiny gleam from oily skin . . . restores a dewy-freshness to dry skin . . . glides a wondrous smoothness onto "crepe-paper" skin . . . actually conceals all your flaws without masking your face in a harsh, "made-up" look. And can you imagine a make-up so revolutionary it enlivens dull-skin with a bright luminous glow—makes sallow complexions blossom forth in subtle tones of pink . . . pampers every skin with a feathery-light texture . . . and gives you the glorious effect of constantly being seen in a delightful candlelight glow. Yes, a magical make-up that blends so naturally with your complexion you can't even tell where the make-up ends and skin begins.

Lasts 24 Hours . . . and You Don't Even Need Powder

'SILENT SOUND'

It's medicine's newest way to relieve aches

by ANDREW HAMILTON

A middle-aged arthritis sufferer, a 6-year-old boy with agonizing neck-muscle pains, a ballet dancer with a nasty skin ulcer — all have received dramatic, near-miraculous relief from "medicine's newest magic," ultrasonics.

The little boy, sobbing uncontrollably before visiting the doctor, happily played baseball three hours after his first treatment. The arthritic walked normally for the first time in 16 years. And the dancer's ulcer cleared up in a month "without leaving a scar."

Hopeful cases such as those — usually involving banishment of pain and swelling — are being reported more and more often in medical journals.

For in the past five years, research with ultrasonics — in New York, Washington, Chicago, Los Angeles, Denver — has surged ahead. Today, ultrasonic therapy is coming out of the laboratory and into hospitals, clinics and doctors' offices.

Exactly what is ultrasonics?

Three Theories

It can best be described as "silent sound" — that is, sound too shrill or high-pitched for the human ear to detect. But even the experts aren't sure exactly how this inaudible sound works on aching muscles or inflamed tissues.

There are three theories: 1) Sound waves "massage" body cells, increase blood supply and stimulate metabolism; 2) The waves are converted to heat (which cannot be felt) and thus benefit affected tissues; 3) The waves create subtle, beneficial chemical changes in cells themselves.

Whatever the answer, treatment with ultrasound is remarkably simple. Dr. John H. Aldes of Los Angeles, a pioneer in the field, recently demonstrated how it works.

The instrument that produces ultrasound is about as large as a portable dishwasher. It is covered with levers, dials and lights. From one side extends an electric cable, capped with a stainless steel "sonic head" that resembles a radio microphone.

The sonic head is placed against the

Q. How does she keep her complexion this clear?

A.

She keeps tiny clogged pores from causing trouble —with Lifebuoy soap! Today's Lifebuoy is good news for everyone, especially teen-agers, because it contains a new bacteria-fighter called TMTD.

Lifebuoy with TMTD helps clear your complexion of blemish-causing bacteria that the usual toilet soap just can't remove. These bacteria are the tiny trouble-makers that get into clogged pores, help make them grow into full-fledged blemishes.

What's more, the protection of TMTD stays with your complexion under make-up and between wash-ups. Treat your complexion to a daily facial with mild, fragrant Lifebuoy. Lever Brothers Company unconditionally guarantees you'll love what Lifebuoy does for your complexion—or your money refunded!

Good results—but no cure-all affected part of the body (see photo) — or an ailing foot or hand is placed under water and the sonic head is moved slowly back and forth about a half-inch from the skin.

When the machine is turned on, the patient hears only a soft hum. There is no vibration, no feeling whatever.

Dr. Aldes explained that inside the sonic head there is a piece of quartz crystal about the size of a silver dollar. When alternating current is passed through the crystal, it contracts and expands at the rate of 1,000,000 times per second, producing sound waves at the same rate.

This is called the "piezo-electric effect." These sound waves are what enter your hand, leg, back, etc., to relieve aches and pains. They penetrate to a depth of about two inches and can be beamed, reflected or refracted like rays of light.

Ultrasonic waves pass through skin, muscle, blood and bone. But air stops them cold. That's why an uneven surface, like a hand or a leg, often must be treated under water. The course of treatment, says Dr. Aldes, usually consists of a series of 12 ultrasound radiations, daily or every other day. Each treatment lasts three to 10 minutes.

Work with ultrasonics began in England back in 1883. The theory that ultrasound consisted of waves pitched too high for the human ear to hear is credited to Pierre Curie, the French scientist best known for his discovery of radium.

3,000 Cases Treated

It wasn't till the 1920s that doctors in the U.S. expressed interest in ultrasound for medical treatment. At that time there were skeptics in the medical world. There still are some.

But since 1950 the U.S. has taken the lead over European researchers in the field of ultrasonics. Dr. Aldes himself has treated more than 3,000 selected cases with ultrasound. The result has been successful in about four cases out of five.

At the Columbia University (New York) medical school, another physician has treated crippling hand conditions successfully with ultrasound. In Chicago, a doctor has experimented with the new treatment technique to relieve pain and spasm among certain aged patients.

Last fall, team physicians of four Big Ten universities used ultrasound to treat football-caused sprains, bruises and "charley horses."

In dentistry, ultrasonic drills are being used experimentally to determine whether they can do the job more efficiently than standard drills.

Thus, used alone, ultrasound is proving its value. New tests indicate that it may be even more effective when used in conjunction with certain injected drugs.

Dr. Aldes has already experimented with cortisone-family drugs along with ultrasonics in animal studies, and in a few people. Preliminary results are hopeful. The patients reported considerable relief from joint pains for several months.

Ultrasonics has been criticized in some quarters as being a "dangerous" form of treatment. So it is — in unskilled hands, just as the frivolous use of any ordinary therapy is dangerous.

But, doctors say, safe dosages have been worked out for all parts of the body. Careful analysis of each of his 3,000 treated patients has assured Dr. Aldes that none experienced a harmful chemical or physical change. On the contrary, "success stories" such as these continue to bolster the case for ultrasonics treatment:

BURSITIS victim gets ultrasound at a Washington, D. C., hospital. Gout, arthritis and neuritis also have responded to the therapy.

- A 47-year-old Arkansas man had suffered arthritis for eight years. Pain and muscle contraction had made him a virtual cripple. All known treatment was tried and failed. Ultrasonic treatment, however, produced results. Soon after he was given "silent sound," the pains began to subside. Now he is able to climb stairs and take walks, two activities that had been impossible for years.
- A 53-year-old Florida woman had arthritis in her hands so badly that she could not pick up a pencil or a toothbrush. A series of ultrasonic treatments made her hands usable once again.

Understandably, doctors shudder when a single treatment is labeled a "cure-all." Doctors who have used ultrasound make no such claims for this therapy.

But one distinguished physician has this to say: "Ultrasonics may one day take its place alongside other medical 'greats' — like the X ray and antibiotics." ■

They go to your head

It may surprise you to know that birds rank second to dogs as the most popular pets. Many of their owners belong to one or another of the 400 U.S. bird clubs and take their hobby seriously indeed. Some will pay as high as $500 for a mynah bird; others are content with a $1.98 department-store parakeet. Some birds reciprocate with affection, as these two photos indicate. For people who like birds in their hair, these examples suggest that it's fun being the place where chickens come home to roost.

PIGEON settles on a delighted little girl's head. When child grows up, she may wear parrots too.

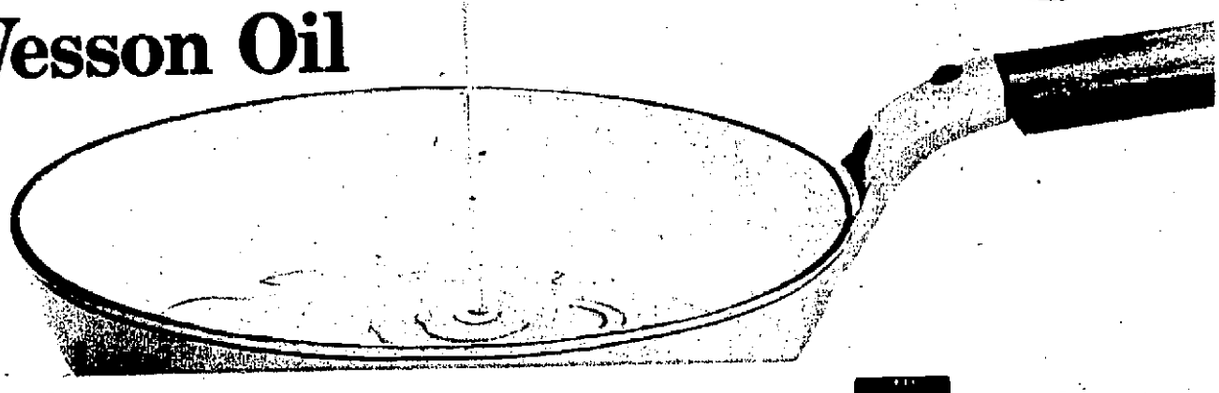

SOLID SHORTENING PRICES CLIMB TO 5-YEAR HIGH !

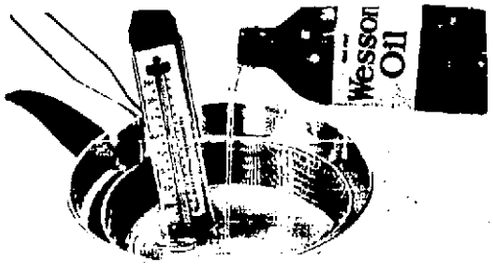

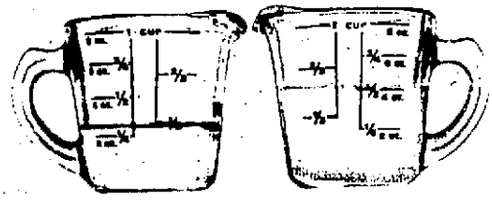

Price of 3-pound can of all-vegetable shortening nears dollar mark

Here's how you save real money with liquid shortening ...delicate Wesson Oil

Thriftier for FRYING

No waste—pour only what you need. No melting. Wesson is instantly ready to use. Safer for digestion, too. You can heat Wesson Oil far higher than all other leading shortenings—and still Wesson will not smoke or burn. Solid shortening turns gray and unappetizing after even one frying. Mild, pure Wesson Oil keeps sparkling clear. You can fry with Wesson again and again and be sure of fresh good taste and beautiful browning.

Goes further for BAKING

You use less shortening with Wesson recipes. You make luxurious 2-egg Chiffon layer cake with just ¼ cup Wesson Oil. Most solid shortening layer cakes call for at least ½ cup shortening. No air, no thickening. Wesson is all shortening in the purest form. So easy and accurate to measure and mix, there's no fear of costly baking failures. You're sure of delicate flavor too, because Wesson keeps its delicacy at highest baking temperatures.

Save on SALAD DRESSINGS

Fresh, homemade Wesson dressing costs less than bought dressings...takes just one minute to make ... brings out the shyest flavors of your fresh salads. None lighter, finer, fresher than Wesson in all the world. Next time you shop—notice how solid shortening prices have risen, and save with delicate Wesson Oil.

Extra Thrifty: Buy Wesson Oil in the economical gallon size—it's almost like getting a quart free.

PARADE WEST COAST CORRESPONDENT

SAN DIEGO.

Frances O'Connor, a local matron of 42, looks at first glance like a typical young American mother. Trim, attractive, 5'5" and 130 lbs., she frequently is mistaken for 35. She dresses neatly, lives in a two-story, four-bedroom house, drives a 1950 station wagon.

There her typicalness stops.

Whereas the average U.S. housewife has 1.2 children and usually acts like a woman with too much to do and too little time, Frances O'Connor is the mother of 13 children, seven girls and six boys. More important, she is serene and content with her role in life, the role which so many less productive members of her sex currently find frustrating, oppressive and unsatisfying.

In 18 years of marriage Mrs. O'Connor has:

1) been pregnant 13 times; borne 13 children, including one pair of twins; suffered one miscarriage;

2) never had a vacation;

3) never been confined in a hospital longer than two days (except for her last baby, who weighed in at 10 lbs., 13 oz. and required one extra day);

4) never employed any full-time help around the house.

In addition to doing her own housework, taking care of her own brood, preparing and serving 45 individual meals per day, Frances O'Connor also works three hours a day, six days a week in her husband's liquor store.

Although the O'Connors support their family on approximately $800 a month — "We haven't had steak in the house since we were married," says Jerome O'Connor — Frances claims she is happy, fulfilled, completely content.

"Jerome and I," she points out, "may not be rich in things like cars and clothes which so many people seem to value. But we're rich in children. And for a woman, at least for me, children are life's greatest riches.

"What can you possibly compare to a child — a diamond? a new rug? a fur coat? a Cadillac? Nothing can possibly give a woman more lasting pleasure than a baby.

"Women say to me all the time, 'How do you do it? How do you do it?' They talk as if children were some strange kind of obstacle course or some unbearable illness. Raising children has come to be regarded in many quarters as an unpleasant duty. Sure, it's tough. Sure, the hours are long. Sure, the responsibility is enormous and always present. But bearing and raising children is a woman's primary function in life.

"I never expected or wanted anything different. I never wanted to be ambassador to Italy or a motion-picture star or a top fashion designer or a book reviewer. I always wanted a husband and a family. For me children are the beginning, the middle and the end.

"When we first got married in 1938," Mrs. O'Connor continues, "my husband said to me, 'How many kids do you want?' I thought for a moment. 'About six,' I said.

"Jerome howled. 'Holy smokes!' he screamed. 'You some kind of foreigner or something?' At the time he was only earning $5 a day. But we started in on a family right away. Very early Jerome came to realize that the best thing we could do was to build our life around children — not around his business, nor money, but around people. For us it's paid off in happiness."

O'Connor, a feisty, balding little man of 51 who once fought locally as a bantamweight, agrees absolutely with this.

"I'm one of the richest guys in San Diego," he boasts. "Not in money, of course. In flesh and blood. Guys keep kiddin' me all the time about the size of my family. But secretly they really envy me, because I've got the guts to raise 13 fine kids.

"I don't want to sound highfalutin but man was born to reproduce, to keep the life cycle goin'. The married man who can do the job and doesn't is generally selfish or a coward or both.

"A man's kids are the only insurance he's got for friendship in his old age. I've been around a long time; and years ago I came to the conclusion that while money talks, you can't talk to money.

"I've seen wealthy men," O'Connor explains, "guys with yachts, mansions, cars, even private planes. They've got one, maybe two kids. But usually money is what they want out of life, not friendship, just money and the things money can buy. They've got time for nothin' else.

"Their kids grow up without gettin' to know the old man. When the kids leave home, the wife's got nothin' to do. Money doesn't guarantee happiness, and it certainly can't buy love or respect. All it can buy is comfort — and fear.

"When you got a big family, on the other hand, you're loaded with potential, potential for love and friendship. You also got no time for shenanigans or self-pity. You're too busy lookin' after the kids. They keep you on your toes, and they keep you young. You're never lonely.

"Take me and Mama. How're we gonna spend our old age? The same way we spent our young age — raisin' our kids. We're livin' for our children and through our children and it ain't destroyin' our individuality, either. The main thing we give them is ourselves.

"I've been told it's impossible to raise 13 kids well without a lot of money. Money is something we ain't got a lot of. But our kids go to parochial school, and they're all healthy and I don't mind tellin' you one of our secrets. One of the secrets of raisin' 13 kids is potatoes.

"In our house Mama serves all kinds of potatoes — mashed potatoes, fried potatoes, baked potatoes, potatoes au gratin, potato salad. None of the kids has ever tasted steak. But you know what? They've all won medals for swimming, except the three youngest, and none of them has got what the scientists call a personality disorder.

Five or Six More?

"I'm just hopin' for five or six more before Mama calls it quits. That's true wealth. Wanna know how rich you really are? Ask yourself what you'd have left tomorrow if you lost every buck you own today. We'd have 13 wonderful kids. Can you top that?"

Frances Shinnick O'Connor doesn't think you can. Born in North Dakota and reared on a 125-acre farm, she was herself one of eight children. She remembers the bitter cold of the Dakota winters ("I froze both my legs when I was a kid playing basketball"), the rigorous daily chores ("I had to serve meals to large teams of wheat thrashers"), the basic advantage of a large family ("I was one of five girls, so I was never spoiled or lonely").

Frances prepared for a nursing career at St. Michael's Hospital in Grand Forks, N.D. After passing her state boards at Fargo, she found work in Minnesota. Then, in 1937, she took off for Mercy Hospital in San Diego. A week after she arrived, she met Jerome O'Connor at a St. Patrick's Day dance. Nine months later they were married.

Work on a family began immediately. Before the year was out the O'Connors were blessed with their first-born, a boy christened Patrick. After that babies came like clockwork: seven (including the twins) in seven years. All told, in 220 months of marriage, Frances O'Connor has been pregnant 124 months, or approximately 54 per cent of the time.

Taking care of 13 children and a husband, Mrs. O'Connor puts in a 14- to 16-hour working day, but unlike many mothers she never complains of nervous or physical fatigue. "A woman's attitude," she says, "is really the important factor in housework. If she regards it as a drudge, if she finds it too confining, too lonesome, if she'd rather be with adults than children, then housework becomes hateful and almost unbearable. Certainly it offers no intellectual stimulation. But just think of all the men in the world who are stuck in jobs they don't like. Compared to them we women have it easy.

"I'm reconciled to the fact that I will never finish my housework, that I never have time to read except late at night. I do the best I can, and that's it. To me it's more important to spend a little time with my three youngest than, say, wash the woodwork. It's better to have well-

The parents work 16-hour days, but neither one ever complains about it adjusted children than sparkling windows. It's better to have a new baby than a new living-room suite you're afraid the children will scar."

Mrs. O'Connor's daily schedule begins when she rises at 6:30. She prepares breakfast for her three oldest sons, Pat, Mike and Dennis, who take off for high school before 7:30. The grade-school girls then are fed and sent off. Next, Frances feeds and dresses her three babies, and heats up another meal for Jerome, who has to be at the store by 10.

Her home cleared, Mrs. O'Connor sets about housework. This includes making up the four bedrooms, washing the dishes, getting the clothes into the washer, drying, preparing lunch, cleaning the rest of the house and, if time allows, shopping.

HOME HAIRCUTS save O'Connors money. As one result, all the younger girls wear bangs.

The O'Connors have one washing machine, one refrigerator, one stove, one TV set. They also have three major household problems. "We have only two bathrooms," Frances points out, "and that makes things difficult in the morning. It's tough getting to use our one telephone, either calling in or out. And then there's the constant necessity of getting enough food on the table at any one time. This family eats like a family of bears — especially those growing boys."

The O'Connors use 75 quarts of milk, 8 pounds of butter, 22 dozen eggs and 45 loaves of bread per week. A single meal calls for 4 pounds of hamburger, 3½ pounds of hot dogs or a 10-pound roast. Each week at least one child gets a new pair of shoes. In the clothes department hand-me-downs are used as much as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor rarely spend any money on themselves. "I get a new dress about once a year," Mrs. O'Connor says. "About eight weeks ago I bought a purple knit. It was on sale. Cost $18. I never spend any more than that. Jerome hasn't had a new suit in years. Three or four years ago there was a big sale down at one of the stores here. He bought three suits. Nothing since."

By 3 p.m. the O'Connor children begin to wander in from school, start in on such chores as gardening and baby-sitting. Mrs. O'Connor then drives down to the store and relieves her husband behind the counter until 6. Jerome meanwhile drives home, collects all available small O'Connors and chauffeurs them out to the neighborhood swimming pool. All of the children except the three youngest are crack swimmers. Sharon and Diane have won top honors in rhythm swimming in both local and Los Angeles meets.

"The reason I picked swimming for the kids above any other sport," says O'Connor, "is that it builds up the body without straining the heart. It's also great for growin' girls. Gives them grace and poise."

By 6:15 each evening Mrs. O'Connor is home, having relinquished her store job to Husky Velasco, a young prizefighter O'Connor used to train. He is on duty till 10. During this time the O'Connors have dinner, after which Frances puts the babies to bed and sees to it that the school-age children do their homework before they sneak off and watch television. At 10, Jerome returns to the store and stays till 2 a.m. Frances normally retires by 11:00 or 11:30, having stayed up until the older boys check in.

From 6:30 a.m. to 11 p.m. is a long day for any mother. From 9:30 a.m. to 2 a.m. is an even longer day for any father. But neither parent ever gripes or complains.

"What's there to gripe about?" asks Jerome O'Connor. "Take a fella like me. I'm 'way ahead of the game. When I was born in Dodge City, Montana, my old man was dead. When my mother came down here with me, we had it plenty rough. I left school at 14 to make a livin' fightin'.

A Man's Possessions

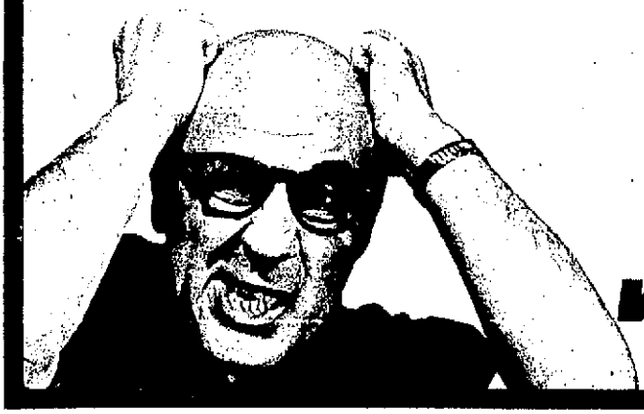

"Today I've got me a store, a little income property, a house of my own, a pretty good reputation in the community and a wonderful family.

"Under these circumstances, who minds workin'? So my teeth need fixin' and we could use a new car, so we don't have too much leisure and a TV set in every room, so what? Hard work never hurt anyone. Besides, Mama and me are used to our kid-rearin' routine. And once you're used to something, it goes easy.

"A little while back we had Mama's sister here. She's a physical-education teacher from Seattle. She said she could handle the 13 kids, and we could have a vacation week end in San Francisco. Know how long she lasted with our tribe? One night. We called off our vacation.

"But all in all we lead a pretty good life. Mama belongs to the Catholic Nurses Association. The kids get along just fine together lookin' after one another. Pat's going off to St. Mary's next year. We hope to send every one of the kids to college who wants to go. And all of us are in good health.

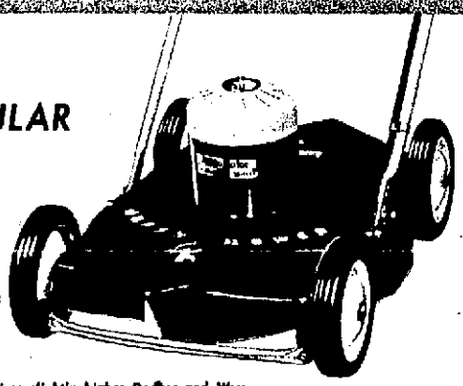

"God's blessed this family with love and children. And in our hearts we've got nothin' but thanks. We O'Connors have always operated on one motto: 'Better rich in smiling faces than rich in money.'" ■

junior fashions

THE SECRET here is vinyl. These waterproof pants can be washed over and over, need no ironing.

NEW PANTS FOR BABY

As these photos show, even baby fashions have been glamorized lately. Today there are baby pants with rows of ruffles, lacy inserts and embroideries, and bibs with hand-painted nursery-rhyme characters and gay hand-screened designs. Made of hardy no-press nylon and sponge-off plastics, they're a boon to busy mothers. With the use of a few soap flakes and water they come out looking fresh and clean no matter how many times they're washed.

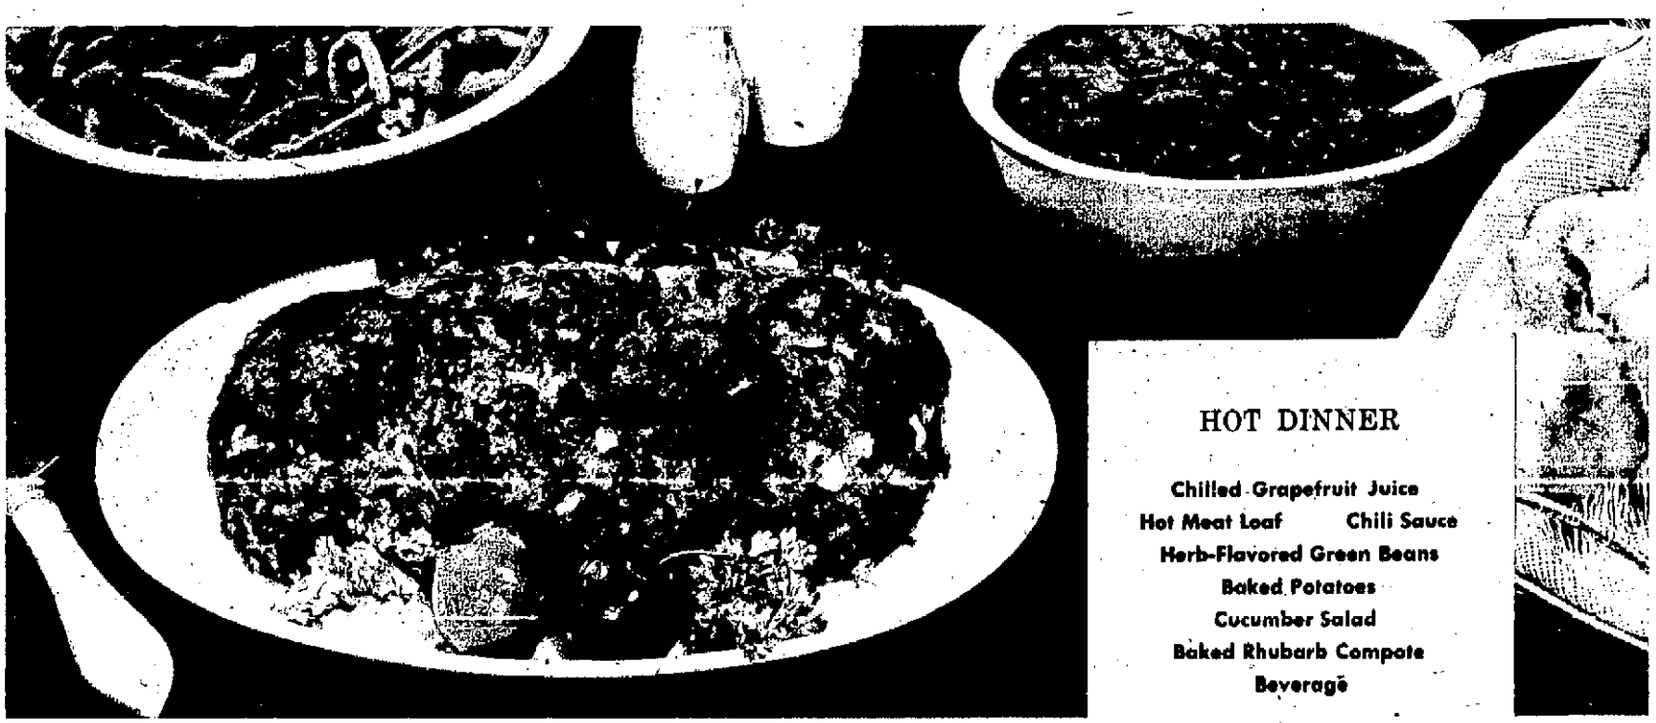

Even if you're not concerned with the "height of style," items like these by Playtex will keep your baby neat and pretty — the easy way.

◀ "SPONGEABLE" plastic bibs with hand-screened design provide complete cover-up — front and back — for small fry.

Double-duty meat loaf

Two loaves from one quick and easy mixing

This easy-to-prepare recipe for meat loaf will delight you. With one mixing, you'll have two loaves. Serve one hot; chill the second and serve it cold another day. You'll enjoy these recipes for herb-flavored green beans and marinated mushroom salad, too.

MEAT-LOAF DUET

- 1 cup evaporated milk
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon bottled hot-pepper sauce
- 3 cups soft bread crumbs
- 3 pounds ground beef
- ½ cup ketchup
- ⅔ cup finely chopped onion
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon mono-sodium glutamate
- ¼ teaspoon each: thyme, savory and marjoram (optional)

Combine first three ingredients; beat until blended. Stir in bread crumbs. Add remaining ingredients; blend well. Form into two loaves in shallow pan. Bake in moderate oven (350°) 1 hour and 15 minutes.

HERB-FLAVORED GREEN BEANS

- 1 #303 can Blue Lake green beans
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ¼ teaspoon each: rosemary, basil and curry
- Salt and pepper to taste

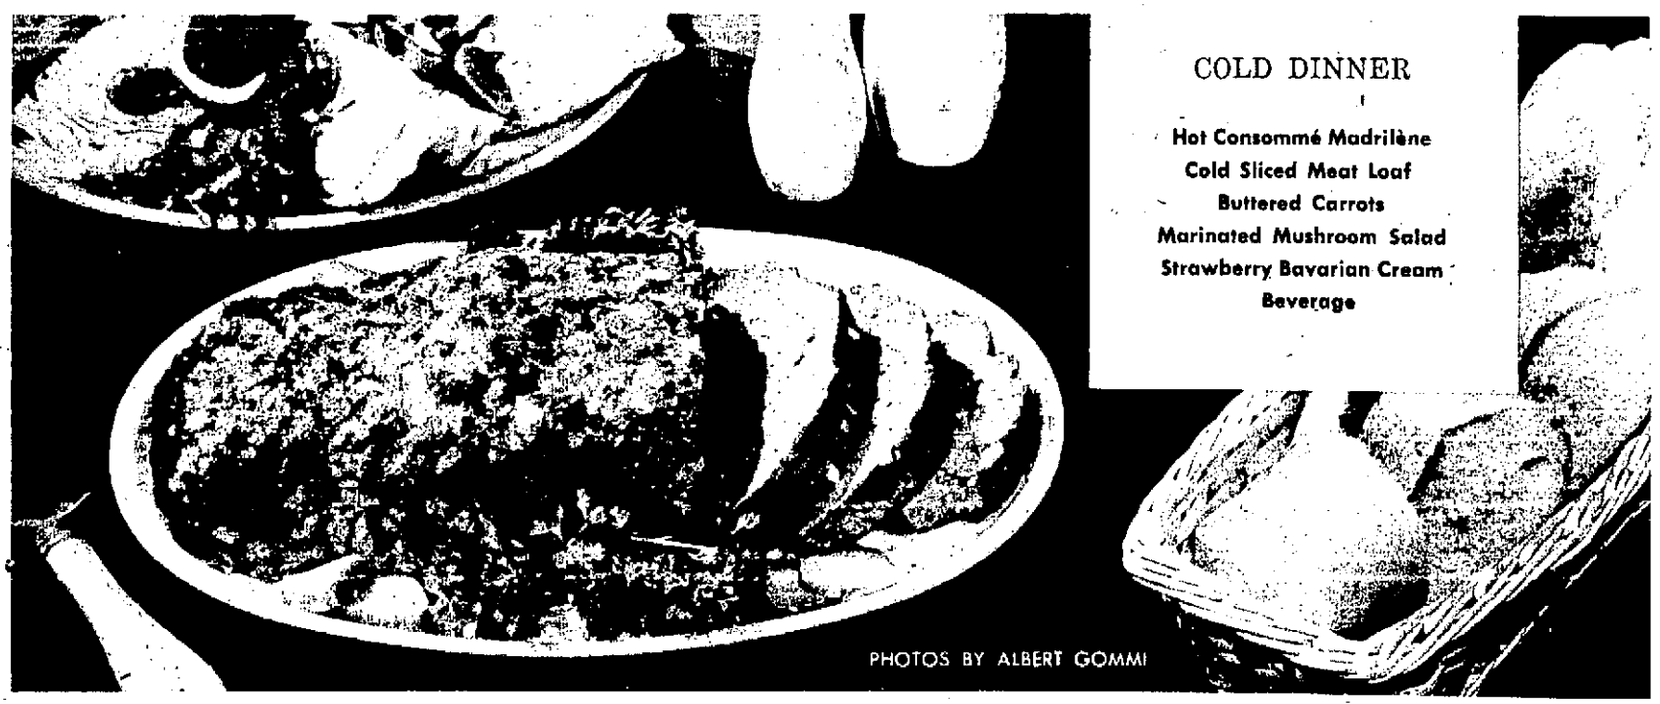

Drain liquid from beans into saucepan. Boil liquid uncovered until reduced by half. Add beans; cook about 8 minutes. Melt butter with seasonings. Pour over heated beans. Makes four servings.

MARINATED MUSHROOM SALAD

- 1 pkg. French salad-dressing mix
- 1½ cups (2 4-oz. cans) sliced or button mushrooms
- Rings from 2 small onions
- ½ cup diced green pepper
- 2 tablespoons diced pimiento

Prepare salad-dressing mix, as directed on package. Measure ⅔ cup. Drain mushrooms; combine with remaining ingredients and measured dressing. Chill several hours. Serve over lettuce wedges. Makes four to six servings.

Teen-age Topics

Right now, many of the letters I receive from teen-agers are concerned with the upcoming prom season. Here are some of them:

Q. I am a boy of 17. I do not drive a car but wish to date a girl from an outlying community for the Junior Prom. How do I go about asking her to meet me and what do I do about getting her home? — M.J., Bayonne, N.J.

A. If this girl's parents have friends who live in town, perhaps she could stay with them. In that case, you would meet her at the bus or train and then take her to their home after the dance. If this is impossible, ask her to take the train or bus into town in her party clothes (she pays her own transportation); you meet her and return to her home with her after the dance. If her parents can put you up, fine, otherwise you'll have to make the return trip home. Never suggest that she should go home alone.

Q. When a young teenager is calling for his date and is being chauffeured by his father or mother, should the parent be invited into the girl's home? On Prom night there usually is some delay; the girl's parents often like to take a number of pictures before the couple leaves. — M.K., Bridgeport, Conn.

A. Yes, the parent should be invited in. In any case, the father or mother of the girl should ask the boy whether he would like to bring his parent in for a few minutes. If it is the mother who is doing the chauffeuring, then the father of the girl goes to the car and invites her in. She need not accept the invitation, of course, especially if parking is difficult or if they are somewhat late.

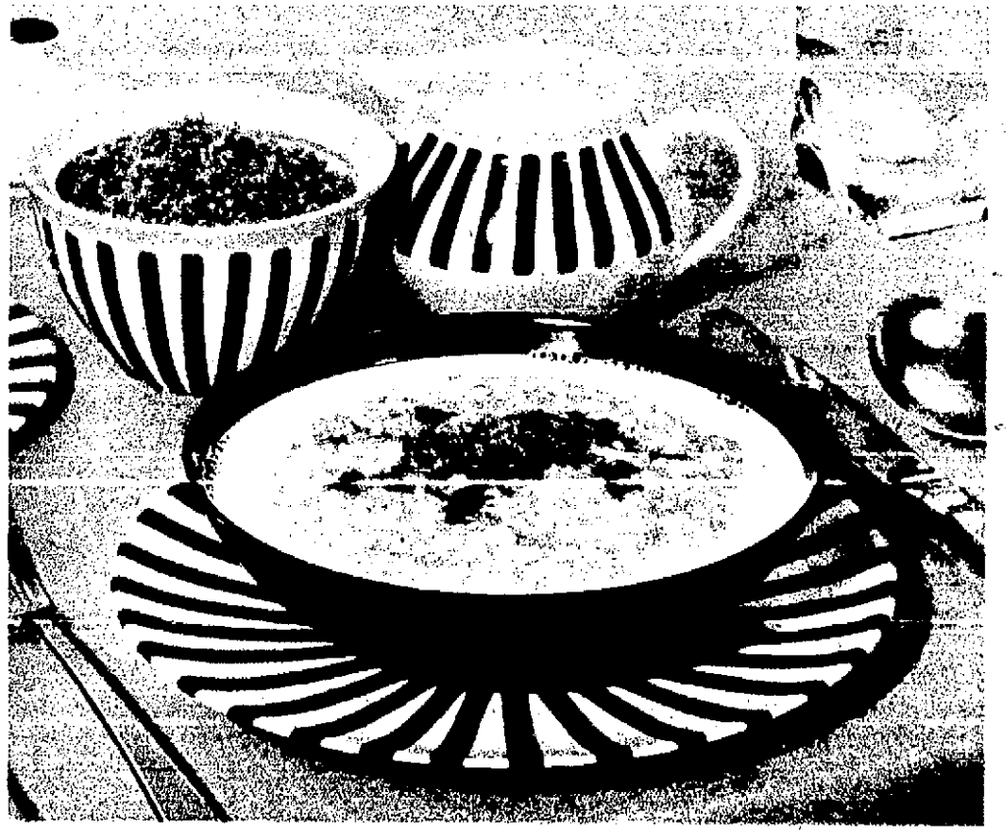

Q. I am quite sure that a boy I like very much will ask me to the Prom, but someone I don't care for has beaten him to it. Is it all right to say no to him and then show up at the dance with the boy I like? — P.D., Reedsburg, Wis.

A. A lady may always refuse an invitation. You may say, quite truthfully, that you have "tentative" plans and therefore cannot accept his invitation. This will give him a chance to say that he will ask you again later — and, if he does and your first date has not come through, you still are free to go with this boy.

Q. What is the proper way to dress for a Junior-Senior Banquet — the best color evening dress, the type of purse and shoes? — L.E., Trenton, S.C.

A. Dress your age. A pastel-colored dress is most suitable, with matching or contrasting slippers. Matching evening bag and slippers would look pretty, if you have them; if not, the shoes could match the dress and an evening bag of gold or silver would pick up an accent color from the dress. The important thing is to discuss this with the other girls; when you know what they are going to wear, you will avoid looking freakish yourself.

PRESIDENT OF THE BROOKLYN DODGERS

as told to JOHN DEVANEY

BROOKLYN, N.Y.

One of the most spectacular plays in baseball history occurred in the 1920 World Series between our Dodgers and Cleveland. With men on first and second, Brooklyn's Clarence Mitchell slammed a line drive at the Cleveland second baseman, who caught it, tagged the runner from first and stepped on second for an unassisted triple play.

That's a play rarely seen in baseball and never before or after in a Series. Yet I'm sure not one fan in 20 could tell me the name of that second baseman. He was not one of the all-time greats, he never made the Hall of Fame, but he turned in a play a Series may never see again.

There are many others like him, forgotten major-leaguers who should be remembered for what they did during one great play or short period of an otherwise ordinary career. What I would like to suggest, therefore, is an addition to baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., to honor those players and keep alive the memory of their plays. (Some of my own favorite great plays are shown in photos on these and the next two pages.)

Let me make this clear: I don't mean for this annex to let run-of-the-mill players into the Hall of Fame. The annex would be a separate part of the Hall at Cooperstown. In fact, it would include plays by many Hall of Famers; any great play — whether turned in by a famous star or a nobody — would be honored.

BOB FELLER gets ball from Jim Hegan after pitching third no-hitter of his career to beat Tigers, 2-1, on July 1, 1951.

An example for kids to follow

Such an exhibit, I think, would make a terrific impression on youngsters visiting Cooperstown. It would let them realize that baseball's great plays were not all performed by the super-stars; many were turned in by ordinary players who met a challenge by briefly rising above their natural talents to greatness. That's an example many kids would profit by following.

To make up the exhibit, photographs of the great play itself — if obtainable — could be mounted with whatever other mementos are available — the ball, bat or glove used, the uniform or spikes worn that day, the official scorecard and so on.

On what basis should the greatest plays of all time be picked? I'd be willing to leave that up to the men who would do the choosing — fans, sportswriters or whoever might be named — just as we now leave it to sportswriters to vote for Hall of Famers each year. Granted, some arguments might crop up over the choices; but I've found that a good rhubarb never hurts baseball.

PARADE asked me to list some of the plays I'd like to see immortalized. There are many, but I know of 10 that certainly should be included. Seven of these are described in the captions under the photos on these pages. Here are the remaining three:

- Bill Wambsganss' triple play — did you remember his name? — in the 1920 Series.
- Duke Snider's four homers in the '52 Series.
- Carl Hubbell's whiffing of Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Joe Cronin, Jimmy Foxx and Al Simmons in the 1934 All-Star game.

Let's put those great moments where they belong — in baseball's shrine.

parade personality

CYD CHARISSE:

A dancer starts to act

For 14 years she's been 'promising.'

Now the promise may be coming true

For the past 10 years the long-stemmed dancing beauty at left has been touted here as one of the screen's great potential stars. Each time she twirls her graceful, frequently torrid way through a movie, some studio executive says flatly, "The kid's got everything. From here on in she can't miss."

They said it first in 1945, when Cyd Charisse danced in Ziegfeld Follies; in 1951, when she flitted through Singin' in the Rain with Gene Kelly; two years later, when she scored with Fred Astaire in The Band Wagon. Today, her notable job in Meet Me in Las Vegas has the prophets talking overtime.

And for the first time in her 14-year, 23-film career, the gentle, brown-eyed actress believes that what they say may be true.

"In most of my pictures," she softly explains, "I've just been a dancer. In order to catch on with the public you just can't do specialty numbers. You've got to come alive as a personality so that people identify you as warm or funny or ladylike or something.

"Meet Me in Las Vegas is the first real acting break I've ever had out here. It's the first time a part was actually created for me so that I could generate a little personality.

"It's proved to me that, given a good script, I can be accepted as an actress as well as a dancer. Maybe from this point on, I'll get better pictures and a larger following . . ."

This undemanding approach is typical of Cyd. Most actresses fight, conspire, try by any means to land meaty roles. But Charisse has been serene and impassive about her movie progress since 1948 — the year she married crooner Tony Martin and decided that thenceforth marriage would come first, career second.

Behind that conclusion lay a background stretching all the way to Amarillo, Tex., where Cyd was born 33 years ago. Daughter of a jeweler named Ernest Finklea, she was christened Tula Ellice. She began taking dancing lessons at the age of 6. The purpose, according to her mother, "was to give the child an appetite. She was always tall and thin." What the lessons actually gave her was a driving ambition to become a great ballerina.

The summer his dancing daughter was 12, Ernest Finklea took his family to Hollywood. Cyd auditioned for Nico Charisse, former ballet master for Fanchon & Marco. "Your daughter has talent," Charisse announced. "If you will stay here and work with me, I am sure she will become a big star."

Cyd stayed. For three years she practiced eight to 10 hours per day. By the time she was 16 she was so proficient that she was signed by the famed Ballet Russe. She also fell in love with her teacher, who was 20 years her senior.

They were married in France (the bride was 17), then returned to Hollywood and a small apartment. Soon they were joined by Cyd's mother, brother — and resultant strife. After a son, Nico, Jr., was born, Cyd went to work in films. A bit part in Something to Shout About set her ambition to flame. Three more pictures, and her career became more important to her than her marriage. Under the circumstances the latter went to pot.

"I was much too young," Cyd now admits, "to know what marriage was all about. I was interested in getting ahead as a dancer. To me that's what counted."

The Charisses were divorced in 1947. By then Cyd had given the screen everything she had, but stardom had eluded her. Gradually she revised her sense of values. After she married Tony Martin, she was offered the lead opposite Gene Kelly in An American in Paris (which later won the Academy Award), but turned it down to honeymoon in Europe with her new husband.

"My No. 1 job," she said at the time, "is to keep Tone happy. After that comes my career. You see, I've learned that a career is a very nice thing to have. Only you can't talk to it on lonely nights."

Cyd still feels that for her marriage and family are paramount. When Tony is singing in top night spots in Las Vegas, Chicago or New York, Mrs. Martin accompanies him — unless she is needed at home by her two sons, Nico, Jr. (now 15) or Tony, Jr. (5).

MR. AND MRS. Tony Martin: She claims keeping him happy still is her No. 1 job.

Ironically, Cyd's career has gone much better since she abandoned overambition. She is genuinely well-liked in film circles. Although she appears devastatingly sexy on-screen, she is open-faced and friendly off. "If Meet Me in Las Vegas leads to bigger and better parts," she says, "that's great. If not, I'll be just as happy as Mrs. Tony Martin."

At MGM, however, the big boys insist that Cyd is finally ready for stardom. They've penciled her in for the leads in two forthcoming pictures, Silk Stockings and Designing Woman. And it may well be that after 14 years their star of promise is at long last ready for the top rung of the success ladder. ■

How to Make Barbecued Broilers Tastier with Ac'cent

Outdoor eating at its best—2 or 3 broiler-fryer chickens, split lengthwise and sprinkled with 2 teaspoons of Ac'cent, for finer flavors, then slow-cooked over glowing coals!

To prepare Cook-out Barbecued Broilers with Ac'cent

Chicken: Hook wing tip behind shoulder joint on to back. Shake Ac'cent on both sides of chicken. Place on grate. Brush both sides with barbecue sauce. Start cooking with cut side toward grate set 12 inches or more from heat. Cook slowly until tender, turning frequently and basting each time. Allow 1 to 1¼ hours cooking time. Use any left-over barbecue sauce for dunking.

*Excellent results depend upon slow cooking—glowing coals (not flame) and proper distance from heat source.

They Take It on the Lamb Again

Noted explorers and authors, Dana and Ginger Lamb are off again on another hazardous trek in Latin America, this time through the Nicaraguan jungle.

By Jule Armin

DANA AND GINGER LAMB, an intrepid exploring pair whose desire for adventure dates back to their high school days in Santa Ana, are off to Latin America again on another of their quests, this time to Nicaragua.

At the personal suggestion of President Somosa of Nicaragua, the Lambs will attempt to make their way, on foot and unaccompanied, over the route of the proposed Nicaragua Canal. Documentary films of the country, its people, its modern capital and historical ruins will be made, Dana Lamb stated as he traced their route on a map.

"Nicaragua is the only logical place for a passage linking the Pacific and Atlantic, and the route offered there is better than that of the Panama Canal," he said. "This route also is 500 miles shorter from New York to San Francisco and easier to defend in case of another war."

"THAT IS WHY the question of who builds that canal is of importance to us all," Ginger sums up for her husband, her blue eyes shining with as much enthusiasm as his. They do everything together and have become so interdependent through their years of life-and-death adventuring that they automatically complete each other's thoughts.

The Lambs' previous experience in Latin America should be a great help in the problems they are bound to meet in this new adventure. They started their private explorations when they married some 20 years ago. Playmates and schoolmates in Santa Ana, they had always dreamed of high adventure and trained themselves toward that end by becoming expert swimmers, crack shots and masters of woodcraft. They studied everything that might help qualify them in the field of exploration, from medicine and archaeology, to engineering and photography.

"If two people could travel alone," they told each other, "the chances of reaching their objective would be just that much better. It would mean they'd have to forage for their food and other necessities as they moved along. . . . But I'll bet we could do it!"

TO TEST THEIR THEORY, they built a tiny boat, a frail combination of sailboat, kayak, surfboard and canoe, then spent a year training along the coast of lower California. They designed and made their own equipment, getting it down to 150 pounds, including food, ammunition and camera supplies. Their confidence bolstered by experience, they got ship's papers on their mongrel craft, "The Vagabunda." With $4.20 left and a two-week supply of food, they set off from San Diego to continue some 16,000 miles, and are on record as the smallest boat ever to go through the Panama Canal.

For three years they made the jungle furnish their food, clothing, shelter and repair materials. They rode out terrific storms, were swamped by a school of whales, had more than one fight with sharks, and were wrecked many times. They were trapped in an extinct volcano, bitten by every tropical pest from bugs to a mad coyote, lived with tribes who had never before seen white men, experienced tropic fevers and even an attack of appendicitis without losing one whit of their enthusiasm for the rugged type of life they had chosen.

HOME AT LAST, they recounted their adventure in "Enchanted Vagabond," Harper's "find" book of the year, still selling in its 28th edition.

• After a national lecture tour, the Lambs set off again, this time in search of an elusive "lost city," last stronghold of the Mayas, who had fled from Cortez. With their packs on their backs, Dana and Ginger hiked 2,000 miles down the west coast of Mexico as a hardening up trip. They then obtained a dilapidated plane and spent three months flying over the area before finding a clue, locked deep in the jungle. They made several heart-breaking attempts to reach the lost city on foot. Still short of their goal, they returned to civilization to serve the government as a special service team during war years. A second attempt to complete their search ended with a hurricane destroying all their film and cameras. Undaunted, they started from scratch again and eventually slashed their way into the "Forbidden Land" and reached their goal.

"Quest for the Lost City," the story of that experience, was subsequently published by Harper's and seems destined to follow the unprecedented popularity of "Enchanted Vagabond."

"LECTURE TOURS, writing and new plans have kept us busy," Ginger says. "But civilization soon palls after the active outdoor life we've become accustomed to. We are glad to get on the trail again, knowing that to matter what hardships we may encounter, we'll always be discovering something new and, we hope, worth while."

Dana's deeply tanned face creases in a boyish smile as he nods assent to Ginger's statement. He is as lithe and lean as a jungle animal.

"There's nothing much more pertinent to our welfare right now than the best course to take to keep America free," he said. "First-hand information on the problems and possibilities of a second interocean passage from the Pacific to the Atlantic will provide one of the answers and we are happy Nicaraguan President Somosa is offering us this chance to help get that information."

Dana takes a bearing to help plot a course through mountainous jungle terrain in land of ancient Mayas.

Ginger and Dana check gear and rolling stock on previous sortie into the wilds in which they employed small plane to assist in their exploration.

PATIENTS 'TUNE IN' NURSES

Long Beach Gains a Push-Button Hospital

IT'S THE FIRST complete general hospital built in Long Beach in 22 years.

Long Beach Osteopathic Hospital, 2776 Pacific Ave., occupying 4½ acres, the square block between 27th and 28th Sts., Pacific and Pine Aves., will be dedicated at 2 p. m. May 25 and will begin receiving patients in early June.

Equipped, it will cost $1,300,000.

Of Class A construction, concrete and steel, the only wood in the building is in the doors.

It will accommodate 100 patients, and it will open with 100 doctors and 145 employes.

THE BUILDING is T-shaped, with the bar of the "T" parallel with Pine, the entrance on Pacific.

Architect was Hugh R. Davies, and Stanton-Reed Co. was contractor.

"It will be a complete general hospital, equipped for major and minor surgery, general medicine, obstetrics, pediatrics, and with X-ray facilities including the latest equipment in therapy," explains Dr. Rufus A. Davis, president of the board of directors of Long Beach Osteopathic Hospital, Inc.

ADMINISTRATOR will be David W. Lawrence, who attended the University of Minnesota, received his first hospital training at Mayo Bros., and for eight years has been administrator of the San Gabriel Valley Hospital in San Gabriel.

Robert Craig, who was graduated two years ago from the University of Arizona, and since has served in a hospital in Safford, Ariz., will be resident administrator.

Other executives include Mrs. Nellie Shideler, superintendent of nurses; Mrs. Lillian Smalley, surgical supervisor; Mrs. Ruth Ware, executive secretary; Mrs. Louise Blair, executive housekeeper.

ALL ARE OUTSIDE rooms, with glass walls overlooking the yard which will be landscaped. Color is used throughout the hospital, with walls, ceiling, vertical Venetian blinds and bedspreads coordinated in tone.

The hospital will have an intercommunication system so that a patient may speak directly with the nurse at the nurses' station, and the nurse can listen to see if the patient is breathing regularly or is tossing restlessly.

All rooms are piped for oxygen and oxygen may be "plugged in" almost as simply as plugging in an electric fixture. Rooms will have radio speakers under the patients' pillows, and patients may have a choice of five stations.

AIR CONDITIONING and circulating heat make it possible to change the air throughout the hospital in 10 minutes.

Acoustical tile in the halls and acoustical plaster in the rooms deaden noise. Dish washing will be done in a sound-proof room. Each patients' wing has a solarium where patients may enjoy the sun in a glass enclosure.

The hospital has eight single rooms; other rooms will have two beds and four beds.

Beds will be electrically controlled. Normally they will be at average height from the floor. Doctor or nurse may raise the bed and then lower it.

ON THE FIRST FLOOR are the administrative wing, doctors' library, coffee shop which will serve 40 persons, all-electric stainless steel kitchen equipped to serve 200 persons, medical wing with 34 beds, out-patient department, X-ray and pathology departments.

The second floor is occupied by operating rooms, post-operative recovery room, 36 surgical beds, and the obstetrical wing with accommodations for 20 mothers and 24 babies — someone might have twins, triplets or even quadruplets! There are two labor rooms, two delivery rooms—four babies may be delivered at one time, in an emergency. There is a fathers' waiting room which administrators promise will be comfortably furnished. There also will be a doctors' room where doctors may dictate records transcribed in the records room adjacent to the doctor's library on the first floor.

TOP FLOOR WILL be given over to internes' quarters. The hospital expects to have eight internes.

Besides Dr. Davis, officers of Long Beach Osteopathic Hospital, Inc., are J. Merrill Lilley, vice president; Dr. Philip W. Reames, secretary; Dr. Nicholas Oddo, treasurer. Other members of the executive committee are Dr. Charles Poitevin, Gus Swanson, Dr. Laurence Houts and (honorary) Joseph Madden.

David W. Lawrence (l), hospital administrator, and Dr. Rufus A. Davis, board president, look over final phases of the building's construction.

Dr. Laurence Houts, member of board and executive committee, exhibits drawing showing how hospital, grounds will look when completed.

Tom Sawyer Comes to Disneyland

DISNEYLAND is now past the half-way point in a spring construction program that will add 1½ million dollars in new rides and amusements to Walt Disney's Magic Kingdom in Anaheim.

Major areas of activity are Frontierland and the Tom Sawyer Island in the Rivers of America. More than $250,000 is being spent to make the island a "playland out of a youngster's dream."

On the island — named for and dedicated to the most famous youngster in American folklore — will be docks for fishing, hills to climb, caves to explore and an authentic replica of an old western log fort, named Fort Wilderness by Disney for the one that actually stood guard on America's frontier more than two centuries ago.

The fort will be complete even to parapets, where young marksmen can heft flintlocks and blunderbusses as they try their eye and hand in defense of the fort's rough hewn exterior.

Passage to and from the island, which is set for opening late this month, will be via Tom Sawyer rafts, Indian war canoes and Mike Fink keelboats. These will leave from several Frontierland locations along the river bank.

Frontierland itself will be the location of one of Disneyland's most spectacular attractions, The Rainbow Caverns.

Some $500,000 has been allocated by Disney for the construction of this ride — a trip aboard a cinder-spouting mine train deep into the heart of the earth. Pas-

Monstro the Whale, from the story of Pinocchio, will serve as the entrance to a new ride, Storybook Land.

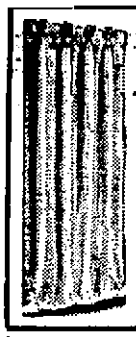

All the joys of youth on adventure—fishing, climbing, exploring—await midsummer visitors to Disneyland where Tom Sawyer Island will open soon.

Walt Disney, touring Tom Sawyer Island, stops at the old grist mill which will be part of new attraction.

Cinder-spouting antique mining train will take visitors through most spectacular of Disneyland's four new rides, the Rainbow Caverns.

COLD, UNYIELDING ALCATRAZ

A Prison as Tough as Its Inmates

By Leonard Milliman

Associated Press Staff Writer

ALCATRAZ, only nine minutes by fast boat from San Francisco, has the toughest criminals and probably the most beautiful view of any prison in America.

It also has the most stringent rules and the least hope.

The island prison is as tough and unyielding as the rock upon which it was built in San Francisco Bay by the Spaniards in the 18th century. Convicts, already hardened to penitentiary life, need six months or more to get used to the inflexible restrictions of this maximum-security federal prison.

They are never out of sight of a guard. Not even in their pastel colored five by eight foot cells, where they spend most of their time.

The island has a prized view of San Francisco. But the inmates don't see its sparkling nighttime lights. They're locked in before dark with a view only of rose-colored bars on three tiers of facing cells. There's a

First "Good Citizenship Day" press book is viewed by Mrs. F. Ray Elsey. Charlie Walter (L), Dr. A. C. Meigs. Day is believed forerunner of "I Am an American Day."

Our Patriotic 'First'

By Vera Williams

WHEN "I Am an American Day" is observed over the nation May 21, honoring foreign-born who have become American citizens, few persons will realize that the day had its genesis in Long Beach.

It began here June 27, 1939 as "Good Citizenship Day."

In the intervening years it has changed both its name and its purpose. It began as a way of honoring not foreign-born but native-born American boys and girls who had reached 21 years of age and thus had become American citizens.

Many residents remember that first "Good Citizenship Day" and its evening program in Municipal Auditorium, sponsored by Karle B. Morgan Post, American Legion, and Troop 14, Boy Scouts.

FOUR HUNDRED YOUNG persons who had become 21 years old that year received gold-bordered certificates presented by John R. Quinn, past national commander of the American Legion.

Atty. Joseph Scott of Los Angeles made a patriotic address; the municipal band directed by Herbert L. Clarke played patriotic music. Superior Judge Walter Desmond administered the oath of allegiance to the young citizens.

A group from the Long Beach Players' Guild, directed by Larry Johns and with Monte Blue as narrator, presented a skit, "When Country Calls," dramatizing the life of Nathan Hale, patriot. The skit was written by Capt. Charles D. Baylis, U. S. Marine Corps (Ret.), holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor. Capt. Baylis, incidentally, was in charge of American Legion relief work in Long Beach after the 1933 earthquake.

Cast of "When Country Calls" included Audrey Johnson, Dick Buffum, Jack Murray, Frank Fahr, Dorothy Warren, Dick Hoffman, Bob Carey, Walter Truax, Lowell Weeks, Russell Self, Walter Case Jr., Bob Davis and Fremont Shaver.

AQUEDUCT POST 342, American Legion, color guard, then national champion, presented the colors. Commander J. P. Forsander was master of ceremonies and Commander Frank H. Lash gave the invocation.

Dr. Arthur C. Meigs, commander, and Charlie Walter, adjutant, of Karle B. Morgan Post, were in charge of arrangements for the program.

Julius Young did a yeoman job of publicizing it, and the yellowing newspaper clippings compiled by Young are in a press book in the possession of Charlie Walter, shop instructor at John Dewey Continuation High School.

Walter, who was the post's first commander when it was organized in 1933 and has been its adjutant most of the time since, gives credit for "Good Citizenship Day" ("I Am An American Day") to Mrs. F. Ray Elsey, whose husband was post commander in 1938.

In 1934, Mrs. Elsey, Americanization chairman of the California District Federation of Women's Clubs, and a group of friends attended naturalization hearings in Los Angeles.

"IT'S ALL RIGHT to honor foreign born when they become American citizens," said Mrs. Elsey, "but how about our own boys and girls who become citizens when they are 21 years old? How about a program honoring them?"

When Dr. Meigs became commander of Morgan Post, he suggested Good Citizenship Day as a project.

Karle B. Morgan Post began boosting the day and the program. Mayor Clarence E. Wagner issued a proclamation calling for observance of the day.

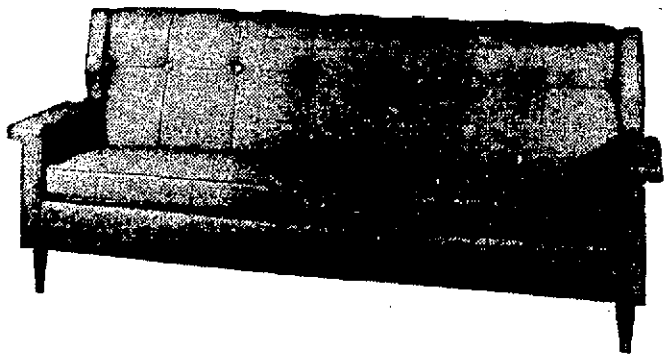

THE LONG BEACH program that night of June 27, 1939, was not the first, but the third in the nation. Previous programs were conducted in Manitowoc, Wis. (the wife of a Manitowoc professor had been in the group which had heard Mrs. Elsey make the first suggestion), and in Hollywood Bowl.

Dr. Meigs took the project to the Legion's Department of California convention, which approved it. At the national Legion convention that year it was made a mandate, "Good Citizenship Day" programs were to be an annual national project of the American Legion.

Programs were conducted in Long Beach for four years.

"We feel," say Walter, Dr. Meigs and Mrs. Elsey, "that our 'Good Citizenship Day' was the origin of 'I Am An American Day.'

"We approve of honoring foreign-born citizens, but we regret that nothing more is done in a public way to honor our own American lads and girls when they get to be 21, and citizens."

Attraction for touring Long Beach folk is this covered bridge at Knight's Ferry, constructed in 1854.

Over the Covered Bridge

By Beulah Fear

SINCE SPRING has "turned the corner," Long Beach sightseers are fanning out in every direction on interesting trips. One such trek not to be overlooked is to the Knights Ferry country, in central California. For Knights Ferry, on Hwy. 13, 12 miles east of Oakdale, is an old mining town and trading post, a relic of the Gold Rush.

This is the territory that Mark Twain and Bret Harte made famous, and it was here that the '49ers were ferried across the rampaging Stanislaus River in a crude barge by William Knight—for whom the town was named — and not by helicopter or modern ferries like those at Wilmington and Coronado. It was the first ferry on the Stockton-Sonora road which led to the Mother Lode.

HERE MAY BE seen the picuresque old covered bridge, built across the Stanislaus in 1854.

Knight arrived in 1841 with the Workman-Rowland party, a fur trader and scout for Capt. Fremont, and operated the ferry until his death. It was then taken over by John and Lewis Dent, brothers-in-law to Ulysses B. Grant, then an army captain on duty in California. Grant visited the Dents in 1854 and while there designed the bridge.

Knights Ferry was the county seat of Stanislaus County from 1862 to 1872. For a time it was called Dentville and then restored to its original name. After the bridge was built Lewis Dent joined the Army, becoming aide-de-camp to Gen. Grant. Later, during Grant's presidency, he was United States minister to Chile. The Dent home, built in the early 1850s, still stands on the hill back of the town.

Other interesting ruins there are a saw mill built in 1862, a grist mill, traces of the jail, said to be the strongest on the Mother Lode, and the ruins of a stage station.

HOLLYWOOD

Brando Sings!

NOT SINCE billboards and posters in the early days of talking pictures heralded the fact that "Garbo Talks!" has any Hollywood news item inspired such interest and curiosity as another two-word announcement stemming from Samuel Goldwyn's CinemaScope production of "Guys and Dolls."

This time, the news is—"Brando Sings!"

Normally the film capital is able to remain reasonably calm about its spectacular doings. But even the most blase of Hollywood insiders agreed that Producer Goldwyn, who has sprung many a surprise in his 43-year career, had achieved a master stroke of showmanship by casting Marlo Brando as a song-and-dance man in his multimillion dollar filmization of the record-breaking Broadway stage musical.

Brando survived Shakespeare without difficulty; now he's doing the role of a song-and-dance man.

COULD BRANDO SING? Nobody knew for sure. Goldwyn, who admittedly considers him the greatest actor, felt instinctively that so unique a performer could do anything.

The star himself was not so certain. His first reaction, as quoted by columnists, was, "I can carry a tune—if the handles are big enough. I've never sung anything that could be heard outside the shower curtain. But if Mr. Goldwyn is willing to take the risk, I might as well go along with him."

However, he did not approach the challenge of his first song-and-dance role with a leave-it-to-luck attitude. Joseph L. Mankiewicz, who wrote the screen play of "Guys and Dolls" and also directed the picture, earlier had directed Brando in another notable "first"—his introduction to Shakespeare in M-G-M's "Julius Caesar." Mankiewicz respected Brando as a "thinking actor" and knew him to be one of the hardest working members of his profession.

SEVERAL WEEKS before filming began, Brando visited a Los Angeles recording studio with Frank Loesser, composer of the original "Guys and Dolls" score. Brando sang a chorus of the song, "I'll Know," one of the numbers which he was to do in the picture as a duet with Jean Simmons. He and Loesser listened to the playback.

"Sounds like the mating call of a yak," muttered Brando.

Loesser's criticism was more encouraging. "Brando's is an untrained voice," he reported to Goldwyn, "with a pleasing, husky baritone quality. With hard work, he can do it."

THE HARD WORK began. Singly and together, Brando and Miss Simmons (also new to the song-and-dance field) spent long hours rehearsing with Loesser and Jay Blackton, musical conductor.

Brando felt he had one break. He was not called upon to sing with the second pair of "Guys and Dolls" stars, Frank Sinatra and Vivian Blaine, both, of course, celebrated vocal artists.

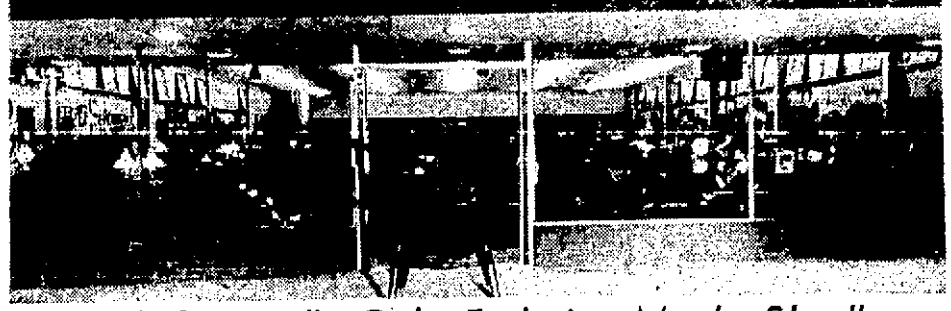

"We're stuck with each other," he told Miss Simmons. "We can just sing along together and not bother anybody but each other."

TO INSURE a minimum of nervousness on the part of the singing novices, Mankiewicz closed the set to all visitors during their musical numbers, a move which only increased the curiosity of the Hollywood scribes.

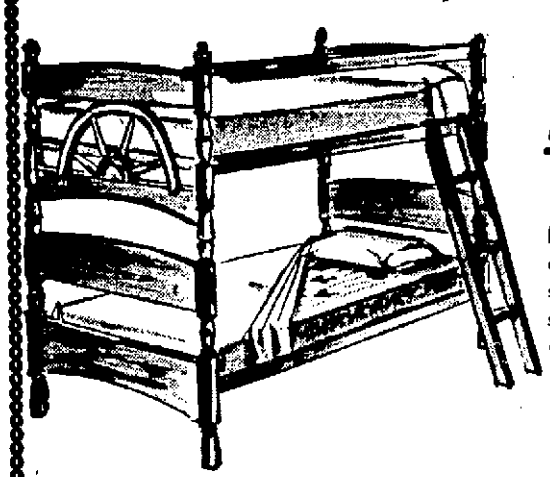

One, citing the proverbial inside dope, compared Brando's singing in quality to that of Nat King Cole.

Brando grinned when he was told this. "Nat doesn't have a thing to worry about," he said.

ALCATRAZ, TOUGHEST PRISON

closeup view of the Golden Gate. But the prisoners don't see the sun set behind it in its golden glory.

THEIR CELLS ARE repeatedly shaken down for contraband. Head counts are frequent, by guards who know most of the men by face and name. Inmates can't leave the yellow prison building atop the island without passing through a "snitch box," a metal detector so sensitive it will ring an alarm for a pocket tin of aspirin. Going or coming through the high walled prison yard, they may be subject at any time to being frisked.

There's plenty of reason for all this caution on the blood spattered rock. Death and injury have marked repeated attempts of the escape-minded prisoners. Two made it one foggy night—but presumably drowned in the swift tidal currents that sweep past the island. Capture or death by gunfire ended all other attempts.

Worst incident was the battle of Alcatraz in 1946. Marines were called in before the three-day battle ended with 5 dead and 15 injured.

THE ROCK, which has been a fortress or a prison since man first moved onto it nearly two centuries ago, may be approached only by government boat. All others must stay 200 yards away or risk the fire of tower guards.

There are 65 civilian families living on the other side of the island, from the big yellow prison on the crest of the 12-acre rock.

You see the first bars, a soothing green, as you step through the door of the 47-year-old main building. They are bars of a huge gate controlled by an officer locked in a bullet-proof control room. Only he has the key to this room. It's a protection against convicts ever getting control of the prison.

THE CONTROL ROOM is a closed cubicle protected by 2½-inch thick bullet proof glass, with closed gun portals openable only from the inside, and double sheets of two-inch steel.

The entire prison arsenal—from revolvers and pistols to machine guns and tear gas—is locked in a vault accessible only from the control room.

The control room also has an elaborate communication system with phone or radio contact to all parts of the prison, including its eight guard towers, and with the Coast Guard.

The warden, Paul J. Madigan, can cut in on this communication at any time from his office 30 feet away. If necessary, he also has two-way radio so he can talk with the prisoners, just like in the movies.

LIKE A PRISONER, anyone visiting Alcatraz is never out of sight of a guard. He soon discovers that the prison has many barred gates, inside and out, and all in pairs. The second gate is not unlocked until the first gate has been locked behind anyone passing through.

Beyond the gates locked from the control room, where passers-through are watched by mirrors, lies the visiting room, also gated at each end. There, once a month, a convict may have visitors. But he never comes in contact with them. Prisoner and visitor are separated by a concrete wall. They may look at each other through a small glass panel and talk by telephone.

Beyond two more locked gates, in the center of the prison, are the cell blocks.

Each cell is five by eight by eight feet tall, equipped with bed, wash basin, toilet, two bookshelves and a writing table about the size of a briefcase. There are plugs for a radio on which the prisoner may listen by earphones to either of two stations from 6 p. m. until the lights go out at 9:30 p. m.

SPORTS ARE FAVORED radio fare.

Next to sports, Warden Madigan says, "the majority prefer to hear classical music and plays. A minority likes hillybilly music."

Prisoners are locked in their one-man cubicles at 5:30 each night and stay there until 7:30 the next morning. That means all prisoners. There are no trusties among this collection of America's most dangerous convicts.

What does the man in the cell do to pass the time besides listen to the radio? Well, he can talk in low tones to his neighbor. He can read. There are 9,500 books in the library and he can have as many as four at a time. He can buy his own books. Law books are popular, for many members of this group are continually trying to escape by legal means. He can subscribe to four magazines.

He may write. He's allowed to send out three letters a week and receive seven. A handful are writing fiction. Others paint. Prisoners may own musical instruments and play them on weekends.

DURING HOURS they are out of their cells, the convicts work except for brief recreation periods in the yard. About half work in the laundry or industrial shops, and the rest around the prison in the kitchen, dining room, library, or tending a cliff-side flower garden under the watchful eyes of tower guards.

Laundry and industrial jobs are prized. Convicts can earn money there. The pay scale runs from 10 to 25 cents an hour. Highest paying jobs are piece work. Top pay drawn for a piece worker is $66 in a month. The average is around $30 or $40.

Alcatraz doesn't necessarily get the men who have led the most violent lives of crime. It receives—usually in two shipments a year—convicts who proved two difficult to handle in other federal prisons. They're mostly murderers, robbers and the most dangerous men from Army disciplinary barracks.

The food on Alcatraz may not be the finest, but the calorie count is high—3,600 a day. A typical dinner consists of two frankfurters and rolls, a bowl of hot chili, parsley potatoes, pot fried sauerkraut, buttered carrots, bread, tea, one serving of mustard and one serving of banana pudding.

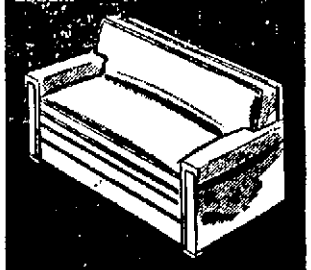

TEAR GAS BULBS, set in the ceiling, hang over the diners for use in case of riot. But they've never been used.

Prisoners can look forward to a couple of hours recreation on weekend afternoons and two movies a month.

They can dream of escaping by violent methods tried before or the more frequent petition for habeas corpus in the courts.

Or they can look forward to getting out in five years—that's the average stay at Alcatraz—by being transferred to a less confining prison with a less beautiful view.

COOKING

When the Forecast Is 'Showers'

May showers forecast June weddings and when a shower is in the offing, try peach melba meringue as treat.

By Mildred K. Flanary
Press-Telegram Home Economics Editor

JUST AS APRIL showers bring May flowers, it also follows that May showers bring June weddings. If you've a bride-to-be in your circle of friends and are planning a party for her, what could be more festive than individual baked meringues served as Peach Melba meringue for dessert?

Difficult, you say! Not so, and the thrill of serving them is well worth the effort. The fluffy snow drops of meringue baked in a circle have tiny flakes of rolled oats inside to give a toasty flavor. Nestled in the crispy mounds lies a golden peach half topped with a garnet sauce of thickened raspberries. Glamorous? It certainly is!

You'll puff with pride when your friends "oh" and "ah," but the secrets of success are simple. Using eggs at room temperature, begin adding the sugar slowly as soon as the egg whites are beaten to a soft foam. Keep adding the sugar gradually until the egg whites form glistening peaks. Just as important is a very slow oven so the meringues can dry out thoroughly before turning a delicate brown.

BE IT A SIMPLE luncheon or just a dessert party, these meringues hold a promise to delight all of your guests. You'll find that recipe featured elsewhere on this page.

Since showers are popular affairs at any time of the day — and should your guests be among the "no dessert" group, there are salads and sandwiches galore just chock full of appetite appeal, and blessed with edible promise. For the less pretentious occasion we suggest an avocado salad — but when you really want to rate yourself a halo, you'll like a hot chicken salad in cornmeal tulip cups.

The recipes for these and extra special sandwiches follow. We suggest you clip them for future use.

Avocado Salad

2 packages lime-flavored gelatine
2 cups boiling water
1½ cups cold water
¼ cup lemon juice
2 teaspoons horseradish
1 large avocado, sliced
1 cup grapefruit sections
½ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons pimiento

Dissolve gelatine in boiling water; add cold water, lemon juice and horseradish. Chill until mixture is partially set.

Carefully stir in avocado, grapefruit, celery and pimiento. Pour into mold and chill until firm. Makes 12 servings.

Hot Chicken in Cups

Chicken Salad:

3 cups cut-up cooked chicken
2 cups chopped celery
½ cup chopped blanched almonds
⅓ cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
2 tablespoons minced onion
¼ teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¾ cup mayonnaise
½ cup grated Swiss cheese

Tulip Cups:

3 cups sifted enriched flour
1 cup enriched cornmeal
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
⅔ cup water

Combine ingredients for chicken salad.

For tulip cups, sift together dry ingredients. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add water a little at a time, until dough will just hold together. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently a few seconds. Divide dough in half; roll each half out to form a rectangle 10x15 inches. Cut into six 5-inch squares. Place squares in custard cups, shaping dough against the sides of the cups and allowing corners to hang over.

Fill each pastry-lined cup with chicken salad; place cups on cooky sheet and bake in hot oven (400° F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 12 tarts.

Flower Pot Sandwiches

36 (1") cubes enriched bread
1 (3-oz.) package cream cheese
1 tablespoon milk
3 dozen whole strawberries

Pull part of the center out of each bread cube with a pair of tweezers. Combine cream cheese and milk. Spread cheese over the sides and top rim of each cube. Make crosswise cuts in the pointed top of each strawberry and spread them open like flowers, leaving the hull on. Place a strawberry flower in the center of each cube. Yield: 36 flower pot sandwiches.

Double Ring Sandwiches

2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
⅓ cup chopped cooked bacon
3 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
3 slices whole wheat bread
3 slices enriched bread
1 tablespoon soft butter or margarine
1 dozen slices stuffed green olives

Combine eggs, bacon and mayonnaise. Cut each slice of bread into 2 (2") rounds with a cooky cutter, then cut the center from half of the rounds to form circles. Use whole wheat and enriched bread, all enriched or all whole wheat bread for each sandwich. Spread butter on bread rounds, then spread with 1 tablespoon egg salad-bacon filling. Place a circle of bread over egg-bacon filling and place a slice of stuffed olive in the center of each circle. Yield: 1 dozen double ring sandwiches.

Peach Melba Meringue:

Meringue:

4 egg whites
½ teaspoon vinegar
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
½ cup rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)

Topping:

6 cooked peach halves, drained
One package frozen raspberries (1 to 2 cups)
1 teaspoon cornstarch

Add vinegar, vanilla and salt to egg whites. Beat to a stiff foam. Add sugar very gradually, about a tablespoon at a time, beating well after each addition. Continue beating until mixture stands in lustrous peaks. Lightly stir in the rolled oats.

Place heavy brown paper on cookie sheet. For each meringue, drop egg white mixture by tablespoons to form a circle on the paper. Five mounds make a nice-sized meringue. (Leave the center hollow and be sure the edges of the spoonfuls touch so meringue will hold together.) Bake in a very slow oven (275° F.) 45 minutes to 1 hour. Cool for a few minutes, then remove from paper.

Place a peach half on top of each meringue. Pour thickened raspberry sauce (made by stirring cornstarch into defrosted raspberries and heating until thickened, stirring occasionally) over peach halves. Serve immediately. Serves 6.

Kitchen Tip:

When cooking jelly or jam, add a small piece of butter and there will be no foam to skim off the top.

For Better Apartment Living

Well-chosen, small-scale furniture suits present apartment of Mrs. Della Davidson, will be right in later and larger setting.

A dropleaf table of walnut occupies little space but is quickly converted to larger size for entertaining.

By Eileen Ball

PROBLEMS of living in an apartment are apparent — at least, in part — to anyone who has ever contemplated living in one. And those who have actually occupied a unit in a multiple dwelling are even more understanding of the typical conditions that must be overcome for graciousness of living.

First and most acute of the issues is that of privacy. With more than one family occupying a single structure, the maintenance of privacy becomes very necessary but difficult to achieve.

An apartment dweller also finds himself faced with a set of surroundings that are lacking in individuality; his unit is no more "personally his" than the one upstairs or down the court. And, after all, the need to feel "at home" is just as vital to the bachelor or bachelor-girl as it is for a family in a home of its own.

In furnishing an apartment, an eye must be kept on a future goal that of someday furnishing a more permanent abode. So it behooves the apartment dweller to select furniture of a quality and style that makes it worthy of an enlarged and possibly more elaborate setting later.

LAST, THE FACT that the average apartment is small in footage does not attest to the fact that the occupant hasn't as many interests in hobbies, collections and entertaining as does the owner of a more spacious home. Consequently, it becomes necessary to give profound thought to the arrangement of furniture, to the merits of double duty furniture and to utilizing limited footage to its greatest advantage.

Mrs. Della Davidson is typical of the working girl who sought an apartment convenient to her work and then tackled the above problems, each in turn. The result is that she is living comfortably in tasteful surroundings that make the interval between now and the day she buys a house of her own satisfying and gracious.

THE APARTMENT is located at 232 E. 25th St., in a quiet, well-maintained neighborhood. However, it is downstairs on the front with windows that virtually overlook the sidewalk, a deprivation of privacy in any location.

Furthermore, the footage is small and the north exposure has a tendency to make the rooms glum without the assistance of bright, clear color.

Taking the exposure into consideration, along with the physical properties of the apartment, Mrs. Davidson's decorator was able to create an interior that is tastefully individual, that has an appearance of greater footage, that plays up the good architectural features of the unit, minimizes what is less attractive and includes items of furniture of such lasting taste and construction that Mrs. Davidson need only add to them later.

The walls of the apartment's

For sparkle, small splashes of clear citrus yellow and orange have been used. An occasional pillow of each color sparks the sofas that face each other before a bay window draped in white. And a pair of low, teak-frame Danish Dux chairs with cushions upholstered in orange

A Night in an Enchanted Forest

"A MIDSUMMER Night's Dream," Shakespeare's great comedy of young lovers and the night they spend in an enchanted forest, will be presented by Long Beach State College Department of Drama in six public performances.

Dates will be May 24, 25 and 26 and June 1 and 2. Curtain time for all evening performances will be 8:30, while the one matinee will be at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, June 2.

This will be the first time that Shakespeare has been done at LBSC.

DR. W. DAVID SIEVERS of the drama department will direct the cast of 30 students. Leading another large group of students behind the stage, Dr. John H. Green, also of the department of drama, is responsible chiefly for designing and making the original scenery.

Attractions of the production will include the appearance of Albert Ruiz' student dancers, costumes designed by Aline Gronendyke, and the use of Mendelssohn's "Incidental Music."

"A Midsummer Night's Dream" has an impressive cast containing three main groups of actors: (1) Athenian nobles (which include three pairs of lovers), (2) Athenian comic craftsmen (among whom is the memorable Bottom), and (3) the magical personages consisting of Oberon, Titania, Puck, and the fairies around them.

Other unique innovations taking shape behind stage will be featured in this large-scale presentation of Shakespeare's most glorious comedy. Working from a miniature, plastic model of the various scenes Dr. Green constructed, backstage crews are assembling three large "trucks" (platforms on rollers) easily revolved to create the illusion of a change of scene, although one is seeing simply the back of the previous scene. Using six different recordings of Mendelssohn's music, Dr. Sievers has created (through careful editing and dubbing) a composite, high fidelity tape-recording of selected passages to complement action throughout the play. This will be given stereophonic effects by the use of five amplifiers.

A night in an enchanted forest finds Demetrius (Ron Albertsen) and Lysander (Carl Pearlston) pleading love for Helena (Pat Stites) while Hermia (Susan Croxton) finds self spurned by both.

"MODIFIED GREEK classical" comes nearest to describing most of the costumes. However, those of the fairies (Moth, Peaseblossom, Snake, and the others) are a definite departure from the traditional, flowing "tutu" by suggesting the things each represents.

Equally busy with their respective duties, a good number of other students are making varied contributions essential to a successful production. Stage Manager Sally Young and her assistants are responsible for a multitude of activities—chiefly those that take place at the many rehearsals. Ruiz' dancers will perform before audiences thanks to a newly constructed forestage covering the orchestra pit and greatly extending the stage. New lighting and sound effects are being produced by John Elliott and Paul Frankel, respectively. Costumes are being made by Honore Mallet and Jack Albright with the help of Mrs. Maxine Merlino's art class in theatre design. Dick Garrett is designing an inner curtain (to be used in the true Shakespearean tradition), while Jim Isenberg heads a crew collecting props, and Charles Sone works with others on publicity.

The impish sprite, Puck, (Lee Gayer), at left, is responsible for most romantic mixups in play. Jonine Booth (right) has part of Queen of the Fairies.

It's New! Art in Correspondence

Thirty-one well-known artists—among them Ervine Metzl, Adolf Dehn, Oscar Fabres, Lorraine Fox and Tasha Tudor—set the scene for pleasant social correspondence with pen-tempting design for letter papers and notes in what American Artists Group calls its "Art in Correspondence." Designed to fill a practical need in this age of busy, informal living, the stationery puts the art of correspondence into current step with other social arts. There are letter papers, social cards and thank-you notes set in a variety of artistic themes.

TOM SAWYER IN DISNEYLAND

sengers will be treated to such visual spectacles as the Underground River showing flecks of gold in its course, the Stalactite and Stalagmite Caverns, the many-colored waterfall and a wide range of unbelievable sights, all presented with the world-famous "Disney touch."

Completion of the Rainbow Caverns is scheduled for mid-June.

SECOND OF THE "LANDS" of the Magic Kingdom to receive major attention is Fantasyland, the world of storybook-become-reality.

This summer's more than 2,000,000 visitors will find new enchantments here as they ride charming canal boats into Storybook Land, an area dedicated to the presentation — in miniature — of scenes from the world's great stories of folklore.

Entrance to the ride will be through the wide, gaping mouth of Monstro, the gigantic terror of the deep from "Pinocchio."

Scenes along the way will include Sleeping Beauty's Castle, the Seven Dwarfs' Cottage from "Snow White," English Gardens as Alice might have seen them on her "Adventures in Wonderland," and the houses of the "Three Little Pigs."

WALT'S WORLD of the Future — Tomorrowland — is receiving its share of attention, also.

Two totally new rides — both to Disneyland and the United States — will liven the Tomorrowland scene. The first, the Astrojet, has already been installed and is in full operation.

Second of these may be rated as Disneyland's most spectacular: A Skyway that will treat riders to a unique aerial view of the Magic Kingdom. Passengers will board giant aluminum baskets at both Fantasyland and Tomorrowland terminals and soar high in the air between these two lands, over Holiday Hill and the Tomorrowland Lake.

All four of Disneyland's amazing realms will be spread out beneath the passengers, offering camera fans exceptional angles for their snapshots.

THESE MAJOR additions will be only a part of the full spring expansion plan to be paid for out of the 1½ million dollar budget.

Other projects now in the process of completion include a completely new Indian Village in Frontierland, relocation of the bandstand from the Plaza to Frontierland and the development of "Magnolia Park," around the area of the Frontierland Depot.

Commenting on his plans for Disneyland's expansion, Walt Disney noted that "Disneyland will never be completed. We plan to continue to add to the park for years to come, so that each return visit will be a new experience for our guests."

BOOK REVIEWS

A Man to Be Remembered

ROLF STEINER as presented by the German writer Willi Heinrich in his novel about World War II, "The Cross of Iron" (Bobbs-Merrill, $4.50) is a man to be remembered. Steiner was brave to the point of being foolhardy, outstanding in strength among strong men and equipped with a brain which functioned best under stress. As leader of a platoon trapped behind Russian lines, Steiner met one desperate situation after another with his ice-skate thinking and unlimited bravery. And he at last brought the platoon through to the safety of German trenches —in uniforms stolen from Russian women soldiers.

This is brutally honest writing. It is a picture of the German soldier written from his viewpoint. It shows how he looked at himself, his superior officers, at the war in general. And he doesn't appear to have been much different than the American GI Joe in this respect.

The book stirred up controversy in Germany and it is likely to do the same in America. It is bound to move any reader. The author is a previously unknown ex-soldier of the German Wehrmacht. Nothing seems to have been lost in the translation by Richard and Clara Winston.—P.F.

HENRY MILLER somehow did not find himself until he went abroad in the 1930s and spent a decade in Paris. There, possibly inspired by his life of wine, women and song, he wrote "Tropic of Cancer," a sizzler which, although praised by many important figures in the literary world, nevertheless became so controversial in the United States that it was banned in most states by law. Miller's life as a writer, his good times and bad in Paris, and finally his life back in the United States (he now paints water colors at his Big Sur, Calif. home) is told by an intimate acquaintance, Alfred Perles, in "My Friend, Henry Miller" (John Day, $4). He writes interestingly, too, but with evident restraint in dealing with actual experiences with this man of the world—F. T. K.

WHEN HE WAS a small boy in Kentucky, Joseph C. Ward, now a Kentucky educator, listened fascinated as his grandfather told about his adventures as a California '49er. Ward has incorporated many of these stories in "My Grandpa Went West" (The Caxton Printers, Ltd., $4), a good book for boys and girls. Grandpa was the leader of his wagon train, he licked a bully on the banks of the Colorado, he faced Red Flannagan, the most dreaded gunman of his time. Then Grandpa had tremendous luck—he found a nugget worth $15,000! Grandpa returned by sea, taking over when the captain of the ship became incapacitated. He and the crew battled a storm. Back home, Grandpa became sheriff of Warren County, Ky., and he had a brush with the James boys. The book is illustrated by Betty Jo Roter, also a Kentuckian.

SOME OF THE BEST writing now published is done by the wide-swinging science fictioneers. Standard fiction has seemed to decrease in imagination as it gained in polish and style. But there is no frontier beyond which the authors present in "Adventures in Mutation" edited by Groff Conklin (Vanguard, $3.75) will not go. Mutations are the unexpected departures from standard beings, and writers like Murray Leinster, Fredric Brown, Theodore Sturgeon and 17 other worthies do their best work in these short stories.

SAN FRANCISCO had just about everything in its gay, unrestrained years between 1880 and the 1906 earthquake, even a famous Bohemian quarter. The "voice" of that segment of the population was a little publication called The Lark, in which its founder and editor, Gelett Burgess, put such whimsical nonsense as "The Purple Cow," which appeared as illustrated here and which subsequently became famous in its day. Oscar Lewis, one of the best chroniclers of the old west alive, writes with charm about the gaslit years of San Francisco—including Burgess—in "Bay Window Bohemia" (Doubleday, $3.95), a book every westerner will want for his library.

A BOOK which should contribute greatly to happy marriages in this busy world is "The Sexual Responsibility of Woman" (Dial, $4). Of the author, Lester S. Blumenthal, M. D., says in his introduction: "Maxine Davis has spent many years working with and writing for women. Her work is highly regarded by both lay leaders and medical men who deal with the subject . . . the author is in an excellent position to present a work of this magnitude."

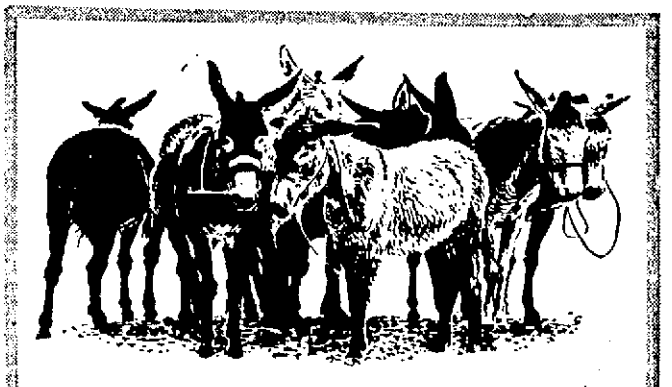

AFTER THE FAMED TRIP of Lewis and Clark to the Pacific Ocean, an interest grew in the new lands. "By Sea on the Tonguin" by Cecil Pearl Dryden (The Caxton Printers, Ltd., $4.50) is the voyage inspired by John Jacob Astor in 1810. The ship was to sail around the Horn, and to visit the Sandwich Island, and then reach the Oregon coast. This is good history, an account of a venture which resulted in the founding of Astoria and the start of the fur trade in the west.

A VERY DELIGHTFUL little book is "Two and Three Make One" by Winifred Woodley (Crown, $2.75). This account is so highly personal that it is published under a pen name, the true author being a quite well known woman writer. The years between 1935 and 1940 are given in diary form, and the reader will grow very near to the wife and mother of three children. This has a sparkle and a lilt to it, and the reader will develop a great affection for the "Woodleys."

THE MOST IMPORTANT factor in mental or physical survival of torture is a man's spirit, Edward Hunter concludes in "Brainwashing" (Farrar, Straus and Cudahy, $3.75). The book reviews specific instances of Communist brainwashing of American prisoners, mostly during the Korean war. Hunter believes Stalin saw in brainwashing a way to a "perfect" state, consisting of complete conformists.

FROM THE LEGENDS of Alexander to the skin divers of today, "Man and the Underwater World" (Putnam's, $5) traces the fact and fantasy of underseas life. Most of the book, alas, is devoted to a wearying analysis of the fantasies of mythology. Written by two Frenchmen, Pierre de Latil and Jean Rivoire, the work finally does get to modern-day skin diving and thus, finally, becomes interesting.—G. C. F.

"MAD RIVER" is one of two new Dell First Editions now on the stands at 25 cents. In it, Donald Hamilton tells a fast-moving yarn typical of the new westerns where the characters are not all white or black but varying shades of gray. Western fans will like it. The second book is "Atlantic Avenue" by Albert Halper. It is a good story of the frustrated people who inhabit the New York street.

SOME OF THE MOST APPEALING glimpses of the west ever to find their way into print won quick acceptance in 1943 when David Lavender, now a Southern Californian, published his "One Man's West." Revised and brought up-to-date to include a chapter on uranium, this book has just been reissued (Doubleday $3.95) for more westerners to "discover" and enjoy. A wealth of line drawings by William Arthur Smith, which includes the one reproduced above, spark the attractive new edition.

stand side by side within the conversational grouping.

A small dining area has been furnished with a plain and handsome walnut drop leaf table that may be readily expanded for company dining. Chairs are walnut of contemporary design with seats upholstered in a fabric compatible with the sofas.

IN THE DINING area hangs an amusing scroll bordered top and bottom with black lacquered wood dowels. On the scroll are depicted abstract snipe designs in the clear, bright greens, yellows and oranges used to highlight the apartment's color scheme.

The one other accent to the setting is seen in brass accessories that have been used with effectiveness. A table lamp stands on a triangular teak table within the living room bay, its base of gleaming brass copied from an eastern altar candlestick, its shade a large unadorned drum of pure white linen.

On the dining table stands a second brass candlestick together with a smaller brass candelabra of different design.

And to carry the color accent a step further Mrs. Davidson keeps a simple wicker basket of oranges and lemons on the table. Their usefulness in the kitchen is superseded by their aesthetic merits in the living area!

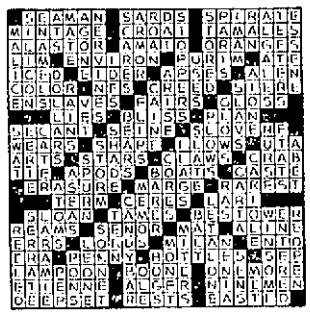

THE BEDROOM FEATURES a long, low walnut chest that serves as a spacious dresser but that is capable, in a new setting, of taking its place in living or dining area. (Mrs. Davidson was careful to avoid making major expenditures for furniture that hadn't an affinity for doing more than one job.)

The good-looking lamp that stands on the chest has a white ceramic base with an abstract design that, like a color wheel, progresses from yellow tones at the top to purples at the bottom. The drum shade is white. Here, again, is an item that can be used again in another setting in an entirely different capacity and be equally as "at home."

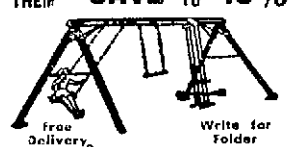

The small windows of the bedroom have been camouflaged behind a solid area of white, pleated traverse draperies like those of the living area. Besides creating a sense of continuity between the two rooms, the uninterrupted use of a single fabric for draperies throughout the apartment has the advantage of giving Mrs. Davidson more latitude in their re-styling for another place, should a move develop.

Going to Hawaii? Take Snorkel

THERE'S A NEW WAY of sightseeing in Hawaii — underwater swimming.

It's known as "snorkel swimming" and any swimmer can do it. Simply don fins, mask and snorkel, paddle around on the surface of the water at Waikiki, and you'll feel as if you were in an aquarium, according to Pan American World Airways. It adds an extra dimension to island vacationing and makes every visitor his own glass-bottomed boat.

The swimming mask, which covers eyes and nose, gives crystal-clear vision of the underwater world: Golden fish, striped fish, game fish, coral growths in colors, sand formations, and the limpid blue of the water itself.

The famous beach at Waikiki isn't the only spot where you can enjoy this fast-growing sport. The beaches of Maui Island, near the Hana-Maui Hotel, and the Maui Palms are rich in underwater wonderlands.

Equipment charges are nominal on the islands. Good quality fins run around $4, masks at $3 and $4, and snorkels from a dollar to $3.50. A complete underwater outfit costs less than $10.

For the better swimmer, skin diving and spearfishing are found at their best in the deeper Hawaiian waters.

Beautiful underwater scenery waits diver in Hawaii.

A GOOD SPOT for this is the reef area outward from Waikiki Beach. The bottom here is dark coral, with coral growths sprouting up from it. The sparkling, pale blue underwater world contrasts with the lush green mountains, blue skies and cotton-white clouds the moment you put your face mask under water and look around.

You seem to be floating over a new and beautiful world. Down below there are different types of coral: chartreuse mushroom, lace, cabbage, brain and rosy-colored coral. Brilliantly colored fish dart about. Occasionally a sea-going turtle lumbers past.

A swim out to this region is advisable only for experienced swimmers. Others can rent an outrigger canoe from Hale Auau next door to the Surfrider Hotel at Waikiki.

There are other swimming spots near Waikiki, like Hanauma Bay and Makapu Beach, that offer new sights for skin divers. One good idea is to rent a car and explore these spots.

Totem Pole

Spectacular example of Alaskan Indians' craftsmanship is this totem pole in Saxman Village near Ketchikan, a leading seafood processing center.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH DELAPLANE

"You say European travel is a bargain. But not among our friends who are all in the young married class where each extra dollar counts. Why not figure a short cut for us under the $1,000 mark?"

IF YOU HAVE a lot of friends in this class, you might be able to cut it to $700 by charter flying. The CAB is making it pretty easy for groups to fly—ski clubs, camera clubs, motor scooter clubs and such. The charter flights carry 68 people on DC-4s. That cuts the heavy transportation cost quite a bit.

Once in Europe you can go into renting those little Volkswagen buses. Or bicycles. Or motor scooters. First thing you need is a club of 68 people. Then you'd better write the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington and ask them the rules on charter flights.

* * * *

"Do you know much about motor scooter travel in Europe? We are young. . . ."

FROM SEEING the motor scooter traffic, I think you need to be young. Europe can be pretty rainy. And if I were going anywhere by motor scooter, I would invest first in one of those Navy weatherproof rubber suits.

Most of the scooters I have seen in Europe were Italian Vespas or Lambrettas, though I hear the Austrinn Puch is good. The gas mileage runs as high as 100 miles per gallon. Traffic is not a problem since most European drivers are used to them. I hit one in the south of France and the repair bill was only $3.

I think asking at the Italian or Austrian tourist offices in any large city (or write New York) would give you ideas on cost.

Just like buying foreign cars, the seller arranges for your papers for border crossing (the carnet de passage) and your license. Or they can send you to the nearest automobile club. All the European clubs have some sort of interlocking memberships.

"Are there good motels in Mexico? And which highway would be best for entering and finding good accommodations?"

I THINK motels export badly. The best ones are all in the States. I saw a couple that looked all right in Mexico. But the Mexican hotels are so inexpensive, I have an idea they are better.

For entering Mexico, Laredo or Brownsville from the East. Nogales or El Paso from the West. Good accommodations on all of them. Use the AAA guide "Motoring in Mexico" to pick them. Gasoline is always uncertain on the best Mexican highways. Don't let the gauge go below half. Ask each time you fill if there is gasoline farther along. If you run out, flag a truck driver and buy some out of his tank. Most of them will listen to offers of double the price. Strain the gas you get from them, even if you only put it through a handkerchief.

* * * *

"What about third class train travel in Europe? Cheap?"

YES, BUT pretty rough riding, too. I hear they are dropping all third class in Europe this year and making it either second or first. Second class is usually OK from Switzerland north. Not so good in the southern countries.

A Day to Focus on Mother

By the Shutterbug

MOTHER'S DAY is one dear to the hearts of all families, and one which just naturally makes everybody think about pictures — pictures to take and pictures to give.

Each family's own special way of honoring Mother is worthy of record. Your own version of the whole "Queen-for-a-day" story—from Dad's serving her breakfast in bed to the children's good-night kiss—will make a series of wonderful pictures that Mother can enjoy over and over all through the year.

AMONG THE GIFTS that Mother will treasure are pictures of various members of her family in an album especially compiled for her. So, this week is a good time to collect the family snapshots from their hiding places in odd drawers and boxes and make up an album as a surprise for Mother. Other gifts will be doubly welcome if they carry an extra dividend of pictures, too. A leather wallet for Mother will look twice as handsome to her if its transparent identification pockets hold snapshots of the family. And so will a locket or one of the new watch bands with place for tiny pictures of those she holds dear.

AN ENLARGEMENT of an especially good picture of Dad and the children—framed appropriately for her desk or dresser—is another gift that says "I Remember Mama" in a way that's sure to please any mother. Or perhaps you might want to take a series of small snapshots—one of each member of the family—and arrange them in a long narrow frame to grace her dressing table.

As you can see, the day set aside to honor Mother is one on which pictures really have their day, too!

PART II of "Holiday Through Europe" by James Unsworth and "Along Camino Real" by Warren Nash will be viewed by the Long Beach Cinema Club following a potluck dinner at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday in Houghton Park Clubhouse.

LONG BEACH Camera Guild will have a color slide competition at 8 p. m. Wednesday in Municipal Art Center, 2300 E. Ocean Blvd.

BROWNIE CAMERA owners are a wonderful clan and for their benefit the Eastman Kodak Co. has published a new 32-page manual (35c) aimed at helping them to get better pictures. The booklet is copiously illustrated in black-and-white and in color and is made gay with illustrations by Charles M. Schulz, creator of the comic strip, "Peanuts." The next is carefully composed to give the maximum lesson in minimum of words. Black-and-white and color are discussed and the mechanics of the Brownie camera and the tricks of using it are made plain. Kodak dealers have the book.

Pictures like this, taken on Mother's Day, are perfect for the family album.

When Pets Are 'Expecting'

Universal appeal of pet motherhood is symbolized in this lion dog and puppies, owned by William Kelders.

By Eleanor Avery Price

PREPARATION for motherhood of a cat, dog, or other litter-bearing pet starts when the animal is young, for through correct nourishment and a happy environment, the pet's make-up is readied to accept the responsibility of becoming a parent.

During her time of "expectancy" and after birth of her family, the pet needs a specially inclusive diet. The health of the young and the mother are dependent upon it. While the mother pet is carrying her babies, she must keep herself nourished and she must build bodies of bone and blood. Later, she must create milk.

So step up fats, proteins and minerals during the period of gestation and maintain them at an adequate level during the nursing period.

Have fresh water available at all times. The mother pet may be especially thirsty immediately after delivery. And she will want a lot of liquid to help produce ample milk for her litter.

GENTLE EXERCISE in mild form is good but never work an animal during her pregnancy. Walking, especially during the last week, should also be limited.

As the whelping time approaches, trim hair away to prepare her for suckling, and clean her carefully.

You will probably have noticed that your expectant pet has been trying to fix a nest in a closet, on a bed, in the garden, in the garage, or some other place. You should have a good spot selected for her, one ample enough in size so that she will not step on or lie on her young. A child's playpen with sides lined with some material that does not sliver, makes a fine nest, especially for puppies. We suggest one-eighth inch Masonite on the sides, and one-fourth inch on the floor for complete protection.

PLACE A HEAVY padding in the box or playpen, something that can be thrown out after the mother has cleaned her newborn. Irritation with its resultant infection of the navel accounts for thousands of deaths of puppies annually. Kittens are not quite so apt to be harmed, but they need a padding in their nest, nevertheless.

Replace the padding with another after the birth is completed and cover adequately with material that will not get into the mouths of the babies while they are nursing. Dehydrated sugar cane is considered good. The bedding should be changed frequently as the youngsters grow.

IF YOU ATTEND the mother pet during birth, she will be reassured and will trust you with her babies. If the litter is large, as each young is born and is attended to by the mother, place it in a warm dry place while the mother pet takes care of the next arrival. Try not to let her notice this.

When the litter is born and the mother is relaxed, give her all her babies, unless the litter is so large she cannot possibly nurse them all at once. Some dogs have been known to have 16 puppies at one birth! In such instances, supplementary diet is usually necessary.

IT IS A NATURAL function for the mother to eat the placenta and to lick her babies dry, so do not be offish about this. Instead, be on the lookout for any trouble. If the amniotic sac does not break to release the young, and the mother pet does not break it, you must do so or the tiny creature will suffocate. You must also take hold of the cords and pull out any sacs remaining inside the mother's body.

If there is any trouble during birth, call a veterinarian immediately. In fact, it is a fine idea to call him when you pet starts to whelp. If nothing else, he can calm you!

HOW TO Install Brick Edgings and Mowing Strips for Your Lawn and Garden

BRICK has many advantages for edgings and mowing strips. There is almost no maintenance, it will last the life of the garden and it gives a wide choice of patterns to match any style house or garden.

Used brick gives a garden a weathered, comfortable appearance and is worth looking for. It is frequently less expensive than new brick, but demand for used brick in home building has held the price up. New brick may be easier to match if you add more borders or edgings later.

1. SIMPLE EDGING of bricks, laid side by side, makes neat boundary and mowing strip between lawn and flower border. Set level with soil on a tamped sand base, two inches deep.

2. TO MAKE LOW retainer, set mortared bricks on end on mortar base. Bricks can be sunk an inch or so for extra stability if height isn't needed. Check level often as you work.

3. BRICKS PLACED flat and two deep appear more substantial, but they need mortar, too. Use tamped cinder or gravel base to prevent cracking. Set higher units on mortar base.

4. USE BRICKS end to end to make mowing strip next to house where extra width isn't necessary. Tamped soil base works well, but a little sand in trench makes leveling easier.

A Call to Garden Adventure

Photos by W. Atlee Burpee Co.

By Murtha Hurley

MANY GARDENERS consider it a challenge and adventure to grow flowers from seeds. They enjoy trying their skill each year with the new flowers developed by plant hybridizers.

Newcomers in the flower world are particularly handsome for 1956. They include Kismet zinnia, Pinocchio petunia, blue peony aster, Floradale Rose snapdragon and orange mum marigold.

Kismet introduces a color entirely new to zinnias, an exotic, radiant Persian red. The flowers are fully double, giant size, five inches across, and have delicately quilled petals. The loosely arranged petals give the flower an airiness different from the stiff appearance usually associated with zinnias.

In massed beds and borders, the plants, three feet tall, make a strikingly handsome display. For an exciting color flash use Kismet zinnias in the foreground of shrubbery. Give them full sun.

PINOCCHIO PETUNIA is a charmer, a spreading, bedding type hybrid, unusually vigorous. Plants are compact, many branched, grow 1½ to two feet tall. The flowers are beauties, an unusual color combination of salmon-cerise with a pleasing undertone of orange. They are large and slightly star-shaped. Give the plants a sunny bed, border or window box, or grow

"I JUST WANT GRASS"

And you want it in a hurry, right? What's more, you need the kind of grass that can survive rough treatment... from pounding feet, dragging clothesbaskets, kids, dogs, more kids, wagons, trikes. So, plant Northrup King PAR Lawn Seed. It's a blend of hardy fast-sprouting grasses. These are grasses that quickly produce a thick sturdy turf, with a minimum of care. Count on PAR to grow a rugged lawn for work and play.

For a quick economy lawn plant NORTHRUP KING PAR Lawn Seed.

NORTHRUP KING LAWNFOOD... feeds your lawn 2 important ways. It contains fast-acting chemical nitrogen for immediate growth and color, plus slower-working organic nitrogen for season-long growth and root development. 50 lbs. covers 5000 sq. ft. Goes further, so it costs less!

NORTHRUP KING WEED KILLERS. Spray away lawn weeds, using your garden hose! No complicated mixing or measuring. 2, 4-D WEED KILLER kills most broadleaved weeds. Pint covers 2000 sq. ft. CRABGRASS KILLER kills crabgrass, also controls many common lawn diseases. Pint covers 1200 sq. ft.

In the garden or for use as cut flowers, gladiolus is one of most-popular.

Garden Sag? Try Glads

EASY TO GROW, delightful for decorating — that's the gladiolus, the All-American favorite among summer-blooming bulbs—a real lift for a drab garden.

Glads, reaching 18 to 24 inches in height, feature tubular and flaring blooms in a variety of hues. For majestic, spectacular arrangements use the taller varieties. The smaller species fill the bill for light, dainty arrangements. Outdoors, glads may be planted in straight rows, military fashion; or in clusters of a dozen or so single-colored plants in a border.

For a lengthy blooming season, plant gladiolus at 15-day intervals from now until July 1. This will insure your garden of blooming brightness throughout summer and fall. Before planting, treat the bulbs with an all-purpose dust, such as Botano Deluxe, for protection against diseases and pests. Put about two tablespoonfuls of the dust in a paper bag, add the bulbs, and shake gently until each bulb is covered thoroughly with the dust.

Garden Tips

GARDENING TIPS for the week . . . This is the time of the year when mums must be kept in active growth. Water them often and apply sufficient food to sustain their rapid growth.

Fuchsias are now in flower and may be seen at nursery yards. This is a good time to make selections as you can see the plants at their best.

From the middle of May on, depending on where you live, gardeners begin to set out chrysanthemums that have been rooted in pots or flats. When you put them in the ground, plant them in double rows a foot apart, 2½ feet between the double rows. In this way, you can get about a third more plants in the same space. Water them well about once a week unless you have heavy soil which doesn't dry out too rapidly. In any case, keep them moist. Then, when plants are about three inches tall, take the center out to make them send out new shoots. If you're trying for exhibition blooms, choose the best two shoots and keep them growing, pinch off all the side shoots.

them in pots to dress up a terrace or patio.

Blue Peony aster is another beauty. The flowers are fully double, very large, and a most exquisite, clear azure blue shade. The two-foot-high plants are vigorous all summer, bloom till late fall.

ONE OF THE MOST unusual of the "new" flowers is brilliant orange mum marigold. It looks exactly like a huge, specimen-type chrysanthemum, the flower four inches across, the color a vivid, clear orange. Blooms are fluffy, ball-like, and made up of numerous, finely cut florets, intertwined in true mum form. The plants are sturdy, grow 2½ feet tall, stage a flower show all their own in the garden all through summer and fall. Give them full sun, the warmer the better.

Both marigolds and zinnias do better if their seeds are sown directly into the garden bed. Sow marigold seeds from March to July. When the plants are six to 10 inches high they should be pinched back to produce bushy plants and an abundance of flowers.

NEW FLORADALE ROSE snapdragon has large, bright rose-pink flower spikes on two-foot-high plants. There is a pleasing soft yellow blotch on the palate of the flower. The plants are sturdy, grow two feet tall, make stunning arrangements and are colorful in the garden.

Seeds are best sown in seed flats from July to October for fall and winter blooms and from November to February for spring and early summer bloom. The plants should be pinched back when six to eight inches high.

If the seed bed is covered with a gunny sack and watered from above, with vermiculite and sand in equal quantities mixed with well pulverized soil as a starting mixture, petunia and aster seeds can be sown in open ground.

Decorating: Here's Help

THIS IS the season when the average housewife yearns to rearrange the living room furniture, make changes in drapes or slipcovers, or redecorate her home or apartment.

To help meet this seasonal urge, Leila Seward, head of the art and philiosophy department, called attention to books at the Long Beach Public Library on interior decorating, room arrangement, painting and wall papering and other related subjects.

"Books can make the job of home decorating easier and the results more successful," the librarian said.

ONE OF THE MOST comprehensive and widely used of the books on interior decorating is Helen Koues' "The American Woman's New Encyclopedia of Home Decorating." The 1,000-page book, which includes numerous illustrations in both color and black and white, covers all phases of home furnishings and decorating. Hundreds of practical ideas are presented for making a home or apartment more attractive.

"Designs for Living," by Katherine M. Ford and Thomas H. Creighton, which was published in recent months, has some 175 photographs illustrating outstanding examples of interior design.

ANOTHER RECENT book, "Ladies Home Journal Book of Interior Decoration?" has an especially helpful section on "Practical Planning" which gives suggestions for making decorating easy and effective.

Other books which are available include "Creative Home Decorating," "How to Decorate and Light Your Home," "Decorating on a Budget," "Good Taste in Home Decoration," "Inside Today's Home," "Decorate Your Home for Better Living," "The Home Decorator's Guide," Today's Woman — "Small Home Decorating" and "How to Color-Tune Your Home."

FRANCOIS RICHMOND
Prestol Flaming Duckling

QUITE OFTEN on these mild spring evenings, patrons with expectant gleams in their eyes arrive at the Manhattan Restaurant, 1909 E. 4th St., and announce: "We're out here from New York, visiting. Is this the place where they serve that fabulous flaming duckling?"

Others arrive from such far-away places as New Orleans, Chicago and Seattle. All have heard, by word of mouth, about the Manhattan's flaming duckling and, of course, they all order it.

They're never disappointed.

This dish was originated by the Manhattan's continental owner-host, Francois Richmond. Served for two persons for $3.50 each, it consists of a whole, beautiful Long Island duckling roasted to perfection and accompanied by a delicious Bigardarde orange sauce, candied yams and wild rice. Richmond often serves it himself, pouring on liqueurs as he gives the duckling its finishing touches at the guests' table. At the proper dramatic moment he ignites the duckling and it bursts into a blue flame which burns for approximately a minute. Then he serves the delicately browned fowl and watches the expressions of delight in the guests' eyes as they savor the first mouthful.

OTHER DISHES served at the Manhattan are just as pleasing. Chicken Saute Manhattan, for $2.50, is an extraordinary treat, served on a bountiful complete dinner which includes chilled relishes (filets of sardine, garbanzo beans, stuffed celery, pickled peppers, etc.), second and third helpings of French soup, tossed salads, vegetables, choice of beverage and dessert. The chicken is boned, lightly breaded and sauteed in butter and olive oil. Atop it goes Virginia ham and mushrooms sauteed in white wine and butter.

An outstanding bargain is Swiss Steak cooked in wine, served for only $2 on the same big dinner. Just as popular is pot roast with potato pancakes for $2.10, served on Saturday evenings only.

The Manhattan is open every day except Monday.

IT WAS ALL IN FUN

Gridiron Grills Ike, Democrats

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower, Democratic contenders and politicians in general got a good-natured hiding Saturday night from Washington's famed Gridiron Club.

So did the "Russian Twins," Bulganin and Khrushchev, oil lobbyists, Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams and a host of others.

The occasion was the newspaper organization's 71st annual dinner, at the Hotel Statler. The President was the guest of honor in an imposing assemblage.

Only toast of the dinner, in tradition of the club, was to Mr. Eisenhower. His reply was off the record, under club rules that "reporters are never present." Also off the record were speeches by Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts, for the Republicans, and Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, for the Democrats.

Tenor of the club show was political. Gridiron President Roscoe Drummond delivered the keynote in his opening "speech in the dark."

"Surely," said Drummond, "the President must be pleased tonight to see among us so many fine conservative humanitarians—those Republicans eager to march forward with Eisenhower—protesting every step of the way."

To the Democrats, he said:

"After moderately long deliberation a jury of Democrats has found Ike not guilty—and sentenced (Vice President) Nixon to hang."

IN THE FROLICKSOME SKITS that followed, candidate Eisenhower was portrayed as a "country club front porch" campaigner who abandoned trains and planes for golf clubs and fishing rods. But there were constant reminders.

The porch of the "full-time country club" was the setting for the planning of the Eisenhower "campaign." Men and women in sports clothes crowded the porch, among them two physicians with stethoscopes, as Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey and Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty discussed the "ease and economy of a country club front porch campaign."

When they heard a train whistle in the distance, however, they called upon presidential doctors Paul Dudley White and Howard M. Snyder for an opinion. A member impersonating Dr. White sang to the tune of "Summertime":

"Summer time, time for taking it easy,
Fish are biting and golfing is fine,
And the G. O. P. on the front porch is resting,
For whistle stops sure are out of line."

Sherman Adams, to the tune of "Honey Babe," was portrayed as president in all but name. Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland, who withdrew as a GOP presidential candidate after Mr. Eisenhower announced, mournfully sang a parody of "You Made Me Love You."

DEMOCRATS WERE lampooned in a skit at a "Democratic Barn Dance." The Democratic leaders portrayed there, however, turned out to be practically all city fellows in gray flannel suits who only talked about the farm problem. A character impersonating Adlai E. Stevenson was introduced as that "big butter and egghead man"; Sen. Estes Kefauver as "the guy who waylaid an egghead; it put new zip and zest into Adlai."

Tammany leader Carmine DeSapio and New York City's Mayor Robert W. Wagner took up the cudgels for Gov. Averell Harriman. But Sen. Hubert Humphrey declared "We can't have Harriman without getting that other fellow, too." The "other fellow" proved to be Mr. Truman. Wagner, in reply, sang to the tune of "Love and Marriage,":

"Ave and Harry, Ave and Harry
Stu and Estes had best be wary
Listen to me, brother,
You can have one, You might have none, but
You can't have one without the other."

The Democratic skit ended with "Mr. Truman" singing a parody of "Sixteen Tons"—the 16 tons being the material the former president worked through in writing his recent memoirs. The chorus:

"Sixteen tons. What has he got?
Some facts that are true and others that are not.
Saint Peter, if you want him, best use a noose.
He owes his soul to Hen-ry-ee Luce."

Sip of Beer Tips Law, 'Cans' Boy!

NORWALK — A 16-year-old boy took a swig from a can of beer Saturday afternoon and wound up being charged with three misdemeanor violations and one felony.

Motorcycle officer S. C. Smith, of the California Highway Patrol, spotted the lad standing near a damaged auto parked in a service station lot just off the Santa Ana Freeway, near Shoemaker Ave. When the juvenile drank from a can of beer he was holding, the officer decided to investigate. He learned that the teenager had no operator's license, the car in his possession had previously been reported stolen and the lad apparently had been driving while under the influence of liquor.

When a Pico motorist arrived at the scene and identified the boy as the driver who had been involved in a minor collision with his auto at Esperanza and Marilla Aves., a charge of misdemeanor hit-run driving was added.

The juvenile was booked and held at the Norwalk sheriff's station pending further action by juvenile authorities.

Ike Golfs After MD Check-Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—A beaming President Eisenhower got a doctors' report Saturday that his heart is "well healed" and his general health good. He promptly took off for the golf course by way of celebration.

A report issued after two days of head-to-toe tests at Walter Reed Hospital said the President "has shown good tolerance to increasing physical activity" over the six months since his discharge from Fitzsimmons Hospital in Denver. It was there that he was treated for the coronary thrombosis he suffered Sept. 24.

The chief executive was described as "physically active and mentally alert."

• • • •

X-RAYS, the report continued, show no change in the shape or size of the heart and also disclosed that the heart beats at "a normal rate and rhythm." It said there is no enlargement or bulging of the scar.

The report was signed by Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton, commander of the hospital, Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston heart specialists who was called in after the President's heart

AF Rehires Man Fired as Risk

Given Non-Security Post; House Checks Up on Russ Clerk

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles Saturday personally restored Sidney Hatkin, suspended Air Force statistician, to the government payroll — but in a "non-sensitive position."

Hatkin, suspended 14 months as a security risk, recently revealed that a Russian Embassy clerk tried to hire him to dig up secret military information.

Quarles restored Hatkin's back pay and put him in a job of comparable grade and pay to the one he left, but without access to security information.

Hatkin told the United Press, "I feel relieved. I feel as if my life had been restored to me."

He said he would get about $6,000 in back pay, less deductions.

Hatkin said he got a job in private industry about three weeks ago at lower pay than his Air Force position. He said he would accept Quarles' offer, though "there are certain considerations" favoring a private job.

• • • •

HE SAID he spent seven months on his original sensitive Air Force post, then was in a non-sensitive job for 11 months before his suspension.

"I was shifted from office to office" in these 11 months, he said.

His attorney, Joseph Freehill, told the United Press he believed Quarles, as a "fair-minded man," would soon "see his way clear" to restoring Hatkin's security clearance.

Hatkin had contended that he demonstrated his loyalty by reporting to the FBI when Vladimir Mikheev, a Russian embassy clerk who posed as a student, tried to hire him to collect information.

Freehill said he talked with Quarles for an hour Saturday. He said a letter restoring Hatkin to the federal payroll will be mailed Monday. Hatkin will go to work immediately, Freehill said.

Disclosure of the Hatkin case had brought congressional protests.

Chairman Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo.) of the Senate judiciary subcommittee on constitutional rights, wrote Quarles urging that he re-examine the case.

Former Sen. Guy Gillette, general counsel of the Hennings' subcommittee, said earlier last week he would recommend that the subcommittee look into the case.

• • • •

HOWEVER, the House committee on Un-American Activities began investigating Mikheev's activities. Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) urged that Mikheev be expelled from the country.

Russ See New Bomb Tactic by U.S. Jets

BILL BROOM
(I. P-T Capital Bureau)

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. — With Soviet observers watching from the sidelines, Uncle Sam's jet jockeys this week revealed a new nuclear counterpunch—delivery of atomic bombs by faster-than-sound fighter planes.

• • • •

OBSERVERS from more than 40 foreign nations were among the spectators at a three-hour aerial firepower demonstration packed with more pyrotechnics than a supply dump explosion.

Even our allies were surprised at the toss-bombing technique. Its existence opens up new concepts of tactical and strategic use of atomic bombs.

• • • •

HERE'S HOW the Air Force did it at Eglin, a sprawling proving ground tucked into the swamps along North Florida's Gulf coast.

An F-100 Super Sabre skimmed into sight over the treetops, crossed the target and then arched upward in a vertical climb at better than 500 miles an hour. At 6,000 feet, it released the bomb.

At the split-second of release, the pilot rolled his craft over on its belly and headed back to his base. The bomb continued upward along the plane's former course, momentum carried it to about 10,000 feet before gravity stopped its flight.

By the time it was detonated, the Super Sabre was out of sight.

Cleveland, Flint Hit by Blasting Storms

By Associated Press

Tornadoes and violent windstorms hit populous areas of Michigan and Ohio Saturday night, killing at least 10 persons and injuring more than 125.

Six were known to have died and at least 24 were hurt as severe wind and rain lashed greater Cleveland late Saturday night. Widespread property damage was reported.

Four others were killed in lower Michigan, where injuries to more than 100 were counted.

• • • •

THE WEATHER BUREAU said the danger of additional tornadoes in lower Michigan would exist until 2 a.m.

Warnings of possible tornadoes also were issued for parts of extreme northeast Illinois, except for the Chicago area; northern Indiana, the southernmost tip of Wisconsin, a segment of Iowa and the northwest corner of Ohio.

Three persons were killed and several injured when a tavern was wrecked by wind on Cleveland's southwest side. Two men were killed when they came into contact with a felled power line.

Southlanders' Plane Hunted in Northwest

Search for a missing private plane with four Southern Californians aboard centered in southwestern Washington Saturday after a fisherman reported seeing a smoking plane north of Ridgefield, Wash.

Pilot of the missing Cessna 170 is A. D. Posten of Redondo Beach. Also aboard are his wife, Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Leep of La Mirada.

Ray Murray of Vancouver, Wash., told search officials he spotted a small plane belching smoke between 6 and 7 a.m. Friday at the junction of the Lewis River and Lake Merwin, about 40 miles northeast of Ridgefield.

Maj. Al Larson of the Civil Air Patrol here immediately sent additional search planes and a helicopter to the area. Larson said he also was checking to determine if any other small planes were in the area at the time.

Murray said he did not see the plane close enough to determine whether it was the red and white Cessna 170 which was reported missing Friday on a flight from Renton, Wash., to Eugene, Ore.

Search craft from three bases were looking for the missing plane.

Eight planes based at Pearson Field were covering an area south to Salem in the search.

Swimmer's Neck Broken in Dive

A 14-year-old Riverside boy suffered a broken neck when he dove off rocks near Corona del Mar into three feet of water Saturday afternoon.

Bennie Duane West was in serious condition at Hoag Memorial Hospital in Newport Beach late Saturday night.

The boy's uncle, Burton West, 40, told Newport Beach police he had brought Bennie and three other boys on an outing Saturday.

Fear-Crazed Man Fights Off 3 Rescuers in Flaming Room

GARY, Ind. (AP)—Fire swept through the top four floors of the six-story Gateway apartments in downtown Gary Saturday night, and one fear-crazed man was known to have died after fighting off rescuers.

Assistant Fire Chief Joe Erdelac said he and two firemen climbed a ladder to the fifth floor and tried to rescue the man but had to leave him. Erdelac said the man knocked all three of them down in his flaming room, and they barely escaped.

• • • •

THE MAN was later found to be dead in the still-burning hotel. Erdelac tentatively identified him from the register as Barney McGowan, about 50.

Firemen said several persons were injured.

One man was rescued by a ladder run across from an adjoining building.

Firemen appeared to have the blaze confined to the one building, which they said would be a total loss.

• • • •

ALL AVAILABLE fire equipment was rushed to the building, home of 95 families. Some of the residents were removed by firemen using aerial ladders, but most of the residents were able to walk to safety.

Residents reported the fire began with an explosion in the area of the elevator shaft on one of the middle floors.

Fire Chief Joe Zale said he understood the injured woman had been carried from the building by firemen.

Zale also said firemen were searching for a man they had heard shouting in the center of the building.

Mother of 3 Is Crowned Mrs. America

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Cleo Maletis, a 31-year-old former New York dress designer from Oregon, who was so overwhelmed she couldn't talk, was crowned Mrs. America Saturday night.

Mrs. Maletis is a member of the Greek Orthodox Church and her husband, Chris Maletis, is a vice president of a beverage company, in Portland.

She is the mother of three children.

When she regained her composure, she said "I feel very humble. I owe this honor to my family, to my mother, my father and my God."

She was wearing a dusty rose satin and net gown.

She is 5 feet 5, weighs 122 pounds, has brown eyes, brown hair and a sparkling personality.

Her three children are Chris, 7; Thomas, 4, and Edward, 2.

Mrs. Louisiana, Anne Mitchell of Monroe, was second, and Mrs. Ohio, Gloria Buth of Columbus, was third.

Cars Kill Six in L.A. County in One Day

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Six persons lost their lives in highway accidents in the Greater Los Angeles area Saturday and a seventh died as a result of an earlier accident.

Police reported Adolph Harper, 47, and Ralph C. Eichert Jr., 24, both of Los Angeles, and another man as yet unidentified, died when their car overturned six times in the Westchester District.

The other fatalities:

Robert M. Kelley, 36, Santa Monica, a state highway patrolman, was killed when his motorcycle collided with a heavy truck near Palmdale.

Roger Orcutt, 21, Los Angeles, died when his car went out of control and struck a concrete wall here.

Charles E. Davis Jr., 2 months, of Los Angeles, was injured fatally in a two-car collision.

William L. McNabb, 41, Oxnard, succumbed in Antelope Valley Hospital to injuries received Thursday night in a two-vehicle collision near Newhall. A passenger in McNabb's car, Mrs. Foye J. Zanders, 27, who lived at Edwards AFB, died earlier.

L.A.C. Says: The British Lottery

The British people have so much money to spend they are causing inflation. To overcome this menace—and to get revenue—the government is planning on taking the money away through a gambling device. The device is to be a national investment lottery. The plan is directed at the lower-income groups. It calls for selling them government bonds at $2.80 each. The bonds will bear no interest—but can be cashed in at par. The 4 per cent interest ordinarily paid on such bonds will go into a lottery pool. Each week a drawing will be held. Each bond will have a number. The owner of the winning number will receive $2,800.

Actually, British workers do not have enough money to bring their living standards to a level comparable with that of American workers. The trouble is Britain does COLUMBUS, Miss. (AP) — A 75-year-old man, knocked off of the railroad tracks by a train, got up "ready to fight whatever hit me," police reported Saturday.

Noah Long was hospitalized without apparent injury after a Frisco railway train tossed him off of the tracks near his home Friday night.

Mr. L. D. Armstrong Is Very, Very Popular With Her Majesty's Kinfolk

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Louis Satchmo Daniel Armstrong—a back alley boy from New Orleans — modestly laughed off Saturday the fact that he's suddenly become the toast of British royalty.

"Man, it ain't me," croaked the gravel-voiced ambassador of American jazz, "we're just all cats together."

Those cats (jazz lovers) include:

Princess Margaret.

The Duke of Kent.

The Earl of Harewood, cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, and his brother, the Hon. Gerald Lascelles.

And—such various and assorted peers of the realm as the Irish Marquess of Donegal and the Scot, Lord Ogilvy, heir to the Earl of Airlie.

The Dixieland trumpeter ends a 10-day series of concerts in London tonight, during which he's had royalty jumping with joy to the magic of his red hot horn.

Margaret hugged her trim knees and beat out time with her silver-slippered feet. The Duke of Kent chased around to Satchmo's dressing room and got his autograph. The Earl called him "magnificent." The Hon. Dominic Elliot ripped his program to shreds as he kept time to Armstrong's playing of "When the Saints Come Marching In."

SATCHMO
'Pearls Mine'

Satchmo, who was born in James Alley in New Orleans on July 4, 1900, has taken it all in his short jumpy stride. When Oxford-educated Humphrey Lyttleton, a British trumpet player, asked Louis the secret of his torrid technique Satchmo replied:

"I don't know, daddy, I jus' blow."

When a British Broadcasting Corp. interviewer sought to get Louis' explanation of race violence in the United States, Armstrong replied:

"Bad whisky. When some of them cats git hold of that bad whisky, lots of bad things bound to happen."

When an interviewer from one of London's more stately Sunday papers asked him why he's

L.A.C. SAYS:

The British Lottery

not produce enough goods to supply that demand. If it imports the goods it sends its money out of the country. Result is there is a constant shortage of consumer goods which workers bid for. That is the inflation the government is seeking to curb by resorting to this gambling device.

There is considerable opposition to the plan in Britain. It is pointed out that encouragement of gambling by government is contributing to the very condition that breaks down the morale of a people. It creates the urge for easy money and the gambling fever. It endorses the social evil that destroys homes and communities where gambling has been allowed.

In trying to justify its lottery plan the British government says it is encouraging the British worker to save. It says the worker is thus encouraged to put his money in bonds he can cash in at any time. All he actually invests in the lottery is the 4 per cent interest he would otherwise receive. Opponents of the plan point out that the sale of bonds without interest and therefore without increase in value is a poor way to encourage thrift. They also point out that government can hardly police other forms of gambling, which are often rackets, when the government takes part in gambling itself.

Many countries use government lotteries to finance governmental expenses. France is probably the outstanding example of this. It does not use bonds. It sells tickets which have no value after the weekly drawing. Prizes run from the $70,000 first prize down to hundreds of smaller prizes. Every three months a jackpot drawing is held when prizes are about double these amounts. It is big government business in France. Many other countries use similar, although less fabulous, prizes.

It seems to this writer that the low morale and political unrest and crookedness in France make that country's policies very questionable. It is probable the pawn broker scandals of a decade ago—the decline of France's morale, which resulted in its easy defeat by Hitler and its 22 changes of government since World War II—may well be explained by its attitude toward lotteries. Certainly there is no reason to say they have been beneficial in building a stable economy.

There is a constant effort by certain people to have the United States resort to a national lottery for the purpose of cutting down income taxes. In other words, we are asked to substitute gambling devices for income tax collections to extract money from the masses. The same amount of money might be collected, but it would bring a breakdown in the morals of the American people. We have enough rackets going on in this country without the government making them legal and respectable by its participation.—L.A.C.

Cleveland, Flint Hit by Blasting Storms

tals were reported to be in serious condition.

Doctors operated with emergency facilities at Cleveland's Deaconess Hospital when the storm knocked out the regular power supply.

No estimate of the damage in Cleveland was available immediately but it was heaviest on the west side.

Severe thunderstorms moved eastward through the great lakes region following a day in which most of the eastern two-thirds of the nation sweltered in summer heat.

* * * *

THREE DEATHS and more than 80 injuries were reported in the wake of three tornadoes which ripped into Flint, Mich., and its suburb of Grand Blanc.

A woman was killed and two men were injured when a barn was blown down on them near Ithaca, Mich., 30 miles north and west of Flint.

Flint was the scene of a tornado which killed 116 persons on June 8, 1953.

More than a score of persons were injured by a twister which damaged homes and one church in the Detroit suburbs of Allen Park and Lincoln park. Detroit itself escaped damage.

Flint Police Sgt. George Jucius said the twister "hit, jumped and hit again before turning away from the city."

Eugene Schermerhorn, a service station attendant, said he first spotted the tornado as it skipped over a lighted sign in front of a nearby drive-in theater.

"It took away part of our roof," he said. "It sent oil cans flying every which way, then curled around and slammed into a trailer camp."

There were two trailer camps in the Flint damage area. Both of them were damaged extensively and injuries ran high.

* * * *

THE TORNADO that hit in the Detroit suburbs of Allen and Lincoln Parks left many injured. Police in the two communities said about 15 homes were badly damaged, some of them flattened. A Greek orthodox church was blown partly down, a drive-in was "flattened" and a new high school was battered.

Sgt. Nelson Heslip of the Allen Park police, said six injured there were treated at Oakwood Hospital. He said the front of the new Allen Park school was badly damaged, and all the windows were blown out. Civil defense headquarters were set up in undamaged rooms of the school to take in the people from five badly damaged homes.

attack, did not take part in this check-up.

Eisenhower gave every sign of elation at the medical verdict.

He was smiling broadly as he left the hospital, hatless and wearing a light tan suit.

He waved acknowledgement of the burst of handclapping from scores of patients and hospital staff members gathered around the entrance. And, just before stepping into his car, he stopped, leaned down and shook hands with a little girl in a red coat who had stationed herself in a front row position.

Eisenhower carried Volume I of his friend Sir Winston Churchill's "history of the English speaking peoples," which he took along when he entered the hospital late Thursday.

He drove straight to Burning Tree Country Club where he played golf in muggy, overcast weather.

The doctors summed up the report on the President in these words: His general condition continues good. He is physically active and mentally alert. His appearance, appetite and digestion are excellent."

U.S. OKs Sale of 12 French Jets to Israel

PARIS (UP) — The United States has agreed to the immediate shipment by France of 12 more Mystere IV jet fighter planes to Israel, the French Foreign Office announced Saturday night.

A communique issued by the ministry said Washington had approved the immediate delivery of the planes which are manufactured in France for NATO forces under American offshore contracts.

"The government of the United States has accepted a French proposal for a delay in off-shore deliveries to enable the French government to hand over quickly a last delivery of 12 Mystere IV planes ordered by Israel," the communique said.

France recently shipped 12 of the jet fighters to Israel. The Mystere IV planes are among the world's top-performance jet fighters and are believed capable of matching the Soviet-built MIG jet fighters the communist nations have supplied Egypt recently.

Israel also is seeking U. S. F86 jet fighter planes from the United States and Canada.

France is building the Mystere jet fighter planes under the so-called offshore purchasing contracts placed by the United States to fulfill its military aid commitments to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. U.S. approval is necessary for the diversion elsewhere of all arms produced in Europe under these contracts.

Authoritative sources in Britain said the Eden government also could be expected to increase shipments of defensive weapons to Israel.

Girl, 11, Extorts $900 From Chum

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—An 11-year-old schoolgirl has been caught running a $1,000 shakedown racket on a playmate one year younger, police disclosed Saturday.

Deputy Police Chief Hugh A. O'Gorman said the younger girl paid that much to her chum on threat of violence after stealing the money from an aunt's tin box.

More than $900 was recovered from the juvenile shakedown artist, who said she spent only $2.

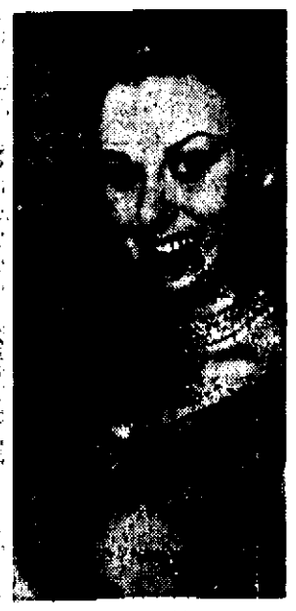

That $2, she said, went for a box of candy for a Mothers' Day present.

Hoodlums Try to Strip Actress

SHEFFIELD, England (UP)—Sabrina, the busty star of British television, went through "the most terrifying hour of my life" when youthful hoodlums tried to strip her in a store opening ceremony that turned into a riot.

A crowd of 4,000 stamped and shouted as the blonde, 39-inch-bosomed video performer arrived to open a tailor's shop. Dozens of youths rushed her, knocking down women and children. Some asked for her autograph but others clawed at her clothing.

Sabrina's form-fitting dress was torn and she was bruised and scratched. Twelve persons fainted in the crush before police arrived and escorted her away.

called Satchmo, Louis told him:

"Satchmo't my name—it ain't no quote."

Then he patiently explained that as a boy he was called "Dippermouth" and later "Satchelmouth," which he shortened to Satchmo.

Asked by a debutante of the current season if the pearly teeth in his ample mouth were all his, Louis told her:

"Well, lady, one or two of them might have come from the store, but at least they're paid for."

Satchmo and his band, which includes the great New Orleans clarinet player, Edmund Hall, Trummy Young on trombone, Jack Lesberg on bass, Billy Kyle on piano and Barret Deems on drums, will have done 20 shows by midnight today.

After London he goes on a tour of seven cities in the United Kingdom, returns to London and then flies to the Gold Coast on the west coast of Africa.

"That ought to be some ball," growled Satchmo.

Caught in a serious, though fleeting mood, Louis was asked about his undoubted success.

"I didn't go no further than the fifth grade," he replied, "but with good sense in this hard head and some wit I inherited from my mama, and knowing how to treat and respect other folks' feelings, that's all I've needed through life."

After a moment, he grinned and added:

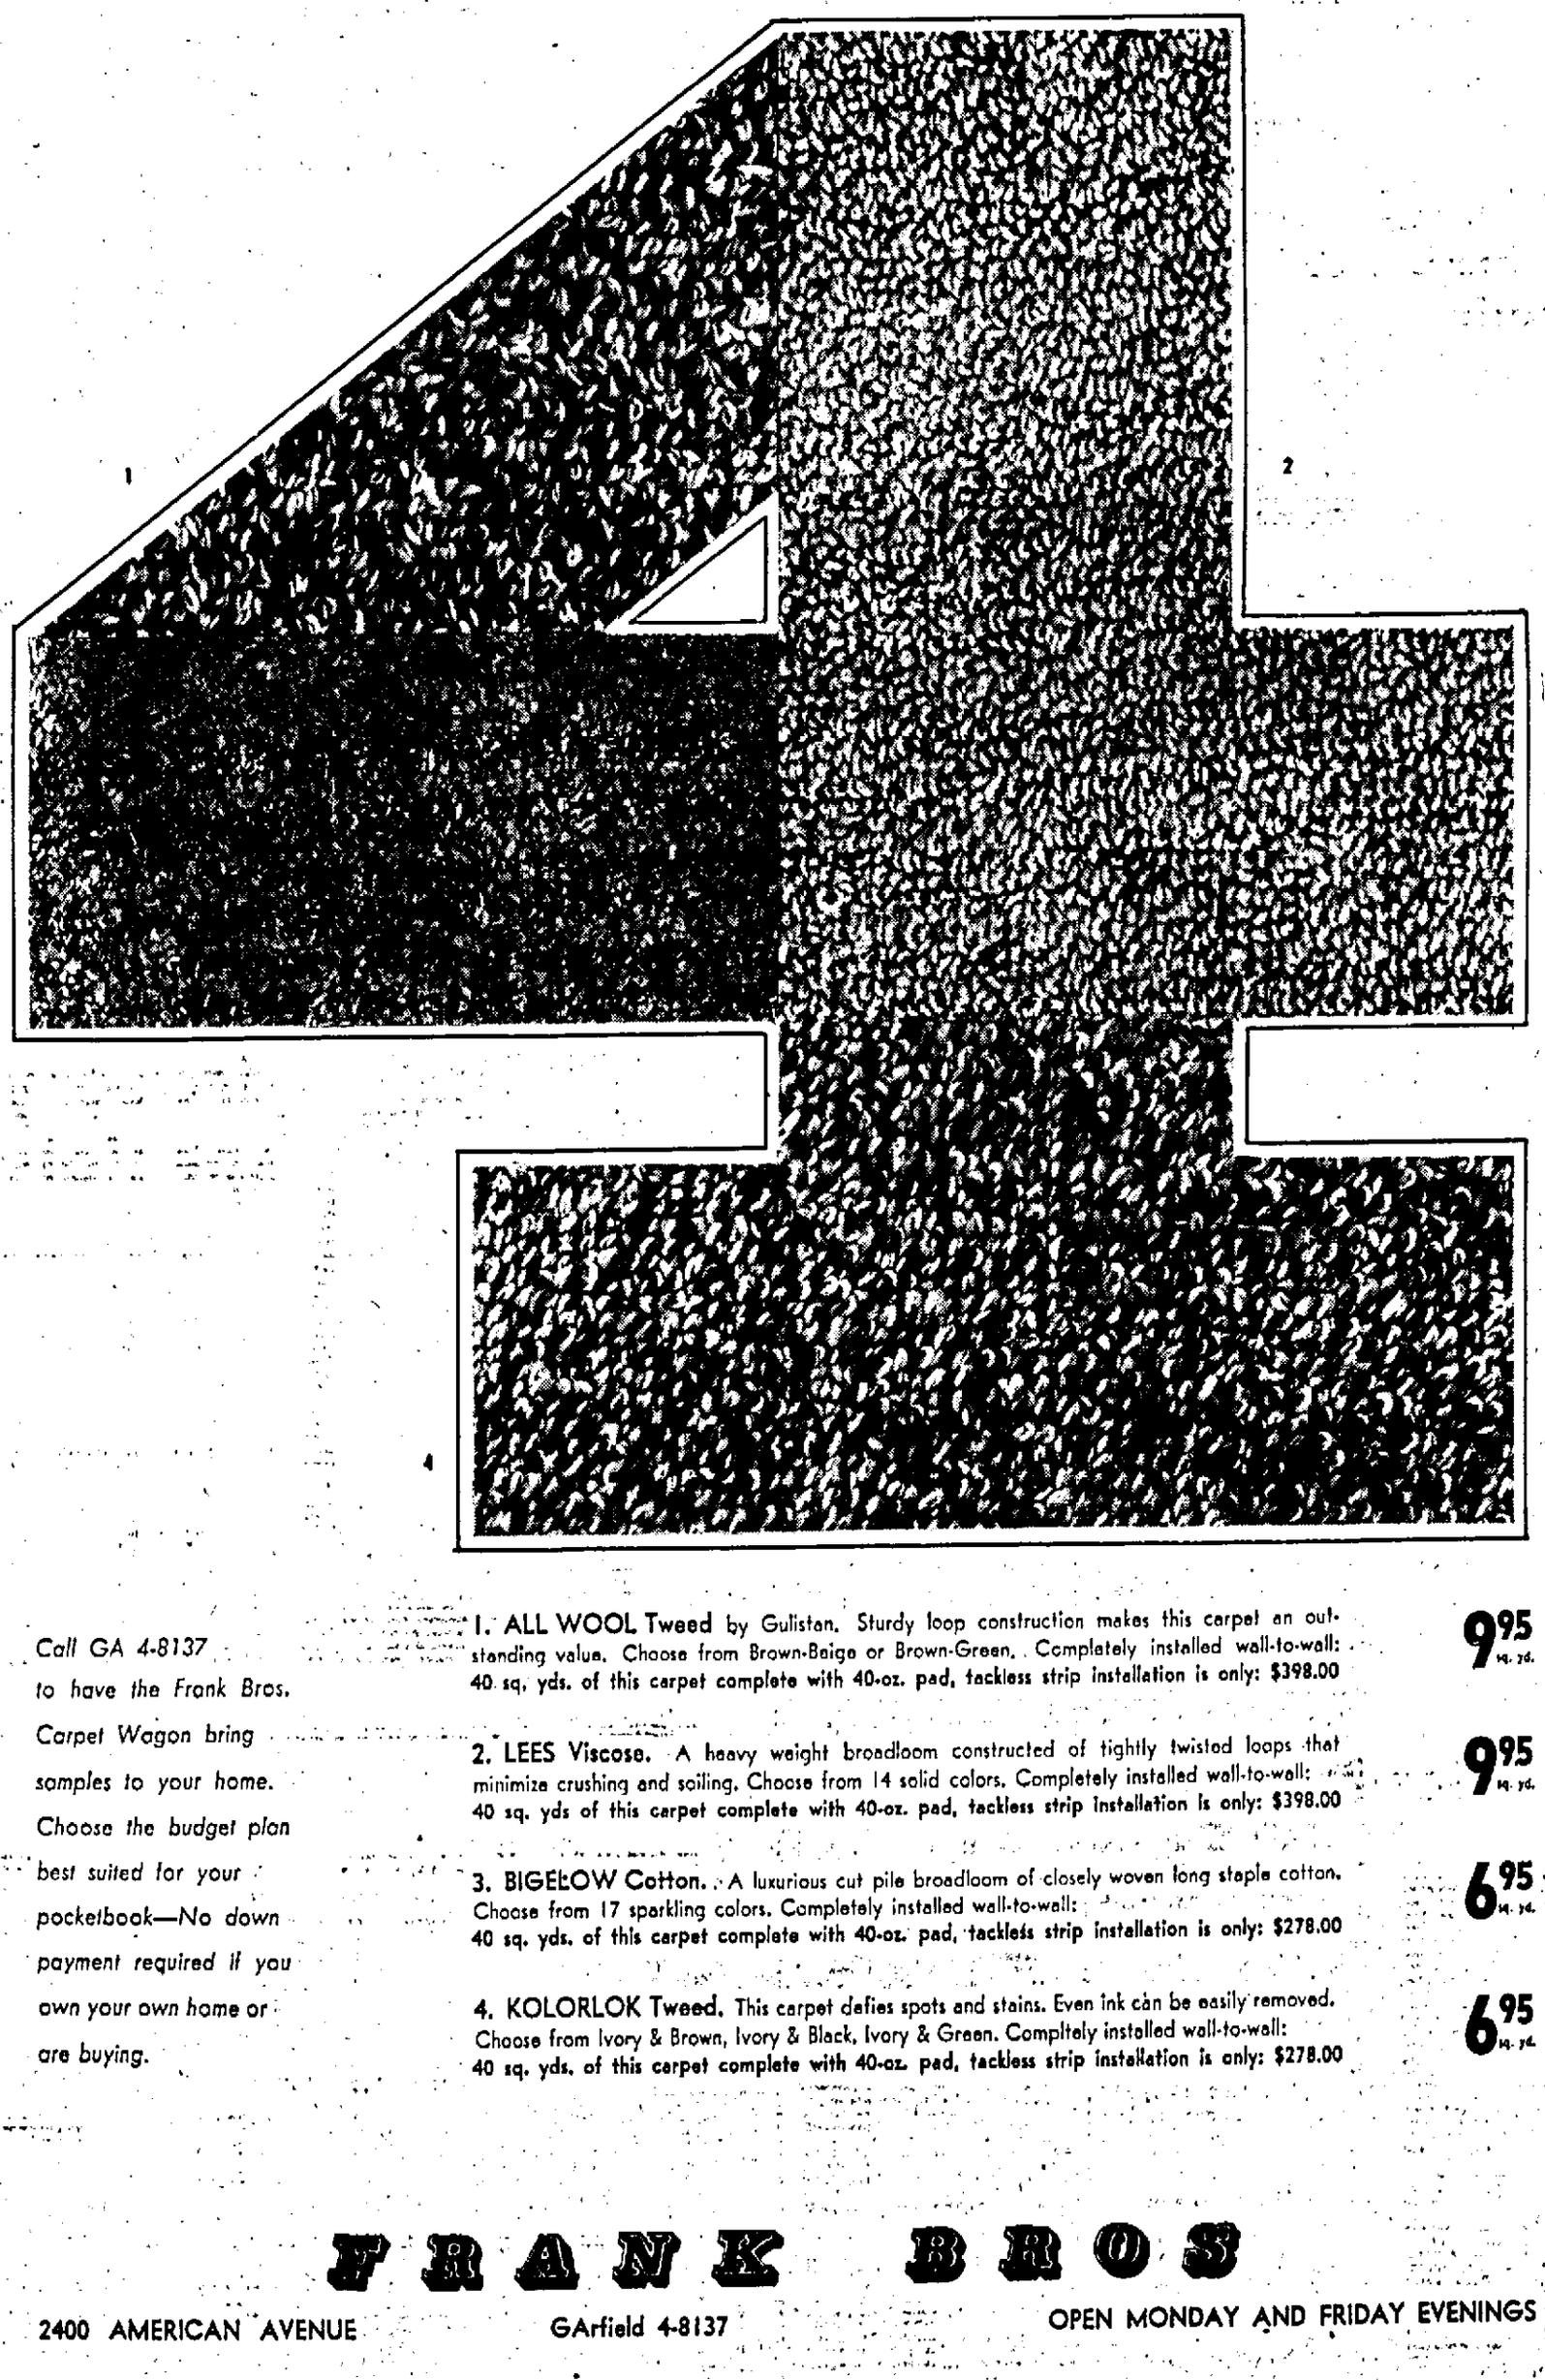

"Of course, I've had to blow my brains out with that little ol' happy horn."

Deputy Dies, Held Suicide by Police

A woman sheriff's deputy died in a local hospital Saturday evening approximately 15 hours after she fired a revolver bullet into her head. Police listed the death as suicide.

The victim was Dortha J. Hatcher, 23, of 50 Belmont Ave., employed at the Terminal Island Women's Detention Unit, a branch of the County Jail.

Her roommate, Amy Ruth Webster, 30, also a deputy at the detention unit, was questioned at police headquarters by Det. Inspr. Harry P. Finch and James A. Thiele and then released.

• • • •

MISS WEBSTER told officers Miss Hatcher had been "despondent" because she had not passed her probationary period as a deputy sheriff.

She said Miss Hatcher put one cartridge into her .38 caliber revolver about 4:40 a.m. Saturday as the two talked in their apartment, No. 5. Miss Hatcher, her roommate reported, put the weapon to her head and pulled the trigger, but the gun failed to discharge.

"I guess I got it on the wrong one," Miss Webster quoted Miss Hatcher. Miss Hatcher apparently referred to the fact she pulled the trigger on an empty chamber. Miss Webster said she thought her roommate was "clowning."

Miss Hatcher then fired again and the gun went off. The bullet entered Miss Hatcher's right temple and came out under the left ear. She underwent surgery at Community Hospital for four hours as physicians removed bone fragments from near the brain in an attempt to save her life.

Driver Hurt as Car Skids Into Traffic

A Garden Grove man was injured when his car went out of control, skidded broadside across 7th St. east of Pacific Coast Hwy. and was struck by an oncoming car Saturday night.

Robert J. Kaplank, 38, of 12581 Citruswood, was treated at Community Hospital for a brain concussion and possible fracture of the right leg.

Orange County highway patrol officers said Kaplank apparently lost control of his car while driving east on 7th St. and crashed into a car driven by William M. Derryberry, 24, of 632 Armendo Dr. A passenger in Derryberry's car, Connie Markel, 21, of 915 Riveriera Dr., Santa Ana, suffered minor injuries.

In another accident, Steven M. Logan, 6, of 2036 Linden Ave., suffered minor injuries when he was hit by a car driven by Josephine Jerome, 49, of 8141 Stewart and Gray Rd., Downey, as he was walking near his home.

Press Women Tab Book by L.B. Authoress Best

A Long Beach woman Saturday was named by the National Federation of Press Women as the author of the best 1955 nonfiction book, and a feminine Costa Mesa photographer took top honors for a feature picture.

The winners: Mrs. Lillian Dean, 5601 E. 23rd St., and Mrs. Nell Murbarger, 1940 Maple Ave., Costa Mesa.

Mrs. Dean was honored for "The Postural Complex," a book dealing with spine corrections. She collaborated with Laurence Jones, MD, in the writing.

Three years in the writing, the book emphasizes the correct building up of shoes to place the spine in a good position.

It is the second book the Long Beach woman has written. In 1950 she authored "This Is Our Land," based on experiences with her husband, Walter, a traveling salesman.

Mrs. Murbarger's winning picture appeared in the August edition of True West. It showed a bank in the ghost town of Rhyolite, Nev.

2 Thugs Get $300 After 1st Try Fails

BELLFLOWER—Two youthful bandits robbed a liquor store of $300 Saturday night 30 minutes after they had failed in a holdup attempt of a nearby grocery store.

Sheriff's deputies said the two gunmen entered the liquor store at 14312 S. Bellflower Blvd. and threatened the clerk with a .38 caliber revolver. They took $300 in currency and an unknown number of 50-cent pieces, deputies said.

Previously, two gunmen answering the description of the bandits, were frightened off in a grocery store holdup attempt at 9409 E. Artesia Blvd.

Nope, It Wasn't the Nupe's Day at All

Saturday was a "bad day" for Phil Antoine of Malibu.

He took three friends for a ride in his 16-foot cabin cruiser, the Nupe, in the afternoon.

About six miles off Avalon the boat sprung a leak and filled with water.

Antoine and his friends hailed a passing outboard motor boat owned by Alvin Shumenn, of Inglewood, and were taken aboard.

On the way to the mainland the outboard began shipping water.

The quartet were then picked up by a Pierpoint Landing fishing boat, the Matt Walsh, and brought in to Pierpoint Landing.

Meanwhile, another Pierpoint boat, the Fisherman II, attempted to tow the water-filled Nupe to the mainland but its line broke.

A Coast Guard cutter finally tied up to the Nupe and towed it to Newport Beach and called it a day.

Harriman Backed by Truman

WASHINGTON (LP) — Former President Truman favors Gov. Averrell Harriman for the Democratic presidential nomination and can be expected to be working for him at the national convention.

This report came Sat. from a Democratic source long friendly to Mr. Truman, who sailed from New York Friday for a trip to Europe.

It tended to confirm what many Democratic politicians have suspected that Mr. Truman privately favors the New York governor despite his announced neutrality in the contest over the Democratic nomination.

• • • •

HARRIMAN, a self-styled inactive candidate, is heading West this weekend on a speaking tour in areas where he is reported to have actual or potential convention support. Starting today, his schedule calls for appearances in Wyoming, Montana, Washington, Idaho, Nevada and Utah over the next five days.

Mr. Truman, who appointed Harriman to top-drawer government jobs, heaped praise on the New York governor this week in a New York speech. The occasion was the presentation of the Four Freedoms award to Harriman.

The former President can play a major role at the national convention if he chooses. He has said that he expects to be active at the convention but has also said he wants to stay out of the fight over the nomination so he can give the party more help during the fall campaign.

• • • •

MR. TRUMAN declined a seat in the Missouri national convention delegation, which has agreed to back Sen. Stuart Symington as a favorite son candidate for the nomination.

Symington is regarded as one of the principal dark horse possibilities in case of a convention deadlock. Mr. Truman has been described in informed quarters as unenthusiastic about Symington, who, if nominated, would be a compromise choice with substantial backing from the South.

The strategy of Harriman supporters has called for delay while Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 nominee, and Sen. Estes Kefauver are battering one another in the state presidential primaries.

No formal announcement of a Harriman candidacy is expected before the windup of these primaries June 5. On that date, Kefauver and Stevenson will meet in their showdown contest in California.

• • • •

BESIDES MR. TRUMAN others who can be dominant figures at the national convention include House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson.

These congressional leaders won an important contest last weekend for control of the Texas national convention delegation. Neither is expected to be in Harriman's corner although both will support the Democratic nominee.

In his weekly broadcast in his home state Saturday night Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) described Johnson as "a strong dark horse possibility" for the nomination.

Whoever is nominated, Ellender said, he hopes the party will follow a "doctrine of moderation" aimed at restoring the "constitutional balance of powers between the states and the federal government.

Mailmen's Pay Lost in Mail

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—City mail carriers went unpaid today — their checks were lost in the mail.

Samuel Brown, acting postmaster, said the checks of the 20 carriers did not arrive Friday with those of the clerks.

He said officials at the regional post office in Cincinnati apparently mailed them to the wrong city.

Ambushes Defeated

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — The French army claimed more than 175 Algerian rebels were killed in bloody ambushes and running battles across eastern Algeria Saturday.

The Nationalists countered with a daring raid into the heart of Constantine as they pressed their 18-month-old fight for independence.

Screaming sirens alerted the 118,000 residents of Constantine, metropolis of the interior, as the Nationalists stormed in, throwing grenades and shooting down Arabs friendly to the French.

• • • •

THIRTEEN PRO-FRENCH Moslems were cut down by the deadly rebel hail and nine other people wounded when a bomb was thrown into a crowded Jewish cafe at the noon hour. Two policemen and a French paratrooper fell as French forces counterattacked and drove the raiders out of the city.

About 50 miles to the northwest, French paratroopers combing the countryside blasted out of a rebel ambush staged with the help of the local Moslem population. The French claimed 80 rebels were killed and admitted to one paratrooper dead and another wounded.

A French army detachment in the same region fought its way out of another rebel ambush, killing 30 of the attackers. French losses were said to be one dead and two wounded.

Pet Show Proves Thrilling for 700, but Smallest One (Ant) Gets Lost

Almost 300 pets (alas, one was lost) vied for comic and serious distinction for their young owners Saturday at the 28th Annual Pet Show in Bixby Park.

The show, sponsored by the Long Beach Humane Society, assisted by public schools and the Recreation Department, drew about 700 spectators including 450 boys and girls.

What promised to be a fierce competition for the award "smallest pet in the show," petered out just before judging when the most promising entry, an ant, got lost. By default, a lady bug entered by two-year-old Byron Hayes, 19 Cherry Ave., was a shoo-in.

• • • •

THE COMPETITION was keener among 299 other entries and posed a difficult—and at times weird—challenge to judges Joseph M. Kennick, Eleanor Price and James W. Bibb.

Helen Rogers, Pet Show manager, said interest hasn't run so high since last year's show when a gold, bowled creature was ceremoniously dubbed "best behaved fish in show."

• • • •

And, as in some years the Nobel peace prize is passed over, so Saturday was the Pet Show's tribute to the "most unusual mouse." Available mice just didn't measure up.

First, second and third place ribbons were awarded winners whose entries were sometimes as imaginative as the show's categories.

• • • •

First off, Kathy Kennedy, 6, of 5934 E. Wardlow Rd., was adjudged the sweetest pet owner. Then Aileen Donavan, 7, of 217 San Francisco Ave., took a ribbon for longest dog.

Anti-Taxers Storm Police, 800 Strong

MOUTIERS, France (LP)—More than 800 followers of right-wing anti-tax crusader Pierre Poujade charged 35 gendarmes here Saturday when the police tride to seize a party leader's automobile for non-payment of taxes.

Six Poujadista and two gendarmes were injured in the clash which finally was broken up with tear gas. The rioters used clubs and stones until the gas scattered them.

The outburst occurred when the police and a tax collector appeared in this town to impound a car belonging to a Poujade Party leader for back taxes.

3 Bus Companies Ask Fare Hike

SAN FRANCISCO (LP)—Three members of the California Bus Association have asked the State Public Utilities commission for permission to increase minimum fares by 15 to 20 cents and all other one-way and round-trip fares by 15 per cent.

The members are Pacific Greyhound Lines, Continental Pacific Lines and Transcontinental Bus System.

The association pointed out that the last increase in one-way and round-trip fares was on June 18, 1951, and operators are having trouble meeting wage and operating costs under the existing fare structure.

AF Orders New NAA F100F Jet

LOS ANGELES—The Air Force said Saturday that it has placed a multi-million dollar order with North American Aviation, Inc., for the F100F Super Sabre, a two-place version of the world's fastest jet fighter now in operational units.

The new two-man plane, which can exceed the speed of sound in level or climbing flight, is a triple-threat, supersonic fighter designed for use as a fighter-bomber, an air-superiority fighter, or as a trainer.

The F100F is the fourth model in North American's Super Sabre series, earlier models of which are now being sent to Europe to replace the North American F86 Sabre jets in use by USAF fighter units there.

• • • •

THREE MODELS of the Super Sabre are now on active duty with the Tactical Air Command of the Air Force. They are the F100A, first of the series; the F100C, a longer-range fighter-bomber which can carry an A-bomb at supersonic speeds; and the F100D, an advanced model of the "C" which is equipped with an autopilot that enables it to fly itself to a target. All are powered by Pratt & Whitney J57 turbojet engines with afterburners.

An F100C, piloted by Colonel Horace A. Hanes, established the first official supersonic world's speed record of 822.135 miles per hour at Palmdale, Calif. on Aug. 20, 1955, in high altitude runs over an 18-kilometer (11-mile) course.

The F100 Super Sabre series was first put into production at North American's Los Angeles plant in mid-1953, and subsequently the company's Columbus, Ohio division became a second production source.

12 Million Tourists

Boy, 16, Runs Into Trouble at Home by Winning Tribute-to-Mom Contest

MRS. JOSEPH WALKER AND SON . . . 'Mickey' Had a Secret

Grace in Spain

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Honeymooning Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco lunched with Generalissimo Francisco Franco in Pardo Palace Saturday. All members of the Spanish government and their wives also were present.

Closing School

RUTLAND, Iowa (UP)—The board of education decided that it might as well close the Rutland High School for good. The school has only 17 students.

He Had to Stay Out Late in Order to Turn in Essay

Proudest mother in the Long Beach area this Mother's Day may be Mrs. Joseph Walker, 38, of 391 Truman Boyd Manor.

Her son, Michael, 16, won the Long Beach Retailers Associated "Mom is the Greatest" essay contest in a tribute to her.

• • • •

SHE WINS, as a result, $200 in merchandise awards given by retail stores.

Michael, or "Mickey" as he is known, got into pretty serious trouble at home the night he turned in his entry.

"I wrote this tribute to my Mom, 'the source of understanding, companionship and life', in typing class in the ninth grade in Stephens Junior High School," explains Mickey.

"I have a spare time job, three times a week, leaving pamphlets at houses. I usually get home at 5:30 or a quarter to 6.

"But I went downtown to turn in my entry and I didn't get home until 6:30.

"My mom and my dad both scolded me because I'm supposed to be home on time. What made it worse was that I couldn't tell them where I had been. I didn't tell them until they knew I had won the contest."

Walker, 41, a marine machinist, is employed at the Harbor Boat Works.

The Walkers have another son, Edward E., 17, an aviation machinist mate on the aircraft carrier USS Boxer at San Diego.

"I'm so proud of both our boys," says Mrs. Walker.

Mickey expects to enter the Navy next January.

The brothers were born in Seattle. The family came here from Seattle 12 years ago.

Mickey's letter, with its touching and heartfelt tribute to his mother, was chosen from among 1,800 entered in the two-week contest.

Judges were Vito Romans, manager of Long Beach Retailers Associated; Jim Duncan, retail advertising manager of the Independent, Press-Telegram and Gene Lentzner, owner of Gene's Dress Shop, 450 Pine Ave.

Contestants ranged in age from 6 to 52. The 52-year-old man wrote a letter of tribute to his 80-year-old mother.

• • • •

ONE LETTER was signed by nine children. They said their father died last August "and Mom is too busy to grieve; she is busy helping us keep our spirits up."

The judges also were pleased with a six-page tribute written by a man in praise of—guess who? His mother-in-law!

Mrs. Walker will receive from:

Burke Claims Navy Can Deliver H-Bomb

WASHINGTON (UP)—The U. S. Navy's carrier-based planes are capable of delivering a hydrogen bomb attack on enemy targets.

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, stated this emphatically in a United Press interview, the first official acknowledgement that the Navy could deliver the H-bomb. Heretofore the navy has claimed only A-bomb capability for its carrier planes.

The interview was granted before disclosure of the Air Force's latest differences with the administration over whether the Navy can fill in gaps in this country's strategic bombing capabilities.

But the Navy claims apparently were in President Eisenhower's mind when he cited the "tremendous" airpower of the Navy as one reason it is not necessary to match Russia in production of land-based inter-continental bombers.

The Administration position, also voiced by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, has been challenged indirectly by Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff. Twining told a Senate appropriations subcommittee Friday the Navy's strategic striking power would be "small" because the range of carrier-based planes is "relatively short" and because Naval airpower would be largely absorbed at the start in winning control of the air.

Jap Cities Plan Anti-Bomb Rallies

TOKYO (AP)—Another world rally against atomic and hydrogen bombs will be held in three Japanese cities Aug. 4-10. Invitations will be sent to 30 nations, including the United States. The Japan Council on Prohibition of Atomic and Hydrogen Bombs staged similar meetings in the same three cities—Tokyo, Hiroshima and Nagasaki—last August.

SOOTHES NERVOUS HOLLYWOOD

Tiny Pill Rules 'Ulcer Alley'

By BOB HOUSER

Miltown is a booming medical whistle-stop just this side of Frustration.

Miltown and Equanil are trade names for meprobamate, a tranquilizing drug developed by Dr. Frank M. Berger of Wallace Laboratories, New Brunswick, N. J., which makes Miltown. The same 400 milligram pill is distributed by Wyeth, Inc., Philadelphia, under the name Equanil.

The drug, available only by prescription, has been on the market for about 10 months. It lessens tension, reduces irritability and restlessness. Considering present demand, the drug is a tremendous success.

• • • •

EIGHT MONTHS AGO, pharmacists report, there was little call for the comforting, white six-grain tablets. "Today we can dispense all we can get our hands on."

Four pharmacies in nervous Hollywood dispensed a quarter-million pills in four months and turned away more orders than they filled, according to Time magazine. The supply situation started improving in April. Most pharmacies now have stocks but the turnover is fast. As recently as two months ago Long Beach pharmacies were turning away customers or perhaps providing 18 pills of a 48-pill prescription pending further deliveries. Some patients waited three weeks for the tablets. The average local pharmacy had a 20-prescription backlog until a month ago.

Widespread public popularity infers similar acceptance by doctors since the product bears the federal legend warning it is available only by prescription. There is a difference however in the acceptance. The public is usually enthusiastic with its new weapon against tension, a common complaint of the times.

• • • •

DOCTORS WELCOME it too, but with caution. In the light of favorable research on the relaxants they are loath to deprive their patients of even simple symptomatic relief. At the same time, doctors are taking stock of causes as well as symptoms.

So, a supervised patient may take the drugs with impunity. But a borrower of pills may find himself with a drug with too much concealed horsepower for him to handle through the tortuous twists of his daily tensions.

Thus far, only isolated cases of untoward reactions have been noted. One has been a skin rash type of allergy. In most of these cases the drug can be continued if taken along with antihistamines to combat the allergy.

A second reaction is actually a part of the pills' claimed benefit—drowsiness. Physicians say this effect could be dangerous to persons driving autos or working near machinery.

Still another, and possibly the greatest danger, say doctors and psychiatrists, is the user's belief that the tranquilizer is a cure in itself. The men of science say that the drug should be used only under careful supervision and as an adjunct to psycho-therapy which attempts to remove the cause of the tensions.

• • • •

BUT THE SOLID GOLD FACT remains that the relaxing drugs produce a dramatic and spectacular change in the harried, the irritable and the chronic neurotic.

Word of the happy cases spreads quickly. A friend says, "Try one of these. They worked wonders for me." Medical men frown on this type of sidewalk diagnosis.

The drug does not work on all people. In fact it makes some even more nervous. These cases are rare however.

Even as good as the drugs are they lack the test of long-time usage by great numbers of people. It is conceivable there could be a long-range cumulative reaction to the nervous system or vital organs.

Constant use of the pills—what the doctor calls "maintenance dosage" — also poses the possibility of the system's becoming adjusted to them until larger and larger dosage is required. And there is danger even in taking too much aspirin—or vitamin D.

While not physiologically addictive, the tranquilizers may become emotionally addictive.

• • • •

DOCTORS POINT OUT that flies developed an immunity to DDT. So with the tranquilizers, the body may adjust to them until they no longer take hold in the dramatic fashion they do now.

Even worse, in some cases a new drug beats a symptom to its knees or even masks the symptom completely; then suddenly the symptom returns, perhaps in a form more difficult to treat or, as the doctor puts it, "more intractable."

Is this cowardice, this resort to central nervous system depressants at about 10 cents per pill?

Is this "one or two pills three times a day" a partial suicide—the inch-by-inch killing of the part of the man which wrestles and whips adversity? Is this a tail wagging a hypochondriac dog?

Not cowardice; no more so than taking penicillin for virus or aspirin for headache, say medical men.

Partial suicide? Only if the patient uses the drug as a cure, rather than an emergency treatment. Says the psychologist: There is a psychological growth force within everyone which enables him to eliminate, either by himself or with help, the causes of his tensions.

250,000 Pills in Four Months

Baby Festival Scheduled for Local Area Children

Registrations will open Friday for the Long Beach Harbor Baby Festival, sponsored by the Military Order of the Purple Heart and Auxiliary.

Open free to all children between the ages of one month and six years living in the Long Beach area, the festival, which is a national project, emphasizes health and beauty.

All children entered will receive a free health examination. Those passing over 90 per cent will receive gold-sealed certificates.

Two coronation pageants will be held in June—one at Lakewood and one at the Municipal Auditorium. Little Miss and Master Lakewood and Miss and Master Long Beach will be chosen as the prettiest girls and most handsome boys in the festival. Trophies also will be awarded beauty winners of each age class.

Candidates may be registered Friday, Saturday and the following Monday at three locations—J. C. Penney's Los Altos and downtown stores and the Hobby Horse, Lakewood Center. Toys will be given the first 100 children registered at each of the three headquarters. Children need not be present for their parents to enter them.

Clifford Parmenter, 4500 Harvey Way, past national commander of the Military Order of the Purple Heart, is general chairman.

Masonic Homes Leader Speaks

Heart Officials Attend Session

Long Beach Heart Assn. will be represented by four officials at the annual meeting of the California Heart Assn. Friday and Saturday at Carmel. Ike Woos Rank, File of Labor

By ROBERT E. LEE
(I.-P-T Capital Bureau)

WASHINGTON — The Eisenhower administration is counting on a "bread and butter" approach to union rank and file members for support in the November elections.

The Republican administration's top labor advisers have no intention of trying to win the backing of AFL-CIO President George Meany, United Auto Workers Chief Walter P. Reuther, or other national union leaders.

The official GOP view is that to woo labor's top brass would necessitate a break with principle. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell and other officials won't try to bend to the philosophy of the labor chiefs.

• • • •

BUT THE GOP hopes to sell the rank and file—and perhaps state and local union officials—on the economic record under the administration.

The plan now shaping up is to hit labor's grass roots hard with the facts of high industrial income, increasing liberalization of state unemployment and workmen's compensation laws, research on jobs for older workers—as well as administration support of higher minimum wages.

And if Mitchell has his way, there will be a stepped-up campaign to pin responsibility on the southern Democrats for blocking congressional action on some legislation sought by the unions and blacked by the administration. Mitchell also likes to point out that the highly controversial right-to-work laws which outlaw the union shop are largely the product of state legislatures in the Democratic south.

The right-to-work law fight is one which has often exploded within the administration, where Mitchell is at odds with Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, who advocates such legislation.

Success of the GOP's anticipated push for the rank-and-file union vote will hinge largely on the labor secretary's ability to keep Weeks and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson out of the labor picture.

• • • •

BENSON has implied strongly on several occasions that union labor—and in particular Reuther, whose UAW dominates the farm equipment industry—is at least partially responsible for the spread between farm prices and farm income.

Although Reuther is not popular in farm areas, Mitchell has tried to call Benson off. Labor considers the attacks unfair, and adminstration officials with moderate views about unions think the Benson line unnecessary and politically dangerous.

However, it is understood that Benson has not committed himself on dropping this method of turning aside attacks from price-depressed farm areas.

The administration isn't kidding itself about its chance to win support from the top labor chieftains here.

Underground Urges Execution of Cyprus British Governor

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—A battle of leaflets—including an underground appeal for the "execution" of British Gov. Sir John Harding—filled an otherwise ominous calm in this troubled city Saturday.

An appeal pasted on walls about the city called the governor "Gauleiter Sir John" and said "it is the duty of all Greeks" to execute him.

The leaflet bore the typed signature of Dighenis, unidentified leader of the EOKA organization which seeks union of this crown colony with Greece. Dighenis is believed to be Col. George Grivas, former Greek army officer, who has a $28,000 price on his head.

"Instead of a material reward which can emanate only from scum and can be accepted only by scum" the leaflet said, "we shall make the executioner of the sadistic tormentor of the Cypriot people a national hero whose name will be written in gold letters in the roll of honor of the heroes of the Cypriot struggle."

There already has been one attempt on Harding's life, last March 23 an unexploded time bomb was found in the bed in which he had slept all night.

Cypriot police passed out leaflets, too. They asked the Greek population, which make up four-fifths of the island's half million, to: "disown blood-stained fanatical terrorists."

The paper war began Friday with an EOKA leaflet claiming two British soldiers—Lance Cpl. Gordon Hill and Pvt. Ronnie Shilton—had been hanged in reprisal for the execution of two Greek Cypriot rebels.

The British have not confirmed the death of Hill and Shilton, although acknowledging they are missing.

30 Aliens in Frog Olympics

ANGELS CAMP, Calif. (AP)—More than a dozen nations have entered more than 30 foreign frogs in the international frog olympics here next week-end, May 17-20.

Most of these alien hoppers are nearing California by fast overseas airliner to challenge America's best jumpers. The world's best will compete in the annual re-enactment of the original contest in 1853 which Mark Twain later immortalized in the short story "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County."

Among invading unknowns are such threats as African Magic II, of Johannesburg, South Africa, and Bangkok Billy, a big one from the Thai marshes whose reputation has preceded him to the mother lode country.

Firm Builds Midget Jeep to Pull Mower

A tiny gasoline-driven runabout that looks like a jeep they forgot to Sanforize has been developed and put into production by John C. Pyeatte of Bellflower and a group of Long Beach men.

The vehicle is 60 inches long, 26 inches wide, has a horn and headlights and is great for kids from 4 to 15 if you can get dad out from behind the steering wheel.

Called the Yardbird, the tiny jeep-like contraption is designed principally to pull a lawn mower. It can hit 8½ miles an hour.

• • • • •

THE VEHICLE is built by Electro-Mechanical Engineering Co., 16658 Grand Ave., Bellflower. The firm has been in production for six months and is turning out about 25 Yardbirds a month.

Other statistics: Fiberglass body, two horsepower Clinton gasoline engine, 20 to 1 engine-to-rear wheel ration, 300x7 pneumatic tires, automatic centrifugal clutch, recoil-type starter, quart-capacity gas tank, 200 miles to the gallon and a reverse gear.

• • • • •

THE MANUFACTURERS believe the Yardbird has even a greater value than that of a piece of garden equipment or a plaything for the kids.

It's this: Anybody's wife—even yours—can park it.

Jordan High Driver Wins Road-E-O

Proving his driving ability over four obstacle courses, a 17-year-old Jordan Senior High School student won the Teenage Road-E-O here Saturday afternoon.

The winner, James (Bud) Cooper, 1835 Hungerford St., will receive a wrist watch and trophy cup at the June dinner meeting of the Long Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Jaycees and the Long Beach Safety Council co-sponsored the event at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

Last year's winner, Gerald Elschen, 19, of 421 Ohio Ave., Long Beach City College student, was runner-up. He, too, will receive a wrist watch and trophy cup.

BOTH YOUTHS will represent the city at state finals in Sacramento next month.

Third-place winner was Jim Burgess, 18, of 4823 Hackett Ave. A Poly High student, Roy Swett, 17, of 517 E. Hill St., won the sportsmanship prize.

Judging was based 40 per cent on a written examination and 60 per cent on actual driving ability. The driving examination included parking tests.

Earl Marble, event chairman, reported that more than 40 teenagers participated.

Difficult cases invited with NO MONEY DOWN

Putting service first and money later has been at Dr. Campbell's for over 20 years, but never more than right now. Even difficult cases are welcomed on Dr. Campbell's no money down credit plan. You get your new dentures, but may wait 45 days before paying anything. Dr. Campbell carries his own credit, with no outside financing, so he is not regulated by ordinary credit standards.

"I prefer that you get your dentures on credit," Dr. Campbell said. "We want to serve you first, and the money is secondary. Take as long as you need to pay on my easy-credit plan."

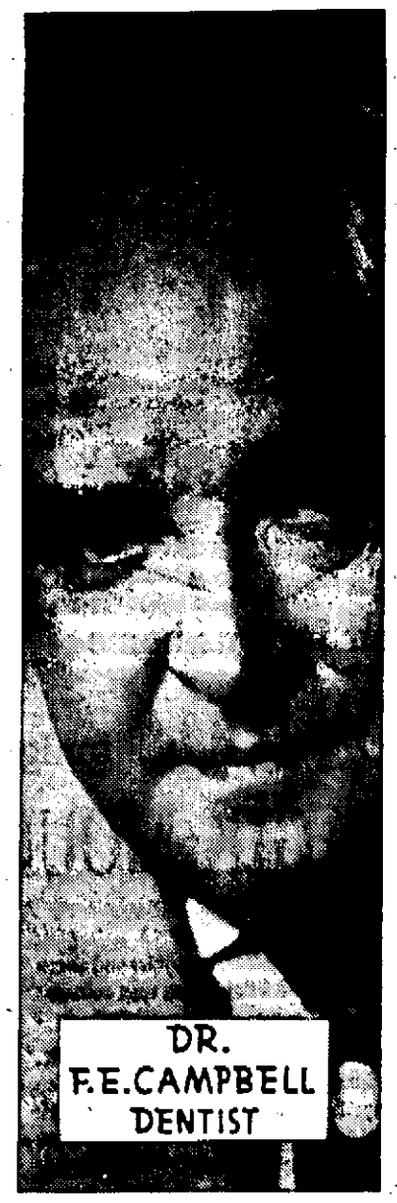

Why Dr. Campbell says pay NO MONEY DOWN

"I don't have to worry about paying my expenses as a dentist if I am interested first in giving service," Dr. Campbell said. "I have found through trial and error that every one of my offices must give a lot of credit to be prosperous. In the past, when one of my offices curtailed credit, this office became less prosperous. People are glad to pay for good service when you are thinking of them before the money. My records prove that insisting on immediate cash, even in small amounts, hurts my dental practice. No money down helps my dental practice."

LOW PRICES BRING BIG DENTURE SAVINGS

Dr. Campbell's twelve offices make a lot of dentures. The story of volume production is well known to everyone. We have many things we could not have if it were not for volume production. If it costs Dr. Campbell less to make dentures in volume, it stands to reason it costs you less.

"My low prices and no money down credit plan enable me to hold prices down despite rises in salaries and materials," Dr. Campbell said. "By not taking advantage of the trend to increase prices, I make more dentures and still make a profit at no increase in price. Living costs have gone up a lot, but my prices are the same as they were years ago."

SEE YOUR SAVINGS—no doubt about these prices

When you go in to buy something at a department store you see the article tagged with a price. That way you know it's not a bargaining proposition. You don't have to be a good bargainer to get a good price.

"I am doing this in dentistry," Dr. Campbell said. "I want you to know that the price of the denture you select is the best I can make, and that no one can bargain for less, making others pay the difference in higher prices. Each sample denture, which you choose from, has a price permanently molded into the denture. You see the denture, you see the price, you take your choice."

Translucent Dentures

Translucent DENTURE MATERIAL and translucent TEETH are recognized by dentists as the FINEST available for making dentures.

Even if these materials were expensive, they would be economical in the long run. But my price for my finest denture is so low that there is no need to accept less.

Immediate Restoration

New dentures may be put in the SAME DAY the last of your teeth are extracted. If your case permits it, and you desire it, impression is taken BEFORE teeth are extracted. Dentures are started immediately and finished the same day.

Save on Partial Plates

Modern methods of casting metal parts enable me to make them for less money than formerly. Now my prices for partials are lower, with the best work I have turned out.

Frego Strengthener for Thinner Extra Strength

Imported Frego Strengthener now available to dentists, is a gold plated stainless steel mesh which is molded into denture. It permits VERY THIN construction. Fragile looking dentures are strong with Frego Strengtheners.

2 British Traitors Spied for Years Before Deserting

WASHINGTON (AP) — British traitors Donald MacLean and Guy Burgess gave Russia so much secret allied information that a special section was set up in Moscow to handle it, it was disclosed Saturday.

The Senate Internal Security committee released an affidavit from Vladimir M. Petrov, of Sydney, Australia, reciting hearsay evidence that the defecting British diplomats had been spies for years before they fled to Russia in 1951.

Petrov, a former Soviet secret policeman deserted the embassy in Sydney in 1954.

The subcommittee has been looking for information to support Gen. Douglas MacArthur's charges that someone, possibly Burgess and MacLean, tipped the Communists the United States would not attack China when the Chinese Reds intervened in the Korean war.

There was no such direct information in Petrov's affidavit.

Both Britons had been stationed for a time in Washington.

Steel Eyes New Pact Demands

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Policy makers of the United Steelworkers—bent on taking advantage of record business profits—meet Monday to formalize union contract demands for coming negotiations with basic steel companies.

The job of the 170-member wage policy committee is expected to be an easy one. Union leaders already have spelled out what they want in the way of contract improvements for 650,000 members working in basic steel.

• • • •

THE COMMITTEE, however, must approve all matters pertaining to union decisions on contracts and wages. The negotiations will have a direct bearing on national business since steel is a bulwark of the U. S. economy.

USW President David J. McDonald has said repeatedly his union wants a substantial wage increase, supplemental unemployment benefits, improvements in the insurance program and premium pay for Saturday and Sunday work.

The current contract, signed in 1954, expires at midnight June 30. The union would be free to strike then if agreement is not reached.

Steelworkers now earn an average of $2.47 an hour. The basic wage is $1.64½ cents an hour.

The union negotiated an average 15-cent hourly pay increase under a wage reopening agreement last July after a 12-hour strike—the shortest nationwide steel strike in history.

The union served notice last month on 172 basic steel firms and iron ore mining companies that it wants a new contract. Several of the companies also have notified the union of intentions to terminate the current pact.

Signs to Line Suez Canal Despite Ban

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The internationally administered Suez Canal Co. has lost a fight to keep advertising billboards away from the famous water route, it was learned today.

The company has refused to grant a billboard concession because the signs would block the view of tourists passing through the canal from the Red to the Mediterranean sea.

The Nile Publicity Co. said Saturday the Egyptian State Railway has granted it a billboard concession on land the railway owns paralleling the canal. About 60 panels will be set up.

Knowledge of Law Helps Pickpocket

NEW YORK (AP)—A legal-minded pickpocket corrected a judge in court Saturday, and lifted three months off his sentence.

Bronx Magistrate Edward T. Galloway sentenced Robert Jones, 41, to six months after he pleaded guilty to being a known pickpocket loitering in a public place.

"Pardon me, your honor," Jones interrupted with a polite smile. "But violation of section 898-A of the Code of Criminal Procedure carries a maximum of only 100 days."

"That's right, so it does," the magistrate replied after checking briefly. "I'll give you 90 days. That will give you 10 off for your cooperation."

CLOSE SHAVE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—You might have expected it: Remarks about close shaves after an automobile entered a barber shop through its plate glass window.

The barber, Cecil De Loach, suffered a leg injury. The man in his chair, Charles A. Greaves, was cut slightly in the mouth.

Police said the driver, Gladys A. Sword, told them she was parked at the curb and when she started her car it lurched forward.

Motor City 'Down' But Only Note of Alarm Voiced by UAW, Demos

DETROIT (AP)—The motor city is used to ups and downs in the auto business.

Detroit now is in a down phase with rising unemployment among auto factory workers. On the surface the city has all the earmarks of prosperity although nationwide unemployment in the industry is around 150,000.

But so far the only expressions of alarm in the Detroit area have come from the United Auto Workers Union and Democratic politicians.

UAW President Walter Reuther reiterated his alarm in a statement issued Saturday by the union and at the same time injected a political note in the unemployment story.

• • • •

REUTHER ACCUSED General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp of resorting to a short work week to cover up "the seriousness of the current unemployment situation in the automobile industry." He said it meant "spreading the burden of unemployment on the backs of the workers."

Reuther added:

"It also conveniently provides a prop to bolster the myth of Republican prosperity in this election year."

Reuther's statement, stressing an alarm he first voiced a week ago, came after the latest series of layoffs in the auto industry during the week.

General Motors, employing nearly 400,000 hourly workers in diversified phases of industry, Thursday ordered a one-day shut-down of its nationwide assembly lines. GM spokesmen said they did not know how many assembly plants were involved nor how many workers were idled.

• • • •

CHRYSLER CORP. Wednesday laid off indefinitely 6,200 workers at plants in Detroit and Evansville, Ind. Then on Friday, Chrysler suspended 6,500 workers in its Chrysler division through Tuesday of the new week. The shutdown order was confined to the two Chrysler plants in the Detroit area.

Ford Motor Co. also has laid off workers this spring but has not disclosed the number.

Chrysler made no secret about its unemployment figures. The company said it employed around 130,000 hourly workers in the 1955 boom period. It estimated 38,000 employes have been laid off since cutbacks started late last year.

Reuther said in a televised interview Friday night that one out of every 11 workers in Detroit is unemployed.

• • • •

ALL THE AUTO makers said the cutbacks were necessary to balance production with current customer demand. The industry has a backlog of 900,000 unsold new cars and it is trying to reduce the inventory to clear the decks for sale of new models next fall.

One out of every seven persons employed in the United States depends for his living on the manufacture, sale, service, or use of motor vehicles. The total number is estimated at nearly 10,000,000.

Passenger car registrations reached 50,954,000 in 1955. The industry's long range view is optimistic. It is counting on 81,000,000 registrations by 1965.

Gen. Donovan to Represent Ike at Fete

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Saturday thanked Maj. Gen. William J. Donovan for agreeing to represent him in Europe next July at dedication ceremonies for cemeteries and memorials to American war dead.

The American Battle Monuments commission will hold the ceremonies at memorials it has erected. The dates are July 16 in Cambridge, England; July 19 at Omaha Beach, France; July 20 at Manche, France; July 23 at Epinal, France; July 26 at Draguignan, France, and July 30 at Anzio Beach, Italy.

Czechs Arrest 10 as Jet Plane Spies for U.S.

LONDON (AP)—Communist Czechoslovakia Saturday announced arrest of 10 persons who were charged with spying on the Czech jet plane industry for the United States.

The announcement by Prague Radio said the Interior Ministry had uncovered "another espionage organization operating . . . for the American Secret Service and directed from West Berlin."

The announcement said the ring "was linked with American centers abroad both through its agents and by modern transmitters of American production."

BIG GAIN

6 Million Cars in California

WASHINGTON (AP) — The big automobile sales boom of 1955 lifted total motor vehicle registrations in the United States to 62,760,395.

Announcing this Saturday the bureau of public roads said the 1955 total included 52,173,234 passenger cars, 10,331,912 trucks and 255,249 buses.

California passed the 6 million mark with 6,189,022 registrations, to lead all states. This was a gain of nearly a half million vehicles over the 5,698,842 registered there in 1954.

Jordan King Arrives

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—King Hussein of Jordan arrived Saturday night on an unexplained visit piloting his twin-engine plane. The Lebanese government declined to say why the 20-year-old monarch is here. It even tried to keep his arrival a secret.

Appointment of George Is Stepping-Stone to Creating Super-Diplomat Post in Europe

By WALTER T. RIDDER
(Of The Independent Washington Bureau)

WASHINGTON—The appointment of Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga), as U.S. ambassador to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is merely a stepping-stone to creation of a new U.S. super-diplomat post in Europe, it was learned here.

Under the plan currently envisioned by the State Department, NATO will in the near future abandon its purely military character and will take on wide political powers. Economic matters will not be handled by the agency but will be funneled through such existing organizations as the OEEC (Organization for European Economic Cooperation), the Columbo Pact, and other regional set-ups.

• • • •

IN ORDER THAT NATO can fulfill its contemplated political functions, the State Department feels that the U.S. must be represented at NATO councils by a diplomat ranking higher than anyone currently in Europe and even higher than George will rank when he goes to Europe as the President's personal ambassador.

The present plan contemplates appointment of a man with a rank equivalent to that of undersecretary of state. He will outrank all U.S. ambassadors in Europe and will have authority over them. He will report directly to the secretary of state.

The only remotely analogous position was that held by the U.S. roving ambassadors in Europe during the time of the Marshall Plan. The new post, State Department sources say, will carry more prestige and more authority than did the roving ambassadors. No names have yet been suggested for the new job and none presumably will be until the enlargement of NATO functions, now under study, has become reality.

In the view of the U.S. government, NATO must not abandon its military posture, but must broaden itself in order to deal with questions which affect the entire Free World. Secretary of State Dulles on his recent trip to Europe told our NATO allies that the organization should not be a discussion group, but should be empowered to make decisions and to act. Currently, NATO can only move in the military field. If the State Department plan is adopted NATO will have jurisdiction over political problems which are of mutual Free World interest no matter where they may arise. As pointed out here at the present time, even though the tense situation in the Far East is of vital interest to all the member nations of NATO, the matter cannot even be discussed at its meetings. Neither can such matters as the presently strained relations of Great Britain, Greece and Turkey over Cyprus nor the generally inflamed situation in North Africa.

• • • •

AS THE STATE DEPARTMENT sees it, an expanded NATO should be empowered not only to talk over such problems but actually to do something about them, subject, of course, to the highest policy direction from heads of state. Within the framework of such policy, however, NATO could take action.

This would necessitate that the American representative be able to speak and act for the U.S. and is the reason why the State Department is contemplating creation of the "super-diplomat" post to the NATO organization.

OHIO'S POLITICAL BEAR

Lausche Walks Alone

By JACK BELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—In Ohio politics they call Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche the man who walks alone.

In his 60th year he is walking a familiar, politically lonely path as Ohio's "favorite son" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination and as his party's unopposed nominee for the U. S. Senate.

Lausche, a six-foot gentle bear with a rumpled shock of graying hair, has developed a technique of campaigning that has given him five terms as governor.

The technique seems to consist of ignoring most of the established rules while projecting the Lausche personality to the voters.

The keynote of that personality, as Lausche displays it to the public, is sincerity of an emotional sort. Tears come mistily to his eyes as he talks of the traditions of America with the reverence born of a son of a Slovenian immigrant.

When he speaks of "O-Hi-O," his voice echoes with a fierce pride and timber of respect.

• • • •

FRANK LAUSCHE is a salesman who takes great pains to identify himself with the man on the street. Nothing pleases him more than to be recognized on sight in every hamlet of Ohio.

In this role, he avoids the pomp most governors love. He rides around in a five-year-old, inexpensive state car driven by a state employe who is never in uniform. When the governor and his cadre of aides go to lunch, it is always at a neighborhood cafe in Columbus and not one of the big hotels.

Lausche's critics call all this part of a phony sales campaign. They say he caters to the business interests of Ohio and enlists Republican support in that manner. They describe him as a hard man with his enemies.

The governor has accumulated many of these enemies by ignoring the Democratic Party organization, denying it patronage and sometimes publicly supporting Republicans for office. In the minds of some Democrats, he is more Republican than Democratic.

As he himself has put it, his political creed is: "I will not allow my party interest to overcome my interest in my country."

• • • •

IN 1950 Lausche turned a cold shoulder on the Democratic candidate for the Senate and spoke glowingly of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, a Republican. Only this year Lausche admitted on a television program he voted for Taft.

He has praised Eisenhower to such an extent as to cause his November opponent, Republican

GOV. FRANK LAUSCHE
Demo Friend of GOP

Sen. George Bender, to accuse Lausche of "trying to grab Ike's coattails."

• • • •

LAUSCHE TURNED DOWN an invitation to meet with other Democratic governors in Washington last year immediately after a White House conference of all of the governors with Eisenhower.

"I do not contemplate joining a political meeting to figure out ways and means of defeating the man who has just been my host," he declared.

All of this has not endeared him to party colleagues. He has made an enemy out of Rep. Michael J. Kirwan of Ohio, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee.

For years, Lausche had feuded with Ray T. Miller, chairman of the Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) Democratic Committee. The county embraces about one-fifth of Ohio's voters.

Lausche often has turned his back on the legislative demands of Ohio's organized labor leaders. The CIO endorsed his opponent in the Democratic gubernatorial primary in 1948. Yet John Rooney, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio CIO Council, says, "We never spent any money against Lausche."

That seems, in a way, to sum up Lausche's political success thus far. He pleases no one segment of the electorate fully. Neither does he fully alienate any large segment.

• • • •

LAUSCHE HAS a habit of confounding the political liberals with his proposals while assuaging the conservatives with his performance.

His proposals to the Republican legislature often are New Dealish in nature. His critics say he knows in advance the legislature won't accept them. What comes out of his maneuvering usually amounts to a moderately progressive program.

But it is as a conservative that Lausche has been boomed by Sen. Russell (D-Ga), Govs. Allan Shivers of Texas and Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana as a potential presidential candidate acceptable to the South.

Lausche, who has proposed that Ohio set up a state fair employment practices commission (FEPC) and who opposes segregation in Ohio schools, has said the question of racial integration in the schools should be handled by the states.

The Ohio governor disclaims any present presidential ambitions. He says he wants to be the state's "favorite son" candidate only to keep Ohio's 58 presidential nominating votes out of the hands of the "bosses."

But, of course, he wouldn't say "No" if the presidential nomination appeared headed his way. And he probably wouldn't reject second place on the ticket.

He described himself as "equally friendly" to Sen. Estes Kefauver and Adlai E. Stevenson.

Observing that "it is too early to assume what the facts will be" at the party's Chicago convention, Lausche obviously intends to await developments before he makes a move with Ohio's votes.

of massive retaliation. It has forced our foreign friends to accept a new and more expensive version of our own late lamented WPA." The scene was the Aswan Dam in Egypt. The U. S. and Russia had got into competition in building it, section on section, until it now was 22,860 feet high and still growing. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was implored to come home, but couldn't understand why he should:

"Oh, give me a plane that's new
I may turn up in Timbuckto
You'll find me there lending
And they'll be sending an I. O. U."

Khrushchev and Bulganin appeared with "Ivan the Menace" who explained how Russia operates, to the tune of "Whatever Lola Wants":

"Whatever Ivan wants, Ivan takes
And little men, little Ivan takes you . . ."

Politicians and lobbyists were roasted in a skit laid in "Lobbies in Paradise"—the politicians' Garden of Eden. It was a place "where all contributions are large, there's no conflict of interest, and they pass nothing but gas bills." Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.) assured Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) of Senate lobby investigation fame, that "this is the politician's paradise. The money grows on trees. Ring for a lobbyist—and he'll pick it off for you."

Heart Attack Kills Actor Louis Calhern

NARA, Japan (Sunday) (UP)—Louis Calhern, Brooklyn-born actor and director, died suddenly of a heart attack Saturday night in this ancient Japanese capital where he was working on a picture.

Calhern was 62 and appeared to be in good health, although suffering from a cold. He had been resting in his hotel room from rehearsals for the role of Col. Purdy in the film version of the play "Teahouse of the August Moon." Calhern had not yet appeared on camera.

The movie company, including Marlon Brando and Glenn Ford, have been working on the film and all lived in the hotel with Calhern. Producer Jack Cummings and Director Daniel Mann said they did not know who would fill Calhern's role.

• • • •

A SPOKESMAN for Metro Goldwyn Mayer said the entire cast was shocked, especially Ford who had played with Calhern before.

The body was removed from the hotel room and taken to the U. S. Army hospital in Osaka to await instructions from next of kin.

Calhern, married four times, is survived by his mother, Mrs. Hubertina F. Vogt of New York.

The actor, who made his first movie in the silent film era and played in the theater with George M. Cohan, Laurette Taylor and Ethel Barrymore, was divorced by his fourth wife, Marianne Stewart, in Juarez, Mexico, last July. Calhern also had been married to Ilka Chase, Julia Hoyt and Natalie Shafer.

• • • •

HIS LAST MOVIE completed in Hollywood before he came to Japan last month was "High Society" in which he played Grace Kelly's uncle.

Born in Brooklyn Feb. 19, 1893, Calhern broke into show business early. He played with Cohan in "Song and Dance Man" in 1923, in "Cobra" with Laurette Taylor in 1924, and in "The Love Duel" with Ethel Barrymore in 1929.

Scout Canoes Upset, 2 Boys, Man Drown

UNION CITY, Pa. (UP)—An overnight canoe trip by seven Boy Scouts and three scout leaders ended in tragedy Saturday when their five canoes overturned in a rain-swollen creek, drowning two boys and a scoutmaster.

Panic seized the scouts when they saw the leading canoe hit a submerged tree and overturn in the swift-moving and treacherous waters of French Creek near this northwestern Pennsylvania town.

The scouts lost control on their tipsy craft, and one by one the canoes spun around and capsized.

The scouts, traveling two in a canoe, were heading in a line downstream on a 30-mile trip from near Union City to Meadville, Pa. Heavy rains during the night had swollen the creek, a deep and treacherous stream under even normal conditions.

• • • •

CLYDE WATSON, 30, Erie, a scout field executive and leader of the camping party, said he was paddling in the first canoe and had just ordered the scouts to head for shore when his craft hit a tree and overturned.

"Panic caused the deaths," Watson said. "I'll never know why the scouts did not grab the tree branches to save themselves."

Watson said Scoutmaster Fred Coe of Troop 3, Union City, drowned trying to save one of the boys.

"I could have saved them all, but it was impossible to grab three or four at one time," Watson said. "I'll never take another canoe trip again."

The other victims were identified as Robert Sadowski, 14, Erie, and Harvey Brady, 17, Mill Creek, Pa., both members of St. Boniface Troop 133.

Gen. Salling Is 110 Today, May Take Bath--the Governor Will Drop By

SLANT, Va. (AP)—An incredibly old man said today he may take one of his rare baths next Tuesday because it will be his 110th birthday and the Governor will drop by to pay his respects.

Age may have caved in "General" John Salling, the oldest of three living veterans of the Confederate Army, but the salty old rebel is still "hewin, pryin' and pullin'," as he puts it.

A cigar poked in his mouth, Uncle John said there will be a fine birthday celebration. He was more concerned Saturday, however, about finding hired help for his 23-acre farm.

• • • •

SALLING WAS PROPPED UP by pillows on a small cot in the living room of his daughter's four-room, graying frame house which overlooks State Highway 61 near this tiny Southwest Virginia community.

"I'm going to sit in my wheel chair on the front porch and smoke a few cigars and chew some tobacco and chat," he said. He expects 300 well wishers, who visit him each year at this time.

The general said he "might even take a bath," for the occasion. Not that he relished the prospect, he added, "I was a bachelor 15 years after the war and I bathed 15 times."

Salling plans to wake up about 10 o'clock. His daughter, Mrs. H. A. McCamy, 54, will wheel him out to the front porch if the weather's fitting and there he'll greet his callers to call during the day.

Gov. Thomas Stanley and a delegation of state troopers plan to present the swarthy old veteran with a 10-gallon, Texas-style hat Salling expressed a yen for.

Later, Salling will eat ice cream and share with his guests a 25-pound, three-layer cake supplied by shops in Bristol, Va. Visitors will include the oldest daughter, Mrs. Ellen Starnes, 70; and Mrs. Nancy Thompson, 64, his only other living daughter.

The general is almost deaf and people have to shout at him. Likely, he will boom right back.

Frail now, Salling weighs only 100 pounds. But his hair still grows thick and jet black. "Never bother with my hair," he said. "Only time it gets wet is when it rains."

Besides Salling the only confederates still alive are Walter Williams, 109, of Franklin, Tex., and William A. Lundy, 107, Laurel Hill, Fla. The Union Army has one survivor, Albert Woolson, 109, of Duluth, Minn.

• • • •

SALLING has lived within two miles of his mountain birthplace all his life. During the Civil War he mined saltpetre for gunpowder. It was in these hills that he married his childhood sweetheart, Mary, at the age of 40 and raised their seven children. When Mary died many years ago the old soldier never remarried.

The general is no longer allowed the glass of white moonshine that he used to keep handy at the foot of his rocking chair. But he won't turn down a sip of hard liquor if Mrs. McCamy isn't watching.

Nobody Wants to Do Europe's Dirty Work

VIENNA (AP)—Europe's chimney sweeps, traditional bearers of good luck, complain that youth takes a black view of the future in their profession. They need apprentices.

More than 1,000 sweeps from all over Europe meet here May 16-19 at their congress to do something about the manpower shortage.

It's sooty work, they admit, but business is better than ever and wages are high.

REGIONAL POLITICS

Kefauver Aides Reply to Money Charge

By The Lookout

Adlai Stevenson's assertion that Republican money is being used in behalf of Sen. Estes Kefauver's campaign for presidential nomination was dubbed "wild and unfounded" in a statement sent to The Independent, Press-Telegram by Kefauver's national campaign manager.

Stevenson made the assertion while he and Kefauver were campaigning in the Long Beach area late last week. He referred particularly to the Minnesota campaign, where Kefauver defeated him, but said he did not know if any GOP money is being used to help Kefauver in California.

"We think it is about time Stevenson stopped alibiing for past defeats," said F. Joseph Donahue, Kefauver national chairman.

"As for Stevenson's wild and unfounded charge that Republican contributors financed Sen. Kefauver's victory in Minnesota, it is an inescapable fact that Stevenson was not defeated by money—he was defeated by votes."

Stevenson's remarks were based on a report appearing in a syndicated column by Doris Fleeson, which quoted Tex McCrary of New York to the effect that the GOP had helped the senator in Minnesota. Donahue yesterday quoted a telegram from McCrary:

"Only a very foolish Republican would risk contributing to the spring primary campaign of the candidate who might be the most difficult to defeat in November."

KIMBALL SOUNDS OFF

As Democratic politics continued to warm up, Dan A. Kimball, state chairman for Richard Richards' campaign for the U. S. Senate, sounded off about Democrats who are coming out for Richards' Republican opponent, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel.

Kimball charged that the appointment of Henry I. Dockweiler as chairman of a group of "Democrats for Kuchel" is "another in a long series of Republican efforts to use the cross-filing privilege to confuse the voters."

He said Dockweiler headed committees of Democrats for Gov. Knight, Richard Nixon and other prominent Republicans. He called him a perennial Republican supporter who maintains his Democratic registration for reasons of political expediency.

Kimball also slapped at Manchester Boddy, former Los Angeles publisher, who heads the Democratic campaign for Kuchel in the state. He said Boddy was "a member of a similar spurious organization two years ago" and recalled that Boddy lost a bid for the Democratic Senatorial nomination in 1950.

Meanwhile, another prominent Democrat came out for Kuchel.

Edward A. Hills, San Franciscan who twice was state chairman of Democratic Attorney General Edmund G. Brown's campaign, agreed to become state vice chairman of the "Democrats for Kuchel Committee." Hills will concentrate his efforts in Northern California.

KLOCKSIEM COMMITTEE

Assemblyman Herbert Klocksiem, running for reelection in the 44th Assembly District, has announced his campaign committee. Members: Maurice Goulet, manager; Edward T. Martin, Judge Charles D. Wallace, Charles Z. Walker, Rex L. Hodges and Clark F. Story. Headquarters are at 320 Pine Ave.

SANDERS ON PRINCIPLE

Coy Sanders, Democratic candidate in the 44th Assembly District, in a speech to the Young Democratic organization called for a return to politics of principle.

Sanders cited the activities of former Equalization Board Member William Bonelli as a "glaring example of expediency politics."

Such men as Bonelli can come to power only when voters are either apathetic or more concerned with campaign victory than with the integrity and competence of the men they seek to elect," he said. He told the young Democrats that "character cannot be bought, and conviction is never sold. Let us assure good government by electing men who possess not only proven knowledge and competence but character and conviction as well."

Alaska Flood Perils Refuge of Evacuees

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UP)—Helicopter crews shuttled all 27 residents of the flood threatened village of Aniak during the night but the rising waters of the Kuskokwim and Aniak rivers threatened still another evacuation Saturday.

Officials of the 71st Air Rescue Squadron at Elmendorf Air Force Base near here said a tent village had been established on high ground near Aniak and that all the refugees had received food and blankets.

But flood waters were backing up near the tent village and the entire group may have to be evacuated again, the Air Force said.

5 Senators Charge Farm Bill Will Increase Farmers' Costs

WASHINGTON (UP) — Five members of the Senate Agriculture Committee charged Saturday the new farm bill would increase farmers' costs by nearly $500 million.

Two Democrats and three Republicans on the committee centered their fire on mandatory price supports for feed grains. They said that section should be cut out of the bill which the committee approved Wednesday night.

Their minority report, released Saturday said, "farmers' gross income hasn't declined; it is their net income that has gone down. The bill raises farmers' costs by approximately half a billion dollars."

President Eisenhower, in vetoing an earlier Democratic farm bill April 16, said mandatory supports on feed grains would build grain surpluses and drive livestock prices down.

The new bill provides for similar, but slightly lower, supports for noncommercial corn, grain sorghums, barley, rye and oats.

The bill also contains—as did the original — President Eisenhower's $1.2 billion soil bank proposal. However, the House and the Senate committee turned down Mr. Eisenhower's plan to make advance soil bank payments to farmers this year.

Signing the minority report were Sens. Spessard L. Holland (D-Fla.), James O. Eastland (D-Miss), George D. Aiken (R-Vt), Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and John J. Williams (R-Del).

They said the feed grain provisions would extend mandatory price supports to 100 million acres in addition to the 170 million now covered. They added that the price of feeder livestock would be cut since feeders would have to pay more for grain.

Dear Mr. Chan: "The day I came to your office with my mother and brother I was about to give up hope of getting rid of my asthma attacks. I spent hundreds of dollars for shots and pills but yet found no results. After reading your advertisement, I tried you for my last resort and was thrilled to find that ... responded wonderfully. After the first treatment I was able to breathe normally and could sleep better for the first time in months. Now ... am feeling fine and hoping others will benefit from my experience with Dr. Chan's Natural Method." ... signed Mrs. Vivian Mercer

To Whom It May Concern: "Five years ago I was badly stricken with neuritis in my shoulders and extremities. My hands and knees were so badly swollen that I could hardly use them. I wasn't able to raise my arms above the shoulders. I was told by several doctors that they have done all they could for me and that ... no longer will be able to work again. Finally a friend referred me to Dr. Chan's Herbal Therapy. After the first week ... felt much improved and the fourth week found me walking much easier with the pains in my shoulders disappearing, my hands returned to normal and I had use of them once more ... cannot be words enough to express my appreciation to Dr. Chan to anyone who is ill." signed C. YOUNG MAN IN A H-U-R-R-Y

READY FOR SPELLDOWN

I, P-T Spell Champ Whizzes to Capital

After months of dictionary-digging and study, Barry Plott, 13, 8th grader in the Leland Stanford Junior High School and spelling champ of the Long Beach area, is ready for the National Spelling Bee in Washington, D. C.

Barry, his mother, Mrs. R. M. Plott, and his sisters, Jean, 7, and Dorothy, 6, of 2108 Ostrom Ave. left by plane Saturday for the capital. Barry's father, Comdr. Plott, administrative officer at the Long Beach Naval shipyard, wanted to go too, but he could not get away.

• • • •

"WE'RE FROM Virginia and we'll have a wonderful time!" said Mrs. Plott. Her sister and brother-in-law, Marine Col. and Mrs. Alvin Sanders are stationed in Washington. Her mother, Mrs. James E. Barry and brother, James E. Barry Jr., an aerial commercial photographer, will come up from Norfolk to visit them.

Barry and Mrs. Plott will be in the Willard Hotel with the other contestants. Jean and Dorothy will stay with their uncle and aunt, Col. and Mrs. Sanders. The Plotts will be gone 12 days.

Barry won top honors in the Indepedent, Press-Telegram-sponsored Long Beach area Spelling Bee in Poly High School auditorium last March 17 by adrily dusting off such words as "accordion," "oscilloscope," "lascivious," "sphincter," "psittacosis" and septuagenarian."

• • • •

HE WILL COMPETE against 62 other young spellers—the country's best chosen in town, city, area, regional and sometimes state contests—in the 29th annual National Spelling Bee.

The championship meet—a one-day "miss and out" word battle conducted in the traditional spelling bee manner—will be in the Department of Commerce auditorium Thursday, beginning at 8:30 a.m.

At stake will be a record-sized cash prize total of $3,975 and top honors in a contest that has involved more than 5,000,000 school children.

For the first time in the history of the event, boys outnumber girls among the contestants. There are 34 boys and 29 girls.

Trial to Start in Theft of Five War Cannon

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (AP)—A 39-year-old German immigrant, John Schultz, goes to court Monday on charges of stealing five Crimean war cannon. Each weighs half a ton.

Police say a large crane was used to pluck them from a school board storage yard. They had stood for years as relics at the collegiate institution until their bases began to crumble. Their value as scrap was placed at $90 for prosecution purposes.

Austrians Go to Polls Today

VIENNA, Austria (U.P.)—Austrians go to the polls today for the first time since the end of the Allied occupation to elect a new parliament.

Observers predict a close race between the country's two big parties — Chancellor Julius Raab's Conservative People's Party and the Anti-Communist Socialist Party of Vice Chancellor Adolf Schaerf. The two parties have governed Austria in a coalition since 1945.

A total of 10 parties and splinter groups will be contesting for the 165 seats at stake in the "Nationalrat." But only four have candidates in all 25 election districts: the People's Party, and left-wing Socialists.

The elections—the fourth since World War II—were called after the two government parties failed to reach a compromise over important economic issues which arose after conclusion of the anti-Communist Socialists, the extreme Rightist Party of Freedom and the Communists the Austrian State Treaty in May, 1955.

Tells Mounties' Marriage Rules

OTTAWA (AP)—Love and marriage don't go with the first five years of a Mountie's career, Justice Minister Stuart Garson says. He explained in the House of Commons it takes time to train the Royal Canadian Mounted Policemen. Then they are transferred about every six months, sometimes to the wild north. That's the reason they are not permitted to marry until they have served five years.

NAVY KEEPS HER POSTED

Holding the latest in a long series of telegrams telling of her son, Frank's fight against a blood disease, is Mrs. Kitty Farrar, 519 E. 219th St., Torrance. Mrs. Farrar, holding son Jack, 1, has been kept informed on her son's condition by daily telegrams from the Navy Department.—(Staff Photo.)

Torrance Sailor Stricken With Rare Blood Disease

TORRANCE—A rare blood disease has kept Navyman Frank Bryant, 17, at Tripler Army Hospital in Honolulu, and his condition is considered "less favorable," his mother, Mrs. Kitty Farrar, 519 E. 219th St., was informed in the latest of a series of telegrams from the Navy Department.

Mrs. Farrar, mother of five other children, ranging in age from 14 months to 11 years, has been kept posted on her son's condition by daily telegrams from Vice Adm. J. L. Halloway Jr., Chief of Navy Personnel in Washington, D. C.

Frank, an ex-Banning High School student, joined the Navy in May 1955, and was sent to Honolulu in September of last year. According to Mrs. Farrar, he contacted the disease, Staphylococcal Septicemia, early last month, and had been "packed in ice" because of continued high temperatures.

Hoping to be able to get to the Islands to see her ailing son, Mrs. Farrar has contacted the local Red Cross chapter. Meanwhile, Mrs. Farrar has asked the boy's former schoolmates and friends to "keep his spirits up" with letters.

"I know that Frank is very sick, because a Gray Lady has been writing his letters for him," Mrs. Farrar said. The sailor had been gaining strength, according to the mother, but lately has taken a turn for the worse.

Should We Change Method of Filling Council Vacancies?

WHEN A VACANCY OCCURS on the Long Beach Unified School District Board, it is filled by appointment by the remaining members of the board and the appointee serves until the next election.

This is provided in the Education Code and the Long Beach City Charter. The Charter, on the other hand, provides for special district election in case of a vacancy on the City Council. Such an election must now be held to fill the vacancy in the Fifth District position caused by the death of Mrs. Ruth Bach.

PERHAPS WE SHOULD consider changing the method of filling council vacancies to conform to that which prevails in the school district, and in many other cities. The objective would be the same as that which dictated the educational code provision—to save the trouble and expense of special elections.

There are ample precedents. The city of San Diego, which has the same unique method of electing city councilmen that we have—nomination by districts and city-wide election—fills council vacancies through action by the remaining members of the council. Sixth class cities in California fill vacancies by the appointment method, with the requirement that unless appointment is made in 30 days, an election will be held.

Vacancies in Long Beach elective municipal offices, other than council positions, are filled by council appointment under our charter.

THE PRINCIPAL OBJECTION to the proposed change would probably be that the appointive Councilman would have an advantage, as an incumbent, in case he chose to run for the position at the ensuing election. But it has been demonstrated that incumbents do not have a cinch. The appointive Councilman would have to prove himself if he hoped to win at the election.

It is true that the appointive Councilman, pending the ensuing election, would have a somewhat different status than that of other Councilmen who owe their positions to city-wide vote. But under the present method, the status of the replacement Councilman is likewise different. He or she holds the office by vote of the people of only one segment of the city. Under the appointment method, the appointee would be selected by councilmen elected city-wide, and in a sense this would represent broader sentiment than if the replacement were elected in one district.

IF THE APPOINTMENT plan were to be considered here, it should be required, of course, that the appointee live in the district from which the previous Councilman was nominated. That is the way it is done in San Diego.

Most students of municipal government, we believe, would favor the appointive method. It is worthy of consideration here for the future.

Letting 'Em Out of the Closet

(One in a series of Sunday reproductions of the timeless cartoons of Jay Darling.)

HERE WE GO AGAIN! Change the name of the little man behind the door to Khrushchev and this cartoon might have been drawn yesterday. But in 1920 when Ding (Jay N. Darling) drew it, it was Lenin who had promised to be good. He and his partner Leon Trotsky had been behaving like regular communists do. Three years earlier they had murdered the Czar and his family, had staged their October revolution and thumbed their noses at nearly everyone. So we let 'em out of the closet into the family of nations. But it wasn't long until we wished we hadn't. Today it's the same old drama; only the leading characters are new. At Geneva last year, Khrushchev again promised to behave, but you know what happened to the "Spirit of Geneva."

Adlai Campaign Has Contrast; There's a Gay Side and a Grim

LAKEWOOD CENTER—The people, mostly women, sitting on the benches at the bus stop in front of the big department store, waited expectantly—but not for the bus.

When a truck with a big picture of Adlai Stevenson on its side came around the corner, a woman stood up. "Here he comes!"

But a man with lots of hair on his head got out of the cab of the truck and began fiddling with loudspeaking equipment. The woman sat down again.

STEVENSON

More people, including city officials and local candidates of the party, gathered and stood watching the truck as if expecting Mr. Stevenson to emerge from some hidden part of it and step onto the platform. But he didn't.

He came, instead, after another 15 minutes, down the long walk in front of the stores and shops, shaking hands on the way.

He wore a rumpled blue suit, a striped blue shirt, and a striped tie. The wear and tear of hard campaigning was evident on his face as escorts bustled him through the crowd to the truck platform. Though he is a fairly heavy man, he looked almost gaunt when he forgot to flash his brilliant smile. In the crowd, persons obviously sympathetic with his cause spoke of this. "He looks so tired," said an elderly woman.

The impression of tiredness dissolved temporarily when he stepped up to the microphone. Before him waited a crowd of 300 persons. It was his job to win their votes.

He is a man who likes to make jokes.

DOWN IN DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., he recalled, an elderly lady had come up to him and said: "Gov. Stevenson, your grandfather was my godfather. When I was a little girl, he gave me a doll. I'm going to vote for you."

"That's fine," Stevenson had said, "but surely you have a better reason than that for voting for me."

"There must be one," she said, "but I can't think of one."

People up close to the truck got a laugh out of that. But the microphone wasn't working. A woman at the fringe of the audience shouted, "We can't hear you!"

He answered: "I'm sorry. It's a break for you."

Someone tampered with the microphone. The loudspeaker gave out a dismal moan.

Adlai looked surprised. "Now, I know that's a Republican," he said.

The loudspeaking system got fixed. Mr. Stevenson went on. He made a direct appeal for votes, even from people who couldn't vote for him. "I came here to ask you to vote for me in the Repub—that is, the Democratic primary." The audience laughed at this small blunder. He recouped: "Well, you crossfile here, at that, don't you?"

(The answer is, no, not in the presidential preference primary.)

THAT WAS THE GAY side.

But how badly Mr. Stevenson feels his need of winning the Democratic primary in this state was clear enough. It was reflected in the strain which he could not always conceal. And that strain is the result of long, energy-sapping hours of traveling, speaking, and holding press conferences.

He has been pushed into this gruelling routine, so different from his aloof role of 1952, by reverses in previous primaries. And by the dogged campaigning of his adversary, Sen. Estes Kefauver.

MR. STEVENSON appeared to be moving and talking much faster than he liked to. For instance, a reporter buttonholed him and asked a question. Would Mr. Stevenson describe, more concretely, some of the things he would do with regard to the school segregation problem?

The segregation issue is the most delicate which he, as a Democrat, must face. In prevous speeches he had said the President ought to use the "power and prestige" of the presidency to bolster the Supreme Court decision. How?

He appeared almost hurt to be so pressed. He said with a trace of irritation that he had explained himself on that question before. He turned away, but smiled over his shoulder a resigned little smile.

Mr. Stevenson is not an evasive or discourteous person. He just didn't have the time. That's the way the campaigning is. He has made more than 50 speeches in the past week.

AND HE WOULD SEEM not to relish it. He would prefer more time; would rather not answer quickly.

His speech at Lakewood Center was an off-the-cuff collection of abstractions about America's role of leadership, about the staggering problems of the day. He had no time to develop these thoughts and get down to cases.

And when he went among the crowd shaking hands, he seemed to be doing that also in an abstract way—as though at heart he didn't believe it the way a man out to have to go about the business of winning votes.

Later, when he spoke in Long Beach Municipal Auditorium, at a distance from the audience and with one of his prepared addresses lying before him, Mr. Stevenson seemed nearer his proper character.

Proposal Unfolded by Mr. Dulles Rivals Famed Marshall Plan in Significance

WASHINGTON—It will dawn on the world soon that a plan of far-reaching importance — perhaps even more significant in the long run than the Marshall Plan—has just been unfolded by the Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles.

LAWRENCE

When first mentioned several days ago, it was vaguely described in official pronouncements as a means of "broadening NATO." This was erroneously interpreted in many quarters, here and abroad, to mean that emphasis on the military side of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was being abondoned altogether and that henceforth there would be increased attention to economic help in some new spending program by the United States.

But it turns out that neither impression was correct and that what the United States now is proposing is the development of a new instrumentality for the exercise of moral force in the world paralleling, though not supplanting, the United Nations itself.

Basically, the new approach can be interpreted as a realistic recognition of the handicaps imposed by the very universality of the United Nations. Its cumbersome voting procedure sometimes only accentuate factionalism. Also, the log-rolling within the U.N. creates balances of power and rival groups in "power politics."

But utilizing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's Council, however, as a political entity, there is a chance for agreement among a smaller group of nations which in emergencies can make their influence felt more effectively and more promptly. For, after all, back of the NATO Council is military potentiality—something the United Nations Security Council lacks because of the misuse of the veto power by the Soviet Union.

The scope of any idea which is in an intangible stage cannot be defined too sharply at the outset. But already, from a careful reading of the masterful speech of the American Secretary of State, it is possible to say that additional economic as well as military cooperation need not be ruled out as a sequel to the plan. Indeed, once there is a strong political union of states, action to implement military as well as economic programs becomes logical. Nor is the plan at variance with U. N. objectives, as the Secretary of State himself pointed out in his Tuesday speech.

What stands out as the sensational significance of the "Dulles Plan" is the forthright manner in which it seeks to deal with the Soviet Union's mischief-making not only in the Middle East but in Asia. Thus, if the European nations which are members of NATO stand together, they can, through the Council, bring a conciliatory influence and a constructive mediation to bear in such disputes as Cyprus and Algeria which tend otherwise to weaken NATO militarily. While these are internal questions, legally speaking, they involve external factors. Neither France nor Britain, for example, would be compelled to accept the help of the other members of NATO in such disputes, but there would be an opportunity, through new ways and means, to bring about solutions.

Senate's Seniority Rule Advances Mediocre Men

THERE WERE FEW surprises in the week's primary elections.

The Indiana vote, like that of Illinois, failed to show any perceptible farm revolt against the Eisenhower administration.

Florida's able governor, Leroy Collins, won a clear majority over five opponents, including former Gov. Fuller Warren who was attempting a comeback.

KNIGHT

Gov. Collins is first class in every respect and excels as an intelligent and articulate salesman for the Sunshine State.

Another Floridian, Sen. George Smathers, had only token opposition. With Smathers and Sen. Spessard Holland in the upper house, the state of Florida can be proud indeed of her representation in Washington.

As was expected in Ohio, Republican C. William O'Neil and Democrat Michael DiSalle were nominated for governor. Both are good men with excellent records of public service.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche (D) and Sen. George Bender (R) were unopposed for the senatorial nomination. This contest is between two of the stoutest gladiators ever to enter the Ohio political arena.

The only other political note of interest was the defeat of Gov. Allen Shivers by Sen. Lyndon Johnson for control of the Texas delegation to the Democratic national convention.

This was not an unexpected result as Johnson and Speaker Sam Rayburn have been gunning for Shivers ever since he helped put Texas in the Eisenhower column four years ago.

• • • •

OF CONSIDERABLY more importance than the week's several primary elections was the announcement that Sen. Walter George (D-Georgia) will retire from the Senate and accept an appointment as President Eisenhower's special ambassador to NATO.

As the distinguished chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, Walter George exerts a constructive influence upon foreign policy. His record has been one of positive accomplishment.

Since the chairmanship is determined by seniority, the new chairman will be at least 72 years old no matter which party wins control of the Senate.

If the Democrats stay in power, Sen. Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island can claim the post. He will be 89 years old in October.

Should the Republicans win, the new chairman will be either Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, or if Wiley is defeated, Sen. H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey. Wiley is 72; Smith 76.

None of these senators can be considered as wise or able as Sen. George. And yet one of them will, because the Constitution makes the Senate a partner of the President in foreign policy, hold one of the most powerful posts in our government.

Foreign policy guidance in the Senate will be furnished after George's retirement by one of several undistinguished oldsters who happen to enjoy membership in the world's most exclusive club."

The seniority system should be scrapped and committees empowered to elect their chairmen upon the basis of ability and judgment.

Military Chiefs Ignore Order on Discrimination

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower may not know it, but the Defense Department is flagrantly violating his own orders against racial discrimination.

On Sept. 3, 1954, Ike ordered that a nondiscrimination clause be written into all defense contracts. He dictated an airtight clause, requiring government contractors to agree "not to discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, religion, color or national origin."

PEARSON

The President appointed a special committee on government contracts, headed by Vice President Nixon, to make sure his orders were carried out. Except for sending circulars to businessmen, however, Nixon has done little to enforce the nondiscrimination clause.

The Defense Department, with no one watching it, has been brazen about flouting the White House order. It is doing business with literally thousands of contractors who flatly refuse to agree to equal job rights for Negroes. Most are southern contractors, particularly telephone companies and other utilities.

The way the Pentagon gets around the nondiscrimination clause is to do business on a day-to-day basis and not bother to sign formal contracts which would have to contain a nondiscrimination clause.

Nixon has had this open evasion called to his attention, but has taken no effective steps to rectify it.

City Personnel Planned Marina

TO THE EDITOR:

I read the story about the Alamitos Bay Marina in a recent issue. The author gave credit for the Marina plan to the U. S. Corps of Engineers. This kind of reporting I object to.

In 1946, the Associate City Planner and I prepared the original report on Alamitos Bay Marina as you see it being constructed now. Of course, it was a joint task of the Long Beach Planning Department, but if you ask Mr. Werner Ruchti, I am sure he will tell you who got the big job done and it won't be the Corps of Engineers.

My complaint is about your everlasting oversight of the excellent employes of the city of Long Beach. Even when they have done a splendid job, the credit goes elsewhere.

I lived in Long Beach from 1921 to 1931, and this kind of local lack of recognition is one of the main reasons I now live in New Mexico.

One is told that good reporting is to give credit when credit is due. Why don't you? Your City Planning Department deserves all credit for Alamitos Bay Marina!

JOHN A. LARNED.
708 Indiana S.E.
Albuquerque, N. M.

(Editor's Note: Mr. Larned's contention about the source of original plans for the Marina are confirmed by Mr. Ruchti. The plans were prepared by city personnel and dated Feb. 17, 1947. Technicians working under Mr. Ruchti were Larned, W. R. Walker, R. A. Covington, R. C. Von Wetter, Cilla McBride, and Mrs. M. E. Leonard. The apparent error in our story was less the fault of the reporter than of the city manager's office which released the statement: "The orginal plan for development of a small craft harbor in Alamitos Bay was prepared by the U. S. Army Engineers.")

Labor Leaders 'Real Dictators'

TO THE EDITOR:

In that letter headed "Union Busters Criticized," Guy Guerin says:

"With utter disregard for the majority and the dickens with what happens to the country these would-be dictators carry on with their insidious schemes." He says, "Men of honesty and integrity follow a code of decency but the supporters of union busting have too shallow a conscience to search."

What about the labor leaders? Their disregard for the majority, especially when they pull a strike? Why don't they get themselves elected by the majority to represent labor?

Let's give some thought to the real dictators, the labor leaders. With their code and schemes they can stop anything in the country, and there is little we could do about it.

Retirement of George Tragic Loss to Senate

JACOB ASKED a blessing before he would release the angel when they wrestled. In courageously determining to retire, Sen. George will gain and give the blessing of additional service to the nation.

His decision was made over night. He suffered a grievous blow in the death of his friend and contemporary, Sen. Barkley, who was regarded as the man of iron stamina. In addition, Sen. George has been plagued for several years, with a recurring bronchial ailment. The thought of a summer campaign in high temperature Georgia alarmed Mrs. George and the family physician. Heeding their pleas, he decided to retire.

KELLY

Learning that Sen. George was wrestling with this problem in the night hours, President Eisenhower and State Department officials tried to persuade him to defer the decision. They hoped that Sen. George would gain in physical strength.

However, he told the President he had made up his mind. He made the announcement the next morning.

Sen. George's retirement will be a tragic loss to the Senate. His 34 years of Senate experience, his profound knowledge of foreign affairs and Constitutional law are combined with a benign personality that knows no hatred.

His friends are convinced he made a wise choice. Georgia county political leaders (85 per cent) believed that under the unusual county unit voting system that Sen. George could have been defeated by 42-year-old former Gov. Herman Talmadge.

Later on that memorable day, Sen. George told this reporter of his happy years in the Senate. He praised his wife, "Miss Lucy," saying, "She has all the admirable attributes of womanhood and is a far, far better person than I." His views reflect their lifetime of devotion.

The Georges combine the shining virtues with a radiantly gay spirit that neither sorrow nor the years has dulled.

Not long ago, the effervescent "Miss Lucy" said, "Mr. George (she always addresses him in that traditional Southern manner), I'd rather be dead than old."

"How do you know, Miss Lucy? You've never been dead," he said.

"Well, I've been old," she retorted, "and I don't like it."

COLOR ON TV

7 P. M.

(5)—Long John Silver, Robert Newton.

The armed services get a salute from "Wide Wide World" that should be as interesting a show as has ever been put together. "World," on (4) at 1 p.m., will have a simulated atom bomb shown for the first time, you'll see a B-17 bomber actually shot down by fighter planes and there'll be guided missiles flying around, 800 paratroopers dropping from planes and one carrying a camera to show how it feels to parachute, there'll be an air-sea rescue, the "Blue Angels" in jet acrobatics, a trip in a submarine . . . in fact this 90-minute show shouldn't have a dull moment at all.

DRAMA—Claude Rains will star as a retired Supreme Court justice who runs for the Presidency and learns that there is plenty of rough-and-tumble in the political field during "The Alcoa Hour" on (4) at 9 p.m. He is put in the position of either bartering his ethics or possibly losing the campaign. . . . Patricia Hitchcock, daughter of the director-producer, stars with Jack Mullaney when "Alfred Hitchcock Presents" a murder story set against the Ozarks involving a hill boy and a school teacher on (2) at 9:30 p.m. . . . John Nesbitt's "The Stepmother," a little known story from Abraham Lincoln's boyhood, will be told on "Telephone Time" at 3:30 p.m. on (2) . . . Henry Fonda and Dorothy Malone are seen in a repeat of "The Clown" telling the story of how Emmett Kelly's famed tramp character was born during "G.E. Theatre" on (2) at 9 p.m. . . . A coward finally faces an inevitable gunfight during "Frontier" on (4) at 7:30 p.m. A badman double-crosses his gang and is hunted down by the leader.

GUESTING — The second round of the match between jockey Billy Pearson and actor Vincent Price and a continuation of the youthful spelling bee with Andrew Douglass against champion Gloria Lockerman will highlight the $64,000 challenge at 10 p.m. on (2) . . . "Ed Sullivan Show" at 8 p.m. on (2) will have a "live" Hollywood segment featuring the City of Hope Awards with June Allyson, Ann Blythe, Rosemary Clooney, Betty Grable, Betty Hutton and Deborah Kerr. In New York will be Jose Greco and his dancers, The singing Barry Sisters, Ving Merlin and his girl violinists, the tumbling Merkeys and acrobatic Fredonis group . . . "Comedy Hour" on (4) at 8 p.m. has Stan Freberg as host with Cliff Arquette, Pat Stanley, Elena Verdugo, Dave Willock and Jonathan Winters as stars. Freberg just lost his first round with Bob Clampett who is suing the comic for using a puppet a la Cecil the Sea Sick Sea Serpent. Clampett wants $2,000,000 . . . Eamon Andrews, moderator of the British version of "What' My Line?" will take Bennett Cerf's seat on the panel over (2) at 7:30 p.m. and Peter Lind Hayes will occupy the late Fred Allen's spot . . . Harold E. Stassen on "Youth Wants to Know" at 11:30 a.m. on (4) . . . Herman Talmadge of Georgia will "Meet the Press' on (4 at 6 p.m.

STORY LINES — One of Lassie's pups is poisoned and the blame is placed on a pilot who is crop-dusting in the area. Things work out differently when the full tale is told on "Lassie" at 6:30 p.m. over (2)

SECOND 'PERFECTO' BY BUMS' ACE

No-Hitter for Erskine!

BROOKLYN (AP)—Carl Erskine of the Brooklyn Dodgers hurled the second no-hit, no-run game of his career Saturday, turning back the New York Giants, 3-0, in a game in which the losers' strongest threat was a "home run" that sailed over the fence and was foul by inches.

He did it before against the Chicago Cubs on June 19, 1951, and won that game by 5-0.

The foul "home run" was struck by Whitey Lockman in the ninth inning. The only hard fielding chances came off the bats of Ray Katt and Willie Mays. In the fifth inning, Carl Furillo raced to the score board in right centerfield to make a gaudy catch off Katt.

• • • •

AN INNING earlier Jackie Robinson, still an agile athlete, made a diving catch at third base of a bullet hit by Mays. Al Dark had walked immediately before Mays batted, and it appeared at the time the most significant aspect of the play was that it stopped a potential rally.

Immediately after Dark, Giant shortstop, slapped back to Erskine for the final out the Dodgers mobbed the slender 29-year-old pitcher, Walter O'Malley, president of the Dodgers, promised Erskine a check for $500 even before he had reached the dressing room.

The handsome Hoosier became the eighth pitcher since 1900 to register two no-hitters in his career, but his was the first to be televised nationally. The game was seen, coast to coast, on the usual Saturday game of the week TV show.

• • • •

BOB FELLER and Cy Young of the Cleveland Indians lead all the rest with three no-hitters, but one of Young's was pitched before 1900.

"You know, it is a funny thing," he said in the clubhouse after the game, "Reese told me before the game that he had a premonition that I wouldn't lose today."

The triumph was the second straight for the Dodgers over New York. The Dodgers' first tally came in the third inning when PeeWee Reese walked and moved to second on Duke Snider's single. Both moved up as Roy Campanella was thrown out. Al Worthington, starting and losing pitcher, then walked both Gil Hodges and Robinson to force a run across.

• • • •

TWO MORE Brooklyn runs came across in the seventh when Reese singled to left and he scored on Snider's double. The latter counted when Campanella also singled.

It was the first no-hitter since Sam Jones of the Chicago Cubs turned back the Pittsburgh Pirates on May 12, last year. There hasn't been one in the American League since Al (Bobo) Holloman of the St. Louis Browns began his major league career with a no-hitter against the Philadelphia Athletics on May 6, 1953.

"I knew I was pitching a no-hitter midway but I had to keep thinking about winning the game as well. I kept saying to myself 'one more inning and we will get some runs.'"

• • • •

"CAMPANELLA and Hodges both were wonderful in slowing me down when I started pressing."

O'Malley said he "was too excited to think" when reminded that he had been warned for giving Erskine a $500 check when he pitched the 1952 no-hitter and now had repeated the offense.

"Gosh, I was so excited and so pleased I forgot all about that," the president said, "I'll just have to take the consequences."

• • • •

OTHER DODGERS said that one of baseball's oldest taboos—that of mentioning a no-hitter while such a game was in progress — was violated when one player unwittingly said about the seventh inning that "there is another no-hitter going in Yankee Stadium."

LANDY DOES IT AGAIN!

Australian star John Landy wins mile in blistering 3:59.1 at Fresno Relays, beating second-place finisher Ron Delany by 50 yards. This was the sixth time Landy has cracked "miracle" mile.—(AP Wirephoto.)

Aussie Miler in Easy Win

FRESNO (UP)—Australia's John Landy cracked the four-minute barrier for the second time in eight days and University of California sophomore Leamon King equaled the world record of 9.3 in the 100-yard dash Saturday night at the West Coast Relays here.

Three of the top high jumpers in the world showed their ware with Compton's Charles Dumas and USF's Bill Russell deadlocking for first at 6-9¼ and former SC star Ernie Shelton going 6-8¼ for third.

Landy won by 50 yards over Ron Delany of Villanova in 3:59.1 and King edged Alex Burl of the Sixth Army team by two strides as Fresno State speedster Mike Agostini finished a disappointing fifth.

Landy and King were not the only standouts in the meet.

Former University of Southern California hurdler Jack Davis equalled his fastest time in the 120-yard high hurdles, nipping San Diego Naval Training Station teammate Milt Campbell in 13.6. The time was just one-tenth of a second off Dick Attlesey's world record for the distance.

• • • •

AFTER BREAKING the four-minute mark for the sixth time in his career, Landy announced that it probably was his "last mile race."

"From now on I will run either the 1500 meters or the 5,000 and I think it will tend toward the 5,000 meters," he said. The modest Australian said, "The conditions were ideal for this and the track was faster than at Los Angeles—but the man wasn't."

"I wasn't very tired. The race did nothing more than prove I was fit.

"It is a little ridiculous to run so many times under four minutes and still not break my record," Landy said.

• • • •

"I AM DISAPPOINTED. I thought I could do it here."

He described his effort as 'just a run.'"

Running in the No. 1 lane, Landy took the lead after the first 50 yards and held it all the way. He was clocked in 60 seconds flat for each of the first three quarters and then, sprinting in the face of no opposition, finished the last lap in 59.1 as an overflow crowd of over 16,000 cheered him home.

Delany was second in 4:09.2 with Danny Schweikert of the LAAC third in 4:10.5.

• • • •

ONE OF THE meet timers caught King in 9.2, another in 9.3 and a third in 9.4. With a wind of only 1.4 miles per hour, meet officials said the time would be submitted to the International Amateur Athletic Federation for approval. Burl, L.A. Valley's Ken Dennis and SC's Pat Coyle also beat Agostini to the tape.

The 400 meter hurdles, run in the U.S. only on Olympic years, went to Compton College's talented Willie Atterbury. Atterbury's time was 52.5 seconds—only three-tenths of a second off the meet record set by Roy Cochran in 1952. The gruelling race drew 17 runners.

The San Diego N.T.C. team, led by Davis and Campbell won a special 440-yard relay in 41.2

• • • •

UCLA's MEDLEY relay team, composed of Robert Carne, Russ Ellis, George Holland and Bob Seaman, beat the Olympic Club and SC with a winning time of 9:56.7.

Fortune Gordien, world discus record holder trying to make his third Olympic team, won his specialty with a throw of 178 feet, 7 inches. The toss was well under his world mark of 194-6, but the big former University of Minnesota star is not too far along with his current training efforts.

The shotput went to UCLA's Don Vick at 55-2½.

Compton dominated the JC section of the meet. Sprinter Ralph Butler won the JC 100 in 9.8. Jerome Jennings captured the shotput with a put of 50 feet, 8¼ inches and Charles Dumas cleared 6-4½ to win the high jump.

UCLA's fabulous Rafer Johnson was an easy winner in the broadjump at 25-2¼.

Pat Coyle, Mike Larrabee, Bill Swisshelm and Bob Lawson, SC's crack 880 relay quartet was an easy winner in 1:25 with Occidental second, San Jose State third and Fresno State fourth.

Rev. Bob Richards and young Bob Gutowski of Occidental tied for first in the pole vault at 14 feet, 10 inches.

A couple of darkhorses beat world champ Bud Held and Olympic champ Cy Young in the javelin. John Bugge of San Francisco's Olympic Club won with a toss of 239 feet, 7⅛ inches and Bob Kimball of the S.D. N.T.C. was second.

MARK WILL NOT COUNT

Texas' Whilden Runs Wind-Blown 9.2 100

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Bobby Whilden of Texas ran 100 yards in 9.2 to better the world's record Saturday to furnish the only record in a Southwest Conference track and field meet dominated by Texas.

Whilden's 100 cannot be submitted for a world record because he had a 9½-mile-per-hour wind at his back, but it will stand as a conference record. He also equalled a conference mark when he won the 220 in 20.4.

The world's 100-yard record is 9.3.

Texas captured the meet with 76 points with Texas A&M winding up second with 53¾ and Baylor third with 52¼.

The talented Longhorns won six first places and tied for a first in sweeping to a comfortable victory. They did this although upset by Baylor in the 440-yard relay. The Bears, rolling up their biggest total in a conference meet in history, beat the crippled Texas sprint relay team in 41 seconds flat.

Bucs KO Roberts in 6-5 Triumph

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates belted Robin Roberts off the mound Saturday and launched a 13-hit attack, including two homers, to hand the Philadelphia Phillies a 6-5 defeat, the Phils' ninth straight loss.

The Pirate starter, Bob Friend, fanned five, walked two and received credit for the victory, his fourth compared to two defeats.

He was lifted in the ninth for Dick Littlefield after the Phils' Ted Kazanski started off the frame with a single. Littlefield, in turn, yielded the mound to Nelson King as the Phils staged a three-hit uprising to score two runs and come within one marker of tying the score.

The Pirates got to Roberts for 10 hits and five runs in the 5⅓ innings that he pitched. Gene Freese and Preston Ward each clubbed two-run homers off Roberts who was charged with the loss, his third compared to three victories.

• • • •

JERRY CASALE (4-0) emerged the winner to keep his clean victory record. The loser was Harry Perkowski (1-1).

Hy Cohen (5-0), leading pitcher in the Pacific Coast League, Saturday was optioned by the Angels to Tulsa of the Texas League.

Knox Sharp in Win Over Alumni

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The UCLA varsity wound up its spring football practice season Saturday with a 26-6 win over an alumni team. Ronnie Knox scored one touchdown on a five-yard end run and passed 12 yards for another.

Two sub tailbacks, Don Long and Ed Griffin, also engineered scoring drives. Long tallied on a two-yard off-tackle slant and Griffin passed eight yards to Phil Parslow.

Two other points came on a safety, guard Clint Whitfield tackling alumni back Primo Villanueva in the end zone.

The lone Alumni score came on a 52-yard pass play from Villanueva to end Jim Steffen.

Orioles' Ferrarese Blanks Yankees, 1-0

NEW YORK (AP)—Baltimore Rookie Don Ferrarese lost a no-hit game on a freak hit in the ninth inning Saturday, but held his poise and whipped the league-leading New York Yankees 1-0 on a two-hitter.

The 26-year-old Oriole southpaw celebrated his second major league start and first victory by singling home the only run in the seventh inning to best bullet Bob Turley in a brilliant pitching duel.

Only two Yankees had reached first—on a walk and hit batsman—against the 5-9, 165 pound Californian until Andy Carey spoiled the superb effort in the top of the ninth.

• • • •

THE YANKEE third baseman chopped a ball which struck home plate and bounced about 60 feet in the air. Ferrarese fielded it halfway towards second base and slipped as he made a bouncing throw to first. It was very doubtful if he could have caught Carey with a better throw.

Ferrarese, who had fanned 13 Indians and lost 2-1 to Cleveland a week ago in his first start in the big leagues, then fanned pinch-hitter Billy Martin. Hank Bauer followed with a bloop hit over third and Carey went to second.

It looked like a spot for the youngster to blow sky high, but he held tight control of his nerves and pitched himself off the spot.

He got pinch-hitter Don Larsen on a foul and Mickey Mantle, the league's leading hitter, on a fly to centerfielder Chuck Diering.

• • • •

THE ORIOLES scored their only run in the seventh on a walk to Diering, a double inside the first base line by former Yankee Willie Miranda, and Ferrarese's slashing single past second baseman Bobby Richardson which scored Diering from third.

Sime Posts Triple in 9.5, 20.3, 22.4

DURHAM, N. C. (UP)—Dazzling Dave Sime of Duke, in what he said will be his last college track meet, set another Atlantic Coast Conference record of 22.4 seconds in the 220-yard low hurdles Saturday.

The red-haired Sime won the hurdles, the 220-yard dash and the 100-yard dash — the only events in which he was entered in the conference outdoor track championships. In Friday's preliminaries, he set conference records of 9.5 seconds in the 100 yard dash, and a new world's record of 20.1 in the 220-yard dash.

The world's record was the second world's mark Sime has set in the past seven days.

Saturday Sime ran the 100 in 9.5 again, a time he considers "poor," and ran the 220 in 20.3. The faster times in the preliminaries stand as the conference records.

A crowd of 7,000 fans, largest ever to watch a track meet in this area, showed up to watch Sime run in the high 80 degree heat of Duke Stadium.

Sime says he will quit track after this year to play baseball. He will run in the NCAA and AAU meets later this year in California and in the Olympic trials.

Dow Fires 69 to Lead at St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Dow Finsterwald, up-and-coming youthful Ohio pro, jumped back into undisputed possession of first place Saturday at the three-quarter mark in the $25,000 St. Louis Open with a 54-hole score of 205, 11 under par.

Finsterwald toured the 6,277-yard Sunset Country Club course in three-under-par 69 on his third round to put with earlier sub-par scores of 65 and 71.

Just one stroke back at 206 is Bill Casper Jr. of Chula Vista, Calif., who rammed home eight birdies for a 68 after two earlier rounds of 69.

Finsterwald's round included an eagle on No. 8, where he dropped a four-iron shot 12 feet from the pin on a 483-yard par-five hole and sank the putt.

ANNUAL SPRING GAME

Irish Varsity Gridders Whip Oldtimers, 42-32

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UP)—Notre Dame's varsity football team, sparked by halfback Jimmy Morse and quarterback Paul Hornung, gained 507 yards Saturday, 413 on rushing, to outclass a squad of oldtimers, 42-32, before a crowd of 15,000 in the annual spring game.

Morse scored two touchdowns on runs of 12 yards and one yard and intercepted one oldtimer pass, while Hornung converted after two Irish scores and tallied one touchdown on a two-yard plunge.

Other varsity touchdowns went to Charles Lima on a 43-yard dash, Bob Ward on an 11-yard run, and Dick Royer on a 12-yard pass from Larry Cooke.

Poly Dominates CIF Prelims

Qualifies 23, Sets 4 Marks

By DOUG MILES

Poly High, proving to be inconsiderate hosts to track stars of 39 other schools, dominated the section's CIF track preliminaries Saturday as the Jackrabbits bettered or tied four CIF records while qualifying 23 men for next Saturday's semi-finals.

Poly qualified nine in the Bee division and eight in the Cees to sweep team honors in both classifications. Wilson High captured the mythical varsity title by qualifying eight. Poly, Lynwood and Loyola tied for runner-up to Wilson with six each.

All four of the day's records were set by Poly. Eugene Allen shattered a 19-year-old Bee broad jump mark by some four inches as he sailed 23-8½, also breaking the 11-year-old school record by some 15 inches.

* * * *

CEE SPRINTER Harrison Walker clipped off a 9.9 100, bettering a 1938 standard by two-tenths. The Bee relay team of Ray Sugiyama, Henry Andrews, Allen and Charley Miller won in 1:06.9 to clip Alhambra's 1954 mark by one-tenth of a second.

The Cee relay team—Roger Browning, Eugene Green, Bob Fielding and the sensational Walker—tied the 1937 Poly team's record of 44.9.

Although the meet provided several fine marks—most of which were comparatively better than those recorded in the three other sectional meets—the first heat of the varsity 880 was the day's top race.

Unheralded Roy Dick of Beverly Hills, whose previous best had been a 1:59.3, upset Cathedral's Caffrey in a blinding 1.56.9—the season's top time. Caffrey was second in 1:57.4. Wilson's Curt Hanson had the misfortune of being entered in the heat and finished fifth.

* * * *

THE TOP six in each event will enter next week's semis at Compton or Chaffey High.

Only double winners for the day were Wilson varsity sprinter Fred Sharpe, who was hampered by a pulled muscle, and Bee hurdler Terry DeWitt. Bruin Ron Boeckler won his 440 heat in 49.9 and St. Anthony's Jim Horan set a new school mile record as he won in 4:31.4.

Wynn Supplies Key Hit in Tribe Victory

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians jumped on rookie Troy Herriage for four singles and three walks to score five runs in the fourth inning Saturday, and that was enough to defeat the Kansas City Athletics 5-3.

Early Wynn, pitching his fourth victory against one loss, allowed six hits, including a fourth inning home run by Hector Lopez and a sixth-inning homer by Gus Zernial. Zernial's, his fifth, came with Spook Jacobs on base after a single.

Wynn himself supplied what proved to be the key blow in the Indians' attack—a single to center which scored the last two runs of the five-run rally. Herriage walked Rocky Colavito to force home the first run of that rally which started with singles by Bob Avila and Al Rosen and an intentional walk to Al Smith. A single by Chico Carrasquel chased home Rosen and Smith.

* * * *

A WALK TO JIM HEGAN reloaded the bases to set the stage for Wynn's blow, which drove Herriage from the mound. Ed Burtschy replaced the rookie and squelched the rally by getting Jim Busby to hit into a double play.

All six hits the Indians made off Herriage, for whom the game was the first in his Major League won-loss record, were singles.

Home Runs Ruin Sacs

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Three-run homers by Eddie Kazak in the third inning and Harry Elliott in the fourth pushed San Diego past Sacramento Saturday night, 7-2, and deprived the Solons of an opportunity to go into the Pacific Coast League lead. Eddie Erautt went the distance for San Diego and notched his second win of the season.

In a parade of nine pitchers, Bunky Stewart emerged with his first major league victory. It was his 43rd appearance with the Senators since he joined them in 1952.

Mounties Gain Split With Stars

VANCOUVER (UP)—Bob Harrison gave the Vancouver Mounties an even split in a Pacific Coast League twin-bill Saturday at Capilano Stadium by pitching them to a 9-2 victory over Hollywood after the Stars won the first game 6-2.

Harrison won his fourth game of the season for the Mounties, spacing 10 hits very effectively and striking out nine. Those strikeouts ran his season total to 51, which is tops in the Pacific Coast League at present.

The Mounties won the ball game with a four-run explosion in the third inning with Jim Pisoni's two-run double, the key hit. They scored three more in the fourth inning to drive starter Lino Dinoso out of the box.

Bob Kelley Says---

As you walk into the cozy little tavern restaurant on Pico Blvd. which is called "Primo Carnera's," the big man lumbers towards you with a smile bending across his broad face. This is Da Preem himself, who 22 years ago next month was cut down mercilessly by Max Baer as he lost his heavyweight title.

. . . Primo Carnera, they wrote a book about him and recently made it into a picture—"The Harder They Fall." In fact, you are in company with attorney Paul Caruso, who is representing Primo in his lawsuit against the studio.

BOB KELLEY

The big fellow is proud of his restaurant, which he opened on the first of April. "It'sa first home I've had since 1919," he says in a throaty growl which might scare you but for the friendly, boyish grin on his face.

"Sincea 1919 Ima onna road. First with the carnivals in Eeetaly . . . then the fights . . . then the wrestling. How longa's that?—since 1919? Too hard for me to figure."

You tell him it's 37 years since he rested or had a home. He grinned back: "No wonder I'm so tired—37 years!"

Carnera has often given up wrestling. "Only a few now and then," he explained. "But not far from home. I no go back East unless they got a good man—make good money. But I don't stay 'ay for more than a week anymore."

For a moment, he stopped grinning: "Why didn't you come to my big press party?" You tell him because you didn't get an invitation. "Who's your press agent?" you ask. "Never mind," the big guy smiled. "He don't work for me anymore. That'sa why I fired'him. He don't know his business. He forgot to invite people like you."

STANDING BY THE TABLE IS PRIMO'S waitress—he has three of them. She wants to know if anyone will have another drink. Carnera says sure, he'll have a "Seven-High." In addition to the three girls working for him, Primo's wife, Tina, puts in about an 18-hour a day shift. And his 17-year-old son, Antonio, runs the parking lot.

A big boy, Antonio. But he won't be as big as his father. Someone asks Antonio what he's doing up so late and he smiles. "Oh, no school tomorrow. I go to Catholic school, and it's a holiday."

So in a comfortable little Italian restaurant-bar just adjacent to 20th Century-Fox Studios, Primo Carnera, at 47, has found a home after 37 years away from home. He loves his spot, and leaps happily to his feet to greet any customers who appear at the front door.

Primo Carnera, the guy they say was gouged by racketeers, who sliced the millions he earned in boxing and wrestling into pennies. Yet for all the money that he earned (or someone earned) you learn the big fellow sank $15,000 into the restaurant—his last $15,000.

We got up to leave. "You geeva me a boost, Bob?" he asked. You can't quite understand what he said.

Conversation pieces . . .

CONVINCING. Effervescent Walter Mails, the Pacific Coast League's Chesty Chet Johnson of yesteryear, is as bubbly as a newly-poured glass of champaign. At present, he's using his enthusiasm to sell the San Francisco Seals and the PCL.

Don't venture near Walter, who used to throw from the port side for the Seals in the early 1920s and 30s when he wasn't clowning, if you think the PCL is dying on the vine. With a broad smile and twinkling orbs, he'll tell you otherwise, but quick, something like this:

"Do you think the Boston Red Sox invested $350,000 in a losing proposition They don't throw their money around that way. They're a smart, going operation. They've invested out here with confidence to make money, not lose it.

"I know what you'll say. You will point to the attendance figures to prove the immense apathy toward the PCL. I disagree. Attendance is up in the PCL—in the Pacific Northwest. Seattle, Portland and Vancouver are our bright spots.

"It's Los Angeles and Hollywood which are dragging. You've had lousy weather. You've changed some policies. Hollywood isn't televising any more. Los Angeles has switched to day ball. These changes are reflected in the attendance figures. It takes time for adjustments to level off.

"I'm a cocky guy. I'll say this. There'll be a Pacific Coast League — always. Do you think Seattle, Portland, Sacramento, San Diego and Vancouver will fold up and steal way in the dead of night if major league ball comes to San Francisco and Los Angeles? Forget it! They'll go on — with a couple of new cities.

"Don't kid me. The Coast League isn't dead, nor is it dying. It's suffering from adjustment pains!"

I HEAR YA! A pungent, pithy character with white hair and mellow at 61, Mails is fond of living in the past—out loud.

"I won't say I was the greatest pitcher who ever lived," he reminded me the other day, "but I can't name any who were any better.

"I've got two chief claims to fame. I hold the Coast League record for the most men picked off first base by a pitcher in one game. I had a great movement to first. I pegged six one day.

"How'd they get there? Now there you go. Poor umpires, of course.

"My other claim is that I am the only man ever run out of the major leagues by Ty Cobb. Yeah, he got me. He and Detroit, that is.

"In 1921 I had a 7-0 record with Cleveland. In 1922, it was 14-7. Next year it dropped to 4-7. Cobb was working on me.

"I'll tell you no secret. I was hot-tempered. I had rabbit ears. This delighted Ty. Every barb he threw at me brought a quick retort. I was so busy retorting that I forgot how to pitch.

"I soon came back to the Coast League, then went back up for two years with the Cardinals, and finally came back to fill out my career.

"Cobb's cracks and my slide down the barber pole got me to thinking. I decided to take it — and dish it out. I barbered with the best of them.

"They didn't call me Duster and the Great Mails for nothing. I'm in the record books—most games pitched in one season, most errors by a pitcher, most defeats in a season, and on and on.

"It's been a wonderful life. Baseball is a game of amusement. The Coast League should keep it that way!"

At this point I suggest Leslie O'Connor, PCL proxy, appoint "Walter, The Great" the league goodwill ambassador to spread the word. His optimism wears well.

READYING FOR ACTION

Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson gets in some good licks on punching bag while former champion Bobo Olson tapes hands prior to workout. Near-record Wrigley Field boxing crowd is expected to view their battle Friday night.

BOBO, SUGAR TAPER OFF

Predict Record Gate for Friday Title Go

Sugar Ray Robinson and Carl (Bobo) Olson were anxiously trying to keep their premature fighting "edges" Saturday for Friday night's return middleweight title bout, probably California's richest boxing show.

Each reached his training peak too soon for the 15-rounder at Wrigley Field, where 35-year-old Robinson will try to prove that his December title knockout over 27-year-old Olson was no fluke.

Matchmaker Jackie Leonard of the Hollywood Legion Stadium, promoting the match, said Saturday, "I'm nearly certain we'll have a record California gate of more than $200,000. We have $115,000 in cash and $40,000 in reservations, which must be picked up by Wednesday."

With tickets ranging from $5 to $25, a $200,000 gate would require 15,000 paid attendance for the battle which will be televised and broadcast nationally over NBC at 7 p.m. (PDT). The TV-radio rights brought $100,000.

Ticket prices are $25, $20, $15 and $5 for reserved seats and $3.50 for general admission which will go on sale the night of the fight. Tickets may be purchased at the Hollywood Legion Stadium or any Mutual Ticket Agency.

Sugar Ray, training at San Jacinto, Calif., about 80 miles southeast of Los Angeles, is scheduled for only two more boxing sessions, Monday and Tuesday. Olson, at nearby Santa Monica, is slated for action only today, although Manager Sid Flaherty may order another light session Tuesday. Neither expects any difficulty making the 160-pound limit.

Although Robinson knocked out Bobo at 2:51 of the second round in Chicago Stadium Dec. 9, the betting has been at even money or favoring Olson slightly since the return match was announced. Saturday the ex-champ from San Francisco was favored at 6½ to 5.

Tale of the Tape

Robinson		Olson
35	Age	28
160	Weight	160
5-11	Height	5-10½
72½	Reach	70
39½	Chest (Nor.)	39
38	Chest (Exp.)	42
28¾	Waist	32
18¾	Thigh	22
13¾	Calf	13½
11½	Biceps	14
10¾	Forearm	11
15	Neck	16

CHAMPION AND challenger are guaranteed $75,000 each. And each has the privilege of taking 30 per cent of the net gate and TV-radio receipts in case that percentage exceeds the guarantee.

Should Robinson lose the title he has no assurance of getting another shot at it, for there is no return-bout contract. He probably would retire and consider movie possibilities for his life story—a remarkable chronicle that could include his winning the welterweight title in 1946, winning the middleweight crown in 1951, losing it to Randy Turpin and recapturing it in that same 1951, retiring as champion in 1952 and becoming the first man to recapture the title for the second time last December.

PETE WHISENANT
Raps Two Homers

Cubs Rip Cards in Hitfest

CHICAGO (UP)—The Chicago Cubs lashed out five homers and six doubles Saturday to whip the St. Louis Cardinals, 14-10. The triumph hoisted the slumping Cubs out of last place and prevented the Cards from moving into first.

Pete Whisenant, who came to the Cubs in the Hank Sauer trade, poled out two homers and a double for his first hits of the season, and drove in four runs to pace the Chicago 15-hit attack. Whisenant had gone hitless in three previous times at bat.

The Cubs mauled Cardinal pitchers Vinegar Bend Mizell, who gave up five runs in 2 1/3 innings, Lindy McDaniel, Gordon Jones, Max Surkont and Larry Jackson.

Ernie Banks hit his seventh homer, Walt Moryn hit his third, and Frank Kellert got his first. Ken Boyer, Bill Virdon and Walker Cooper homered for the Cards. A 22-mile an hour wind with guests up to 40 aided the home run carnival.

Bob Rush, who needed help from Jim Davis, got credit for his second win.

Oliver's 64 Leads Snead by 2

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UP)—Ed (Porky) Oliver, without a major tournament victory in three years, fired a crackling six-under par 64 Saturday to grab a two-stroke lead at the three-quarter mark of the Greenbrier Open golf tourney.

That gave him a 10-under-par score of 200 after 54 holes.

Oliver finished in a blaze with birdies on the last three holes, including a 15-foot putt for a birdie-two on his own "nightmare 18th," to overhaul host pro Sam Snead, who had finished earlier with a 66 for a 202 total.

The halfway co-leaders, Mike Fetchick and Jack Isaacs, couldn't stand prosperity.

Fetchick shot even par 70 to tie old timer Vic Ghezzi for third with 203. Ghezzi came in with a 67. Isaacs blew to a four-over par 74.

Claim Yanks Dickering for Donovan

NEW YORK (UP)—Two major baseball deals were in the works Saturday, with the Yankees dickering to land Dick Donovan of the White Sox, and the Cardinals on the verge of following up their five-man deal with the Phillies.

Last-minute trade developments in the face of the rapidly-approaching May 17 cutdown date were these:

1—The Yankees have asked the White Sox which players they want in return for Donovan, and Chicago has named third baseman Andy Carey and pitchers Johnny Kucks and Ralph Terry. Terry currently is with Denver of the American Association.

2—The Cardinals are reported ready to send infielder Solly Hemus to the Phillies for infielder Bobby Morgan as a "shirt tail" to the deal made between the two clubs Friday.

Donovan, a 29-year-old right hander, made good with the White Sox last year after previous failures with the Milwaukee Braves and Detroit Tigers. Following an 18-8 season with Atlanta in 1954, he was purchased by the White Sox and compiled a 15-9 record for them last season.

Backs Impress Waldorf in Final Spring Session

BERKELEY (UP)—The University of California football team wound up its spring practice with a scrimmage Saturday and Coach Lynn Pappy Waldorf appeared enthusiastic over the quarterbacking and the capers of his halfbacks.

In the QB position, Joe Arata, Jim Lorenz and Joe Kapp received special mention.

The other backfield men who pleased Waldorf were Jerry Drew, fullback; Jack Hart, a freshman at left half; Max Hale, senior, right half; Jim Cherry, Doug Mayberry and George Gillespie.

The varsity won the scrimmage, 49 to 34. Cherry scored three touchdowns, and Drew two. End Ron Wheatcroft scored twice on long passes.

Reds Score Seven In First, Win 10-6

CINCINNATI (UP)—Cincinnati scored seven runs in the first inning Saturday for its biggest scoring spree of the season and went on to beat Milwaukee, 10-6, even though the Braves counter-attacked with some power hitting of their own.

Starter Bob Buhl, who defeated the Dodgers with a six-hitter in his last start, failed to retire a man in the big Cincinnati rally in which he walked two men, threw to third too late on a sacrifice bunt, then served up a two-run double to Ray Jablonski.

After issuing an intentional pass to Ted Kluszewski, Ernie Johnson relieved Buhl and four more runs came around on a single by Smokey Burgess and a base-clearing double by Roy McMillan. Johnny Temple, batting for the second time, doubled to score McMillan with the seventh run. Eleven men batted but only four made hits.

THE REDLEGS added single runs in the second and third to make it 9-1, the Braves having picked up a tally in the first inning when Brooks Lawrence walked in a runner. Gus Bell's fifth homer accounted for the second inning run. Temple's single, a wild pitch by Chet Nichols, the third Milwaukee hurler, and Bell's single brought in the third inning run.

RACING ROUNDUP

Johnie Mike Wins Debonair in 1:09

Hollywood Park begins preparing for its first full week of racing starting Tuesday with Bill Shoemaker back in his usual spot as leading rider and Johnie Mike the current toast of the 3-year-old division.

"Shoe" and Johnie Mike galloped into the limelight together as the Silent One piloted the Washington-bred sophomore to an easy two and three-quarter length victory in the $28,100 Debonair Stakes Saturday before a crowd of 42,517. The final time was 1.09, only one-fifth off the track six-furlong record and a new mark for the stakes.

Tagged with a reputation for stopping when collared in the stretch, Johnie Mike disposed of this theory Saturday. He failed to break as alertly as usual but easily picked up the leaders and was going away at the wire without urging.

Rex Ellsworth's Airide and Rancho Tecolete's Tecolotito were first out of the barrier. The Ellsworth colorbearer boasted a head lead in a 22-second quarter but he began to shorten stride nearing the half as Tecolotito forged to the front on the outside. Shoemaker then had Johnie Mike on nearly even terms while saving ground on the rail. After a slight head and head tussle with Tecolotito, Johnie Mike pulled away to win in hand.

• • • •

ODDS-ON CHOICE with the crowd, Johnie Mike returned $3.50, $2.90 and $2.30 across the board. Tecolotito paid $5 and $3 and the Bill Molter-trained twosome of Palmer and Mobile which finished heads apart five more lengths back, returned $2.70 to show.

Shoemaker's victory in the Debonair was his fourth of the afternoon, giving him five for the two days of action. He scored handy wins in the first three contests with Miss Peggy ($6.40), Hug-Me-Tight ($7.80) and Bold Trip ($9.70).

Winner of six of the last seven Hollypark riding crowns, Shoemaker was nipped in a bid for four straight wins when apprentice Danny Manzella and Spring Count hung an upset length and one-quarter defeat on the odds-on favorite, Berseem, in the $7,500 Century purse. Spring Count covered the six furlongs in 1.09 2/5 and paid $15.70.

• • • •

BOBBY BROCATO, the nation's outstanding handicap horse of the season, Saturday won the $35,000-added Tanforan Handicap, setting a new track record for the mile and one eighth. His time was 1.47 4/5.

It shaved a full second off the old mark, 1.48 4/5, set by Golden Abbey Oct. 30, 1954.

Bezaha was second, three-quarters of a length back and Gipsy Rover finished third, four lengths behind.

Bobby Brocato, top-weighted at 130 pounds, was taken to the front by Johnny Longden, held the pace under snug restraint and won with speed to spare.

It was his sixth stakes victory of the year.

• • • •

AT NEW YORK, Oh Johnny skipped to a three-length upset victory in the $29,100 Withers Stakes at Jamaica, coming from well off the pace to defeat a field containing seven eligibles for the $100,000-added Preakness.

Oh Johnny caught Danny Arnstein's Eiffel Blue in the final eighth of a mile and pulled away to win under Jockey Hedley Woodhouse.

Eiffel Blue took second by a head over Brookmeade Stable's Lawless.

Oh Johnny ran the mile and a sixteenth in 1.45 1/5 over a fast track and returned $16.10.

Chisox Rap 17 Hits, Nip Tigers, 7-6

DETROIT (UP) — The Chicago White Sox unloaded a 17-hit attack Saturday but needed a two-inning hitless relief job by Sandy Consuegra to eke out a 7-6 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Chicago pumped into a three-run lead in the first inning and did all of its scoring in the first five innings at the expense of Detroit starter Billy Hoeft.

But, Consuegra was summoned from the bull pen after Charley Maxwell walloped a two-run homer, his seventh of the season, to pull the Tigers to within a single run in the eighth. Consuegra disposed of the next six batters in a routine fashion to give the White Sox their second straight triumph over the Tigers.

• • • •

MINNIE MINOSO and Sherm Lollar hit a triple and home run, respectively, in the three-run first inning. Chicago added single runs in the second and fourth and two more in the fifth, including a four-bagger by former Tiger outfielder Bob Nieman.

Although there's still another week remaining to file entries for next Sunday's Long Beach City Championship championship flight qualifying, the field already shapes up deep in quantity and quality.

Headlining the list of aspirants is defending champion Larry Griggs of Recreation Park, who'll be bucking the jinx that has seen only one man, Del Walker, successfully defend a title in the 31 years of the city classic.

Seeking revenge for the 8 and 7 licking he received from Griggs in the 1955 finals will be Sandy Mosk Jr., the tall Riviera CC belter. Mosk supplied some of last year's finest golf in scoring quarter and semifinal victories over John Richardson and Neil White.

Once again there'll be a great accent on youth.

Defending medalist Bob Roughner, who recently was but one hole away from winning the SC-Publinx Championship from Gene Andrews, will be a definite threat as should his Downey High and Rio Hondo teammate John Nichols, a finalist in the 1956 Los Angeles City Junior.

They don't come much tougher than Long Beach's junior kingpin, Pinky Stevenson, who will be right at home on the Recreation Park links.

Although a year out of the junior ranks, Joe Gallardo, the Griffith Park ace who defeated Jim Ferrie to win the 1955 Los Angeles City, is another youth who will be heard from.

In addition to Griggs, the host club will offer 1955 SC-Publinx champ Dick Clover, John McMonegal, Don Montgomery, Huntington Beach City champ Walt Axcell, Bob Darnell and that perennially dangerous fugitive from the starters' cage, Gene Combs.

Lakewood will have an unusually strong aggregation headed by 1954 runner-up Craig Olson, club champion Tony Tinkham, Keith Lopp, Andy Holmes, Richardson and long-hitting scratch handicapper Dick Collard.

Wearing Meadowlark colors will be Jack Augsberger, Ray Henderson, Rollie Sims and City College star Johnny Tate, runner-up to Irv Cooper in 1952.

Virginia CC entries will include Chuck Cassady and Joe Robinson Jr., son of the club professional.

Foremost among Orange County threats are Santa Ana City champ Don Baker of Santa Ana CC and Howard Estep, the Huntington Beach veteran.

Besides Mosk and Gallardo, the ranks of the "invaders" will feature former National Junior champ Tommy Jacobs, Steve Shaw, Lee Eaton and Ray and Leo Swedo of Montebello; Ed Korylak and Dick Chaplin of Rancho; Lolo and Frank Saldano of Catalina Island CC; Bob Johnson of Brookside Park; Bob Chase of Inglewood CC, and Vic Blalack of the El Toro Marines.

One thing is certain. The one man who walks off the course June 3 after successfully qualifying, winning four 18-hole and two 36-hole matches, will have well earned the championship.

THERE WERE two outstanding rounds on area courses last week.

T/Sgt. B. H. (Cornpone) Brown, the golfing pride of Long Beach Air Force Base, fired a five-under par 66 at Lakewood Friday. He birdied the fifth, 10th and 12th on putts of 18, 22 and 55 feet and cagled the par-five 14th on a 60-yard wedge.

The aforementioned Gene Combs fashioned the other, a six-under par 66—six birds, no bogies—at Recreation Tuesday. Gene is 18 under par for his last six rounds!

DIRECTOR Vern Wickham reports that the Western headquarters of the National Golf Foundation has been moved from Arcadia to 1537 Palos Verdes Drive, Palos Verdes Estates.

Seven new courses are now under construction in the Los Angeles to San Diego area and at least five more are due to start this summer.

T. F. McCARRY, 74-9, won the Virginia Men's Club Saturday Sweepstakes with a net 65.

Tied for second place at 68 were Don Schorovsky, 74-6; J. S. Watkins, 77-9; L. V. Cassaday, 76-8, and Bill Cook, 76-8. At 69 were Harry Bouchier, 78-9; Hal McGrew, 78-8; Bill Morrell, 84-15, and Dr. H. M. Penrose, 83-14.

Blind bogey (74) victors were F. F. Richards, Buford Smith, Milt Arthur, K. D. Welch, Adm. Melgaard, Dr. V. P. Brickey and Dr. L. Mahannah.

NITEHAWKS OPEN SEASON ON SATURDAY

The Long Beach Nitehawks, defending national softball champions, open their season Saturday night against Monterey Park.. Game time on the Park Ave. field will be 8:15.

All-American pitchers Leroy Zimmerman and Jack Randall will share pitching chores for the locals. Richie Stevens will throw for Monterey.

Long Beach nipped Monterey Park last year by scores of 1-0 in 12 innings, 2-1 in 12 innings and 1-0 in nine. Nitehawk manager Joe Rodgers still is taking it easy after a run-in with a 2400-volt live wire earlier this year. Clint Herron will handle the ball club until Rodgers receives a doctor's release.

Games Candidates at L.B. Naval Base

Thirteen of the nation's finest swimmers and divers have been stationed at the Long Beach Naval Station where they will continue training for the 1956 Olympics.

A coach will be assigned to the group within a few days, according to Athletic Director Frank Kirkland.

The Navy swimmers, including many All-Americans, are scheduled to compete in the SPAAAU meet at El Segundo Wednesday and Thursday in their first major competition since being based here.

They will be pointed for the All-Navy meet on July 25 followed by the National AAU championships in August in Detroit and the Olympic Trials.

Among the outstanding aquatic stars with the Navy squad are Jerry Harrison, former national diving champion from Ohio State; Reid Patterson, former national 100-yard freestyle king, and Dick Talbot, ex-Purdue swim captain and freestyle ace.

• • • •

HARRISON IS ONE of the nation's top diving hopes. He made a grand slam of American diving championships last year, winning the Big Ten, NCAA and National AAU 3-meter titles and also capturing the National AAU 1-meter crown.

Patterson, powerful 6-4, 200-pounder from Pineville, Kentucky, who never did any competitive swimming before entering the University of Georgia in 1950, started out as a backstroker, but switched to freestyle in 1953 and promptly won the NCAA and AAU 100-yard freestyle championships that year. A year later he was clocked in 49.6 seconds, one of the fastest times ever turned in for that distance. He holds two American freestyle records.

• • • •

LAST YEAR he represented the U. S. in the Japanese championships held every four years and won four of six races in which he entered.

Talbot climaxed his career at Purdue by being named the outstanding athlete of his graduating class last June.

GAMES PROSPECTS WORKOUT

Sam Brown Gives Up Baseball for Pro Grid Career

CLEVELAND (UP)—The Cleveland Browns announced Saturday that they signed Sam Brown, a fine running back from UCLA, and three veterans for the coming campaign.

Coach Paul Brown gambled when he took Brown on the 22nd round of last January's National Football League draft because the UCLA star indicated an interest in baseball.

Brown tried out with Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League this spring. He was called into the army last week and decided to give up baseball and concentrate on football when discharged. He signed a contract for the 1957 and 1958 seasons with the Browns.

The world champions also announced the signing of veterans Tom James, a defensive halfback; Sam Palumbo, a linebacker, and John Macerelli, an offensive guard.

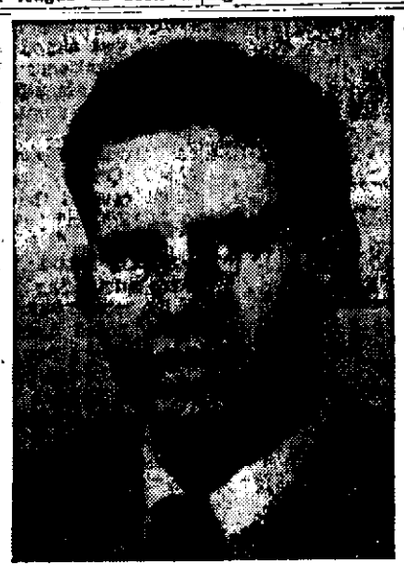

Admit Texas Tech to SWC; Lift Probation From A&M

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Texas Tech, a college of 7,154 enrollment located in West Texas, Saturday was voted into the Southwest Conference.

The invitation, extended by unanimous vote of the seven members of the conference, attained for Tech a goal it has sought for 30 years.

The conference announced that it had invited Tech to make it an eight-school league as soon as satisfactory arrangements of details can be worked out by committees from the conference and from Texas Tech.

Almost overshadowed by the action on Tech by the faculty athletic committee, governing body of the conference, was the lifting of a probation of one year from Texas A&M. The Aggies were penalized in 1955 for violating conference recruiting rules.

Fishin' Around

By DONNELL CULPEPPER

Getting away from fishing momentarily, let's take a look at the proposed deer seasons this year so that the hunters may start planning their vacations. Preliminary determinations have been made by the Fish and Game Commission. Final action will be taken at Los Angeles May 24-25.

Here is the way the seasons probably will be dated:

Early coastal—Aug. 4 to Sept. 16. Territory would embrace all of last year's area with the exception of counties south of Santa Barbara.

First inland season—Sept. 15 to Oct. 28. It would cover all inland areas south of the roads leading to Sonora Pass, state highway routes 129, 180 and 22, plus the coastal counties of Ventura, Los Angeles, San Diego and Orange. Note that big change for dates in Southern California!

Second inland season—Sept. 22 to Oct. 28. All counties north of the Sonora Pass line, except those in the early coastal shoot.

• • • •

THE COMMISSIONERS also propose either-sex hunts for the last three days of the three seasons. The two-sex provision, however, would not apply to 23 counties and parts of five others.

These counties would be excluded from the either-sex hunts:

Del Norte, Humboldt, Trinity, Mendocino, Lake Colusa, Sonoma, Marin, Stanislaus, Tuolumne, Alpine, Merced, Mariposa, Mono, Madera, Fresno, Kings, Tulare, Inyo, Kern, San Bernardino, Riverside and Imperial, plus parts of Calaveras west of highway 49 and those parts of Sierra, Nevada, Placer and El Dorado east of the Sierra-Nevada crest.

In another preliminary action, the F&GC also proposed a 16-day pheasant season—Nov. 17 to Dec. 2 inclusive—with either roosters or hens to be taken in Southern California. In Northern California, the bag limit would be two roosters the first two days, then four birds each day thereafter until the close of the season, but with a 10-bird limit for the 16 days. One hen could be included in the seasonal bag in northern areas.

Remember that these determinations are strictly tentative and must receive final approval later this month when the F&GC meets in Los Angeles.

ANSWERING a number of questions by C. A. Ott, 2928 Silva St., Lakewood, about carrying guns in a car:

State law prohibits carrying ANY firearm concealed and loaded without a police permit. And permits are hard to get. A sportsman en route to a range, or to a hunting area, may carry firearms, UNLOADED and UNCONCEALED, or in a gun "kit." He may do the same en route to a gunsmith. Ammunition may be carried separately for each type of firearm.

There is no special part of the car designated for carrying unloaded weapons. The law is aimed at the concealed weapon.

The state law prohibiting concealed weapons is enforced in Long Beach by the police department, in the county by the sheriff's office.

That, Mr. Ott, is the summary of the law, but there might be different interpretations by law enforcement officials. It wouldn't be wise, for instance, to keep a handgun constantly on the seat beside the driver or passenger. Some one might be very nosey and want to know the reason. It would be better to keep the pistol or revolver in a kit while en route to a gunsmith or the range.

OUTDOOR PERSONALS — Speaking of fishing surprises, Louis Smith of Long Beach got a real one at Foster Lake, Idyllwild, recently. He and Frank Tallant were fishing there and catching their share of 10-to-14-inch trout. Smith rigged up a extra-length leader and managed to get into the center of the small lake. He sat and waited for about an hour. A big one hit and he landed it. The rainbow weighed four pounds and was said to be the largest since Jimmy Munholland caught a 5-pounder there two or three years ago. A $5 daily permit is required for fishing in Foster but trout limits are easy.

Bill Equitz, Vee-Bee fly maker, visited Railroad Canyon Reservoir last week and saw several nice bass in the 2- and 4-pound weights taken on surface lures. Bluegill and crappie were taking Bill's specialty, the Vee-Bee, and worms. Railroad Canyon, five miles from Elsinore, is operated by Mr. and Mrs. George D. Evans. Their address: Rt. 1, Romoland, Calif. Phone Elsinore MAin 2173.

Spring Basketball Practice Monday at L.B. State

A four-day spring basketball practice session gets under way Monday in the Long Beach State College gym as Coach Earl Kidd takes a look at the men who will make up the 1956-57 squad.

Only Bob Foerster and Nell Peek graduated from last year's club that won eight and dropped 15. Returning are John Miller, Donn Loe, Hollis Harvey, Frank Morandini, Sam Kennedy, Huey Shepard and George Carr.

Herb Farrar moves up from the junior varsity, while Chuck Achziger, recently discharged from the armed forces, and Wayne Young, 6-5 former UCLA freshman player, figure prominently.

Ralph Acosta, R. S. Johnson and Henry Wallace of Poly High's Southern California champions; Ralph Somer, Gardena High; Tom Batson, ex-Jordan and LBCC; George Padovan, Harbor, and Don Stewart and Bill Baran of El Camino are others who have indicated they may enroll at State.

OUTBOARDS, YACHTS, SHOW-REGATTA

Top Marine Action Here

By BOB RUSKAUFF

There's been tremendous action before, but it appears now that the Memorial Holiday action in southwest marine sports will be the greatest logged since days of the Phoenicians.

It will begin with ocean yachting events May 25 when the 185-mile Channel Islands race gets under way and climax May 30 when inboard raceboats roar at Marine Stadium.

A poll of class captains Saturday night in the Southern California Speedboat Club Memorial Regatta meeting in South Gate indicated the greatest array of inboards, both in the top hydroplane and runabout classes, that has ever tangled on the "lanky lagoon" may be expected.

In fact, Commodore Kent Hitchcock devoted considerable of the time to stressing safety measures for the big "roostertail brawl."

Channel City Power Boat Assn. of Santa Barbara will sponsor this afternoon's televised (KTLA-5) Sunday Speedboat Rodeo at Venice, featuring AU runabout, B hydro and 36 class stock outboards. Cecil Loomis is chairman.

No less than 1,500 crippled children will have a chance to not only see ski racing and exhibitions par excellence, but many will get boat rides also as part of the Long Beach Boat and Ski Club's free show next Sunday on Marine Stadium.

Chairman Joe Molinar said "early work" has found splendid acceptance on plans for the combined boat show-regatta planned July 14-15 at the Long Beach course.

Third Sunday of four in which spring sailing championships are being decided will see upward of 100 boats go into action at 1 p.m. off the Cabrillo Beach Yacht Club.

Likewise, second races of three (they conclude June 10), will be jointly conducted on Newport Bay and the ocean roadstead off Balboa by the BYC-Newport Harbor clubs.

The Jessop trophy handicap, with many returning boats from the Ensenada race participation, this afternoon winds up the two-day, 70th birthday party of the Southland's oldest yacht club, San Diego.

Newport Harbor YC, by comparison a younger but a thriving one, will celebrate its 39th season's opening, next week-end.

Alamitos Bay YC, which is training its long sights on conduct of the 1956 National Snipe class sailing championships in August, is training big but shorter ones on their three-day small boat regatta, another of the huge Memorial Holiday fixtures.

When and if England's 35-year-old water speed king, Donald Campbell, goes 250 m.p.h. over water this year, it appears Eagle Mountain Lake in Texas, near Ft. Worth, will be the place.

L.B. CITY GOLF TRIALS SUNDAY

Championship flight (handicap 0-6) qualifying for the 32nd annual Long Beach City Golf Championship will be held next Sunday at Recreation Park.

The tournament is open to all golfers with an established and accredited handicap. You may telephone (HE 8-6751) for a starting time. The low 64 qualifiers will enter first round match play on Saturday, May 26.

Handicap flight trials began Saturday and will continue through next Saturday. No advance starting times are necessary.

ROCKETS MEET ALL-STAR NINE

Bill Fiestner's fast Long Beach Rockets take on the Hollywood All-Stars at Recreation Park today. Game time is 2:15 p.m.

The Rockets will be gunning for their seventh victory in 11 games. Last week they fell before the Los Angeles All-Stars to end a two-game win streak.

The Rockets may open with Chuck Winslow, second base; Vern Highfield, rightfield; Bob Carter, centerfield; Jack Graham, first base; Ev Pearson, leftfield; Frank Estes, third base; Red Meairs, shortstop; Bob Howard, catcher, and Pete Cassidy or Bill Goodban, pitcher.

Meanwhile,

back at the ranch . . .

That caption from the old silent movies prompts us to ask this question:

How much of your precious time is tied up "back at the ranch" while you wait for your husband (or you, sir, wait for your wife) to return home with the car so that you can put your plans into action?

Maybe what your "ranch" needs is a dependable, thrifty second car from our wide selection of used cars of all makes and models—any one of which represents a top value at bottom prices.

But the "thoroughbreds" of the lot carry a special OK brand. These are the pets we back with a written warranty bearing our own signature.

These well-groomed OK Used Cars, sold only by authorized Chevrolet dealers, have been carefully inspected; reconditioned for safety, performance and value.

You can expect to find exceptional bargains in OK Used Cars now, because they must be sold to make room for more trade-ins on the fast-selling new model Chevrolets. So, to maintain volume turnover, we're passing volume savings on to you.

If you're a one-car family, see us for a choice of late model cars. They're fit for a Texas land baron, but they'll keep your investment and maintenance costs at a minimum.

Better mosey in, right soon, and rope yourself a bargain!

Plan Invitational Preview of Next Stage Offering

Lakewood Players announced a special invitational premiere of their next play, "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!", a comedy by Edward Chodarov which opens May 25, at McArthur School Auditorium, Centralia and Woodruff. The invitational premiere will be Thursday, May 24.

Much of the dialogue in this play emanates from the traditional psychiatrists couch, so special invitations have been sent to psychiatrists, psychologists, psychometrists and other members of the psychiatric field who may be interested in observing how a psychiatrist, the leading man, reacts to his own emotional problems.

Immediately after the final curtain a reception will be held for the cast, staff and invited guests in the Canterbury Room of the Riviera Hotel.

For special groups or clubs who wish to augment their treasuries, Lakewood Players are offering blocks of tickets to "Oh, Men! Oh, Women!" at reduced prices.

Jap Riders Leave Plenty on Trains

TOKYO (AP)—Tokyo's railroad riders were more forgetful than ever last year. They left 383,000 items and $112,911 on trains in and around the capital city. About 80 per cent of the money and 50 per cent of the goods—mostly kerchief-tied bundles, umbrellas and hats — were reclaimed.

Ability to Take Older Roles Key to Bette Davis' Success

HOLLYWOOD—At the outset of her career, Bette Davis was told by a stage star she would never be an actress. A director let her go because he saw no future for her. A picture producer turned her down for films.

In the quarter century since, Miss Davis has appeared in 68 motion pictures, won two Academy Awards and been acclaimed as one of the greatest stars of show business.

By sheer will and acting ability, Bette rose to the heights of movie fame, for as she herself says, "The fact that I wasn't considered potential acting material did more for my career than anything else. It served as a challenge."

Miss Davis feels that because she has always enjoyed playing characters, old, pleasant or unpleasant, she has been able to enjoy one of the most active careers in films.

"When I first began in pictures," she says, "it was heresy for a female star to play anything but glamour parts. I fought for realistic parts—no matter how they required I look."

This compulsion for realism and honesty in her films has resulted in Miss Davis allowing her head to be shaved for the role of Queen Elizabeth. And in "The Catered Affair," the comedy-drama also starring Debbie Reynolds, Ernest Borgnine and Barry Fitzgerald, she insisted on wearing a full-sized wig of a middle-aged woman and herself selected dowdy oversized dresses for her role as a Bronx housewife in the midst of getting her daughter ready for a wedding.

• • • •

"ONE ACTRESS once told me," laughs Miss Davis, "that I was to be envied. 'You've begun playing older women before you had to, and now no one will ever know when you have to make the switch,' she said."

FITTING THE ROLE

Carrying out her own ideas of "transference" acting methods, Bette Davis, with the aid of make-up and costumes, transforms herself into a buxom Bronx housewife for her role in "The Catered Affair."

Miss Davis takes no credit, for this ability; rather, she says, "Just as individuals are classified as types, so are actors. And I feel I'm a transference actor."

A transference actor, she explains, is one who is able to transfer himself into a character—thus making the audience forget the identity of the actor.

Bette now lives in Cape Elizabeth, Me., with her husband, Gary Merrill, and their children. She says she has no intention of ever forsaking her film career and plans at least one picture a year.

"I've had a wonderful 25 years in Hollywood," she says, "but I'm still waiting to work for the director who fired me, saying he didn't think I had a future.

"And I'd like to say that the star who told me I wouldn't be an actress was crushed when I did attain some prominence," she continues. "But she wasn't. When I finally met her again, she didn't even remember me!"

It Happened Last Night

By Earl Wilson

'SWEET GIRL'

NEW YORK—In a restaurant on the bullfighters' street in Madrid, my legwoman—my wife—sized up Sophia Loren, the Italian movie beauty.

And what a size to size up! Since I couldn't get to Spain, my B. W. inspected "Sofeeuh"—and reported she's a "sweet girl."

We hope she won't sue us for libel for saying that.

On the Madrid streets all the men seemed to know this Italian import. They stared and the B. W. said, "There is a lot to stare at."

But not too much. Sophia of the fantastic figure was learning jive talk from Frank Sinatra. She'd already mastered early jive such as "You're a gasser" and had progressed to more daring terms.

• • • • •

"SOMETIMES"—Sophia spoke with a slight British accent since her teacher in Rome is Irish—"people teach you a word they say is a good word. But it means something very bad."

Sophia stared across a big Spanish omelet at Frank, a little accusingly, as she said this. Frank grinned and repeated, "You're a gasser."

Only 21, this Neapolitan beauty who's bigger upstairs than Gina Lollobrigida and who wears her dresses tighter than Marilyn Monroe, had been brought from Italy by Stanley Kramer to make "The Pride and The Passion" with Sinatra and Cary Grant.

She'd just mastered the Flamenco dance so successfully that everybody was complimenting her.

But other people had English troubles, too.

Her Flamenco tutor, a Spaniard, wishing to compliment her, exclaimed, "You're terrible, terrible, terrible!" He was a little mixed up and thought he was telling her she was good.

Sophia laughed. She helped herself to two big portions of prawns in curry, on mounds of rice floating in butter. Some girl, some appetite!

"I want to get married when I am 24 or 25, and he must be intelligent but not handsome," Sophia said.

"Why not handsome?" my B. W. asked her.

"Because I'm jealous. I couldn't stand it if other women looked at him. I haven't found him yet."

"You never pose for cheesecake pictures?" the B. W. said.

"I don't need sexy photographs to be sexy," Sophia retorted.

• • • •

MAYBE SHE DOESN'T do cheesecake pictures, but they come out cheesecakey. In dignified Spain they put Priscilla collars and tidy little berthas and ruffles around her bare neckline to fence her in, but she can't be fenced in.

"Dou you think skinny little guys like Sinatra are romantic?" the B. W. inquired.

"I just now know Sinatra," Sophia said. "I know better Cary Grant. He is very friendly and I hope we will go on together."

"Could you care for a bullfighter?"

"It makes no difference what two people do for a living. It's just when the man and woman happen to click."

She'd never seen a bullfight, but was supposed to that day. But that day's fights were canceled.

"I'm glad," she said.

Maypole Dance Scheduled on Pan-Am. Green

One of the most graceful events of the outdoor season will be staged at Pan American Park Saturday when hundreds of costumed children will take part in the annual all-city May Festival.

Boys and girls will sing and dance, garbed in costumes of the new and old worlds.

The festival program will begin at 2 p.m., with youngsters from 19 municipal playgrounds taking part.

In charge of the outdoor festival is Mrs. Virginia Clark, supervisor of drama and music for the Recreation Department.

The program will climax with the wrapping of maypoles by the dancing children.

Red China Using New Drilling Tactic

TOKYO (AP)—Red China is going to put into effect a new method of drilling for oil that "is twice as efficient as that now in general use," Peiping Radio reported.

The Communist radio said a drilling brigade has been testing the method for three years and last year made its quota 83 days in advance. The broadcast did not describe the method.

JUSTICE!

Guy Can't Learn to Be Star, He Strives

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Eighteen gunners in Ceylon's army went on a hunger strike. They said they were dissatisfied with the training program designed to prepare them for future civilian careers. It had no courses on how to become movie stars, they complained.

Pineau Honored

PARIS (AP)—Foreign Minister Christian Pineau has received the gold medal of the American Legion for his underground resistance to the Nazis in 1940-44. It was presented by Melvin C. Smith, American Legion president in France.

LONG BEACH 12, CALIF., SUNDAY, MAY 13, 1956 SECTION D

With MALCOLM EPLEY

ADLAI Stevenson and Estes Kefauver played roque in Long Beach's Lincoln Park—and from that, an idea has been germinated in shop talk around here that might grow into something.

Non-partisan observers at the roque courts thought Stevenson, who made a successful play in two strokes, might be the better roque prospect of the two campaigning Democrats.

A man's aptitude at roque would hardly be a reasonable basis on which to make political decisions. I do not know, but doubt if Bro. Stevenson won any votes by his Lincoln Park performance. If Estes loses the election, it won't be because Adlai outscored him at roque.

BUT some of the boys here, sitting around with their feet on their typewriters and chewing over the situation, came up with a scheme to capitalize on this for good ole Long Beach.

Capistrano is known for the swallows that come back to it, year after year, reportedly on the same day. When people think of Capistrano, they think of swallows, and vice versa.

Maybe the Lincoln Park roque court could become similarly known the world over as the place where the politicians play.

EVERY time a political bigwig comes to town—and that's quite often—we ought to make sure his local managers take him down to the roque court in the Stevenson-Kefauver tradition.

Eventually, every man who gets into big-time politics in this country would feel an obligation to come here and play a game of roque. Perhaps some day the phrase "I played roque in Long Beach" would be as important in a politician's list of qualifying accomplishments as that he had once had "sweat on the brow from honest toil."

Maybe, instead of reporting a man has thrown his hat in the ring, the newspapers would be saying, "he has played roque at Long Beach."

Grauman's Chinese Theater is the museum of the prints left by the feet of famed movie stars. Why not a museum in Lincoln Park containing the roque mallets of visiting politicos—with their signatures?

Another feature would be a registry book containing the candidates' names, dates and visits, and respective scores. The time would come, with presidents and ambassadors and senators listed there, that the Long Beach roque museum would be a must for all Southern California visitors.

LAST week's gentle showers brought a question about May rain in Long Beach. There's never very much.

Only in one May in the last 35 years has precipitation here totaled more than an inch. That was in 1921, 35 years ago.

In 13 of the Mays since then, not a drop of rain has been recorded. And in the other Mays, there have been little more than mere smidgeons of moisture.

So we can be thankful about the recent freshening rain, clearing the atmosphere, and giving the greenery on the hills another boost. It was unusual.

SEVERAL mothers living in the Willard School area, where that shooting episode occurred the other day, have suggested something be said here about the quick and intelligent action take for the protion of school children at the time.

Willard School children were on the school ground, within range of the gunfire from a youngster in a house on Orizaba St.

The emergency bell of the school was sounded, bringing children from the playground into their classrooms. It was noon and some children had gone home. A quick check was made to discover those missing, and their mothers were called to advise them to keep their children from the danger area. A police car crew went to work directing children from the scene.

The women who called here asked for recognition of the work done by the school principal, Margaret Busch, and her staff, as well as the officers. It was a grand job of handling an emergency problem.

Modernizing of Gas System Nears Finish

A 10-year, $1,750,000 program for modernization of the Municipal Gas Dept.'s compressor system will be completed in August.

Work is well advanced on the final project, the replacement of the obsolete plant at Spring St. and Junipero Ave. with a new building and new equipment valued at $725,000, Superintendent L. L. Bendinger reported Saturday.

Five huge new compressors have already been installed and a steel and cement building is being constructed around them.

The new units, powered by natural gas engines, will replace 12 old machines which have been in use since 1923. The plant was located in Dominguez before being moved to its present site in 1927.

• • • •

BOVEE & CRAIL, Construction Co. of Paramount has the $106,483 contract, executed last Dec. 6. The balance of the current outlay went for purchase of equipment and preparation of plans by M. A. Nishkian & Co., Long Beach engineering firm.

An important element of the new plant is a cooling system which circulates water from a 1,000,000-cubic-foot holder through coolers and compressor cylinders.

Since electrical power is to be used to drive auxiliary equipment, a 100-kilowatt standby electric generator is being installed for use in emergencies.

All the piping is placed on "sleepers" above ground and located on one side of the building to add to the attractiveness of the area and make landscaping more effective. This design was considered desirable in view of the proximity of the proposed San Diego Freeway.

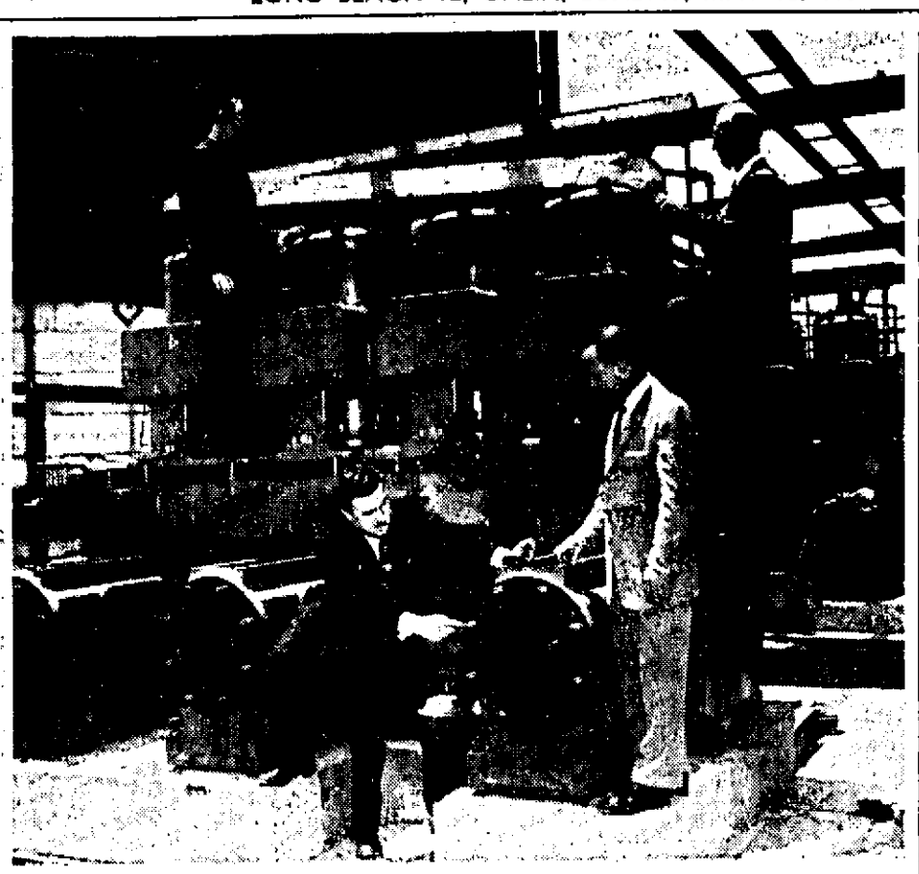

• • • •

WITH COMPLETION of the current project all three of the system's compressor stations will be of modern design. Their function is to keep pressure in the distribution mains on an even level regardless of fluctuations in demand.

In 1946 a new plant was completed in North Long Beach, and two years later the existing plant at 9th St. and Edison Ave. was modernized.

At least one addition to the system, however, is in prospect. Further compressor facilities will be needed when the city takes over privately owned distribution lines in the annexed areas of the Lakewood section. Acquisition of Southern Counties Gas Co.'s system is already under way.

The additional program is expected to extend over three years, with a start on engineering work scheduled for next year.

A Long Beach resident for 52 years, Buffum is the fourth citizen to win the Exchange Club award. Special guests will include three former winners—Atty. Eugene E. Tincher, Dr. Orville Cole and City Mgr. Sam E. Vickers.

Lawrence A. Collins, editorial columnist of The Independent, will be the featured speaker. The outstanding citizen award will be presented by Will H. Winston in behalf of Orland Ford, Exchange president.

Buffum will be lauded for his civic contributions throughout the years. "Showing an interest in civic affairs has become a tradition with him," Winston said.

Vision Bus Will Check Driver Eyes

Know how far you can see an oncoming car? . . . How well you can judge its speed and yours? . . . How fast you can step on the brake?

As part of Car-Check Month, the Long Beach Safety Council will have a bus here this week to test vision, hearing and reaction time.

Ronald K. Pitcher, manager of the Long Beach Motor Bus Co. obtained the coach with the assistance of Joseph Pretzman, safety director of the Los Angeles Transit Lines.

• • • •

THE BUS will be at the corner of 4th St. and Pine Ave. Monday through Friday. Evenings, from 6 to 9 o'clock the bus will be at the check lane, 14th St. and Pine Ave.

Dr. Charles H. Fabish, vice president of the Safety Council supervises the tests which include visual acuity, sharpness of vision, depth perception, hearing degrees and color vision.

One of the most interesting tests, according to Dr. Fabish, indicates braking speed, duration of time to stop a car and severity of possible impact.

Motor coach drivers will be tested Monday.

Navy Wives' Move Here Protested

The San Diego Chamber of Commerce Saturday bitterly protested the proposed transfer of Navy wives to Long Beach.

That's right, Navy wives.

Last week the Navy announced it was considering the transfer of six aircraft carriers from San Diego to Long Beach.

On Saturday, George W. Sears, president of the San Diego chamber, said many of the wives of servicemen serving aboard the carriers are employed in San Diego.

Their transfer would seriously injure the labor market, he contended. There already is a labor shortage in the area, he added.

The chamber has scheduled a meeting Monday with Vice Adm. A. M. Pride, commander, air forces, Pacific Fleet.

Garage Owners Install Sutton

D. W. Sutton was installed as president of the Independent Garage Owners Assn. at a dinner dance Saturday night in the Lakewood Country Club. He succeeded Mason C. Jurgenson.

Other new officers include: Les Mauck, Henry Sorenson, Earl Neely, Harold Cheyney and Bill Coleman. New directors are W. R. Bell and Don Head.

Area Building Industry Pay Sets Record

The Los Angeles-Long Beach building industry employed 132,800 wage and salary workers during March at a record-breaking average hourly earnings of $2.97, it was reported Friday.

Earl P. Snyder, research committee chairman for the Home Builders Institute, said the average over-all wage rate for all manufacturing industries from the month was $2.15.

"The contract construction industry in the Los Angeles-Long Beach metropolitan area, including Orange County, according to official sources, employed five times the number employed in food processing and more than double the number employed in the textile industry," Snyder said.

"The number of wage and salary workers employed by the building industry in March was 132,800, representing 20 per cent of the total number employed in all manufacturing activities combined."

He said the newspaper publishing business paid the second highest average hourly wage at $2.96, followed by the motion picture industry with $2.95.

Wide Open 5th District Council Contest Looms

Two Candidates in Race, Many Others Expected

With two candidacies already announced, a wide open race for Fifth District councilman is expected to be touched off Monday.

The City Council will convene at 10 a.m. to declare a vacancy caused by the death eight days ago of Councilwoman Ruth H. Bach.

As soon as the declaration is formally posted—which will be within a few hours—it will be permissible for aspirants to file their declarations for candidacy at City Clerk Margaret Heartwell's office.

• • • •

THEY HAVE UNTIL 5 p.m. Friday to complete this formality and until the following Tuesday for the further step of filing petitions.

Erick Flamer of 2548 Zandia Ave. announced Saturday. Flamer organized the recently formed Stearns Park-Southern Manor Property Owners Assn., a group protesting the proposed drilling of oil wells at Lakewood Blvd. and Willow St. and in nearby residential areas.

Norwegian-born and educated in England, candidate Flamer has served eight years on the Long Beach Board of Examiners and Appeals, the last three years as chairman. He is also chairman of the Chamber of Commerce construction industry board. Other memberships include Lions Club and Sons of Norway.

• • • •

LEGAL COMPLICATIONS confront the other announced candidate, Andrew W. Baird, an industrial engineer. He lives at 2621 Senasac Ave., which is in the newly-created District 4 rather than the revised District 5 (see map on this page).

Although City Atty. Walhfred Jacobson has ruled that the election will be confined to the newly constituted District 5, Baird indicated he intends to make an issue of the point that the new district may not be denied representation.

Others who have indicated they might run are Frank Lowry,

Court Restrains Picketing of 2 L.B. Auto Agencies

A temporary restraining order to prevent picketing of two Long Beach motor car agencies this weekend was issued Friday by Superior Judge John J. Ford, in Los Angeles.

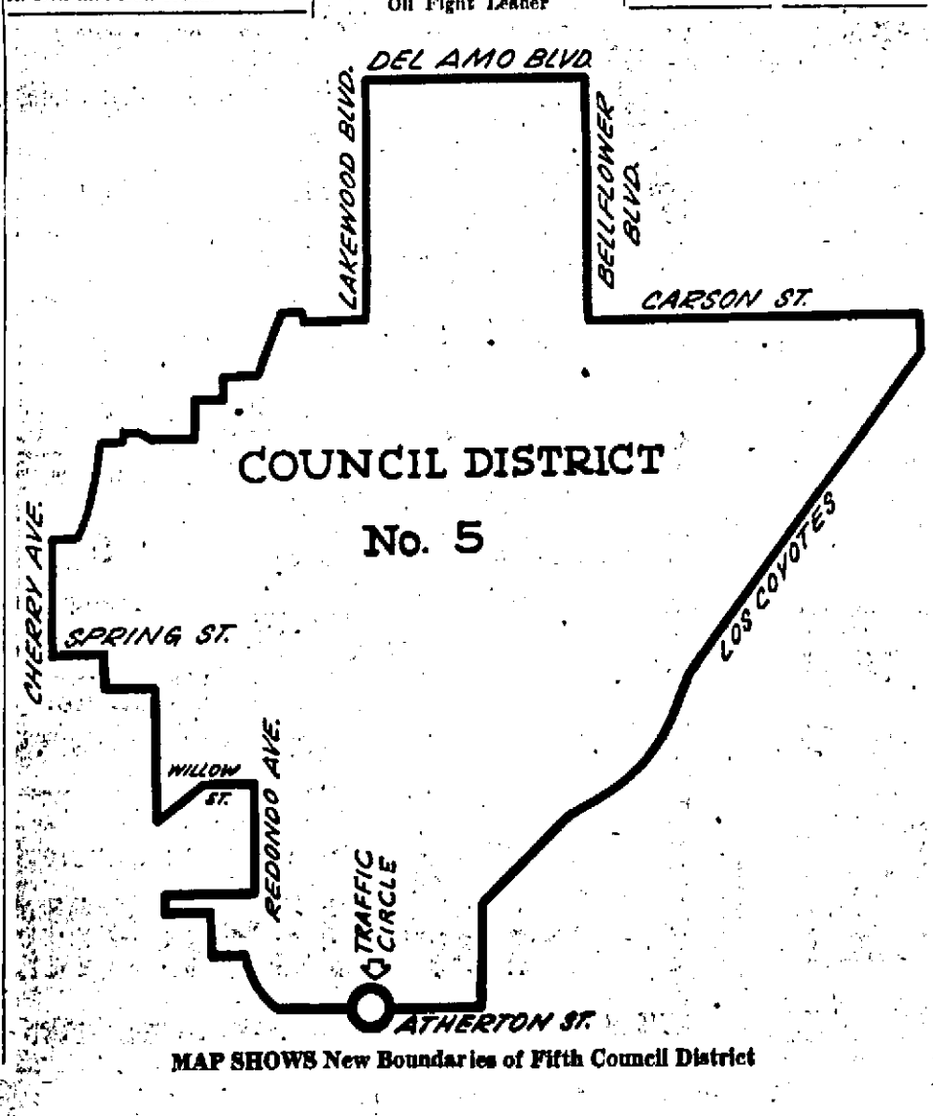

The agencies are Harbor Lincoln-Mercury, Inc., 1633 American Ave., and Salta Pontiac, 1545 American Ave.

Under the order picketing also would be illegal against H. J. Caruso, 701 N. Long Beach Blvd., in Compton, and Wilshire Oldsmobile, in Los Angeles.

The International Assn. of Automotive Machinists has picketed the four agencies during the past two weeks, because they reportedly refused to join a group of motor car dealers and close on Sundays.

However, a spokesman for Salta Pontiac denied Saturday that his company was open on Sundays, although it did not join with the group which signed a closing agreement.

The restraining order is returnable to the court, May 18, at which time the union must show cause why the order should not continue in effect.

Judge Percy Hight

Chef of the Week

Judge Hight Proves He's Good Judge of Food, Too

By MILDRED K. FLANARY
Independent, Press-Telegram Home Economics Editor

"You must understand the other fellow before you can help him"—that philosophy perhaps explains the outstanding success of today's Chef of the Week Judge Percy Hight. A keen perception and an unusual faculty for blending kindness, gentleness and courtesy, with firm and logical decisions, are his.

Dean of California's municipal judges, Percy Hight, was first appointed to the bench on March 5, 1926. Of his 30 years as veteran jurist, he served on the Superior Court for 20 years by juricial council assignment. Recently honored on his anniversary, he was given a diamond-studded pin from Los Angeles County, a wrist watch from Long Beach Bar Assn., and a bouquet of 30 roses from his fellow jurists.

Judge Hight was born in Riverside County on the site of the present Glen Ivy Hot Springs Hotel. His father owned the hotel, but it was then known as the Cold Water Canyon Hostelery. Many the deer and the bear he has taken from "them thar San Berdoo Hills"—with some quail and gray squirrel included for variety.

Receiving his degree from University of California Law School in 1903, he entered his dad's law firm in the City of San Bernardino. He moved to Long Beach in 1907, and became assistant to the late Judge Long, serving then as City Attorney. He remained as Deputy City Attorney until 1912, when he went into private practice. The firm was known as Long, Hight and Hoodenpyle.

Since being appointed to judgeship, the cases over which he has presided would make interesting reading. Probably the one of longest duration was the Boulder Dam Power Line case which consumed an even six months.

A past president and member of the present executive boards (both local and national) of Boy Scouts of America, Judge Hight has served the Native Sons in that same capacity. A charter member of the Virginia Country Club, he holds life memberships in both th Pacific Coast Club and the Elks Lodge.

Our "chef" loves to travel—and his destination is usually the desert—or lower Mexico. He's intrigued with the Mexican language, and finds the people both interesting and hospitable.

Judge Hight has his private domain, too—it's his camellia and azalea beds. No one dares touch them—not even the gardener. For many a year the Judge has kept his "figger" by a noontime bowling bout—and a dish of Wheatena every morning (without fail), topped with juicy prunes.

Today he's presiding over a Chicken Burgundy. Here's his conclusion:

CHICKEN BURGUNDY BY HIGHT

2 frying chickens, disjointed or all breasts
1 bunch carrots
½ cup salad oil
½ cup seasoned flour
1 cup water
2 whole cloves
1 bay leaf
½ teaspoon marjoram
¼ teaspoon rosemary
Few grains mace
2-3 oz. cans broiled, sliced mushrooms
1 to 2 cups domestic Burgundy wine

Dredge chicken with seasoned flour. Brown on all sides in salad oil. Remove to large casserole. Sprinkle with any remaining seasoned flour; slice carrots crosswise or in thin strips. Peel onions or use canned onions for uniform size. Add carrots and onions to chicken in casserole. Pour water in pan in which chicken was browned. Add spices—boil 5 min. Strain over chicken and vegetables. Cover casserole; bake in slow oven, 325 degrees 1 hr. Add mushrooms, liquid from cans, and wine. Continue cooking 1 hour or until chicken is real tender. This makes 8 servings and is delicious.

Hands Off, Mother-in-Law!

DEAR MRS. MAYFIELD:

My daughter is about to put me on the spot as a "meddling mother-in-law" and I don't know what to do. I once had a typical mother-in-law, and the last thing in the world I want is to be considered the same.

But I'd also like to give my daughter some answers to her problem. So that is my problem: Should I interfere or not?

She and her husband seem very happy together and I believe they are, except for the question of money. He won't give her a cent. She can't even keep a little out of the grocery money because he charges everything. In fact, it's a fight just to get money for cigarettes.

She doesn't know how much he makes, how it is spent, saved or anything. He won't even discuss with her the problems of money that concern them both. My daughter doesn't mind that so much, but she is sick of begging for every dime. If she only had a small allowance, I know she would be happy.

So that is my problem. She has asked me what to do about it and I hate to interfere. But she needs some help, don't you think? Would I be right in stepping in now?—MOM.

DEAR MOM:

No, I don't think you would be right in stepping in now. You have said that your daughter and son-in-law are happy, except for this one problem. Believe me, your interfering isn't going to solve that problem, but only create another one. You then will have the problem of your son-in-law's dislike for you.

It's hard for you, I know, to turn her down, but it is the best thing in the long run.

Whatever you told your daughter to do would just cause more trouble with her husband. Surely, she can figure out some way to get through to him without your help. She knows and loves her husband, so why should she expect you to tell her what to do?

Even if you gave her the right answer that helped solve her problem, it wouldn't help her any for she'd lean on you again when something else came up. It is best for her to find her own answers now and forever and to develop her place in marriage. Sorry, if this isn't what you wanted to hear, but you asked me what I thought.—M.M.

DEAR MRS. MAYFIELD:

How wrong can a person be? How cheap can a person feel? I'd give anything to undo what I've done. It's done, of course, but I feel like such a fool. Maybe you can give me some solace.

For years I kept myself out of affairs and entanglements. I was saving myself for the one and only, who I would marry. He finally came along and it really was love at first sight. He asked me to marry him and I was so happy. Then he decided we should stay together first, just to make sure everything was all right.

Like a fool, I believed him and thought it wouldn't make any difference, because he had asked me to marry him. But it did make a difference, for he's dumped me, but good. I don't mind so much about him, for I can see him for what he really is. But, oh, how cheap I feel!—SORRY AND SAD.

DEAR SORRY AND SAD:

Yes, and to make matters worse, you thought you were both in love. That probably makes your disappointment doubly hard to bear. The emotions are devilishly hard to keep harnessed at times, aren't they?

But you'll get over your feeling. Time is a great thing for bad memories and hurt feelings. They do pass, though, in time and you'll be so much wiser—if that's any consolation — for the experience.—M.M.

Why Grow Old?

'Dress Right' Program Is Success in High Schools

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

As my readers know I long have believed that a woman is likely to live up to the picture she has of herself. If we feel well groomed and at our best we are almost sure to act more attractively, to put our best foot forward. This seems to be a psychological fact.

For this reason I have been tremendously interested in a project now going on in the high schools of Buffalo, N.Y. This is a "Dress Right" program. Certainly if personal appearance so subtly influences men and women, it might have an even greater impact on teen-agers.

Dr. Joseph Manch, associate superintendent for school-community co-ordination, long has understood the close connection between extreme or sloppy appearance and misbehavior in the teen-age set.

Working with the Inter-High School Student Council, representing all 14 Buffalo high schools, Dr. Manch decided that the most effective way of curbing bizarre clothing for both boys and girls was to put the responsibility on the students themselves. He asked the Council if it would like to consider the development of a series of recommendations for appropriate dress in high schools as its project for the year.

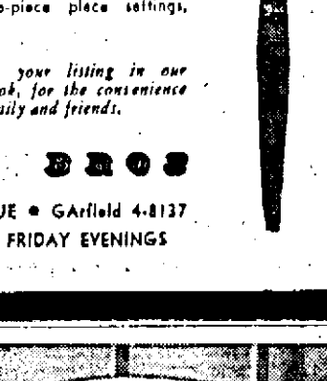

The Council accepted this proposal with enthusiasm and its 17-year-old president, Caesar Naples, appointed a committee (one representative from each high school) to study the situation and prepare a series of recommendations for the Council's approval. This they did with great success.

One high school installed a full length mirror at the top of a stairs where most of the pupils passed at least once a day. A sign over the mirror reads, "Look! This is you. Are you satisfied?"

Our Children

Make This Mother's Day a Memorable Occasion

By ANGELO PATRI

Every day is Mother's Day, including the nights, so if one day off-duty is afforded her, she will appreciate it deeply. Just to be freed of the daily routine would be wonderful gift for her. Not to be bothered about the whereabouts of Dad's blue shirt or Sister's sweater, not to have to plan breakfast and supper for a whole day—what bliss! Just to be free to sit and smile at her children, to eat a meal she has not planned and cooked, just to enjoy her family—what a wonderful day that would be.

When the children are small, someone, usually Dad, must take over as far as possible. A drive to some outlying restaurant is a great treat and if there is someone to take care of the small children so they need not be taken along, that adds to the glamour of the occasion. A free day seasoned with family affection is about ideal for Her Day.

When the children have grown up and are far from home, a telegram, a telephone message, best of all a long letter, can be a happy surprise. When at all possible, a visit, a gathering of the whole family, is about the best gift a mother can have — providing, of course, that the work does not fall on her shoulders. Mother is to enjoy a real holiday from the routine tasks of housekeeping.

There must be gifts, of course. Do let them be on the luxury side. By luxury is meant something out of the ordinary, like a fine plant, a bit of jewelry that Mother has longed for but did not dare to buy. It may be a book that she wanted but could not see her way to buy. Maybe it is a record of some fine music that she longed to own. Something, in short, that Mother would like to have but could not or would not buy for herself.

You see, mothers are schooled to self-denial. They give up their time, their tastes, their wants, and merge themselves with their families and unless the family become aware of this, her days are days of duty. Mother's Day gives her children a chance to return some of the affection, even some of the self-denial, if they will.

Some curmudgeons grumble that Mother's Day is just another commercial stunt to boost business. The boost that business gets is just a side product of a beautiful thought and is not to be grudged. The shops offer fine service for this Day and they are to be approved for it accordingly.

So here's to Mother's Day. Bring on the flowers and the letters and the grandchildren, and make it a wonderful day for Her. And make sure she does none of the work involved. It's her one holiday.

End Game Very Pretty

Today's hand comes to us from Terence Reese, the great English expert. "It has an artificial look," he admitted, "but the end position is very pretty."

South wins the first trick with the ace of clubs and hopefully cashes his six top cards in the red suits. If either red jack happens to drop, declarer can get to dummy with the king of clubs to cash a red 10 as his twelfth trick.

Nothing good comes of this plan, since West has control of both red suits. East discards two small clubs, carefully saving his control of spades.

South next tries the spades, and West discards the 10 of clubs on the third spade. Once again South is disappointed.

South makes his last try by leading his losing spade. West must discard. If West discards a red jack, dummy will save the established red 10. Dummy will then win the last two tricks with that red 10 and the king of clubs.

West's only hope is to discard the jack of clubs, whereupon South discards the king of clubs from the dummy!

East wins the jack of spades and must return a club, allowing South to win the last two tricks with the 9-6 of clubs.

Please don't say that South can make the 12 tricks by taking the three high spades very early. It's true that West would be squeezed at once, but it wouldn't be nearly so pretty. And please don't say that somebody really played this hand, because we aren't quite ready to believe it!

Buffum Wins Local Club's Civic Award

HE ALSO will be cited for his work to solve hospital problems in Long Beach. As a member of the Inter-Hospital Committee, he helped plan the program to erase local hospital shortages with a $10,500,000 bond issue, approved by voters.

As president of Buffums', Harry Buffum has watched the corporation grow from a small store with 21 employes on Pine Ave. in 1904 to a large enterprise employing more than 1,000, with stores in Long Beach and Santa Ana.

Pine Ave. was a dirt road when he first came to Long Beach, and the original store, called The Mercantile Co., carried both "bolt goods" and groceries. He started in the store on a part-time basis, first working as janitor, then cash boy and clerk and later working up into top executive positions.

He has watched the city grow from 4,500 population to some 318,000.

Scramble for Council Post Sighted Here

Reports indicate that a dozen or more candidacies may be filed.

And in the light of the precedent set by Mrs. Bach[illegible] ended male monopoly of the council, several women [illegible]inent in the district are expected to enter the competition.

• • • •

LIKE ALL special elections to fill councilmanic vacancies, this one will be decided in one balloting. Under the charter, the Council must schedule it for a date within 90 days of the declaration of a vacancy.

Mrs. Heartwell said she will recommend that the date be fixed as far in the future as practicable in order that voters not now registered may have ample opportunity to do so.

Registration has already been resumed in the Fifth District, for the special poll only. Duties of 18 deputies have been reactivated by County Registrar Ben S. Hite. Addresses of the deputies may be obtained by telephoning Mrs. Heartwell's office.

Police Check Heroin Story of Docker

Police Saturday were checking the story of a 41-year-old Long Beach longshoreman who said he "blundered" onto heroin worth three-quarters of a million dollars on the dope market.

More than four pounds of uncut heroin were found here Friday in the home of an acquaintance of Albert R. MacCagnan.

He was arrested May 2 and charged with peddling narcotics. A trial is pending.

• • • •

AT THE TIME of his arrest, officers found a small amount of narcotics.

But a tip Friday night led to the larger cache. Los Angeles Harbor division police and Long Beach Dep. Dist. Atty. Ted Sten made the raid on a house in the vicinity of American Ave. and Pacific Coast Hwy.

They found the heroin in three plastic bags on a closet shelf.

Sgt. A. W. Trembly, who headed the investigation, declined to reveal the address of the house.

• • • •

HE SAID MacCAGNAN'S acquaintances apparently did not know what the package contained. They told him the longshoreman said the packages contained powder used to mix paint.

Trembly quoted MacCagnan as saying he was working in the hold of a ship here last February when he "accidently blundered on" about five pounds of the almost pure Oriental heroin. He smuggled if off the ship, Trembly said.

Earlier Friday officers found $25,000 worth of heroin in a dummy oil filter on MacCagnan's car.

Great Future for Area Seen by Building Leaders

By KEN CHILCOTE
Independent, Press-Telegram Business Editor.

Continued growth of the Los Angeles-Long Beach-Orange County metropolitan area, assured by plentiful jobs, promises a bright future for both Southland homebuilders and home buyers in this area.

So stated two experts in talks delivered before 250 leading homebuilders attending the May meeting of the Home Builders Institute, at the Ambassador Hotel.

The speakers were Charles Detoy, past president of both the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Los Angeles Realty Board and senior partner of Coldwell, Banker & Co., and J. Lowell Henderson, president of the Aetna Development Co. R. Reese Myers, president of the Home Builders Institute, presided.

Consensus view of the meeting was that strong demand will continue for homes in this area, helping the builder, and value of homes now completed or building may be expected to rise, benefitting the home buyer.

• • • •

ASSURING FURTHER population increases and a continued need for new homes in this area is a fast expanding industry here which is providing jobs faster than the population mounts, Detoy told the builders.

The acute shortage of land now plaguing homebuilders will be solved by the opening up of new areas beyond the scene of present activities and homebuilders will have at least another 15 years of good, strong demand for homes, Henderson said.

Steadily increasing land prices in all areas surrounding Los Angeles were reported by Henderson, an indication, he pointed out, that homes being built and sold today will increase in value.

Orange County's great growth has scarcely begun, he predicted, adding "In 1960-65, the north and west sections of Orange County will be built solid."

Henderson quoted leading economists as predicting the "Pomona-Ontario region is about to explode," adding that the anticipated mass movement of industry and people into the area may be triggered by the soon-to-be completed San Bernardino Freeway.

Today the Los Angeles-Long Beach area is one of the strongest and most diversified from the standpoint of industry in the entire world, Detoy said, contrasting today's situation with the period immediately following World War I when only three industries existed: Movies, citrus and tourists.

"We have now more than 15,000 industrial enterprises here," he said, "and despite our great population growth, employment is growing even faster."

• • • •

ONE OF the changes wrought, he said, has been the retirement of more than 54,000 acres from agriculture in the last five years.

"While Los Angeles County has long been the center of the walnut industry, this is no longer true. In fact the last walnut has been packed here. There will be no more," he said.

Citrus is also on the move to other sections of the state, he said, adding that Tulare County is gaining much of it.

Detoy said growth of the airports here "into a giant harbor for jets with runways from 10,000 feet long up to as long as 22,000 feet, if needed" would bring in more industry, more employment and more need for homes.

Detoy also told of the competition for land brought about by the growth of major shopping centers, which he said need a minimum of 55 to 60 acres. These centers, he said, can afford to pay $1 per foot for parking space —a sum which to them is cheap but which amounts to $43,560 per acre, a figure far beyond the reach of home builders.

Real Estate and BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

FIRST NEW ACCOUNT

Bernard Berk, leasing agent for Lakewood Park, was the first person to open a savings account at the new Lakewood office of California Federal Savings, 4248 Woodruff Ave. Nearly 1,000 accounts were opened the first four days, J. Howard Edgerton, president, announced. Shown as the first account was opened are, left to right, Ernest A. McGill, vice president and manager of the new office; Edgerton and Berk.

Cotter Opens Car Sales Place

Grand opening is being held for Cotter Motor Sales new location at 556 E. Anaheim St., the corner of Atlantic and Anaheim.

Herman Cotter, the owner, has been in the auto business in Long Beach 23 years. Robert W. Lee, the general manager, has 13 years of auto experience here. Extensive remodeling was done by the new owner.

Royal Palms Has Corsages for Mothers

A special Mother's Day showing of the Royal Palms model apartment is scheduled today at First and Atlantic Ave., the location selected for the 12-story mutual ownership apartment tower. Free corsages will be given to ladies visiting the model until 9 p. m. today.

"Mother's Day is a particularly appropriate time to see the Royal Palms model, as this apartment was designed with special attention to the needs of the woman who appreciates the comfort and conveniences provided by modern planning," says E. T. Moore of Moore Realty, sales agents for Royal Palms. "The all-electric kitchen is equipped with colorful work-saving appliances, including built-in oven and range, refrigerator, garbage disposal, and ventilating exhaust fan."

The appliances are included with each apartment, and the monthly charge also covers normal maintenance and replacement of the equipment, as well as regular repainting of the apartments. Sales of the apartments are continuing at a brisk rate, according to Moore, and an early sell-out of the 164 de luxe apartments is expected. Most of the purchasers are using the convenient FHA terms, although outright cash sales can also be made.

Candy Stick Lane Homes Still on Easy Financing

Family type homes, modernizing Cinderella's dream house, with a rustic ranch style motif, are priced well below the market norm at Candy Stick Lane Estates, located north of Chapman in Garden Grove, the builders say.

A select few homes are ready for immediate occupancy at the scene, which is conveniently close to public and parochial schools, and is near shopping facilities.

Sales price for the 3-bedroom, 2-bath homes is just $12,895, with conventional terms for all. A down payment is listed from only $195. Still no down to veterans is the rule.

Visitors are welcomed to the subdivision at the furnished model home, decorated in a traditional motif. Featured at Candy Stick Lane is an exclusive planter-view fireplace, along with covered patios, a spacious service porch, breakfast nook area, thermostatically controlled heat, hardwood floors, and a master bedroom suite with private bath and stall shower. An electric dishwasher is optional to the purchaser.

Footnoting the list are sliding glass doors and screens, spacious lots with front lawn and shrubs, clothes lines, and incinerators.

VA Loan Officer to Speak Here

Current phases of the GI loan guaranty program will be discussed at a dinner meeting of the Society of Residential Appraisers Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. at the Lafayette Hotel, by Arnold A. Wilken, loan guaranty officer of the Veterans Administration, according to Herbert L. V. Coffey, chairman of program committee.

Wilken has been closely associated with the GI loan project since its inception, and is at the present time in charge of GI loan activities in Southern California, Nevada and Arizona.

Morris Leenov, chief appraiser of the Long Beach office of the FHA, President of the Long Beach Chapter of SRA which includes Orange County, invites all appraisers and realtors to this important meeting.

Lincoln Park Homes in Anaheim Custom Styled for Big Family

Looking at new houses is fun, but the task of finding a home to buy can become a serious problem, when you start weighing the features of a house against your needs and coming up short.

How many times have you said "If only that house had hardwood floors, and lath and plaster walls," "Why didn't they put the service room in the house, next to the kitchen?" "I wish that house had a central hall plan," "I hate to think of putting in that lawn." "Nice house, but what a terrible location," etc.

In Lincoln Park you'll find the features you've been looking for, and many more, say the developers. These custom-styled homes all have hardwood oak floors throughout, genuine lath and plaster walls, large service rooms adjoining the kitchens, central hall plans, complete lawns included in the sales price, plus redwood fencing and patios, and ideally situated in the city limits of Anaheim.

THERE ARE A lot of smaller features that add immeasurably to the comfort and livability of these homes: Impressive fireplaces of brick or slumpstone, natural ash panel on fireplaces, cabinets and doors, 2 full baths, built-in dressing tables, extra mirrors and double medicine cabinets, kitchens with built-in range and oven of antique copper.

There are large pantries, guest closets, forced-air heating, separate dining rooms, convertible dens with walls of folding louvered doors, brick barbecue ovens in the dining areas and choice of 20 different models.

"These are the reasons," says Tom Price, sales manager of Lincoln Park, "we hear so often 'we've been looking at houses all day, and these are the first ones we've liked.'

"And these are the reasons why so many ex-home owners are anxious to pay down their equities of $4,000 or more, to buy a home in Lincoln Park.

• • • •

ACCORDING TO PRICE, over 50 per cent of all sales made are to people who make substantial down payments, although the terms require only $325 down for a veteran, to move into one of these designed-with-you-in-mind homes, priced from $15,625 to $16,250 and built by Centex Construction Co., the largest residential builder in the United States.

A few homes are available now for those who need immediate occupancy.

Take Carson out of Long Beach, which becomes Lincoln, to the corner of Lincoln and Brookhurst, then right one block to the 5 furnished models now open for inspection until 8 every night.

Find Luxury Living in Heritage Estates

Spacious kitchen cupboards and closets, plus beautiful decor, have been a major factor in the sale of homes at Halecrest Heritage Estates, is the report from the sales force at the Orange County development. As in all Halecrest homes, the most modern features have been built in Heritage Estates to make for more luxurious living and a minimum of work for the homemaker.

With 16 different designs to choose from in the 3- and 4-bedroom homes, homeseekers have found it easy to select one that exactly fits their tastes and needs in this suburban community that is close to both business and recreational facilities.

• • • •

OTHER FACTORS that make Halecrest Heritage Estates an excellent purchase are: heavy shake or rock roofs, hardwood floors and genuine plaster walls, large rooms, forced air heat, 2-car garages and sidewalks already installed.

Women visitors to the model homes have expressed delight in the kitchen facilities, which include built-in Western Holly gas range and oven, built-in Westinghouse dishwasher and washer-dryer, as well as the West-King garbage disposer.

Priced from $14,950, the down payment for vets is only $299, plus normal impounds, with monthly payments as low as $74.24. For non-vets the down is only $999.

Halecrest Heritage Estates is located in Western Ave. at Lincoln, approximately one-half mile south of Knott's Berry Farm, just minutes from major freeways.

AN ENCHANTED HOME
Heavy shake roofs and unusually wide eaves help to keep Enchanted Homes, such as shown above, cool in summer. The second unit of the Garden Grove development is enjoying popular acceptance, the builders report. Enchanted Homes, a fully-planned community, are located at the intersections of Magnolia and Orangewood Aves. in Garden Grove.

Big Rush of Sales in Enchanted Homes

Twenty-one days after opening of the second unit, Enchanted Homes in Garden Grove are 70 per cent sold, the Pioner Land Co., sales agents, reported.

The rustic provincial styled homes, however, are still available in all their unique models and elevations.

Designed by Cliff Olsten, U.D.A., Enchanted Homes blend a south-of-France charm with highly contemporary living conveniences. Shake roofs sweep down to wide overhanging eaves and exteriors sparkle with diamond-lite windows.

Leisurely living is the keynote of Enchanted Homes interiors, with massive antique brick fireplace and hearth a focal point of spacious living rooms. Bedrooms are spacious with coved ceilings.

Unusual in south-of-France styled houses are the complete powder rooms which are in addition to the two bathrooms in each.

• • • •

THE KITCHEN is equipped with built-in eye-level gas oven and counter-top range.

Low down payments on both VA and FHA terms, with full prices from $15,200 to $15,400 are reported by the builder, Godbey Development Company.

To reach Enchanted Homes from Los Angeles, take Santa Ana Freeway to Stanton Ave. (Highway 39) in mid-Buena Park, turn right to Orangewood Ave., then left to the models.

From Long Beach, drive out 7th St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) to Stanton, turn left to Orangewood, then right to Enchanted Homes.

A CINDERELLA HOME
This shows the luxurious setting inside the new Cinderella Homes which are selling in Anaheim. Much care has been given to color coordination in the homes.

New Cinderella Home Unit Open

The builders of the 701 new Cinderella Homes at Ball Rd. and Western in Anaheim have spent a great deal of time and elaborate care in coordinating colors throughout the homes for maximum effectiveness.

The designers were particularly careful about achieving a feeling of warmth and restfulness in every room, feeling that it was highly important to create a completely different atmosphere between a man's home and the place where he works.

Color psychologists were consulted before any colors were planned, to be certain that every combination of colors was soothing to the nerves, and that it formed an air of coziness and hominess.

• • • •

THE 17 EXTERIOR styles of Cinderella Homes are not only color coordinated with their own individual interiors, but each house of the total development was color designed with every other house in mind, so that the entire Cinderella subdivision will compose a picture that is completely harmonious and pleasing.

Prices of the 3 and 4-bedroom homes start at $14,890, and feature 30-year loans for veterans and minimum down payments on 30-year FHA loans.

Home buyers can gain an exact idea of just what the finished homes and subdivision will look like from the first unit located at Highway 39 and Ball Rd. in Anaheim.

The sales office for the 701 new Cinderella Homes is also there, and is reached via the Santa Ana Freeway to Highway 39 in Buena Park and then due south past Knott's Berry Farm another 1½ miles (or one-quarter mile south of Orange Ave.).

Offers Resales on Low Terms

A limited number of three-bedroom homes for resale below the market price at Del Amo Park, described as "lived in by families who have been forced to leave them to live in other locations," were announced available yesterday by the developers.

Either vets or non-vets may move in for only $199, it was announced, and terms may be arranged "to suit" buyers.

"These homes are available only because their original buyers had to move to other locations," a spokesman said. "They are a particularly good buy for the 'handyman.' A little fixing and cleaning, and they will be as good as new."

The location of Del Amo Park is 20th St. and Pioneer Blvd., Artesia.

Grand opening of Majestic Homes on Western Ave., Anaheim, is announced for this weekend by Paul Bonser, builder. Homes have genuine lath and plaster walls and hardwood floors.

Paul Bonser's Majestic Homes Will Hold Grand Opening Today

Paul Bonser, builder, announces the grand opening of Majestic Homes today on Western Ave. between Ball Rd. and Orange Ave., Anaheim, a location rapidly accessible to Los Angeles via the Santa Ana Freeway.

According to Bonser, nine different elevations in this custom-styled group of 38 homes make the new residences as "individual as the families who'll be moving into them." Sites are large, homes are low and rambling with picturesque shake roofs. Featured are genuine lath and plaster walls, A-1 hardwood floors and oversize 2-car garages.

Designed for either vet or non-vet, Majestic Homes offer 3 or 4 bedrooms. Popular feature in the 3-bedroom homes is the cork-floored family room that can double as a den or sewing room.

Streamlined kitchens offer built-in O'Keefe & Merritt gas range and oven, disposals and convenient double sink. Baths are gay with colored fixtures and ceramic tile. Glamour feature is the unusual marble-topped Pullman. On the practical side, there's a 50-gallon water heater.

Rich-colored used brick fireplaces contrasting in texture with gleaming mahogany paneling keynote the living rooms, which offer a pleasant vista through the wide, sliding patio doors.

Sun Powers Novel Radio

LOS ANGELES—A milestone in the science of electronics has been crossed with the introduction by Admiral Corp. of the world's first sun-powered tubeless radio designed for the consumer market.

The sun-powered radio marks the culmination of 18 months research and development work by Admiral. Six months ago, the company demonstrated an experimental sun-powered set in Chicago.

The new commercial model contains six transistors in place of vacuum tubes and a 32-cell "Sun-Power Pak" is available optionally to harness sunshine for powering the instrument. The unit is so sensitive that it will operate on an overast day. The small accessory plugs into the back of the unbreakable case and converts the sun's rays instantaneously into electric energy. Since it contains no moving parts, there is nothing to wear out.

The principle element in the "Sun-Power Pak" is pure silicon and, although silicon is one of the most abundant elements on earth, being found everywhere in sand, pure silicon is very scarce and present costsly over $300 a pound.

TWO PROUD BUILDERS

Tietz Home Model Wins Prize for Girl

An Industrial Arts sstudent at Garden Grove High School, Nancy Kraushaar, last week won top award in the first annual model home design contest held at the Orange County Home Show by adapting the interior plans of a Skylark Terrace Town and Country dwelling to her own conception of the exterior treatment. Nancy built the model, one of 18 entries in the contest, and will receive as a prize a wrist watch from Tietz Construction Co. of Garden Grove, builders and developers of Skylark Terrace Town and Country Homes.

Bill Tietz, president of the construction firm, complimented Nancy on her talent and ingenuity, disclosing that the interiors as well as exteriors of the homes have met with equally high praise among Southland homebuyers who purchased the first unit of 70 dwellings in less than 30 days.

• • • • •

THE 3 AND 4-bedroom, 2-bath homes are popular for a number of reasons, notably the spaciousness of both home and lot, the genuine lath and plaster construction, and the incomparable location, said Tietz.

Up to 1,500 square feet of living space sets the pace for roominess with wide lots of up to 85-foot frontages emphasizing the indoor-outdoor living possibilities, such as swimming pools, badminton courts, playgrounds and patios. Swimming pools are optional with the buyer, it was revealed and barbecues with grills are already installed.

Other features include all-electric Hotpoint efficiency kitchens equipped with built-in, automatic ranges, ovens, dishwasher and garbage disposals.

Sliding glass "lanai" walls, massive sandstone fireplaces with raised hearths, golden hardwood floors, 80,000 BTU forced air furnaces, formica and tile baths with stall showers enclosed by etched glass doors, shingle, heavy shake and Dolomite roofs, brick trim exteriors, intercom and background music systems are more qualities.

Both veterans and FHA financing are available for the homes, models located at Brookhurst and Chapman in Garden Grove. Visitors drive out Seventh St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) to Brookhurst, turn north on Brookhurst, and continue to Chapman Ave.

Cedric Roberts Is Chosen to Build Magazine Home

"Living for Young Homemakers" magazine has chosen builders and developers H. Cedric Roberts & Sons and architect John Kewell, AIA, to design the magazine's display house for Southern California.

It will be one of 26 throughout the nation, each designed, engineered, built and decorated by specialists in the local areas.

The selection of the Roberts firm and Kewell to do the local house was made by Mrs. Edith Brazwell Evans, editor-in-chief of the magazine, during her recent visit here.

Roberts announced that he will build the house on Katella Ave., near Brookhurst St., in the center of the nation's most active home building area, North Orange County. Opening of the house is scheduled for the Parade of Homes during National Home Week.

• • • • •

ROBERTS SAID that every effort was being made to make the home the most outstanding one in the nation's program, as well as being the best possible expression of a home designed specifically to meet the needs of the Southland's families.

Explaining the program, Mrs. Evans stated, "Americans find their homes their most personal creative expression. Geography and climate, because they affect people, have a decided influence on the kind of homes they want. Our plan is to design, engineer and build homes indigenous to the regions in which they are built, costing what the market they are designed for can afford."

• • • • •

ONE OF THE REASONS Roberts was chosen to build the house is that this firm is one of Southern California's oldest home builders, the announcement stated. The senior Roberts has just started his 34th year as a home builder, and he now has been joined by his sons, James and Warren.

Also one of the most active and well known builders within the construction industry, Roberts is a member of the Contractors' State Licensing Board, a member of the Board of Directors of the National Association of Home Builders, a past president of the Building Contractors Association of California and, a lifetime member of the Board of Directors of the Home Builders Institute.

The architect, John Kewell, AIA, has designed several thousand homes throughout Southern California, both for individual clients and for large developments.

Cedric Roberts & Sons, selected by the magazine to build the display house.

Ease Vet Terms on Big Home

New terms for Excelsior Village that will offer the big 4-bedroom, 2-bath homes to veterans for no down payment were announced this week by sales agent, Don Coleman.

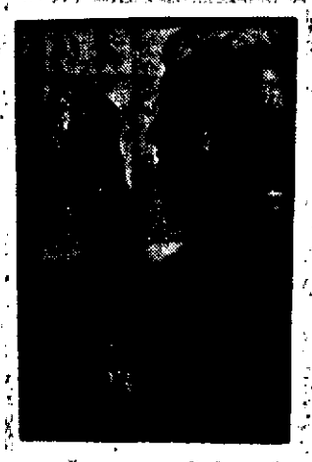

The sales head stressed that "no down" terms for veterans are on the way out and that quick action is suggested. Coleman also explained that arrangements could be made so that qualified veteran buyers could enjoy almost immediate occupancy.

• • • • •

EXCELSIOR VILLAGE homes feature the luxury kitchen with built-in range and oven, natural "glamour cabinets" with hidden pulls, big "pool size" lots, insulated ceilings, and the highly publicized "Gelvatex" long-life exterior paints.

With summer near, Coleman also stressed the ideal location of the Excelsior Village homes that bring the new buyer across the street from grammar school and playground, near to shopping and just minutes to southland beaches.

To reach Excelsior Village from Long Beach drive out Garden Grove Blvd. to Brookhurst in Garden Grove then turn right to the corner of Westminster and Brookhurst (Wright St.) and the model homes.

FIRE ALARM

Fire alarm system is one of the "built-in" features at Excelsior Village in Garden Grove. Offered to veterans for no down payment, the homes have range and oven, forced air heat, four bedrooms and two baths at only $12,600.

Large Clover Park Home Is Appealing

Competition in business represents a challenge to one's ingenuity, says Max Berlin of Berlin Construction Co., and he has prepared for it. How well this challenge has been met is shown in their home development in Orange County-Clover Park.

Big functional homes available to Veterans at no down payment except small closing costs are being offered by Clover Park. Low FHA terms are also in effect.

Home buyers after purchasing these homes avoid added expense as almost everything is included in the one price, reported sales manager Roy Berlin.

• • • • •

COMPLETE FENCING, landscaping, huge patios and sprinklers with remote controls are in front and rear yards. These features mean the Clover Park buyer can move in and not worry about this added expense necessary with many new homes. Closeness to schools, transportation and churches is proving a big asset.

Homes start at $11,600. Building and sales are both under the direction of Berlin Construction Company. Thus the buyer deals directly with the builder. The homes have a one-year written warranty.

Directions from Long Beach—Drive out 7th to Hwy. 39 (Huntington Beach Blvd.) turn left 1 mile to models or out Carson to Hwy. 39 and turn right to models.

Orangewood Manor Asks $25 of Vets

For the few remaining homes in Orangewood Manor, veterans may purchase with only $25 cash required, including impounds, it was reported by Thomas Helt, spokesman for the McCarthy Co., sales agents for this Garden Grove development. "Because of increased construction costs," Hart stated, "this may be the last chance veterans may have to buy such a quality home for only $12,750."

Kitchens in Orangewood Manor have proven very popular with their Roper gas ranges in pastel colors that match the Columbia steel cabinets. The living rooms have fireplaces and walls of glass that offer popular indoor-outdoor living. Patios have built-in barbecues.

Other features include: Thermador electric bath heaters, stall showers and Standard colored plumbing fixtures; forced air heating, resilient cork tile flooring, walls of genuine lath and plaster, Rockwool insulation, heavy rock roofs in 5 colors, and exteriors of California redwood siding.

From Long Beach, visitors are directed to drive out 7th St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) and turn north on Magnolia. From Los Angeles, take the Santa Ana Freeway, turn south on Magnolia and continue 4 miles to Orangewood Manor.

VET NEEDS BUT $50

Builders of Rancho Bel Air Homes announced new terms which permit a veteran to occupy a home on a $50 payment. This is one of the models of the Westminster homes.

Rancho Bel Air Gives Vet Occupancy on $50 Payment

Famous Rancho Bel Air homes in nearby Westminster this week end became available to veterans to move in for $50 cash.

The spacious new home development is being offered at terms as low as $67.50 per month including principal and interest. Balance of costs and impounds are only due before recording.

Unusually low terms are also available for non-vet buyers, Walker & Lee, sales agents, announced.

Styled for growing families, the Rancho Bel Air homes offer choice of 4 or 3 bedrooms, 2 baths and uniquely wide lots.

• • • •

THE ROOMS ARE bright and airy, floored with genuine hardwood on raised foundations, walled with real lath and plaster, and warmed and cooled by an ultra-modern forced air system with finger-tip thermostat control.

In the kitchen center, work surfaces are life-long formica; cabinets are made in natural finish.

Central hall plans assure quiet and seclusion for bedrooms. Floor-to-ceiling fireplaces are focal centers of some of the varied home plans available to buyers.

• • • •

RANCHO BEL AIR homes are perfectly located for families whose employment is in the growing South Coast area. Seal Beach, Wilmington and Huntington Beach are only 14 minutes away—Douglas aircraft plant is 12 minutes away, and State College only a 7-minute drive.

Ten minutes from the heart of Long Beach, Rancho Bel Air homes are reached via 7th St. to Los Alamitos which is the first road on the right after crossing the San Gabriel River. Make a right turn to Westminster Blvd. and go one mile to the furnished models.

L. B. Ward's Sales Best

Showing the biggest increase in sales in April in a contest conducted among 20 Montgomery Ward stores, the Long Beach store captured a coveted trophy and the employes will be feted at a big party.

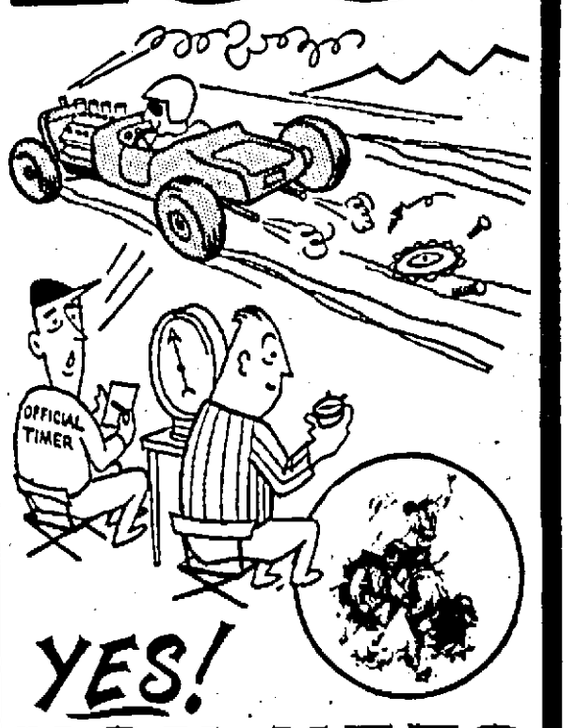

The annual sales contest in April is to show business gains over the similar month of the previous year.

Lyman Clark, store manager who came to Long Beach last September from Portland, Ore., was credited by employes for spearheading the campaign and he will receive a plaque. The employes will receive a trophy and $450 in cash to defray expenses for the party.

Stores as far away as Bakersfield and Visalia participated in the contest.

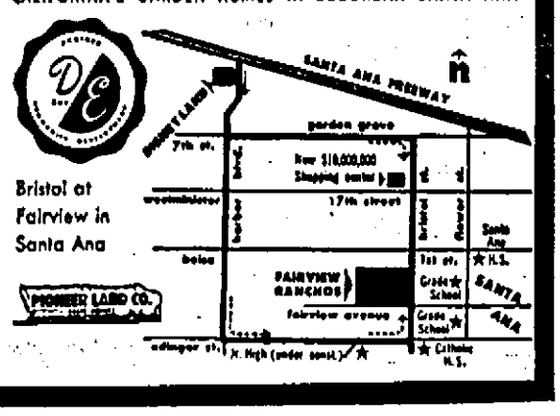

Retail leaders hail the achievement as definite proof of the success of downtown parking under the Park and Shop Plan. The store, located at 113 E. Broadway, has no individual parking lot.

THIS VETERAN IS SORRY!

He qualified for a $14,025 house, so he bought it. Now he realizes an Award Home at $12,025 would have given him just as much. He had to move into his new home with his dingy old furniture. That $2,000 meant "No furniture!" His monthly payments are so high that his budget is straining at the seams. No fun for his family!

THIS VETERAN IS HAPPY!

He could have qualified for a $14,025 home, but he chose an Award Home for only $12,025. Now he finds that the size, construction, and luxury are at least equal to costlier houses. With the $2,000 he saved, he bought new furniture. His monthly payments are less than rent for his new Award Home—only $61.93. Plenty of money left over to enjoy life!

ALDON'S 1956 SERIES

Shown is one of the many new three and four-bedroom homes, all with two complete baths, making up the 1956 "Triumph Series" now on display at Buena Plaza, near Knott's Berry Farm, on La Palma Ave., east of Miller St., Buena Park.

Sales Mounting in Buena Plaza

Top record crowds attending Buena Plaza's big public display of 9 beautiful model homes, weekends and week-days, both early and late, were attributed to the anticipated early sellout of the final unit of 3 and 4-bedroom, 2-bath "Aldon-luxurized" homes in the new community just off the Santa Ana Freeway in Buena Park.

Aldon Construction Co.'s spokesmen declared the present record sales levels, soon to wind up activity for the noted building company in the Buena Park area, may be ascribed also to the continued availability of unusually attractive vets' and non-vets' terms.

"Our display of both traditional and modern homes, in both 3 and 4-bedroom models, all with 2 big baths, is bringing consistently high attendance at the exhibit on La Palma Ave., just off Miller St., a topflight spokesman asserted.

• • • •

"PARTICULAR INTEREST is shown in the 7 fully furnished display dwellings, with decor by Aaron Schultz, which typify the multitude of stylings which range from California ranch, modern and provincial, through colonial and farmhouse, with exciting use of exterior detail and floor planning for the needs of all families."

General sales agent E. "Billy" Hamburg stressed that vets are buying the Aldon homes in Buena Plaza for nothing down but costs and impounds and $66.67 a month for principal and interest, described by his office as "the best terms in this category in Orange County." Non-vets, he explained, have terms with down payments from $990 plus costs and impounds.

N. Y. Cabbage

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP) — New York State kept its position as the top producer of cabbage for commercial processing in 1955. The American Can Co. reports that New York farmers received almost 70 per cent more money from processors last year than in 1954. The farmers received a total of $1,440,000 from processors in 1955.

Sharp Boost in Shamrock Park's Sales

New financing arrangements recently introduced at Shamrock Park have boosted sales tremendously, announces Frank Hart, general sales manager for Walker and Lee, sales agents for the Garden Grove development. "Under these new terms, veterans may purchase for only $25 cash required, impounds included," Hart pointed out.

Furthermore, purchasers have available such needed appliances as Westinghouse refrigerator, Laundromat, and Gaffers & Satler's range without the necessity of making an additional down payment.

Very popular with Shamrock Park buyers are the large living rooms with walls of glass and real fireplaces, Hart pointed out. Adjoining the living rooms are spacious rear patios with barbecues which afford families real opportunity —to enjoy Southern California's indoor-outdoor living.

Additional features found at Shamrock Park area: Step-saving kitchens with ceramic tile and garbage disposals, family-size bathrooms with colored plumbing fixtures, large bedrooms with Woodall sliding wardrobe doors, forced air heating, cork and asphalt tile flooring, walls of genuine lath and plaster, dust-free mahogany slab doors, steel sash windows, Rockwool insulation, weatherstripping, TV jacks and outlets and large 2?car garages.

Roofs are colorful; red, green or gray crushed rock and interior color harmony was planned by a color consultant. Front and side yards are landscaped.

Shamrock Park is reached from Los Angeles and northern points by taking the Santa Ana Freeway to Harbor and turning south. From Long Beach, take 7th St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) and turn south at Harbor to Shamrock Park model homes.

Chapman Woods Story Book Home Filled With Extras

A collection of the most desired features in a moderately priced home is what today's homeseeker finds when visiting Chapman Woods "Story Book" homes in Garden Grove reports a spokesman for Walker & Lee, Inc., sales agents for the Clif B. Robertson development of 3 and 4-bedroom, 2-bath dwellings. Added to these obvious advantages is another, the small cash requirement of only $29 for veterans to move into a new home in the subdivision.

Priced from $13,850 to $14,950, Chapman Woods homes were designed to incorporate the many plans, construction and feature qualities usually seen in more expensive dwellings, such as central hall plan to eliminate unnecessary traffic through bedroom areas, insulation, weatherstripping, oak flooring and built-in automatic kitchens.

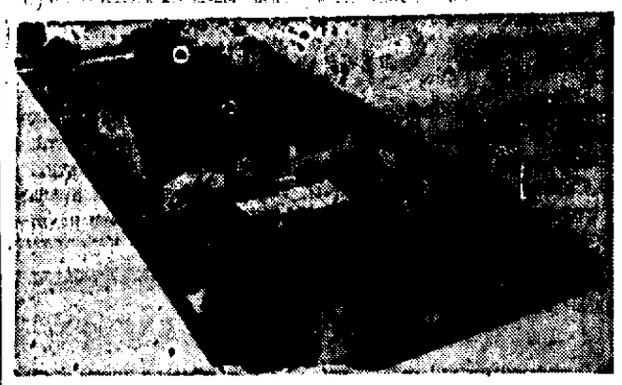

A FREE-STANDING fireplace, backed by an indoor barbecue in some models, master bedroom suite, Pullman-type baths with tiled stall shower and colored bath fixtures, Royal Jet forced air heat with summer ventilation, sliding "Horizon" window walls in the dining area, cathedral ceilings and cove lighting are more of the features of the homes.

Kitchens are equipped with built-in General Electric washer-dryer combination, food pulverizer, birch cabinetry, breakfast bar, and in some models, built-in Western-Holly range and oven in decorator colors. Washable interior walls, Timm aluminum casement windows, Armstrong linoleum, backyard incinerator and Telejack-TV outlets are more of the features.

Visitors drive out Garden Grove Blvd. to Highway 39, turn north on Highway 30 to Chapman and east on Chapman to Ninth St. From Los Angeles, take Santa Ana Freeway to Highway 39, turn south on Highway 30 to Chapman and east to the models.

Snow for Governor

BANGOR, Me. (UP)—Gov. Edmund S. Muskie and his aides did some quick thinking when a short circuit started a fire in the wiring of the governor's official car on a highway near here. They scooped up handfuls of snow and doused the flames with it.

A FAIRVIEW RANCHO

Shown is three-bedroom, two-bath, two-car garage model home at Unit No. 3 of Fairview Ranchos. Model features conver-table dining nook and breakfast bar in kitchen, handy service porch, architectural windows in bedrooms, 120-square-foot concrete patio, and genuine lath and plaster walls and ceilings.

Fairview Ranchos Charm Appealing to Home Buyers

The coming of spring has emphasized the beauty and charm of the settings provided for "California's Garden Homes" in Unit 3 of Fairview Ranchos, Bristol at Fairview, in Santa Ana, according to Frank Chandler of Pioneer Land Co., sales agents.

Each residence at Fairview Ranchos is on a large lot that includes over 1,500 square feet of landscaped lawn.

Residences at Unit 3 are still available to non-veterans for the low down of only $109, plus costs and impounds.

Qualified veterans can own one of the conventionally-constructed 3-bedroom, 2-bath, 2-car garage homes for nothing down, except the usual costs and impounds, with monthly payments of only $65.13 up, including principal and interest, according to Chandler. Homes are VA-appraised at $12,855 and $12,995.

To reach Fairview Ranchos from Long Beach, take 7th St. (Garden Grove Blvd.) to Bristol, then turn right on Bristol to models.

ON BUDGET TERMS

Terms to fit family budgets for both vets and non-vets are reported boosting sales at Homestead Gardens, residential community of three-bedroom, two-bath homes, typified above, which are rising in Garden Grove on Verano St., just north of Westminster Ave.

Easier Terms Boost Sales in Homestead

Plan to qualify veterans who are earning as little as $85 per week for immediate home ownership, it was reported Saturday, is boosting sales in the second lucky unit of Homestead Gardens in Garden Grove.

With occupancy now promised within 10 days, a second important factor in stimulating sales is the new budget terms, the builders said.

Under this plan, vets can now move into their choice of a large number of 3-bedroom, 2-bath homes for just $35 in cash.

New FHA terms for non-vets, it was explained by Walker & Lee, sales agents, also make prompt occupancy possible with less than 10 per cent needed as a down payment.

Center of attraction for visitors is a display of model homes, open daily from 10 a. m. Furnishings for the models are by Aaron Schultz.

While the biggest crowds continue to visit the display homes on Saturdays and Sundays since the advent of daylight savings time, increased crowds are noted in the early evening hours during the week.

Among the top features are mahogany kitchen cabinets, large 7200-square-foot lots, thermostat-controlled heating, wardrobe closets, steel casement windows, fiberglas insulation, acoustic ceilings, lath and plaster walls, stall showers with large glass doors and big garages.

The new community is located on Verano St., just north of Westminster Ave., within easy walking distance of schools and churches and shopping areas.

Real Estate Commissioner to Be Here Tuesday Night

D. D. Watson, State Real Estate Commissioner, has announced that he and some of his top aides will hold a meeting for all real estate licensees at Long Beach Tuesday evening.

The session will be at the Exhibit Hall, Municipal Auditorium starting at 7:30 p. m. The Long Beach Board of Realtors is cooperating with the commissioner or arrangements, and indications are the meeting will be one of the largest of its kind ever held in this area.

"The various new laws affecting those engaged in the real estate business have prompted hundreds of inquiries by letter and telephone from those in the business," Watson said.

"For the purpose of answering the meaning of the many recent law changes, the Division of Real Estate has arranged to hold a series of about 30 such discussion meetings at strategic points throughout the state." He stressed that the meetings are to be for all real estate licensees and prospective licensees. There will be no cost for attending other than the time expended.

The commissioner will act as moderator and the various questions will be answered by him, his two chief deputies, and the supervisor of licensing from Sacramento.

Many of the questions will be about the new method of licensing persons entering the business, and also the application of the new regulations affecting brokers who make mortgage or trust deed loans.

"The need for getting together with licensees to explain and impress upon them their responsibilities to the public has long been apparent. After careful consideration, it was decided that the series of panel discussions would be most effective in accomplishing this purpose," Watson stated.

Park Homes Offer Luxury

Ideal features combine to make Buena Berry Park the perfect answer to new home buyers, says the developers. From the standpoint of location, luxury, or price, these homes have much to offer.

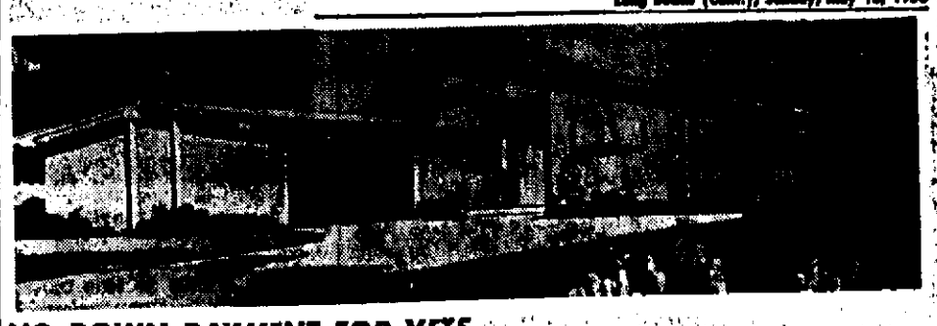

Just 25 minutes driving distance from Los Angeles, they are in a suburban Buena Park attractive area, with all houses built on level terrain featuring a mountain view. Just one block away is the world famous Knott's Berry Farm, and shopping facilities, schools and churches are nearby.

The homes feature modern luxury and are built on center hall floor plans with a continuous room arrangement for greater spaciousness.

Kitchens are complete with two-tone hardwood kitchen cabinets with ornamental metal knobs, built-in ovens and ranges, and garbage disposal units.

Important to the new home buyer are the low terms available. Veterans pay nothing down, except costs and impounds with monthly terms as low as $58.92, principal and interest. Non-veterans can avail themselves of low FHA terms with as little as $1,195 down and monthly payments of $53.63 principal and interest.

To reach Buena Berry Park, drive out Carson to Highway 39, turn left to Crescent, then right one block to the model homes.

NO DOWN PAYMENT FOR VETS

Complete sell-out of Award Homes, offered for vets, is forecast at Golden West St. and Garden Grove Blvd., between Long Beach and Garden Grove. No down payment, just closing costs, and monthly payment of $61.93 buys a three-bedroom and family room home with two baths and two-car garage.

See Quick Sellout for Award Homes

Complete sellout momentarily of Award Homes, Golden West St. and Garden Grove Blvd., was forecast yesterday by the builders, a Volk-McLain Co.

Veterans need make no down payment, only small closing cost for the de luxe series Award Homes. Immediate occupancy is available.

"Award Homes sales are breaking all records, attesting to the popularity of this rapidly growing area," stated a spokesman. "Excellent selection of large wide lots and home exteriors and floor plans is still available, but prompt action is advised."

These homes for veterans are sold on monthly payments of $61.93. Full price of $12,025 is set for the new 3-bedroom and family room homes. All have 2 baths and 2-car garages.

• • • •

STELLAR ATTRACTIONS at Award Homes are the new convertible family rooms and the king-size kitchens.

"Our multi-purpose family room is designed to stretch the home by adding flexibility," stated Kenneth Q. Volk and Robert B. McLain. "Located adjacent to the king-size ranch kitchen, and separated from it merely by a food-bar divider, the new family room is a dining area or a play area for children or grownups by day, and becomes a TV room, recreation room or tap room at night."

Seven furnished model homes are open daily till 9 p.m.

Veterans from Los Angeles and the Lakewood area reach Award Homes via Lakewood Blvd. to the traffic circle, then Highway 101 to 7th St. in Long Beach, then east to Golden West St. Seventh St. becomes Garden Grove Blvd.

Veterans from Long Beach should take 7th St. east to Golden West St., then south to Award Homes.

SALES ARE STARTING

Norwalk Village will hold its grand opening today with sales starting on such large homes as this model. They are priced from $12,800.

Norwalk Village Homes Grand Opening Is Today

A record turnout is expected at today's grand opening of S. & S. Construction Co.'s new planned community of Norwalk Village, timed to coincide with the observance of Mother's Day to highlight the host of in-built convenience features and time-and-labor-saving innovations designed to make every day an "at-home holiday for Mother," according to Nathan Shappell, president of the building firm.

With the convenience of this close-in location reportedly stealing the show at the just concluded preview, and accounting for a high percentage of advance sales, Shappell continued, "Young workers, particularly, appreciate the fact that Norwalk Village is within minutes of many new and projected industrial plants and firms. This proximity, it is estimated, will convert approximately 200 hours a year of commuting time into that many bonus hours of leisure for the average owner in Norwalk Village."

Terms are fashioned to fit the average budget, Shappell emphasized. Priced from $12,800, these conventionally-constructed, 3-bedroom luxury residences are available to former GI's for a small down, and on payments that range from $64.06 including principal and interest. Loans that mature in 29½ years are also available, he indicated.

• • • •

NORWALK VILLAGE is reached in approximately 20 minutes from the Long Beach area via Rosecrans Blvd. or Firestone Blvd. to Greenstone; left (north) on Greenstone to furnished models, showcasing each floor plan offered, and 5 of the 27 custom exteriors available.

Among each model's many attractions are separate service porches with laundry tray; natural-finish ash doors; steel sash windows; oak floors; forced-air heating with thermostat control and summer cooling switch; sliding glass doors with gliding screens; lath and plaster walls and ceilings; garbage disposer; range hood with fan and light; semi-automatic dishwasher; convertable in breakfast nooks; kitchen pantry in many models.

Offering Vets 103 Homes in 18th Unit of Los Altos

Reservations on 103 3-bedroom, 2-bath homes, formerly rental units in the popular 18th Unit of Los Altos, will be accepted beginning today, it was announced by R. D. Whaley, executive vice president of Los Altos Realty, Inc., sales agents.

The homes are being released for sale to veterans who are qualified to receive financing under the G. I. home loan program. They will be offered on low down terms with small charges to cover the costs of escrow and impound fees, Whaley revealed.

The Los Altos 18th Unit is located at Anaheim St. and Studebaker Rd. in East Long Beach and is a fully developed area. Near at hand are schools, churches, parks and shopping centers.

• • • • •

IN MAKING RESERVATIONS home buyers will have the opportunity to select from a wide range of exterior elevations and can choose from a varied number of interior floor plans.

With decorator-styled interiors, the contemporary homes have step-saving kitchens with In-Sink-Erator disposers, central hall plans, ceiling height closets and ceramic stall showers. Extra-wide roof overhang on the exterior reduces bright sun rays and helps to keep interiors of the homes cool.

Occupying large lots, the homes are landscaped with front and rear yard areas already in, and fencing, in most cases, is also included in the moderate purchase price.

• • • • •

THE DWELLINGS are served by all Long Beach municipal facilities and such community improvements as street lighting, concrete sidewalks, curbs, gutters and sewers are installed and paid for. The area is also served by bus transportation.

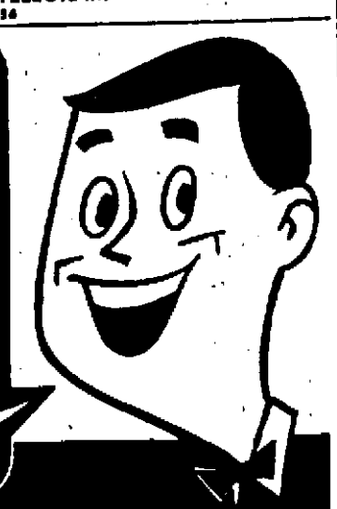

A typical model home of the units for sale in the 18th Unit may be visited by the public daily between 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. at the corner of Studebaker Rd. and Anaheim.

Visitors are advised to go east on 7th St., past the Veterans' Hospital to Studebaker and then turn north to the model home and sales office, or drive south on Studebaker Rd. from Spring or Stearns St. to Anaheim Rd.

Families who tired of bucking crowded streets, contending with smog and whose families outgrew their homes, have finally found the answer—in Katella Park!

They've found, that Katella Park homes are designed for a lifetime of living, in a well planned community of fine homes...on custom sized lots and gracefully curving, tree-lined streets...quiet and secluded...yet conveniently close to schools and shopping.

Here, years ahead planning, created homes with "flexibility"—where one room can be converted into two—and back again—in minutes.

Homes where kitchens are a delight—spacious and bright, with built-in color-matched appliances...with hoods over a built-in range...with the refrigerator, oven and dishwasher out of the way and saving floor space for such popular "extras" as a breakfast bar.

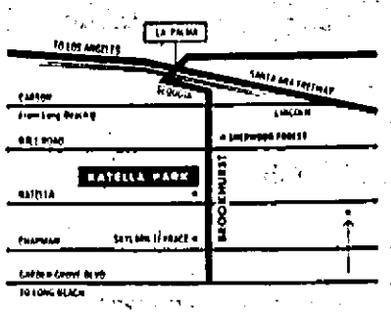

Indeed the entire surrounding vicinity, with its wide streets, through highways and adjacent freeways, is the most well planned section of greater Los Angeles—confirmed by Disney's million dollar survey to determine the most easily accessible locality to and from all areas.

Bring the family to Katella Park this weekend. If you are not too familiar with construction, bring a friend who is. Folks who know good construction and design are our biggest boosters!

Better Business Bureau Moves to Larger Office

Better Business Bureau for the Long Beach area has completed its move from the Heartwell Bldg. to the 115 Pine Ave., suite 630, and is again providing its public and member service, president Hubert S. Matthews announced.

The move into more spacious quarters was made, Matthews said, in order to improve facilities to better service the increasing volumne of inquiries and complaints received by the BBB.

The new 115 Pine Ave. location is the fourth in the history of the Long Beach bureau. The first office was located in the old Long Beach Theater Building. Next it was in the Kress Bldg., then moved to the Security Bldg. in 1923. Ten years later, the offices were moved to the Heartwell Bldg.

George F. Townsend was the first BBB manager when it was established here 34 years ago. M. E. Ridenour became manager in November 1925, and one of his acts was to incorporate the bureau as a non-profit organization. Ridenour is now serving his 31st year as manager of the Long Beach area bureau.

• • • •

SINCE ITS BEGINNING in 1923, the staff has grown from one man (which serviced only the city of Long Beach itself) to a force of 8 employees. Over 40,000 instances of service were rendered by the bureau in 1955. This large volume is due mainly to the fact that an area stretching from Imperial Hwy. on the north, the Bay Cities on the west and Orange County on the east—with a total population of more than 600,000—is serviced by the Long Beach bureau offices.

A great majority of BBB work is a protective type service. The complaints and corrective work is secondary to the preventative actions. This work is supported with funds supplied in varying amounts by legitimate manufacturing, business and professional men in the area. There are about 1100 members covering virtually every possible type of business in the Long Beach area.

"To show the apparent need for the bureau even 32 years ago," states manager Ridenour, "it is interesting to note a memorandum in the bureau files which reads: 'Sent to jail: 6 peddlers of walnuts, 2 silk tie peddlers, 2 furniture men, 2 tailors, 3 stock salesmen, 1 building contractor, 1 shoe salesman, 2 real estate salesmen, 2 advertising solicitors—total 21.'"

• • • •

RIDENOUR POINTS OUT that in the early days "bucket shops" were operated quite openly, in many instances due to the Signal Hill oil boom, when emphasis was placed on the BBB slogan cautioning the public to "Investigate Before You Invest."

"Many thousands of dollars were saved for legitimate business investment through the bureau's militant activities in exposing unsound and fraudulent stock selling and royalty schemes," Ridenour states.

"Also, there was a great real estate boom under way at the time, and the old 'lunch and lecture' method of selling was in vogue. These and other high pressure promotional deals resulted eventually in the development of remedial legislation in the securities, real estate and finance fields which has increased the need for BBB surveillance."

Hamer Gives Low Terms

Grand opening and the display of two furnished model homes will be continued this week-end at Andrew Hamer Homes, popular new community offering special terms for non-vets on Orangethorpe Ave., just west of Nicholas Ave., it was announced by the builder who reported large crowds last week.

Hamer declared the grand opening of his new development of 88 3-and 4-bedroom, 2-bath homes, had a strong appeal for non-vets "who are looking for quality on realistic terms with a sensible down payment," and heavy sales provided ample proof that easy FHA terms, worked out for the average family budget, and a selling price from $14,250 is what non-vets want. Down payments are as low as $990, while FHA monthly payments are from $66.16, principal and interest.

• • • •

A NUMBER of practical features, such as fireplaces and built-in ranges are included, Hamer explained, "but our principal objective is to turn out a well-built house, with most of our budget going into solid construction, with plaster and lath walls, hardwood floors over two-inch-thick sub-flooring, etc."

He said that buyers are able to choose from 10 exterior stylings, all designed by AIA Architect Hiram Hamer, and based on 5 widely varied floor plans.

Among the many other features finding high favor at Andrew Hamer Homes, it was noted, are colored bath fixtures, low register forced air heating, floor-to-ceiling fireplaces in some models, rear living rooms and sliding glass doors in some models, natural finish kitchen cabinets, aluminum windows, insulated ceilings.

MAGICAL FANTASY of Walt Disney's "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" comes to town with the annual Kiddie Kapers program on May 26. Above, dance director Mrs. Grace J. Ewart watches closely as Karen Sandwick practices. Maggie Higgins Van Loon and Peggy Davidson, kneeling, wait their turns to perform.

Fantasy of 'Snow White' to Delight Capacity Crowd

By JEANINE STILES

Fantasyland, with all its colorful charm and poignant intrigue, will become a momentary reality with the May 26 presentation of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," the 1956 Kiddie Kapers production under sponsorship of Las Madrinas Guild.

A capacity audience is expected to fill Polytechnic High School Auditorium that Saturday night as nearly 150 youngsters, ranging in age from 3 to 14, interpret the magical fantasy in tap and ballet. Special permission has been given by Walt Disney Studios for the portrayal, a production of the Lakewood dancing classes of Mrs. Grace J. Ewart.

Open to the public at 7:30 p.m. without admission charge, the one-time-only show will benefit Seaside Hospital's new Mobile Library by means of a free-will offering to be collected in the audience. Proceeds will go toward supplying latest books and magazines for the revolving library cart which is wheeled daily throughout the institution, offering up-to-date reading material to all patients. The special service is completely manned by members of Las Madrinas Guild.

The tender charm of Snow White, the hatefulness of the wicked Queen Mother and the beguiling devotion of the Seven Dwarfs will come to life delightfully in this unusual children's dance program. Exciting dramatic lighting effects, involved dance routines and exquisite costumes lift the two-hour show out of the mere recital classification to the stature of a professional production. Between-act entertainment will be provided by the Bell Sisters of recording and TV fame.

For seven years Las Madrinas Guild has sponsored Kiddie Kapers, each year with a different theme; this is the first time the show has revolved about an actual plot.

Actually, the Kiddie Kapers are more than 25 years old. Mrs. Ewart has presented her pupils in the show each year since before 1930, although under various sponsorships before the Guild assumed responsibility. A week from Saturday, some of her first pupils will be seated in the audience watching their own children dance under Mrs. Ewart's direction.

Principal characters of the show are Susan Frankel, Snow White; Jerilyn Dunn, the Queen Mother; Sherry Grisby, the Prince, and the delightful Seven Dwarfs: Mary Ann Brangan, Sleepy; Roberta Cason, Bashful; Peggy Davidson, Dopey; Kim Haulman, Happy; Marsha Magness, Grumpy; Suzanne Simmonds, Sneezy, and David Traux, Doc. Michael Bell is the wolf.

The story is old, but the version is new, with winsome youngsters portraying the fireflies, birds, mice, squirrels and fawns in the touching woodland scene. Backstage narration will be given by Mrs. La Verne Wurthman, radio-TV student at Long Beach City College. Mrs. Dorothy Marchano will provide piano accompaniment.

Twenty-three active members of Las Madrinas, under the general direction of Ways and Means chairman Mrs. Leland B. Nickles, are putting their wholehearted support toward the success of this production and the resulting funds for their hospital project. They know that more than just a good evening's entertainment is at stake.

Bon Voyage for Traveler

The easy informality of good friends gathered together combined with the excitement of bidding one in their midst a merry bon voyage paced Friday's mood when Mrs. Herbert Fielding entertained at a delightful brunch in her home, 4324 Olive Ave., in honor of Mrs. William Stanton, who with her husband will leave late this month for a flight to Europe via the Polar route.

Bidden to the gay party were close friends of the honoree and enjoying the day together were Mmes. Lynn Evans, Robert Avery, Clare Hamman, Edwin Draper, Jack Drown, Walter Von KleinSmid, Larry Reichner, Loren Nelson, Edward Platz, Harold Nissen, Hansel Nowling, Arthur Buell, Edward Sheridan, E. Ray Webb, Williams Niver, Harold Willholt, Elroy Avery, Carol Loder, Bernard Eastman, Noel Guertin, Maurice Rosenbaum, John Fowler, Charles Scott and Paul Westerlund.

PRETTY AS A PICTURE, Mia Sharon Gray waves her wand to cast a magic spell on all who will attend the 1956 Kiddie Kapers in Polytechnic Auditorium. Woodland scene characters Vonna Vee Webster, left, and Charla K. West, right, watch. About 150 children will appear in the May 26 benefit sponsored by Las Madrinas Guild. Mrs. Leland Nickles, standing, ways and means chairman, is in general charge of all arrangements. No admission charge will be made, although a free-will offering will be collected.

Meditations of a Dinner Guest

By ILKA CHASE

Notes stemming from a dinner attended in Des Moines, Iowa. Sit next to gentleman who asks, "What do you have in New York that we haven't got here?" Since meat course finished and are awaiting brick ice-cream feel no time describe resources one of world's great cities. Noting silence man feels he has me on run. Pursues, "Where do your New York kids play? No space. Here we've got everything. We're the bread basket of the nation. We could feed the world."

Feeding world sounds capable. New York must import every bean. Inferiority complex starts mushrooming. Think of comeback "man does not live by bread alone." Decide sounds sententious. Say nothing.

No Wee Ones

Man continues, "What do New York children do over week-ends? Cooped up, no fresh air." Feel terrible. Decide move immediately to more wholesome community where wee ones can run and play. Recollect have no wee ones. Have step and grand but step all very large and grand taken care of by step. Seem healthy.

Do have interest in bread. Speculate on tearing up roots and settling in Des Moines. Decide not feasible at moment. Return to New York. Haunted by call of wheat and oxygen. Are those not more enduring values? Was man right? Brood. What has New York got that Des Moines hasn't?

Well, theaters. Are theaters important? And how. Feel cheered. Am cooking with gas. All right, but fairy television. Television seen in Des Moines too. Take books. Books read in Des Moines. Start packing. Sudden thought holds hand. Seen, read, not made. If TV and books to continue as source of livelihood had better remain New York.

What else is in town? Well, museums, picture galleries, concert halls, opera, restaurants and shops. Night clubs if you care. But no air. Conspicuous lack of air in night clubs and distinctly indifferent bread.

What More?

Anything more to compensate? Come to think of it, yes. Friends and urban activities dear to heart. Typical day very agreeable. Morning, work at desk. Lunch, Colony Restaurant with two ladies laying plans for charity ball next January. Admire forehandedness of ladies. Own plans for an evening usually made that morning. No way to get any place. Husband asks why we have to go, pleasant right here. Husband very sweet, doesn't understand evolution.

After lunch visit several city gardens open for one day to public. Surprising number of wisteria, cherry trees, lantana English daisies, petunias flourishing in midst of concrete.

Late afternoon to P. E. N. cocktail party. Swank literary do. Cornelia Otis Skinner arrives with copy of Island Players under arm for me to autograph. Dear girl. She is off to Japan and studying language. Japanese word for "excuse me" rings decidedly

Wild Waves Say

By IOLA MASTERSON

Looks like Europe will be full of localites again this year, roamin' through Rome, paradin' in Paree, stalkin' about Stockholm or just plain loafin' in Lisbon if this year's crop of trips abroad is harvested as planted.

Among those who have planted their travel seeds and are nourishing green shoots of "travelitis" are "Artie" and Al Stevenson and daughter, Ethel Severson and her youngun' Corky; Virginia and Bill Stanton (details in a minute) as well as Sadie and Clarence Wagner.

"Artie" and Ethel were bon voyaged to perfection at a brunch by Martha Gould t'other day and assisting with the fun-filled party were Gladys Niver, Sally Nesmith and Virginia Waters. The Stevensons, Ethel and Corky leave tomorrow (they hope, Al's business committments allowing) and will sail from New York aboard the Italian liner, Andrea Doria, landing in due course, at Gibraltar. From there they'll tour Spain, Portugal, and thence through France, Italy and Switzerland. And it will be relaxed, easy-going travelling because they will be met and taken by a driver in a private automobile. Around the end of July they'll board the S. S. United States for the homeward trek.

Now as to the Stantons. Virginia and Bill, we understand, plan to hop one of those over the polar route flights to Copenhagen end of the month. Among jaunty parties planned before their takeoff is a small dinner party for close friends which Helen and Bill Eastman will host May 23.

For Sadie and Clarence Wagner May 18 is a charmed date for that's the day they, too, board one of those over the top of the world Scandinavian planes for Copenhagen. They'll tour the north countries before journeying on to Germany to pick up a Volkswagen and leisurely drive through Europe. Making sure Mrs. Wagner would fully appreciate the importance of her trip her nieces, Dorothy Wise and Betty Robberson, were co-hostesses at a party for her Tuesday. Some appropriate and exceedingly hilarious games topped off the evening.

Every bit as gay as the farewell affairs floating around our town was a sparkly "welcome home" party given Friday at Virginia Country Club by Betty Wentworth and Joanne Losch for Billie Person (the dew of London-town is still on her tresses, she's that fresh home from Europe) and for Ellie's travelling companion, sister-in-law Lois Osborn. Bidden were 60 peninsulans (they are the "partyest" bunch of gals) and a few additional very close friends of the honoree. It was a brunch and chatterfest as everyone heard about Ellie and Lois' escapades. Pat Gilkey and Juanita Smith assisted and had so much fun they scarcely realized they were "working"!

Ziss-boom-bah! Or whatever rat-trap-bigger-than-a-cat-trap type yell was the favorite in 1926 may very well be heard reverberating around Polytechnic High campus and at the Lafayette Hotel June 1. That's the day Poly's grads of '26 will gather in full force for one of their famous class reunions. Johnny Osler (assistant postmaster) and "Hizzoner" Judge Joe Raycraft are spearheading the gala get-together plans. Among the heads that bore mortarboards that year and which very likely will be seen bobbing around with the old gang June 1 are Walter Desmond, Dr. Ed Beebe, Van Heflin (this movie and stage star was known in them thar days as Evan Heflin), Valle (Bud) Young, Dr. Jack Wilson (now of San Marino), Mrs. Glenn L. Clark, Irene (Marmion) McMillan, Rod Ballard, Marjory (Harriman) Gilbert, Mrs. Carl (Roberta Clarke) Jensen and "Bix" Bixby.

We could stop but this is so much fun. Others: Stephen Bixby (now of Globe, Ariz.), Ronald Sweet (he heads a big mayonnaise company in San Francisco but plans to come southward), Garber Davidson (now with Associated Press in L. A.), Allyn, Mary Francis (Dilday) Brackney, Ted Halthill, Bill Fennell, Ralph Saylor, Harold Gassoe (Inglewood's his home now), Dr. Clare Pike, Leroy Coos, Mary Taylor, Dr. Kendell Van Venter (Pasadena, y'know), Mrs. Logan (Dorothy) Goodknight, and—you name 'em, they might be there!

Johnny and Joe are taking reservations like sixty. Special guests of the evening will be any and all Poly teachers, circa 1926. If you haven't been contacted, teechurs, and you'd like to see these "brats" again, just call Johnny at the post office or Joe at court. This reunion (they're every five years) will include a campus tour and dinner and program at the Lafayette that evening. Harry Moore and Ralph Oliver have promised to be speakers. Yikes! What secrets they can tell.

If your phone calls to Betty and Joe Kesler went unanswered last weekend and we'd have known you wanted them we could have told you how to find them! You could have reached them at Ingleside Inn, Palm Springs. They were on their annual May desert pilgrimage and were joined by Jean and Clyde Dunlap for this always fun trek to sage and sun country.

"We used to live where we ain't no more
We've moved where we never was before.
You know where we was, but not where we is;
So here's the new address where 'tis:

That's how Hattie (Leebrick) and Jim Miller let their local friends know that "where 'tis" is River Road, Cos Cob, Connecticut. The mimeographed post cards even included a phone number just in case anybody had an urge to call up some midnight and say, "How 'tis where you is?"

Just as daffy as if they had never gone through the experience before are those four doting grandparents who share interest in Joan and Lou Walton's babies; Lou's folks, Lola and Lou Walton Sr., and Joan's parents, Frances and LeRoy Zierott. Joan finally talked the stork into bringing her a girl. The little newcomer's name is Karin (Joan chose the Swedish spelling) and she and mama arrived home Wednesday from Seaside. Karin's brothers, Kirk and Christopher, practically had to wrestle grandmoms and grandpops to get close enough to the bassinette to see their new sister!

Here's the story about a trip around the world, so extensive and terrific, the traveller had to take time out upon return to rest up at a desert spa! How about that! Lucky guy who just began office chores again this week is Dr. E. P. (Ray) Raymond. The "Doc" flew out of town last January and there's little of the world he hasn't seen since then. By plane, ship, car and "shank's ponies" he mosied around Central and South America, South Africa, Egypt, the Mediterranean countries, the Holy Land (he particularly timed his journey to be there before and during Easter but unrest in the area shortened his stay). From there he flew to Karachi, Pakistan, on to India, thence to Burma, Thailand (obviously a favorite in memory; "Ray" describes it as a "fairyland in Southeast Asia"), then to Hong Kong, and to Tokyo in time for cherry blossom season. Apparently he liked Japan, too, for he spent two weeks there. In Toyko harbor he boarded the President Cleveland for Honolulu and then flew back to this part of the world. He capped his travels and reacclimated himself for a couple weeks in Palm Springs.

Mrs. Montie Magree was installed as president of Nightingales, junior organization of the Auxiliary to Children's Memorial Hospital, at a recent luncheon meeting at Victor Hugo's Restaurant.

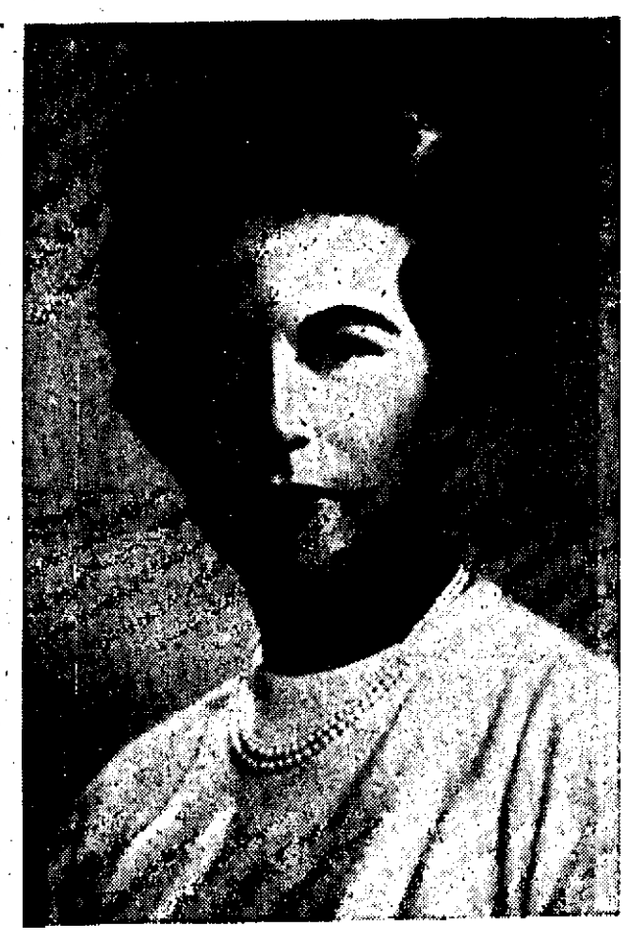

Mrs. Theron H. Slaughter, president of the Auxiliary to Children's Memorial Hospital, conducted the impressive installation ceremony. Nightingales assuming leadership positions with Mrs. Magree were Mrs. Frederick G. Jensen, vice president; Mrs. Robert Huck, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph Hammer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Clarence Davis, treasurer; Mrs. Alfred Williams, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Slaughter recalled how the Nightingales, beginning as a small group of civic minded matrons, had been formed nine years ago, for the purpose of assisting the Auxiliary to Children's Memorial Hospital with its ultimate goal of accumulating adequate funds for the building of a children's hospital in Long Beach. Another important purpose of the Auxiliary and its junior organizations is to contribute financial support to Seaside Memorial Hospital for the benefit of underprivileged children requiring medication and hospitalization throughout Long Beach and neighboring areas.

A growing organization, the Nightingales now has a membership of 35 industrious young women and presents an annual Nightingale Ball in addition to its other monthly projects which represent many hours of service throughout the year. The Third Annual Nightingale Ball will take place in October and will again be an outstanding event of the fall season. Mrs. Kenneth Henry, ways and means committee chairman, presented to the Auxiliary a gift of $1,000 representing proceeds from the Nightingales' Ball last year.

Mrs. John Sumner, social chairman, and her committee were responsible for beautiful arrangements of spring flowers gracing luncheon tables, and for the social hour preceding luncheon.

New provisionals attending were Mmes. Milton Cantor, Arthur DeNio, J. Tyson Ellis, James Evans, Wendell Gowdy, Donald W. Hardy, Jack L. Hayden, Robert Lemon and Berry Merritt. The meeting marked the beginning of a six-month provisional training course.

Ebell Unit Will Install

Ebell Juniors are looking forward with mixed emotions to their installation luncheon May 25 at the Clock Country Club in Whittier. One of the loveliest affairs of the club year, it will be a fitting climax to the group's activities, but, as always, installation mingles the joy and regret of "hail and farewell."

After planning the event at a recent board meeting and luncheon at the University Club, members surprised Mrs. Donald Gray with an anticipation shower. Hostesses were Mmes. Eugene Kirkpatrick and Philip Erdahl.

Plans Tour of World's Style Fronts

Buffums' Fashion Co-ordinator, John Hersey, departs May 13th for a six weeks tour of the fashion capitals of the world. Although it will be a pleasure trip, he plans to get in as much fashion sight-seeing as possible.

Then to Naples and Capri where he will have a chance to view first hand the Italian fashions that have influenced Southern California Sportswear. While in Italy he plans to tour Milan, Florence and Venice.

In Switzerland, Germany and Belgium he will inspect several fabric mills that supply many top California designers with fabrics created especially for them. A flight from Amsterdam will take him to London where he will visit with several designers as well as tour the surrounding historical countryside.

Columnist Turns Sociologist; Analyzes Hollywood Society

By BOB THOMAS
AP Newsfeatures Writer

What is Hollywood society?

You can ask a hundred people in this town and not get the same answer. Several will hotly deny that there even exists a Hollywood society.

But every town, big or small, establishes a social scheme over the years, and Hollywood is no exception. Recently I have undertaken a sociological study, combining years of observation and off-the-record talks with many prominent figures.

Hollywood social life circa 1956 appears to have reached a settled stage. This seems to be the natural result of the passing of almost a half-century since the town became the movie capital. The history of society can be roughly divided into four eras:

1. The wild years. Extending from the start of the film business to the early '20s, this was the period when fortunes were made and lost fast. Most of the new stars and tycoons of the infant industry came from humble backgrounds. Many lacked the social graces, and entertaining was gay and garish.

2. The Pickfair period. From the mid-'20s to early '30s, Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks ruled Hollywood society from their white Georgian mansion. They entertained kings and queens and helped counteract the nation's low opinion of Hollywood after the scandals.

3. The thriving '30s. With the divorce of Mary and Doug, society moved from the power of Pickfair to a broader base. The talkies brought the movies' flowering era; new and brilliant stars arose. This was that time of the big parties, when Hollywood could afford to be lavish.

4. Postwar period. Despite some economic problems in the film industry, local society has survived and even thrived since World War II. But it's a different kind of social life from other eras.

The big parties are almost gone. Because of income taxes, most stars and producers can't afford them. Most of the entertaining is done in homes at small dinner parties.

There's another factor — Hollywood is a working town. Though you may think of stars as living idle lives beside their swimming pools, they actually work hard when they are working. Those in TV work almost continuously. Film actors must be up at dawn and in bed early. Thus the only entertaining they can do is small home gatherings.

How is Hollywood society stratified?

It can't be. Unlike society in New York, Philadelphia, Boston or other cities, there is no clearly defined elite here. Faces come and go with the changes of fame and fortune. But, with the mustering of courage, I can define the four main groups of Hollywood society. This will no doubt be greeted with hoots and howls from those of each group. The most notable feature of social categories here is that no one likes to be categorized.

Here are the groups: The Pioneers, The Settled Set, The Young Marrieds, Cafe Society.

These are not necessarily in order of importance. Nor are the categories rigid; some figures may travel in two or even all of the groups. To explain:

1. The Pioneers. Those hold a position of eminence by their power, wealth and longevity in the film industry. They include such figures as Mary Pickford, Harold Lloyd, Louis B. Mayer, Walt Disney, Cecil B. DeMille, Darryl Zanuk, Samuel Goldwyn, the Warner Brothers and other heads of studios. Most of them are millionaires.

If royalty or a head of state should come here, one of these would probably give a dinner in the visitor's honor and many of the other pioneers would attend.

However, there is not too much entertaining among each other. And many antagonisms have developed over the years over business deals, etc. Feuds can even develop with families.

2. The Settled Set. This is the group that sets the pattern for the social life of the stars. On rare occasions, one might toss a sizable party for visitors like Noel Coward or Laurence Olivier. But, as noted above, most of their entertaining is done at small dinner parties.

The groups intermingle, but there are some clearly defined nuclei. Among them:

A. The whimsical Holmby Hills rat pack with Lauren Bacall as den mother; Frank Sinatra, packmaster; Humphrey Bogart, rat in charge of public relations. Also David Niven, Spencer Tracy (recently elected.)

B. The Irish group, headed by John Ford and John Wayne.

C. The Beverly Hills group, including the Jack Bennys, Danny Kayes, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Dr. Joel Pressman and Claudette Colbert.

D. The social group, including Dick Powell and June Allyson, the Edgar Bergens and industrialists Justin Dart and Leonard Firestone.

E. A quiet but stellar group including Lana Turner and Lex Barker, Ursula Theiss and Robert Taylor, Joan Caulfield and Frank Ross, Elizabeth Taylor and Michael Wilding, June Haver and Fred MacMurray.

3. Young Marrieds. These are the ones who have come to fame more recently and whose fortunes are not yet made. Many of them move in the settled set, but most travel in a less established crowd.

They include such names as: Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher, Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis, Marge and Gower Champion, the Gordon MacRaes, Jane Powell and Pat Nearney, etc.

4. Cafe Society. These find their social life not at home but in the cafes and night clubs. Most of them are unmarried or divorced and therefore not able or inclined to entertain at home. Many of them are seeking to establish their names in show business via publicity. Others just like the gay life. You read their names constantly in the gossip columns.

So much for categories. If you don't mind some more numerals, I might add some other observations on the Hollywood social scene:

1. Hollywood society is probably as democratic as any you will find in America. The movies have drawn creative people from all backgrounds and nationalities. The main element for social acceptance is success.

2. Although there is plenty of drinking, there is perhaps less problem drinking than in places like Washington or San Francisco. Reason: actors need clear minds and healthy faces for their work. There are, of course, notable exceptions.

3. Palm Springs is growing in importance in the Hollywood social scheme. Stars like Jack Benny, Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby, Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz, Phil Harris and Alice Faye, Cary Grant and Betsy Drake, William Powell and many others have homes there. They spend many of their weekends and much of their free time in the desert during the non-summer months.

4. Hollywood society is becoming increasingly mixed with non-movie people — doctors, lawyers, businessmen, etc. The tendency is for new stars to have as many friends out of the film business as in it.

5. Some top names do not integrate into Hollywood social groups because of shyness, preference for living in the east or other reasons. Among them: James Cagney, Marlon Brando, Judy Holliday, Montgomery Clift, Grace Kelly also was in this group.

6. There are sub clusters among the four main groups. Golf, the town's favorite outdoor sport, tends to draw fixed sets together. So do restaurants. So the Lakeside golfers seldom are seen at Hillcrest, and vice versa, and the devotees of Chasen's food rarely are found at Romanoff's.

7. One notable curiosity: There is practically no intermingling with the upper crust of Los Angeles society. Hollywood's elite are rarely seen in the clubs or homes of the moneyed businessmen, although many of them reside in the same area.

Hollywood society is always changing. Some of the statements you have read in this survey may be obsolete by the time you have gotten this far.

We Welcome . . . .

Six Indianans, the Gilliams

By JEAN B. MOORE

House hunting during a heat wave—what a torrid introduction to the Southland! The experience fell to Tom and Kay Gilliam last September when they moved west from Ft. Wayne, Ind. A view and a few vagrant breezes convinced them they should live above the smog line in Rolling Hills.

Now, almost any day around 13 Surrey Lane you can find Jeff the police dog walking Tom III and Kent to Miraleste School and Eric and Kirk playing in the yard that their dad is working on when he's not at his public relations job at Seaside Memorial Hospital.

So far, with that yard to coax and four live wires to entertain, Tom hasn't found time to find which carton houses the family's elaborate electric train. But in the business world he already has become a member of Long Beach Ad Club and Southern California Industrial Editors Assn.

He and Kay met while students at the University of Indiana. Tom was majoring in journalism and was night editor of the college paper. Kay's major was piano.

Tom was a Delta Chi, member of Skull and Crescent honor society and his name is now listed in "Who's Who in the West" and "Who's Who in Commerce and Industry."

War took him away from home for more than three years. He emerged a captain and possessor of the Purple Heart, two Silver Stars, two Bronze Stars and the Combat Infantry Badge. Reserve duty as a lieutenant colonel now finds him monthly at Fort MacArthur.

During his absence Kay left music for stenotyping and for five years was a court reporter for the Pennsylvania Railroad. Their working hours didn't jibe when Tom returned to a job with the Ft. Wayne Journal-Gazette, so Kay left court reporting for society reporting. Later Tom accepted a similar public relations position in a Ft. Wayne hospital.

Kay is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha alumnae group in Long Beach and has recently attended a meeting of the Needlework Guild on the Palos Verdes peninsula. She and Tom enjoy bridge, while the whole family will occasionally pile into the car and go sightseeing. They'd never been in California before, so everything is shining new to them.

Little Tom, a third grader, is a member of the Little League and a Cub Scout. First grader Kent lost no time in joining the Indian Guides. Eric and Kirk—well, they're happy to be staying at home with Jeff, their dog, and Smog, the dusky cat.

Miss Shannon Adrienne Carter

Charles Wailes to Claim Bride in Summer Rite

Of interest in Long Beach is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arthur Carter of Altadena of the engagement of their daughter, Shannon Adrienne, to Charles David Wailes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Wailes Jr. now of Sierra Madre and formerly of this city.

The bride-elect, who will be a June graduate of Flintridge Sacred Heart Academy, disclosed her engagement to her classmates by cutting a cake, decorated with the names of the couple, at a party in the Green Room of the Academy.

A graduate of the Junior Division Romona Convent, Alhambra, she is a Pasadena member of the Chi-Rho Club of St. Elizabeth's Parrish, a member of the Rosebowl Horse Club and of the Morgan Breeders Association.

The future bridegroom, a graduate of Pasadena City College, is currently majoring in engineering at Menlo Park College for Men at Palo Alto.

The couple is planning an early summer wedding.

Stresing-Crosby Lines Read

Dainty sprays of valley lilies were intermingled with butterfly orchids to form the bridal bouquet enhancing the youthful loveliness of Constance Crosby, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Hiram B. Crosby, 4325 Faculty Ave., when she exchanged wedding vows and rings with Lt. Jack R. Stresing of the Long Beach Air Force Base.

The afternoon ceremonies were read by the Rt. Rev. Donald J. Campbell at St. Thomas of Canterbury Episcopal Church which the bride's father serves as rector.

The fair-haired bride was escorted to the altar by her father, and wore a ballerina-length gown of lace and tulle designed by William Cahill. Scalloped lace detailing on the bodice extended applique fashion onto the bouffant skirt. Her cloudlike veil of illusion was held in place by a sequin and pearl tiara and cascaded gently to her shoulders.

The bride asked her sister, Miss Barbara Crosby, to attend her as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Lynn H. Miller and Constance L. Perrine. All were attired identically in nile green dresses of chromespun taffeta, and carried sprays of tiny yellow rosebuds.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. Charles O. Stresing of Eden, N. Y., invited fellow Air Force officers to serve him. Lt. Charles W. Harshaw attended as best man, and ushering duties were performed by Lt. Vincent Currier and Lt. William G. Bryan. Acolytes were William G. B. Crosby and Thomas E. Thompson.

A reception followed at the church, with the happy newlyweds later departing for a honeymoon trip to Palm Springs and Buffalo, N. Y. After May 23 they will reside in San Antonio, Tex., where the bridegroom has been assigned with the Air Force.

The new Mrs. Stresing received her early education in Beaumont and was graduated from Long Beach City College where she was an affiliate of Ramayana. Spinster membership is relinquished with her marriage.

The bridegroom attended Eden Central School and the University of Buffalo in New York.

Mrs. William Paul Ellis

Ellis-Green Vows Sealed in Nuptials

Before the candlelit altar of First Church of the Brethren on May 5, Eleanor Cooper Green and William Paul Ellis recited wedding vows in the presence of 100 guests. The Rev. Frank Howell officiated at the 8 p. m. ceremony.

Observing the service with special interest and sentiment were the bridegroom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Titus of 2080 E. 3rd St., who were marking the 59th anniversary of their marriage, performed in Kansas City, Mo., May 5, 1897.

The lovely bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cooper Green, 2810½ E. 2nd St., was radiant in her waltz length gown, a Cahill original of white tulle over white satin. Hand-worked Alencon lace was inserted in the skirt and across the bodice, and back interest featured a pleated tulle inset in the bodice top. A short veil floated from a coronet of pearls. Her fragrant bridal bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley was centered with a detachable white orchid.

For her maid of honor, Miss Jean Ellis, sister of the bridegroom, the bride selected a princess style gown of turquoise taffeta faille worn with matching veil and complemented by a bouquet of Talisman roses.

Bridesmaids, who were Mrs. David A. Bauer and Mrs. James D. Elliott, were costumed in similar gowns of light blue and carried yellow roses.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carlton Ellis of 295 Junipero Ave., asked Gary J. King to be his best man. William Beckman and Douglas Carhart seated guests, and Gerald Neer and James D. Elliott lighted altar tapers.

During a church reception Mrs. Douglas Carhart attended the guest book. Hostesses were Misses Joan Enstaway, Jane Lothspeich and Judy Shepard.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Wilson High School and were members of All City Junior and Senior High School Orchestras. She attended Long Beach City College and her affiliations include Tammuz. He is now attending City College and is a member of the Naval Reserve.

Following a honeymoon in Yosemite, the couple will reside at 308 Carroll Park East.

Your Baby & Mine

Positive Approach

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

It is amazing how much better response a parent will get when she uses concrete and positive suggestions instead of negative ones. Yet it seems so much easier to say, "Don't run into the street," instead of "Stay on the sidewalk." But—in the first there is a suggestion for action which is exactly what you don't want.

The same is true of the dozen and one suggestions a mother makes during the day. Why not say "Clean hands in five minutes," instead of "Don't come to the table with those dirty paws."

She shouldn't forget to make a game of some of the suggestions which tend to become tiresome to a child. "How about showing me those sparklers and see if they look like the teeth in the TV ad," she might say, when it is time to wash teeth.

Sometimes, unconsciously, we put in a child's mind which he never would have thought of himself. "Now, don't stop on the way home and play. Come right home, remember."

But on the way home, the suggestion of play becomes overpowering. He knows he shouldn't but he plays. Most times he would hurry right home.

When we reprove a child we express the idea we don't want repeated. "You're selfish," we say to Linda who won't give up her toys to Tommy. But had we said, "You're a generous little girl, Linda, and I know you want Tommy to have a nice time and come again. He'll enjoy that toy and you can play with one of the others." You get nowhere by accustoming her to the idea that she is selfish, meanwhile letting her have her own way.

To call a child cry-baby, selfish, stubborn, unruly, and all the rest of the adjectives which we think are humiliating, soon fall on deaf ears. "So I'm a cry-baby?" the child thinks. And goes on being one.

We have to first lift the child's sights toward higher objectives. Increase his sense of self-esteem and by so doing help him to the hard things we are suggesting he should do.

Think positively, talk positively, act positively. Then you set the child on the trail you want followed.

This feature appears daily in the Press-Telegram.

Mrs. Pike Assumes Executive Office

Mrs. Claire E. Pike of Long Beach was installed as president of the Auxiliary to the California Osteopathic Association during the recent 17th annual convention of the group in Coronado. Another prominent Long Beach woman, Mrs. Ward G. DeWitt, a past president of the state auxiliary, was chosen by Mrs. Pike to act as both toastmistress and installing officer for the impressive ceremonies.

"Gifts From the Sea" was the theme chosen for the installation luncheon, with shiny glass balls, colorful fish nets, sea shells and coral combining to furnish proper background. The theme was carried out further during a prelude to the actual installation when presidents of the 15 component auxiliaries and the president of students' wives auxiliary in Los Angeles each hung shiny replicas of something associated with the ocean depths on a gilded branch. The action signified the unity of these state- [illegible] in their work.

Mrs. Pike, who resides with h[illegible] at 6668 Pine Ave., has made her home in Long Beach since 1929. She is a graduate of New Mexico State College, a charter member of Beta Nu Chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha and is a past president of the local alumnae chapter. She is also a past president of Long Beach Osteopathic Society. An affiliate of the American Association of University Women, she continues active membership with the local group. At one time she served for three consecutive years on the executive board of the Long Beach Mental Health Assn.

The new executive will represent the California auxiliary as its official delegate to the national convention of the Auxiliary to the American Osteopathic Assn., scheduled for July in New York.

As has been customary for some years past at the annual state convention, checks representing an amount in excess of $10,000 were presented by state auxiliary chairmen to Dr. W. Ballentine Henley, president of the osteopathic college in Los Angeles to be used by the college clinic, the college rehabilitation center, the library, the various research programs, etc. Besides these voluntary donations it was voted some years ago in the state House of Delegates, that each auxiliary in the state organization should be assessed annually on a per capita basis, to provide funds for two freshman scholarships and two sophomore scholarships for deserving students at the college in Los Angeles.

Besides the programs directly connected with the college, auxiliary members in the vicinity of the osteopathic unit of the Los Angeles County Hospital put in countless hours each year assisting with occupational therapy, making tray favors, amusing the children, helping with the aged, etc. The group leading this effort call themselves the "Pink Ladies."

On May 28th there is to be a cornerstone laying ceremony at which time construction of the new $9,000,000 osteopathic unit of the county hospital is to begin officially. This expenditure was approved over a year ago as a public bond issue. Members of the osteopathic auxiliaries in Los Angeles County are in charge of decorations for a gala dinner in the Embassy Room at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles on the same date, commemorating this great occasion.

MRS. PIKE STATE LEADER

Symbolizing the importance of presidential power, the executive gavel of the Auxiliary to California Osteopathic Association is turned over to Mrs. Claire E. Pike of Long Beach, above center, by retiring association president Mrs. Gilman C. Johnson of Los Angeles. Installation ceremonies took place at the recent 17th annual convention of the auxiliary in Coronado. Mrs. Ward G. Worry Clinic

Children Should Be Given Introduction to Church Life

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-354: Frank F., aged about 55, sent me a pamphlet in which he explained to his son why he had never let the boy enjoy Christian instruction in a church.

"I have attempted to prevent your being coerced by adult opinion," was the general idea in this pamphlet. Now that you are 21, however, and an adult, I leave it up to you whether or not you should attend a church.

"But I didn't want to be guilty of prejudicing your scientific mind in its earlier years, so I have kept you away from churches till now."

Should a parent deprive his child of the Salk vaccine against polio till the youngster was 21 and old enough to decide for himself? Should he keep his baby away from physicians till he was 21 and only then let him learn about the merits of inoculation against diphtheria or smallpox?

Actually, if a parent compels his youngsters to stay away from contact with unselfish moral teachers who donate their time in the Sunday schools, isn't that a form of adult prejudice which he is imposing on those youngsters?

"If I gave him protein before he was an adult, I would be prejudicing him," Frank might argue with equal justification.

It is the solemn duty of all good parents to analyze those forces in modern life which, to the best of the parents' judgment, produce good. This includes foods and medicines and education, both secular as well as religious.

Then such parents should nurture their children on such desirable aids to a wholesome personality so that by the age of 21, their youngsters are self-reliant.

We dare not keep children away from schools till 21. And the same is equally true of Sunday school or moral agencies like the YMCA, the CYO, Salvation Army, etc.

Generous men and women donate their time each Sabbath to take your toddlers and start inspiring their minds to noble attainment. Other altruistic souls contribute money for buildings and heat for such church gatherings. They offer these moral aids FREE.

Parents whose personal bias, based on maybe too heavy a diet of old-fashioned theology, makes them hostile to modern churches, should visit a neighboring Sunday school for a few weeks just as neutral observers. Then they'd never restrain their children from attending such FREE centers for moral nurture of youngsters.

Worry Clinic also appears Tuesday and Thursday in the Independent.

Insurance Women's Election, Medical Assistants Spotlighted

By ANNE GILCHRIST

Gay May baskets centered the dinner tables for Insurance Women's Club of Long Beach at one of the club's most important meetings of the year — election of officers — which took place recently in the Ballerina Room of the Lafayette Hotel. Miss Constance Winkler was named to lead the progressive business women's group as its president in 1956-57.

Miss Winkler will be installed at the June meeting with her new slate of officers including Pauline Kincaid, vice president; Audrey Hood, recording secretary; Dorris Dean, treasurer; and Sandra Smith, auditor. Those who will join the board of directors for the new year are Kay Garrity, Betty Seroka, Elma Hamilton, Casey Knight and Estelle Wright.

During the meeting the women paused and in thankfulness and deep solemnity heard a resolution presented by Jeannie D. Carlin honoring the late and beloved Will J. Reid for his interest in and assistance to the Insurance Women of Long Beach. Mrs. Gaylord B. Eckles, president, conducted the meeting.

Official delegates to the national convention of Insurance Women to take place in Chicago in June were also elected. Those who will attend are Miss Winkler and Reva Stewart with Jeannie Carlin and Antoinette Oster named as alternates.

Medical Assistants

LONG BEACH STATE COLLEGE EVENTS

—by PLACER MINER—

In the spring a Long Beach State College student's fancy turns to—Huki-Lau?

Huki-Lau, a Hawaiian term meaning gathering of the fish, could well mean a gathering of students intent on devouring roast pig, fish, salad and all other sorts of goodies furnished by the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity.

This Hawaiian party, sponsored annually by the SAE fraternity, costs $4 a couple, and besides the classy spread, a program of entertainment will be provided that ranges from volleyball to surfing to a beach Olympics.

This year the party will be given at a spot that has been narrowed down to a point somewhere between Morro Bay and Crystal Cove. The location is pin-pointed on the back of the party bids.

To get prospective ticket buyers in the mood for the May 19 roast pig-fest, a ticket booth in the form of an Hawaiian hut has been set up on the lower campus.

The man who became a legend in his work as warden of San Quentin prison, Clinton T. Duffy, has been invited to speak at Long Beach State College by the Social Welfare Club, Thursday, in CR-200 at 8 p. m.

Duffy, the son of a prison guard, grew up in the shadows of the San Quentin prison walls. He will speak on "Prisons, Prisoners and Parole." There will be no charge and the public is invited to attend the lecture.

With the help of 120 Long Beach State College students, history was made for Phi Delta Kappa, the professional education fraternity, last night in the Little College Theatre.

The initiated group was the largest number in the 50-year history of the men's fraternity to request charter membership.

Further facts about the new fraternity establish it as the third such in the State of California, and the youngest in the nation.

Credit for obtaining the Gamma Rho charter was given to Dr. H. R. Schman, Dr. A. M. Christensen, Dr. Kephas Kinsman, Dr. Carl Gregory and Dr. Karl Russell.

The 11th annual convention of the Central Pacific Province of the National Newman Club Federation, held in Long Beach last weekend and so ably hosted by the Newman Clubs of LBCC and LBSC, drew a record crowd of 442 students from 29 colleges.

Local students receiving recognition for their work in organizing the convention were '49ers Marilyn Crelly, Jim McGreevy, Ursula Delworth and Mela Chavez. Officers for two province offices were choosen from local students. Betty Brokaw from State is corresponding secretary, and from LBCC, Jerry McGinley is Region 4 chairman.

Studying, the giving of gifts, and plans for attending the national convention have been occupying the girls of Zeta Tau Alpha at State College.

Pledge trainer Catherine Segel received a bottle of perfume from her charges for her birthday, and Jackie Speck has decided to make the trek to the wilds of New Jersey for the National Convention.

Impetus for studying is being supplied by the new scholarship adviser, alumni Mrs. Jane Smith. In picking an alumna for studying the girls must be serious; an "alum" would know all the tricks.

Soon the strains of 60 lilting voices joined together to make an a cappella choir will be heard in the First Baptist Church in Long Beach.

The night of May 20, at 7:30 p. m., will mark the appearance of the Long Beach State College a cappella choir. The organization, first formed in 1949, will feature the "Requiem" by Gabriel Faure and "Arise O Jerusalem" by Dr. Leon Dallin of the Long Beach State College Music Department. The work will be presented for the first time in California.

The program also includes: "Rejoice My Soul," Virga Jess Florult; "Almighty God of Our Fathers," "The Last Words of David," "Alleluia," "As Torrents in Summer," "Hospodi Pomilui," "Lord, I Don't Feel No-Ways Tired," "Mary Had a Baby" and "Soon—Ah Will Be Done."

Hosted by the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity at an exchange, and breakfasted by the alumni at a "Pansy Breakfast" Saturday morning, Tri Delt Sorority has been socially busy.

Next on tap for the three "D" sorority is the Stars and Crescent Ball, the annual big social spring affair. Plans call for the dance to be given in the Pageant Room of the Wilton Hotel.

Take a Visit to India via Art

By VERA WILLIAMS
Independent, Press-Telegram Art Editor

"A Night in India," featuring Hubert J. Stowitts' "Vanishing India," 130 paintings, which opened with an invitational premiere Friday night in Municipal Auditorium, will run continuously today and through midnight Monday. It is sponsored by the Woman's City Club, with proceeds going to the club's building fund. The new clubhouse is under construction at 1309 E. 3rd St.

Those attending "A Night in India" find themselves transported as if by magic carpet into Gandhi's "pre-Westernized" India.

Indian guides in costumes of their native country conduct groups and explain examples of India's arts, cultures and crafts. The setting is directed by Ramu Pandit, president of the Intercultural Club and Indian Students' Association at USC. A number of students from India attending both UCLA and members of several Los Angeles Indian organizations participate.

Featured are Stowitts' paintings which have been a sensation since their first showing at the Renaissance Galleries in Paris, introduced by Andrew Mellon. Stowitts, who never took an art lesson, did not intend the paintings to be considered art. He did them primarily to record India's history in paint, under the patronage of maharajahs and princes.

Life size, they depict in detail the races, arts, crafts and living habits of the people of India from the Himalayas to Ceylon. All of his work is in tempera, the medium of the earliest known paintings.

The collection includes portraits of Rajput princes and outcasts, untouchables, sweepers of the streets. It portrays potters and founders, ivory and wood carvers, cotton carders and weavers, dancers, warriors and aboriginals from the forest of Travencore.

Among the paintings are Kaniyan astrologer musicians, Malabar bow and bells orchestra, Pandaram street singer, Chaliyan weavers, Kalari fencing master, Nayar yogi, Hanuman beggar, Namburi priest at worship, Vellala at bath, Nayar palace servant, cobbler's family, silversmith, precious stone cutter, gold embroiderer, turban dryer, stone screen carver, woman grinding flour, Sikh enamel worker, necklace maker, Baluchistan Moslem fakir, maharajah's bullock cart, Mohamed Kahn in chain mail.

Because this is Mother's Day, Stowitts' celebrated portrait of Madame Eleanora Davey painted in his studio in Venice will be shown today, only. The painting often is compared with Whistler's "Mother."

Landscapes, flowers, interesting people and, of course, a circus picture make up the exhibit by Ben and Velma Messick, husband-and-wife painting team just placed in the Galleria of Pacific Coast Club, where it will remain a month.

Messick's pictures are "Elephant Act," "Boys Fishing," "In the Woods," "Autumn in the Mountains" and "Trees," casein; "Still Life," "Evening in the Park," "Beach Light," "Evening Soliloquy" and "Day's End," oils.

Mrs. Messick's pictures are "He's An Actor," pastel; "High on Palomar" and "San Juan Canyon," caseins; "Little Imps," "Shells and Flowers," "La Jolla Shores," oils and "Mexican Sunflowers," water color. The Messicks left Sunday for a five or six-week trip through Central and Northern California, Oregon and Washington, where Messick will give 25 art lectures and demonstrations. Engagements include the Carmel Art Gallery, San Jose State College, Oakland Museum of Fine Arts, E. B. Crocker Gallery in Sacramento, California School of Fine Arts in San Francisco, University of Oregon, J. K. Gill auditorium in Portland and Frye Museum in Seattle.

The Messicks, Michael Engel, director of fine arts for M. Grumbacher, Inc. of New York and Mrs. Engel (Mary Black Diller) portrait painter and writer, will be guests of the Kingsley Art Club at the preview in the Crocker Gallery of the annual exhibition of work of resident artists.

Do you have questions on art? If so, you will be able to ask them of Daryl Ahlgren, Jefferson Junior High art instructor, Dr. Teitel Bernard, psychiatrist and Mrs. Leslie Abramson, historian at Lakewood Junior High, following their panel discussion, "Contemporary Art as Seen Through the Eyes of the Historian, Psychiatrist, Architect, and Dramatist" at the Long Beach Art Association program Tuesday evening in the Municipal Art Center, 2300 E. Ocean Blvd.

Top State Awards for N. L. B. Club

North Long Beach Junior Women's Club returned from the CFWC Convention in San Francisco proudly bearing eight awards, making them the highest award winning club in the state.

Topping all previous years, Juniors accepted five first place awards, including the Josephine Seamon Award for the entire state of California, the Conservation of National Resources, the Silver Pitcher-Malowney Perpetual Trophy given for outstanding accomplishment in the conservation of natural resources and awards in handicrafts and literature.

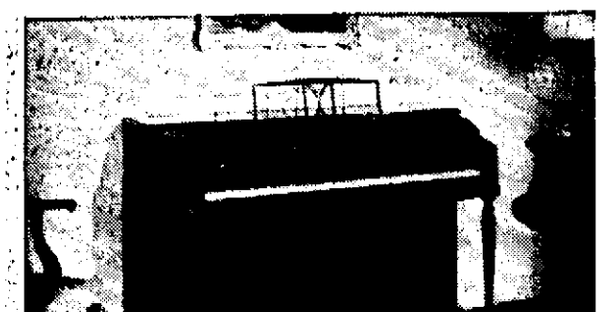

Second place winner was for music; third place was awarded for Americanism and Penny Art. These, plus five awards won by the club at the Los Angeles District Convention in April make the impressive total of 13 achieved by this vigorous Junior Club in their many hours of work for their community.

These awards will be on display Tuesday when North Long Beach Juniors install new officers at Jordan Hi-Teen Canteen.

1956: The author discusses time on his CBS-TV program, Good Morning.

I'll always remember...

A LESSON FROM DAD

by WILL ROGERS, Jr.

Tolerance is a great thing. It's not easy to learn, and it's not easy to practice. But I'll never forget the lesson my father taught me about it.

It was while I was still in grammar school, after the first World War. Several prominent people were in for dinner that night, and the subject of disarmament came up. I knew Dad was what they called in those days a "Big Army, Big Navy man" (a throwback to the Teddy Roosevelt era). Apparently, some of the guests weren't.

I remember entering into the discussion with both feet, taking the family position, of course. When one of the grown-ups started to argue back to me, pointing out that there was something to be said for disarmament, I snapped right back at him and then appealed to Dad. Of course, Dad already had a wide reputation for making sharp commentaries on the contemporary scene. But to my surprise, he said, "Now wait a minute, son . . ."

"But you said...and you wrote..."

"Listen, son," Dad went on, "I think one way and I feel I am right. But other people, who think differently, also feel they are right. Don't be so cocksure. Remember even your old father's position may be wrong. Anyway, it's impolite to argue with your elders at the table."

I've forgotten who was there, and I may have forgotten Dad's exact words, but I'll never forget the lesson I learned that night—that tolerance, understanding and a willingness to listen to the arguments of others are among the greatest things a person can have.

Now, long years after, I realize something that I never noticed at the time: it was Dad's sympathy and his readiness to concede sincerity in others, that allowed him to make the pointed remarks he did and yet remain friends with the people he criticized. ■

1925: Will, Jr., age 13, tries one of his dad's rope tricks as Will, Sr., gives advice.

TOLD FOR THE FIRST TIME:

How to drop an H-BOMB

Here's the timely story of a unique Air Force assignment: putting a bomb on target without losing the bomber

WASHINGTON, D.C.

On March 1, 1954, A South Pacific atoll disappeared with an excruciating explosion into a giant mushroom cloud 100 miles in diameter. The nearest observers watched from a B-36 bomber, 47,000 feet up and 25 slant-miles away. Still, the terrible blast tossed the great plane like a silver snowflake. It wrenched off the bomb-bay doors and ripped patches from the fuselage. Heat scorched the outside aluminum and blackened the instrument panel inside. That the occupants weren't killed was a near miracle.

Their close call shook the whole Air Force. Obviously, no bomber could let go of the giant explosive and get 25 miles away before the bomb hit the ground. From this fact sprang an unexpected but basic question: How could a plane drop the H-bomb — and survive?

Today, with new tests going on in the Pacific, PARADE can report that the answer has been found. It results, as such things usually do, from long, painstaking experiment. Handling of A-bombs as well as H-bombs was involved. Split-second aerial maneuvers, testing in the extreme both men and planes, were plotted by slide-rule and equation, then proved out by trial and error.

Actually, bomb-blast hazard existed even in World War II. The birth of the A-bomb multiplied the problem a thousand-fold. The B-29 Superfortresses, which laid the first atomic eggs, were instructed to make a diving turn to escape the awful aftermath as fast as possible. That turned out to be a mistake: by diving, a B-29 exposed its underbelly to the A-blast's full force.

Many other methods were tried. The goal was an evasive maneuver that would speed the plane away from the blast without putting it through contortions so severe as to buckle the wings or impose a paralyzing strain on the crew. The exact heat wave and blast force had to be measured against the ability of plane and pilot to take it. The pressure a plane could withstand in a climb, dive or turn was worked out with mathematical exactness. So were the exact angle of bank, air speed and rate of turn the plane should (or could) make.

Tests for Fighter-Bombers

The scientists had a separate, if related, problem in jet fighter-bombers equipped to carry A-bombs. Their best attack was to slip under enemy radar and streak in at tree-top level — a suicidal altitude, as now was clear. The solution seemed to be to send the plane to an I.P. (Initial Point) perhaps 10 to 15 miles from the target. There it would zoom up at an incline, releasing its bomb at a pre-fixed altitude.

The effect was to toss the bomb, like a shot put, in a huge arc at the target. Meantime, the jet fighter would reverse direction by looping over on its back, twisting with a half-roll into normal flying position and speeding off.

The jet boys became amazingly accurate at this. (In practice, the planes carry dummy A- and H-bombs the exact size, shape and weight of the real weapons.) But their exercises were not without danger. On one occasion, the heavy bomb clung to the fighter as it swung over on its back and threw the whole delicate performance off balance; the plane barely escaped crashing. "A real hairy maneuver," commented one pilot to PARADE.

Because a pilot streaking 600 miles an hour can't easily pick out his I.P., the maneuver had to be modified. Instead of a gradual incline, pilots were instructed to switch abruptly from horizontal to vertical flight at the target's edge. This meant turning a 90-degree corner from straight-and-level to straight up-and-down, a terrific strain on both fighters and flyers.

Today a secret device automatically releases the bomb at a pre-set altitude. When bomb and plane part, the jet-tossed bomb continues shooting almost straight up. The fighter flips over on its back, turns upright and beats it out of there. The exact height the bomb is released and the distance it travels before it loses momentum and falls on the target, of course, depend on the bomb's size and the plane's speed. Both are figured with scientific precision. Pilots fly strictly on instruments and every life-saving move is calculated to a fraction of a second.

How Bigger Planes Do It

B-47 pilots are trained in the same square-corner maneuver so they, too, can carry out L.A.B. (Low Altitude Bombing) missions. This means the swift, medium jet bombers can attack at 50 feet or 50,000.

What about the B-36, the big bomber assigned to deliver the H-bomb? Its problem couldn't be solved by hedgehopping and low-altitude acrobatics. The scientists weighed known factors against past experience and concluded the big planes should catch the blast on the tail. This would keep them from taking the shock on their broad, vulnerable bellies or backs.

Numerous turns and maneuvers were tested. Finally, in contrast to the first diving turns used by the B-29s, a climbing turn was decided upon. The exact degree of turn, calculated to a hair, is a military secret. So is the speed with which the bomb is dropped (something else that was modified after considerable research and testing). This much can be said: When the H-bomb explodes, the plane that laid it will be soaring in the opposite direction.

What's it like to drop an H-bomb? Here's how it is described by pilots who have gone through the experience:

The bomb itself is so heavy it must be loaded aboard a B-36 with an outsize hydraulic jack. Once airborne, the bomb is armed by an expert weaponeer. The B-36 approaches the target at an altitude of more than 50,000 feet. On signal, the H-bomb is sprung loose. The plane, suddenly free of its great load, lurches violently upward. The pilot goes into a climbing turn and gets out of there.

For a brief interval all is quiet. Then comes a blinding flash, followed by what the pilots call the "double whammy" — the separate, almost simultaneous shocks of the bomb burst and the shock wave rebounding up from the earth. If all has gone well, that's that.

Pilots hope they will never have to drop the H-bomb except in practice. But they are prepared, down to split-second timing, just in case. The simple command, "Bombs away," has become an exact science.

The dazzling array of arms, legs and torsos you see in the picture above is no optical illusion. The human-windmill effect is the result of a multiple exposure, made in total darkness, of the two (don't count 'em) Bagdy Brothers, Samy and Yakia, famed Egyptian tumblers who are really first cousins and descended from a family of acrobats.

Their treadmill routine took six hours — and a few broken vertebrae — to perfect. Samy, who is 29, lies flat on his back, rigid from the base of his spine to the top of his head. Yakia, 18 and suppler, balances on Samy's feet. Samy's legs start pumping, and Yakia, arms outstretched, starts spinning around in a circle. Dizzy way to make a living, eh?

FIVE WHO FIGURED IN DIXON FORECASTS THAT CAME TRUE

GEORGE MILLER, business associate: Mrs. Dixon told him the man at the next desk was having a heart attack. He did.

What does she see? Mrs. Dixon says the crystal above can show her the future.

Washington's

Even VIPs listen to prophet

WASHINGTON, D.C.

LAST JULY 6, a woman suddenly slid out from under a hair dryer here and dashed to a phone to call her real-estate office. "George," she told her assistant urgently, "get an ambulance and a doctor quickly. Mr. Mitchell is having a heart attack."

The call is stamped on George Miller's memory for life. "Mitchell, one of our salesmen, was sitting at a desk behind me," he explains. "He had just returned from vacation, and I had never seen him looking better. With the telephone still in my hand, I turned to look at him. As I did, he keeled over with a heart attack."

Mrs. Jeane Dixon, who made the call, says: "I was sitting under the dryer when I had a vision of Mr. Mitchell having a heart attack. Naturally, I rushed to call the office."

There are those in Washington — including some in high places — to whom the eerie episode is credible simply because it involved the incredible Jeane Dixon. An amateur seeress with a crystal ball, she has foretold events for presidential assistants, cabinet members, senators, ambassadors, society leaders and political columnists. Some things she has told Washington society, newspapers headlines later told the world. Her reputation has even crossed the Atlantic, partly because of her forecast of Sir Winston Churchill's postwar election defeat and later triumphant comeback.

Her crystal-gazing is only a hobby with Mrs. Dixon. Her career is the real-estate business she and her husband, James, conduct. She does not charge for her psychic services, inviting wealthy patrons to contribute to their favorite charity instead. Recently, she says, she turned down a $100,000 offer to appear on TV because the producer insisted on dictating some of the forecasts.

Attractive, dark-haired, intense, she sometimes gives the impression of "not being with you" — of concentrating instead on mystic impulses swirling about her. Obviously sincere about her readings, she hopes and believes they do good.

NATIVE DANCER: Favored in the 1953 Kentucky Derby, he lost. Mrs. Dixon saw it all days before in her crystal ball.

SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL: His post-war fall from power and later return in triumph were early Dixon predictions.

HOUSE SPEAKER SAM RAYBURN: Mrs. Dixon predicted downfall in 1952, return by his 73rd birthday. He made it.

SOVIET PREMIER BULGANIN: She said a man with "high, wavy hair" — like his — would replace Malenkov.

PARADE WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENTS

Incredible crystal-gazer

Jeane Dixon, who predicted the President's illness and the Kremlin shakeup

She is said to drop in at the White House occasionally. "About six weeks before Ike's illness," she told PARADE, "I saw a dark cloud over his head in the crystal ball. I told a high official at the White House that Ike would become ill. About 11 o'clock on the night of the President's heart attack, I received a call from this official. He told me of the President's illness and asked if it would be fatal. I told him it would not. He exclaimed, 'Thank God,' and hung up."

Mrs. Dixon says she can get insight about a person by touching his fingertips and feeling the vibrations. A handshake also tells her things. So do clothes, colors, mannerisms. But mainly she relies on her crystal ball, which she says is not unlike a television set — except that she tunes in on "the channel of psychic vibrations." She sees symbols, dates, figures, names and persons, all in three dimensions and full color.

Her Husband Started It

Her first crystal was given to her as a girl by a boy who had been a playmate since she was 4. (He is now her husband.) When this crystal was stolen in 1943, a White House official presented her with a new one. It lacked the right psychic quality, so James, her husband, gave her another. This she still uses. PARADE reporters, allowed to look into it, saw nothing but their own reflections.

A religious woman, Mrs. Dixon goes to church daily to ask the Lord's help in using her talent. "The Bible says that all events are foreshadowed," she says. "I am just the means of communication." She is a Catholic, which she thinks is a help because "it is primarily Catholics who believe in visions."

Born in Wisconsin of German parents who moved to California when she was small, she grew up on the West Coast. As a child, she had a German nurse who encouraged her to close her eyes and tell what she saw. "Sometimes," she recalls, "I saw things that hadn't happened yet. Once I asked Mother for the black-bordered letter. Mother said she didn't have any such letter. About two weeks later, a black-bordered letter came from Germany telling of the death of my grandfather."

She claims her unusual talent brings her "peace of mind" but not "peace of life." That is because of the constant clamor for her readings. She has one self-adopted restriction: she does not reveal impending tragedies unless they can be averted.

Is Mrs. Dixon a true psychic or a fast-talking entertainer? To check on her occult powers, PARADE interviewed those who know her best. Some skeptics suggest she hedges her forecasts. Her predictions are sufficiently enigmatic, they say, that she can disclaim them if they go wrong. They also note that she is bolder about predicting the far than the near future. Others, like George Miller, swear by her. All agree she seems completely sincere.

One Washington couple told PARADE that Mrs. Dixon had warned against an operation for their baby. They disregarded her and the child died on the operating table. Then they were told they could have no more children. The crystal ball foresaw two healthy children, and Mrs. Dixon is now their godmother.

Another woman claimed her unexpected divorce was foretold to the month. Another heard from the seeress the day PARADE reporters called. Mrs. Dixon predicted trouble with a new maid and described the incident in detail. Events as she described them came true within a matter of hours.

Although she doesn't use the crystal for gambling purposes, Mrs. Dixon "saw" the finish line of the 1953 Kentucky Derby, days before the race. "Native Dancer was the favorite," she says. "But I saw in the ball that he would be second or third. I couldn't tell which because the horses were running too fast." Several people, including a congressman, confirmed that she had made the prediction.

In a 1953 benefit performance with Bob Hope, she stopped the comedian cold. He had played golf with the President that afternoon and asked her to tell him his score. "I told him the exact score," Mrs. Dixon recalls. "He was so dumfounded that I thought our program would break down."

Washington hostesses vie with one another to get Mrs. Dixon to come and tune in on the political future. One still talked-about party she helped to put over was given by famed party-thrower Perle Mesta early in 1945. "At this party," Mrs. Dixon says, "I predicted that President Roosevelt would die in office, Mr. Truman would complete the term and be elected to a full term in 1948."

At a 1952 party, Mrs. Dixon told the late Sen. Robert Taft he would never be President. Later she predicted General Eisenhower would win the White House. She says: "One man who heard me won a $1,000 bet. He offered me $100 after the elections, but I refused it."

AMAZED BOB HOPE is stopped short at a benefit performance after Mrs. Dixon told him his exact score in a golf match with the President.

She sees trouble in 1960

Months before the 1952 election, Mrs. Dixon predicted the downfall of House Speaker Sam Rayburn — but announced he would regain fame when he was 73. Sure enough, Rayburn had to turn the Speaker's gavel over to Rep. Joe Martin that year. But the 1954 election put Rayburn back on the Speaker's rostrum — almost on the date of his 73rd birthday.

The seeress scored another "scoop" in 1953. At a televised party, she shared the cameras with Joseph Davies, former Ambassador to Moscow. She recalls: "Mr. Davies asked what I thought about the new Kremlin lineup after Stalin's death. I said Malenkov wouldn't last two years, and would be succeeded by a man with high wavy hair, parted on the side. Mr. Davies was amused. He predicted Malenkov would stay in office until he died or was assassinated."

Crystal gazing won out. Malenkov was ousted after 23 months. "When I saw the newspaper pictures of the new Premier," Mrs. Dixon says, "I was tempted to send one to Mr. Davies with a ring around Bulganin's high, wavy hair."

Her crystal ball is non-political. "Some election years the Republicans love me," she says. "Other years, it's Democrats." Right now, she should be the darling of the GOP. She told PARADE: "President Eisenhower will win — if the Republicans aren't too complacent." She counts out Adlai Stevenson, says Averell Harriman will "never call the White House home" and thinks Sen. Estes Kefauver should have waited until 1960.

Vice President Richard Nixon she considers underestimated. The crystal ball "shows his shadow encircling the world." Of New York's ex-Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, she says flatly: "He will be assistant President in Ike's second term."

On the world scene, Mrs. Dixon came up with this exclusive forecast for PARADE: "Prime Minister Nehru of India will not remain in power much longer. He will recede into the background and his policies will not prevail. One of two men will take over. Their names passed through the crystal quickly, but they appeared to be Deshmuki and Desra."

Looking Farther Ahead

But Mrs. Dixon thinks Americans should be most concerned with the more distant future — specifically the 1960s, which the crystal shows as "years of upheaval at home and international eruptions abroad, but not necessarily war." She adds: "Russia will do some good things, but also some terrible things. Americans will have to rise personally, physically, mentally and spiritually to the challenge."

As for the 1960 election, Mrs. Dixon thinks it will be dominated by labor and won by a Democrat. But he will be assassinated or die in office "though not necessarily in his first term."

Despite these clouds, she does see some brightness in the future. "Things will get better, much better, in the '70s," she says. "In that decade, we will really have peace." ■

Beauty Expert Discovers Why . . .

Older Women Look Younger!

By NANCY ANN STOKES

I WAS there last Tuesday night, when Hollywood's leading beauty authority, Mr. Ern Westmore, revealed the 3 things that make a woman look older. Then he showed how to remove 5, 10 even 15 years from your appearance with nothing more than a lipstick and eyebrow pencil. It was so ridiculously easy I was amazed.

You see, to create a youthful appearance you must first understand what makes a woman look older. If, while applying lipstick, you turn the corners of your mouth downward, you sag the expression of your face. Even more distressing, "bent-down" lips make your nose appear longer and your chin heavily drooped.

For a youthful appearance flatter the corners of your lips with a pleasant upward flourish. Your face will suddenly appear younger. Your nose more delicate. Your chin firm and proud. You'll give "lift" to your features, freshness to your face.

Beauty Secret Number Two

What could be a more cherished possession than the flashing eyes of youth? And the secret to eyes that shimmer and shine with a magical twinkle is the way you shape your brows.

Flat brows burden your face with a top-heavy look. Thick brows cloud your eyes with the drowsy stare of middle age. Arch your brows too high and you're left with a gaping, vacant expression. Then what is the perfect shaped eyebrow? Oddly enough there are 5 perfect eyebrows . . . but only one is meant for you.

You see, there are 5 basic shapes of faces. Either you have an oval shape face, a round shape face, a square, oblong or triangle shape face. And there's a special way to arch your eyebrows for your shape face. In a moment you'll discover just which shape brows can reawaken blossoming youth in your face. But first, let's discuss your big stride to youthful loveliness.

Your Face Never Grows Old

Did you know that your face never grows old? Yes, once you've reached the age of 21 all your facial features are set for life. From 21 years on you'll always have the same eyes, the same nose, the same chin. Your features never change . . . but your skin does! Your face doesn't age . . . it's your skin that grows old. And nothing telegraphs age faster than dark under-eye circles . . . unsightly marks and blemishes . . . or lines and wrinkles that weave a murky "cobweb" in your complexion. That's why you must wipe away these signs and lines of age once and for all! You must stop your complexion from shouting your age to the world!

Right now you are probably saying . . . "Well, you've told me the three things that'll make me look younger. The right shape lips, proper eyebrows and a perfect, flawless complexion. But just how can I accomplish these 'things?" So let's start at the beginning.

Lips Meant for You

In Hollywood there's an old saying . . . "Nature just gave you lips . . . but Ern Westmore gives Beauty to your lips." What's his secret?—his plastic Hollywood lip outlines. And I've made special arrangements for you to get a complete set of these easy-to-use lip-outlines as a FREE GIFT.

Here's all you do. First, determine your basic shape face with a quick glance at page 32 of the "FREE HOLLYWOOD GLAMOUR GRAPH," included with your free Hollywood lip outlines. Then select the proper lip outline for your shape face—place it over your lips . . . and fill in with lipstick. Your newly shaped lips will remove years from your appearance and add vivid warmth to your face.

Now Let's Give You Beautiful Eyes

Here again, you use another Ern Westmore beauty-aid that's yours as a free gift . . . his Hollywood eyebrow outlines. Simply select the right eyebrow outline for your shape face . . . place it over your brow . . . then fill in with your eyebrow pencil. Your eyes will sparkle and gleam even at the end of a long, long evening.

But wait! . . . You're not finished yet. To complete your new and thrilling appearance you must take one more beauty-step. You must rid yourself of every line, mark, wrinkle and blemish. You must make your skin supple and smooth . . . give yourself an appealing "peaches-and-cream" complexion.

Ern Westmore, Dean of Hollywood Makeup Artists.

Tells Truth About Movie Stars

"Often people ask me, how is it so many actresses who are "older" can still play glamour-girl parts? It's simple. It's not how old you are . . . but how old you look! These actresses just don't happen to stay young-looking . . . they've got certain secrets.

That's why I invite every woman over 25-years-old to read this page. Here are the same beauty-tricks we use on the stars. Try them yourself. See if the first two tricks alone don't make you look 10 years younger in just a few minutes."

Here's How . . .

Can you imagine a make-up so incredible, it covers up marks, blemishes and wrinkles completely out of sight? Can you imagine a make-up so unusual it makes dark circles and crows feet disappear instantly! Can you imagine a make-up so different from any you've ever tried. It removes the shiny gleam from oily skin . . . restores a dewy-freshness to dry skin . . . glides a wondrous smoothness onto "crepe-paper" skin . . . actually conceals all your flaws without masking your face in a harsh, "made-up" look. And can you imagine a make-up so revolutionary it enlivens dull-skin with a bright luminous glow—makes sallow complexions blossom forth in subtle tones of pink . . . pampers every skin with a feathery-light texture . . . and gives you the glorious effect of constantly being seen in a delightful candle-light glow. Yes, a magical make-up that blends so naturally with your complexion you can't even tell where the make-up ends and skin begins.

Lasts 24 Hours . . . and You Don't Even Need Powder

And just imagine! It lasts 24 hours! You apply a few drops in the morning . . . your complexion remains so fresh and bright you need no more make-up . . . NOT EVEN A TOUCH-UP . . . for the entire day! Because here for the first time is a complete make-up—a foundation, powder and cover-up all in one.

'SILENT SOUND'

It's medicine's newest way to relieve aches

by ANDREW HAMILTON

A middle-aged arthritis sufferer, a 6-year-old boy with agonizing neck-muscle pains, a ballet dancer with a nasty skin ulcer — all have received dramatic, near-miraculous relief from "medicine's newest magic," ultrasonics.

The little boy, sobbing uncontrollably before visiting the doctor, happily played baseball three hours after his first treatment. The arthritic walked normally for the first time in 16 years. And the dancer's ulcer cleared up in a month "without leaving a scar."

Hopeful cases such as those — usually involving banishment of pain and swelling — are being reported more and more often in medical journals.

For in the past five years, research with ultrasonics — in New York, Washington, Chicago, Los Angeles, Denver — has surged ahead. Today, ultrasonic therapy is coming out of the laboratory and into hospitals, clinics and doctors' offices.

Exactly what is ultrasonics?

Three Theories

It can best be described as "silent sound" — that is, sound too shrill or high-pitched for the human ear to detect. But even the experts aren't sure exactly how this inaudible sound works on aching muscles or inflamed tissues.

There are three theories: 1) Sound waves "massage" body cells, increase blood supply and stimulate metabolism; 2) The waves are converted to heat (which cannot be felt) and thus benefit affected tissues; 3) The waves create subtle, beneficial chemical changes in cells themselves.

Whatever the answer, treatment with ultrasound is remarkably simple. Dr. John H. Aldes of Los Angeles, a pioneer in the field, recently demonstrated how it works.

The instrument that produces ultrasound is about as large as a portable dishwasher. It is covered with levers, dials and lights. From one side extends an electric cable, capped with a stainless steel "sonic head" that resembles a radio microphone.

The sonic head is placed against the

Q. How does she keep her complexion this clear?

A.

She keeps tiny clogged pores from causing trouble —with Lifebuoy soap! Today's Lifebuoy is good news for everyone, especially teen-agers, because it contains a new bacteria-fighter called TMTD.

Lifebuoy with TMTD helps clear your complexion of blemish-causing bacteria that the usual toilet soap just can't remove. These bacteria are the tiny trouble-makers that get into clogged pores, help make them grow into full-fledged blemishes.

What's more, the protection of TMTD stays with your complexion under make-up and between wash-ups. Treat your complexion to a daily facial with mild, fragrant Lifebuoy. Lever Brothers Company unconditionally guarantees you'll love what Lifebuoy does for your complexion—or your money refunded!

Good results—but no cure-all affected part of the body (see photo) — or an ailing foot or hand is placed under water and the sonic head is moved slowly back and forth about a half-inch from the skin.

When the machine is turned on, the patient hears only a soft hum. There is no vibration, no feeling whatever.

Dr. Aldes explained that inside the sonic head there is a piece of quartz crystal about the size of a silver dollar. When alternating current is passed through the crystal, it contracts and expands at the rate of 1,000,000 times per second, producing sound waves at the same rate.

This is called the "piezo-electric effect." These sound waves are what enter your hand, leg, back, etc., to relieve aches and pains. They penetrate to a depth of about two inches and can be beamed, reflected or refracted like rays of light.

Ultrasonic waves pass through skin, muscle, blood and bone. But air stops them cold. That's why an uneven surface, like a hand or a leg, often must be treated under water. The course of treatment, says Dr. Aldes, usually consists of a series of 12 ultrasound radiations, daily or every other day. Each treatment lasts three to 10 minutes.

Work with ultrasonics began in England back in 1883. The theory that ultrasound consisted of waves pitched too high for the human ear to hear is credited to Pierre Curie, the French scientist best known for his discovery of radium.

3,000 Cases Treated

It wasn't till the 1920s that doctors in the U.S. expressed interest in ultrasound for medical treatment. At that time there were skeptics in the medical world. There still are some.

But since 1950 the U.S. has taken the lead over European researchers in the field of ultrasonics. Dr. Aldes himself has treated more than 3,000 selected cases with ultrasound. The result has been successful in about four cases out of five.

At the Columbia University (New York) medical school, another physician has treated crippling hand conditions successfully with ultrasound. In Chicago, a doctor has experimented with the new treatment technique to relieve pain and spasm among certain aged patients.

Last fall, team physicians of four Big Ten universities used ultrasound to treat football-caused sprains, bruises and "charley horses."

In dentistry, ultrasonic drills are being used experimentally to determine whether they can do the job more efficiently than standard drills.

Thus, used alone, ultrasound is proving its value. New tests indicate that it may be even more effective when used in conjunction with certain injected drugs.

Dr. Aldes has already experimented with cortisone-family drugs along with ultrasonics in animal studies, and in a few people. Preliminary results are hopeful. The patients reported considerable relief from joint pains for several months.

Ultrasonics has been criticized in some quarters as being a "dangerous" form of treatment. So it is — in unskilled hands, just as the frivolous use of any ordinary therapy is dangerous.

But, doctors say, safe dosages have been worked out for all parts of the body. Careful analysis of each of his 3,000 treated patients has assured Dr. Aldes that none experienced a harmful chemical or physical change. On the contrary, "success stories" such as these continue to bolster the case for ultrasonics treatment:

BURSITIS victim gets ultrasound at a Washington, D. C., hospital. Gout, arthritis and neuritis also have responded to the therapy.

- A 47-year-old Arkansas man had suffered arthritis for eight years. Pain and muscle contraction had made him a virtual cripple. All known treatment was tried and failed. Ultrasonic treatment, however, produced results. Soon after he was given "silent sound," the pains began to subside. Now he is able to climb stairs and take walks, two activities that had been impossible for years.
- A 53-year-old Florida woman had arthritis in her hands so badly that she could not pick up a pencil or a toothbrush. A series of ultrasonic treatments made her hands usable once again.

Understandably, doctors shudder when a single treatment is labeled a "cure-all." Doctors who have used ultrasound make no such claims for this therapy.

But one distinguished physician has this to say: "Ultrasonics may one day take its place alongside other medical 'greats' — like the X ray and antibiotics." ■

PARROT being worn by his owner is a Mexican type named Bimbo. Obviously they like each other.

They go to your head

It may surprise you to know that birds rank second to dogs as the most popular pets. Many of their owners belong to one or another of the 400 U.S. bird clubs and take their hobby seriously indeed. Some will pay as high as $500 for a mynah bird; others are content with a $1.98 department-store parakeet. Some birds reciprocate with affection, as these two photos indicate. For people who like birds in their hair, these examples suggest that it's fun being the place where chickens come home to roost.

PIGEON settles on a delighted little girl's head. When child grows up, she may wear parrots too.

PARADE WEST COAST CORRESPONDENT

SAN DIEGO.

Frances O'Connor, a local matron of 42, looks at first glance like a typical young American mother. Trim, attractive, 5'5" and 130 lbs., she frequently is mistaken for 35. She dresses neatly, lives in a two-story, four-bedroom house, drives a 1950 station wagon.

There her typicalness stops.

Whereas the average U.S. housewife has 1.2 children and usually acts like a woman with too much to do and too little time. Frances O'Connor is the mother of 13 children, seven girls and six boys. More important, she is serene and content with her role in life, the role which so many less productive members of her sex currently find frustrating, oppressive and unsatisfying.

In 18 years of marriage Mrs. O'Connor has:

1) been pregnant 13 times; borne 13 children, including one pair of twins; suffered one miscarriage;

2) never had a vacation;

3) never been confined in a hospital longer than two days (except for her last baby, who weighed in at 10 lbs., 13 oz. and required one extra day);

4) never employed any full-time help around the house.

In addition to doing her own housework, taking care of her own brood, preparing and serving 45 individual meals per day, Frances O'Connor also works three hours a day, six days a week in her husband's liquor store.

Although the O'Connors support their family on approximately $800 a month — "We haven't had steak in the house since we were married," says Jerome O'Connor — Frances claims she is happy, fulfilled, completely content.

"Jerome and I," she points out, "may not be rich in things like cars and clothes which so many people seem to value. But we're rich in children. And for a woman, at least for me, children are life's greatest riches.

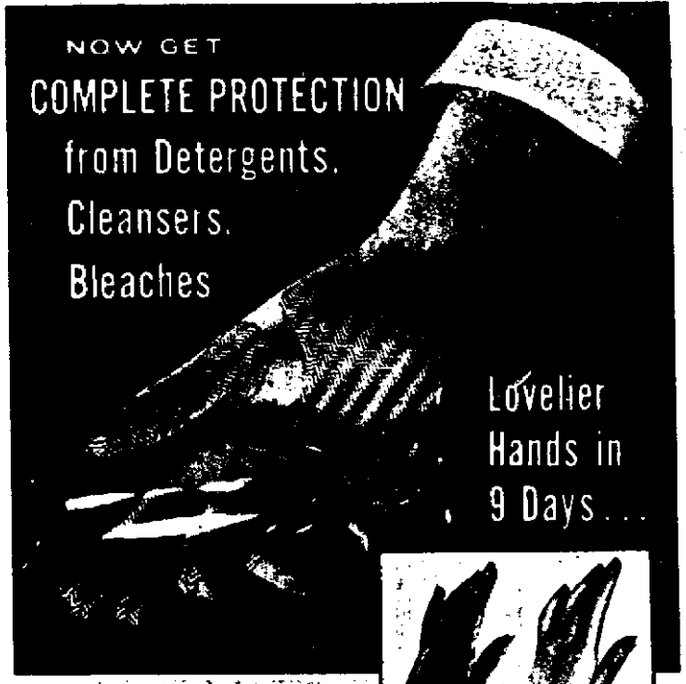

"What can you possibly compare to a child — a diamond? a new rug? a fur coat? a Cadillac? Nothing can possibly give a woman more lasting pleasure than a baby.

"Women say to me all the time, 'How do you do it? How do you do it?' They talk as if children were some strange kind of obstacle course or some unbearable illness. Raising children has come to be regarded in many quarters as an unpleasant duty. Sure, it's tough. Sure, the hours are long. Sure, the responsibility is enormous and always present. But bearing and raising children is a woman's primary function in life.

"I never expected or wanted anything different. I never wanted to be ambassador to Italy or a motion-picture star or a top fashion designer or a book reviewer. I always wanted a husband and a family. For me children are the beginning, the middle and the end.

"When we first got married in 1938," Mrs. O'Connor continues, "my husband said to

CASTORIA

Only nationally-recognized laxative made especially for babies and children

The O'Connor children never have tasted steak—but all except the youngest own medals for swimming me, 'How many kids do you want?' I thought for a moment. 'About six,' I said.

"Jerome howled. 'Holy smokes!' he screamed. 'You some kind of foreigner or something?' At the time he was only earning $5 a day. But we started in on a family right away. Very early Jerome came to realize that the best thing we could do was to build our life around children — not around his business, nor money, but around people. For us it's paid off in happiness."

O'Connor, a feisty, balding little man of 51 who once fought locally as a bantamweight, agrees absolutely with this.

"I'm one of the richest guys in San Diego," he boasts. "Not in money, of course. In flesh and blood. Guys keep kiddin' me all the time about the size of my family. But secretly they really envy me, because I've got the guts to raise 13 fine kids.

"I don't want to sound highfalutin but man was born to reproduce, to keep the life cycle goin'. The married man who can do the job and doesn't is generally selfish or a coward or both.

"A man's kids are the only insurance he's got for friendship in his old age. I've been around a long time; and years ago I came to the conclusion that while money talks, you can't talk to money.

"I've seen wealthy men," O'Connor explains, "guys with yachts, mansions, cars, even private planes. They've got one, maybe two kids. But usually money is what they want out of life, not friendship, just money and the things money can buy. They've got time for nothin' else.

"Their kids grow up without gettin' to know the old man. When the kids leave home, the wife's got nothin' to do. Money doesn't guarantee happiness, and it certainly can't buy love or respect. All it can buy is comfort — and fear.

"When you got a big family, on the other hand, you're loaded with potential, potential for love and friendship. You also got no time for shenanigans or self-pity. You're too busy lookin' after the kids. They keep you on your toes, and they keep you young. You're never lonely.

"Take me and Mama. How're we gonna spend our old age? The same way we spent our young age — raisin' our kids. We're livin' for our children and through our children and it ain't destroyin' our individuality, either. The main thing we give them is ourselves.

DIVING IN at a neighborhood pool, O'Connor kids make an outsize splash.

"I've been told it's impossible to raise 13 kids well without a lot of money. Money is something we ain't got a lot of. But our kids go to parochial school, and they're all healthy and I don't mind tellin' you one of our secrets. One of the secrets of raisin' 13 kids is potatoes.

"In our house Mama serves all kinds of potatoes — mashed potatoes, fried potatoes, baked potatoes, potatoes au gratin, potato salad. None of the kids has ever tasted steak. But you know what? They've all won medals for swimming, except the three youngest, and none of them has got what the scientists call a personality disorder.

Five or Six More?

"I'm just hopin' for five or six more before Mama calls it quits. That's true wealth. Wanna know how rich you really are? Ask yourself what you'd have left tomorrow if you lost every buck you own today. We'd have 13 wonderful kids. Can you top that?"

Frances Shinnick O'Connor doesn't think you can. Born in North Dakota and reared on a 125-acre farm, she was herself one of eight children. She remembers the bitter cold of the Dakota winters ("I froze both my legs when I was a kid playing basketball"), the rigorous daily chores ("I had to serve meals to large teams of wheat thrashers"), the basic advantage of a large family ("I was one of five girls, so I was never spoiled or lonely").

Frances prepared for a nursing career at St. Michael's Hospital in Grand Forks, N.D. After passing her state boards at Fargo, she found work in Minnesota. Then, in 1937, she took off for Mercy Hospital in San Diego. A week after she arrived, she met Jerome O'Connor at a St. Patrick's Day dance. Nine months later they were married.

Work on a family began immediately. Before the year was out the O'Connors were blessed with their first-born, a boy christened Patrick. After that babies came like clockwork: seven (including the twins) in seven years. All told, in 220 months of marriage, Frances O'Connor has been pregnant 124 months, or approximately 54 per cent of the time.

Taking care of 13 children and a husband, Mrs. O'Connor puts in a 14- to 16-hour working day, but unlike many mothers she never complains of nervous or physical fatigue. "A woman's attitude," she says, "is really the important factor in housework. If she regards it as a drudge, if she finds it too confining, too lonesome, if she'd rather be with adults than children, then housework becomes hateful and almost unbearable. Certainly it offers no intellectual stimulation. But just think of all the men in the world who are stuck in jobs they don't like. Compared to them we women have it easy.

"I'm reconciled to the fact that I will never finish my housework, that I never have time to read except late at night. I do the best I can, and that's it. To me it's more important to spend a little time with my three youngest than, say, wash the woodwork. It's better to have well-

BLUE JAY

The parents work 16-hour days, but neither one ever complains about it

SUNDAY MASS finds the O'Connors pausing on church steps for a word with the priest. Mrs. O'Connor takes the baby because he can't be left home alone.

adjusted children than sparkling windows. It's better to have a new baby than a new living-room suite you're afraid the children will scar."

Mrs. O'Connor's daily schedule begins when she rises at 6:30. She prepares breakfast for her three oldest sons, Pat, Mike and Dennis, who take off for high school before 7:30. The grade-school girls then are fed and sent off. Next, Frances feeds and dresses her three babies, and heats up another meal for Jerome, who has to be at the store by 10.

Her home cleared, Mrs. O'Connor sets about housework. This includes making up the four bedrooms, washing the dishes, getting the clothes into the washer, drying, preparing lunch, cleaning the rest of the house and, if time allows, shopping.

HOME HAIRCUTS save O'Connors money. As one result, all the younger girls wear bangs.

The O'Connors have one washing machine, one refrigerator, one stove, one TV set. They also have three major household problems. "We have only two bathrooms," Frances points out, "and that makes things difficult in the morning. It's tough getting to use our one telephone, either calling in or out. And then there's the constant necessity of getting enough food on the table at any one time. This family eats like a family of bears — especially those growing boys."

The O'Connors use 75 quarts of milk, 8 pounds of butter, 22 dozen eggs and 45 loaves of bread per week. A single meal calls for 4 pounds of hamburger, 3½ pounds of hot dogs or a 10-pound roast. Each week at least one child gets a new pair of shoes. In the clothes department hand-me-downs are used as much as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor rarely spend any money on themselves. "I get a new dress about once a year," Mrs. O'Connor says. "About eight weeks ago I bought a purple knit. It was on sale. Cost $18. I never spend any more than that. Jerome hasn't had a new suit in years. Three or four years ago there was a big sale down at one of the stores here. He bought three suits. Nothing since."

By 3 p.m. the O'Connor children begin to wander in from school, start in on such chores as gardening and baby-sitting. Mrs. O'Connor then drives down to the store and relieves her husband behind the counter until 6. Jerome meanwhile drives home, collects all available small O'Connors and chauffeurs them out to the neighborhood swimming pool. All of the children except the three youngest are crack swimmers. Sharon and Diane have won top honors in rhythm swimming in both local and Los Angeles meets.

"The reason I picked swimming for the kids above any other sport," says O'Connor, "is that it builds up the body without straining the heart. It's also great for growin' girls. Gives them grace and poise."

By 6:15 each evening Mrs. O'Connor is home, having relinquished her store job to Husky Velasco, a young prizefighter O'Connor used to train. He is on duty till 10. During this time the O'Connors have dinner, after which Frances puts the babies to bed and sees to it that the school-age children do their homework before they sneak off and watch television. At 10, Jerome returns to the store and stays till 2 a.m. Frances normally retires by 11:00 or 11:30, having stayed up until the older boys check in.

From 6:30 a.m. to 11 p.m. is a long day for any mother. From 9:30 a.m. to 2 a.m. is an even longer day for any father. But neither parent ever gripes or complains.

"What's there to gripe about?" asks Jerome O'Connor. "Take a fella like me. I'm 'way ahead of the game. When I was born in Dodge City, Montana, my old man was dead. When my mother came down here with me, we had it plenty rough. I left school at 14 to make a livin' fightin'.

A Man's Possessions

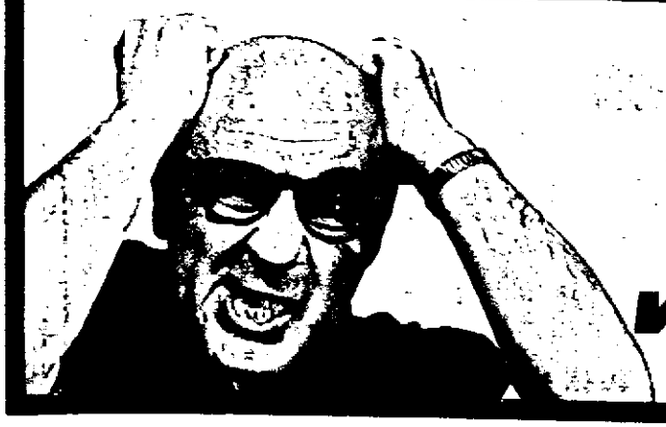

"Today I've got me a store, a little income property, a house of my own, a pretty good reputation in the community and a wonderful family.

"Under these circumstances, who minds workin'? So my teeth need fixin' and we could use a new car, so we don't have too much leisure and a TV set in every room, so what? Hard work never hurt anyone. Besides, Mama and me are used to our kid-rearin' routine. And once you're used to something, it goes easy.

"A little while back we had Mama's sister here. She's a physical-education teacher from Seattle. She said she could handle the 13 kids, and we could have a vacation week end in San Francisco. Know how long she lasted with our tribe? One night. We called off our vacation.

"But all in all we lead a pretty good life. Mama belongs to the Catholic Nurses Association. The kids get along just fine together lookin' after one another. Pat's going off to St. Mary's next year. We hope to send every one of the kids to college who wants to go. And all of us are in good health.

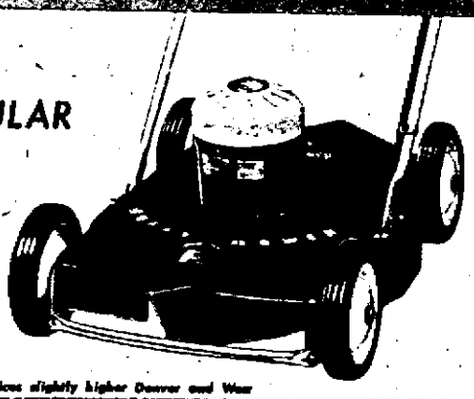

"God's blessed this family with love and children. And in our hearts we've got nothin' but thanks. We O'Connors have always operated on one motto: 'Better rich in smiling faces than rich in money.'" ■

Spacious split-level home

This split-level design, "The Wedgewood," is a plan with a future. It's a three-bedroom home built in a tasteful combination of brick, stone, shingles and board siding that gives the exterior a warm, welcoming appeal.

The living room is to the left of the foyer, one wide step down. Behind it, one step up, is the dining room, which opens onto a terrace at the back.

The kitchen is designed for a circular dinette with counters and storage cabinets surrounding sink, stove and refrigerator. A broom closet gives extra storage space.

A half-flight of stairs in the front hall leads to the sleeping rooms. All are close to bathing facilities: a lavatory with stall shower, attached to the master bedroom, and a tiled family bathroom at the back, with a vanity alcove for guests. There's also a guest lavatory near the front door.

The 1,450 square feet of floor area in this spacious home does not include basement (a short flight of steps from the foyer) or garage (beneath the bedrooms) — both are optional when you build.

junior fashions

THE SECRET here is vinyl. These waterproof pants can be washed over and over, need no ironing.

NEW PANTS FOR BABY

As these photos show, even baby fashions have been glamorized lately. Today there are baby pants with rows of ruffles, lacy inserts and embroideries, and bibs with hand-painted nursery-rhyme characters and gay hand-screened designs. Made of hardy no-press nylon and sponge-off plastics, they're a boon to busy mothers. With the use of a few soap flakes and water they come out looking fresh and clean no matter how many times they're washed.

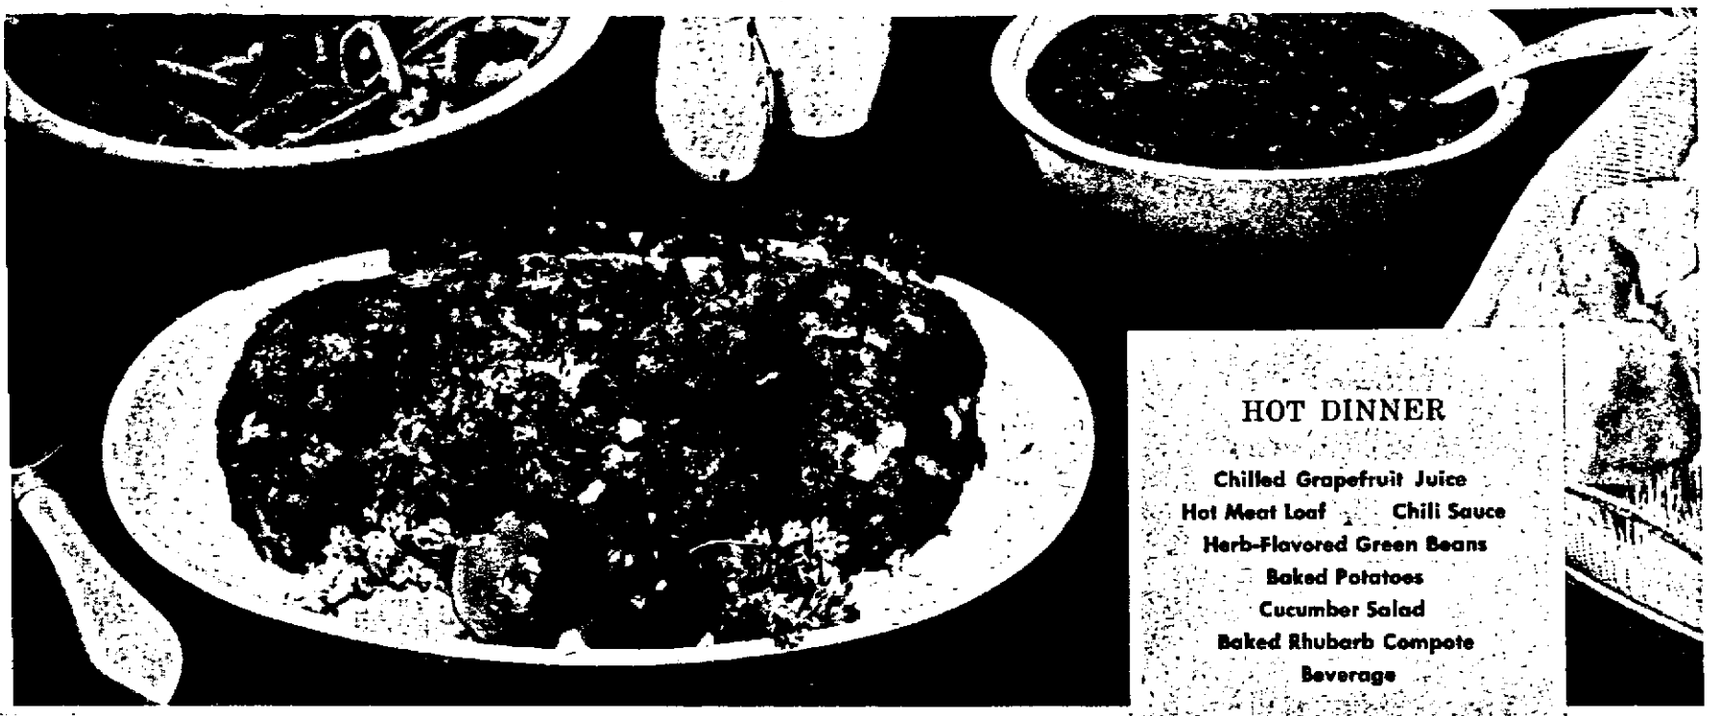

Even if you're not concerned with the "height of style," items like these by Playtex will keep your baby neat and pretty — the easy way.

▲ RUFFLED baby pants of nylon, lined in waterproof vinyl, are just the thing to "dress up" a toddler's first birthday.

◀ "SPONGEABLE" plastic bibs with hand-screened design provide complete cover-up — front and back — for small fry.

Teen-age Topics

Right now, many of the letters I receive from teen-agers are concerned with the upcoming prom season. Here are some of them:

Q. I am a boy of 17. I do not drive a car but wish to date a girl from an outlying community for the Junior Prom. How do I go about asking her to meet me and what do I do about getting her home? — M.J., Bayonne, N.J.

A. If this girl's parents have friends who live in town, perhaps she could stay with them. In that case, you would meet her at the bus or train and then take her to their home after the dance. If this is impossible, ask her to take the train or bus into town in her party clothes (she pays her own transportation); you meet her and return to her home with her after the dance. If her parents can put you up, fine, otherwise you'll have to make the return trip home. Never suggest that she should go home alone.

Q. When a young teenager is calling for his date and is being chauffeured by his father or mother, should the parent be invited into the girl's home? On Prom night there usually is some delay; the girl's parents often like to take a number of pictures before the couple leaves. — M.K., Bridgeport, Conn.

A. Yes, the parent should be invited in. In any case, the father or mother of the girl should ask the boy whether he would like to bring his parent in for a few minutes. If it is the mother who is doing the chauffeuring, then the father of the girl goes to the car and invites her in. She need not accept the invitation, of course, especially if parking is difficult or if they are somewhat late.

Q. I am quite sure that a boy I like very much will ask me to the Prom, but someone I don't care for has beaten him to it. Is it all right to say no to him and then show up at the dance with the boy I like? — P.D., Reedsburg, Wis.

A. A lady may always refuse an invitation. You may say, quite truthfully, that you have "tentative" plans and therefore cannot accept his invitation. This will give him a chance to say that he will ask you again later — and, if he does and your first date has not come through, you still are free to go with this boy.

Q. What is the proper way to dress for a Junior-Senior Banquet — the best color evening dress, the type of purse and shoes? — L.E., Trenton, S.C.

A. Dress your age. A pastel-colored dress is most suitable, with matching or contrasting slippers. Matching evening bag and slippers would look pretty, if you have them; if not, the shoes could match the dress and an evening bag of gold or silver would pick up an accent color from the dress. The important thing is to discuss this with the other girls; when you know what they are going to wear, you will avoid looking freakish yourself.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS will be answered as space permits. (Miss Vanderbilt cannot answer letters personally.) Address: Amy Vanderbilt, PARADE, 285 Madison Ave., New York 17, N.Y.

PRESIDENT OF THE BROOKLYN DODGERS

as told to JOHN DEVANEY

BROOKLYN, N.Y.

One of the most spectacular plays in baseball history occurred in the 1920 World Series between our Dodgers and Cleveland. With men on first and second, Brooklyn's Clarence Mitchell slammed a line drive at the Cleveland second baseman, who caught it, tagged the runner from first and stepped on second for an unassisted triple play.

That's a play rarely seen in baseball and never before or after in a Series. Yet I'm sure not one fan in 20 could tell me the name of that second baseman. He was not one of the all-time greats, he never made the Hall of Fame, but he turned in a play a Series may never see again.

There are many others like him, forgotten major-leaguers who should be remembered for what they did during one great play or short period of an otherwise ordinary career. What I would like to suggest, therefore, is an addition to baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., to honor those players and keep alive the memory of their plays. (Some of my own favorite great plays are shown in photos on these and the next two pages.)

Let me make this clear: I don't mean for this annex to let run-of-the-mill players into the Hall of Fame. The annex would be a separate part of the Hall at Cooperstown. In fact, it would include plays by many Hall of Famers; any great play — whether turned in by a famous star or a nobody — would be honored.

Such an exhibit, I think, would make a terrific impression on youngsters visiting Cooperstown. It would let them realize that baseball's great plays were not all performed by the super-stars; many were turned in by ordinary players who met a challenge by briefly rising above their natural talents to greatness. That's an example many kids would profit by following.

To make up the exhibit, photographs of the great play itself — if obtainable — could be mounted with whatever other mementos are available — the ball, bat or glove used, the uniform or spikes worn that day, the official scorecard and so on.

On what basis should the greatest plays of all time be picked? I'd be willing to leave that up to the men who would do the choosing — fans, sportswriters or whoever might be named — just as we now leave it to sportswriters to vote for Hall of Famers each year. Granted, some arguments might crop up over the choices, but I've found that a good rhubarb never hurts baseball.

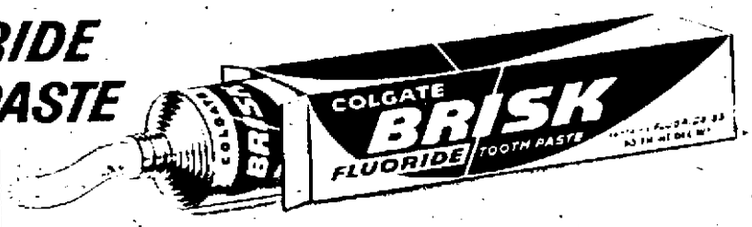

PARADE asked me to list some of the plays I'd like to see immortalized. There are many, but I know of 10 that certainly should be included. Seven of these are described in the captions under the photos on these pages. Here are the remaining three:

- Bill Wambsganss' triple play — did you remember his name? — in the 1920 Series.
- Duke Snider's four homers in the '52 Series.
- Carl Hubbell's whiffing of Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Joe Cronin, Jimmy Foxx and Al Simmons in the 1934 All-Star game.

Let's put those great moments where they belong — in baseball's shrine.

gives extra protection Fluoride alone can't give—works best where you need it most Brisk's Fluoride concentrates in weak or "soft" spots where decay usually starts — combines with and becomes part of the tooth enamel — thus protects as no other decay-fighter can. And Brisk's stay-active decay-fighter reaches into crevices between teeth — starts working instantly to defeat decay.

CYD CHARISSE:

A dancer starts to act

For 14 years she's been 'promising.'

Now the promise may be coming true

HOLLYWOOD,

For the past 10 years the long-stemmed dancing beauty at left has been touted here as one of the screen's great potential stars. Each time she twirls her graceful, frequently torrid way through a movie, some studio executive says flatly, "The kid's got everything. From here on in she can't miss."

They said it first in 1945, when Cyd Charisse danced in Ziegfeld Follies; in 1951, when she flitted through Singin' in the Rain with Gene Kelly; two years later, when she scored with Fred Astaire in The Band Wagon. Today, her notable job in Meet Me in Las Vegas has the prophets talking overtime.

And for the first time in her 14-year, 23-film career, the gentle, brown-eyed actress believes that what they say may be true.

"In most of my pictures," she softly explains, "I've just been a dancer. In order to catch on with the public you just can't do specialty numbers. You've got to come alive as a personality so that people identify you as warm or funny or ladylike or something.

"Meet Me in Las Vegas is the first real acting break I've ever had out here. It's the first time a part was actually created for me so that I could generate a little personality.

"It's proved to me that, given a good script, I can be accepted as an actress as well as a dancer. Maybe from this point on, I'll get better pictures and a larger following . . ."

This undemanding approach is typical of Cyd. Most actresses fight, conspire, try by any means to land meaty roles. But Charisse has been serene and impassive about her movie progress since 1948 — the year she married crooner Tony Martin and decided that thenceforth marriage would come first, career second.

Behind that conclusion lay a background stretching all the way to Amarillo, Tex., where Cyd was born 33 years ago. Daughter of a jeweler named Ernest Finklea, she was christened Tula Ellice. She began taking dancing lessons at the age of 6. The purpose, according to her mother, "was to give the child an appetite. She was always tall and thin." What the lessons actually gave her was a driving ambition to become a great ballerina.

The summer his dancing daughter was 12, Ernest Finklea took his family to Hollywood. Cyd auditioned for Nico Charisse, former ballet master for Fanchon & Marco. "Your daughter has talent," Charisse announced. "If you will stay here and work with me, I am sure she will become a big star."

Cyd stayed. For three years she practiced eight to 10 hours per day. By the time she was 16 she was so proficient that she was signed by the famed Ballet Russe. She also fell in love with her teacher, who was 20 years her senior.

They were married in France (the bride was 17), then returned to Hollywood and a small apartment. Soon they were joined by Cyd's mother, brother — and resultant strife. After a son, Nico, Jr., was born, Cyd went to work in films. A bit part in Something to Shout About set her ambition to flame. Three more pictures, and her career became more important to her than her marriage. Under the circumstances the latter went to pot.

"I was much too young," Cyd now admits, "to know what marriage was all about. I was interested in getting ahead as a dancer. To me that's what counted."

The Charisses were divorced in 1947. By then Cyd had given the screen everything she had, but stardom had eluded her. Gradually she revised her sense of values. After she married Tony Martin, she was offered the lead opposite Gene Kelly in An American in Paris (which later won the Academy Award), but turned it down to honeymoon in Europe with her new husband.

"My No. 1 job," she said at the time, "is to keep Tone happy. After that comes my career. You see, I've learned that a career is a very nice thing to have. Only you can't talk to it on lonely nights."

Cyd still feels that for her marriage and family are paramount. When Tony is singing in top night spots in Las Vegas, Chicago or New York, Mrs. Martin accompanies him — unless she is needed at home by her two sons, Nico, Jr. (now 15) or Tony, Jr. (5).

MR. AND MRS. Tony Martin: She claims keeping him happy still is her No. 1 job.

Ironically, Cyd's career has gone much better since she abandoned overambition. She is genuinely well-liked in film circles. Although she appears devastatingly sexy on-screen, she is open-faced and friendly off. "If Meet Me in Las Vegas leads to bigger and better parts," she says, "that's great. If not, I'll be just as happy as Mrs. Tony Martin."

At MGM, however, the big boys insist that Cyd is finally ready for stardom. They've penciled her in for the leads in two forthcoming pictures, Silk Stockings and Designing Woman. And it may well be that after 14 years their star of promise is at long last ready for the top rung of the success ladder. ■

They Take It on the Lamb Again

Noted explorers and authors, Dana and Ginger Lamb are off again on another hazardous trek in Latin America, this time through the Nicaraguan jungle.

This photo shows the Lambs deep in the jungle on an earlier expedition, toting needed supplies on backs.

By Jule Armin

DANA AND GINGER LAMB, an intrepid exploring pair whose desire for adventure dates back to their high school days in Santa Ana, are off to Latin America again on another of their quests, this time to Nicaragua.

At the personal suggestion of President Somosa of Nicaragua, the Lambs will attempt to make their way, on foot and unaccompanied, over the route of the proposed Nicaragua Canal. Documentary films of the country, its people, its modern capital and historical ruins will be made, Dana Lamb stated as he traced their route on a map.

"Nicaragua is the only logical place for a passage linking the Pacific and Atlantic, and the route offered there is better than that of the Panama Canal," he said. "This route also is 500 miles shorter from New York to San Francisco and easier to defend in case of another war."

"THAT IS WHY the question of who builds that canal is of importance to us all," Ginger sums up for her husband, her blue eyes shining with as much enthusiasm as his. They do everything together and have become so interdependent through their years of life-and-death adventuring that they automatically complete each other's thoughts.

The Lambs' previous experience in Latin America should be a great help in the problems they are bound to meet in this new adventure. They started their private explorations when they married some 20 years ago. Playmates and schoolmates in Santa Ana, they had always dreamed of high adventure and trained themselves toward that end by becoming expert swimmers, crack shots and masters of woodcraft. They studied everything that might help qualify them in the field of exploration, from medicine and archaeology, to engineering and photography.

"If two people could travel alone," they told each other, "the chances of reaching their objective would be just that much better. It would mean they'd have to forage for their food and other necessities as they moved along. . . . But I'll bet we could do it!"

TO TEST THEIR THEORY, they built a tiny boat, a frail combination of sailboat, kayak, surfboard and canoe, then spent a year training along the coast of lower California. They designed and made their own equipment, getting it down to 150 pounds, including food, ammunition and camera supplies. Their confidence bolstered by experience, they got ship's papers on their mongrel craft, "The Vagabunda." With $4.20 left and a two-week supply of food, they set off from San Diego to continue some 16,000 miles, and are on record as the smallest boat ever to go through the Panama Canal.

For three years they made the jungle furnish their food, clothing, shelter and repair materials. They rode out terrific storms, were swamped by a school of whales, had more than one fight with sharks, and were wrecked many times. They were trapped in an extinct volcano, bitten by every tropical pest from bugs to a mad coyote, lived with tribes who had never before seen white men, experienced tropic fevers and even an attack of appendicitis without losing one whit of their enthusiasm for the rugged type of life they had chosen.

HOME AT LAST, they recounted their adventure in "Enchanted Vagabond," Harper's "find" book of the year, still selling in its 28th edition.

After a national lecture tour, the Lambs set off again, this time in search of an elusive "lost city," last stronghold of the Mayas, who had fled from Cortez. With their packs on their backs, Dana and Ginger hiked 2,000 miles down the west coast of Mexico as a hardening up trip. They then obtained a dilapidated plane and spent three months flying over the area before finding a clue, locked deep in the jungle. They made several heart-breaking attempts to reach the lost city on foot. Still short of their goal, they returned to civilization to serve the government as a special service team during war years. A second attempt to complete their search ended with a hurricane destroying all their film and cameras. Undaunted, they started from scratch again and eventually slashed their way into the "Forbidden Land" and reached their goal.

"Quest for the Lost City," the story of that experience, was subsequently published by Harper's and seems destined to follow the unprecedented popularity of "Enchanted Vagabond."

"LECTURE TOURS, writing and new plans have kept us busy," Ginger says. "But civilization soon palls after the active outdoor life we've become accustomed to. We are glad to get on the trail again, knowing that no matter what hardships we may encounter, we'll always be discovering something new and, we hope, worth while."

Dana's deeply tanned face creases in a boyish smile as he nods assent to Ginger's statement. He is as lithe and lean as a jungle animal.

"There's nothing much more pertinent to our welfare right now than the best course to take to keep America free," he said. "First-hand information on the problems and possibilities of a second interocean passage from the Pacific to the Atlantic will provide one of the answers and we are happy Nicaraguan President Somosa is offering us this chance to help get that information."

Dana takes a bearing to help plot a course through mountainous jungle terrain in land of ancient Mayas.

Ginger and Dana check gear and rolling stock on previous sortie into the wilds in which they employed small plane to assist in their exploration.

PATIENTS 'TUNE IN' NURSES

Long Beach Gains a Push-Button Hospital

IT'S THE FIRST complete general hospital built in Long Beach in 22 years.

Long Beach Osteopathic Hospital, 2776 Pacific Ave., occupying 4½ acres, the square block between 27th and 28th Sts., Pacific and Pine Aves., will be dedicated at 2 p. m. May 25 and will begin receiving patients in early June.

Equipped, it will cost $1,300,000.

Of Class A construction, concrete and steel, the only wood in the building is in the doors.

It will accommodate 100 patients, and it will open with 100 doctors and 145 employes.

THE BUILDING is T-shaped, with the bar of the "T" parallel with Pine, the entrance on Pacific.

Architect was Hugh R. Davies, and Stanton-Reed Co. was contractor.

"It will be a complete general hospital, equipped for major and minor surgery, general medicine, obstetrics, pediatrics, and with X-ray facilities including the latest equipment in therapy," explains Dr. Rufus A. Davis, president of the board of directors of Long Beach Osteopathic Hospital, Inc.

ADMINISTRATOR will be David W. Lawrence, who attended the University of Minnesota, received his first hospital training at Mayo Bros., and for eight years has been administrator of the San Gabriel Valley Hospital in San Gabriel.

Robert Craig, who was graduated two years ago from the University of Arizona, and since has served in a hospital in Safford, Ariz., will be resident administrator.

Other executives include Mrs. Nellie Shideler, superintendent of nurses; Mrs. Lillian Smalley, surgical supervisor; Mrs. Ruth Ware, executive secretary; Mrs. Louise Blair, executive housekeeper.

ALL ARE OUTSIDE rooms, with glass walls overlooking the yard which will be landscaped. Color is used throughout the hospital, with walls, ceiling, vertical Venetian blinds and bedspreads coordinated in tone.

The hospital will have an intercommunication system so that a patient may speak directly with the nurse at the nurses' station, and the nurse can listen to see if the patient is breathing regularly or is tossing restlessly.

All rooms are piped for oxygen and oxygen may be "plugged in" almost as simply as plugging in an electric fixture. Rooms will have radio speakers under the patients' pillows, and patients may have a choice of five stations.

AIR CONDITIONING and circulating heat make it possible to change the air throughout the hospital in 10 minutes.

Acoustical tile in the halls and acoustical plaster in the rooms deaden noise. Dish washing will be done in a sound-proof room. Each patients' wing has a solarium where patients may enjoy the sun in a glass enclosure.

The hospital has eight single rooms; other rooms will have two beds and four beds.

Beds will be electrically controlled. Normally they will be at average height from the floor. Doctor or nurse may raise the bed and then lower it.

ON THE FIRST FLOOR are the administrative wing, doctors' library, coffee shop which will serve 40 persons, all-electric stainless steel kitchen equipped to serve 200 persons, medical wing with 34 beds, out-patient department, X-ray and pathology departments.

The second floor is occupied by operating rooms, post-operative recovery room, 36 surgical beds, and the obstetrical wing with accommodations for 20 mothers and 24 babies — someone might have twins, triplets or even quadruplets! There are two labor rooms, two delivery rooms—four babies may be delivered at one time, in an emergency. There is a fathers' waiting room which administrators promise will be comfortably furnished. There also will be a doctors' room where doctors may dictate records transcribed in the records room adjacent to the doctor's library on the first floor.

TOP FLOOR WILL be given over to internes' quarters. The hospital expects to have eight internes.

Besides Dr. Davis, officers of Long Beach Osteopathic Hospital, Inc., are J. Merrill Lilley, vice president; Dr. Philip W. Reames, secretary; Dr. Nicholas Oddo, treasurer. Other members of the executive committee are Dr. Charles Poitevin, Gus Swanson, Dr. Laurence Houts and (honorary) Joseph Madden.

David W. Lawrence (l), hospital administrator, and Dr. Rufus A. Davis, board president, look over final phases of the building's construction.

Dr. Laurence Houts, member of board and executive committee, exhibits drawing showing how hospital grounds will look when completed.

Tom Sawyer Comes to Disneyland

DISNEYLAND is now past the half-way point in a spring construction program that will add 1½ million dollars in new rides and amusements to Walt Disney's Magic Kingdom in Anaheim.

Major areas of activity are Frontierland and the Tom Sawyer Island in the Rivers of America. More than $250,000 is being spent to make the island a "playland out of a youngster's dream."

On the island — named for and dedicated to the most famous youngster in American folklore — will be docks for fishing, hills to climb, caves to explore and an authentic replica of an old western log fort, named Fort Wilderness by Disney for the one that actually stood guard on America's frontier more than two centuries ago.

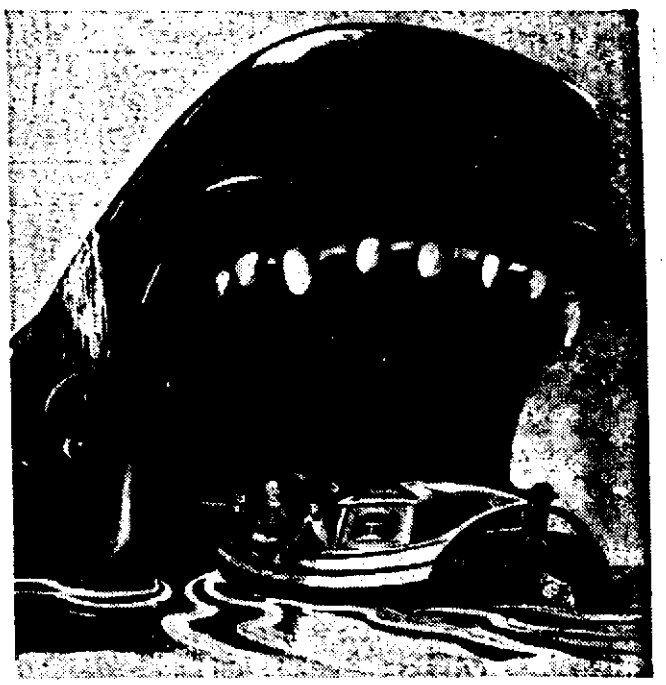

The fort will be complete even to parapets, where young marksmen can heft flintlocks and blunderbusses as they try their eye and hand in defense of the fort's rough hewn exterior.

Passage to and from the island, which is set for opening late this month, will be via Tom Sawyer rafts, Indian war canoes and Mike Fink keelboats. These will leave from several Frontierland locations along the river bank.

Frontierland itself will be the location of one of Disneyland's most spectacular attractions, The Rainbow Caverns.

Some $500,000 has been allocated by Disney for the construction of this ride — a trip aboard a cinder-spouting mine train deep into the heart of the earth. Pas-

Monstro the Whale, from the story of Pinocchio, will serve as the entrance to a new ride, Storybook Land.

All the joys of youth on adventure—fishing, climbing, exploring—await midsummer visitors to Disneyland where Tom Sawyer Island will open soon.

Walt Disney, touring Tom Sawyer Island, stops at the old grist mill which will be part of new attraction.

Cinder-spouting antique mining train will take visitors through most spectacular of Disneyland's four new rides, the Rainbow Caverns.

COLD, UNYIELDING ALCATRAZ

A Prison as Tough as Its Inmates

By Leonard Milliman

Associated Press Staff Writer

ALCATRAZ, only nine minutes by fast boat from San Francisco, has the toughest criminals and probably the most beautiful view of any prison in America.

It also has the most stringent rules and the least hope.

The island prison is as tough and unyielding as the rock upon which it was built in San Francisco Bay by the Spaniards in the 18th century. Convicts, already hardened to penitentiary life, need six months or more to get used to the inflexible restrictions of this maximum-security federal prison.

They are never out of sight of a guard. Not even in their pastel colored five by eight foot cells, where they spend most of their time.

The island has a prized view of San Francisco. But the inmates don't see its sparkling nighttime lights. They're locked in before dark with a view only of rose-colored bars on three tiers of facing cells. There's a

First "Good Citizenship Day" press book is viewed by Mrs. F. Ray Elsey. Charlie Walter (L). Dr. A. C. Meigs. Day is believed forerunner of "I Am an American Day."

Our Patriotic 'First'

By Vera Williams

WHEN "I Am an American Day" is observed over the nation May 21, honoring foreign-born who have become American citizens, few persons will realize that the day had its genesis in Long Beach.

It began here June 27, 1939 as "Good Citizenship Day."

In the intervening years it has changed both its name and its purpose. It began as a way of honoring not foreign-born but native-born American boys and girls who had reached 21 years of age and thus had become American citizens.

Many residents remember that first "Good Citizenship Day" and its evening program in Municipal Auditorium, sponsored by Karle B. Morgan Post, American Legion, and Troop 14, Boy Scouts.

FOUR HUNDRED YOUNG persons who had become 21 years old that year received gold-bordered certificates presented by John R. Quinn, past national commander of the American Legion.

Atty. Joseph Scott of Los Angeles made a patriotic address; the municipal band directed by Herbert L. Clarke played patriotic music. Superior Judge Walter Desmond administered the oath of allegiance to the young citizens.

A group from the Long Beach Players' Guild, directed by Larry Johns and with Monte Blue as narrator, presented a skit, "When Country Calls," dramatizing the life of Nathan Hale, patriot. The skit was written by Capt. Charles D. Baylis, U. S. Marine Corps (Ret.), holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor. Capt. Baylis, incidentally, was in charge of American Legion relief work in Long Beach after the 1933 earthquake.

Cast of "When Country Calls" included Audrey Johnson, Dick Buffum, Jack Murray, Frank Fahr, Dorothy Warren, Dick Hoffman, Bob Carey, Walter Truax, Lowell Weeks, Russell Self, Walter Case Jr., Bob Davis and Fremont Shaver.

AQUEDUCT POST 342, American Legion, color guard, then national champion, presented the colors. Commander J. P. Forsander was master of ceremonies and Commander Frank H. Lash gave the invocation.

Dr. Arthur C. Meigs, commander, and Charlie Walter, adjutant, of Karle B. Morgan Post, were in charge of arrangements for the program.

Julius Young did a yeoman job of publicizing it, and the yellowing newspaper clippings compiled by Young are in a press book in the possession of Charlie Walter, shop instructor at John Dewey Continuation High School.

Walter, who was the post's first commander when it was organized in 1933 and has been its adjutant most of the time since, gives credit for "Good Citizenship Day" ("I Am An American Day") to Mrs. F. Ray Elsey, whose husband was post commander in 1938.

In 1934, Mrs. Elsey, American-Ization chairman of the California District Federation of Women's Clubs, and a group of friends attended naturalization hearings in Los Angeles.

"IT'S ALL RIGHT to honor foreign born when they become American citizens," said Mrs. Elsey, "but how about our own boys and girls who become citizens when they are 21 years old? How about a program honoring them?"

When Dr. Meigs became commander of Morgan Post, he suggested Good Citizenship Day as a project.

Karle B. Morgan Post began boosting the day and the program. Mayor Clarence E. Wagner issued a proclamation calling for observance of the day.

THE LONG BEACH program that night of June 27, 1939, was not the first, but the third in the nation. Previous programs were conducted in Manitowoc, Wis. (the wife of a Manitowoc professor had been in the group which had heard Mrs. Elsey make the first suggestion), and in Hollywood Bowl.

Dr. Meigs took the project to the Legion's Department of California convention, which approved it. At the national Legion convention that year it was made a mandate. "Good Citizenship Day" programs were to be an annual national project of the American Legion.

Programs were conducted in Long Beach for four years.

"We feel," say Walter, Dr. Meigs and Mrs. Elsey, "that our 'Good Citizenship Day' was the origin of 'I Am An American Day.'

"We approve of honoring foreign-born citizens, but we regret that nothing more is done in a public way to honor our own American lads and girls when they get to be 21, and citizens."

Attraction for touring Long Beach folk is this covered bridge at Knight's Ferry, constructed in 1854.

Over the Covered Bridge

By Beulah Fear

SINCE SPRING has "turned the corner," Long Beach sightseers are fanning out in every direction on interesting trips. One such trek not to be overlooked is to the Knights Ferry country, in central California. For Knights Ferry, on Hwy. 13, 12 miles east of Oakdale, is an old mining town and trading post, a relic of the Gold Rush.

This is the territory that Mark Twain and Bret Harte made famous, and it was here that the '49ers were ferried across the rampaging Stanislaus River in a crude barge by William Knight—for whom the town was named — and not by helicopter or modern ferries like those at Wilmington and Coronado. It was the first ferry on the Stockton-Sonora road which led to the Mother Lode.

HERE MAY BE seen the picturesque old covered bridge, built across the Stanislaus in 1854.

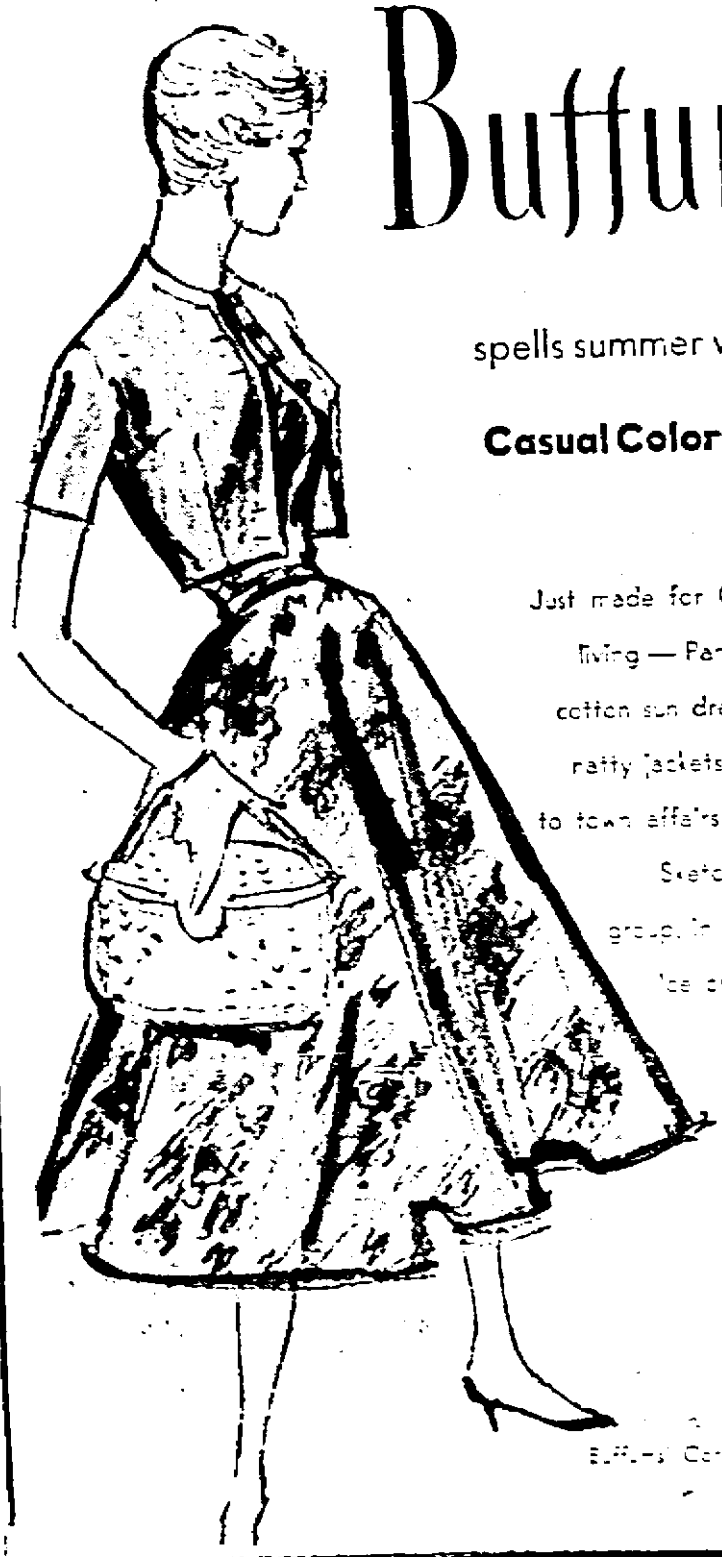

Knight arrived in 1841 with the Workman-Rowland party, a fur trader and scout for Capt. Fremont, and operated the ferry until his death. It was then taken over by John and Lewis Dent, brothers-in-law to Ulysses B. Grant, then an army captain on duty in California. Grant visited the Dents in 1854 and while there designed the bridge.

Knights Ferry was the county seat of Stanislaus County from 1862 to 1872. For a time it was called Dentville and then restored to its original name. After the bridge was built Lewis Dent joined the Army, becoming aide-de-camp to Gen. Grant. Later, during Grant's presidency, he was United States minister to Chile. The Dent home, built in the early 1850s, still stands on the hill back of the town.

Other interesting ruins there are a saw mill built in 1862, a grist mill, traces of the jail, said to be the strongest on the Mother Lode, and the ruins of a stage station.

HOLLYWOOD

Brando Sings!

NOT SINCE billboards and posters in the early days of talking pictures heralded the fact that "Garbo Talks!" has any Hollywood news item inspired such interest and curiosity as another two-word announcement stemming from Samuel Goldwyn's CinemaScope production of "Guys and Dolls."

This time, the news is—"Brando Sings!"

Normally the film capital is able to remain reasonably calm about its spectacular doings. But even the most blase of Hollywood insiders agreed that Producer Goldwyn, who has sprung many a surprise in his 43-year career, had achieved a master stroke of showmanship by casting Marlo Brando as a song-and-dance man in his multimillion dollar filmization of the record-breaking Broadway stage musical.

COULD BRANDO SING? Nobody knew for sure. Goldwyn, who admittedly considers him the greatest actor, felt instinctively that so unique a performer could do anything.

The star himself was not so certain. His first reaction, as quoted by columnists, was, "I can carry a tune—if the handles are big enough. I've never sung anything that could be heard outside the shower curtain. But if Mr. Goldwyn is willing to take the risk, I might as well go along with him."

However, he did not approach the challenge of his first song-and-dance role with a leave-it-to-luck attitude. Joseph L. Mankiewicz, who wrote the screen play of "Guys and Dolls" and also directed the picture, earlier had directed Brando in another notable "first"—his introduction to Shakespeare in M-G-M's "Julius Caesar." Mankiewicz respected Brando as a "thinking actor" and knew him to be one of the hardest working members of his profession.

SEVERAL WEEKS before filming began, Brando visited a Los Angeles recording studio with Frank Loesser, composer of the original "Guys and Dolls" score. Brando sang a chorus of the song, "I'll Know," one of the numbers which he was to do in the picture as a duet with Jean Simmons. He and Loesser listened to the playback.

"Sounds like the mating call of a yak," muttered Brando.

Loesser's criticism was more encouraging. "Brando's is an untrained voice," he reported to Goldwyn, "with a pleasing, husky baritone quality. With hard work, he can do it."

THE HARD WORK began. Singly and together, Brando and Miss Simmons (also new to the song-and-dance field) spent long hours rehearsing with Loesser and Jay Blackton, musical conductor.

Brando felt he had one break. He was not called upon to sing with the second pair of "Guys and Dolls" stars, Frank Sinatra and Vivian Blaine, both, of course, celebrated vocal artists.

Brando survived Shakespeare without difficulty; now he's doing the role of a song-and-dance man.

"We're stuck with each other," he told Miss Simmons. "We can just sing along together and not bother anybody but each other."

TO INSURE a minimum of nervousness on the part of the singing novices, Mankiewicz closed the set to all visitors during their musical numbers, a move which only increased the curiosity of the Hollywood scribes.

One, citing the proverbial inside dope, compared Brando's singing in quality to that of Nat King Cole.

Brando grinned when he was told this. "Nat doesn't have a thing to worry about," he said.

ALCATRAZ, TOUGHEST PRISON

closeup view of the Golden Gate. But the prisoners don't see the sun set behind it in its golden glory.

THEIR CELLS ARE repeatedly shaken down for contraband. Head counts are frequent, by guards who know most of the men by face and name. Inmates can't leave the yellow prison building atop the island without passing through a "snitch box," a metal detector so sensitive it will ring an alarm for a pocket tin of aspirin. Going or coming through the high walled prison yard, they may be subject at any time to being frisked.

There's plenty of reason for all this caution on the blood spattered rock. Death and injury have marked repeated attempts of the escape-minded prisoners. Two made it one foggy night—but presumably drowned in the swift tidal currents that sweep past the island. Capture or death by gunfire ended all other attempts.

Worst incident was the battle of Alcatraz in 1946. Marines were called in before the three-day battle ended with 5 dead and 15 injured.

THE ROCK, which has been a fortress or a prison since man first moved onto it nearly two centuries ago, may be approached only by government boat. All others must stay 200 yards away or risk the fire of tower guards.

There are 65 civilian families living on the other side of the island, from the big yellow prison on the crest of the 12-acre rock.

You see the first bars, a soothing green, as you step through the door of the 47-year-old main building. They are bars of a huge gate controlled by an officer locked in a bullet-proof control room. Only he has the key to this room. It's a protection against convicts ever getting control of the prison.

THE CONTROL ROOM is a closed cubicle protected by 2½-inch thick bullet proof glass, with closed gun portals openable only from the inside, and double sheets of two-inch steel.

The entire prison arsenal—from revolvers and pistols to machine guns and tear gas—is locked in a vault accessible only from the control room.

The control room also has an elaborate communication system with phone or radio contact to all parts of the prison, including its eight guard towers, and with the Coast Guard.

The warden, Paul J. Madigan, can cut in on this communication at any time from his office 30 feet away. If necessary, he also has two-way radio so he can talk with the prisoners, just like in the movies.

LIKE A PRISONER, anyone visiting Alcatraz is never out of sight of a guard. He soon discovers that the prison has many barred gates, inside and out, and all in pairs. The second gate is not unlocked until the first gate has been locked behind anyone passing through.

Beyond the gates locked from the control room, where passers-through are watched by mirrors, lies the visiting room, also gated at each end. There, once a month, a convict may have visitors. But he never comes in contact with them. Prisoner and visitor are separated by a concrete wall. They may look at each other through a small glass panel and talk by telephone.

Beyond two more locked gates, in the center of the prison, are the cell blocks.

Each cell is five by eight by eight feet tall, equipped with bed, wash basin, toilet, two bookshelves and a writing table about the size of a briefcase. There are plugs for a radio on which the prisoner may listen by earphones to either of two stations from 6 p. m. until the lights go out at 9:30 p. m.

SPORTS ARE FAVORED radio fare.

Next to sports, Warden Madigan says, "the majority prefer to hear classical music and plays. A minority likes hillybilly music."

Prisoners are locked in their one-man cubicles at 5:30 each night and stay there until 7:30 the next morning. That means all prisoners. There are no trusties among this collection of America's most dangerous convicts.

What does the man in the cell do to pass the time besides listen to the radio? Well, he can talk in low tones to his neighbor. He can read. There are 9,500 books in the library and he can have as many as four at a time. He can buy his own books. Law books are popular, for many members of this group are continually trying to escape by legal means. He can subscribe to four magazines.

He may write. He's allowed to send out three letters a week and receive seven. A handful are writing fiction. Others paint. Prisoners may own musical instruments and play them on weekends.

DURING HOURS they are out of their cells, the convicts work except for brief recreation periods in the yard. About half work in the laundry or industrial shops, and the rest around the prison in the kitchen, dining room, library, or tending a cliff-side flower garden under the watchful eyes of tower guards.

Laundry and industrial jobs are prized. Convicts can earn money there. The pay scale runs from 10 to 25 cents an hour. Highest paying jobs are piece work. Top pay drawn for a piece worker is $66 in a month. The average is around $30 or $40.

Alcatraz doesn't necessarily get the men who have led the most violent lives of crime. It receives—usually in two shipments a year—convicts who proved too difficult to handle in other federal prisons. They're mostly murderers, robbers and the most dangerous men from Army disciplinary barracks.

The food on Alcatraz may not be the finest, but the calorie count is high—3,600 a day. A typical dinner consists of two frankfurters and rolls, a bowl of hot chili, parsley potatoes, pot fried sauerkraut, buttered carrots, bread, tea, one serving of mustard and one serving of banana pudding.

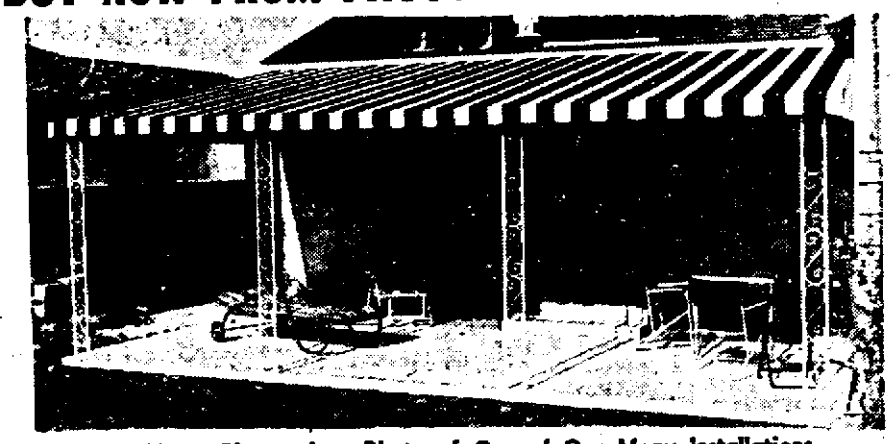

TEAR GAS BULBS, set in the ceiling, hang over the diners for use in case of riot. But they've never been used.

Prisoners can look forward to a couple of hours recreation on weekend afternoons and two movies a month.

They can dream of escaping by violent methods tried before or the more frequent petition for habeas corpus in the courts.

Or they can look forward to getting out in five years—that's the average stay at Alcatraz—by being transferred to a less confining prison with a less beautiful view.

COOKING

When the Forecast Is 'Showers'

May showers forecast June weddings and when a shower is in the offing, try peach melba meringue as treat.

By Mildred K. Flanary

Press-Telegram Home Economics Editor

JUST AS APRIL showers bring May flowers, it also follows that May showers bring June weddings. If you've a bride-to-be in your circle of friends and are planning a party for her, what could be more festive than individual baked meringues served as Peach Melba meringue for dessert?

Difficult, you say! Not so, and the thrill of serving them is well worth the effort. The fluffy snow drops of meringue baked in a circle have tiny flakes of rolled oats inside to give a toasty flavor. Nestled in the crispy mounds lies a golden peach half topped with a garnet sauce of thickened raspberries. Glamorous? It certainly is!

You'll puff with pride when your friends "oh" and "ah," but the secrets of success are simple. Using eggs at room temperature, begin adding the sugar slowly as soon as the egg whites are beaten to a soft foam. Keep adding the sugar gradually until the egg whites form glistening peaks. Just as important is a very slow oven so the meringues can dry out thoroughly before turning a delicate brown.

BE IT A SIMPLE luncheon or just a dessert party, these meringues hold a promise to delight all of your guests. You'll find that recipe featured elsewhere on this page.

Since showers are popular affairs at any time of the day — and should your guests be among the "no dessert" group, there are salads and sandwiches galore just chock full of appetite appeal, and blessed with edible promise. For the less pretentious occasion we suggest an avocado salad — but when you really want to rate yourself a halo, you'll like a hot chicken salad in cornmeal tulip cups.

The recipes for these and extra special sandwiches follow. We suggest you clip them for future use.

Avocado Salad

2 packages lime-flavored gelatine
2 cups boiling water
1½ cups cold water
¼ cup lemon juice
2 teaspoons horseradish
1 large avocado, sliced
1 cup grapefruit sections
½ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons pimiento

Dissolve gelatine in boiling water; add cold water, lemon juice and horseradish. Chill until mixture is partially set.

Carefully stir in avocado, grapefruit, celery and pimiento. Pour into mold and chill until firm. Makes 12 servings.

Hot Chicken in Cups

Chicken Salad:

3 cups cut-up cooked chicken
2 cups chopped celery
½ cup chopped blanched almonds
½ cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
2 tablespoons minced onion
¼ teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¾ cup mayonnaise
½ cup grated Swiss cheese

Tulip Cups:

3 cups sifted enriched flour
1 cup enriched cornmeal
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
⅔ cup water

Kitchen Tip:

When cooking jelly or jam, add a small piece of butter and there will be no foam to skim off the top.

Peach Melba Meringue:

Meringue:

4 egg whites
½ teaspoon vinegar
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
½ cup rolled oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)

Topping:

6 cooked peach halves, drained
One package frozen raspberries (1 to 2 cups)
1 teaspoon cornstarch

Add vinegar, vanilla and salt to egg whites. Beat to a stiff foam. Add sugar very gradually, about a tablespoon at a time, beating well after each addition. Continue beating until mixture stands in lustrous peaks. Lightly stir in the rolled oats.

Place heavy brown paper on cookie sheet. For each meringue, drop egg white mixture by tablespoons to form a circle on the paper. Five mounds make a nice-sized meringue. (Leave the center hollow and be sure the edges of the spoonfuls touch so meringue will hold together.) Bake in a very slow oven (275° F.) 45 minutes to 1 hour. Cool for a few minutes, then remove from paper.

Place a peach half on top of each meringue. Pour thickened raspberry sauce (made by stirring cornstarch into defrosted raspberries and heating until thickened, stirring occasionally) over peach halves. Serve immediately. Serves 6.

Combine ingredients for chicken salad.

For tulip cups, sift together dry ingredients. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add water a little at a time, until dough will just hold together. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently a few seconds. Divide dough in half; roll each half out to form a rectangle 10x15 inches. Cut into six 5-inch squares. Place squares in custard cups, shaping dough against the sides of the cups and allowing corners to hang over.

Fill each pastry-lined cup with chicken salad; place cups on cooky sheet and bake in hot oven (400° F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 12 tarts.

Flower Pot Sandwiches

36 (1") cubes enriched bread
1 (3-oz.) package cream cheese
1 tablespoon milk
3 dozen whole strawberries

Pull part of the center out of each bread cube with a pair of tweezers. Combine cream cheese and milk. Spread cheese over the sides and top rim of each cube. Make crosswise cuts in the pointed top of each strawberry and spread them open like flowers, leaving the hull on. Place a strawberry flower in the center of each cube. Yield: 36 flower pot sandwiches.

Double Ring Sandwiches

2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
½ cup chopped cooked bacon
3 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
3 slices whole wheat bread
3 slices enriched bread
1 tablespoon soft butter or margarine
1 dozen slices stuffed green olives

Combine eggs, bacon and mayonnaise. Cut each slice of bread into 2 (2") rounds with a cooky cutter, then cut the center from half of the rounds to form circles. Use whole wheat and enriched bread, all enriched or all whole wheat bread for each sandwich. Spread butter on bread rounds, then spread with 1 tablespoon egg salad-bacon filling. Place a circle of bread over egg-bacon filling and place a slice of stuffed olive in the center of each circle. Yield: 1 dozen double ring sandwiches.

For Better Apartment Living

Well-chosen, small-scale furniture suits present apartment of Mrs. Della Davidson, will be right in later and larger setting.

A dropleaf table of walnut occupies little space but is quickly converted to larger size for entertaining.

By Eileen Ball

PROBLEMS of living in an apartment are apparent — at least, in part — to anyone who has ever contemplated living in one. And those who have actually occupied a unit in a multiple dwelling are even more understanding of the typical conditions that must be overcome for graciousness of living.

First and most acute of the issues is that of privacy. With more than one family occupying a single structure, the maintenance of privacy becomes very necessary but difficult to achieve.

An apartment dweller also finds himself faced with a set of surroundings that are lacking in individuality; his unit is no more "personally his" than the one upstairs or down the court. And, after all, the need to feel "at home" is just as vital to the bachelor or bachelor-girl as it is for a family in a home of its own.

In furnishing an apartment, an eye must be kept on a future goal that of someday furnishing a more permanent abode. So it behooves the apartment dweller to select furniture of a quality and style that makes it worthy of an enlarged and possibly more elaborate setting later.

LAST, THE FACT that the average apartment is small in footage does not attest to the fact that the occupant hasn't as many interests in hobbies, collections and entertaining as does the owner of a more spacious home. Consequently, it becomes necessary to give profound thought to the arrangement of furniture, to the merits of double duty furniture and to utilizing limited footage to its greatest advantage.

Mrs. Della Davidson is typical of the working girl who sought an apartment convenient to her work and then tackled the above problems, each in turn. The result is that she is living comfortably in tasteful surroundings that make the interval between now and the day she buys a house of her own satisfying and gracious.

THE APARTMENT is located at 232 E. 25th St., in a quiet, well-maintained neighborhood. However, it is downstairs on the front with windows that virtually overlook the sidewalk, a deprivation of privacy in any location.

Furthermore, the footage is small and the north exposure has a tendency to make the rooms glum without the assistance of bright, clear color.

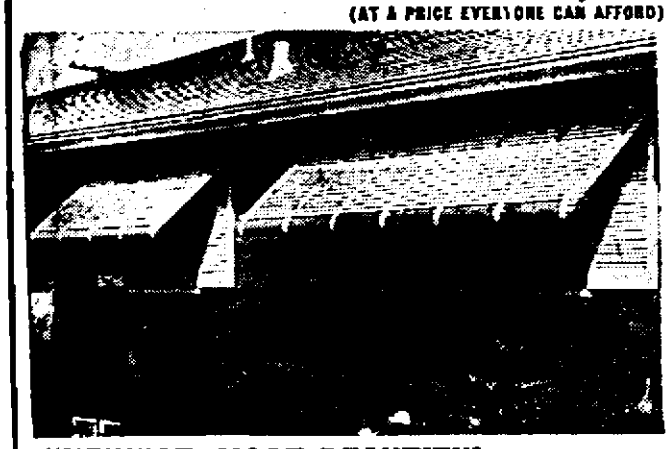

Taking the exposure into consideration, along with the physical properties of the apartment, Mrs. Davidson's decorator was able to create an interior that is tastefully individual, that has an appearance of greater footage, that plays up the good architectural features of the unit, minimizes what is less attractive and includes items of furniture of such lasting taste and construction that Mrs. Davidson need only add to them later.

The walls of the apartment's

FABRIC FOR traverse, floor-length draperies is stark white antique satin—an opaque fabric that closes out view yet invites light. Thus the monochromatic color scheme for the area is established—transcending from the bright, clear turquoise of the sofas to the paler wall color and to the ultimate pure white of the draperies.

For sparkle, small splashes of clear citrus yellow and orange have been used. An occasional pillow of each color sparks the sofas that face each other before a bay window draped in white. And a pair of low, teak-frame Danish Dux chairs with cushions upholstered in orange

A Night in an Enchanted Forest

A night in an enchanted forest finds Demetrius (Ron Albertsen) and Lysander (Carl Pearlston) pleading love for Helena (Pat Stites) while Hermia (Susan Croxton) finds self spurned by both.

"A MIDSUMMER Night's Dream," Shakespeare's great comedy of young lovers and the night they spend in an enchanted forest, will be presented by Long Beach State College Department of Drama in six public performances.

Dates will be May 24, 25 and 26 and June 1 and 2. Curtain time for all evening performances will be 8:30, while the one matinee will be at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, June 2.

This will be the first time that Shakespeare has been done at LBSC.

DR. W. DAVID SIEVERS of the drama department will direct the cast of 30 students. Leading another large group of students behind the stage, Dr. John H. Green, also of the department of drama, is responsible chiefly for designing and making the original scenery.

Attractions of the production will include the appearance of Albert Ruiz' student dancers, costumes designed by Aline Gronendyke, and the use of Mendelssohn's "Incidental Music."

"A Midsummer Night's Dream" has an impressive cast containing three main groups of actors: (1) Athenian nobles (which include three pairs of lovers), (2) Athenian comic craftsmen (among whom is the memorable Bottom), and (3) the magical personages consisting of Oberon, Titania, Puck, and the fairies around them.

SOME OF THE LEADING parts (and their actors) in this particularly large cast are Theseus (Bob Sorrells), Hippolyta (Margot Coons), Egeus (Elson Irwin), Hermia (Susan Croxton), Lysander (Carl Pearlston), Helena (Pat Stites), Demetrius (Ron Albertsen), Bottom (Ed Cohen), Oberon (Charles Lawrence), Titania (Jonine Booth), and Puck (Lee Gayer).

Other unique innovations taking shape behind stage will be featured in this large-scale presentation of Shakespeare's most glorious comedy. Working from a miniature, plastic model of the various scenes Dr. Green constructed, backstage crews are assembling three large "trucks" (platforms on rollers) easily revolved to create the illusion of a change of scene, although one is seeing simply the back of the previous scene. Using six different recordings of Mendelssohn's music, Dr. Sievers has created (through careful editing and dubbing) a composite, high fidelity tape-recording of selected passages to complement action throughout the play. This will be given stereophonic effects by the use of five amplifiers.

"MODIFIED GREEK classical" comes nearest to describing most of the costumes. However, those of the fairies (Moth, Peaseblossom, Snake, and the others) are a definite departure from the traditional, flowing "tutu" by suggesting the things each represents.

Equally busy with their respective duties, a good number of other students are making varied contributions essential to a successful production. Stage Manager Sally Young and her assistants are responsible for a multitude of activities—chiefly those that take place at the many rehearsals. Ruiz' dancers will perform before audiences thanks to a newly constructed forestage covering the orchestra pit and greatly extending the stage. New lighting and sound effects are being produced by John Elliott and Paul Frankel, respectively. Costumes are being made by Honore Mallet and Jack Albright with the help of Mrs. Maxine Merlino's art class in theatre design. Dick Garrett is designing an inner curtain (to be used in the true Shakespearean tradition), while Jim Isenberg heads a crew collecting props, and Charles Sone works with others on publicity.

The impish sprite Puck (Lee Gayer), at left, is responsible for most romantic mixups in play. Jonine Booth (right) has part of Queen of the Fairies.

It's New! Art in Correspondence

Thirty-one well-known artists—among them Ervine Metzl, Adolf Dehn, Oscar Fabres, Lorraine Fox and Tasha Tudor—set the scene for pleasant social correspondence with gentempting design for letter papers and notes in what American Artists Group calls its "Art in Correspondence." Designed to fill a practical need in this age of busy, informal living, the stationery puts the art of correspondence into current step with other social arts. There are letter papers, social cards and thank-you notes set in a variety of artistic themes.

sengers will be treated to such visual spectacles as the Underground River showing flocks of gold in its course, the Stalactite and Stalagmite Caverns, the many-colored waterfall and a wide range of unbelievable sights, all presented with the world famous "Disney touch."

Completion of the Rainbow Caverns is scheduled for mid-June.

SECOND OF THE "LANDS" of the Magic Kingdom to receive major attention is Fantasyland, the world of storybook-become-reality.

This summer's more than 2,000,000 visitors will find new enchantments here as they ride charming canal boats into Storybook Land, an area dedicated to the presentation — in miniature — of scenes from the world's great stories of folklore.

Entrance to the ride will be through the wide, gaping mouth of Monstro, the gigantic terror of the deep from "Pinocchio."

Scenes along the way will include Sleeping Beauty's Castle, the Seven Dwarfs' Cottage from "Snow White," English Gardens as Alice might have seen them on her "Adventures in Wonderland," and the houses of the "Three Little Pigs."

WALT'S WORLD of the Future — Tomorrowland — is receiving its share of attention, also.

Two totally new rides — both to Disneyland and the United States — will liven the Tomorrowland scene. The first, the Astrojet, has already been installed and is in full operation.

Second of these may be rated as Disneyland's most spectacular: A Skyway that will treat riders to a unique aerial view of the Magic Kingdom. Passengers will board giant aluminum baskets at both Fantasyland and Tomorrowland terminals and soar high in the air between these two lands, over Holiday Hill and the Tomorrowland Lake.

All four of Disneyland's amazing realms will be spread out beneath the passengers, offering camera fans exceptional angles for their snapshots.

THESE MAJOR additions will be only a part of the full spring expansion plan to be paid for out of the 1½ million dollar budget.

Other projects now in the process of completion include a completely new Indian Village in Frontierland, relocation of the bandstand from the Plaza to Frontierland and the development of "Magnolia Park," around the area of the Frontierland Depot.

Commenting on his plans for Disneyland's expansion, Walt Disney noted that "Disneyland will never be completed. We plan to continue to add to the park for years to come, so that each return visit will be a new experience for our guests."

BOOK REVIEWS

A Man to Be Remembered

ROLF STEINER as presented by the German writer Willi Heinrich in his novel about World War II, "The Cross of Iron" (Bobbs-Merrill, $4.50) is a man to be remembered. Steiner was brave to the point of being foolhardy, outstanding in strength among strong men and equipped with a brain which functioned best under stress. As leader of a platoon trapped behind Russian lines, Steiner met one desperate situation after another with his ice-skate thinking and unlimited bravery. And he at last brought the platoon through to the safety of German trenches—in uniforms stolen from Russian women soldiers.

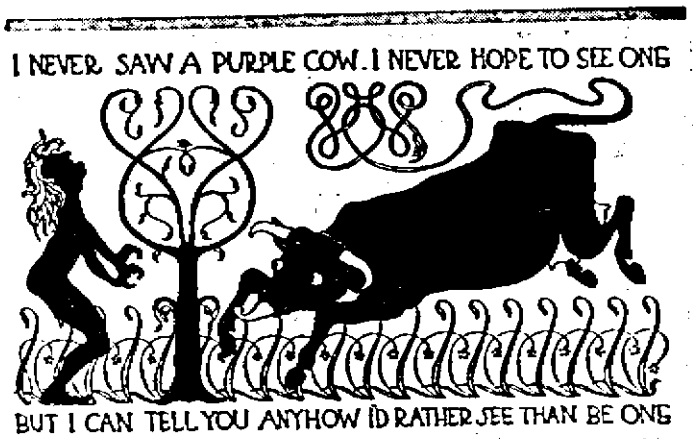

This is brutally honest writing. It is a picture of the German soldier written from his viewpoint. It shows how he looked at himself, his superior officers, at the war in general. And he doesn't appear to have been much different than the American GI Joe in this respect.

The book stirred up controversy in Germany and it is likely to do the same in America. It is bound to move any reader. The author is a previously unknown ex-soldier of the German Wehrmacht. Nothing seems to have been lost in the translation by Richard and Clara Winston—P.F.

HENRY MILLER somehow did not find himself until he went abroad in the 1930s and spent a decade in Paris. There, possibly inspired by his life of wine, women and song, he wrote "Tropic of Cancer," a sizzler which, although praised by many important figures in the literary world, nevertheless became so controversial in the United States that it was banned in most states by law. Miller's life as a writer, his good times and bad in Paris, and finally his life back in the United States (he now paints water colors at his Big Sur, Calif. home) is told by an intimate acquaintance, Alfred Perles, in "My Friend, Henry Miller" (John Day, $4). He writes interestingly, too, but with evident restraint in dealing with actual experiences with this man of the world—F. T. K.

WHEN HE WAS a small boy in Kentucky, Joseph C. Ward, now a Kentucky educator, listened fascinated as his grandfather told about his adventures as a California '49er. Ward has incorporated many of these stories in "My Grandpa Went West" (The Caxton Printers, Ltd., $4), a good book for boys and girls. Grandpa was the leader of his wagon train, he licked a bully on the banks of the Colorado, he faced Red Flannagan, the most dreaded gunman of his time. Then Grandpa had tremendous luck—he found a nugget worth $15,000! Grandpa returned by sea, taking over when the captain of the ship became incapacitated. He and the crew battled a storm. Back home, Grandpa became sheriff of Warren County, Ky., and he had a brush with the James boys. The book is illustrated by Betty Jo Roter, also a Kentuckian.

SOME OF THE BEST writing now published is done by the wide-swinging science fictioneers. Standard fiction has seemed to decrease in imagination as it gained in polish and style. But there is no frontier beyond which the authors present in "Adventures in Mutation" edited by Groff Conklin (Vanguard, $3.75) will not go. Mutations are the unexpected departures from standard beings, and writers like Murray Leinster, Fredric Brown, Theodore Sturgeon and 17 other worthies do their best work in these short stories.

SAN FRANCISCO had just about everything in its gay, unrestrained years between 1880 and the 1906 earthquake, even a famous Bohemian quarter. The "voice" of that segment of the population was a little publication called The Lark, in which its founder and editor, Gelett Burgess, put such whimsical nonsense as "The Purple Cow," which appeared as illustrated here and which subsequently became famous in its day. Oscar Lewis, one of the best chroniclers of the old west alive, writes with charm about the gaslit years of San Francisco—including Burgess—in "Bay Window Bohemia" (Doubleday, $3.95), a book every westerner will want for his library.

A BOOK which should contribute greatly to happy marriages in this busy world is "The Sexual Responsibility of Woman" (Dial, $4). Of the author, Lester S. Blumenthal, M. D., says in his introduction: "Maxine Davis has spent many years working with and writing for women. Her work is highly regarded by both lay leaders and medical men who deal with the subject . . . the author is in an excellent position to present a work of this magnitude."

AFTER THE FAMED TRIP of Lewis and Clark to the Pacific Ocean, an interest grew in the new lands. "By Sea on the Tonguin" by Cecil Pearl Dryden (The Caxton Printers, Ltd., $4.50) is the voyage inspired by John Jacob Astor in 1810. The ship was to sail around the Horn, and to visit the Sandwich Island, and then reach the Oregon coast. This is good history, an account of a venture which resulted in the founding of Astoria and the start of the fur trade in the west.

A VERY DELIGHTFUL little book is "Two and Three Make One" by Winifred Woodley (Crown, $2.75). This account is so highly personal that it is published under a pen name, the true author being a quite well known woman writer. The years between 1935 and 1940 are given in diary form, and the reader will grow very near to the wife and mother of three children. This has a sparkle and a lift to it, and the reader will develop a great affection for the "Woodleys."

THE MOST IMPORTANT factor in mental or physical survival of torture is a man's spirit, Edward Hunter concludes in "Brainwashing" (Farrar, Straus and Cudahy, $3.75). The book reviews specific instances of Communist brainwashing of American prisoners, mostly during the Korean war. Hunter believes Stalin saw in brainwashing a way to a "perfect" state, consisting of complete conformists.

FROM THE LEGENDS of Alexander to the skin divers of today, "Man and the Underwater World" (Putnam's, $5) traces the fact and fantasy of underseas life. Most of the book, alas, is devoted to a wearying analysis of the fantasies of mythology. Written by two Frenchmen, Pierre de Latil and Jean Rivoire, the work finally does get to modern-day skin diving and thus, finally, becomes interesting.—G. C. F.

"MAD RIVER" is one of two new Dell First Editions now on the stands at 25 cents. In it, Donald Hamilton tells a fast-moving yarn typical of the new westerns where the characters are not all white or black but varying shades of gray. Western fans will like it. The second book is "Atlantic Avenue" by Albert Halper. It is a good story of the frustrated people who inhabit the New York street.

SOME OF THE MOST APPEALING glimpses of the west ever to find their way into print won quick acceptance in 1947 when David Lavender, now a Southern Californian, published his "One Man's West." Revised and brought up-to-date to include a chapter on uranium, this book has just been reissued (Doubleday $3.95) for more westerners to "discover" and enjoy. A wealth of line drawings by William Arthur Smith, which includes the one reproduced above, spark the attractive new edition.

stand side by side within the conversational grouping.

A small dining area has been furnished with a plain and handsome walnut drop leaf table that may be readily expanded for company dining. Chairs are walnut of contemporary design with seats upholstered in a fabric compatible with the sofas.

IN THE DINING area hangs an amusing scroll bordered top and bottom with black lacquered wood dowels. On the scroll are depicted abstract snipe designs in the clear, bright greens, yellows and oranges used to highlight the apartment's color scheme.

The one other accent to the setting is seen in brass accessories that have been used with effectiveness. A table lamp stands on a triangular teak table within the living room bay, its base of gleaming brass copied from an eastern altar candlestick, its shade a large unadorned drum of pure white linen.

On the dining table stands a second brass candlestick together with a smaller brass candelabra of different design.

And to carry the color accent a step further Mrs. Davidson keeps a simple wicker basket of oranges and lemons on the table. Their usefulness in the kitchen is superseded by their aesthetic merits in the living area!

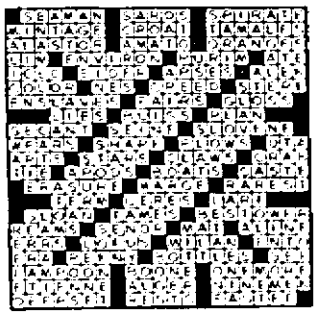

THE BEDROOM FEATURES a long, low walnut chest that serves as a spacious dresser but that is capable, in a new setting, of taking its place in living or dining area. (Mrs. Davidson was careful to avoid making major expenditures for furniture that hadn't an affinity for doing more than one job.)

The good-looking lamp that stands on the chest has a white ceramic base with an abstract design that, like a color wheel, progresses from yellow tones at the top to purples at the bottom. The drum shade is white. Here, again, is an item that can be used again in another setting in an entirely different capacity and be equally as "at home."

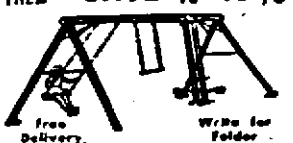

The small windows of the bedroom have been camouflaged behind a solid area of white, pleated traverse draperies like those of the living area. Besides creating a sense of continuity between the two rooms, the uninterrupted use of a single fabric for draperies throughout the apartment has the advantage of giving Mrs. Davidson more latitude in their re-styling for another place, should a move develop.

Going to Hawaii? Take Snorkel

THERE'S A NEW WAY of sightseeing in Hawaii — underwater swimming.

It's known as "snorkel swimming" and any swimmer can do it. Simply don fins, mask and snorkel, paddle around on the surface of the water at Waikiki, and you'll feel as if you were in an aquarium, according to Pan American World Airways. It adds an extra dimension to island vacationing and makes every visitor his own glass-bottomed boat.

The swimming mask, which covers eyes and nose, gives crystal-clear vision of the underwater world: Golden fish, striped fish, game fish, coral growths in colors, sand formations, and the limpid blue of the water itself.

The famous beach at Waikiki isn't the only spot where you can enjoy this fast-growing sport. The beaches of Maui Island, near the Hana-Maui Hotel, and the Maui Palms are rich in underwater wonderlands.

Equipment charges are nominal on the islands. Good quality fins run around $4, masks at $3 and $4, and snorkels from a dollar to $3.50. A complete underwater outfit costs less than $10.

For the better swimmer, skin diving and spearfishing are found at their best in the deeper Hawaiian waters.

Beautiful underwater scenery waits diver in Hawaii.

A GOOD SPOT for this is the reef area outward from Waikiki Beach. The bottom here is dark coral, with coral growths sprouting up from it. The sparkling, pale blue underwater world contrasts with the lush green mountains, blue skies and cotton-white clouds the moment you put your face mask under water and look around.

You seem to be floating over a new and beautiful world. Down below there are different types of coral: chartreuse mushroom, lace, cabbage, brain and rosy-colored coral. Brilliantly colored fish dart about. Occasionally a sea-going turtle lumbers past.

A swim out to this region is advisable only for experienced swimmers. Others can rent an outrigger canoe from Hale Auau next door to the Surfrider Hotel at Waikiki.

There are other swimming spots near Waikiki, like Hanauma Bay and Makapu Beach, that offer new sights for skin divers. One good idea is to rent a car and explore these spots.

Totem Pole

Spectacular example of Alaskan Indians' craftsmanship is this totem pole in Saxman Village near Ketchikan, a leading seafood processing center.

"You say European travel is a bargain. But not among our friends who are all in the young married class where each extra dollar counts. Why not figure a short cut for us under the $1,000 mark?"

IF YOU HAVE a lot of friends in this class, you might be able to cut it to $700 by charter flying. The CAB is making it pretty easy for groups to fly—ski clubs, camera clubs, motor scooter clubs and such. The charter flights carry 68 people on DC-4s. That cuts the heavy transportation cost quite a bit.

Once in Europe you can go into renting those little Volkswagen buses. Or bicycles. Or motor scooters. First thing you need is a club of 68 people. Then you'd better write the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington and ask them the rules on charter flights.

• • • •

"Do you know much about motor scooter travel in Europe? We are young. . . ."

FROM SEEING the motor scooter traffic, I think you need to be young. Europe can be pretty rainy. And if I were going anywhere by motor scooter, I would invest first in one of those Navy weatherproof rubber suits.

Most of the scooters I have seen in Europe were Italian Vespas or Lambrettas, though I hear the Austrian Puch is good. The gas mileage runs as high as 100 miles per gallon. Traffic is not a problem since most European drivers are used to them. I hit one in the south of France and the repair bill was only $3.

I think asking at the Italian or Austrian tourist offices in any large city (or write New York) would give you ideas on cost.

Just like buying foreign cars, the seller arranges for your papers for border crossing (the carnet de passage) and your license. Or they can send you to the nearest automobile club. All the European clubs have some sort of interlocking memberships.

"Are there good motels in Mexico? And which highway would be best for entering and finding good accommodations?"

I THINK motels export badly. The best ones are all in the States. I saw a couple that looked all right in Mexico. But the Mexican hotels are so inexpensive, I have an idea they are better.

For entering Mexico, Laredo or Brownsville from the East, Nogales or El Paso from the West. Good accommodations on all of them. Use the AAA guide "Motoring in Mexico" to pick them. Gasoline is always uncertain on the best Mexican highways. Don't let the gauge go below half. Ask each time you fill if there is gasoline farther along. If you run out, flag a truck driver and buy some out of his tank. Most of them will listen to offers of double the price. Strain the gas you get from them, even if you only put it through a handkerchief.

• • • •

"What about third class train travel in Europe? Cheap?"

YES, BUT pretty rough riding, too. I hear they are dropping all third class in Europe this year and making it either second or first. Second class is usually OK from Switzerland north. Not so good in the southern countries.

A Day to Focus on Mother

By the Shutterbug

MOTHER'S DAY is one dear to the hearts of all families, and one which just naturally makes everybody think about pictures — pictures to take and pictures to give.

Each family's own special way of honoring Mother is worthy of record. Your own version of the whole "Queen-for-a-day" story—from Dad's serving her breakfast in bed to the children's good-night kiss—will make a series of wonderful pictures that Mother can enjoy over and over all through the year.

AMONG THE GIFTS that Mother will treasure are pictures of various members of her family in an album especially compiled for her. So, this week is a good time to collect the family snapshots from their hiding places in odd drawers and boxes and make up an album as a surprise for Mother. Other gifts will be doubly welcome if they carry an extra dividend of pictures, too. A leather wallet for Mother will look twice as handsome to her if its transparent identification pockets hold snapshots of the family. And so will a locket or one of the new watch bands with place for tiny pictures of those she holds dear.

AN ENLARGEMENT of an especially good picture of Dad and the children—framed appropriately for her desk or dresser—is another gift that says "I Remember Mama" in a way that's sure to please any mother. Or perhaps you might want to take a series of small snapshots—one of each member of the family—and arrange them in a long narrow frame to grace her dressing table.

As you can see, the day set aside to honor Mother is one on which pictures really have their day, too!

PART II of "Holiday Through Europe" by James Unsworth and "Along Camino Real" by Warren Nash will be viewed by the Long Beach Cinema Club following a potluck dinner at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday in Houghton Park Clubhouse.

LONG BEACH Camera Guild will have a color slide competition at 8 p. m. Wednesday in Municipal Art Center, 2300 E. Ocean Blvd.

BROWNIE CAMERA owners are a wonderful clan and for their benefit the Eastman Kodak Co. has published a new 32-page manual (35c) aimed at helping them to get better pictures. The booklet is copiously illustrated in black-and-white and in color and is made gay with illustrations by Charles M. Schulz, creator of the comic strip, "Peanuts." The next is carefully composed to give the maximum lesson in minimum of words. Black-and-white and color are discussed and the mechanics of the Brownie camera and the tricks of using it are made plain. Kodak dealers have the book.

Pictures like this, taken on Mother's Day, are perfect for the family album.

When Pets Are 'Expecting'

Universal appeal of pet motherhood is symbolized in this lion dog and puppies, owned by William Kelders.

By Eleanor Avery Price

PREPARATION for motherhood of a cat, dog, or other litter-bearing pet starts when the animal is young, for through correct nourishment and a happy environment, the pet's make-up is readied to accept the responsibility of becoming a parent.

During her time of "expectancy" and after birth of her family, the pet needs a specially inclusive diet. The health of the young and the mother are dependent upon it. While the mother pet is carrying her babies, she must keep herself nourished and she must build bodies of bone and blood. Later, she must create milk.

So step up fats, proteins and minerals during the period of gestation and maintain them at an adequate level during the nursing period.

Have fresh water available at all times. The mother pet may be especially thirsty immediately after delivery. And she will want a lot of liquid to help produce ample milk for her litter.

GENTLE EXERCISE in mild form is good but never work an animal during her pregnancy. Walking, especially during the last week, should also be limited.

As the whelping time approaches, trim hair away to prepare her for suckling, and clean her carefully.

You will probably have noticed that your expectant pet has been trying to fix a nest in a closet, on a bed, in the garden, in the garage, or some other place. You should have a good spot selected for her, one ample enough in size so that she will not step on or lie on her young. A child's playpen with sides lined with some material that does not sliver, makes a fine nest, especially for puppies. We suggest one-eighth inch Masonite on the sides, and one-fourth inch on the floor for complete protection.

PLACE A HEAVY padding in the box or playpen, something that can be thrown out after the mother has cleaned her newborn. Irritation with its resultant infection of the navel accounts for thousands of deaths of puppies annually. Kittens are not quite so apt to be harmed, but they need a padding in their nest, nevertheless.

Replace the padding with another after the birth is completed and cover adequately with material that will not get into the mouths of the babies while they are nursing. Dehydrated sugar cane is considered good. The bedding should be changed frequently as the youngsters grow.

IF YOU ATTEND the mother pet during birth, she will be reassured and will trust you with her babies. If the litter is large, as each young is born and is attended to by the mother, place it in a warm dry place while the mother pet takes care of the next arrival. Try not to let her notice this.

When the litter is born and the mother is relaxed, give her all her babies, unless the litter is so large she cannot possibly nurse them all at once. Some dogs have been known to have 16 puppies at one birth! In such instances, supplementary diet is usually necessary.

IT IS A NATURAL function for the mother to eat the placenta and to lick her babies dry, so do not be offish about this. Instead, be on the lookout for any trouble. If the amniotic sac does not break to release the young, and the mother pet does not break it, you must do so or the tiny creature will suffocate. You must also take hold of the cords and pull out any sacs remaining inside the mother's body.

If there is any trouble during birth, call a veterinarian immediately. In fact, it is a fine idea to call him when you pet starts to whelp. If nothing else, he can calm you!

HOW TO Install Brick Edgings and Mowing Strips for Your Lawn and Garden

BRICK has many advantages for edgings and mowing strips. There is almost no maintenance, it will last the life of the garden and it gives a wide choice of patterns to match any style house or garden.

Used brick gives a garden a weathered, comfortable appearance and is worth looking for. It is frequently less expensive than new brick, but demand for used brick in home building has held the price up. New brick may be easier to match if you add more borders or edgings later.

1. SIMPLE EDGING of bricks, laid side by side, makes neat boundary and mowing strip between lawn and flower border. Set level with soil on a tamped sand base, two inches deep.

2. TO MAKE LOW retainer, set mortared bricks on end on mortar base. Bricks can be sunk an inch or so for extra stability if height isn't needed. Check level often as you work.

3. BRICKS PLACED flat and two deep appear more substantial, but they need mortar, too. Use tamped cinder or gravel base to prevent cracking. Set higher units on mortar base.

4. USE BRICKS end to end to make mowing strip next to house where extra width isn't necessary. Tamped soil base works well, but a little sand in trench makes leveling easier.

A Call to Garden Adventure

Photos by W. Atlee Burpee Co.

By Murtha Hurley

MANY GARDENERS consider it a challenge and adventure to grow flowers from seeds. They enjoy trying their skill each year with the new flowers developed by plant hybridizers.

Newcomers in the flower world are particularly handsome for 1956. They include Kismet zinnia, Pinocchio petunia, blue peony aster, Floradale Rose snapdragon and orange mum marigold.

Kismet introduces a color entirely new to zinnias, an exotic, radiant Persian red. The flowers are fully double, giant size, five inches across, and have delicately quilled petals. The loosely arranged petals give the flower an airiness different from the stiff appearance usually associated with zinnias.

In massed beds and borders, the plants, three feet tall, make a strikingly handsome display. For an exciting color flash use Kismet zinnias in the foreground of shrubbery. Give them full sun.

PINOCCHIO PETUNIA is a charmer, a spreading, bedding type hybrid, unusually vigorous. Plants are compact, many branched, grow 1½ to two feet tall. The flowers are beauties, an unusual color combination of salmon-cerise with a pleasing undertone of orange. They are large and slightly star-shaped. Give the plants a sunny bed, border or window box, or grow

In the garden or for use as cut flowers, gladiolus is one of most-popular.

Garden Sag? Try Glads

EASY TO GROW, delightful for decorating — that's the gladiolus, the All-American favorite among summer-blooming bulbs—a real lift for a drab garden.

Glads, reaching 18 to 24 inches in height, feature tubular and flaring blooms in a variety of hues. For majestic, spectacular arrangements use the taller varieties. The smaller species fill the bill for light, dainty arrangements. Outdoors, glads may be planted in straight rows, military fashion; or in clusters of a dozen or so single-colored plants in a border.

For a lengthy blooming season, plant gladiolus at 15-day intervals from now until July 1. This will insure your garden of blooming brightness throughout summer and fall. Before planting, treat the bulbs with an all-purpose dust, such as Botano Deluxe, for protection against diseases and pests. Put about two tablespoonfuls of the dust in a paper bag, add the bulbs, and shake gently until each bulb is covered thoroughly with the dust.

Garden Tips

GARDENING TIPS for the week . . . This is the time of the year when mums must be kept in active growth. Water them often and apply sufficient food to sustain their rapid growth.

Fuchsias are now in flower and may be seen at nursery yards. This is a good time to make selections as you can see the plants at their best.

From the middle of May on, depending on where you live, gardeners begin to set out chrysanthemums that have been rooted in pots or flats. When you put them in the ground, plant them in double rows a foot apart, 2½ feet between the double rows. In this way, you can get about a third more plants in the same space. Water them well about once a week unless you have heavy soil which doesn't dry out too rapidly. In any case, keep them moist. Then, when plants are about three inches tall, take the center out to make them send out new shoots. If you're trying for exhibition blooms, choose the best two shoots and keep them growing, pinch off all the side shoots.

them in pots to dress up a terrace or patio.

Blue Peony aster is another beauty. The flowers are fully double, very large, and a most exquisite, clear azure blue shade. The two-foot-high plants are vigorous all summer, bloom till late fall.

ONE OF THE MOST unusual of the "new" flowers is brilliant orange mum marigold. It looks exactly like a huge, specimen-type chrysanthemum, the flower four inches across, the color a vivid, clear orange. Blooms are fluffy, ball-like, and made up of numerous, finely cut florets, intertwined in true mum form. The plants are sturdy, grow 2½ feet tall, stage a flower show all their own in the garden all through summer and fall. Give them full sun, the warmer the better.

Both marigolds and zinnias do better if their seeds are sown directly into the garden bed. Sow marigold seeds from March to July. When the plants are six to 10 inches high they should be pinched back to produce bushy plants and an abundance of flowers.

NEW FLORADALE ROSE snapdragon has large, bright rose-pink flower spikes on two-foot-high plants. There is a pleasing soft yellow blotch on the palate of the flower. The plants are sturdy, grow two feet tall, make stunning arrangements and are colorful in the garden.

Seeds are best sown in seed flats from July to October for fall and winter blooms and from November to February for spring and early summer bloom. The plants should be pinched back when six to eight inches high.

If the seed bed is covered with a gunny sack and watered from above, with vermiculite and sand in equal quantities mixed with well pulverized soil as a starting mixture, petunia and aster seeds can be sown in open ground.

Decorating: Here's Help

THIS IS the season when the average housewife yearns to rearrange the living room furniture, make changes in drapes or slipcovers, or redecorate her home or apartment.

To help meet this seasonal urge, Leila Seward, head of the art and philiosophy department, called attention to books at the Long Beach Public Library on interior decorating, room arrangement, painting and wall papering and other related subjects.

"Books can make the job of home decorating easier and the results more successful," the librarian said.

ONE OF THE MOST comprehensive and widely used of the books on interior decorating is Helen Koues' "The American Woman's New Encyclopedia of Home Decorating." The 1,000-page book, which includes numerous illustrations in both color and black and white, covers all phases of home furnishings and decorating. Hundreds of practical ideas are presented for making a home or apartment more attractive.

"Designs for Living," by Katherine M. Ford and Thomas H. Creighton, which was published in recent months, has some 175 photographs illustrating outstanding examples of interior design.

ANOTHER RECENT book, "Ladies Home Journal Book of Interior Decoration?" has an especially helpful section on "Practical Planning" which gives suggestions for making decorating easy and effective.

Other books which are available include "Creative Home Decorating," "How to Decorate and Light Your Home," "Decorating on a Budget," "Good Taste in Home Decoration," "Inside Today's Home," "Decorate Your Home for Better Living," "The Home Decorator's Guide," Today's Woman — "Small Home Decorating" and "How to Color-Tune Your Home."

FRANCOIS RICHMOND
Presto! Flaming Duckling

QUITE OFTEN on these mild spring evenings, patrons with expectant gleams in their eyes arrive at the Manhattan Restaurant, 1909 E. 4th St., and announce: "We're out here from New York, visiting. Is this the place where they serve that fabulous flaming duckling?"

Others arrive from such far-away places as New Orleans, Chicago and Seattle. All have heard, by word of mouth, about the Manhattan's flaming duckling and, of course, they all order it.

They're never disappointed.

This dish was originated by the Manhattan's continental owner-host, Francois Richmond. Served for two persons for $3.50 each, it consists of a whole, beautiful Long Island duckling roasted to perfection and accompanied by a delicious Bigardarde orange sauce, candied yams and wild rice. Richmond often serves it himself, pouring on liqueurs as he gives the duckling its finishing touches at the guests' table. At the proper dramatic moment he ignites the duckling and it bursts into a blue flame which burns for approximately a minute. Then he serves the delicately browned fowl and watches the expressions of delight in the guests' eyes as they savor the first mouthful.

OTHER DISHES served at the Manhattan are just as pleasing. Chicken Saute Manhattan, for $2.50, is an extraordinary treat, served on a bountiful complete dinner which includes chilled relishes (filets of sardine, garbanzo beans, stuffed celery, pickled peppers, etc.), second and third helpings of French soup, tossed salads, vegetables, choice of beverage and dessert. The chicken is boned, lightly breaded and sauteed in butter and olive oil. Atop it goes Virginia ham and mushrooms sauteed in white wine and butter.

An outstanding bargain is Swiss Steak cooked in wine, served for only $2 on the same big dinner. Just as popular is pot roast with potato pancakes for $2.10, served on Saturday evenings only.

The Manhattan is open every day except Monday.
